NEW VACCINE IS DISCOVERED FOR DISEASE

Injection Renders People Immune From Diphtheria, According to Director of Research Lab

That a vaccine which will render people immune from diphtheria has been discovered; and that this vaccine is being used on thousands of school children in New York, were statements made by Dr. W. H. Parks, director of the research laboratory of the New York Board of Health, in his address on "Recent Developments in the Control of Infectious Diseases" yesterday at 4:30 in the Biology building.

The experiments which culminated in the discovery of a successful vaccine were made possible by the use of the Schick test for the presence of diphtheria toxin. At first the work was carried on by the use of guinea pigs and rabbits, but as the experiments became consistently successful the tests were made on people.

Reduces Death Rate

"In New York city with the aid of this new vaccine, we have cut down the number of deaths from diphtheria to one-sixth of what it formerly was, and have reduced the number of cases to two-thirds of what it used to be," said Dr. Parks. "This means a great saving of human life in a city the size of New York where thousands of diphtheria cases are handled annually."

"For many years men in the medical profession have been looking for a diphtheria vaccine that would give immunity. Little work was done in this direction until Schick developed his test for the presence of toxin. The experiments (Continued on Page 8)

Prom Will Be Representative And Beautiful

"A thing of beauty and a joy forever."

That's why Wisconsin men and women will remember the 1923 Junior Prom long after remembrance of other events has become dimmed with age.

The "event of the year" will embody two virtues—that of being representative and that of beauty. A motto submitted in the Prom slogan contest must point to these two aims, according to James L. Brader, Prom chairman.

"Prom will not only be representative of Wisconsin as a whole," he said yesterday, "it will be one of the most beautiful in years."

A slogan which can briefly, concisely, and accurately present these two ends will be carefully considered for the $5 award by judges in the slogan contest which opened Tuesday. Epigram writers will have one more week in which to complete their motto and submit it to the Prom slogan committee.

Slogans may be placed in the box for that purpose on the porch of the Union building.

No Cause Assigned to Directory Delay

From all indications the student directories were to have been issued this week, but no word has been received by Mrs. Ethyl H. Roth, university editor, as to the cause of the delay.

Indefinite word was received that some of the copies had been sent by express on Thursday, but they have not as yet been received. If the copies come before Monday, it will be determined by the registrar's office when they will be distributed.

The contract this year has been held by the Homestead Printing company, Des Moines, Iowa.

HOLD SILVER TEAS TODAY

Well-balanced Programs Are Offered at Benefit Functions

Programs of music, dancing, and reading will be given this afternoon at the silver teas at Barnard and Lathrop for the benefit of the co-operative houses. The benefit fund will be raised by silver offerings taken at the teas.

Yellow Tassel, junior women's organization, and Green Button, freshman girls' organization, will entertain at Lathrop. The program will consist of selections by an orchestra composed of Esther Schlimgen, Isabelle Capps, and Marion Evans, and Marion Mosel will sing. Readings will be given by Blanche Peabody and Ethel Bluse.

A whistling selection by Mildred Rodolf, a harp selection by Esther Sargent, a Hawaiian dance by Evelyn Gehan, and a dance by Eunice Neckerman, are other features. Popular songs by Maud Grey and a stunt by Wilma Trost and Florence Miller will complete the program.

Blue Dragon, senior women's organization, and Red Gauntlet, sophomore women's organization, will entertain at Barnard parlors. A trio of violin, cello, and piano, played by Frances Beecher, Barbara Hildreth, and Vera Eastman, will play during the afternoon, and Aline Klug will give a reading. Other features of the program will be a vocal selection by Hildreth, Schulz, a dance by Josephine Jung, and a piano selection by Lois Jacobs.

NEXT OCTOPUS TO BE SOLD DEC. 14

Two hundred extra copies of the Christmas Octopus are being printed for the next issue, which will be on sale December 14. The first days of the last two Octopus sales have ended with the entire supply of books sold out. The editors hope the additional number printed this month will be sufficient to supply everyone.

