5 CENTS

THRILLERS ARE BILLED FOR BIG VARSITY CIRCUS

Pretty Co-eds Will Sell Popcorn and Pink Lemonade

All concessions inside the arena at the circus Saturday have been allotted to the Alpha Phi sorority. Twenty-five girls dressed as gypsies will supply the proverbial peanuts, popcorn, chewing gum, and candy to the complete satisfaction of all concerned. Men students will have charge of all concessions outside the main show.

In the last moments of preparation the circus officials have found it necessary to dispense with the large tent which they expected to obtain from the Chicago storehouses of Ringling Brothers' circus. Prohibitive rent and the fact that only one performance can be given have made this move necessary.

The acrobatic end of the circus will be upheld by the freshman and varsity gym teams and by Gamma Sigma, honorary athletic fraternity. The two gym teams promise some very interesting and sensational exhibitions in living pyramid building and flying ring performances. Considerable time has been spent in working up and perfecting these acts and something new and startling is certain to be presented. Gamma Sigma has prepared a Roman ladder act—a balancing of human pyramids on ladders—which is reputed to be an innovation in athletic attainments.

Mounted Broad Sword Combat
Aanesen and Merrill have promised a revival of medieval warfare in the form of a mounted broad sword combat. The details of this act have been unusually well worked out, especially as to the equipage of horses and riders and a thrilling and realistic presentation of "horses de combat" and the maneuvers of Sir Galahad is expected to be staged by these knights of the broad sword.

In keeping with the general athletic atmosphere the Commerce club has arranged a clever take-off on an inter-college track meet in which the instigators carry off all the prizes, hands down.

Klu Klux Mystery
The dark horse mystery act of the big show is to be given by the intrepid Klu Klux Klan. Secrecy shrouds all their preparations and conjectures as to the possible theme

CASTALIA MEETS AT LATHROP TONIGHT

Castalia literary society meets tonight in the S. G. A. rooms at Lathrop to study Parliamentary law. A thorough practice will be given by Elizabeth Kundert, past president of Castalia, who has been conducting such drills for Keystone. This is to take the place of a regular program. Everybody out at 7 o'clock.

PREP ORATORS COMPETE TODAY

High School Declaimers in Tilt for State Title at Music Hall

The best high school orator in Wisconsin will be chosen this afternoon when nine speakers representing various sections of the state will meet at 2:30 in 165 Main hall. The girls' declamation contest will be held this morning at 7:30. No admission will be charged at either contest.

Those who will speak have been selected by a long process of elimination which has included all the high schools in the state. One declaimer and one orator are to represent each of nine districts into which the state has been divided.

The men who will speak this afternoon are: Robert Sher, Superior; R. T. Johnstone, Reedsburg; Melvin Thomson, River Falls; Walter Weichenam, Darlington; Otto Christenson, Stevens Point; Paul Freiburger, New London; Arnold Lurz, Tomah; John Perry, Sheboygan. There will also be a speaker from the Eau Claire district.

Those who will declaim this evening are: Mary Johnson, Iron River; Elizabeth Watson, Whitewater; Isabelle Van Meter, Hudson; Gladys Galligan, Bloomington; Lorraine Tuester, Wausau; Martha Leutscher, Antigo; Pearl Quamme, New Lisbon; Arlira Klug, Washington High. There will also be a representative from the Eau Claire district.

The Forensic board are anxious that there be a large turnout of students to these contests. The interest shown by the student body may determine whether these promising young people shall come to Wisconsin or not.

BADGER WILL BE OFF PRESS SOON

1921 Year-Book Will be Ready
For Distribution First Week in June

Word was received yesterday that the last form of the 1921 Badger has been put on the press at the Rogers printing company, Dixon, Ill., and the 5,000 copies will be ready for the binders in a few days, after which they will arrive in Madison for distribution the first week of June.

Right of way over 42 other annuals which the Rogers press is handling was given to the Badger and the work has gone ahead at breakneck speed.

