HOMECOMING TICKET SALE BEGINS SOON

Mail Order Blanks to Be Obtainable at Gym
Monday

The mail order ticket sale for the Homecoming game with Minnesota on October 29 opens Monday and blank forms will be obtainable in the buildings of the various colleges, and at the men's gymnasium.

The Badger-Gopher contest promises to draw a record-breaking crowd this year. With Arnsen and Oss back in the field, the Minnesota fans are confident of wiping out the 3 to 0 defeat of last season.

A total of 21,000 seats are available for the Homecoming game. Reservations will be made in the order in which the requests are received. Prices of tickets are $3, $2.50, $2, and $1.50. Because of the limited capacity it is necessary to limit the number of tickets to four to each person.

Applicants may obtain tickets for the Minnesota game by filling in the tan cards for student rates or the pink cards for public rates, and enclosing them in the envelope printed in pink, addressed to T. E. Jones, University gymnasium. There will be no 50 cent rate for students after 5:30 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 22.

Groups may sit together by enclosing their orders in the same envelope. All applications must be made in writing and mailed as above, and should reach the gymnasium not later than Saturday, Oct. 22. Orders unaccompanied by draft or money order and those made verb-

Sunny Pyre Told Why He Wrote A Book—

"Why a book on Tennyson's verse?" we asked "Sunny" Pyre, who has but recently published a volume.

"Why a book at all?" he replied.

At which point we waited for one of his enlightening stories to illustrate the remark, and were not disappointed. He told the story of the Oxford professor, which he uses with infinite flexibility at least three or four times a semester. He also told us a good bit about his book before we left. Then we sauntered down the hall to see what one of the Babbittians thought—but you'll find it all in the Sunday feature section tomorrow.

Reuben C. Chadbourn '22, Columbus, and Sterling H. Tracy '22, Memphis, Tenn., have been selected as assistant general chairmen of the Union Memorial building drive, November 5 to 12.

Chadbourn will be directly in charge of the canvassing lists and of the salesmanship course. It will be his duty to see that the students who are to act as salesmen are thoroughly versed in their duties and that every one in school is reached by these salesmen during the week of November 5 to 12. He was a member of the student senate in his sophomore year and was secretary the second semester. Chadbourn is a member of Sigma Phi,

Tracy will have under his supervision all mass meetings, public gatherings, and everything pertaining to Dedication day. This latter duty will involve the holding of a great parade to start the formal dedication of the newly acquired property, all ceremonies connected with it, and, finally, the big formal ball in the evening. Tracy is president of the Student senate, member of Iron Cross, Sigma Delta Chi, Phi Beta Kappa, and was winner of last year's Northern Oratorical League contest. He is one of the five men picked from Wisconsin to take the examination soon to be held in Milwaukee for the selection of a Rhodes scholar from this state.

FIRST UNION DANCE HELD AT LATHROP

With its dance scheduled for tonight in Lathrop parlors, Union board officially opens the social season with the first of the series of exclusive dances to be held each week-end at Lathrop under the direction of Union board.

"With eager response coming from every quarter, I am sure that the group attending these functions will be the very best bunch of students dancing each week-end," said Leslie R. Gage '23 who is in charge of the affairs. "Refreshments will be available in the building, and the pleasant lounging rooms will be an attraction for the dancers."

WANT ADDRESSES OF FIVE SENIORS

With the work on Senior summaries for the 1923 Badger well under way, there are still a few seniors whose Madison addresses are not available.

As it is absolutely essential to have all necessary material at hand before work can be organized, the senior section editor asks that the following persons report their address to Nyria Gile, B. 159 before Saturday night:

Wesley O. Gericke, Mary Lulu Kilpatrick, W. J. Koehler, James L. Glass, Francis Holford.

Seniors In Law School Take To Carrying Canes

Many will be the curious glances cast at the Law school this morning, for this is the day that the senior Laws begin wearing canes. Nobody believed that they would, but they are.

