OFF FOR JANESEVILLE

STUDENT DELEGATION OF FIFTY TO ATTEND CONVENTION.

Will Leave Tomorrow and Friday—
Noted Speakers Will Appear—All
State Colleges to be Represented.

The University is going to be represented at the Y. M. C. A. convention at Janesville by a large and enthusiastic delegation. Coming as it does just before the Thanksgiving vacation and at the time of the football game with Illinois, it shows great interest in the work that fifty men are going to represent the local Association. The program is a remarkably strong one. Among the speakers will be Senator J. M. Whitehead, H. A. Moehlenpah, Frank W. Smith of Ohio, Dr. H. H. Gregg of Chicago, Pres. E. D. Eaton of Beloit. Other speakers will be the following General Secretaries:—Neill Campbell, Wausau, G. H. Timmings, La Crosse, J. W. Adams Kenosha, S. M. Crawford Wausau, S. P. Luce, Oshkosh, F. D. Hopkins Racine, M. C. Otto Milwaukee. Fred B. Smith, who gave such a strong address here last winter, C. K. Ober, Robert Weidensall, and several other specialists, will represent the International Committee. The Milwaukee Glee Club and the Janesville Association Band will furnish the music. C. B. Willis, the popular Milwaukee Secretary, will lead the singing. The college men will have a conference Saturday afternoon after which they will adjourn to a college men's supper in the Presbyterian church. All the colleges of the state are sending large delegations. Beloit expects to have forty men there.

The University delegation will wear six inches of cardinal ribbon pinned on by the official convention button. Those who have not received such a button should secure one at the office before going. A rate of a fare and one-third has been secured. Delegates will pay full fare going and must take a certificate from the Madison agent. This will be signed by the joint agent at Janesville and will secure a one-third rate returning. Many delegates will leave Thursday evening at 6:05 but the majority will go Friday at the same hour. Any student of the University may receive free entertainment by leaving their names with the general secretary at the Y. M. C. A. house.

Science Club Meeting.

The Science Club will hold its first meeting for this year on Tuesday evening, Nov. 27. Professor Birge, the President of the club, will deliver an address on Huxley. This lecture will be of such general interest to students of the University, that the Science Club has decided to hold this meeting in the large lecture room, University Hall.

—Prof. Geo. Noyes will review "Ivanhoe" at the meeting of the Guild this evening at the Unitarian Church. The literary hour will be followed by a social.

—Arrangements are being made for military hop. Further announcements will be made later.

—Miss Rose Pesta, '02, has been called to her home in Milwaukee on account of the serious illness of her mother.

Gift to the School of Commerce.

Acting President Birge received this morning from Mr. Fred Vogel, Jr., of Milwaukee a check for $2,000, to be expended in the purchase of books for the School of Commerce. One-half of this sum was contributed by Mr. Charles F. Pfister and the remainder by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogel, Jr., of Milwaukee. This munificent gift will provide the School of Commerce at once with books which are very much needed and will furnish it with the beginnings of an excellent working library. It is a source of great gratification to the Regents and Faculty and to all friends of the University to know that its work is appreciated by the people of the State, and it is especially gratifying to those who are interested in the new School of Commerce to know that it is appreciated by such staunch business men as Mr. Vogel and Mr. Pfister. These gentlemen have contributed liberally to the University on previous occasions, and by this gift they have again placed the University and the State of Wisconsin under great obligations to them.

High School Department.

Football Championship.

It seems probable that the football championship of the High Schools of the state will be more definitely determined this year than in several seasons past. At present four High school teams are aspiring to the title of state champion. They are Whitewater, Madison, South Side Milwaukee and Marinette.

Madison and Whitewater played a game early in the season and neither succeeded in making a score. This tie leaves them in the same class so far as championship figuring is concerned. The Marinette and S. S. Milwaukee teams have fought their way through hard schedules to a place near the top and both are confident of their ability to capture the championship.

The Madison team has not been defeated by any Wisconsin team this year, but was downed by the Central High School team of Minneapolis. As consolation for this defeat the eleven is making strenuous efforts to win the state pennant.

On Saturday next Madison and S. S. Milwaukee will meet on the gridiron as will also the Whitewater and Marinette teams. Thus the championship honors will lie between two teams. If they can be brought together the championship will be settled beyond dispute.

