Castalia Meets Tomorrow Night to Explain Work

An open program of Castalia literary society will be held at 7 o'clock tomorrow night in the S. G. A. room, Lathrop hall. In view of the coming try-outs, all women interested in the work of the society are urged to be present at this meeting.

A short program consisting of a reading, musical selection, and informal talk will be presented to display the type of work specialized in. A short reception will follow in order to get acquainted with the guests.

A definite time and place for tryouts will be arranged when each prospective woman will fill out an application for membership. Second semester freshmen and all upperclassmen are eligible for membership.

REGENTS AROUSE WAVE OF SPIRIT; FLAG FLIES

Did you wonder why the flag was flying over the door of the Administration building yesterday? No, it was not a holiday or someone's birthday. Give up? Well, the regents are in Madison. The Administration building always flies the flag over the door while the regents are here.

Freshmen Seek Rush Bags Made in the Future

Tuesday night several freshmen attempted to force their way into the gymnasium for the purpose of abducting the sacks for the rush. But the bags have not been made as yet, and they will be properly guarded when they are ready for action.

Clubs to be used by the cops have been made, and they will be ready for distribution to the team captains at the Chi Psi house at 150 Iota court between 8 and 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

In some of the former rushes the lower campus has been plowed up or drenched with water as an added handicap for the freshmen to overcome. If any of this appears this year, the rush will be officially called off or postponed by the Athletic board which has complete charge of the affair.

Tryouts of the Girls' Glee club resulted in 27 girls being chosen out of 45 competitors. Nine of this group were selected for first soprano positions.

They are Mable Peterson '26, Kathryn Reed, Anita Netzow '26, Helen Urschel '25, Lorna White '26, Iona Wessel, graduate, Marie Merrill '25, Margaret Belle and Goldene Sterling '26. The women selected for second soprano are Esther Nelson '26, Josephine Jecelyn '26, Olivia Orth '24, Ruth Elston '26, Elizabeth Jones '25, Opal Wheeler '26, Evelyn Wilson '26 and Lucille Wieneke.

The first meeting of new members of the club was held yesterday in music hall. Dr. Mills, director of the school of music, welcomed the girls into the club.

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE PLAYERS ELECT SEVEN

Miss MacMillan is an alumnus of Wisconsin and now a member of the dramatic faculty of Northwestern university.

Miss Rodigan is also an alumnus of Wisconsin and has charge of dramatic teaching in the Racine high school.

Students! Read This and Weep for Poor Uncle Sam

Last year 395,675 packages were mailed by students at the postal station in Summer and Crampton's drug store, according to the estimate made by Mr. Crampton. Most of these packages were laundry cases, although a large number of boxes of candy were sent out of town. Laid end to end these parcels would reach over 100 miles.

"Thursday and Friday are the heaviest days," said Mr. Crampton. "I suppose most families have their washing done on Monday and students have to send their laundry before Saturday. Monday is the next heaviest day, probably because students pick up their things on Sunday and get them ready for mailing Monday," he said.

$16,000 worth of stamps were sold last year by Sumner and Crampton. More than $21,000 worth of money orders were disposed of ranging from 50 cents to $100.

BARWIG DIRECTS POLICE WORK IN RUSH SATURDAY

Appoints 15 Policemen Assistants For Protection to Freshmen

Byron Barwig '24, was appointed chief-of-police for the rush at a meeting of the Athletic board in the Armory yesterday noon. Fifteen captains have already been chosen by Barwig as assistants, and each of these will choose 10 men as cops.

This has been the custom for years as it is necessary to have the lower classmen protected on the day of the historic battle.

Those who have been chosen as cops will be on duty all day Saturday, and will be subject to the call of the chief any time during the previous night if it is necessary to preserve peace.

Those who have been appointed by Barwig as captains are:

The sacks for the rush are being made by the service department. They are of the same dimensions as those of previous years, and will be equally as difficult to handle. Numbers will be painted on both sides of the sacks so that there will be no unavoidable confusion.

No handicap has been decided upon as yet by the leaders of the cops. It has been the custom during the past years for the sophomores to have a certain adjudged number of paces as a handicap to the freshmen. Whether or not this will be continued will be announced tomorrow morning.

Y. W. GIVES FRIENDSHIP BANQUET WEDNESDAY

The Y. W. C. A. banquet at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening in Lathrop hall, instead of being a membership banquet, as formerly will be a friendship banquet for all women, new and old.

Dorothy Wilgus '24, is general manager. Bernice Klug '26, has charge of the publicity, the making of the posters and the general advertising. Lillian Pwenhosell is in charge of the tickets. They will be sold for 85 cents at the Y. W. C. A. office, Lathrop, and from women who will be appointed from the various rooming houses.

A march and get-acquainted program, arranged by Leonore Luenzmann '25, will take place before the dinner. Professor Tittle, Northwestern university, will be one of the speakers.

Prof. E. H. Elwell spoke before the Rotary club at the Park hotel yesterday noon on the subject of "Business Overhead."

"Our sales in stamps are much more than anyone would think," Mr. Crampton stated. "On Saturdays we usually sell about 200 special delivery stamps. Some of them are for packages, but the majority go on letters. Some of our customers belong to what we call the special delivery club, because they mail special delivery letters every Saturday. Most of these customers are girls, and I suppose they are writing to their beaus at home."

The number of students who send their laundry home is about equally divided between men and women.

The number of packages delivered to students by the mailmen has increased to such an extent that Postmaster W. A. Devine has found it necessary to add another man and delivery truck to the parcel post force, making seven delivery trucks in service.