More and better copy and art work is the word from the Octopus board of directors after considering contributions in their meeting last Thursday. The number of ads has been reduced, making possible the printing of a greater volume of copy and cartoons. The high school page is to have an unusually large number of prep school contris for the Christmas issue.

HARESFOOT CLUB OFFERS ANNUAL FOLLIES TONIGHT

Vaudeville Numbers Will Be Presented on Stage in Lathrop Hall

Instead of running the vaudeville numbers between the dances, as has been the custom in former shows, the fourth annual Haresfoot Follies dance will put on their vaudeville numbers from the stage of the Lathrop concert room promptly at 10:30.

The three acts will follow in order, with Mord Bogie '23, and George Bartlett '22, opening the performance with a musical burlesque, followed by Wells Carberry '22, and Hub Townsend '23, in a song and dance act. The show will be closed by William H. Purnell '22, in a monologue.

A few tickets will be on sale today at Morgan's and the University pharmacy, priced at $2. Any remaining tickets from the sale will be sold at the door, although only a total of 250 tickets will be sold, for admission.

$900 is Raised in Y. W. Fund Drive

More than $900 of the $2,500 Y. W. C. A. campaign fund have been solicited up to the time of the meeting of workers Friday noon, which leaves the greater part of the work of the drive to be carried on over this week end.

The proportion is good in consideration of the fact that many of the girls have been unable to go out because of mid-semester, according to Elizabeth Kirk. An effort will be made to reach every university girl before Monday.

Agrics Plan Plays For Farmers' Week

Plans for the evening of plays during Farmer's week, January 30 to February 4, 1922, took definite form at a meeting of interested agricultural and home-ec students in the Home-Economics building yesterday afternoon.

The plays will be one-act performances with agricultural settings, according to Whitford Huff '23, who is in charge of arrangements for the occasion. It is thought by College of Agriculture faculty members that some form of entertainment is very desirable for the farmers after the strenuous program of the farmer's course.

RINGS MAY BE ORDERED TODAY

The Blue Dragon ring, which every senior woman may wear as a symbol of her graduation from the university, should be ordered this afternoon at the senior-sophomore tea in Barnard parlors. Every senior is asked to sign for her ring today, to insure delivery by February.

The wearing of the ring is a tradition and a means of recognition by Wisconsin alumnae throughout the United States. The tradition of the senior ring is observed also by most of the eastern schools, and to remain a tradition at Wisconsin, must have the support of every senior woman. Louise Fritzsche '22 is in charge of the orders.

GREEK LETTER FOLK HELP IN FINANCE DRIVE

Fraternities Aid in Raising $4,000 Quota in Y. M. Fund Campaign; List of Workers

The fraternities are doing their part in raising the quota in the Y. M. C. A. finance drive for $4,000, according to an announcement made yesterday by the committee. Reports are incomplete as yet, but if the showing of the first few days is indicative of what the fraternities intend to do, the workers will be satisfied.

"The Y. M. C. A. drive is progressing favorably among the fraternities," said Worth Shoults, chairman of the fraternity drive yesterday. "Each house is being canvassed by one man in that house and in that way we hope to reach every fraternity man on the campus. Some of the fraternities are making this matter a chapter action."

They Recognize "Y" Service

"While the fraternity men do not perhaps use the Y. M. C. A. building itself as much as do the men not affiliated with organized groups, they nevertheless are aware of the many service features of the "Y" which are beneficial to every man in the university and merit the support of every man."

"The fraternities have always supported the deserving interests of the school to the limit and we feel sure that they are going to come through with their share of the necessary funds to put the "Y" (Continued on page 2)

Nine Girls Flock Around Reggie In Union Vodvil Act

"All right, sing 'I'm Nobody's Fool' again, Reggie, and sing it as thought you meant it," and Doc Dorward beamed encouragingly at Reggie Garstang, standing all by himself in the middle of the floor at the Candy shop, where they were practicing for Union Vodvil.

Reggie was waiting for the nine chorus girls from the A. O. Pi house to come up and let him prove it. The girls who did that little stunt were Mae O'Conner, Norma Hannel, Evelyn Mulhall, Edith Hastings, Gertrude McFarlane, "Honey" Tegtmeyer, Josephine Snow, Buster Zimmerman, and Mary Louise Mulhall.