Handball Tournament.

In regard to the handball tournament, I wish to say that the entries can be made at Dr. Elsom's office. The contestants will please enter according to their respective classes, and also state the time at which you are best able to play, that is, whether in the forenoon or in the afternoon.

The preliminary games of the different classes will be played off first, and then the winners of the respective classes will be matched against one another. All students who expect to enter this tournament should hand in their names as soon as possible. The first games will be played the 22nd of this month.

A BIG GAME

GREAT PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR ILLINOIS CONTEST.

Excursions From all Points Within a Hundred Miles—Students Urged to Lend Support.

From the present outlook it seems that Saturday's game with the Illini will be "positively the last appearance" of the Badgers. Much as it is desired by both students and players, a Thanksgiving contest with any of the leaders in the western race is practically an impossibility. On this account the players are anxious for Saturday's contest to result decisively in favor of the cardinal and by this means to strengthen whatever claims Wisconsin may have on the western supremacy. The latest reports from Champaign show that the wearers of the blue and gold are in the best of shape and hope to at least hold Wisconsin down to a comparatively low score. Should the field be hard and dry and adapted to their style of play, the Illini confidently hope to score as least once on the Badgers.

Interest in the game at Madison and vicinity is increasing daily. Owing to the low rates offered by the railroads, special excursions are being planned from Milwaukee, Beloit, Janesville and other neighboring cities. This will insure a large attendance from outside. Owing to the action of the management in giving Madison one of the big games this year, the townspeople and students are expected to show their appreciation of this by a generous attendance. As is well known, a game at Milwaukee would prove a greater financial success than at Madison. Coach King, however, thinks that it is no more than right to give the supporters of the team at least one home game each year.

Therefore notwithstanding the increased expenses and the prospects of smaller gate receipts the last large game of the year will be played on the home grounds.

Weekly Convocation.

At Friday's Convocation the hour will be taken up in singing songs. Professor Olson will entertain the audience with a number of German songs. A number of English songs will be sang by the students and a general musical program will be given in place of the usual address.

—At a meeting of the Six O'clock Club Monday evening Professor Frankenburger spoke on the importance of the daily newspaper. Dr. Pyre attempted to explain the intense popularity of the works of Rudyard Kipling and concluded by some splendid readings from the poet.

Professor Wood proved himself capable of using a delightful Irish brogue by reading some selections from Mr. Dooley.

President Jordan of Stanford University is confined to his bed as a result of the worry occasioned by the trouble over the Dr. Ross affair. Professor Aldrich, Assistant-Professor of Economics has also resigned owing to Dr. Ross' resignation.

—Miss May Humphrey, '03, has been obliged to leave the University on account of ill health.

—Miss Ruby Acker, '02, has returned to her home in Brandon for a few days.

Communication.

Editor Cardinal:

The reference to "On the Shores of Fair Mendota" in last Friday's issue of The Cardinal, although slight, seems to call for a few words in regard to the song. I feel that this is especially desirable in the absence of President Adams, whose feeling on the subject I know thoroughly. The musical feature of the convocation exercises was instituted not so much as a training school as for the purpose of encouraging the singing habit among the students. At the outset it was observed that Wisconsin, unlike most colleges, had no distinctive hymn. "On the Shores of Fair Mendota" was written by Mrs. Adams with the design of possibly meeting this want. However, it is only fair to the author to say, that she realized from the first that the success of such an attempt, just as has proven to be the case with national anthems, must be largely a matter of chance, and I believe, she would as warmly as any one else welcome any song which seemed to supply the want more satisfactorily. It was also hoped that through frequent repetitions of the song, the student body would become so familiar with it, that it could be sung on any occasion. To reach such a result it must of necessity become "well worn." That it has met with some criticism is not at all surprising. "The Star Spangled Banner" has been severely criticised, and more than one critic has demonstrated at length that it was totally unfit for a national song; yet it has gradually sung itself into the hearts of the people. During the past year I have looked over pretty thoroughly the college hymns of other institutions, and I am confident that the song in question compares more than favorably with most of its kind. Remembering that criticism is easy, while on the other hand, construction is difficult, would it not be wiser, or at least more in accordance with true college spirit, to endeavor to sing our song with all the enthusiasm we possess, until another rises to supplant it?

