YERKES OBSERVATORY

This article is the first of a series which will be published in " Bay Leaves ", in the reading of which, our readers will be able to talk intelligently about this famous institution in our midst to which thousands make pilgrimages every year.

ITS INCEPTION

Upon hearing that a far-western institution of learning had ordered from Mantois of Paris two 42-inch glass disks to be combined and finished as an object glass by Alvan Clark & Sons of Cambridgeport, Mass., but was unable to go on with the constructing and mounting of a telescope, Prof. Geo. E. Hale, who owned a private observatory in Kenwood district in Chicago ( his observatory was called Kenwood Observatory), where he investigated various phenomena on the sun with a 12-inch refracting telescope, secured the interest of President W.R. Harper, first president of the university of Chicago in negotiating for the purchase of these faultless disks.

Together they interested the late Charles T. Yerkes, a Chicago financier, not only in furnishing the money for purchasing the disks, but for the building to house the mounted telescope, which ranked then as the most powerful refracting telescope in the world.

In 1892 contracts were made with the Clarks for finishing the lenses and with Warner & Swasey Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, for mounting this powerful telescope.

Then came the securing of a location for the Observatory to house the telescope. Some twenty places were offered for the purpose. From these suggested sites Williams Bay was selected by Mr. Hale, who had been assigned the task of planning and locating the Observatory.

The reasons for the selection were given as (1) accessibility to Chicago and the University of Chicago, (2) remoteness from the dust, smoke, glare of street lights, and jar of cities, (3) appreciable distance from trains with their vibration, (4) near but remote enough from the village to avoid its smoke and glare.

In the original tract given by John Johnston, Jr. there were fifty-three acres; these have been increased to 80 acres by later purchases. Included in the campus there is a shore line of 550 feet on which is a pier for visitors use.

Before making any plans, Mr. Hale visited the greater observatories of both hemispheres and secured valuable suggestions for the new Observatory.

Prof. Hale though a very young man at the time had become recognized in the field of Astrophysics. He had received his B.S. degree at Mass. Inst. of Tech. in 1890 and had studied in Harvard College Observatory while in the Institute and then had observed in the Univ. of Berlin. He received the degree of Doctor of Science from the Univ. of Pittsburg in 1897. He was director of Kenwood Astrophysical Observatory from 1890 until 1896. He became the first director of Yerkes Observatory where he remained until 1904 when he resigned to become director of the newly founded Mount Wilson Observatory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. " Who's Who " has nearly a column devoted to his life. He is still living at Pasadena, Calif.

Editor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Wanek and daughter, Genevieve, of Maywood, came Saturday to their cottage. Alexander, their son, whom many of the young people remember for his swimming, is now in his third year at the Univ. of Alaska, Fairbanks, Alaska, where he is taking up mining engineering. He has had some interesting experiences in hunting caribou and moose. The University has only about 200 students and is supported by the U.S. Government. "It is a wonderful country and a land of opportunity," says Alex.

The Victor Fehrms just can't stay away from their homey little cottage over in the woods in the original Cedar Point Park Sub.

Near neighbors to the Fehrms here are the Nealys, who are also near neighbors in Chicago. They are newcomers, having purchased their cottage last Fall. Mr. E.J. Nealy, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Burr L. Nealy and sister, Mrs. Geo. Rose and her husband, were at their cottage Sunday. By the activity of all them, it will not take many weekends to have their place spick and span. Welcome all.

Another new family you will wish to become acquainted with are the Kelbes, who bought the second house North of Ben Moeller in Cedar Point Park last Fall. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelbe are redecorating the cottage and will soon be out to stay. Again we say, "welcome."

Mrs. O.F. Carlson says they will be out early this Spring to stay. They are building a new home in Kenilworth, near Chicago, and will remain here until it is completed. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, their son, Elis and daughter, Lenore, were out Sunday to their home next door to the Alfred Pederson's.

Fire Chief Thos. D. Blake and family of Rockford were at their summer place in Cedar Point Park over Sunday. Soon we will be seeing them and their guests picnicking under the trees. They are always Henry R. Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.A. Stark, formerly of Wms Bay, was a visitor to the Bay on Sunday. Henry (Hank) graduated from the Williams Bay High School in the Class of 1927 and completed his college course at the University of Cincinnati. Summers he was life guard in Wms Bay. He is now Principal of the High School at Niles, a suburb of Chicago. He received his M.A. degree from Northwestern Univ. and is working for his Doctor's degree.