At a meeting of the senior Laws September 28 it was voted to wear canes, and a committee was appointed to select uniform ones. A long greenish-black cane was selected with a name plate at the end of the crooked handle, and this is henceforth to be the badge and ensignia of the law senior.

But why, asks the innocent bystander, do they want to carry canes? Is it to tap on the girls' windows, or is it to fight the engineers? There must be some reason for anyone who has to carry those big heavy books to want to carry something else besides.

The cane will be a symbol of respect to the freshmen. No one will be entitled to wear the cane unless he has completed 45 credits in the Law school. Many of the Law seniors are completing their seventh year on the Wisconsin campus. As the green cap is the symbol of Patched up because of injuries, the Wisconsin football team will make its second appearance of the season against South Dakota state college at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the Camp Randall gridiron.

The Badger eleven will not be in as good condition for the South Dakota game as it was for the Lawrence tilt a week ago. Nelson, husky guard, is laid up with an injury to his arm muscles. He will probably not be in condition to play before the Northwestern contest. Horne, who started at left end, is another man not in the best shape. The lanky wingman was hurt in the contest with Lawrence. Gibson has taken things easy for several days, while Tebell was jerked from a stiff

STERLING SILVER TO BE PRIZES IN BADGER CONTEST

Five sterling silver pieces, valued at $400, the prizes for the 1923 Badger subscription campaign, will be on display in the window of the Chocolate shop at noon today. By offering gifts whose beauty is equalled only by their usefulness, it is expected by Roger Russell '23, circulation manager, that competition between sororities and other organizations, who will conduct the subscription drive, will be keener than ever before.

To the girl who individually sells the most Badger subscriptions is offered a sterling silver bon bon dish. The prize is a bowl of the Sedan pattern about 8 inches in diameter.

A silver compotier is the first prize for the inter-organization contest. It also is of the Sedan pattern as are all the silver prizes and is a lovely dish that can be

THOMPSON'S ORCHESTRA

Featuring Gene Casserly

THE rumor is going around that the Red Mill got a Miss Dial. Of course, everything may be all right, and then again—well, we would just like to warn anyone to be careful if the play bridge with her.

Marg Daly: "Did I ever show you where I was tattooed?"

Heinie Coerper: "No."

Marg again: "Well, we can drive around that way."

THE BREEZES THAT BLOW
Upon a lawn this scene is set—
Does that appeal to you?
A game of bridge in progress is,
"Twixt merry couples two.

Upon a wicker chair sat John,
As blissful as could be,
And all'd been well but for a nail,
As forthwith you shall see.

For up spoke John embarras'dly
That mending he must do,
For sake of all propriety
(The rip was large, 'tis true.)

Said Paul, "Did brother Johnny leave
To mend his trousers new?"
Then, innocently May replied:
"He left with that end in view."

NOW that prohibition has tightened up (?) Union board has ably proceeded to fill the gap by giving us just what we have needed for some time, i. e., real good dances at Lathrop hall, 'cause, as you have probably heard, they are putting on regular student affairs in the parlors up there every week-end night.

IT seems that the Thetas called up a girl the other night who wasn't in at the time and they left word for her to call them up as soon as she returned. Before we go on with the story, it might be well to add that this little miss had been overlooked when preference slips had been handed out. To go on, the first thing that she did when she returned was to carry out the message to the word, thus: "Do you want me?"

And without hesitation, came this reply, "You bet we do."

MANY students claim to be killing themselves with work. We looked into the matter, and found from the undertakers that they were not rushed with work. That only made things more confusing, so we went to Benny Snow for a solution. "Well," he said, after keeping us waiting for a quarter of a second for his answer, "I should say that figures prove there is no life between the ears."

UNDER the head, "Amount of paint required for a given surface," our pocket handy book says: "It is impossible to give a rule that will apply in all cases." That accounts for the reason that one co-ed will use only one jar of rouge while another is using six.

WHICH makes a little verse that we heard recently seem highly appropriate right here.

Many a blush does pass unseen
Because the drug store stands between.

