THEATER PLAN FOR MEMORIAL IS CRITICISED

Opinion Seems to Be in Favor of Separate Halls For Convocations and Dramatics

That the proposed auditorium in the new Memorial Union building is unsuited to the needs of the university is the opinion of the heads of departments and organizations which will use the building. Some of them propose, instead, two halls of different capacities.

Need Hall for Convo's

"The primary need of the university is a place for students to gather at mass meetings, convocations, and so forth. This should be the first consideration in determining the size. Certainly a hall with a smaller capacity than the gymnasium, which seats approximately 2,000, would in no way solve the problem," said Prof. Charles H. Mills, director of the School of Music.

Name "Theater" Too Narrow

That the word "theater" should not be used in referring to the auditorium because it emphasizes the use of the hall for dramatics to the exclusion of other interests which will make the Memorial Union building a center of student life, was the opinion of Professor Mills.

Prof. James M. O'Neill, of the department of speech, says: "Two theaters are needed here at Wisconsin, one of about 1,200 capacity to accommodate gatherings for lectures, plays, and recitals, the other an auditorium seating at least 4,000. A hall of 2,000 capacity is just the wrong size. It would be neither the one nor the other, but still would be an excuse for deferring the building of the two we really need."

Prof. Emil Olson, chairman of faculty committee on public functions, agreed that the university needs a larger auditorium, but advocates putting as large a one as possible in the Memorial Union (Continued on Page 7)

"Prom of Proms" is Prize 1923 Slogan

"Prom of Proms" was chosen as the prize winning slogan for the 1923 Junior Promenade at a meeting held by Chairman James L. Brader '23, his assistants, and committeemen last night.

The honor of originating the best motto of 75 submitted in the contest went to Franklin J. Pamperin '22, 931 West Dayton street. Although his effort was not accepted as originally expressed, Pamperin's slogan, with a slight change, was regarded as the best of the large number received. He will be given the $5 reward which had been offered to a winner of the contest.

The 1923 slogan conformed with the committee's desires for a brief, concise motto, embodying as much as possible the idea of representativeness and beauty.

Senior Mechanics Nurse Big Boilers at Heating Plant

How would you like to sit up all night and nurse a big, groaning, hot-headed steam boiler?

That's what the senior mechanics have been doing recently. They have been taking care of the boilers at the University Heating plant, missing dates, getting grease on their hands, and everything. The boilers were really in the best of condition; but these curious engineers wanted to find out just how well they were assimilating their food, so 77 of them took turns measuring the calories and the water consumed by these giants at each of their many meals.

They took temperatures, measured pulses and pressures, and were very careful to see that their patients had plenty of fresh air without too much of a draft. In fact, they did everything but put ice packs on the boiler heads.

After 24 hours of this sort of zealous attention the engineers announced the glad news that the plant was perfectly normal, and that it was converting 69.42 per cent of the heat energy in the coal fed to it into steam for use on the campus. The daily coal consumption was 86 tons which will have to be increased to about 120 tons when the weather gets colder.

Birge Lauds Work Of Questionnaires

"I have read the Commerce Magazine questionnaire with great interest," said President Birge yesterday, "and I believe that if all of the students get behind this undertaking and give a few minutes of their time to filling out a questionnaire, remarkable results will be obtained."

Hundreds of questionnaires are coming in every day; most of the rooming houses, fraternity houses and sorority houses have turned in all completed questionnaires in the ballot box at the University pharmacy.

The supply of questionnaires has been replenished at the registrar's office, the bursar's office, and the University pharmacy.

Christmas Octopus Will Cheer Campus With Holiday Humor

The Christmas Octopus, in a candy box cover, appears on the campus this morning flaunting the season's first tinge of holiday color and holiday humor.

Thirty-three hundred copies will be on sale during the day at the regular stands in university buildings and at pharmacies and news stands.

Copy for this year's Santa Claus issue has been the best and the most plentiful since the first appearance of the Octopus, according to the board of editors, and is without the taint of conventional "Christmas spirit" humor. Ad space has been cut down and given over to more cartoons.

The editors have tied up their holiday humor in a red ribbon and labeled it "Do Not Open Until Xmas," so that it will make a suitable gift to take home to the folks.

Memorial is Held For Miss Roberts

Memorial services for Miss Dorothy Roberts, assistant professor in the department of Home Economics, were held at 3:30 p. m. yesterday, in the chapel of the First Congregational church on Washington avenue.