Owing to the foresight of the business and editorial heads the 1921 Badger was assured of its publication by the purchase of the 1,267,361 square feet of white paper, which is used, early in the spring of 1919.

Purdue university has been forced to give up the publication of her annual after all the copy has been compiled because enamel stock to print the volume on is not available. Other year-books have been reduced in size because of the acute paper shortage.

BICKEL CALLS SENIOR CLASS MEET TUESDAY

Fourth Year Students to Discuss Important Commencement Affairs

The most important senior class meeting of the year will be held Tuesday evening, May 25, at the Engineering auditorium. The meeting is called for 7:15 in order that seniors may get away early in the evening.

Among the speakers will be Prof. F. L. Paxson, who will talk on the Alumni association and tell of the benefits of membership.

Other questions of importance in regard to commencement will also come up for discussion. Announcements will be made in regard to the wearing of caps and gowns. The chimes committee will also make its report.

Fred Bickel, class president, wishes it to be understood that this will be but a short meeting and that there will be absolutely no solicitation of funds. Every senior is expected to turn out.

GUN AND BLADE DANCE TONIGHT

The Gun and Blade club, an organization composed of students who were disabled while in the service, will hold a dance tonight in the Woman's building.

An active social committee has canvassed every one of the disabled crowd in an effort to get as many out to the dance as attended the picnic and ball game which the club held at Bernard's park about two weeks ago.

The canvass showed that the dancing days of a great many of the men are over and it has been decided that the dance should not be made exclusively for Gun and Blade members. There will be plenty of room on the floor for others.

Anyone wishing to attend this dance should call E. M. Boerke, or E. H. Myrland at Badger 8764, Adrian Scollen at Badger 5972, or make arrangements with any Federal Board student. The old time dances, cotillion and circle two-step will be featured and punch will be served.

PHI BETA KAPPA BANQUET FOR 200

Two hundred members of Phi Beta Kappa society, including 65 juniors and seniors recently elected, attended the twenty-second annual banquet of the Wisconsin Alpha chapter held last night at the Candy shop.

The banquet followed the initiation of the new members and was in recognition of the election of President E. A. Birge to the presidency of the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa.

Prof. F. C. Sharp, president of the Wisconsin chapter, acted as toastmaster, and Goodwin B. Watson, '20, and Frances Smith, '21, responded for the new initiates. President Birge's address was on the subject, "Phi Beta Kappa and the New World."

VARSITY NINE MEETS PURDUE HERE TODAY

Crippled Team Faces Boilermakers at Randall
This Afternoon

The first of two week-end baseball games will be played at Camp Randall this afternoon when the crippled Badger nine meets Purdue on the varsity field at 2:00. The game will start earlier than usual for Friday afternoon battles to enable the team to catch a 5:40 train for Chicago, enroute to Champaign, Ill., where it will clash with the Illini team on home territory.

Badgers Have Good Chance
It will be the second meeting with Purdue this year. The first game played at Lafayette ended in a victory for the Boilermakers in a weird sixth inning infield blowup which netted Purdue six runs. This game, however, is the only victory which the Purdue nine has to its credit and the Badgers have a good chance for revenge and a little better showing in the percentage column.

Zulfer on Mound
With Miller in the infirmary with mumps Coach Kent will be forced to take Zulfer from first base and start him on the mound. Zulfer worked a few innings in one of the early preliminary games, but that has been the extent of his pitching for the season. With good support he should have no trouble in winning the game.

With a few of the cripples back the infield will present a different line-up from the one which was used against Illinois last week. Willigrod will be back at first base and Lyman will start at third. Falk will play second and Farrington short stop. Emanuel, Caesar, and Doyle or Snow will make up the outfield.

Ogle will be saved for the Sucker game on Saturday, unless relief is needed this afternoon.