SUGGESTIONS FOR MID-SEMESTERS

Where do you go to school?
Give your program and tell what you don't like about it.

Who do we play in football today?
Who invented the Edison phonograph?

What color caps do the freshmen wear?
Give recipe for correct malted milk.

State the name of the street that runs from the capitol to the hill.

WHILE gossiping on the Law school steps the other day we learned from one of those illustrious students that contracts cannot be enforced if they are made on Sunday. Therefore it might not be a bad idea to ask six or eight girls to Prom some Sunday, and decide who you wanted to take along about Prom time.

"At your service," said the burglar, as he opened the sideboard.

CLEO PARSLEY TO CONDUCT VESPERS

Cleo Parsley '23 will conduct Y. W. C. A. vespers Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in Lathrop parlors. The speaker at the services will be Prof. A. B. Hall, and Helen Wheeler '23 will play several musical selections.

Many new girls were present at the first vesper service last Sunday, and it is hoped that Y. W. C. A. can reach all women of the university in this way.

COMMUNITY THEATER IS PLANNED AT OHIO

A community theater is the latest project being considered by campus organizations at Ohio State university. A community theater club has been organized and from this club will be formed various divisions that will include woman's organizations, business clubs, university societies and all the dramatic clubs of the city.

BADGER TEAM IS WEAKENED BY INJURIES

Patched-up Eleven Plays

scrimmage Wednesday night when he strained his ankle.

Weather Prevents Workouts

Inclement weather conditions have prevented the team from making as much progress as had been outlined. Monday and Tuesday were devoted to light workouts and the study of new plays and formations. The only real workout of the week was handed to the men Wednesday afternoon when they scrimmaged freshmen, All-Americans, and a fourth team for nearly two hours. It was then that Coach Richards commented, "This is beginning to look like a Varsity team."

Rain which began falling Thursday afternoon kept the eleven from getting in its scheduled stiff practice session, and another downpour which started at 4 o'clock Friday acted as a hindrance to the squad in its last practice before the struggle with the western eleven. Weather conditions will be perfect for football if rain does not fall later this morning. The tang in the air which is necessary to put grid men on their toes for a battle should speed up the game.

Sundt's Plunging Dependable

A wet field, such as is likely to be in evidence this afternoon, will slow up the backs to a considerable extent in their around end plays. If the turf is damp, a slippery ball will be the result, with probable fumbling by both elevens and inability to successfully complete forward passes. Wisconsin has a backfield which, with its heavy driving, should be able to gain on a wet gridiron. Capt. Guy Sundt's line plunging can be depended upon to advance the ball under any weather conditions, and Elliott's hard off-tackle smashing is hard to stop. Williams and Gibson would be handicapped the most by a slippery field. "Rollie's" dodging and side-stepping tactics are dependent to a great extent upon firm footing. In his running back of punts, quarterback Gibson will face a hard task.

With Brader and Brumm on the left side of the line, it is likely that "T" Gould will step into the end position. He can be used at the flank or in the backfield, but with

CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD TO TAKE FIRST WORKOUT

Practice Run Will Be Held This Morning With All-Americans

This morning at ten o'clock, the prospective Varsity cross country squad will go up against the All-American quintet in the first workout cross country run of the season over a course about two and a half miles long. This will be in the way of a practice run and Coach Meade Burke will be given a better line on his Varsity candidates after the grind today. Wisconsin will send a green team into the field in cross country meets this year as all but one of the men have either graduated or are ineligible to compete for the Varsity this year. Coach Burke has had his men out over a month now and they are in fairly good trim for the meet today although they will be far from the pink of condition when the starter sends them into action this morning. Captain Wall, the only veteran of last year's crack Varsity, will lead his team over the course and is expected to give a good account of himself in spite of the early date of the meet.

The All-Americans have always put up a stiff fight against the Varsity in any sort of competition and today will be no exception to the rule. Although they will not be favored with the same training as the Varsity has gone through, still they will be in good shape and to win the Varsity will have to put every ounce of energy forward.