Mr. and Mrs. L.A. McKenzie of Chicago were at their Cedar Point Park cottage on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Swanson of Chicago are newcomers to Wms Bay, having purchased the C.W. Anderson cottage on Cedar Point Drive. They were out Sunday getting their new place ready for occupancy, together with their daughter, Mrs. Cloubs, and sons, Kenneth and Earl. We are happy to welcome them to Williams Bay.

Mr. Gus Anderson and son, Gordon, Chicago, were busy last weekend raking the leaves off their lawn at their home on Cedar Point Drive, when ye editor called. The Anderson family is enthusiastic over "Bay Leaves".

From a busy week of exceedingly delicate operations at several Chicago hospitals, Dr. J.A. Pfister comes up here frequently during the winter as well as the summer, to get needed relaxation. "Nothing quite like it," said the Doctor, last Sunday, as he was working in his garden at his home in Cedar Point Park.

I'll wager that Mr. H.S. Knipschild was lame after raking up all the leaves in his yard at his place near Bob Burton's in Cedar Point Park. "It's great fun to get out and do it", he says.

The H.R. Green's of Chicago, and friends, spent Sunday at their home on the Drive.

made welcome.

Spring will get here when it gets ready. Friday snow fell most of the day, but it melted nearly as soon as it struck the ground, and that night the ground was frozen one-half inch. The roads- well, they are simply tough.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George A.
Van Velzer on Thursday last, an eight pound girl.

Last Saturday the Geneva town Board let the contract for filling, grading and graveling about 60 rods of road between here and Lake Geneva, to R.M. Kenyon for $60.

During the thunder storm Sunday many large fish were bewildered and blown to shore. Among others a ten pound pickerel was captured,

Ernie Southwick spent last Saturday helping Clifford Howe (East Delavan) celebrate his birthday.

W.L. and Bert Bradt have commenced work at the Bay for contractor DeGroff.

We would advise D.E. LeBar to see that the wheels of the buggy are well oiled next time before starting out to drive to Clinton, so that he will not have to stop on Walworth Ave. (Delavan) and change carriages, especially when he is starting on his wedding trip.

OBSERVATORY NOTES

No definite arrangements have yet been made in regard to opening the Observatory to visitors at stated times during the season.

William Drummond, a former employe of Warner & Lavasey at Cleveland, Ohio, has been engaged as mechanician for the Observatory.

The motors for moving the big telescope are now in place.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION COURSE PRACTICALLY ASSURED

The University Classes for Freshmen right here in Williams Bay are practically assured for next Fall. Our local Board of Education has been working on the plan for several months and has announced in a previous issue of BAY LEAVES, has arranged with the University of Wisconsin to have a Freshman year of college work given in Williams Bay. Students for the classes will be recruited from the villages, towns and the rural communities in the surrounding territory as well as from our own community.

The number required to start the Classes is set at twenty-five students. Admission to these locally conducted University Extension classes will be on exactly the same basis as is admission to the University.

The demand for this program of university work developed during the depression years when so many deserving high school graduates were unable to meet the expense of living away from home in a college city. It was to meet the needs of this group of students that the program was offered in many cities of the State.

The classes are taught by members of the University of Wisconsin faculty. The University Departments concerned supervise the work done in the classes, check on equipment and library facilities, and offer constructive assistance to keep the work on a par with that offered at Madison. The student who completes the freshman program satisfactorily may later attend the University at Madison with full sophomore standing.

A field representative of the University has been interviewing prospective students in this district and has found real interest on the part of many high school graduates who would like to go further with their education but cannot attend the University.

The fee for the course is $5.00 per credit. If a full 15 credit course is taken, the fee would be

A PLEA

It seems that varied subjects are discussed in BAY LEAVES, but with keen disappointment I note that the subject of humane treatment of dumb animals is never mentioned. Last week was "Kind to Animal Week", but to a lover of dumb animals, every week means just that.

I have been indicted for my concern in this matter, but I am offering no apologies to anyone and am proud of my love for dumb and helpless creatures and very much ashamed that I am practically unaided in caring for them. So many people have dogs and cats but care so little for them that they are half starved and forced to subsist on garbage, sleep in cold, damp places, thereby acquiring distemper, which they pass on to the few dogs that really are loved. Surely only a feeble mind can believe that our Creator put dumb animals on this earth to be abused.