FORENSIC MIXER • AT GYM TONIGHT

The Forensic board mixer in the men's gymnasium tonight, given in honor of the state oratorical contestants, will also be the last mixer of the semester, and the only real warm weather one of the year.

The Forensic board promises entertainment which will put all former mixers in the background. Their object is to give the high school contestants a sample of the true Wisconsin spirit, and to make them realize that forensics are a big part of university life.

For this purpose music, refreshments, and floor have all been carefully considered, and the best possible chosen. Thompson's music, the gym floor, especially waxed, and an unknown ingredient in the line of refreshments guaranteed to be very refreshing, are the results.

In order that there may be no crowding, an entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged, and the doors, open at 8:30, will be closed at 10:30.

THERE'S NOT A THOUGHT IN THIS

There was a University
O, very big an' fine.
It musta had 30 departments,
Or maybe 39.

In one of these: a paint shop,
Where daubed aesthetic souls.
They painted ev'rything from
Overalls to doughnut-holes.

An' once they set to work to paint

Two signs for on the Hill:
They was t'keep bad automobiles
From their intent to kill.

And so they painted 'em in black

And white with rims of red
One for the foot of Swoopy
Drive,
And one for at its head.

They both advised the driver
And pedestrians to keep Each an eye peeled for the other,
So's the death toll wouldn't be steep.

They were dainty signs: quite neat
Grand and straight and quite clear, too.

But one mistake I'm sure they made;
Listen, and see if.....don't

An' this is what the trouble is.
It took so long to say.
The top sign says "Slow Up",
"Slow Down" points just the

What Has Been Once, Can't Was

Dear Ed:

Answer this out of your vast

My room-mate and I are in despair
to solve it:

Why this jazzy pace?
Why should tomorrow follow

Why can't yesterday?"

PRESS CLUB HOLDS ELECTION

"Pat" Dennis to Head
Scribes for Next Year

Officers for next year were elected at the final meeting of the Press club which was held last evening at 5:30 in the S. G. A. rooms of Lathrop hall. The new officers are as follows: President, Henry C. Dennis; vice-president, Mildred Nusbaum; secretary-treasurer, Richard Loewenthal; social chairman, Leon Kaumheimer; program chairman, Charles MacGinnis.

William T. Evjue, editor of The Capital Times, spoke to the members on "What the People's Papers Are Doing."

"The mass of the people is beginning to get control of the newspapers today," said Mr. Evjue. "Not long ago a man had to be wealthy in order to run a newspaper. Today there are papers rising all over the country in which the capital is supplied by 100 men instead of ten. And these men, who represent about 90 per cent of our population are beginning to mold public opinion instead of the meager 10 per cent who have formerly controlled the newspaper policies of the country."

Plans were discussed for a farewell picnic which is to be held in Monona park Thursday, May 27. A committee was appointed to take charge of the arrangements. The members of the committee are: Katherine Beebe, chairman, Alberta Heller, Pennell Crosby, Lloyd George, "Pat" Dennis, and Mildred Nusbaum.

ATHLETIC BOARD TO HOLD FEED

The new members of the Athletic board will entertain the old members with a "feed" at Hick's restaurant, 6:15 Tuesday evening, May 25. Altogether there will be 21 men present, there being ten new members in addition to the eleven who have served before.

The new members who were recently elected are: George Bunge, "Red" Weston, "Mike" Knapp, Wayne Ramsay, Carson Lyman, Knollin, George Stolley, Howard Stark, Allen Davey, and Mecartney.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

The annual banquet of the Chemical Engineers' society is to be held Tuesday, May 25, at the City Y. M. C. A. Those going should sign up on the bulletin board of the Chemical Engineering building.

THE YEAR'S CLIMAX—THE CIRCUS

THE circus has come to town! Those piles of lumber on the lower campus will soon become the coliseum for the first university circus in the experience of the present student generation.

A glance at the acts which have been selected will afford convincing evidence that this year's performance will be of unusual merit. It will not be subject to the limitations of the average university circus. Students who learned to ride in the famous Culver troop will exhibit the most difficult stunts of horsemanship.