The exact line-ups were not given out last night but it is expected that Coach Burke will start his best men in the run, keeping in reserve those who have not yet rounded into competition form. In future meets, he intends entering more men and giving all who are turning out a chance to make the first string squad. A large crowd is expected to be present at the gym to see the men get away.

the dearth of strong left ends at present, Gould seems slated for the end today. Hohlfeld is sure to start at tackle. Gude and Schernicker are eligible to take Nelson's place at right guard. "Gus" Tebell has salted down his right wing job.

May Use Substitutes

A flock of substitutes will parade onto the field if the going becomes easy for Wisconsin. Richards will try every possibility to build up the strongest possible line. Several men showed up fairly well under fire in the Lawrence game. If they maintain the pace previously set, strong competition for jobs should result.

Riding in a special car, a large squad from South Dakota state college arrived in Madison at 5:15 yesterday afternoon. Under the tutelage of Coach West and Fred Enke, former Minnesota linesman, the men from the wheat state have developed into a powerful eleven. They approximate the same weight as the Badger eleven. In Hoon, Anderson, and Thoon, the Dakotans have three backs who can forward pass and run with the ball equally well.

Passes Win for South Dakota

Long heaves played a big part in the college victory over Northern Normal and Industrial school by a 40 to 0 score last Saturday. That the westerners believe they have a good team is shown by the schedule they have arranged for this season. In addition to the University of Wisconsin, they play University of South Dakota, University of North Dakota, which held Minnesota to a 19 to 0 score last Saturday, Valparaiso college, and Hamline. No weak aggregation can take on a lineup of squads like the foregoing without expecting to have a good eleven.

CLOSE MATCHES ARE RUN OFF IN FRAT BOWLING

Star Men in First Division
Teams Are Not Yet
in Form

The first division of the Interfraternity bowling league got underway on Thursday evening when several close matches were run off. However, the star men of the various teams have not yet struck their proper stride and were all off form for the opening contests. The Phi Kappa Sigs lost to the Alpha Sigma Phis, after copping the first game by a comfortable number of pins.

The Alpha Sigs showed staying powers and, after getting down to work, easily trimmed their rivals.

The Psi Us showed some real bowling prowess but were unable to take the Zeta Psis into camp and lost the odd game by a single pin. This was the most thrilling match of the evening and had the large delegation of fans on their toes during the entire course. The Psi U team came back after dropping the first game and copped the second, but in the deciding game, the Zetas came from behind with a great spurt and won out.

Sig Phi Epsilon, last year's champs, couldn't get going right after the last game and then they took that one with ease. However, the Phi Gammas got the jump and rushed the champs off their feet in the first two games and won handily. The P. A. D. aggregation proved to be too much for the Sig Chis and easily defeated them in three straight games.

The next games in the second division will be bowled off next Tuesday evening and in the first division next Thursday evening.

The following were the scores last Thursday: Phi Kaps 710-729-648; Alpha Sigs 838-761-888; Psi U 643-751-769, Zeta Psi 675-699-770; Sig Phi Ep 718-712-848, Phi Gam 792-738-775, Sig Phi 712-756-704, P. A. D. 820-795-800.

MANY GAMES ON SCHEDULE FOR SATURDAY

Harvard-Indiana Inter-sectional Struggle Features
Today's Contests

The hard-fought, bitter football battles which are slated to mark the present football season will begin in earnest today. The first inter-sectional struggle of the year, that between Harvard and Indiana, stands out as the feature game or the day.

The Notre Dame-Iowa clash is another game which is sure to be hard and bitterly contested. The Notre Dame players are noted for their fierce and vicious tackling, and Coach Jones' men have a big job on their hands if they entertain any hopes of annexing a victory. Notre Dame has a number of big games scheduled, including one with Army, and they are certain to make an effort to enter these games

Y. W. DRIVE TO OPEN ON MONDAY

The Y. W. C. A. membership drive opens Monday, Oct. 10. Each new girl and freshman will be personally visited and asked to sign the membership pledge. This membership lasts all through her college course and entitles her to active work in the association. Miss Mary Anderson, Y. W. C. A. secretary, urges that the girls come into the office in Lathrop hall and take out memberships voluntarily before the canvasser reaches them.