About 200 of her friends attended the service read by the Rev. Edward S. Worcester. It was beautiful in its simplicity.

A blanket of white roses and narcissus covered the casket, and many other floral pieces expressed the sympathy of Miss Roberts' friends in university circles.

Funeral services will be held at her home in San Diego, Cal., on Wednesday.

FOX IS MADE CHIEF JUSTICE

Newly Organized Court Elects Garstang as Secretary

Harry S. Fox, Law 3, was elected chief justice of the student court at a meeting of that body last night. Reginald F. Garstang '22 was elected secretary.

The court has authority to deal with violations of traditions and hazing. It can impose penalties upon those who are proved guilty at its sessions.

President E. A. Birge, in an address before the court, stressed its purpose as a tribunal, explaining its power in dealing with hazing and violations of senate legislation.

The court will start to function immediately. It was organized several years ago, but has not been active for most of the time since it was created.

"Micky" McConnell Is Seriously Ill

Ansley B. "Micky" McConnell, C. C. 4, is at the university infirmary in a very serious condition, suffering with lung trouble. His family is with him.

"Micky" is prominent in extra-curricular activities, being treasurer of the Inter-fraternity council, a member of the music committee of the 1922 Junior Prom, a member of the University band for three years, and a prominent freshman track man. He played with Thompson's first orchestra. "Micky" served 18 months overseas during the world war.

Bradley Will Tell Outing Club About Western Skiing Trip

"Skiing in the Sierra Nevada's" is the topic on which Dr. H. C. Bradley, of the medical school, will address Outing club members at the December meeting Thursday night, 7:15 o'clock, in Lathrop concert room.

Dr. Bradley will tell of his travels through the mountain ranges of California, and his skiing experiences there.

BLAINE TO BE CHAIRMAN AT JOINT DEBATE

Clash This Year is Between the Philomathian and Athenae Literary Societies

Gov. John J. Blaine has been secured to act as chairman of the annual joint debate which will be held next Saturday night at 7:30 in Music hall.

The debate this year will be between Philomathia and Athena literary societies. Philomathia won the right to debate this year by defeating the third society, Hesperia, last year.

Have First Hand Facts

The question which the teams will debate this year is as follows: "Resolved, That a system of compulsory insurance applicable to at least a majority of the industrial workers of Wisconsin be adopted by the state." Both of the teams have been working on the question since the beginning of the school year. First hand information has been obtained from all of the leading industrial works of the state and country.

Athena Has Affirmative

Athena will uphold the affirmative side of the question, being represented by Abraham Kaufmann '22, Samuel Sygmann '22, and Melbourne Bergemann '22. The following Philomathians will debate in favor of the negative: Francis Lamb '23, Phillip Deicher '23, and Dean Kimball '22.

In forensic circles the joint debate is considered as practically the chief event of each year. The Friday evening before the event the societies have special meetings at which enthusiasm and "pep" are worked up. Next Friday both Athena and Philomathia will practice yells and cheers to be given the following evening.

The two opposing teams have as yet reached no agreement regarding judges for the debate.

Capps Heads Make Believe Y. W. Bazaar

Isabelle Capps '23 is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Land of Make-believe bazaar, which is to be held Saturday afternoon and evening in Lathrop hall under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Florence Stolte '23 is assistant chairman.

Those in charge of committees are: finance, Alice Carl '24; tickets, Norma Carl '23; publicity, Maude Killum '23; tea room, Gladys Webster '23; home economics booth, Ethel Merz '23; stunts, Edith Hess '23, Wilma Trost '23, and Olga Andersen '23; candy sale, Eleanor Head '23; dance, Deborah Olds '23.

MANY students turned in satisfactory answers to the riddle which the column published yesterday, "Why is Lake Mendota?" but a letter from the Pi Phi chapter is certainly worth mentioning. They were horribly shocked at the audacity of the editor to make fun of beautiful Mendota.

French Club Gives "Rosalie" at Meet

A short play entitled "Rosalie" was presented by members of French club Tuesday night in Lathrop hall. John Irwin '23, Mary Chase '23, and Bonita Carlson '23 took part.

At a short business meeting preceding the play, a pin for the club was chosen and a contribution for the Student Friendship fund was decided upon. Julian Teller '24, Eldon Hocking '24, and Helen Malsin '23 were elected to membership.