Acrobats whose trapeze stunts were acquired under Barnum and Bailey's "big top" will stage thrilling overhead work. One hundred people will participate in a gorgeous reproduction of the tragedy of Anthony and Cleopatra.

Without exaggeration (in which generous enthusiasm sometimes indulges) the circus Saturday evening will excel all the pre-war productions. The genuinely professional ability of many of the performers and the wide variety of their acts give substantial backing to this prediction.

What will the circus accomplish besides affording a jolly evening? It has already heralded the initiative of Wisconsin students in every corner of the state. Scarcely a single daily or weekly paper but has commented, with hearty approval, on the circus at the university. The novelty and magnitude of the undertaking are kindling the interest of many a high school student and turning the attention of them all to the university.

Every high school athlete and orator present for the inter-scholastic contests will attend as the guest of a university organization. The circus, as a revelation and example of what university students accomplish, will influence these high school leaders to come to Wisconsin.

The entire net proceeds will go to the athletic department, to provide the sinews of war for another successful season in 1920-21. If an appeal to loyalty were needed to pack the stands, this fact would furnish an ample basis.

The circus comes as a fitting climax to a year crammed with successful student undertakings.

HOW TO GET CULTURE

"A THING of beauty is a joy forever,

Its loveliness increases, it will never

Pass into nothingness, but will keep

A lower quiet for you, and a sleep

Full of sweet dreams, and health and quiet breathing."

These oft-quoted lines from Keat's "Endymion" have a special significance in connection with the movement to increase an interest in the most inspiring musical compositions that the world has produced.

The music memory contest is helping us to learn more and more about the beautiful in music—the kind that will be a joy forever. Through this contest, which has been running for more than three weeks, hundreds of Madison school children have developed a subtle sense of appreciation for the classics produced by the ablest composers.

Through the best kind of music the spirit being within them has been awakened and the low-class popular music will never gain first place in their minds.

In Madison, the home of one of the world's greatest universities, music should be lifted above the jazz level, and the contest's influence on the child and adult mind has been a step towards this goal.

Those who love good music and wish to know more about the gems among musical compositions, the kind that are of permanent worth, can hear about them by attending an open meeting which will be held in the auditorium of Music hall Saturday morning at 10:30. Everyone who can should attend.

An appreciation of the best in music is necessary before one may be considered truly cultured.

MR. GROVES REPLIES

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

In reply to the communications and editorials of yesterday let me first clear up misapprehensions regarding the Order of the Barb. The organization, as stated in a previous communication, aims to abolish secret Greek letter fraternities and sororities at Wisconsin and to secure dormitories in their stead. As said before, the organization while in league with no parties in the legislature, has taken pains to sound out opinion sufficiently to become convinced that both are attainable at the next session of the legislature if not through the Board of Regents. As for the organization being exclusive, nothing of course could be further from the truth. Anyone in sympathy with the purposes of the movement is eligible and welcome to join it. We regret exceedingly having offended Mr. Craneby by not soliciting his membership earlier.

Since we have neither the time nor the means to get the signature of all the people who have promised support to the movement we are unable at the present writing at least, to submit a list of members. Considering the fact that fraternities are by definition secret organizations, and that every interfraternity organization among them since they were founded—and don't suppose for a moment that there have been no such organizations—has been secret, we will not consider it greatly to our discredit if we chose never to submit our membership. That, however, we reserve for future decision.

As for the personal attack of yesterday, I do not feel that it is worth answering. When people can not refute principle with principle they attack personalities. I have no personal complaint to make against fraternities. Frankly, however, I attribute much of what political success I have had to the fact that fraternities during the latter part of my college course were recovering from the war and were more or less inactive. As for election to White Spades, if Mr. Craneby wants to believe that fraternity "pull" plays no part in these elections he is perfectly at liberty to do so. Only I have my own opinions.