The membership campaign is in charge of Catherine Wheeler '22, who has organized 10 teams to solicit memberships for the year 1921-22. There will be a general meeting of these teams this noon at 1:45 in the recreation room, fifth floor of Lathrop hall.

MINING CLUB HOLDS
BANQUET FOR FROSH

The Mining club held its annual banquet for freshmen engineers, at the Mining laboratory Wednesday evening.

Professors F. C. Shorey and R. S. McCaffery were the chief speakers, choosing as their topics the various phases of college life and its relation to the vocations.

Dinner, consisting of steak, cheese, apples, rolls and milk, was served.

GREEN BUTTON
ELECTS MONDAY

Green Button elections will be held Monday, Sept. 10. Mildred Rieck '23, chairman of the election committee, will have the polls open in the central hall of Lathrop from 8:50 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Nominees for the different offices are as follows:

President—Mary Devine, Madison; Jessie Morrison, Columbus; Marion Strong, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Dorothy John, Milwaukee.

Vice-president—Genevieve Hardy, South Bend, Ind.; Marion Guild, Kansas City, Mo.; Katherine Farhnum, Portland, Ore.

Secretary—Ruth Donovan, Madison; Virginia Reznor, Mercer, Penn.; Gertrude Robin, Wilmington, Dela.; Virginia Ballantine, Bloomington.

Treasurer—Elizabeth Mahorney, Madison; Hazel Weingandt, Milwaukee; Helen Anderson, McFarland; Dorothy King, Wilmette, Ill.

LET MUSIC SWELL THE BREEZE

WHILE it is yet early in the football season the question of the band ought to be presented for consideration.

Everybody recognizes the important part which the band plays in generating pep among the spectators and keeping up the moral of the players. The regrettable part of the whole question is that the band does not accompany the team every time a game is played away from home.

On the home grounds the players have the lusty support of thousands of rooters in addition to the band. With the exception of the Chicago game, support from the rooters is a negligible quantity.

Why should not the band go away with the team?

The answer is one of finance. It costs money to send the band and apparently the money for this purpose has not been forthcoming. On special occasions tag days have been held. Sometimes the necessary amount has been raised and sometimes it has not.

Evidently some plan ought to be devised whereby the money can be raised to take care of this matter for the entire season. The Athletic board might well consider the matter and, if practicable, submit some definite plan.

At all events the band ought to go to Illinois this year. The scrap with the Suckers will be one of the liveliest of the year and the team will need all the backing possible. Moreover, Illinois boasts the best band in the conference. A little disillusionment on this point would help.

The students should fall in line behind any sensible plan to send the band with the team.

THE CANES APPEAR

THE senior law men are now wearing canes, don't you know. These gentlemen got together and decided that it would be just the thing in view of the open season for traditions.

The men are proud of their decision and to a man they may be expected to comply with the practice. They deserve the commendation of their fellow-students for showing such spirit.

It will be interesting to observe how the tradition will be respected. Maybe the guardians of the tradition will club the non-conformist over the head with their canes or perhaps roll up his trousers and trot him across the upper campus to sing a song to the engineers.

Or perhaps the men will feel that the custom is a matter of personal pride and will leave the observance up to each man concerned, realizing that every man who counts for anything will respect the tradition.

Hats off to the law students and success to their venture.

BRISBANE ON COLLEGE STUDENTS

ARTHUR BRISBANE, always interesting at least, has taken typewriter in hand and written about college students whose intellectual processes he has observed.

The following are Mr. Brisbane's own words on the subject:

"A college student is as a rule not a close student of domestic politics, and particularly not of foreign affairs.