"Now girls," instructed Doc, flock around Reggie some more and Evelyn you sing your song about 'I Like It.'" So Evelyn sang and the girls flocked and Reggie was a regular devil, indifferent—oh, very, and then again, missing nothing.

No wonder they flocked for the third and last time as he sang "I Ain't Nobody's Darling." In between songs the patter between the chorus man and the girls,

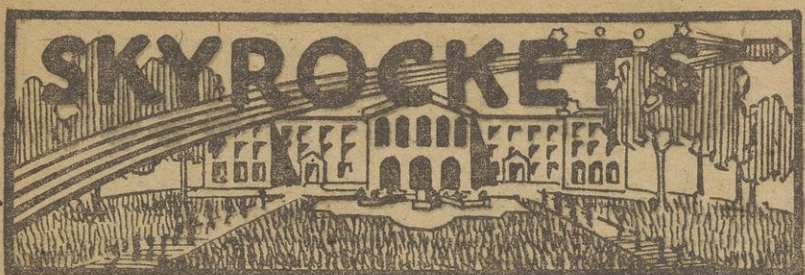

"Well, my dear—"

Fitting the words to the gesture, they call their act a "Frivolity Review."

NOSY NEWSIE

Note: After a long absence, the "NOSY NEWSIE" has come to life again, but it may be for only a short period, as he has become more or less of an independent personage, and contributes at his own free will. We can do nothing with him.

Today's question: "What are your plans for Prom?"

Henry Anding: "My plans are still rather of an indefinite nature, but I might say that a great deal depends on the outcome of the Christmas vacation poker parties."

Margaret Thomas: "Of course I intend to go, and although I have eliminated all but seven or eight men from my possibilities, I haven't quite made up my mind which one will be the lucky man."

Ned Strothman: "I'm not worrying a great deal about the matter just at present. There are probably plenty of very popular girls who would just love to go with me."

Polly Ambrose: "I am afraid that my plans are already completed, but they are not for publication, so of course I can tell you nothing more."

James MacGregor: "I am up in the air about Prom. You see, no matter who I ask, I am going to hurt the feelings of four or five other girls, so I really doubt if I will be able to go."

AS our income is still dependent on the parental pocketbook, we have never received one of the notices that the Income Assessor sends around each year. But we heard all about it the other day. It seems that he asks you a lot of very personal questions, such as the past, present, and future size of your family. However, he very likely knows what he is about, for the size of the family should be an important ant determination of the size of the income.

"I'm through with Mary forever."
"I've heard that before. What's on your mind this time?"
"I tasted tobacco on her lips last night."
"Ah, but she doesn't smoke."
"That's just the reason."

"Yes, I was a Freshman, too. Some of the happiest years of my life I spent as a freshman."

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

VARSITY FIVE TRIMS FROSH IN SCRIMMAGE

Both Teams Are Strong on Offensive Work

The varsity scored 20 points against 10 by the frosh in 30 minutes of scrimmage yesterday afternoon before several hundred fans who assembled at the university gymnasium for the first open practice of the year.

The play of both teams was characterized by good offensive work, but as much cannot be said of the respective defenses. Harris, a forward on the yearling five, was the outstanding star of the scrimmage.

Doctor Meanwell's men appeared to have the fundamentals of the game well in hand, but their combined play was at times extremely ragged. They gave nice exhibitions of the Meanwell style of play when the ball was in the middle of the floor, and occasionally worked the ball to within easy shooting distance. Every member on the squad appeared to have regained his shooting form, and the scoring was quite evenly divided.

Taylor Good on Defense

One of the most noticeable features of the practice was the manner in which Taylor performed on the defense. He took practically no long range shots, and, on the other hand, his eye seemed to have lost none of the old time accuracy, as he scored eight of the varsity's 20 points.

Captain Ceaser worked in his usual good form. He played an important part in the offensive machine, and never failed to get back onto the defense when the frosh had possession of the ball.