Let us now consider the objections raised to our case against the fraternities? Oddly enough, in four columns of rather heated literature, there does not seem to be much to rebut? The editorial asks a question or two. Can snobbery be cured by legislation? Certainly not, we agree. But legislation can do away with an institution which undeniably fosters it, and with a caste system which projects it from the college into the alumni population.

Mr. Allin asks: Can a more democratic institution be organized? Certainly. Dormitories are more democratic. The housing situation in Madison makes their construction imperative. It is urged by some that social clubs will take the place of fraternities. Not unless the university wants them. We have five thousand students who seem to be getting along all right without them. And the others are not so different from the rest of us. But it is doubtful if social clubs would be so objectionable anyway. The abolition of secret groups affiliated with national organizations would divest those bodies of 99 per cent of their power, prestige, and influence. Every fraternity man knows it. Otherwise the substitution of clubs for fraternities would not meet such vigorous opposition.

As to Mr. Allin's second question: Are activities unduly hampered by fraternities? I speak from five years experience when I say that I firmly believe that anyone not joining a fraternity is, in normal times at least, severely handicapped, politically. And socially no man can deny that 75 per cent of the student body are passed over in their freshmen and sophomore years and relegated to "social inferiority." I have personally seen friendships between non-fraternity men and sorority women broken up because "that sort of thing isn't done at Wisconsin." Perhaps this is as it should be. But it "goes against the grain" of some of us. And we have a notion that some of the voters who elect the legislature—farmers and laborers for the most part—may see it the same way.

We are convinced that our case is sound. We are not certain that we will win now. But the day will come—it has already come at Oregon, Mississippi and others—when college democracy will cease to be a sham and will become a reality.

HAROLD M. GROVES,
Authorized by the Publicity committee, Order of the Barb.

Editor's Note—Lack of space prevents publication of two communications set in type for today's issue. These will be published as soon as space limitations allow.

FESTIVE AGRICS STAGE PICNIC

A round of track events and funny stunts made the first annual Agricultural College federation picnic held yesterday afternoon at the Rainer farm a successful affair. The first event was a free for all indoor baseball game. "Ags" and "Home Ecs" vied with each other in wielding the baseball bat, or rolling pin, whichever was the most convenient.

BADGER TRACK TEAM FACES GOPHERS TODAY

Coach Jones Confident Cinder Men Will Score Victory

Having upset the conference track dope by defeating Illinois last week, the Badger cinder men will attempt to uphold their standing in a dual meet with Minnesota at Minneapolis today.

"The Gophers have beat us but twice in 10 years," said Coach Tom Jones yesterday afternoon, "but I believe that they have the strongest team this season that they have had in that length of time."

"However, the men got a good start with their victory last Saturday and if the present spirit of fight keeps up, Wisconsin should come through the season with flying colors."

Gophers Formidable

That Minnesota has a more formidable squad than usual can hardly be denied when the results of this year's meets are compared with the others. The Norsemen are especially strong in the sprints and Jones' men may have to pile up a lead in the field events to overcome a possible edge in the dashes.

With Kelley and Johnson the Gophers have won first and second in the sprints in their meets so far. Both men have been running fast time in the 220 yard dash and Johnson is a 9.45 man in the hundred. Other good men are Oss, football and basketball star, and McNally in the 440 yard dash; Anderson, hurdler; Sweitzer in the mile and Fisher in the half mile.

For the first time this year Coach Jones will run Spetz in the quarter mile, and Knollin will probably run in the 100 yard dash in place of Spetz.

Mile—Wisconsin: Dayton, Ramsay, Crump, Wall.

The last Fellowship meeting of the year heard a talk upon "Don't Stop Cultivating" by "Steve" Gilman, at the "Y" last night. He demonstrated the vital necessity of constantly developing the mind, and of being able to meet and hold as friends many diverse types of men. The talk was full of interesting experiences along the line that "Steve" was driving at, and got hearty appreciation from his listeners.