"He can give you the name of every potential halfback on the football team, or of such members of the faculty that have the reputation of being a close marker; he can discuss intelligently the value of the training he receives in Political Economy 2 and Geology 14; he can manage a dining club or a laundry agency to the queen's taste; and he can argue the respective merits of 'Main Street' and 'This Side of Paradise.'

"But if you ask him what department of government will ultimately decide on Mr. Ford's proposals for Muscle Shoals, or whether Senator Borah is for or against the payment of Panama Canal tolls by American shipping, or how large a navy Japan has, he is likely to blink.

"Reasonably enough. He is engaged in training his mind for decisions on great problems that will some day be for his judgment.

"He knows that they are not for settlement by his judgment yet. And even when he is most responsible, he devotes his attention to the present training rather than to the acquisition of the information he will need for the basis of his judgment later.

"At all events, it is premature to exhort the young men to take a firm stand, before they know exactly what it is that they are stand on."

CONTEMPORARIES

JOURNALISTIC ENTERPRISE

We salute the future journalists of the country, the editors of the college dailies. This week they have set up a radio news service between universities in the middle western states. Hereafter they will have their daily "Specials by Wireless," and their telegraph editors should learn a lot. The best features of their innovation is that it combines two functions of university life and work—experiments in applied electricity and experiments in journalism. It is the business of newspapers to know the new things in the changing world, and the surest proof that a newspaper is up with the times is its use of the latest practical advances in gathering and distributing news.—The Milwaukee Journal.

DAIRY CATTLE TEAM GIVEN BIG SEND-OFF

Badger Group to Compete With Many Universities in Northwest

A rousing send-off was given the university dairy cattle judging team as it left Madison Friday for the National Dairy show to be held at St. Paul.

The team is composed of Richard Munkwitz '23, Theodore Carlson '22, Helmer Casperson '22, and John Bollinger '23.

Competition will be furnished by nearly all of the universities in the northwest. Some of the colleges which will probably send teams are: University of Minnesota, University of North Dakota, University of South Dakota, University of Michigan, and University of Iowa.

The stock judging team has been training since spring. While it is confident of success, it expects strong competition; for many of the contesting teams have been touring the country and judging at the state fairs.

"The men are in good condition and should do well," said Prof. R. S. Hulce, who has been coaching them.

Monday, Oct. 10, is the day set for the contest. Three different classes in each of the prominent dairy breeds will be judged. Points will be given both for placing and for giving reasons. The team recently won a cup for placing first in judging Jerseys at the Waterloo Dairy congress.

The National Dairy show is an annual event among dairymen. It is held in a different city each year. The fact that it is to be held in St. Paul causes many to predict a record attendance.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL HOLDS INITIATION

The rather weird effect of the blue lights in the lobby of Lathrop hall was intensified by the unexpected plunge into darkness occasioned by the breaking of a wire. The entire hall was cut off from any light except that of the stars and moon, and a flashlight or two. The accident did not prevent the participants from having a good time.

When order was restored, the idea of taking the new students around the Horn was resumed by the Campus Religious organization. The purpose of the meeting was to initiate the newcomers into the circle formed by the religious organizations of the campus.

Dr. J. C. Elsom had charge of the games, while Prof. E. B. Gordon led the community singing. Everyone enjoyed a lively evening, although all were "kept in the dark" about everything for quite a while.

BULLETIN.

POLO GROUNDS—The New York Giants sprang a surprise today when they came back at the Yanks and took the third game in the world series.

The score was 13 to 5.

POLO GROUNDS—Just before the third game in the world series between the New York Giants and the Yanks opened here today before a large crowd. Manager McGraw put the Giants through a long batting practice. She, a right hander, taking the mound and feeding the ball to the home folks. Toney and Douglas took turns batting.

Waite Hoyt received an ovation from the bleacherite as he followed the Yankees across the field. Shawkey was jacketed in a big woolen sweater and, of course, the crowd quickly figured him as the Yankees' box man. Ruth limped badly as he crossed the field. He sprained a ligament sliding into third base 10 days ago and the injury was troubling him again.