RUSSELL NELSON WINS ENGINEERING HONORS

Russell A. Nelson '26, received the slide rule given each year by Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity to the freshman with the highest scholastic average. The rule was presented to Nelson yesterday afternoon by Wallace Drisken '24, at the freshman lecture. Making 102 grade points for an average of excellent during last year, Nelson stood considerably above his nearest competitor and far above the general average of the college.

Y. W. C. A. TO START DRIVE ON MONDAY

Membership and Finance Campaigns Will Be One Effort This Year

The Y. W. C. A. membership and finance drives will be conducted in one campaign this year, starting next Monday and continuing for two weeks. Although this is a new plan it is expected that it will increase the efficiency of the organization by enrolling only those girls who are really interested in the work, and at the same time will offer an opportunity to get subscriptions to cover the student quota of $2,000.

Organized teams will launch the drive Monday morning under the supervision of nine captains selected by Mary Atwood '25, and Margaret Brown '24, general chairmen.

The captains are: Mary Pidcoe '26, Isabell Winter '25, Helen Haswell '24, Ernestine Blatz '25, Alice Clarke '25, Irene Whitehead '25, Dorothy Scott '24, Betty Brown '25, Betty Mahoney '26, Katherine Bach '25, Helen Prange '24, Marcella Neff '24, Pauline Newell '24, Georgina Stanfield '24 and Alice Lyan '26.

"By means of this thorough organization every girl in school will be reached," Mary Atwood said yesterday. "We sincerely hope that every girl will respond not only by giving money but by exerting her greatest effort to make this an exceptional year for the Y. W. C. A. If we do not do our share financially and cover the student quota how can we expect the faculty and alumni to fill their quotas?"

Foreign Flashes

BERLIN, Oct. 10—Hugo Stinnes, "the industrial Kaiser", today issued what in effect is an ultimatum to the government. The industrialists demands are for: indemnification for coal and other seizures by the French in the Ruhr; advantages in taxation; advantages in transportation; aid in forcing through a longer working day. Chancellor Stresemann has ignored these overtures.

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 10—With one dead and five towns threatened by fire, navigation on the Great Lakes, and train and bus service hampered by a heavy pall of smoke, and thousands of dollars in property losses, forest fires in the northern part of three states started their second day of major destruction. Governor Blaine ordered out the Superior unit of the National Guards to fight the fire raging at Manitow Falls late last night.

BERLIN, Oct. 10—The German mark was quoted today at 1,800,000 to the dollar. Two billion for $1 was offered by private sharks in Cologne.

INDIANAPOLIS, Indiana, Oct. 10—Governor McGraw has been named in suits for recovery on notes cashed by the governor and held by Indiana banks as worthless. The governor is accused of forgery.

Pass Motion Bringing Three Freshmen to Trial Next Week

When a motion to bring the three freshmen apprehended after Tuesday's hazing episode on the lower campus to trial was passed by the Student court at its meeting last night in the Law building, the first action in the court's campaign against hazing in all forms had been taken.

Chief Justice T. R. Hannon called attention to the bulletin issued yesterday in which all students were warned that no hazing will be tolerated, and that offenders will be prosecuted to the full extent of the court's power.

"Furthermore," he said, "I want it to be known that all hazing activities this week-end will end in prosecutions for those concerned. The freshmen, will hold an organization meeting on Friday, I understand, and it is imperative that the court's stand on the matter be known to all."

Both Classes Participate

The freshmen accused in Tuesday's affair, Jeff Burroughs, Henry Brooks, and John Wilkinson, and an unknown companion, will be tried late next week, probably Thursday or Friday. The case will be the first in which Thomas Burk, Law 3, who last night was elected district attorney, will prosecute.

"From all reports, there was much hazing on Tuesday, both by sophomores and freshmen," said Hannon, in speaking of the recent affair. "It is my opinion that if the evidence warrants, the offenders should be punished as examples. We may thus possibly end the thing for good and all."

Hopes For Evidence

Hannon then explained the case against the freshmen as he understood the facts, pointing out that the men were not actually guilty of hazing, but rather of inciting hazing, since they taunted the sophomores, and tried to induce them to begin a class fight.

"In my opinion," he added, "inciting hazing is a part of hazing, and as such, comes under the jurisdiction of the court."

He also expressed the hope that further evidence will come up at the trial, by which the blame for what happened Tuesday night might be fixed on both sophomores and freshman participants.

ARMY MAN STUDYING CHEMISTRY FOR SERVICE

Lieut. Kuhn, a member of the chemical warfare service of the United States army, is enrolled in the chemistry department. The government is sending him here to study the biological end of this science.

Lieut. Kuhn is working especially under Professor A. S. Louvenhart. Both of these men served during the war in the chemical warfare department of the army.

"The chemical warfare service during the great war was very weak from a biological standpoint. This is now realized by the government and it has picked Wisconsin over all other schools to instruct Lieut. Kuhn in this work," said Professor J. H. Walton yesterday.

NATIONAL SECRETARY VISITS ALPHA ZETA

Babcock chapter of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, was visited yesterday by H. B. Potter, national general secretary, of Marshall, Ill. Mr. Potter met with the council of local chapter in the morning and at noon was entertained at luncheon at the University club by active members of the fraternity. Several faculty members were present.

There will be a compulsory meeting of The Cardinal advertising staff in the business office at 12:45 o'clock Friday.