The only time that McIntosh's men were able to score was when the varsity guards allowed themselves to be drawn in too far. This error was most noticeable when Irish was in the back guard position. He seems to have all of the drive and fight that is demanded in a back guard, but his passing and dribbling were ragged and showed a want of considerable practice.

Williams Passes Well

Rollie Williams was the man who seemed to start just where he left off last spring. His passing was clean and accurate, and he worked into the play as well as did some of the men who have been practicing all fall. His shooting was good also, as he scored two baskets in less than twice as many attempts.

Gibson and Johnson performed well at center. The former has the size and is a fairly good jumper. He appeared a little slow, but this is probably due to the fact that he has not had a chance to perfect what he has learned during the past several weeks of practice. With a little more speed and fight, and ease of playing, he will make an excellent center. Johnson appeared to show up to a little better advantage than did his rival. His passing was good, and he fitted in to the teamwork almost like a veteran. His eligibility is not certain at the present time, however, and he may not be able to play until the second semester.

Gage worked out at the forward positions, and his work was far above that of last year. His offensive play was smooth, and he seemed to have a good eye for the basket.

Doctor Meanwell changed his lineup several times in an attempt to locate the most effectual combination. In addition to the three regulars of last year, Gibson and Frawley line up for the opening whistle. After a few minutes, Johnson went in for Gibson, Irish for Frawley, and Gage for Ceaser. Later Gibson went back to center and Ceaser went in for Taylor.

Harris, of the freshman squad, is deserving of special mention. The stocky forward carried the ball down the floor with speed and seemed to have little difficulty in eluding

Prospects for Grid Battle With Notre Dame Loom Big

Prospects for a football game between Wisconsin and Notre Dame to be played next year loom big as representatives of Big Ten conference institutions go into their second day of arranging schedules at Chicago.

If the Catholics are given a date on the Badger card, they will take the place of either Lawrence or South Dakota State college. Only two Big Ten contests can be played in Madison next season, and the representatives of the athletic department will strive to secure a strong team outside the conference for a preliminary home game.

Seven coaches represent Wisconsin at the meetings held in the Auditorium hotel yesterday and today. Athletic Director Thomas E. Jones is busied with the track schedule; Coach John R. Richards will card a series of football games this morning; Coach Guy S. Lowman will make out schedule for the baseball team; Coach Joseph C. Steinauer will arrange for three swimming meets. Coach Fred E. Schlatter settled the gymnastic team schedule yesterday and Coach George Hitchcock agreed upon meets for his squad of grapplers.

Coach Walter E. Meanwell will this morning attend a meeting of basketball coaches and officials who have gathered for an interpretation of the rules.

While these sessions are in progress, the faculty committee of the conference holds its annual gathering to dispose of important matters, one of which may be a request from Iowa to go to California for a post-season football game.

Coaches in charge of gymnastics discussed a plan whereby individual and team champions can be determined at the close of the year.

Paul Prehn, University of Illinois wrestling coach, advocated the elimination of the championship wrestling meet, and in its place, the award of the wrestling title to the team with the best rating in the percentage column. Football, basketball, baseball, and other collegiate sports were cited by the Illinois coach as an illustration for the change desired. Wrestling teams, in addition to the usual series of dual meets, are required to participate in the final championship meet in order to decide the title.

It is believed that George Hitchcock, Badger mat mentor, strenuously opposed Prehn's proposal. The Conference wrestling tournament had been scheduled to be held in Madison. With the holding of the meet here, wrestling would be given added prestige and chances for making it a major sport would be enhanced.

Wrestling, swimming, track, and gymnastic championships are awarded at the annual Big Ten meets of all conference institutions, while football, basketball, and baseball titles are decided on a percentage basis.

With only two conference football games to be played here next year, fans are clamoring for an outside team to be brought to Madison. Northwestern and Illinois will play at Madison, and the Badgers will meet Minnesota, Michigan, and Chicago on foreign territory. Nebraska asked for a place on the Wisconsin schedule but was turned down. Notre Dame would be as big an attraction as Illinois if the Hoosiers come here. Marquette university is a state college which produces strong elevens each year.