The Giants were the home club today and switched back to their natty white uniforms while the Huggins clan donned their visiting gray and sat in the alien's dugout.

Yesterday's game was all Hoyt. His curve, slow ball and fast breaking drop behaved themselves admirably and the boy twirler from Brooklyn borough let the Giants down with two hits—one of the greatest pitching feats in world's series history. Not a Giant occupied the second sack until the ninth inning and that Giant happened to be Frank Frisch who got the only clean blow of the game off Hoyt, a single to right. The other hit was garnered by Rawlings.

Aside from Hoyt's twirling, the bright spots of the game were the steals by Ruth and R. Meusel and a sensational stab of Meusel's liner by Frisch in the first with Ruth and Miller. Bob's drive looked good for two sacks before it crashed into Frisch's upraised hands. He doubled Miller at second.

Communications

Editor Daily Cardinal:

I should like to strongly protest against the way the university boat sheds are being conducted—or rather not conducted. I have been to the boat sheds to hire a canoe on four different times since school started and the place has been locked up; another time I went to get a canoe out of the lockers and found the place also locked, the owner of the canoe said that several times he had been unable to get into the locker room.

I understand the owners of the livery business are paid to look after the shed and to rent canoes, by the university; then why doesn't the university see that the people look after their side of the agreement. I would suggest that "Cap" Isabell be given charge of the sheds as he is always to be found at the sheds as long as it is fit to go canoeing.

Presumably the sheds were built for the use of the students. Then why don't we get the benefit of them?

MRS. BLEYER TO DISCUSS ARMS PARLEY

Women's Part in Conference to be Told at League Meeting

The responsibility of women in making the coming international disarmament conference a success will be discussed by Mrs. Willard Bleyer before the Collegiate league of women voters in Lathrop parlors Tuesday, October 11, at 8:00 p. m.

"The influence of women in their communities is a tremendous factor," said Mrs. Bleyer Friday, "and can be developed to a great social usefulness when they become more conscious of the good that they can accomplish in just such human opportunities as the disarmament conference. Women are new voters. What does that mean? We must bestir ourselves and learn where our help is most needed."

All women are welcome at this meeting, where Mrs. Bleyer will discuss these problems more fully. Mrs. Bleyer is chairman of the Dane county league of women voters, which was reorganized last May.

The platform of the league is as follows:

- 1—To stimulate an intelligent interest in campus problems.
- 2—To promote an intelligent understanding of political issues among college women.
- 3—To support those in public life who can best serve the community irrespective of party affiliations.
- 4—To legislate for those measures which will ameliorate the lot of laboring women and children.
- 5—To encourage women's efforts in all industrial, professional and political endeavors.
- 6—To instill in all a desire for higher political ideals.

The officers are Sonya Forthal '22, president; Arline Page '22, vice president; Elaine Eschweiler '22, secretary and treasurer; Margaret Emmerling '23, publicity committee chairman.

ERMA BORCHERS TO HEAD PYTHIA

Erma Borchers was elected vice-president of Pythia at an open meeting of the society which was held in Lathrop hall Friday evening, Oct. 7. A short business meeting was held at first.

Evelyn Shaw, president of the society, gave a short talk on what Pythia stands for on the campus. Blanche Field spoke on Pythia's relation to other societies and urged the girls of the organization to go out for more activities. Forensics was defined and discussed by Alice Tucker. She pointed out that the Forensic societies are the factors in bringing interesting speakers and entertainers to the university.

Anna Arnquist gave a selection on the piano, and Genevieve Hicks, accompanied by Gladys Norgord, rendered a violin solo. Laures Owen read three selections.

Bertha Rose was appointed chairman of a committee to create interest among the girls in debating. Tryouts for the society will be held October 21. The girls desiring to try out should leave their names in the Pythia box in Lathrop hall as soon as possible.

EDITH BLACK ELECTED CASTALIA PRESIDENT

Edith Black was unanimously elected president for the coming year, and Florence Kotles succeeded her as vice-president at a business meeting of Castalia Literary society, which was held last night in Lathrop hall.