BIG TEN FLAGS FLY AT HOMECOMING

Judges Award Prizes to Houses Early on Night of October 26

With the homecoming looming up in the near future, plans for decorating the campus and stadium are progressing rapidly under the tutelage of Charles Gary '24, chairman of the decorations committee.

It is hoped to have the whole city in gala attire for the event and to be able to welcome the alum with a mass of color and a blaze of lights, according to Gary, and much has already been done to make this possible.

CHAS. GARY
"Plans are under (Badger Photo) way to decorate the stadium more extensively than has been the custom in the past," Gary declared yesterday. "Flags of the Big Ten universities will be flying from the top of the stands, with the cardinal and the brown and yellow prominent."

Prizes are being offered to the best decorated fraternity, sorority and women's rooming houses, Chadoorne and Barnard halls will also compete for prizes.

The merchants of the city have been divided into two classes: those with and those without professional trimmers and a prize will be given for the best decorated window in each class.

Judging will take place between 7 and 8:30 o'clock on October 26. The committee of judges is to be chosen from the faculty and will be announced in a later issue of The Cardinal. All organizations competing for prizes are requested to have their work completed before Friday night.

ROOD AND WAY SPEAK AT ENGINEERS' MEET

Professors Rood and Woy were the principal speakers at the meeting of the A. I. E. E. held last night. Professor Rood stressed the need of personal contact with students outside of the class rooms. "To be a successful engineer one needs more than just book knowledge," Professor Rood said. "One may have all the book knowledge available and yet be a failure."

Professor Woy explained the work of the engineer which often does not deal with technical details. He emphasized the fact that the engineer's training is too often directed along technical lines only.

"When you get on a job you will have to be able to cover its entire scope and deal with every profession coming in contact with that job," he said.

PROF. TERRY STUDIES STATE DISTURBANCES

Prof. E. M. Terry of the physics department, who is director of the university radio station WHA, will continue his investigation of the static disturbances in wireless communication, this fall. Professor Terry started his investigation last spring and he was assisted by four students who did this research work for their thesis. He expects to have several students engage in the work this year also.

VANDALS TAKE PICTURES FROM 1925 BADGER

Several nights ago someone pried open the 1925 Badger photo-display case in front of the Alumni building. All pictures except three were taken and the lock was broken beyond repair. The case has been loaned to the Badger by the Photo-art house. A new lock is being placed in the door, but if any further vandalism occurs the display will be discontinued.

Cardinal Keeps Old-Timers Posted; Many Subscribe

Do Wisconsin alumni read The Cardinal?

Or, after pocketing their sheepskins, do they feel as if they no longer have any real connection with their alma mater? Do football and the "doings" at school still interest them?

These are a few of the questions one thinks of when he recalls the names of persons once prominent on the campus, who have passed out in the ranks of the graduating classes to conquer the world.

Glancing over the letter files in the Cardinal business office the other day, a curious reporter learned that hundreds of alumni do subscribe to The Cardinal and that they are just as interested in affairs at Wisconsin as they were when they were here at school.

Cardinal Goes Everywhere
The Cardinal is being read by alumni in practically every state in the union. Even Jalisco, Mex. harbors an old Wisconsin man who is a regular subscriber to the Cardinal.

Harold Diehm '23 writes from Big Rapids, Mich.:

"I am living in hopes that I may be fortunate enough to get back am not so fortunate, I know The for homecoming. However, if I am not so fortunate, I know The Cardinal will get me as close as it is possible to get without being there. At any rate, it will tell me the Wisconsin side of things and that is what I need around here where everything is Michigan or Mac."

N. C. Trauba '22, who is located at Philadelphia, Penn., writes:

Cardinal Football Dope
"We fellows in this part of the feel that the only place to go for the real conference dope is to The Cardinal; for the eastern papers do not give western football, or any other athletics, much of a write-up. After glancing over a few Pennsylvanians, I've concluded that The Cardinal has a very decided edge

RUSSIAN STUDIES HERE TWO DAYS

Visits Forest Products Laboratory to Inspect Records in Wood Distillation

Prof. Nicholas Karavaev, instructor in chemical engineering in the Higher Institute of Technology of Moscow, Russia, visited the Forest Products laboratory, Monday and Tuesday. He came especially to study the laboratory plant and records in wood distillation. From here he goes to visit several important wood distillation plants in the south, especially the Du Pont Chemical plant at Georgetown, S. C.

The use of wood distillates as a substitute for gasoline for internal-combustion engines is looked upon as of vital economic importance for northern Russia. Some petroleum indications are now being investigated by the government, but as yet there are no producing wells, and no gasoline.

Russia has a vast area of timber. To find a way to make these forests supply the deficiency of petroleum for northern Russia is one of the most important studies of the Institute of Technology, as carried on by Prof. Karavaev.

Prof. Karavaev pays high tribute to the courtesy of the American professional and technical men who have assisted him in his quest of a way to utilize the Russian national resources.

Hot chocolate and sandwiches will be sold to hungry athletes by W. A. A. members at Camp Randall field house, according to the vote taken at the W. A. A. meeting Tuesday night.

The success or failure of this plan will be determined by a week's trial. If refreshment prove to be in great demand, the duties will be turned over to some elderly lady.

W. A. A. goes still further in its business enterprises.

Gay-colored balloons will be sold to the dancing classes during the year. Miss H. Doubler states that approximately one thousand balloons are bought annually.

Upon recommendations from the board, it was voted by the association that the dance-drama proceeds, loaned to the W. A. A. Cottage company for incorporation and campaign expenses, be considered a gift to the corporation.