If one of these teams could be persuaded to take a place on the Wisconsin prelim schedule, fans will have the opportunity of seeing how other western teams compare in strength with the Big Ten.

TEKES AND PHI SIGS LEAD FRAT BOWLING LEAGUE

Kappa Sigs, Alpha Chi Sigs, and P. A. D.'s Are Tied For Second

The Phi Sigs and the Tekes are in the lead in their respective divisions of the interfraternity bowling league.

The swift bowlers of the first division are putting up a strong fight for the first four places. The games on last Thursday evening have materially changed the standings at the top of the list.

The Alpha Sigs were defeated in all three of their games, and as a result, they have dropped from second place to fifth. The Alpha Chi Sigs, the P. A. D.s, and the Kappa Sigs are all tied for second place. The Phi Kaps still retain first place, and have a good chance of getting first place in the finals, as they did last year. The Chi Psis still hold the last place undisputed, as they have lost all their games.

In spite of the upsetting of the team standings, last Thursday, there were no exceptionally high scores rolled.

In the second division, the Tekes are still in the lead, with the Theta Chis, and Theta Delt tied for second place. The standings in this group are not greatly altered since last week. The first division has shown more speed so far than has the second.

The standings of the two divisions follow:

| FIRST DIVISION | | | |
|----------------|-----|------|------|
| Team | Won | Lost | Pct. |
| Phi Sig | 22 | 5 | .814 |
| Kappa Sig | 17 | 7 | .711 |

the entire varsity defense. He broke up many of the offensive spurts of the Badgers in a manner which makes him look good for future varsity material.

Coach McIntosh also changed his lineup several times. Mainland was shifted to forward, and was replaced at center by Diebold. Morrison and Smith were used at the forward positions during a portion of the time.

FROSH-SOPH TRACK MEET HELD TODAY

Work of Remodeling Annex Has Been Completed

With the annex track in perfect condition, the freshmen will meet the sophomores at 2 p. m. today to battle for honors in the annual frosh-soph indoor track and field meet.

The work of remodeling the annex, which has been in bad shape since S. A. T. C. days, has just been completed, and Wisconsin's indoor track and field now rivals the best. During the past week, on account of the work going on in the annex, the 75 men who are entered in the meet have been forced to remain idle or to work outdoors under adverse weather conditions. Most of the men are in good condition, however, and the events promise to be strongly contested.

Teams Are Evenly Matched

The two teams appear to be rather evenly matched. Among the many entrants are star cindermen of both classes. Some of the favorites entered are: 40 yard dash, Rathert '24, Roberts '24, Mainland '25, Schneider '25, and Collenbach '24. Hurdles, Tuhtar '25, Stebbins '25, and Pinkerton '25. High jump, D. H. Jones '25, J. K. Gibson '25. Quarter, Hilberts '25, Collenbach. Rosekey '24, Stebbins. Half mile, Lyman '24, Hilberts, Vallely '25, and Herrman '24. Mile run, Herrman, Hilberts, Perry '25, and Vollrath '25. Pole vault, D. H. Jones, and Widder '25. These men will furnish interesting competition when the two classes meet this afternoon.

Frosh Won Last Year

The meet last year was won by the freshmen after a hard fight, which until the last event might have gone to either side. In the final score the freshmen came out one point ahead of the second year men.

In the meet this afternoon ribbons will be awarded to the first four placing in each event. The individual winners in each case and any man aggregating eight points will be recommended for their numerals.

Officials

The officials of the meet have been appointed as follows:

Referee, Meade Burke. Starter, A. J. Knollin. Clerk of course, Burt White. Assistant clerk of course, Enos Jones. Clerk of track events, Edwin Mead. Clerk of field events, Charles Jensch. Timers, Frank Knickerson, Nightingale, Wayne, Ramsay. Judges, Mark

INTERSECTIONAL ATHLETICS

SCHEDULES for Big Ten Conference games are being arranged today in Chicago. The teams that we meet next year within the conference are already determined. The meeting tomorrow only sets the dates for those games. But at that meeting many deviations from the regular routine are sure to turn up.