There will be no more regular meetings of the club, but two plays "La Grammaire" and "La Lettre Cachée" will be given in Lathrop hall after the holidays.

THE UNION VODVIL PRIZE

In reply to a recent editorial on the awarding of prizes for Union Vodvil, I think that the writer of the editorial took a very thoughtless and a very indiscreet stand as to the prize winning and the method of judging.

The time for editorials should have been prior to the awarding of the prizes not after everything was decided, for those winning the prizes certainly will not be elated over the publicity that the judging was unfair.

Furthermore, it is highly improbable that the prizes would have been differently assigned. The fact that one of the prize winners spent most of his time helping perfect the acts together with the preparation of his own act and did a number of other things to help make Union Vodvil a success was not mentioned in the editorial.

I hope that this marks the end of inopportune editorials in the Cardinal, for I am not alone in my opinion when I say that the editorial to which I refer did not seem fair or timely.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

FROSH BEAT VARSITY FIVE IN PRACTICE

Yearling Victory Was First in Basketball History

The Freshmen basketball squad literally walked all over the Varsity in yesterday afternoon's practice game. While no score was kept, the Frosh found little difficulty in penetrating their opponent's defense and piling up a large lead.

First Time in History

This is the first time in the history of basketball at Wisconsin that such a thing has been done. Coach McIntosh has a team that bespeaks well for the Badgers' success within the next few years. On the other hand, the chances for Badger victories in the two games which are scheduled for the coming week end do not appear very bright, and Doctor Meanwell has considerable of a task ahead of him if he is to put a representative team on the floor Friday night.

Ineligibility has hit the squad, and it was necessary for the coach to drop a few men this week. None of them, however, were regulars, and the team should not be weakened by their loss. Some of these players were on the football squad, and they were already on the margin when they reported to Doctor Meanwell.

Football Men of Little Use

Of the number of new men who reported for basketball after the grid season was over, only one of them gives any promise whatever of strengthening up the squad. This is not due to lack of ability, but to the fact that the additional material is useful only at the guard positions. It would be folly for Doctor Meanwell to attempt to take a new man and break him in for the center or a forward position with the opening of the season only a couple of weeks away. The offense taught by Coach Meanwell is intricate and complicated, and can only be mastered after weeks and even months of continual effort.

The game with Butler college on Friday night promises to be one of the hardest fought on the preliminary schedule. Pat Page is a former conference coach, and it is a certainty that he will spare no effort in an attempt to win a game from one of his former rivals. After having used the new system for over a year, Page's players should be able to display a classy brand of ball to Badger fans on Friday evening.

Ripon Here Saturday

The Ripon five, who come here to play on Saturday night, opened their season last Thursday by winning from the Oskosh Normal quintet, 29 to 10. Olsen's men played a brilliant passing game, but their defense was weak, and, if they are entertaining any hopes of winning from the Badgers, they must become bolstered up in this department of play. Captain Gustin, Ringdahl, and Schneider are the veterans who are expected to show up brilliantly against Ceaser and his cohorts in Saturday night's game.

The eyes of the entire conference are upon Coach Norgren and his Chicago team. While Captain Halladay, McGuire, and Stahr are the only members of last year's squad who are eligible to play this season, Norgren has a reputation of turning out successful teams when the odds are against him, and this year may prove to be no exception. Romney, who created a sensation in football this season, is being used at a guard position opposite McGuire, and he is playing a brand of ball that is by no means inferior to that of the more experienced members of the squad.

The Maroons have already played three preliminary games, winning two and losing one of them. The first game was played against the Federal Reserve Bank five last Thursday, and the Midway team

SUCKERS ARE SUCKED IN TO MEET BEARS

—BY CHUCK—

The Illinois Suckers and the California Bears will lock horns next year. That is, they will trade wallops—well, what does a Sucker do, anyway? Start it again. The Suckers will slap fins when the California Bears grizzle on the gridiron next year.

Its supposed to be an Illinois-California football game. Illinois should hold out for parcheesi, cantilever bridge, or a game of Post-office. It should demand 22 life insurance policies, a flock of Bibles, and the choice between lilies or white carnations. Most people think that the Suckers should remain in the asuarium. Judging by their 1921 football record, Coach "Bob" Zuppke had some good prospects for Prom chairman on his eleven. Those boys did a lot of rushing, but it was never over the goal line. They never got close enough to see the post without a pair of binoculars.