It was voted to send a letter of thanks to the board of regents for the grant of land for the cottage and to Prof. Blance M. Trilling and Dean F. Louise Nardin for their kind efforts.

Helen Gath Meanwell was elected a graduate member of the board to cooperate with Homecoming plans and other affairs throughout the year.

It was voted that the chairman of the cottage committee, Margaret Henry '25, be a member of the board.

On the day of Homecoming, two hockey games will be staged; varsity vs. alumni and the Chicago Hockey team vs. the Madison Hockey club.

NET TOURNAMENTFirst Round Being Played, But Officials Want More Speed

At last the tennis tourney is well under way!

A number of men have definitely established their claim to contesting in the second round of the tournament for the all-university championship by defeating their opponents in the first match play.

With the exception of Art Riddle, a rangy Grand Rapids boy who showed some class when he handily defeated Snyder by a margin of four games a set, no exceptional ability was brought out.

Only one match was closely contested, this being when C. Grindorff won from R. H. Tower by the small score of 7-5, 9-7. The other results follow:

E. Grelle won over Roach, Gibson defeated J. V. Wilson, Durand won from Manierre by a score of 6-0, 6-3; Schneyer defeated Sarles by five games a set; Hanson won from Benedict 6-2, 6-3; Gressel defeated Darsenouge; Walker won over MacFadden, and Stebbins won from Meyer.

"We are counting on this tourney to bring out the material that we will need to fill up the holes left in the last spring's squad by graduation," said Nick Agasen. "Both Moulding and I feel that that material will soon show itself. Never have so many promising men appeared before in my career at college."

The yearling tourney has opened its lists to freshmen aspirants and all those who desire to enter may do so by registering with George Hagen at his office in the men's gym.

The tourney will get under way as soon as the all-varsity championship is decided, but to do this it will be necessary for the contestants in the tournament now under way, to speed up their play considerably.

The first two rounds must be completed by Friday night, if they are not finished the match will be forfeited, and the chance for the crown fought out by those who have won their previous rounds.

35 MEN REPORT
AT SWIM MEETINGSteinauer Sends Out Call For Plungers Weighing 200 Pounds

The varsity swimming squad held a meeting in the armory last night at which Coach "Joe" Steinauer gave the men all of the dope for the coming season. More than 35 men were present, and the prospects look bright for a banner year.

Special appeal, however, is being sent out for plungers. The squad is sorely in need of such men at the present time, and anyone with weight over 200 pounds should report to Steinauer at his earliest convenience. Extensive previous experience is not necessary.

The men were given special instructions about the regulation of eating and sleeping by Hugo Czerwonky, captain of the team this year, and by Johnny Bennett, who led the team through the past season.

Lockers were issued to the men who were on the team last year, and additional lockers will be obtained for the other men at the end of the week. This insures an early start toward what should be, according to the present status of affairs, one of Wisconsin's best years in the aquatic line.

The schedule for this year is rather heavy. It includes Chicago and Minnesota at Madison, and Indiana, Iowa and Illinois there. There will be preliminary contests with Milwaukee Athletic club and with the Chicago Athletic club.

Meetings of the squad will be held after each meet at which the errors and mistakes of the meet will be discussed and corrected.

ALABAMA, CONQUERORS OF PENN, AFTER MORE BIG GAME

Alabama university, whose powerful elevens have spread terror through the south for several years, is set to create considerable havoc this season. Spurred on by a 9 to 7 victory over the powerful U. of Penn team last year, the southerners are seeking more big game. They will play Syracuse in their first big game. Coach Wade counts on four triple threat men in his backfield and a number of deceptive plays to outwit the Syracuse crew and other opponents this fall.

CREW WORKS DAILY
ON LAKE MENDOTAEight Men Work Regularly
But More Oarsmen Are Expected

With prospects of several big races next spring, the varsity crew is taking advantage of October's Indian summer weather and is working out daily on Lake Mendota.

Johnson, captain and stroke of last year's crew, is recovering from a badly twisted knee and will be in prime condition by the time spring training commences. In the meantime the crew is being stroked by Talley and Wallagher, either of whom may give Johnson a fight for the berth next spring.

A number of men, among them Oscar Teckemeyer and Bentson, are now out for football, while Jerry Jax, Deac Jones and Holmes are in school but have not yet reported.

Among the men who are rowing daily are Captain-elect Schuetz, Grunitz, Plettner, Berg, Murray, Schumann, Esser and Gerhardt.

Taken all around, the varsity has taken on a more finished appearance, and should step out and scare a couple of these conference teams by rolling up a knock-out score on the Farmers.

Women Fish Will Be Selected From Trials This Week

Women's swimming teams are to be chosen a week from Saturday from the girls who try out between 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock Friday or at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening in the Lathrop pool.

A poster has been placed on the bulletin in Lathrop hall and all women interested are asked by Helen Robinson '25, head of swimming, to sign for the time they wish to try out.

No definite dates have been set for the choosing of volleyball and hockey teams. They are usually chosen about two weeks before the close of the season which ends this year November 21.

Qualifications for swimming team are based on speed or diving ability. There will be races in crawl, breast, side and back strokes and a diving event in which all contestants must perform three dives.

Ryan sure gave them complete "disaster" during the scrimmage last night. Every time some man was injected into the mixup and a mistake, or lack of guts was evident, out he went—next man!