Other towns have gas chambers where stray and unwanted creatures can be humanely put to death and I do not mean that they are clubbed to death as was the fate of a poor little waif a few years ago; nor are they poisoned. Yes, we have at least one known dog poisoner in this village; surely something for "Wisconsin's Gem of Nature" to boast about. Not long ago some sneak murdered my dog on my own premises when he was being cared for by a friend, while I was hundreds of miles away. "Bozo" only escaped being being clubbed to death with a huge wrench because he could not be caught, so he was shot and dragged away and thrown on a refuse heap. All this to a dog with a fine home, while the other hundred dogs, many sick and unwanted, yet allowed to live.

Williams Bay should have an enforced ordinance against people abandoning dogs and cats here and each citizen be on the alert to report such cases. Moreover, people who harbor dogs and cats and starve and mistreat them, would be forced to give them better treatment or have them humanely disposed of. Surely this is not asking too much in this day of civilization. Is it possible that I am the only person in this village who is interested in humane treatment of animals? I fear the answer is almost entirely, yes." I realize of course, that the ones who ridicule the lovers of dumb animals are the ones who would rather a dog would starve and freeze on their doorstep than assist them to a comfortable existence or even to humane end.

Any town that is blind to conditions such as we have here is certainly not progressing in civilization. I wonder how long Wms Bay citizens are going to be blind to sufferings and needs of dumb animals.

Before I close this I wish to call attention to some inhuman things that have been and are being done. To those who think it very funny for a cat to be carried by the neck by a small child, let some one try it on you some time and laugh it off.

To those who think it high class entertainment to see a child of 25 or 30 pounds riding on a puppies back, support a weight in the middle of your back and then walk and look like a crooked "S", the ride of your life. Try sleeping by the side of a hot stove all day when you are 3 months old, and be mauled by six children 'til bed time and then be put out in a back shed in 25 degrees below zero weather without even a box to sleep in for the rest of the night.

Try being tied in the blazing sun of a day registering 105 degrees in the shade with no shelter and not even a drink of water. A mother of many children did this very thing to her children's pet.

Now tell me- does Williams Bay need to be dumb animal conscious? Truly a "dog's life" in Williams Bay is a dog's life; and what a life!

CONV. REC H E S

The 35th Annual Convention of the First District of Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs was opened by Mrs. Ben Roderick, Pres. of the First District, on Tuesday, April 20, at Lake Geneva.

GOSPEL TABERNACLE

Rev. R.K. Kinney Pastor

At this time the hostess clubs, Sunday School consisting of Lake Geneva, Williams Bay and Lynn Neighborly, extended their welcome to the guests, after which the group adjourned for luncheon at the Y.M.C.A.

In the afternoon Mrs. H.F. Caldwell, gave an interesting talk on the subject, "From Rochester to Lake Geneva," reviewing the history of women's organizations from the first Dorcas society, founded in 1833 which evolved into the women's clubs of today.

Mrs. A.L. Blackstone, Pres. of the Wisconsin Federation, gave an address on "The Federation Marches On", stressing some of the youth problems of today.

Also on the afternoon program was the talk by Prof. Clark Kuebler of Northwestern Univ. "Can We Keep Peace". We must work to keep peace while we have peace and keep ahead of the propaganda machines.

Mrs. F.H. Clausen, Director of Wisconsin Federation gave a talk on "Our Federation and Its Service". In the evening at the Lake Geneva High School Auditorium a most interesting lecture, "Cobblestone to Cathedrals" by Mrs. William H. Eppans, art lecturer, of Chicago. She showed several beautiful etchings of the great cathedrals which illustrated her talk. She also showed drawings of the early styles of architecture. Art began with the birth of Christ and was brought down through the ages. We are all cobblestones and must use our lives to bring out the best that is within us to make ourselves a part of these great works of art.

Mr. E.J. O'Meara, Traffic Engineer Wis. State Highway gave a talk on "Street and Highway Problems," on Wednesday afternoon. After which tea was served.

Forty-six clubs were represented at the convention.

FACULTY MEETING HELD

Six members of the Faculty of the Geneva Lake Summer School of Natural Science met last Saturday morning and afternoon in Williams Bay.
Dinner was served at Mrs. Sawyer's in the evening.