One touchdown in a season. If Illinois keeps that up, it will soon be eligible for a prominent place in the Urbana Industrial league. Then Zuppke will have to quit coaching and go to work.

Still, he must be figuring on a pretty good team if he signs to play California. The Bears have a worse reputation than Fifi Stillman's Indian guide. The only difference between them and Jesse James is that Jesse didn't wear shoulder pads. When they shoot, they shoot to kill. All they need for the All-American sandbaggers' championship is a good snapper-back like "Tommy" OConnor.

Illinois itself has no crowd of Mellon's food babies. Those bozos are hard enough to be used for a card table. The trouble is that the hard portion doesn't stop at the base of the neck. It continues right up to the roots of the hair.

Wouldn't you like to be there when California and Illinois meet? We'd prod the bears with a pitchfork. And there would be a hook, line, or sinker attached to the Suckers, either.

Indoor Track Men Hold First Meet

In the first meeting of the indoor track season held last evening in the annex, more than 100 track enthusiasts were present to hear Coach Tom Jones talk on the prospects of the coming season and to view the stereopticon slides of track history which were presented.

In his talk to the men Coach Jones expressed his hopes for a championship team to represent Wisconsin this year. In the past few seasons the Badgers have had to be content with nothing better than third places in the conference windups, but this year the home team is going out to win the Big Ten honors.

won by a score of 30 to 26. The same night a game was dropped to Jefferson Park, the final score being 16 to 14. Coach Norgren used 10 men in each game in an attempt to locate the most effective combination of players. On Saturday night a 27 to 14 victory was annexed from Armour institute. Romney demonstrated his shooting ability when he and Captain Halladay scored 25 of the 27 points made by the Maroons.

THREE BIG GRID DEALS ARRANGED WITH FAR COAST

Centre Will Not Play Notre Dame on December 26

Three important inter-sectional football deals were closed by leading institutions on Monday.

All possibility of a game between Centre college and Notre Dame was annulled by a refusal yesterday of Centre officials to meet the Indians at San Diego on December 26. Notre Dame had reconsidered its previous refusal and was willing to play.

Suckers Sign With Bears

California and Illinois entered into a two-year contract for football games between the two institutions, the first game to be played at Urbana next year and the second on the Bears' stamping grounds the following season. Coach Andy Smith, California, and Coach "Bob" Zuppke had no trouble in closing the negotiations and the game will take rank with the Wisconsin-Chicago classic in point of interest to Mid-West football fans.

In the annual Tournament of Roses game to be played in California on New Year's day, Washington and Jefferson has been selected to oppose the University of California. Conference teams were first asked to accept the date, but because of a ruling against post-season games, no Big Ten elevens were able to accept the proffer of a game with the Bears.

W. and J. Had Good Season

W. and J., although one of the lesser lights in Eastern football, went through its best season in years. The Presidents defeated Pittsburgh 7 to 0. They were rated fifth in strength by the New York Times sport critic. Washington and Jefferson walloped Westminster, 49 to 10, beat Syracuse, 17 to 10, and handed Carnegie Tech a 14 to 0 licking.

"We expect to beat the Presidents," said Coach Andy Smith when he learned that the game had been finally cinched.

One of the Eastern "Big Three" will meet either Leland Stanford or California in the Tournament of Roses game after this year. The winner of the Leland Stanford-California contest each season will agree to meet Harvard, Yale, and Princeton in rotation, without regard to the standing of these teams in eastern football. One-half of the money taken in at the game will go to the visitors and the other half is to be divided between Stanford and California.

With the closing of these big games and agreements, inter-sectional football has superseded many traditional battles and will take a prominent place in gridiron schedules drawn up this year and hereafter.

VARSITY TANK MEN DEFEAT FROSH TEAM

Meet Was First of Few Being Held to Pick Squad

In their first meet of the season, Coach "Joe" Steinauer's varsity tankmen last night easily ran away from the freshmen squad. The meet was the first of a series which is being held to determine the personnel of the varsity squad which will meet the Milwaukee athletic club in the near future. Tryouts of a like nature will be held on Monday and Tuesday nights of next week, and all members of both squads will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability.

Swimmers Look Good

From last night's showing Wisconsin promises to have a fairly representative team this year. Several of the last year's swimming team are back this year and are performing in good style this season, and many new men show promise of future development in the water events.