That there may be no misunderstanding about the German songs, let me add that the suggestion to introduce them was warmly welcomed, and I believe we have much to hope for in their use. German musical literature is peculiarly rich in the simple, strong melodies, and I hope they may find a permanent place among us. English-speaking people have none comparable to them except perhaps some Irish and Scotch melodies, and most of these are not suitable for use by large bodies of singers. The most that America can offer in the way of folksongs is a very few minstrel melodies associated with negro slave life.

F. A. Parker.

—At last night's military drill an attempt was made to establish a precedent in the mode of election of Freshman class officers. In order to eliminate the usual confusion and disorder of these meetings it was thought to conduct it in a very soldierly manner. Accordingly after drill Capt. Curtis arranged the companies about the platform and turned the meeting over into the hands of Arthur Curtis who had been requested to manage the meeting until the members of the Freshman class could be nominated. Mr. Elwood was elected temporary chairman and Mr. Sparks secretary. However no further business was transacted.

It is certainly to be regretted that this method was not established. For it certainly would have been the beginning of a new era in the matter of elections. The meeting was adjourned until Tuesday, Nov. 27.

Attend the Game.

The game Saturday is to a great extent an experiment. It will be the first regular big game played here for some time and the outcome will demonstrate whether students and townspeople can and will support a big game in this city. The team will do its best to defeat Illinois as decisively as possible and add to the enviable record it has made this season. The game should have the financial and moral support of every student. The price of the game is not exorbitant as it is the only large game of the year at home.

Freshmen, Take Advantage!

A large number should take advantage of the training offered in the Freshman Declamatory contest this year. Two prizes are offered this year for first year men,—one for the best oratorical or forensic selection delivered, and another for the best rendition of a dramatic selection or character sketch. These offers ought to bring a large number of contestants from all the literary societies and from those who have not joined any of the societies. There are many who do not belong to any of the literary societies who have abilities in some of these lines and who should not hesitate to enter against men from the societies. As ten in all will qualify for the final contest, there is a chance for anyone of the class of 1904 who will spend a little time in preparation for the preliminary contests. Those who qualify in the preliminaries may and will receive private instruction by the instructors of the department for the final contest. This private instruction has proved to be very beneficial in the past and as many as possible should avail themselves of the opportunity. The advantages of working for the prizes, and the private coaching should bring out many aspirants for oratorical or dramatic honors.

Some interesting things are appearing in the papers these days. Here are a few:

Chicago Times-Herald—A canvass of the Chicago football team shows the following opinions:

Wisconsin considered best by 9
Wisconsin, Minn. and Iowa on a par. 3
Minnesota best 2
Iowa best 1

The Minnesota Daily—"Wisconsin shows Iowa, Michigan and Chicago a Few Things in the Foot Ball Line."

"Unless a post-season game is decided upon the undisputed title to the championship in western football for the season of 1900 will not be determined. A week ago Iowa was proclaimed champion by Hawkeye partisans and by Michigan, whose team Iowa had decisively defeated. Iowa's claims were based upon her scores against Chicago and Michigan, Minnesota being counted out because Iowa's score against Chicago was 17 to 0 against Minnesota's tie—6 to 6—with the same team. Saturday, Wisconsin having been defeated by Minnesota more than doubled Iowa's score against Chicago, while Michigan, playing Notre Dame, had the greatest possible difficulty in making a single touch down against a team which but a week ago Wisconsin overwhelmed by a score of 54 to 0. Michigan kept Notre Dame from scoring only by the greatest exertions, while in the game with Wisconsin the Indiana team gained but two and one-half yards during the entire seventy minutes of play.

Minnesota's decisive defeat of the Northwestern team, which but recently defeated Chicago, vindicates Minnesota's claim to superiority over the maroons, entitles her to be judged by her present strength, and gives her a standing at least equal to that of any western team."

Valuable Loans.

