CASALS' MUSIC TO BE SENT BY RADIO TONIGHT

He is World's Greatest Cellist

Pablo Casals' music will be heard not only in the gymnasium tonight, but all over the whole country. This magic will be wrought by the university radio which will broadcast the concert.

As a cellist Pablo Casals has won for himself international fame. He is known both in Europe and America as the greatest artist in his field of music.

In the town of Vendrell, Spain, where Casals was born, he received his first instruction from his father. The great artist was deeply attracted by the cello the first time that he heard it and made up his mind to study it at once. At the age of seventeen he was honored by the Queen of Spain.

Because of his remarkable talent Pablo Casals has been presented with the Beethoven gold medal of the Royal Philharmonic society of London, the Legion of Honor, and the Grand Cross of Alfonso XIII.

The program which he will present tonight at the University gymnasium is as follows:

Sonata in G major—Sammartini
Concerto in A minor—Saint Saens

Arioso—Bach
Allegro spiritoso—Senaile
Variations on a theme by Mozart—Beethoven
Larghetto Lamentoso—Gadovsky

Menuet—Debusey
Danse Espagnole—Grandados
L'Adeille—Schubert
Allegro Apassionata—Saint Saens

One hundred rush tickets will be on sale for $1 at A. E. Smith's music store today until five o'clock. There are also a few reserved seats for sale.

THIRTEEN ARE INITIATED INTO GREEK SOCIETY

A new chapter of a national legal fraternity was formally installed at Wisconsin last Saturday when the Gamma Sigma Rho fraternity was installed as Upsilon chapter of Gamma Eta Gamma.

There were thirteen men initiated as charter members and eight other members will go in next Thursday. The installation, which took place in the woman's building, was followed by a banquet and a theater party at the Orpheum.

Several prominent members from chapters at Northwestern and Chicago, including Lawrence E. Johnson of Chicago, one of the national officers, were present.

The Wisconsin chapter will be the nineteenth chapter of Gamma Eta Gamma. The fraternity was founded in 1901 at the University of Maine.

Blue Dragon to Hold Meet In Lathrop Parlors Today

Blue Dragon will have a meeting from 4:30 to 6 o'clock this afternoon in Lathrop parlors to discuss different business matters, especially that of Blue Dragon rings. Mr. Henry, representative of the Balfour Class Ring and Pin company, will exhibit and take orders for the rings. Tea will be served in the upstairs dining-room. Elizabeth Kirk, Betty Terkelson and Belle Knights comprise the committee in charge.

Indiana U. to Erect Three New Buildings

The trustees of the Indiana university decided unanimously Saturday to employ immediately architects to furnish plans for three new buildings. There is to be a new $500,000 Indiana Union, a $250,000 woman's dormitory, and a $250,000 stadium for the athletic field.

WAGNER CALLS SIGNS OF SPRING "THE BUNK"

"All bunk" is the way George Wagner, associate professor of biology, described popular beliefs concerning the harbingers of spring, yesterday. "Flocks of geese flying north, the shadowless ground hog, and thousands of other superstitious beliefs of the ages do not indicate the coming of spring," Professor Wagner said, "and have no foundation in science."

According to this authority, all signs by which the laymen have been predicting the weather from the time of the Indian down to the present day go smash.

The migration of birds from one section of the country to another does not indicate a change in season, says Professor Wagner, because migration always occurs at the same time each year. And further still when you see a robin hopping around in the snow do not think spring is on the way because that robin was probably here all winter.

BIRGE SPEAKS AT MILWAUKEE

Jones and Gardner Also Talk to Alumni at Banquet

President Birge of the University of Wisconsin, Tom Jones, athletic director, and Prof. E. H. Gardner, addressed a meeting of Milwaukee alumni held there last night at the Hotel Pfister.

The meeting was in the nature of a banquet for the purpose of organizing a strong alumni association to be known as the University of Wisconsin club.

A campaign to raise funds for the erection of a Wisconsin Memorial Union building in honor of men who lost their lives in the World war was launched by members of the club.

President Birge explained the needs for a strong alumni association. Films were shown by Professor Gardner of the life of the university and explanations were given of the Memorial Union building. Director Jones explained the situation of athletic coaches which is now facing the university department.

Many business men, some of them not alumni of the university, have allied themselves with this movement and have accepted appointment of the executive committee which consists of Frank R. Bacon, John E. Fitzgibbon, Charles S. Pearce, E. L. Philipp, Walter Bartlett, William E. Black, James B. Blake, Alva H. Cook, Humphrey Desmond, Irving Fish, Morris Fox, Albert Friedmann, Ralph P. Hammond, John C. Karel, Clifford McMillen, Ernest F. Rice, Irving M. Seaman, H. O. Seymour, Erwin Uihlein and Robert N. McMynn.

Success of Honor System At Illinois U. Dubious

Every student on the campus at Illinois university will vote on Feb. 23 on the question of whether the honor system shall remain as an Illinois tradition, or whether it shall be abolished for the proctor system. The general feeling is that the honor system is not producing results.

Earl Thompson Succeeds Cartwell at West Virginia

As track coach and trainer at West Virginia university, Earl Thompson, former Dartmouth college star track man, will succeed Nate Cartmell. Thompson holds the present world's record in the high hurdles.

Iowa Alumni May Pledge To Union By Unique Method

The suggestion has been made to the alumni of Iowa university that each alumnus pledge the amount to the Iowa Memorial Union fund that will be equal to one-twelfth the annual income, payable in four installments, one week's income each year for four years.

S. G. A. TO AID CHINESE WOMEN STUDENTS HERE

Five teams of two girls each opened the S. G. A. drive yesterday to extend the scholarship period of Whei Lan Chang, a Chinese student major in physical education. Miss Lan Chang was graduated with honors from the University of Shanghai, China, 1919, where she won a two years' scholarship in America. This is the second year the S. G. A. has extended this scholarship by solicitation among university women. Whei Lan plans to return to China upon her graduation in June, to do physical instruction work among her own people.

The soliciting committee with its respective districts includes:

Dorothea Wilgus '24, general chairman, and Lorraine Moody '24, Langdon street; Mary Burchard '24, Esther Gray '24, Park, Irving, Sterling streets, University avenue, Barnard, Chadbourne halls; Lois Livingston '24, Beth Williams '24 Johnson, Charter, Brooks, Mills streets; Margaret Callen '24, Magdalene Moxon '24, Gorham, Gilman, Henry, Lake, State streets; Wilhelmina Mead '23, Bertha Glennon '24, Frances, Murray streets, Clymer place, Huntington court.

Personal solicitations will be made by the teams, who will visit all sorority and boarding houses within the dates of the drive, Feb. 19-26.

Wald Goes to Convention of Volunteers at Yonkers

Arthur Wald '24, a member of the local branch of the Student Volunteer movement, left last night for Yonkers, New York, where he will attend the national convention of that organization.

Wald is one of the two delegates elected from the state and will attend the conference with the other delegate, Miss Florence Brandes, a junior from Lawrence college.

He has been active in the Baptist church and has been a member of the student cabinet for three years. He has also been active in promoting the Volunteer movement at the university.

WEATHER: FAIR

The weather today and tomorrow will be generally fair. It will be somewhat colder. The maximum temperature yesterday was 24.2 at 2 p. m., and the minimum was 3.9 at 8 a. m.

WOLVERINES LOSE TO BADGERS IN GAME OF SENSATIONS, 16 TO 11

OCTY PARADES ON HILL TOMORROW IN FASHION

The "Fashion" number of the Octopus will appear in the various buildings on the hill for sale tomorrow.

A snappy cartoon of a dancing couple by Hubert Townsend, editor, makes up the cover. The title is "The Young Man from Vanity Fair Goes with Miss Vogue to a Shadowland Dance." The colors are yellow and two shades of blue.

"This is one of the cleverest issues of the Octopus yet," said Rodney Welsh, last year's editor. "It touches a new field in satire and humor."

"How to Play Golf," "What They Are Doing at Palm Beach and Lake Plastered," and "The Latest Fashions for College People," are answered completely.

EXPERT SHOWS MERIT OF LAW

Congress Should Maintain Immigration Lid, Says Prof. Lescoghier

Congress should maintain the present immigration law, as tight as it is, and within five years the labor question connected with it will be a dead issue according to the opinion of Don Divance Lescoghier, associate professor of economics.

The effects of restrictive immigration are negligible to skilled labor, as the incoming number, about 50,000 annually, barely offsets the number of native men who are removed from the field by death or changing of occupation.

"Common labor receives the greatest benefits from this law, as the immigrants of this class are limited," Professor Lescoghier stated. "This limitation tends to attract a higher class of laborers and will raise their wages almost to the level of skilled workmen."

Will Promote Invention

"Due to the decrease in common labor the employer will be forced to make more extensive use of machinery which promotes inventive genius, and business will readjust itself to the use of a more intelligent laboring group."

Many of our industries, such as oil and coal, are destructively exploiting our national resources due

CELEBRITIES WRITE FOR NEW COMMERCE MAG

A. W. Shaw, editor of System, Ned Jordan, president of Jordan Motor Car company, J. E. Edgerton, president of National association of Manufacturers, and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace have written articles for the February issue of the Commerce Magazine, on sale on the hill today.

Chief among the student contributions stands another group of the popular "Paul Bunyan" stories by Karl Reynolds '23.

Mr. Shaw's article, "The Profession of Business," shows that business has come to a point where it may properly be called a profession. Ned Jordan, advocate of "he-man" traditions, wrote on "Wanted—Old-Fashioned Young Men." Mr. Edgerton's article shows the value of a college education for business men, and Secretary Wallace tells his conception of the duties and responsibilities that face the modern graduate in his article on "College Graduates of Today."

In a slashing game of basketball which for sensation rivaled modern stagecraft at its best, the Wisconsin quintet thoroughly thrashed Michigan, 16 to 11, in the armory gym last night.

Victorious in both of its tilts with the Wolverines, Wisconsin today rests secure in second place, snapping at the heels of the pace-making Iowa university five.

A furiously-fought battle, distinguished by dazzling floor work, remarkable shooting from long distances, and accurate passing, the game was a brilliant exhibition of Big Ten basketball. Wisconsin snapped into a small lead at the beginning, counting first on Gibson's long shot from the middle of the court. The Badgers were on the big end of an 8 to 3 score at half-time and continually maintained the margin except for a brief interval during the last period.

Guarding Holds Down Scores

Close guarding by both teams held down the score with the result that many of the points were garnered on long tries from the middle court. The teams played in spurts, rallying at times to a phenomenal exhibition which they were unable to sustain for more than two or

ACTRESS WILL GIVE DRAMATIC READING HERE

An interpretative reading of the Greek drama, "The Hippolytus of Euripides," will be given by Dorothea Spinney at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in 165 Bascom hall. The reading is under the auspices of the University Committee on Lectures and Convocations and will be open to the public.

Miss Spinney is an English actress who has won fame in this country and abroad through her presentation of Greek plays. She comes to Madison from the east where her work is being highly praised by critics.

A recent edition of the Drama Calendar says of the actress—

"As interpreted by Miss Spinney, the audience was held under the spell of the Greek play for one hour and a half. In itself, it is a remarkable achievement for any person to hold the attention of an audience for that length of time. Miss Spinney with her fine delineations of all the characters in the play kept her audience in that hushed silence which is the true sign of close collaboration."

Press agents from Melbourne and Adelaide, Australia and Hilo, Hawaii, laud Miss Spinney's excellent and minute interpretative readings of "Hamlet."

Fraternities Start Water Basketball Meet Monday

The inter-fraternity water basketball tournament will begin next Monday. Coach Joe Steinauer is anxious to meet representatives of fraternities not already signed up at 7:30 o'clock tonight in his office. Five cups will be awarded in the tournament. The entry fee is $5.

LENT SERVICE HELD BY CLUB

Rubel and Dunlap Conduct
St. Andrew Brotherhood
Services

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew conducted the first of a series of five services to be given during Lent Sunday evening at the St. Francis club house on University avenue. The address was given by Henry S. Rubel '23, and the service was read by W. W. Dunlap '25.

Eight members of the chapter have been licensed by the bishop of Milwaukee to act as lay readers. Two missions have been cared for since last October by the brotherhood, but this is the first time that any work has been attempted in the university parish. Other members of the organization will have charge of the services during the remainder of Lent.

Need of Practical Religion
Rubel's address, dealing with the practical religion of students, followed the regular evening service. He stressed the necessity of students forming regular religious habits during their college careers in order to be able to shoulder the greater responsibility thrown on them as leaders.

Courtney Barber, national vice-president of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, happened to be in the city Sunday and gave a talk after the service. The services to be given during the remainder of the Lenten season will be conducted entirely by students, however.

The service next Sunday will be given in time for members of the society to attend the Campus Religious convocation in Lathrop hall. Wilfred Grenfel will address the convocation.

BRYAN TO MAKE TRIP OF TROPICAL RESEARCH

A six months' research trip in South America will be made this winter by Prof. George S. Bryan, of the department of botany, and upon his return he hopes to bring the university a rare collection of plants.

Professor Bryan has been invited by the Field Museum, Chicago, to make the trip as a member of an expedition to tropical Peru which will sail from New York on Feb. 20. He will make a special study of algae, fungi, lichens, mosses, and ferns. The members of the expedition will make their first stop in Callao, Peru, and will then go to Lima, Peru. After leaving Lima, the group will cross the Andes mountains to the eastern slopes.

The greater part of the research work will be done in the tropical region of Peru, on the headwaters of the Amazon. Besides making a collection for the Field museum, Professor Bryan plans to bring back a large collection of these rare plants for the botanical museum of the university, and for research work.

FARM FESTIVAL SHOW TO DISPLAY POULTRY

Demonstrations portraying the care of eggs for the development of high-producing strains of poultry from the marking of eggs until they are hatched are included in the Poultry department exhibit which is to be held in connection with the Winter Farm festival at the College of Agriculture next Friday and Saturday.

"The University of Wisconsin has found that the mother hen and her record are not to be ignored in choosing a good flock of pullets," says Prof. D. H. Reid of the University Poultry department. Consequently, eggs are carefully marked and a record is kept of them from the time they are laid until the baby chicks arrive.

Exhibitions of tray nesting and high egg production of Leghorns, Barred Plymouth Rocks, White Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, and other breeds will be on display. The result of experiments conducted to show the results of different rations on egg production are also included in the Poultry department demonstration.

Hosier State University Will Duplicate "Not Responsible"

A novel form of publicity will be instituted at Indiana university. A representative of the Fox News will take pictures of the campus and these pictures will be used as publicity. An Indiana feature picture, with students as members of the cast, will also be taken.

SPEAKER URGES BETTER USE OF WORK ANIMALS

"Make better use of the horses and mules we now have," was the message of Wayne Dinsmore, Secretary of the Horse Association of America, in speaking before a joint meeting of the Student branch of the American Society of Agricultural engineers and the University Saddle and Sirlain club, on Thursday, Feb. 15.

"Why send two men out with a team each, when one man can do the same amount of work with a four horse hitch?" he asked. "It is applied power that has made the American farm so much more productive, and it is applied power that will aid the American farmer in solving some of the serious economic problems of production in the future."

Dinsmore showed a number of slides, illustrating how teams can be made to pull at maximum efficiency, and describing errors which most farmers generally make when hitching more than a two horse team.

"Many farmers may not like the idea of handling more than four horses, but one man can drive as many as 33 horses with as much ease as he can drive one or two, if they are properly hitched," Dinsmore said.

LUTHERAN BANQUET TO BE GIVEN THIS EVENING

A supper for the members of the Lutheran Memorial Student association will be given at six o'clock tonight in the Lutheran Memorial parlors.

Ernest H. Pett '24, will be toastmaster, and Wilbur W. Wittenberg '24, president of the association, will give a short talk.

Reverend A. J. Soldan will speak on "The Relation of the Student association to the Church" and Mrs. E. B. Stevenson will also speak.

Tickets will be fifty cents and all those who have not yet made reservations may do so by calling B. 7855.

N. W. TO BUILD NEAR TO LOOP

New Campus is Short Distance
From Business Center of Chicago

Plans to spend from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000 in the first unit of buildings at Alexander McKinlock memorial campus in Chicago were announced Saturday by trustees of Northwestern university.

The new campus is a nine acre tract a short distance from Michigan boulevard and in a direct line with the northward march of Chicago business. The medical, law, dental and other schools will be housed on this tract.

Schools Are Growing
Elevators and other conveniences of modern business structures will be part of the equipment, according to tentative plans submitted by James Gamble Rogers, designer of the Harkness memorial submitted at Yale university. A proposed skyscraper building of many stories surmounted by a decorative tower is the key to the whole architectural scheme of the new campus. This building will house the medical and dental schools.

The smaller buildings will take care of the growing schools of law, commerce, and journalism, with dormitories and a gymnasium. The law and commerce building is to be the first one erected.

Have 8,000 Students
The site of the proposed buildings was purchased by the university in 1920 for $1,420,260. The cost of the buildings to be erected there will bring the eventual cost to $10,000,000 at least.

Nearly 8,000 students are enrolled in Northwestern university today, university officials state. Approximately 5,000 of these are enrolled in the several Chicago departments. Many are turned away each year because of lack of housing facilities.

The new building program is in keeping with the intention of the trustees to have a consolidated campus upon which all of the Chicago professional schools could be united near downtown Chicago and at the same time free from the noise of the loop.

DAMAGE SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST RIDING SCHOOL

Suit to recover $8,000 damages for personal injuries has been instituted in the Dane County Superior court by Miss Helen Labowitch against James and Herbert Bruckner, proprietors of the Blackhawk Riding academy.

Miss Labowitch, who is a freshman at the university, sustained a compound fracture of the left leg last December while riding on the University drive with two friends, Silvia Rosenberg and Cecil Eiserman. One of the trio of horses became frightened and reared, kicking Miss Labowitch in the leg.

Since the time of the accident Miss Labowitch has been confined to a local hospital, from which she was only recently discharged. The suit claims damages for personal injury, hospital charges and school delay. Attorneys Hall, Baker and Hall will represent Miss Labowitch.

Menorah Society Will Hear Zelson Talk on "Talmud"

Menorah society will be addressed by Mr. L. G. Zelson of the Semitics department, at its regular meeting at 7:45 o'clock in the S. G. A. room in Lathrop hall tomorrow evening. Mr. Zelson will discuss the "Talmud," the Jewish civil and canonical law. Harry Katowitz, L. I., will speak on "The Influence of the College Man in the Community," and other topics of interest will be taken up.

Volunteers Addressed on Carroll Religious Meeting

The Student Volunteers at the Baptist Student headquarters were addressed last evening on the religious conference to be held at Carroll college by Eugene Bond, graduate, who spent last semester in religious work. A discussion followed the talk.

Milwaukee Doctor to Talk to Public in Science Hall

Dr. Horace M. Brown of Milwaukee will speak at 8 o'clock tonight in the first floor lecture room of Science hall on "The Varying Ideas of Different Races and Peoples as to the Anatomic Habitat of the Soul." The lecture is open to the public and will be followed by a discussion.

BADGER POULTRY CLUB Will Hold a Special Meeting

Badger Poultry club will hold a special meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Poultry building. Professor Macklin will speak on "Marketing Eggs Through Co-operative Sales companies."

ALPHA ZETA
Alpha Zeta will hold an important meeting at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Alpha Zeta room in Agricultural hall.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

GRAPPLERS ARE TO MEET IOWA FRIDAY EVENING

Squad is Crippled By Sickness

The "acid test" in the form of Iowa grapplers will be administered to Wisconsin mat artists at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Coach Hitchcock considers the Iowa team one of the strongest, if not the strongest, in the Conference. Illness and injuries have played havoc with Wisconsin's wrestling team and if the meet with Iowa is to be won, only the hard work that the squad is now doing will win for them.

Only Two Men Not Sick

Bieberstein and Benbow are the only men on the squad who have not yet reported at sick call. Phelps has been under the weather and Hoyer is just recovering from a sprained ankle.

Wisconsin won handily from the Gophers, taking three falls, but Iowa has done the same thing so will put up a tough fight to dislodge Wisconsin from second place.

Ames is the next opponent scheduled to meet Wisconsin and will furnish plenty of opposition, being considered the strongest team the Cardinals will have to meet.

PURPLE LOSES TRACK MEET TO GOPHERS, 45-36

When Hilding Hagen rolled in the dirt during the first lap of the 440-yard race, the trick was turned which cost Northwestern defeat at the hands of the Gopher track team at a dual meet held Friday night at Patten gymnasium. Minnesota won, 45 to 36, by copping four first out of nine starts and several seconds.

The fall that eliminated Hagen came when Cole, another Purple runner, tangled with another Gopher ahead of him and fell directly in front of Hagen, who was so close that he could neither leap over nor go around.

Ralph Worline of Northwestern equaled the world's intercollegiate record when he made the 40-yard dash in 04 3-5. Andy Sandegrin, a novice, took the two-mile half a lap ahead of Ulrich of the Gophers.

Towler of Minnesota took the high hurdles with ease while Grose took the shotput ahead of two of his squad and Evanston won the high jump.

MILLIKEN OR RIPON WILL BE CHAMPIONS

The race for championship of the Midwest conference basketball, now on its last lap, finds Knox and Carleton tied for third place. Coe and Cornell lost to the Knox men in the games last week. Carleton won and lost in its two games with the Iowa colleges.

Beloit and Milliken each have a game to play to decide their claims to the championship. The former will meet Ripon, and Milliken clashes with Siwash on Feb. 24 at Decatur.

Knox has been defeated once by the Milliken aggregation, but will be given an even chance to reverse the count.

Walter Eckersall to Start and Referee Purple Meet

Walter Eckersall, sports writer of the Chicago Tribune, has accepted the invitation of Dana M. Evans, athletic director at Northwestern university, to act as an official stater and referee for the twelfth annual Northwestern National Indoor Interscholastic track and field meet at Patten gymnasium, March 23 and 24. About 2,000 high schools will be invited to take part in the meet.

Paddock Only California

Charles W. Paddock, world's champion sprinter will probably be the only athlete representing the University of Southern California to enter the spring relay at Franklin field, Philadelphia, April 27 and 28, according to Coach Dean B. Cromwell.

SEVEN BADGER SQUADS TO PLAY

Purdue Game Will Be Most Important Contest of the Week

Seven Wisconsin athletic teams will swing into action during one of the busiest week-ends that Badger schedule-makers have arranged.

In the most important clash of the series, the basketball team meets Purdue in the gymnasium here. Purdue has a 17 to 13 victory over the Badgers to its credit. The game will be the first time a Lafayette basketball five has been here for years.

Gym Squad in First Meet

The track team boards the rattlers for Iowa City where it races against the Hawkeyes on Saturday. Iowa and Wisconsin freshmen engage in their annual telegraphic cinderpath meet on Friday afternoon.

In its first Conference meet, the gymnastic team meets Chicago in Bartlett gym. The competition will be held on Friday. Hockey players close their Conference schedule with a two-game series at Minneapolis. They lost one contest to the Gophers and tied one during games held two weeks ago.

Wrestlers Go To Iowa

One tentative meet is carded. Milwaukee Athletic club natators have agreed to swim against Coach Joe Steinbauer's tank men, but they have not definitely decided to hold the meet this week-end.

Iowa university furnishes the opposition in a dual wrestling meet with the Badger grapplers. Wisconsin and the Hawks are tied for first place and the result will eliminate one squad from championship consideration.

Rood Publishes 1923 Volume Of Flag Book

H. W. Rood, state patriotic instructor, has compiled for the fourth time "A Little Flag Book" which has just been published. He issued the first book in 1919 and most of the copies have gone into schools and libraries of Wisconsin and other states. Among the features of the book is an interesting article on "old Abe", the Wisconsin war eagle.

Ask Stevens To Review Industrial Body Verdict

Overruling of the decision of the industrial commission in which it denied Juanita Parr, Wausaukee, Marinette county, compensation for the death of her husband who was killed last August while in the employ of the Parsons and Vertz garage, is asked in a petition filed in circuit court.

M. A. C. MAY NOT COME HERE FOR SATURDAY MEET

Have Match Arranged For Friday

Doubt still exists that the Milwaukee Athletic club swimming team will appear here Saturday night against the Badger fish. No definite acceptance has been received from them, and since they have a meet scheduled for Friday night, there is the possibility that they may not come here.

"If the Milwaukee men appear here next Saturday night, there is not much doubt that my men will take them in for a good score," Coach Joe Steinbauer said yesterday. "Since they have a meet the night before they intend to come here, their men will be tired to the extent that they cannot put forth their best efforts."

Purdue Unable to Come

Purdue, who was considered for this week-end, will not be able to come as their schedule for the year is filled. Michigan has also cancelled because of circumstances. They state that they are without a coach and their team has disbanded, yet they have been in two meets since that time. They lost them both; perhaps they weren't willing to take a lacing from the Badgers. If the Milwaukeeans do not come here Saturday, the next meet will be with Northwestern on the second.

There are several old Badger stars who are swimming with the A. C. team. Johnny Kock, last year's captain, is one of their strong bets. Howard Stark, an old football and tank star, is with the Milwaukee team. Bob Benson and Oscar Ostoff are two other mainstays who will face the Badgers if the Milwaukee team comes here.

VINER'S HOCKEY SQUAD TO PLAY GOPHERS NEXT

Coach Viner's hockey team travels to Minneapolis next Monday where they play return games with the Minnesota team. A game will be played on both Monday and Tuesday.

Present indications are not very bright for the Cardinal pucksters. Tredwell will probably be recovered from his sickness, but will undoubtedly be in poor condition for playing. Bob Blodgett is on a trip to New York and, although he will probably return in time for the Minnesota series, he will have had no practice.

Practice Is Held Up

The team could not practice last night because of the snow fall and will probably be held up several more days this week for the same reason. Minnesota, on the other hand, has been going good all season.

The coach thought that he had one of his strongest lineups facing Milwaukee Saturday, but until the third period they showed no form at all. Little can be done to change the lineup as there are few men out for the team.

Michigan Pucksters Take First Defeat in Two Years

Michigan beat Minnesota in hockey Saturday 3 to 2, which caused Minnesota's first defeat in two years. Michigan's scores were made in the last three minutes of play.

Express Appreciation Of Cooperation For Carnival

A letter expressing appreciation to all persons who participated in the ice carnival was sent out today by Arthur O. Hedquist, a director of the carnival.

Vornholt To Preach In Iowa Next Sunday

Rev. E. H. Vornholt, pastor of Memorial Reformed church, has accepted an invitation of the Reformed church at Waukun, Ia., to preach at an anniversary celebration next Sunday. Mr. Vornholt was a former pastor of the Waukun church. The pulpit of Memorial Reformed church next Sunday will be occupied by Dr. Theodore Boliger.

TACITURN GILL TRAINS ILLINI FOR BIG RELAY

(Special to The Cardinal)
URBANA, Ill., Feb. 19.—Headed by Capt. Paul Sweet, Illinois' track squad is training industriously under the taciturn Harry Gill for the big relay meet here on Saturday afternoon, March 3.

Capt. Sweet is Illinois' premier quarter-miler unless Doug Fessenden, who re-entered the university, manages to untangle a scholastic kink. Sweet hails from Battle Creek, Mich. He placed third in the Big Ten meet at Iowa City last year and since Wolters of Ames won in 48 seconds, Sweet was probably not more than a second or so slower.

The Illinois leader was a member of the Illinois mile team which copped the indoor relay at Evanston and also flashed to victory in the outdoor race at Iowa City only to be disqualified. He also ran on the medley quartet which placed second to Iowa State in last year's carnival.

Sweet will be anchor man on Harry Gill's new mile team. H. M. Fitch will be another veteran. Likely candidates are George Graham of Chicago, Joe Smuts of Harvey, and Johnny Koonz of Winnetka, all sophomores.

Gill will enter a squad in the special events and Henry Mathias in the all-around championship. The best bet in the special events is Bob Ayres of Hinsdale in the dash. Most of the rest of the starters will be sophomores.

FRATS START SEMI-FINALS

Second Round of Basketball Tourney to Close on March 10

That all games of the second round of the preliminary series of inter-fraternity basketball games will be played by March 10 was announced yesterday by Arthur Platten '23, chairman of fraternity athletics. The semi-finals will start March 13.

All postponed games of the preliminary series not played off by March 10 will not count towards the semi-finals, Platten stated.

Sixteen teams, the first two in each division, will enter the semi-finals. The eight winning teams will go into the final round.

A consolation series for a special cup will be played by the four teams losing in the finals.

TRACK SQUADS TO MEET IOWA THIS WEEK-END

Are First Dual Meets of Season

Two big meets are on the track schedule for the coming weekend when the varsity squad meets Iowa at Iowa city next Saturday and the Wisconsin freshmen meet the Iowa freshmen in a telegraphic meet Friday.

The meets will be the first competition dual meets of the season for both the frosh and regulars and the results will be likely to indicate the success Wisconsin can expect in the outdoor season.

Varsity Calibre Unknown

To a great extent, the varsity squad is an untried team. There are few regulars from last year's squad on the present team, and new men from last year's frosh squad are in abundance. They will have a chance to show their metal at Iowa.

The Iowa team has been working well throughout the season and can be expected to put up opposition, which will be hard to overcome. The Badgers will have only an even break for a win, according to Coach Mead Burke.

Frosh Won Last Year

In the 1922 frosh telegraphic meet the Badger yearlings walked away with a victory over the Iowa men. This year's team, however, cannot compare with the 1922 team and will probably have considerable difficulty in taking the meet. The Iowa frosh have a good squad of men who hope to avenge last year's defeat.

The regular squad will leave for Iowa City on Friday afternoon. Besides coach and manager, twenty men will make the trip.

OLD HARVARD BOASTS ALL-AROUND ATHLETE

Harvard boasts the champ all-around athlete, George Owen is his name, and he stars equally in football, baseball, and hockey.

Harvard's star football man was Owen.

Harvard's star hockey player is Owen.

Harvard's star in baseball this spring will be Owen. And coaches say that if he cared to do track work, he would also be a bright light in that. It would be an easy matter for him to run off with the trophies in basketball, too, if he preferred the cage game to hockey.

They claim Owen is "the most versatile athlete Harvard has turned out in years." Are "they" right?

PURDUE TRIUMPHS OVER CHICAGO STRANGLERS

Purdue mat men won over the Chicago wrestlers 17 to 10 when they met Saturday afternoon at Chicago university.

The Midway men scored two falls, Jones winning over Johnson in 11:52, in the 135 pound class. Sarpalius heavy weight downed Ransdel in 11:35. Takaki the Chicago Jap, was thrown by Turner, 115 pound Midway man, with a headlock and body scissors, in a clever bout.

Other results follow:

125 pound—Miller (P) won decision over Ball.

135 pound—Dye (P) won from Tsoulos.

135 pound—Bord (P) won from Shimberg (C) and Booth (P) from Kalish (C).

TRYOUTS FOR DOLPHIN AT LATHROP TONIGHT

Tryouts for Dolphin club will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the Lathrop pool. Any girl wishing to try out is requested to report to Lois Barry at 7:45 o'clock in the tank room.

The requirements are to swim 12 lengths of the 20 yard pool, to swim two lengths with one standard stroke in perfect form and to perform 3 standard dives with an average of 85.

A second tryout will be held March 1 for a limited number of those who are unable to tryout tonight. The officers wish all who can to tryout tonight.

NIGHT EDITOR—HAROLD F. DIEHM

THOUGHTS AFTER THE GAME

We left the game last night feeling happy all over. We lost our Sunday's bet—they had entertainment between halves. But we're happy just the same. Praise be to the athletic department!

And then, in all our happiness, we had a few thoughts.

We need a new gym

Last night's game brought home more than ever before the absolute necessity for a larger gym. Strange to say, amid all the present agitation for stadiums, union buildings, and other things, there has been no particular agitation for another most vital thing, a gymnasium.

And so we're starting a little agitating on our own account.

Exactly 2,250 tickets were sold for the Michigan game. There are about 8,000 students here. That means that exactly 5,750 students were wearing gum faces early last night along with several thousand Madisonians.

The capacity of our gymnasium would scarcely do justice to a modern high school. With the best basketball record in the Big Ten, Wisconsin has virtually the poorest facilities for the sport. It is marvelous that we should cut out the figure we have in basketball history.

It is not unreasonable to assume that much of Iowa's recent success in basketball is due to its immense gymnasium holding 12,000 spectators. With 12,000 attending each game here, Wisconsin might soon pay for its own gym.

But we suppose it is futile to look for any immediate relief. We can only hope for a benevolent legislature or for a Wisconsin Patten like Northwestern to feel the gymnasium urge.

If not a building, then a system

However, if we cannot have a building, we can have a system that will permit a fair proportion of the student body to see what its basketball team looks like.

It is rather unfair, considering basketball in the light of what its total purpose should be, to place a premium on early rising and downright standing-in-line endurance when tickets are bought. It happens that the same "early birds" and the class-free students get the pasteboards for each game and the unlucky 5,000 never see the inside of the gym.

Illinois with limited gym facilities handles the matter nicely by allowing all students with initials from A to L to see three games and the ones with M to Z to see the remaining three. It is an arbitrary arrangement, but it accomplishes the desirable end of letting all enthusiasts have a look at a game.

We recommend strongly that the system be tried here—even this year. There are four games left.

Our yells are obsolete

The skyrocket is a good old tradition; "yea team" serves its purpose; and—and—we thought there was another, but what it is we're blessed if we can think.

That brings us to our point. Last night "yea team" and "s-s-sss, BOOM, a-ahh" followed each other in persistent succession. For every occasion "s-s-sss, BOOM, a-ahh" answered the purpose. A good yell, as we said, but monotonous and approaching the obsolete.

Wisconsin needs some new and distinctive yells. The students want them.

Searching through Wisconsin's brief category we find nothing with quite the verve and the distinction of Yale's "brek-a-co-ax," Illinois' "oski-wow-wow," or Chicago's "go Chicago, go."

We can use short yells to liven the brief rest on the basketball floor; we can use long yells—even involved ones—to give our cords a substantial workout.

New yells can be secured through competition. Yell leaders can put them in effect.

We won.

Most of all we're thinking that we won. And now we wish that we'd bet both our nickels on Wisconsin.

The Orph Owl

By R. B. S.

At first we thought that all the Audax and Jaeger pieces of furniture together again, but because of her good actions in the past few weeks we will give her another chance. It was a pretty bumpy fall though, and Rosies and rifles didn't make falling any smoother.

Rosie Rifle and Co.

"Little Flossy Moppy Top" went out into the cold, cold world to shoot a lot of all day-suckers but the world was too cold for her and she missed most of her shots and we turned out to be the suckers.

Hager and Goodwin:

To say that they were "taking off" the county fair side-shows was conceding themselves a little too much we feel. We never saw any county fair act quite so crude.

Francis Milner and Harry Kirby:

The "Broadway to the Bowery" act proved to have a real finesse in the Bowery, just to be different. Its clever.

Miller, Packer and Selz:

First we smiled, then groaned and finally stopped our five senses and hung onto the seat.

Edith Clifford:

We kept waiting for her to pull off her wig and walk around like a young Dempsey and give us the "low hoarse" laugh but she fooled us and now that we think it over it really was a very clever act.

Tumblers who really knew their dope.

Bygone Events

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The World's Fair psychological exhibit will be largely prepared here. Professor Jastrow has charge of the exhibit.

The social club gave a party at the armory last night. Poynette defeated the Badgers at a curling contest Saturday.

It is reported that the most serious fault of the Yale crew is their poor time.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

More than 20 track men will leave tomorrow for the indoor meet at Chicago.

The engraving contract for the Badger has been let.

Much interest is manifested in the coming university circus. The side shows will be an interesting feature.

The short course in agriculture will close a week from Thursday.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The annual outdoor conference track meet will be held at Wisconsin during the first part of June.

The ticket sale for the "W" men's dance next Saturday night is large.

A Sophomore mixer will be held Saturday night.

Lloyd George's country home is wrecked by a bomb. Suffragists are suspected.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Nearly 700 men have dropped university work to enter the service.

Enrollment in the university to date is 3,500.

Miss Helen Fraser, noted English war worker, spoke here last evening telling of woman's work in the war. She says that women are now working in all industries.

Paul Meyers, Badger gridstar, now is in France. He has been detailed to observation work.

CASALS COMES

Pablo Casals comes to Madison tonight bringing with him a wealth of artistry, personality, and music. The university gymnasium will be crowded with as many persons as watched the basketball game last night. And that's a lot of people.

It is gratifying to observe that students need no urging to hear genuine artists and what are considered the higher things of education and life.

Union board is to be complimented highly on bringing to students the opportunities of hearing musical excellence of the type offered by Werrenrath, Elman, and Casals. We hope for as brilliant a program next year.

This is one of the nights we miss the long mahogany pieces of furniture with the customary bowl of pretzels at one end. Some of us want to celebrate and the rest of us want to alleviate our sorrow.

ENGLISH 30 AND 33

Editor, The Cardinal:

Permit me to congratulate you on the excellent editorial which you ran last Tuesday concerning English 30 and 33.

I do not know of course who wrote the article but I think it is extremely creditable to The Cardinal that you can find a place for editorial writing on such a subject and that you were able to treat the subject so intelligently and in such a fine spirit.

All this means of course that I agree on the whole with most of the points made in your editorial. Some of the criticisms of English 33 bear upon defects which we have already discovered and hope to remedy in the future. On the whole I agree that the amount of reading required in English 33 is probably too large and that we overburdened the course with memory work.

At the same time I am not sure that you might not have attached even more importance than your editorial did to the fact that the difficulty of the course is not necessarily determined by the number of lines of poetry and pages of prose that are required to be read. The kind of work that is required to be done with the material of the course determines the difficulty of the course rather than the quantity of the reading.

All the same I think it is fine to see The Cardinal taking interest in problems of this nature.

(Signed) J. F. A. PYRE
Chairman, Sophomore Courses in Literature.

DOESN'T WANT HALTER

Editor, The Cardinal:

May I thank the "Observer" for his response to my communication of Thursday? May I presume to tell him that I do not "tacitly admit that college-bred women do not make fit wives for the college-bred man?" It is a pity to spend so much time on this trifling subject, but it would be gratifying to know what process of reasoning the observer pursued in arriving at such a conclusion.

My co-ed sisters sat back with relief upon learning that the whole question is, "do college-bred women make suitable wives for college-bred men?" Is that all this to-do is about? Then verily, 'tis much ado about nothing, for we are not going to the university to prepare ourselves for the matrimonial halter. We are attending it in order that we may be better fitted to perform the duties of citizens of the United States and to fit ourselves for positions of usefulness in our respective communities. It is only through education that we will be able to judge of just and sane laws,—and husbands,—and to suggest new ones.

It is a pleasure to see that the students do read The Cardinal and do discuss some things which are given space in its columns. Last week's fun may help to answer that often repeated question: "Is The Cardinal a real part of the university life, and are the students interested in its news?"

Let the "Observer" inquire at The Cardinal Office and he will be supplied with a list of girls whom he "would like to see occasionally". But why only occasionally?

M. S. C. '24.

There is no doubt that the rushing system at Columbia is archaic, but it cannot be improved unless the present interfraternity rushing agreement is respected. AG EXHIBIT TO INCLUDE GRAIN

Agronomy Department Demonstration Will Be Part of Farm Festival

Exhibition of pedigree strains of Wisconsin experiment station grains, both in sheaf and threshed will be held by the Agronomy department during the Winter Farm festival.

Through the efforts of Professor R. A. Moore and other plant breeders, many high yielding strains of corn and the small grains have been bred. These sub varieties have been selected until they reproduce their kind with few variations.

Some of the grain exhibits that will be on display are oats, Wisconsin numbers 1, 5, 7, and 19. Barley, Wisconsin number 7. Wheat, pedigree number 2. Corn, Wisconsin numbers 72, 8, 12, 13, and 25.

Exhibits of grasses and legumes include sheaves of alfalfa, red clover, timothy, red top, soy beans, sudan grass and many other grasses.

Of the new varieties that are of interest to farmers, pedigree number 19 oats possesses unusual merit. The oat is a cross between the Swedish select and the Kherson variety. By constant selection, a strain has been produced which combines some of the high yielding qualities of the Swedish select and the early maturing and stem characteristics of the Kherson. The Wisconsin pedigree number 2 wheat is a select strain of Turkey Red that does exceptionally well under Wisconsin conditions.

The seed inspection laboratory will be open to visitors during the festival. At demonstration hours, Professor Moore will demonstrate some of the methods used in breeding new strains of pure bred grains.

Y. W. C. A. SEEKS WHO'S WHO IN WOMEN'S DOINGS

To find out Who's who in Y. W. C. A. activities the workers of that organization will hold a banquet tonight and all means possible will be used to get everybody acquainted with everybody else.

Lathrop parlors will be the scene of this get-together and each worker will be charged fifty cents for her meal. About 150 girls are expected to attend.

Each Y. W. C. A. group will have a table. A member of each group will give a short speech and impromptu stunts will be given. The girls of the different groups who will speak are: Elenor Flynn, neighborhood house; Larch Campbell, freshman commission; Alice Cummings, Sophomore commission; Gladys Shaw, candy table; Ethelyn Sell, hospitality committee; Louise Moor, conference; Elizabeth Gissal, board; Margaret Brown, Cabinet council; Janet Cummings Vespers club; Mariam Efrid, Bradley Memorial. The banquet is in charge of the Y. W. C. A. board.

MOTT TALKS WILL BE BROADCASTED BY RADIO

Plans to broadcast the Sunday afternoon and evening addresses of Dr. John R. Mott, principal speaker at the Campus Religious conference here the weekend of March 2 to 4, were made yesterday afternoon by Worth E. Shoults, general chairman of the conference, and Malcolm Parker, assistant in physics.

Parker estimates that the afternoon addresses will be heard 200 miles away, and that the evening address will be heard on both coasts. In this way Mott's message will be sent to listening thousands many miles from Madison.

The principal address by Dr. Mott will be given on Friday afternoon on the subject, "The Present World Situation and Its Demand on the American University." All classes will be dismissed at 3:30.

Ohio Girls Discard Manly Arm For Annual Co-ed Prom

(Special to The Cardinal)
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 19.—Women at Ohio State university are again preparing to disprove the theory that a dance without men must be as flat as a tire without air. Girls only are eligible for the annual co-ed prom, to be held in Pomerene hall, women's union, on March 2. Prizes will be awarded for beauty, originality and comedy in costumes. The event is one of the elaborate affairs of the year. Co-eds are scheming and sewing.

BADGERS DEFEAT MICHIGAN, 16-11

three minutes. The Wisconsin team play surpassed the combination work of Michigan and made more marked the evident superiority of Coach Walter E. Meanwell's Badgers.

Meanwell had apparently discarded his time-worn system which calls for short passes until the ball has been worked to a point near the free-throw circle. Instead, his men were given instructions to shoot whenever opportunity presented itself, and shoot they did without regard for distance or position. Michigan was also forced to resort to the "long uns". The Mathermen took only eight shots at the basket during the entire first half and most of those were long tries, wildly thrown. They broke through the Cardinal defense in the last period for short attempts which failed when the ball circled the hoop and fell out. Kipke and Cappon "blew" a pair of sure shots.

Employing a freak tandem formation, the Wolverines were bent on upsetting Wisconsin by their unusual offensive arrangement. On the tip-off, three Michigan players, Cappon and Paper, guards, and Kipke, forward, lined up directly behind Capt. Ely, center. The ball was tipped to Cappon who drove forward in a short dribble and then attempted to pass, either directly to Birks, forward who dashed behind the Wisconsin guards, or to his mates of the tandem. The toss from Cappon to Birks was never successfully completed.

Gage and Gibson Star

Les Gage and Douglas Gibson vied with each other for individual high scoring honors. Each netted a trio of field goals. Gibson's first basket opened the scoring for Wisconsin. His exhibition against Michigan was the best that he has ever made in a Varsity game. Gage consistently led the Wisconsin offense into rallies which meant scores. He dropped three field

Tea For Visitor

Members of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority entertained at tea yesterday from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Marva Dilsen Hennings, Evanston, Ill., who has been visiting the chapter here for several days. The guests included the chaperon and one senior from each sorority.

goals himself and his accurate passes were responsible for other chances.

Spooner Displays Speed

Young Dwight Spooner, playing his first full game on the armory court, displayed plenty of push and speed. The dazzling, whirling, pivoting, and dribbling of Rollie Williams was responsible for Badger rallies from the back court. Williams tossed in a long basket during the first half. Indomitable Gus Tebell, "fightin' Gus", proved more than a match for the Wolverine forwards. His close guarding was instrumental in holding the Wolverines without a field goal in the second half and dividing the three last-half baskets among a forward, center and guard.

A single basket and five free throws made Capt. Ely high scorer for his team. One J. Franklin Cappon, bull-like in his rushes up and down the court, was the source of much of Michigan power. Mr. Cappon charged fiercely about the floor. Harry Kipke, of All-American fame, played a strong floor game, but was unable to connect with the hoop.

A personal foul by Rollie Williams cost Wisconsin one point when Ely put his team in the lead with a free throw. Doug Gibson overcame the margin with a sensational long shot from the middle of the court and Williams followed with another of identical variety. Ely tossed another free throw on Tebell's foul. Spooner made his only basket at this stage of the contest when he took a pass near the boundaries and slid a side-arm shot over Kipke's head. The Michigan man claimed Spooner was outside when he threw the sphere. Gage followed with a field goal and first-half scoring ended with Ely's free shot after Diebold, relief for Gibson, had fouled. Michigan was on the short end of the 8 to 3 count.

The Wolverines looked much stronger in the second period. Paper opened with a basket after Ely's free attempt failed. Gibson violated the rules and Ely made good this time, putting his team two points behind. Wisconsin reserve power changed the complexion of things when Gibson threw two baskets, the second after Williams had dribbled up the floor and passed across the court. Birks kept Michigan in the running with the Wolverine's second field goal. Gage matched him with another and the score stood 14 to 8. Ely tossed a basket but Gage followed with Wisconsin's last two points and put Wisconsin far enough ahead so that a final free throw by Capt. Ely availed little.