In the two relays which were held, the varsity teams outdistanced the frosh on both occasions. With four men to a team each man swimming the length of the tank twice, the time for the first race was 1:25 2-5, that of the second, 1:24 2-5, very good for the distance in both cases.

Collins Wins Honors

Bill Collins carried off the honors in the dives, executing the various back and front plunges in perfect form. His score for the event was 55. The next highest score in this department was piled up by Koch, also of the varsity aggregation. His score of 52 gave him second over Nash who was third with 49 1-2.

In the 100 yard breast stroke Rudy Pabst completed the distance in 1:26. This lanky swimmer promises to be a regular in the event this season. Pope was next in the race with a time of 1:27.

In the 40 yard dash Lamboley, Hipple, Davies, Bennett, Ellicott, and Ewald excelled. The fastest time in the two man heats was made by Bennett, a new man who is showing up well this year. His time for the two lengths which netted him a first in the event was 21 2-5 seconds.

The plunge was the weakest event of the evening. None of the men entered succeeded in touching the 60 foot mark. Heubeuner, Lahman, and Morley were the best performers in this department.

Ellicott took the fast backstroke in 1:16 4-5 from a strong field. In the 100 yard dash Bennett again excelled. He beat Davies and Solitt over the distance in the fast time of 61 4-5 seconds.

After the meet the men played a short water basketball game.

Ski Club Plans Smaller Slide For Beginners

A new smaller ski jump is going to be built by the Badger Ski club for the benefit of beginners, it was decided at a business meeting of the club in the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The danger of injuries to inexperienced ski jumpers trying the high jump was explained by Aksel Taranger '22 in a talk on "The Ski Harness."

The new jump will perhaps be located farther out on the drive. No scaffold will be built, but a place is desired with a natural slope for landing. The formal opening of the slide will be with a tournament Saturday, Jan. 7.

Kenneth S. Fagg '23 talked on "Learning to Ski from Books," and Hans Gude '22 told about the Minnesota meet of last year. Minnesota will be met again this year.

MISS DOROTHY ROBERTS

It was with supreme sorrow that the university learned of the death of Miss Dorothy Roberts, assistant professor in the department of Home Economics.

One cannot but wonder at the irony of fate that calls to her death a woman of such virtues and attainments. Placed in a responsible position in the department of economics, her capable performance of duty and example made her universally respected and admired. Students will recall her genial character, her friendliness, her attractive personality.

Miss Roberts came to Wisconsin in 1916 from the University of California. She graduated here in 1917 and has ever since that time been instructing in the economics department. The accident that caused her death has taken one of the most loved and admired instructors of the university.

Her untimely passing is mourned by all who knew her. We mourn her because of her genial friendliness, because of her true worth as a teacher and as a friend. To her near friends and relatives we extend our sincere sorrow and sympathy.

A GOOD START

WITH the announcement of the Prom committees that there will be no favors or flowers at Prom this year comes a well-formed belief that the 1923 Prom will be a truly democratic social event.

There can be no question but that the use of these rather expensive accessories would add largely to the total expense of each individual member. In fact these very unessentials might be the cause for the non-attendance of a considerable number who would otherwise wish to go.

Neither flowers nor favors were given at last year's Prom and there was no indication that the joy of the occasion was lessened because of their absence. Rather because neither flowers nor favors were given undoubtedly augmented the delightful informality of the formal affair. It would be unjust indeed were this custom to be required this year. It would prevent many from going; it would add naught to the enjoyment of those who go. No possible purpose could be served by having them aside from the rather doubtful one of personal vanity and adornment.

The 1923 Prom committees are unfortunately not in a position to request fraternities and other private prom parties from giving favors and flowers at the various post prom formals. The example should prove of value, however.

The Inter-fraternity council might well take this matter up. If prohibiting these needless expenses at the fraternity private parties will permit more of the members to attend Prom, the issue should not be overlooked. It becomes then, not a private or fraternity issue, but a university issue. There must be nothing that will have a limiting effect on the number attending Prom. If this is to be Prom for all, it is necessary to limit expense in every possible way. We hope that the Inter-fraternity council will properly present the matter.

THE POLICY OF ATHLETIC ISOLATION

WISCONSIN has made her football schedule for 1922 and has evidently passed up all chances to arrange a game with some prominent team outside of the Conference, preferably some one of her own caliber from the East. Why is it that we must maintain a policy of so-called splendid isolation when other schools of our class are breaking away from the old provincial idea that it is wrong to look outside your own back yard for suitable opponents?

It is common knowledge that the student body is dissatisfied with the 1922 schedule, and they have a right to be, for it is weak. There is sound reason behind the arrangement whereby we play for five successive years in Chicago, and the tremendous crowd that taxed Stagg Field to capacity this year is evidence of the fact. What the student cannot understand is, how other Conference schools that do not rate as high in any way as does Wisconsin, can schedule attractive intersectional games while we must remain in the usual provincial rut.

Certainly this cannot be blamed on the Athletic department, for it could only be to their advantage to play such games, and strange indeed could be the coach who did not want to. The logical conclusion to be reached, and the one which has been reached by most followers of athletics here, is that the faculty Athletic council is responsible. For Wisconsin's athletic policies are in the last analysis not decided by the trained men nominally in charge of athletics, but are dictated by a small group of professors whose actions would indicate that they are, to say the least, not in touch or in sympathy with the feelings and desires of the students in regard to athletic policy.

And, after all has been said, whose teams are the ones these men are deciding the destinies of? Have the students any claim to do more than just attend the games and cheer? We think they have, and are beginning to wonder if it is not time to remove some of the academic control that is hindering our athletic progress and substitute in its place at least a whisper from the voice of those from whom the teams are chosen and who support the teams, namely the students.

Barrels Yawn for Coins with which to Help Needy Studes

Not a "nickel in the slot," but a coin in the barrel, is the course of action on the campus at present.

When you think about going home, and the Christmas tree, just stop and drop a generous contribution in those empty barrels standing all around the campus. The money goes to the Student Friendship fund for needy students abroad.

There are co-eds in Europe, who won't deck Christmas trees with bright tinsel, or even eat a Christmas dinner, to say nothing about having a date on New Year's eve.

But, the barrels—they are big enough so you can see them—and have lots of room in them.

AT THE STRAND

Drawing on the cosmopolitan of Singapore and the charm of East Indies for a background of striking allure, and a gripping story of father-love and Chinese vengeance for dramatic suspense, Thomas H. Ince has attained in "The Cup of Life," his latest production for the Associated First National, which will be shown at the Strand theater for four days starting today, makes this picture typical of Thomas Ince's productions. There also will be shown a Harold Lloyd comedy and the latest News Weekly.

Education and Life Insurance

Education is an investment in the future—your future.

It implies belief in yourself—expectation that you will realize on the investment yourself.

Life insurance likewise is an investment in your own future. Taking out a policy has been for many men the beginning of a responsible life. It has marked the first serious look ahead.

There are many reasons why a young man should take out life insurance, but none more important than the feeling of responsibility it implies for his own future.

W. A. A. Votes $100 to Friendship Fund

An even $100 was given to the Student Friendship fund by W. A. A. at their last meeting, at Lathrop, Tuesday night.

An athletic championship for the class with the highest total of points from all team and squad championships, and individual honors in all recognized sports was explained by Miss Cynthia Wesson, of the Physical Education faculty. This proposition, which would increase class interest and ability, is to be voted upon at the next meeting.

A big emblem was awarded to Helen Fitzgibbon '22, a small emblem to Adelaide Miller '22, and pins to Anne Arnquist '22, Marjorie Boesch '23, and Jeannette Cherry '24. New members taken in are: Edith Hess '23, Eleanor Libby '24, Maude Killam '23, Dorothy Reichert '24, Harriet Green '24, Margaret Fathauer '24, Marian Culver '24, Eleanor Head '23, Elsbeth Hennecke '23, and Leota Urban '24.

PARKWAY

The vaudeville acts in the theater scenes in "Dream Street," the new D. W. Griffith's picture showing at the Parkway theater, are played by regular performers from the vaudeville theaters.

One act of more than ordinary interest is that of the acrobats and tight-rope artists, two sisters. The young women had arrived in New York from a tour of the world, taking four years, including Africa and Australia.

building, for a hall seating 2,000 would take care of everything except symphony concerts and the very largest convocations.

This opinion is shared by L. J. Picharts, head of the Madison Orchestral association, who suggested that some arrangement be made so that the hall can be divided to accommodate dramatic performances and smaller meetings.

"The problem of the dramatic clubs would in no way be solved by a theater of from 1,500 to 2,000 capacity," said Esther Guerini, president of Red Domino, "unless the room were so constructed that it could be divided, thus forming a place of a size suitable for theatrical performances."