It looks like more end material could be used this year. Ryan's got about six ends out there, and they all look the same to the dyed-in-the-wool fan. Nelson and Johnson still have the edge on that one position, with Irish batting about 250 on the other end.

The all-Americans headed by Stone, Mark and Kessenich, looked fair against the varsity. As second string varsity men went in the all-Americans began to look better.

Radke and Opitz stopped some nice fast heaves last night, way up on the line of scrimmage. Nice going gang.

This boy Kessenich played a whiz of a game at Knox college last year, they say, and he's looking good out here already, with those big knees of his up under his chin.

The big question everybody is asking is, "How bad are we going to beat the Michigan Aggies today?" This column bets we beat 'em by at least two touchdowns. It's almost certain that with Opie and Taft back in there, we're going to do better than a week ago.

The Aggies have a couple of hard hitting backs that are supposed to outweigh our piano-rolling trio.

FAMOUS GRID COACHES ARE EXPERIENCED MEN

Some of the greatest football coaches in the game have been at their occupation for more than a score of years.

Johnny Heisman, now at Washington and Jefferson, is beginning his thirty-first year as a coach.

Lon Stagg has been Chicago's football idol for nearly 30 years.

Fielding H. Yost, "Hurry Up" fame, still preaches the grid gospel after 25 years.

Pop Warner of Pittsburgh, who coached the Carlisle Indians years ago, is a veteran.

Dan McGugin at Vanderbilt is not a youngster in the coaching game, and Mike Donahue at Louisiana State has been gray headed for some years.

GREEK BOWLERS
TO BEGIN TONIGHTPairings Are Announced; One
More Team Needed,
Bock Says

The inter-fraternity bowling tournament will start at 7 o'clock tonight on the Wisconsin alleys when the first division teams meet for the first time this season.

The pairings for tonight are:

At 7 O'clock

Sigma Pi vs. Psi Upsilon.
Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Alpha Sigma Phi vs. Delta Pi Epsilon.

Alpha Theta Phi vs. Phi Gamma Delta.

At 9 O'clock

Zeta Psi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon.
Delta Chi vs. Theta Xi.

Alpha Tau Omega vs. Triangle.

All other teams entered will bowl on Tuesday evening.

"The league wants one more fraternity to enter the tournament. We are unevenly paired now and entrance of another team will straighten matters out to perfection," said A. B. C. Bock '24, secretary of the Inter-Fraternity Bowling league, last night. Any fraternity desiring to enter should communicate with Bock at Badger 8.

Early Indications
Say Frosh Cagers
Will Be Winners

If the beginning of an undertaking foretells in any way its end, Coach George "Windy" Lewis of the frosh basketball squad will soon have an aggregation whipped into shape that will give Doc Meanwell's charges plenty of stiff work outs before the conference season starts.

The squad of 150 freshmen that was on the gym floor Monday has already been cut in half. Not a one of them has been dropped without his being given a fair trial, but Lewis is out after a team and is working hard.

Yesterday's practice consisted of light floor work, long and follow-up shots, and a few minutes of scrimmage.

Even though practice is already a week old Meanwell and Lewis urge that any freshman who has not as yet tried out be on the floor 7:15 o'clock tomorrow night.

Before Badger Gridders
Quit Work

The ghost ball, signifying that practice must go on even after darkness has made the ordinary pigskin indiscernible, was brought into use at Camp Randall for the first time this year last night when Coach Jack Ryan worked his men far beyond the usual hour.

A symbol of hard work and long hours, the injection of the white ball into practice can only mean that the team needs every minute available before the conference season starts and that the coaches realize the fact.

Play Until Dark

Almost complete darkness had settled over the field before Ryan called a halt to the practice.

Evidently the much needed "drive" is beginning to appear in the varsity squad, for in scrimmage last night the all-Americans were powerless on the offense as well as on the defense. Even with the line almost entirely composed of reserves, the varsity outplayed the ineligibles.

Veterans in Lineup

Many of the men who have been on the list of injured were in the mixup last night. Tom Nichols worked at center and went to guard when Pearse was sent in at the pivot position. Oscar Teckemeyer retained his place on the first eleven.

George Carlson, an accurate passer and a fast back, who has been out of scrimmage with a bad leg, worked at his old position at left half. His leg seemed to bother him little in hitting the line, and he succeeded in getting off several nice passes.

Herb Opitz, another back who suffered a sprained ankle a week ago, went through his paces last night in great shape.

Radke Hits Line

With both Stangel and Taft following the first team around in its signal drill, Radke worked again at full. Within 15 minutes of play last night, he pounded through the all-American line for three touch-downs.

Ryan is evidently pointing his team toward the conference battles which all start in two weeks, but the Michigan Aggie team, appearing here next Saturday, is also receiving grave consideration. While the Badgers are certain to be in fitter condition to meet the farmers than they were to meet Coe last Saturday they do not underrate the ability of the northerners.

The Aggies will have had two full weeks of practice and one hard game since they met Chicago, and they will come to Madison with a strong team.

Kipke Works At End

"Stub" Kipke, brother of the famous Harry Kipke of Michigan is playing a great game at end for the Aggies. It ability runs equally in the family, the Badgers should start looking out for that end immediately.

In Captain Taylor, the Aggies have a powerful tackle who will cause the Badgers plenty of trouble. Taylor has proved to be a monkey wrench in the machinery of many a strong team during the past two years.

Badger Team Uncertain

Either Hultman or Eckert will play left guard, while Eckerman will play center. Hackett, Haskins, and Edmonds play guard, tackle, and end on the right side of the line.