There was a musical program by Nathan Buetell and Nelson Fairbanks before the talk began, and "Wes" Travers closed the year's Fellowship activities with a few words about the plans for next year.

SELLING IS GREAT GAME

—JOHNSON

Sales Expert of Rich Tool Company Speaks to Commerce Convo

"If you are going to succeed, no matter what business you go into, you've got to love your job," said Horace J. Johnson, sales executive of the Rich Tool company, before the last Commerce vocational conference, yesterday afternoon.

"If you get into a business and don't like it, for goodness sake don't stay in it," continued the speaker. "You'll never be anything but a monkey wrench in the machinery, if you do."

"When I hire a man," said Mr. Johnson in answer to queries on this point, "I look for the following qualities in him. He must look me square in the eye—you can't trust a man who doesn't look you in the face. He must have a good smile, otherwise he isn't human. His personal appearance must make a favorable impression. He must have lots of 'pep' and show that he loves his work."

"Selling is a great game. It is so varied that it is real fun." And the

SENIORS

Your committee on membership in the General Alumni association asks you to read the following statements carefully:

The General Alumni Association has a membership of more than 5,000 leading men and women graduates of the university (126 members of the faculty are members of the General Alumni association).

SENSE AND SENTIMENT

Absolutely regardless of any sense of gratitude to the university, you cannot afford to cut yourself off from university associations when you graduate. You need the university more than the university needs you.

3.

NO ACCOUNT

An alumni organization always ready to serve, with a publication always full of information about the university and its alumni, IS NO ACCIDENT. It exists because there are alumni who consider their university training a trust entailing obligations.

Speed the day when every man and woman who ever attended the university is enrolled as a member of the General Alumni association. It is one very practical way of showing your faith in the university and your desire to stand behind it.

N. B.—Seniors who join now will be credited with membership until July 1, 1921.

PREP ATHLETES ARRIVE FOR BIG TRACK CONTEST

Twenty-three High Schools to be Represented in Annual State Meet

Starting this morning, athletes from all parts of the state will pour into Madison to compete in the interscholastic track and field meet to be held at Camp Randall tomorrow afternoon.

Extensive preparations have been made to entertain the high school teams. To encourage athletics throughout the state and to give the high school students an opportunity to become acquainted with the state university and college life, this meet is held annually under the auspices of the university. This year marks the 26th time, the first meet being held on June 8, 1895. Only 10 schools were represented at that time, Milwaukee East division winning the meet.

The following 23 teams have sent in their entry blanks: Appleton, Ashland, Cambridge, Chippewa Falls, Hixton, Kenosha, La Crosse, Madison, Manitowoc, Mauston, Merrill, Milwaukee Bay View, Milwaukee Riverside, Milwaukee North, Milwaukee South, Milwaukee Washington, Milwaukee West, Mineral Point, New Richmond, Oshkosh, Racine, Wilton, Wisconsin High.

A new system has been inaugurated this year for the classification of the teams. Schools with an enrollment of 350 or more will be put in class "A," while schools with less than 350 will be placed in class "B." This plan has been adopted to put the meet on a more equal basis, giving the smaller schools an equal chance with the larger ones.

In class "A" Milwaukee Riverside looks like a strong contender for honors, according to recent showings, with La Crosse perhaps a close second. In class "B" both Merrill and Chippewa Falls look good.

From a field of 22 schools last year, Milwaukee West division won a great victory. Getchell of Merrill high won individual honors, coping six firsts.

This year loving cups will be presented to the teams winning first in each division, to the team winning the relay, and to the highest individual point winner. Medals for first, second, and third places in the various events will be given.

An answer appeared in the next morning's Cardinal in the form of an interview with Professor Dawson, who is at the head of the movement in the university, but there has been no official refutation.

The semi-public sophomore debates are an annual feature of the literary society program. Members of the teams are as follows:
