DRAMA CLASS CHANGES DATE FOR PLAY BILL

Group of Eight Numbers to be Staged Monday and Tuesday

Stage enthusiasts of the summer session under the leadership of Prof. Maude Babcock, will produce eight one-act plays in Lathrop hall Monday and Tuesday. The dates, originally set for today and Monday, were changed to give the students more time for rehearsals.

A character study, "Neighbors," by Zona Gale; "Spreading the News," a famous Irish play by Lady Gregory; "Will o' the Wisp," by A. Synge; and "Happiness," by J. Hartley Manners, will be shown in Lathrop Hall Monday at 3:30 p. m. "The Hour Glass," an Irish play by William Butler Yeats; "Overtones," by Julia Entenberg, a Washington Square play; "Feast of Holy Innocents," by Marshall Illsey; and "Riders of the Sea," by A. Synge, will be shown at 3:30 on Tuesday.

The characters are selected from Miss Babcock's department of more than a hundred students, many of whom have had stage experience.

BADGERS SWAMP ILLINOIS TEAM

Summer League Starts With Fast Games On Lower Campus

Wisconsin won from Illinois in the second game of the Summer Session League, Thursday by a score of 10 to 0. In the first game, played Tuesday, Wisconsin trimmed the All-Southern team 11 to 0. The South will play Illinois next Thursday.

CARDINAL TALKS

"Doc" Meanwell

The return of Dr. W. C. Meanwell to the coaching staff of the university assures Wisconsin of athletic supremacy in the Big Ten. The university's coaching staff is now superior to that of any other conference school. With Tom Jones at the helm, turning out championship track teams, Bresnahan grooming the cross-country men, old Dad Vail whipping a regular crew into shape, Richards due for a clean-up in football, and finally Doc to put the old snap and win into the basketball team, Wisconsin need fear no rival.

Doc Meanwell is the wizard of the basket game. He can do the impossible. In the mind of every Wisconsin student his return spells championship. Not a win today or next year but a win every day and every year. It means a repetition of his former record when he turned out five championship teams in six years, two of them with an average of 1000 per cent. In the words of the rooters that will jam the gym next year, "There goes your old ball game." Welcome home, Doc. The town is yours.

World Runs Riot; Menagerie Invades Campus as Directory Nears Completion

By Maurice Perstein

You may not believe everything we tell you here but if you refer to the summer directory as soon as it's out you'll find that we're right.

Contrary to the Summer Bulletin there are not six but only two Weeks at school. This may be summer but there five Knights to one Day. There is the consolation, though, that we have Grubb, and a Pan and Potts to prepare it in. All the Bacon is at Chadbourne Hall but we've still got Rice and Fish, and three Fishers to keep up the supply. In birds and game we have at Wisconsin, Bruins, Wolfs, Coon, Stork, Swan, Fox and Crow.

We have four Greens and a Meadow but only two Lambs. In the Sellers of the Castle, a Carpenter and a Plumber are Eager to Fix a Wing so that the two Brewers here can Mix the Strong stuff.

The working class is getting more and more independent, and doing less and less. Twelve Taylors are here and so far only two Coats have appeared. Fifteen Millers are producing only enough flour to keep six Bakers busy. The Mason here has only one Stone, and three Potters have but one supply of Clay.

Neptune was seen recently in the Marsh near the Lake. Somebody thought he smelled something near the Forrest Byrne. He procured a Light from his Karr which was a little to the North, and on investigation found nineteen students already Brown and another Quigly Browning.

The Farmer who is here has all he can do with two Fields of Hay. He thought he'd be Wise and do it on his own Hook, but he's a Little out of Luck. He's in the work with Head, Hart, and Foote, however, and hopes to get his Block Wood into Towne with his three Fords.

The Summer fashions now showing are in Black, Browne, White, Grey, and Green shades which Dye easily. The two Beaches are Fuller than anything, and the Lane West of the Brooks is crowded too, especially when the Moon is out. Several Miners are here and they're setting an awful Pace. It gives the Parsons a Payne, and they are trying to Pick out the Young things.

Before the Editor raises Cain, we'll take our Leave and continue in our Next.

MUSIC GROUP WILL PREPARE PROGRAM

Professor Dykema's community music class, which has charge of the Monday evening sings, hopes that sufficient finish will be obtained with the material which is used each week, so that a program can be given on the second of August, the last Monday of the summer school session.

At the Sing next Monday night some of the details of the projected program will be announced. Several university classes are involved in the first part of the spectacular program and more than a thousand people are expected to be in the chorus.

The miniature recital, by Miss Mary Elizabeth Moutray, soprano, and Miss Josephine Jones, contralto, which was omitted last week in order to give time for an appeal for contributions to the Memorial Union building, will be given at the next community sing.

All who wish seats during next Monday's sing should be at Music hall before 7:15.

STORY CONTEST BOOSTS TEACHING

A contest has been opened by the Institute for Public Service in which the teachers now enrolled in summer schools may compete by submitting a story on "Why I Like Teaching." For the story judged best there will be a prize of $25, for the second best $10, for the third $5, and for the ten next best articles $1.

The object of this contest is to bring before the ablest boys and girls of the high schools the rewards and opportunities in teaching. The present shortage in teachers, which promises to increase, emphasizes the importance of presenting the attractive and happy sides of the teaching profession as an aid to securing teacher recruits. The contest opens July 12 and closes Aug. 15. The papers will be judged by a committee composed of a layman, an editor and an educator. Manuscripts are limited to 400 words, and should be sent to the Institute for Public Service, 423 West 120th St., New York City.

CHEN TO TALK SUNDAY NIGHT

Editor From China to Lec- ture at Vespers at Open Air Theater

The Rev. W. P. Chen, editor of the Christian Advocate of China, Shanghai, will lecture on "The Eagle and the Dragon," at the Open Air theater, on the upper campus, at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. On Monday and Tuesday evening he will speak at Wesley Foundation on "The Cycle of Cathay" and "The Lore of Cathay."

Rev. Chen received his training in the schools of China and in a missionary college. He later studied at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Michigan and received the degree of Ph. D. in 1910. Since then Rev. Chen has devoted his time to preaching and writing.

Rev. Chen was a delegate to the general conference of the Methodist church held in Des Moines during May. He put before the conference the educational and religious needs of his people and also lectured on the Shantung situation. He is now delivering a series of lectures in different colleges and universities and comes to Wisconsin from Boston university where he gave a series of lectures before the Theological Graduate school. This is Dr. Chen's first appearance in Madison.

DO YOU KNOW

By J. G. Crownhart, '21

This is the twenty-second summer session at Wisconsin.

There were 1,325 bonus students at the University last year.

Chadbourne and Barnard Halls hold only 266 or 11 % of the 2,410 women attending school.

Four professors and three former professors of Wisconsin were included in the twenty-three members of American Peace Commission.

Last year there were 163 women taking Commerce, 115 journalism, 20 medicine, 2 law and 1 engineering.

Wisconsin's Press Bureau, established in 1903, was the first in the country.

STUDENT PLAY AND CARNIVAL TOP SCHEDULE

Drama and Venetian Night Are Big Events of Next Week

Friday is the big day on next week's calendar, featuring the "Midsummer Night's Dream" and the Water Carnival and Venetian Night celebrations. Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," will be presented at 8 o'clock in the Open Air theater by an all-university cast, many of the members of which have produced plays in their respective schools. The play is under the personal direction of Prof. May Maude Babcock.

The Water Carnival in the afternoon and the Venetian Night celebration will be run off in connection with the decennial celebration of the Forest Products Laboratory. The schedule for the week also contains a number of public lectures.

The program for Monday follows: 9 a. m.—Illustrated lecture on Roman Civilization: VIII. "The Roman Citizen," by Prof. Grant Showerman. 260 Bascom hall.

4:30 p. m.—Lecture: "Hornswogling the Teacher Out of Her Salary," by Director Garfield C. Canright, securities division, Wisconsin Railroad Commission. Auditorium, Engineering building.

7:15 p. m.—Fourth of informal musical gatherings. General singing of familiar songs and choruses; instrumental and vocal solos. The student body and the public are invited to participate and listen. Under the direction of Prof. Dykema. 7:15 to 8:15 sharp. Auditorium, Music hall.

8:30 p. m.—The board of directors of the Madison Y. W. C. A. invites all members of the summer session (women) to a reception at the Y. W. C. A. building, 122 State St.

Program Changes

Philander P. Claxton, U. S. Commissioner of Education, will not appear on tonight's program of the National Academy of Visual Education as he was forced to leave early today to fill an engagement in Tennessee.

Dr. G. E. Condra, of the Univ. of Neb., will appear instead in a lecture on: Demonstration Work in the Use of the Educational Film.

Mrs. Guy Blanchard, Chairman of Motion Pictures of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, will replace E. L. Crandall, Bureau of Lectures and Visual Instruction, New York city.

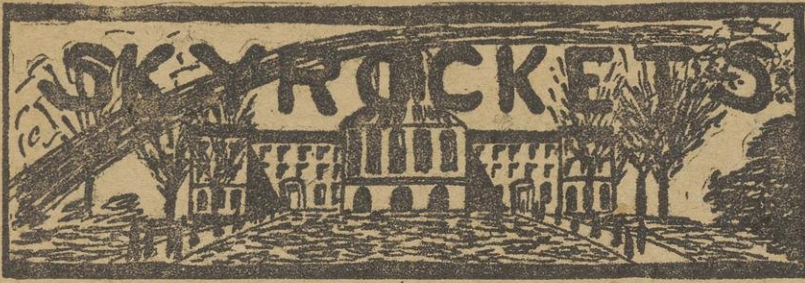

WEATHER

Highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 75 at 3 p. m. and the lowest 55 at 5 a. m. The sun sets at 7:35.

The weather is unsettled and showery in the Gulf states and in the northern Rocky mountains. It is cooler in the lake regions and in New England; warmer on the plains and in the northern plateau regions and cooler on the Mexican border.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The first round in the tennis tournament must be completed Monday. Matches not played before Monday afternoon will not be counted in the tournament.

THE PASTOR.

The Pastor in his church, I wot,
Us all to grace can bring—
Yet nothing wets the good man's throat,
Save water of the spring;
The water of the spring may be
Sweet to the pastor sick;
Let every man to his own fancie
Give me the Dago-Red Stick!

The pastor he can pray for all—
We thank him for his prayers,
And what he moistens him withall,
So he saves our souls, who cares?
So he saves our souls, who cares
though he
Drink till the spring-head fail?
Let every man to his own fancie—
Give me the Ancient Ale!

LIFE'S LIL PUZZELS
Now Charlie De Spise
Lived up to his name.
He so hated to work
That he never won fame.

In class he was bone-headed
Could hardly be taught
That if fishes were suckers,
They couldn't be caught.

He gave all the girls
The once-over; and found that it paid to be sociable
All the year 'round.

It took him six years
To prepare for the world
But he did it at last,
And the "old dip" unfurled.

Now Charlie De Spise

Makes 300 a week,
With a quartered oak desk
Stuch under his feet.

TODAYS BEST WORST.
You tell 'em Cardinal-your red.

THEN THE FUN BEGAN.
"I guess you could," murmured
Neptune's Daughter, taking a last longing look at the mirror.
"You guess you could what?"
demanded Han Cuff, speaking up suddenly from a maize of laundry marks.

"Why, I guess you could learn how from her muff," said Nep, heading for the door. "It's held her hand."

TODAY'S TRAGEDY.
The sun never shown on a college
more fair,
When John first laid eyes on Wisconsin.

He searched out the office and registered there.
Wisconsin, Hurrah for Wisconsin!
Her sons seemed so valiant
good fellows and bright;
Her beautiful daughters were just about right;
As for studies, God bless them,
there away out of sight.
Why think of that rot at Wisconsin?

When the end of the year had at last rolled around;
And he surveyed his past at Wisconsin,
Base reports from the dean made an ominous sound.
Wisconsin, I hear you, Wisconsin.
The others were off to the woods or the sea
For scholastic trammels set prisoners free.
"You may all go abroad," said poor
John, but for me
I'm sticking around at Wisconsin.

Commerce Association Discusses Hiring Secretary

Employment of a competent traffic secretary by the Madison Association of Commerce at a salary of $4,500, is being discussed today in the weekly bulletin of the association and left to the decision of association members, especially manufacturers, shippers and receivers of freight, probably next week.

"The appalling waste of money in the transportation field through inefficiency is inconceivable to anyone who has not made a thorough investigation," Don Mowry, secretary of the association said.

"The cost of transportation is the largest single item of expense in the world. It is about $4,000,000 annually—about $200 for every family in the United States. It is claimed that a loss or gain of only 1-20 of one cent in the freight rates a hundred or ton, as rated, on all the shipments in the country would make a loss or gain of $125,000,000. It is estimated that millions of dollars are wasted annually by shippers, railroads, communities and individuals through inefficiency in traffic work."

A traffic secretary would coordinate shipments to and from Madison, assist in securing more rapid movement of freight and give advice in billing freight over the shortest possible routes.

Notice of a new receipt for express shipments to expedite the making of duplicate receipts was given the association by the American Railways Express company. Blanket forms will be discontinued by the company, the notice said, but shippers will still be allowed to have their own forms of receipts printed.

SIDE-LIGHTS ON THE UNIVERSITY

2. THE COURSE IN JOURNALISM

First Journalism Courses in the United States Offered Here Fifteen Years Ago

BY J. G. CROWNHART, '21.

The University of Wisconsin was the first college in the country to establish courses in Journalism. The first class was one in news writing started by Dr. W. G. Bleyer the first semester of 1905, and it was held in the basement of Bas com hall. Missouri established its four-year course the second semester of 1905 and Wisconsin developed a similar course the first semester of 1906.

Wisconsin ranks with such leaders as Kansas, Missouri and Columbia among the hundred colleges in the country that now have such courses. It is a member of the American Association of Schools of Journalism, which have four year courses leading to a degree.

The enrollment in the course was 225 last year, which is approximately the size of the other leading schools. The aim is to give the students preparing for journalistic work the broad training that is at present necessary. Its actual work is divided into giving the student the historical and social background, the development of the power of effective writing, and the technical instruction and practice in writing and editing.

It is one of the few schools that cooperate with local newspapers in the training of writers. The students not only work on the Daily Cardinal but on the three other Madison dailies. Some of them act as university correspondents for the Chicago, Milwaukee, and state papers.

The course is equipped to furnish the best instruction. It has a reading room with complete files of all the leading periodicals, a news laboratory, and the new printing laboratory which was installed last year. The printing laboratory is intended to give the very necessary instruction in the setting of heads, correction of proof, and the elements of typesetting. The greater part of South hall is devoted to this course.

Not only does the work cover the ground of instruction for newspaper reporting and editing, but it offers advantages for instruction in editorial writing, the writing of special feature articles, the country newspaper, magazine writing, short story writing, and preparation for the teaching of journalism. The rank of the course is due largely to the high standing of the faculty which Dr. Bleyer leads. Dr. Blyer, director of the course, and Prof. G. M. Hyde, his associate, are widely known as authors of books on journalism.

The business side of journalism has become of growing importance and the courses offered in retail and national advertising, the psychology of advertising, advertising campaigns, and office methods are among the most prominent in this field.

The students of the course have organized the Press club, which admits all who have shown their ability. This was organized in 1892 and is the oldest in the country. The Advertising club has students from both the course in Commerce and Journalism. The men's national honorary fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, maintains a chapter, as does the women's national, Theta Sigma Phi.

"Tom" Henry Horton, cook for six years for the National Guards of Madison, died Thursday afternoon at St. Mary's hospital of Bright's disease. He was born in Mississippi Feb. 14, 1856. He also cooked for Co. L. of Beloit for a period of twelve years. Mr. Horton was a member of the G. U., order of Odd Fellows, and of the African M. E. church. He was superintendent of the Sunday school for the past 20 years. Surviving him are his wife, nine daughters, Mrs. Lulu Guest of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Ida Satterfield of Chicago, Mrs. Mabel Knox and Mrs. Esther Scott of Beloit, Irene Marion, Helen, Hazel, and Julia and one son Charles all at home, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Cheesemakers Use U. W. Dairy—J. L. Sammis of the university department of agriculture during the year ending July 1 tested 238 samples of cheese for moisture content, 22 samples for fat and judged 83 for cheesemakers of the state. Judging is done in advance of state and county fairs where the cheesemakers want to exhibit.

FILE ANSWER IN ELTON CASE

Answer to the complaint of the town of Elton, Langlade county, against Colbert J. Weeks, a minor, and the Wisconsin industrial commission, taking exception to findings of the commission June 17, 1920, and declaring the judgment of $292.50 awarded by the commission to Weeks for injuries sustained in working for the town, illegal, was filed in circuit court today by attorneys of T. J. Reinert, guardian for the defendant.

Weeks was a minor allowed to work for the town of Elton without a working permit in violation of the state law, the commission alleged in its findings in June. While so working he was injured and the commission ordered the town to pay a judgment of $292 within 10 days after the accident.

Reinert's attorneys in an individual answer to the complaint of the town taking exception to the findings of the commission deny that the commission acted "without and in excess of its powers in making the findings that the applicant (Weeks) when a minor of permit age at the time of the accident, was engaged and permitted to work without a written permit" and denies that the finding is contrary to law. They deny that the commission acted in excess of its powers in finding that the town of Elton was responsible for treble compensation and deny the commission illegally ordered Elton to pay Weeks $292.50 compensation.

A Dixie club was organized by students from the southern states at a meeting held at athrop hall Thursday evening. Officers were elected and plans made for a picnic.

The last mixer will be held tonight in the gymnasium of Lathrop hall. Miss Schultz's class in interpretive dancing will give some special dances and Prof. E. B. Gordon will have charge of the stunts.

Chadbourne Entertains

Members of Chadbourne hall will entertain Prof. and Mrs. Peter Dykema at dinner tomorrow evening. After dinner Professor Dykema will lead the community singing in the parlors.

Dunn-Fauerbach

The wedding of Miss Clara Vierling Fauerbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fauerbach, Spaight st., to Charles B. Dunn of this city, son of Dewey Dunn of Denver, Col., occurred yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. H. H. Lumpkin of Grace Episcopal church officiating. The ceremony was performed in the living room before the fireplace, which was banked with ferns. Canterbury bells and feverfew were also used in the decorations. The bride, unattended, was given in marriage by her father. Alfred M. Rogers of Chicago was best man. A gown of white embroidered net and a tulle veil with a wreath of myrtle formed the costume of the bride, who carried a shower bouquet of Lord Cecil and Kilarney roses and lilies of the valley.

Out of town guests were Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Rogers of Oconomowoc; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Blumer and daughter, Marion, of Monroeff and Mrs. A. J. Bodden of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Dunn is a graduate of the university, class of 1920, and a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Dunn graduated from the university in 1915, after which he attended the law school, for three years. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity and was recently admitted to the Kansas state bar. He is practicing in Wichita.

Grant M. Hyde, 107 Roby road, acted as best man Saturday at the wedding of Miss Mary E. Buckmaster of Janesville to George L. Turner of Chicago, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. Charles E. Ewing officiating. Mrs. Georgia C. Hyde played the wedding march and Miss Ruth Soultman was violinist.

ANNEXATION PLAN GIVEN NEW BOOST

South Madison Residents Won't Ask Improvements Yet

AFFIDAVITS ARE SIGNED

Will Wait Three Years, Say 60
Citizens; to Come Up
Tonight

Affidavits from 60 residents of South Madison declaring on oath that they will not ask the city for any improvements for a period of three years after annexation will be presented to the city council tonight by advocates of the South Madison annexation plan to meet the objection that the city will be "plunged in debt for five or ten years to come" if the district is taken in.

At the instigation of several aldermen who opposed the scheme because of excessive costs J. C. Warner, one of the leading advocates of annexation, secured the 60 affidavits last night in less than two hours.

"South Madison people asking for annexation have no thought of burdening the city with taxes for sewage, water and paving projects immediately," Mr. Warner said. "In substantiation of this claim 60 residents in all parts of the district signed affidavits to that effect. The improvements in the east and west parts of the city will suffer no delay because of annexation and expenditures for sewer and waterworks will not be heavier in South Madison at the end of three years than they are in districts already annexed to the city."

Removal of misapprehensions regarding the cost of annexation is expected to win over a majority of opposition aldermen, leaders of the annexation plan said. Fifteen votes are needed to pass the measure.

Report of the special committee investigating the cause of the high water level of Lake Monona and other lakes will be made to the council tonight. A joint committee composed of representatives from all Madison civic organizations will discuss the question at the meeting of the board of directors of the Association of Commerce Tuesday.

Also Out

Henry Allen Cooper of Racine who has served as a member of the House of Representatives the longest of any man in this state has announced his candidacy for reelection to his seat. Two years ago Cooper was defeated by Judge Randall of Kenosha on the loyalty issue. Judge Charles D. Rosa of Beloit has also announced his candidacy for this position. The candidacy of Randall was announced some weeks ago. Papers for Mr. Cooper were placed in circulation in the first district during the week. Cooper announced that he will make a speaking campaign in the district.

CHEER UP; BIG CROP OF APPLES COMING

It will be good news to housewives that the apple crop of Wisconsin for 1920 will exceed that of 1919 by about 56,000 barrels. This is the estimate of the commercial apple crop of the state based upon July 1st conditions made for the state department of agriculture by J. A. Becker, joint crop statistician.

TWO BOYS HELD ON CHARGE OF STEALING AUTO

Two boys, 11 and 16 years old, whose names are being withheld in accordance with the state law, were arrested late yesterday on a charge of stealing a five-passenger Ford belonging to William Serstad, Stoughton, from the carnival grounds at Bog Hollow.

Judge Hoppmann in superior court today took the case under advisement. Officer Hoffman saw the youths climb into the car and drive off apparently on a joyride. He hailed another car and in a chase which lasted several blocks overtook the Ford. The younger escaped in the darkness, but was arrested later.

SONS OF NORWAY DISCUSS PLANS FOR INSURANCE

The question of insurance came up for discussion at the morning meeting of the Sons of Norway, whose annual national convention of the grand lodge of that organization is being held this week.

Action was taken to reduce the extra insurance premium for fishermen on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The matter was referred to the executive board and actuary of the order for consideration. A decision was reached in regard to writing small amount insurance policies. No policy for less than $250 will be issued by the organization. Formerly the lowest amount was for $100. As that will no longer cover the expense of an ordinary funeral the premium was raised.

Election of officers was held late this afternoon.

VISUAL WORK NEW MEDIUM FOR TEACHING

—Birge

President Congratulates Academy on Success in New Work

"Before the invention of printing the ear was the main source of instruction. With the invention of the printing press, the eye for the first time became the dominant factor in mental stimulation and development," said Pres. E. A. Birge, in his address of welcome at the opening of the first congress of the Academy of Visual Instruction Wednesday night.

"The second step in the development of visual instruction was the introduction of the laboratory method of study. Now we have come to the third; namely, visual instruction through the use of the film and slide.

President Birge congratulated the academy on the work that it was doing. He warned the members, however, that they would meet with many unforeseen difficulties that would arise as they advanced. As the pioneers of the laboratory form of study had overcome unexpected obstacles, so must the pioneers of visual instruction in the form of films and slides overcome theirs, he pointed out.

Praises U. W. Work

Dr. G. E. Condra of Lincoln, Neb., responded to the president's address of welcome. He paid a warm tribute to the work of Prof. Dudley of the University of Wisconsin. He said that among the many reasons the academy had for choosing the University of Wisconsin for the conference, the chief reason was the advanced work of the bureau of visual instruction. He characterized visual education as instruction through illustration.

In closing he urgently endorsed the plea for the proposed Memorial building that Dean Goodnight had made earlier in the evening. The alumni as well as the student body were urged to get behind the movement with their most loyal support.

Afternoon Meeting

Prof. Dudley presided at the informal meeting Wednesday afternoon.

W. C. Crosby, State Bureau of Community Service, Raleigh, N. C.; W. F. Handschin, vice director of the Illinois Agricultural Extension Department, Urbana, Ill.; A. P. Hollis, N. D. Agricultural College, Fargo, N. D.; C. D. Lamberton, County Training School, Berlin, Wis.; and M. L. Wilson of the State College of Agriculture, Bozeman, Mont., spoke briefly on the various phases of the work.

Farewell Party

A farewell party was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Catherine Morrissey, 11 W. Gorham st., in honor of Miss Julia Dodge, who will leave soon for New York, whence she will sail about July 21 for England, remaining abroad about a year. Miss Dodge will be accompanied by her mother as far as New York city, where she will join her aunt and accompany her abroad for a year. Miss Dodge is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. R. E. N. Dodge, 712 State st.

The guests at the affair yesterday were Misses Frances Johnson, Silsworth and Caroline Mosby, Elizabeth McLeod, Clara Louise and Ruth Menges, Georgia Fisk, Loretta Morrissey, Olive and Janet Smith, Julia Dodge, Catherine Morrissey.