Richards will in all probability lead the team at the kickoff, Lioriet and Schmyser will play at the halfback positions, and Neller will play full.

The Badger team which will go into the field Saturday is as yet uncertain, but there may be changes in it from that which appeared against Coe college.

IS THE NEW ORDER A FAILURE?

The annual squabbles of the lower classes are apparently not extinct; although diminishing in intensity. They are less hectic, but a good deal more ludicrous, than in former years. The net result of the latest fracas seems to be that four freshmen are to be tried for the high crime of cheering their own class and jeering at the sophomores.

The state of brotherly love which was supposed to have existed between the two classes is no longer in evidence. Only a few weeks ago the sophomores cheered the frosh for wearing their caps. It would have been only polite for the first year men to have cheered the sophomores in return. But instead, they spoke slightly of the class of '26, and have become entangled in the meshes of the law. The charge, presumably, will be violation of tradition, a nice all-around term which covers anything from the wearing of corduroy trousers to speaking disrespectfully of the sophomores or the student court.

Perhaps the most ludicrous episode, however, took place when the irate sophomores gathered around Authority and pleaded to be allowed to throw just one little freshman in the lake. Needless to say, permission was withheld; it was decided that they must seek redress in the courts.

It is quite apparent that the new order of things marks an advance in civilization. No longer will class wars be fought in the streets, with blows and shouts. The arena has changed from the campus to the courtroom; testimony takes the place of blows, and dignified, orderly calm supersedes the uproar of combat. It is much more refined for the classes to chase each other with subpoenas than with clubs. Let the weight of evidence determine the victory, instead of the weight of brickbats. In place of scuffling like ruffians, our underclassmen will bring lawsuits, like gentlemen.

Quite seriously, however, it is up to the Student court to enforce the school traditions, and to mete out punishment to the offenders. There is no question but the sophomores would have preferred to take care of the quartet themselves, by the old, outlawed method of throwing them in the lake. That they did not do so is to their credit. But it is idle to expect that sophomores will put up with jeers and ridicule from freshmen for an indefinite period, unless human nature has changed greatly in the last two years. If traditions are not enforced by the court, it should be no great surprise to see sophomores take matters in their own hands.

Curiously enough, it was the freshmen who precipitated the squabble. Has it come to the point where first year men clamor to be hazed? It almost seems as though, having voluntarily donned their class cap, they extend the idea to volunteering for lake parties. This is class spirit with a vengeance.

It is to be hoped that both classes will be made to see the futility of promiscuous wrangling; because it is quite certain that if the student court cannot quench their ardor, drastic measures will be forthcoming from those who can, and will, stamp the thing out.

THE NEW MILITARISM

We suppose there is no connection between interclass strife and the new automatic pistols which the more swagger of our military are packing on the hip. The guns will come in handy, of course, in case of a sudden freshman uprising, or an attack by Indians, but worn merely as trouser ornaments they seem somewhat out of place in such peaceful purlieus as the library and the classroom. No one questions the virtue of being military, but to wear side arms while looking up references or reciting in class seems to savor of the militaristic.

We confess that, for some obscure reason, or for no reason at all, we experience considerable irritation every time we meet one of these armed and accoutered campus warriors. The temptation is to accept the unspoken challenge, and punch the wearer in the snoot. Thus far, we have succeeded in resisting temptation, partly because there is always the danger of the pistol going off, and hurting somebody. It would be much more convenient if these bellicose persons would stick to the time-honored custom of wearing chips on their shoulders, instead of on their hips.

THAT MASSMEETING

That the annual Homecoming massmeeting will be held at some place other than the men's gymnasium seems very probable at the present time. Frequent requests have been received by the committee in charge of this event to hold the massmeeting in the stock pavilion, at the stadium, or else on the lower campus. Most of these suggestions have come from the alumni—ardent football fans who return each year for the celebration.

The last few massmeetings have demonstrated that the men's gymnasium is much too small for the meeting. Only a handful get inside to hear the speakers, while the greater part of the crowd is forced to remain outside the doors. Overflow meetings in Music Hall never have proved very popular. It is like climbing into a wet bathing suit—chills the enthusiasm. Most of the alumni return to Madison on the day before the game for the express purpose of taking part in the massmeeting and witnessing the bonfire and carnival. Homecoming is for them and everything possible should be done for their entertainment.

The Homecoming committee hesitates to change the place of the massmeeting for fear the students and alumni will not care to go out to the stock pavilion or to the stadium. A small attendance means no enthusiasm. However, the committee should remember that we have a new coach this year. The alumni are interested in meeting him, in hearing him talk, and would travel far to be present at a meeting he was to address. Other speakers who have been engaged for the event are great drawing cards also. Then, too, nothing tried, nothing gained. We know what a massmeeting in the gymnasium is like. Let's investigate the possibilities of holding it elsewhere, preferably at the stock pavilion. Wisconsin spirit is such that it will support any change that promises an improvement.

TUITION FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS

The Nation, in its current issue, has the following to say on the subject of tuition for foreign students:

"Non-resident fees in State universities are a common provision, but the University of California has added to its fee of $150 for students from outside the State an extra sum of $50 for all foreigners. Whether they live in the State or not, according to the San Francisco Chronicle, foreign students who have not taken out their first papers must pay both fees. Since Orientals are denied citizenship and since most foreign students have no intention of becoming citizens, this will heavily reduce the number of Hindus and Chinese and Siberians and other Asiatic boys and girls who have flocked to the university. This is a poor time to up bars against such friendly emissaries from distant lands as college students have proved to be. They come to us because they like us and admire our customs and methods; they carry home and apply these customs and methods—sometimes, to be sure, without due consideration of the results—and with them they carry home a feeling of friendly intimacy. If they are shut out from our great universities by specially devised fees and regulations, we will sacrifice what is probably the greatest influence for peace and good feeling between us and other lands now existing, and the international tradition of scholarship and learning will be miserably betrayed."