Those in attendance were O.D.
Frank, M.S., who will be the director of the school; M.E. Wing, Ph D.; Carl Welty, Ph D., Walter Brooking,
M.S., G. Van Biesbroeck, Ph D., and Elliott R. Downing, M.S., Ph D.

Mr. Frank is teacher of Biology at the University High School, Chicago, and teacher of Regional Studies at Univ of Chicago and University of Indiana.

Mr. Wing is Professor of Geology
at Beloit College.

Mr. Welty is Professor of Zoology
at Beloit College.

Mr. Brooking is a graduate student of Univ of Chicago.

Mr. Van Biesbroeck, Professor of Astronomy, Yerkes Observatory.

The group met to plan the program for the month. The idea is new and will combine a large amount of field work with classes and lectures.

The attendance at the school lectures and classes is limited to these students regularly enrolled.
The community will get many benefits from it. Lovers of nature will delight to walk the trails which will be marked, and interesting trees, plants, rocks etc labeled.
Mr. Brooking will also assemble and have on display at College Camp a natural science museum of plant life, animal life and rocks, which will be open to the public.

The opening lecture will be given on June 26 by Dr. Elliott R.
Downing, who is the originator of the idea for the school.

Ruth Ecklund, daughter of Mrs.
Helen Ecklund, Whitewater, and a pupil of Miss Flora Potter of the State Teachers College, was given special honor in the recent exhibition, Young America Paints, shown in the art gallery of Rockefeller Center, New York. Her pictures were hung in the exhibit and selected to be in a traveling exhibit of 100 pictures to go on tour.

MILWAUKEE SCHOOL REPRESENTATIVE AND STUDENTS VISIT WMS BAY

Mr. Frank Adams, vicepresident and director of the Elementary Department of the Milwaukee State Teachers College, visited the Williams Bay School Friday, April 16th with a group of student teachers. The group has been teaching this year under the direction of experienced teachers with Mr. Adams as supervisor; and they are now interested in observing schools outside of their own city.

After a morning spent in observation of the elementary class room, which they said was most interesting due to the progressive philosophy and practice found in every room.

Mr. Sorensen took them on a tour of the entire building. The party then left for Yerkes Observatory where they spent the rest of the afternoon with Mr. Van Biesbroeck, who saw to it personally that the visitors enjoyed their inspection of the large dome and telescope.

Ruth Ecklund, Whitewater, young artist mentioned elsewhere in this issue as receiving recognition for her painting; is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Blakslee of Williams Bay.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET FRIDAY

Mrs. Sidney Kachel will be hostess to the members of the Williams Bay Woman's Club at her home in Loch Vista, Friday, April 23, at 2:30. Plans will be made for the club's annual Spring luncheon.

WATER PLANT PLANS GET STATE APPROVAL.

The Village Board will hold a Special Meeting on Friday evening at 7.30 p.m. this week to act further on the Water purification and softening plant plans.

The next step will be the requesting of bids.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED AT LIBRARY (Con't)

There were 53 books received altho some were not the late books.

The Library purchased the book-"Our Constitution and Its Makers" by Fred Taylor Wilson. Recommended by Mr. J.S. Hotton. And also purchased on recommendation of Mrs. S.B. Barrett- "FLORA OF THE CHICAGO REGION" by H.S. Pepoon. A book on Botany.

THE BELFRY PLAYERS

In response to several requests that the closing date of the Belfry Players contest for the best original radio script submitted to them by a boy or girl eighteen years of age, or under, be advanced to allow those entering it to have their manuscripts typed, the deadline has been extended to April 22, so that the winners cannot be named until next week. Miss Jacqueline Cour, Chicago, formerly a member of the staff of ABC, is to be the judge.

GIRL SCOUTS TO SERVE BENEFIT DINNER

The Troop Committee for the Girl Scouts met at the school house last Thursday afternoon. It was found that at this time the Troop needed a little financial support in order to carry out the program that will most benefit the girls.

To give them that support the Committee decided to serve a Sunday dinner in the school auditorium at 1 P.M., Sunday May 2. The tickets will sell for 75¢ for adults and 50¢ for children under 12 years.

Everyone knows that the Scout organization is recognized the world over as one of the best character building contribution existing, and should be kept alive and encouraged in every community. Think of all the time and thought and care the leaders of a troop give to the Scouts, without being repaid by anything else but the satisfaction of contributing something constructive to the community and its growth. Please keep this in mind when the tickets will be offered for sale and persuade your friends to join you for this date.