There will be a party for all women of the university, interested in literary work, on Friday, Oct. 14, at 7:15 in Lathrop parlors, and trouts will be held some time during the following week.

SCIENTISTS HOLD ANNUAL WELCOME

The Christian Science welcome was held last night from 7:30 to 10:30 in Lathrop parlors, where the room, with its warm reds and brown, was a delightful haven from the cold wind. The weather did not affect the attendance in the least.

The Welcome is an annual affair given under the auspices of the Christian Science society to the new students to further the idea of unity and friendship among them. The reception of the newcomers was followed by music, dancing, games, and finally, refreshments.

The entertainment of the evening was not in the least diminished by the fact that the lights went out. The Welcome was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis George, Mrs. Kaleb Harrison, Mrs. A. B. Proud, Mrs. Ada B. Converse, and Mrs. A. S. Goodyear.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Westenhaver, 229 W. Gilman st., who sold their home to Mrs. Helen Nichols and family of Greenwood, moved to Reedsburg this week. The Nichols family have taken possession of their new home.

Who Gets the Most of Your Dollar?

A Farmer brought fourteen calf skins to town and sold them to a hide dealer. He got $9.70 for them. Then he bought a pair of shoes for $12.00. The calf skins would have made fourteen pairs of shoes—or more. He didn't get the profit. Who did? The hide dealer, the tanner, the manufacturer, the jobber and the shoe store owner?

"IT PAYS TO BUY IN MADISON"

Smart Fur Trimmed Coats

$55 - $75 - $100

Comfy, wrappy, swagger coats show bigger collars, bigger cuffs, lines that are a bit inclined to flare and fur everywhere! The vogue for fox, beaver and moleskin is dominantly expressed. And the materials. They're stuff to dream over, so soft is their weave of Marvella, Gerona, Delphine, Panvelaine and Pollyanna, in new rich colorings. The values are most exceptional.

Chappy Coats

in smart knee length model, lined with brown suede, belted and novelty patch pockets with collar and cuffs of raccoon and opossum.

Silk Frocks That Are Different

$27.50 - $45 - $65

These smart new frocks are fresh from New York's leading manufacturers of style. No two alike. Smart new sleeves, long graceful panels, artistic new embroideries. The great number of black Canton Crepe, Satin Crepe and Crepe de Chine make this showing very much different from those shown in the ordinary shops about town.

ally will not be considered by the athletic department. Remittances should be made by draft, money order, or certified check, payable to the treasurer of the Athletic council. Twelve cents in stamps and a self addressed envelope should accompany each order, otherwise the tickets will be returned at the owner's risk.

The student rate is applicable only to the ticket which is used personally by the student. Adjacent seats may be purchased at $2 or $2.50, according to the section.

Sections E and F are reserved for stadium contributors. Student mail orders will be filled from the sections beginning to the south, including F. G. H. I, and J. Special sections have been reserved for the girls' cheering club. The Rooters' club will be the nucleus of the cheering sections which will include those parts of the student sections which are nearest the center.

The east stand will be reserved for the public and for the visiting rooters. The end seats will also be open to the public.

According to the plan adopted by the Athletic council and under action of the faculty, October 3, every applicant is responsible for the tickets allotted to him. Any tickets sold or offered for sale at a premium, outside of a regular authorized place of sale, will be considered as a misdemeanor.

youth, greenness, and hasty judgments, so the cane should be the symbol of perseverance, service, and conservatism.

It is distinctly not meant as an article of exterior adornment, but as a symbol. There is need of a body of men in our school who can form estimates and wield a stabilizing influence. The cane as an initial movement should be welcomed by the student body.

Many other schools have similar traditions. At Iowa the senior Laws carry canes, and at Michigan all seniors do. At Ohio only seniors wear hats, while the other classes wear distinctive caps. At Illinois each class wears a different headgear. Students in journalism will be interested to know that at Missouri all journalists carry monocles.