Gay Pirates With Bright Bandanas Rule in Barnard

Pirates! A den of them, just off the pirate ship. Gay and fearsome in their red bandanas swathed heads, their scarlet sashes and gorgeous stolen ear-rings. Captain Kidd with fiendish, gleaming eyes and a glittering dagger sheathed between two rows of pearly teeth. Don Juan with masterful stride, imposing mein and a voice vibrant with terror, clutching in one hand the fatal decrees, in the other a dagger!

"What ho my hearties! Yo ho and a bottle of rum! Bring on the prisoners lately captured from some high school and called freshmen."

In came the Barnard freshmen stumbling over each other and urged on by the piratic band of sophmores. Seated in a semi-circle before the illustrious Captain Kidd, they trembled while the decrees were read one by one! A smile broke forth on many a face when they discovered that the captain was none other than Louise McNaught '26, chairman of the sophomore class. From the pirates came low growls. "Wipe that smile out on the rug."

And the lately captured prisoners in the dim red light of the pirates den performed for the benefit of the uppersclassmen. A modern Lorelei combed her hair the whole evening. Hiestand Clears Number Mystery

Advises Students to Get Acquainted With the Varsity Catalogue

Have you ever wondered why the university courses are numbered just as they are or why numbered at all? The reason is important according to W. D. Hiestand, registrar.

Every student ought to be well acquainted with the numbering system used here, for it is a simple plan that has a big purpose, Hiestand believes. In the first place, the courses are divided into three groups. Courses from one to 99 are for undergraduates only. Courses from 100 to 199 are for advanced students and graduates while those over 200 are for graduates. No credit is given a student for courses not allotted to his classification.

The present system has been in use for approximately 25 years and no course number has been altered in this time. It is necessary for purposes of recording and transferring credits that the system be strictly adhered to.

When a course is dropped the number is also dropped so that no duplication of numbers appears on the records. The ability to use figures in place of full titles saves a great deal of space in files.

German Library Moved to Second Floor of Bascom

The German library which was located at South hall last year has been moved to room 261 Bascom hall.

"The library has a small but persistent body of readers who like to use their odd hours for study without having to go down the hill to the main library," said Professor B. Q. Morgan, in charge of the library.

"It contains a carefully chosen collection of German books intended for reference work of the students enrolled in German courses. There are several excellent dictionaries, a good abridged encyclopedia, standard sets of best German authors, besides many individual books in the fields of German literature, history and philosophy.

"There is also a very considerable library of German text books. Much of the material has been chosen with a view to the outside readings for Prof. A. R. Hohlfeld's Faust and survey courses, and for Prof. E. K. Voss' course in the history of the German language." Morgan said.

82 VARSITY BILLSSet New Record For Bills Considered; 34 Receive Favorable Action

The Wisconsin legislature of 1923 considered more bills and resolutions affecting the university than did any of its predecessors, according to a "Report of Legislation" just filed with the regents by President Birge. Such a report
Such a report is prepared as a matter of record by the president of the university at the close of each legislature session.

The 1923 legislature considered 82 measures affecting the university, of which 34 were passed and 48 rejected. The 1921 legislature considered 24 such measures, and the figures for former legislatures are 28 measures in 1919; 36 in 1917;
and 25 in 1915.

In the 1923 senate 34 bills and 10 resolutions were introduced, of which 19 bills and 6 resolutions passed. In the assembly 35 bills and 3 resolutions were proposed of which 8 bills and 1 resolution passed.
Of the 82 measures, 27 concerned the university specifically, while the others were general measures affecting the university or were measures relating to other boards in such a way as to concern the institution.

The most important measures passed were: bill requiring two farmer regents and two from manual trades, adding two regents to board; bill appropriating $150,000 for extension building in Milwaukee; bill authorizing dormitories and commons; bill making military drill optional.

The most important measures that failed to pass were: several tax bills affecting the mill tax; and tionalists Will Take Place

Next Friday

Many stunts have been planned for the annual get-together of the Congregational students in the acts of entertainment will be one to separate all the students into twelve groups according to the months in which they were born and have each group give a stunt.

This affair is given annually by members of the Congregational church to bring the Congregational the university appropriation bill.

The bill abolishing the state board of education, which was passed, and the bill affecting teachers' certificates, which passed but was vetoed by the governor, were measures affecting the university.

students closer together. The success of these get-together in the past has led the members to put renewed efforts into their plans this year. Invitations have been mailed to several hundred students and a large attendance is expected.

The university students discussion group conducted by Rev. Jesse E. Sarles, Congregational university pastor, begins next Sunday at 12 o'clock. It is hoped to make this discussion very helpful in the solving of problems confronting the university student.

BUSINESS SEEKS UNIVERSITY MEN

Opportunities For Graduates to Work Whole or Part Time Are Offered

Salesmen are more in demand than men trained in any other form of work, according to Prof. C. L. Jamison, who is in charge of placing commerce students after graduation. Some part time work is open for undergraduates, but Madison is too small to furnish much of this sort of work. Graduate fellowships are available at the capitol.