Several of the Conference teams want out-of-Conference games. Iowa is known to have that ambition. Coach Jones has been trying to arrange a game with Yale, and if he gives up this idea, it will be only because of the refusal of Yale to play on a home-and-home arrangement and because of Iowa's desire to play a more representative Conference schedule.

Indiana and Chicago took out-of-Conference games this year. They demonstrated very thoroughly that western teams are capable of giving keen competition to any eastern team they may meet. Their record this year makes it easier for other Big Ten teams to engage eastern elevens.

There has been a deal of sentiment at Wisconsin for an intersectional game. The idea is one that the student body is anxious to see materialize.

And at least one of the eastern schools has favorably considered playing Wisconsin next year. Students and alumni of Yale have declared themselves in favor of a game between the two schools. In a letter to the student daily newspaper an alumnus of Yale suggests such a game.

With the students of Yale and the students of Wisconsin heartily in favor of a pre-Conference or a post-Conference game between the schools, it would seem that such a game would be popularly supported. It would serve to more closely unite the two sections of the country. It would create a friendly rivalry and mutual respect for each other's athletics as well as scholastics.

The athletic department has taken no definite stand in the matter. At least the student body is not aware of any such stand. But the student supporters of the eleven are entitled to an indication as to how the Wisconsin athletic department would consider such a game.

With other Big Ten teams scheduling eastern games, the Wisconsin athletic department would need excellent reasons before refusing to consider the matter.

THE TIME BUDGET

WHEN the financial budget is made for the new year it might be well to go one step farther and plan a time budget.

The two budgets, in a sense at least, go hand in hand. If one has little leisure time, he will need to put aside a relatively small amount for the pleasure fund. And the converse is also the theaters, dances, and what-not, it is but natural to wish to do so. The result is that an inordinate sum is laid aside for this purpose.

The average American is beginning to appreciate the financial budget system. He likes to plan the budget and to adhere to it as closely as possible. He realizes that in the end it means a more economical use of the money spent and also that it means a stoppage of many of the small leaks in the money bag.

A time budget could be used with equal success. True, it would be necessary to plan the budget on a shorter period basis than one year, for it would be practically impossible to arrange our days far in advance.

The college student, however, should be able to arrange much of each day's time during a semester. Classes need a certain definite allotment, study for each class needs another certain proportionment, research will need some, as will also the various forms of recreation and rest that appeal to a student's particular individually.

Such a budget might considerably lessen the number of students who cannot keep up to the scholastic requirements of the university. Many of those who fail do so, not because the subjects are too difficult, but because they do not know how to apply their time to the best advantage.

We constantly in our daily life hurry from one place to the other and seem to be saving every possible second when in reality our haste is purposeless and useless. The seconds we do save are put to no good use and energy has been expended for which there is no equitable return.

A time budget would be worth trying. It might help; it certainly could no harm.

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE

THERE are few organizations that yield society a more beneficent return than does the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association.

The T. B. plague has become one of the most dreaded ill that humanity has to combat. If the disease can be caught in time, it can be entirely eliminated from the system. In order to save individuals who have contracted the germs of tuberculosis, the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association provides for their care and treatment in sanitariums, and, through the aid of the Traveling Chest clinic, has been able to return full health to the majority of the cases reported to them.

In order to finance the work, a Christmas Seal sale on the campus has been planned.

More than 20,000 cases of T. B. are in urgent need of care. By seals sold on the campus this Christmas any of those cases can be cured.

The cause is a worthy one and deserves the support of every student. The little seals have become a part of the Christmas packages. The real Christmas spirit can be shown in no better way than by buying these seals and mailing them with the gifts.

AN ANSWER

Editor, Daily Cardinal:

I was very much aroused by the communication in Friday's Cardinal from a young man who is contemplating going into the ministry.

Since I am a member of a minister's family myself, I feel that I am in a position to answer his query with some degree of competence.