The State Historical Society has lately become the recipient of an exceedingly valuable private collection of curios and rare costly articles, placed on deposit by Mrs. Charles Kendall Adams. The collection covers an immense range and has been gathered from every quarter of the globe, mostly during the extensive travels of President and Mrs. Adams. Some of the more striking features are Florentine and Hungarian vases and pitchers, Wedgwood ware, excavated Roman vases, exquisite French Japanese and Chinese bronzes and porcelain; Dresden and Sevres ware, superb stands of various metals and woods, the product of metal workers in India, Japanese screens and inlaid work of every description. Many of the pastels, mosaics and plaques have great artistic interest. In the north end of the museum a separate room has been given to the large collection of portraits, oil colors, pictures on wood and metal, ancient representations of Rome, and reproductions of celebrated paintings. Here also are two life size portraits of President and Mrs. Adams.

Dr. Hall of this city has loaned his large private collection of arrow heads, stone adzes, pipes, discards, gorgets, stone knives, drills, etc., to the museum of the State Historical Society. The collection has been placed in a separate case and adds much to the variety and number of specimens formerly there.

The professor of psychology of Leland Stanford University has collected statistics to show that the average college woman marries at the age of 26 or two years later than the non-college woman. From a financial standpoint college women marry better than those who have not had college training.

The Roman Forum.

The second lecture on the Forum was delivered by Dr. Showerman yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The lecture was illustrated. Many of the legends of the Forum were localized, among them those of Torpeia, Virginia, Attus Navius, and Romulus and the Sabines. Places of interest in the Forum relating to Horatius Cocles, Junius Brutus, and the Tullinius Priscus, and Pliny praises it as a piece of work wonderful in durability, saying that in his time after seven hundred years of services, it was unimpaired. The sewer still exists and serves its purpose as well as ever. It was constructed on the line of a stream which originally traversed the Forum.

The Mamertine Prison was next discussed. The name Mamertine dates from the Middle Ages, the classical name of the prison being the Tullianum. Its construction is attributed to Ancus Marcius. It was originally a cistern or well-chamber cut in the rock at the base of the Capitoline, and the spring which flowed in it exists at the present time. In it were confined Jugurtha, the Catilinarian conspirators, and many other famous personages of classical times. Tradition says that Saints Peter and Paul were also once confined in it.

The next public lecture will be on Tuesday the 27th, and will have for its subject the structures of Julius Caesar in the Forum, the buildings of the Vestals, and the temples of Saturn and Castor.

The Choral Union.

The Choral Union is steadily engaged in studying the Jubilee Cantata by Weber, and expected to take up at the next rehearsal Gounod's Galilia. This is one of the strongest of the works of great composers and will form a valuable addition to the repertoire of the society.

Season tickets for the concerts will be offered for sale in the near future. As the concerts will be only two in number the price of tickets has been limited to one dollar, which will include reserved seats. This will make the concerts within reach of everybody. The first concert will be given in the early part of January and the second in May. The membership of the Union has now reached 125, which number will be somewhat increased before the first concert.

A great many students are finding that a typewriter is almost a necessity. When we remember that one can get through with from three to ten times as much work on a typewriter as with a pen it does not seem strange that they are coming into almost universal use.

The Roman Forum.

The second lecture on the Forum was delivered by Dr. Showerman yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The lecture was illustrated. Many of the legends of the Forum were localized, among them those of Torpeia, Virginia, Attus Navius, and Romulus and the Sabines. Places of interest in the Forum relating to Horatius Cocles, Junius Brutus, and the Tullinius Priscus, and Pliny praises it as a piece of work wonderful in durability, saying that in his time after seven hundred years of services, it was unimpaired. The sewer still exists and serves its purpose as well as ever. It was constructed on the line of a stream which originally traversed the Forum.

The Mamertine Prison was next discussed. The name Mamertine dates from the Middle Ages, the classical name of the prison being the Tullianum. Its construction is attributed to Ancus Marcius. It was originally a cistern or well-chamber cut in the rock at the base of the Capitoline, and the spring which flowed in it exists at the present time. In it were confined Jugurtha, the Catilinarian conspirators, and many other famous personages of classical times. Tradition says that Saints Peter and Paul were also once confined in it.

The next public lecture will be on Tuesday the 27th, and will have for its subject the structures of Julius Caesar in the Forum, the buildings of the Vestals, and the temples of Saturn and Castor.