"People come in and ask us for men without our soliciting them," said Prof. Jamison. "We look over the list and pick out the people who are qualified and interested in the sort of work offered. Application blanks are sometimes enclosed."

About 30 companies sent representatives to interview candidates last year. Accountants, apprentices for department managers, men to train for banking officials, and men for heads of production departments are asked for every year.

Only a half dozen men are working at part time positions here. Some graduate students obtain work in the capitol and study at the university. As yet, this phase of the work is not fully developed.

Prof. Louis Cooper, Drama Instructor, Joins Faculty Here

Prof. Louis Cooper, who is interested in the drama, has joined the staff of the English department this fall. Professor Cooper was a member of the faculty in the English department of Ohio State university for 12 years.

Professor Cooper will teach technique of the drama, romantic movement, and elementary courses in English. He conducted a course in drama at Ohio State university.

While there, he wrote a satire on college life called "Bluff," which was published by the university and produced by students there. A number of students who studied the technique of drama under the guidance of Professor Cooper have since written noteworthy plays.

During his boyhood, Professor Cooper lived in Prairie du Sac, Wis., and has visited there nearly every summer since. He is a graduate of Harvard university and has taken graduate work at the University of Chicago.

ISSUE 700 INVITATIONS FOR WESLEY RECEPTION

Extensive arrangements are well under way to make the 16th annual reception of the Wesley Foundation successful. The reception is from 8 to 10 Friday evening.

Approximately 700 invitations have been issued to new students and families. All other students are cordially invited to attend. Merritt Jensen '25 is in charge of the invitation committee. The program for the evening, in charge of Josephine Bemis '24 and Chris Hendra is as yet incomplete but will consist largely of musical numbers from Madison's most promising talent.

Under the chairmanship of Clara Thomas '24, Wesley hall will present an inviting appearance. The entrance and vestibule will resemble a garden dotted with trellises of roses. The auditorium will be furnished as a living room. The reception lines include student representatives and people well known in religious, campus and political groups.

CAZENOVIA—A statewide search was started on Tuesday by relatives of Miss Margaret Mortenson, 18 years old, who has been missing since Sunday night, when she left her home here for Waukesha, where she had been teaching. The fact that John Babb, suitor of the girl, is also missing, together with his automobile, leads relatives to believe that the two may have eloped.

Shaughnessy At Badger Police Chief Meeting

MILWAUKEE—Law enforcement officers from nearly every large city in the state were gathering here today to attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin Chiefs of Police association. The first session this afternoon was purely a business one with an address by R. H. McCarty, president of the organization, delivering the opening address. Mayor Daniel W. Hoan of Milwaukee welcomed the guests, while response was made by Mr. McCarty. The meeting today will conclude with a banquet, at which a large number of speakers will make addresses. Tomorrow, the final day of the convention likewise will be devoted to business. District Atty. George A. Shaughnessy of Milwaukee will deliver the principal address. Among those attending is Police Chief Thomas Shaughnessy of Madison.

EUTHENICS CLUB HOLDS OPEN MEETING TONIGHT

Personality of Brilliant Tenor Wins His Audience

By L. C.

An ovation such as is seldom accorded a musician in Madison was given Tito Schipa, the brilliant lyric tenor of the Chicago Opera, at Christ Presbyterian church last night. Assisted by Frederick Longas, pianist, Mr. Schipa gave his audience an evening of enjoyment which will make the second of this year's All Star concerts an event long remembered by many of Madison's music lovers.

A delightful personality, combined with a voice of unusual range and smoothness, and the perfect control and expression which make possible the "art that surpasses all art," are Mr. Schipa's good fortune. He held his audience from the beginning interested, delighted, by his versatile expression and his easy diction.

Caccini's "Amarilli" and "Nina" by Pergolese opened the program. Massenet's "Manon" (The Dream) was the second number, and this selection was followed by "O Soli Mio."

The "Ave Maria" written by Mr. Schipa was the most appealing selection of the next group of songs. "At Parting" by Rogers and "Suzanne" by Calzavacca were given with the group and "Somewhere A Voice is Calling" and "Her Dream" were sung as encores.

"Clavelitos" and "Rigoletto" sung as encores during presentation of the second half of the program were received by the audience with applause. "Ay-Ay-Ay," by Perez-Freire, "Granadinas," by Barrera, "Princesita" by Padilla, "Harlequin's Serenade" from "Pagliacci," and Barthelmy's "Oh, How Can I Forget" were presented during this part of the program. The program closed with Donzetti's "Elisir d'amore" and the encore "Rigoletto".

Frederick Longas, accompanist for Tito Schipa played two selections by Granados, "Danza V" and "La Calesa," Schumann's "Romanza," and one of his own compositions, "Zapateado." He responded to encores with a Vals from Chopin, and "Granada," by Albeniz.

CEDAR—John McPhail, 58, was severely injured when he fell down a staircase.

Weevil Causes Badger Quarantine Against Seven States

The state department of agriculture today issued a quarantine effective October 1, prohibiting the importation of alfalfa and other hay and cereal straw from states of the Rocky Mountain region which are infested with the alfalfa weevil.

The area included covers Utah and Wyoming, Idaho, except the small part north of Idaho county, and several counties of Colorado, Nevada, Oregon and California.

The order is known as Wisconsin Plant quarantine Number 6 and is signed by John D. Jones, Jr., commissioner of agriculture and S. B. Fracker, state entomologist.

Similar quarantines are being placed against the same area by several other Mississippi valley states.