What this young man says is true. The ministry is not a popular profession with the girls, but it is not alone the money question which makes it unpopular. No matter in what light you consider it, the life is a hard one in many ways. It means giving your entire time and attention to the work, living your life for others, and in many cases receiving an insufficient return. If this young man is so endowed with patience, endurance, and the will to overcome obstacles; is willing to do without many things which other men enjoy, he may feel perfectly safe in going ahead with his work. If not, let him stop now before it is too late.

Then too, a lot depends on the girl. There are many fine girls who would be more than willing to take on the duties of a minister's wife, but as a general rule girls are not interested in ministers. The girl must be willing to live on a moderate salary, to give her life for the Cause, too. I feel that any young man is asking a great deal of any girl, to ask her to marry a minister, unless he has exceptional talent, or has some other means by which he can earn a fair living, if he failed to advance to a position where he was capable of supporting a wife and family.

This is merely a co-ed's opinion on the subject, but I should say to this young man, "If you get the right girl, go ahead. Otherwise don't contemplate the profession as other than a side line to your regular work." An optimist, a young man of courage and determination can do it. I admire the desire of the young man and wish him success in whatever he undertakes. If he does take up the ministry, I hope he will find the right girl, one who will consider the profession a popular one.

Everyone hopes for a better state of affairs in the profession soon, but it is hard waiting.

Silver Teas this Afternoon Are Novel Society Function

Women of the junior and freshmen classes will entertain together, and sophomore and senior women will be joint hostesses this afternoon at tea-receptions to be given respectively at Lathrop parlors and Barnard parlors, for the benefit of the university co-operative houses.

A program of entertainment has been planned for the Junior-Freshman tea, and about half of Lathrop parlors will be roped off for dancing. Mrs. Clara B. Flett, Miss Lydia Brown, Melre Shaw, Louise Moore, Romayne Berryman, Irene Clayton, Mary Devine, Genevieve Hardy, Ruth Donovan, Elizabeth Mahorney will receive.

Guests at the Senior-Sophomore tea will be received by Dean Nardin, Dean Williamson, Mrs. L. S. Smith, Mrs. C. K. Leith, Mrs. Harry Glicksman, the Misses Ima Winchell, Louise Fritsche, Katherine Wheeler, Margaret Duckett, Mabel Jobse, Esther Bilstead, Rachel Haswell, and Pauline Newell.

Guests may make a voluntary silver contribution of any amount they desire, and the donations will benefit the university women's co-operative houses.

Gamma Tau Beta Dancing Party

An informal dancing party will be given tonight at the Gamma Tau Beta house by members of that fraternity. Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Briggs will act as chaperons of the party.

Lambda Chi Will Be Entertained by Pledges

Members of Lambda Chi Alpha will be guests of the chapter pledges tonight at an informal dance which will be given at the chapter house, 148 West Gilman street. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon T. Nightingale have been asked to chaperon.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Sarah Padden and company in "The Charwoman," a dramatic playlet of much interest and excellent acting; Bill Robinson, story teller and dancer; Chester "Rube" Nelson and Kitty Madison in songs, dance and patter; Two Recktors, society entertainers; Dorothy Bard and company in a variety of songs and music; Joe Melvin, wizard manipulations and Pathe News-Aesop's Fables make up the dandy vaudeville program now on view at the Orpheum for today and tomorrow. There will be matinees today and Sunday, with the regular two evening shows.

AT THE GRAND

The Allen Holubar production, "Man - Woman - Marriage," starring Dorothy Phillips and James Kirkwood, will be presented for the last times tonight at the Grand. This is a nine part special production dedicated to women and shows the uplift of women from the "cave man" period to date. The Grand announces for tomorrow "A Midnight Bell," Charles Ray's newest picture which is an adaptation of the one time famous Hoyt play of the same name.

Euthenics Club Will Aid in Student Relief

The Student Friendship fund was the subject of a short talk given by Miss A. L. Marlatt at the final open meeting of Euthenics club held on Thursday night at Lathrop.

This fund is for the benefit of students in foreign countries who are badly in need of food and clothing, and who also lack funds to finish their education. There are 250,000 needy students living on one meal a day, and that meal is usually imperfect.

Miss Marlatt emphasized the fact that the relief fund is for students from students, and that a little sacrifice by a student here may save the life of a foreign student.

Euthenics club pledged itself to help in the drive by giving a sandwich and doughnut sale, the proceeds of which are to go to the Student Friendship fund.

A. I. E. E. Holds Annual Initiation

The American Institute of Electrical engineers held its annual initiation on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30.

After the initiates found that it was possible to withstand 2,300 volts without the quiver of a muscle or the twinkle of an eye, they proceeded to test the accuracy of the kinetic energy equation.

The ceremonies continued with the institute brand, which was then followed by an exercise in "He that does not work, shall not eat."

New Vaccine Will Combat Diphtheria

were interrupted by the war, but they were again resumed a few years ago. Most of the work was done by men in the laboratory of the New York Board of Health.

Tests Made on Children

"By administering an injection composed of a mixture of toxin and antitoxin, it was found that immunity from diphtheria was the result.

However it is absolutely necessary in giving this vaccine that the materials be of the right character and proportions and that the tester be experienced.

"Tests made at an institution for children in New York show that immunity exists at least five years after inoculation, and this has been verified by similar tests in other places. We do not know how long a person is rendered immune, because the discovery is so recent.

"The vaccine is of greater value to children under five than to older people. The baby has the most need and the least annoyance, while an older person has the least need and the most annoyance. We are carrying on a propaganda campaign in the schools of New York to have the children volunteer to be inoculated and are having fine results. Next year after, January 1, we are going to attempt the treatment of children under school age."

MADISON'S BIGGEST AND BUSIEST STORE

BOUDOIR CAPS

A bit of Val lace, a piece of delicately shaded crepe or satin, ornamented by ribbons and flowers—such are the attractive boudoir caps which make one of the daintiest Christmas gifts possible. In any shade or combination, they range in price from $1 to $4.

HANDKERCHIEFS

Because you can never have too many handkerchiefs, because they combine utility with daintiness and attractiveness, they are always a resourceful and appropriate gift. Pure linen at 25 cents and 35 cents. Hand embroidered, madiera, or with colored borders 50 cents to $1.00.

Handkerchiefs Sec., 1st floor

RIBBONS

Ribbon gifts of novelty shades or soft hues are beautiful and useful.

Christmas & Gift Suggestions

Christmas, the greatest day in the year is less than a month off. Its cheer and spirit is becoming felt already. Think of those you are going to make happy with your thoughtfulness and do your shopping early. Every section of our store is a store-house of ideas for useful and appropriate gifts.

GLOVES

Smooth-fitting, and made of Trefuse soft French kid, what could be more welcome to the well dressed woman than long gloves in black, brown, white or champagne. 16 button $8. 12 button $7.

"Marjory says"

Incense Burner

A fascinating twang of the orient, sweet-smelling incense issuing from the proffered golden bowl of a Hindu garbed girl. Dressed in red and kneeling on a black standard, this enameled incense bearer adds charm to any room.

BLOUSES

That tone of quality which is secured by handwork is present in the new fleur de lis handmade blouses which we are offering at prices ranging from $6.75 to $25. Georgette, voile and crepe blouses at unusually low prices.

BELTS

The new metal linked belts with jade or red links, we are selling at only $1 a piece.

An Old Friend in a New Dress

Large numbers of our patrons have been coming in to see us during the last week. They are noting some interesting changes, one of them being the removal of the high shelving between the two sides of the store so that now you can see all over the first floor. Counters have been rearranged, too, giving more spacious aisles.

More comfort in making your purchases, a feeling of greater ease, lightening the burden and adding to the pleasure of shopping, result from such rearrangement. Other changes will follow, which you will appreciate.

An old friend appears now and then in a new dress—but it is still the old friend. The many thousands of people in Madison and the surrounding territory who have built this business through their good will for many years may feel assured that they will find here the same cordial welcome, the same or better service and carefully selected values in merchandise that make your dollar go farther than anywhere else.