A capacity crowd witnessed the battle.

Madison Women Buy Sugar Lightly Here

The price of sugar has remained unchanged since the rapid increase of last week, according to W. M. Brady, grocer.

"Purchasers are limiting their sugar to small amounts," Mr. Brady said. "Most of the housewives are buying five pounds or less, while formerly they bought in amounts of $1 and over. They seem to take our warning seriously and are doing what they can to bring down the prices."

HIGH RENT FOR ROOMS USELESS, SAYS MRS. CAPE

In reply to the charge made a few days ago that an exorbitant room rent was extracted from women students for very inferior rooms, Mrs. Alice Cape of the Women's Christian Temperance union said today, "There are plenty of rooms to be had within a block or a block and a half from the Campus at $2.50 or $3.00 for both women and men."

"These rooms of which I speak have two or three windows, and are as attractive as any of the rooms that rent for $5.00 or $6.00," she continued. "I have even heard of some rooms renting for as low as $2.00, so that I consider it very unfair to accuse all landlords of trying to profiteer."

"These rooms of which I speak are 'close in' in the sense that they are near the campus itself."

Of course, if students prefer to be near town and there are few rooms to be had in that location they must pay the price."

ORPHEUM OFFERS NEW THING IN VAUDEVILLE

In a season notable for novelty, the Orpheum theatre announces the appearance Thursday of one of the greatest sensations of them all, "Yarmark" acclaimed the most unusual offering ever presented in vaudeville. Following as it does in the wake of the "Chauve-Souris" this picturesque and thoroughly delightful carnival sets a new standard for timely offerings to vaudeville patrons.

It shows a fete day at an annual fair, with the young people going in for song, dance, and general fun making. Some very gifted Russian actors are in the cast of twenty, as the producer found scores of applicants with fine records in the Russian theatre begging for an opportunity to appear in an entertainment which they did not require English.

Clever as the average Russian is in acquiring languages, there are a great number of refugees in this county who know no English and are unable to profit by real talent for the stage. The situation made it possible to get together an extraordinary company, and in its numbers are several men and women of noble birth.

EXPERT SHOWS WORTH OF CLOSED GATES LAW

Lescoghier believes. If this class of industry had less labor on hand it would be forced to use more efficient methods with machinery and labor and insure the best means of extracting our resources.

Birth Rate not Affected
"Our future birth rate will not be affected to any appreciable extent, as a conservative estimate places the rate at ten or twelve million a decade," the economic expert declared. "These figures may not compensate for the cutting off of vast hordes of undesirables, but it is no longer a question of mere numbers, but of quality of intelligence and knowledge."

"Measures to restrict immigration started in 1862, culminating in the bill of 1917 which was based on the general intelligence and education of the applicant. The bill of 1920, added to that of 1917, allowed each country a fixed quota of three percent of their total immigration before 1910."

From 1900 to 1918, the period of greatest influx, prices rose out of proportion to real wages, and when the war took laborers from industry from 1918 to 1920 wages nearly equalled prices. Today real wages are about the same as they were in 1900. The statistics show that unlimited immigration forces wages down, whereas during the war the laborer came into his own.

No Labor Shortage
"Capital has been rapidly accumulating, and with a more intelligent class of labor coming on there will be no labor shortage," Lescoghier continued. Employers with a short time slant on the question are demanding a repeal of the bill of 1920, but the bigger men in industry are convinced that the law is for the better interests of the country.

The southern European countries filled their first year quota under the three per cent bill while the northern desirable class did not. During the second year both sections filled their quota which shows that the measure is drawing a higher intellectual type to this country.

It is now seven years since the so called shortage of labor has been in force and business has about readjusted itself to the new system.

"Within another five years under the bill the cry of labor shortage due to it will be a dead issue," Professor Lescoghier concluded.

"From the social standpoint this bill has shut out the undesirable element, and induced the better class to emigrate. Employers are finding more efficient methods of handling intelligent common labor and are striving to reduce occupational diseases and all factors which reduce the efficiency of labor."

STAGE IS SET FOR AUTO SHOW

Brilliance and Music Mark
Opening of Exhibit in Ordinance Building

To the strains of "Al" Thompson's special 10-piece Cameo room orchestra, the doors of the Four Lakes ordinance building will swing open at 7 o'clock tomorrow night to start the 1923 Central Wisconsin Automobile, revealing to the public one of the prettiest sights which motordom can furnish. The sight which greets spectators tomorrow evening will be the result of the efforts of Madison car and accessory dealers, who have spent the past two weeks in planning and arranging the show. The show ends Saturday.

Beautiful lines will be an attribute of the show. Cars of every make and type and a large display of accessories will make the exhibit one of the most complete ever staged in Madison.

The ordinance building itself will be a palace of splendor. Bounteous lines in decorations, as well as in the arrangements of the displays, are being effected today.

All in Readiness

Tonight everything will be in readiness for the show. A few final touches will be made Tuesday, but the work of placing the exhibits and the decorations, the appointment of subordinate workmen, police, ticket sellers, and floor-walkers will have been attended to today.

A wealth of smilax and magnolias, as well as flags and bunting, will be used in decorating the great building. Decoration of the building is under the personal direction of E. G. Kaplan of Milwaukee, who handled the decorating of the auditorium for the show held recently in Milwaukee. Three car loads of decorations were brought from Milwaukee show to Madison.

Twenty-four colonnades will run down through the center of the building, forming the main aisle. Smaller colonnades will mark off the other aisles.

Eighty thousand square feet of space will be utilized for the show. The mammoth building was built during the war and manufactured navy guns. The tremendous amount of space required in the plant, from which all of the machinery has long since been removed, makes it particularly fitted for this show.

There will be no waiting for tickets for the show. Although more than 30,000 people will be handled during the week, plans are made for facilitating the entrance of the people into the building so that there will be no delays.

Plan No Delays

Four ticket booths will sell the pasteboards. Robert O. Quick, formerly connected with the university athletic department and who has managed many football crowds, will be in charge of the ticket sales.

Autoists throughout the city who expect to attend the show are warned that there will be no parking of cars on Atwood Ave., in front of the building. It is necessary to have plenty of space for the crowds to gather and disperse with ease.

Today every inch of space in the great building is occupied; exhibitors of automobiles, trucks and tractors and accessories of all kinds tires, batteries, radio equipment and electrical household equipment are putting the last touches on their displays and everything stands awaiting the opening gong.

Decorations equalling in splendor those used at the Milwaukee and Chicago shows have been installed

Commons Talks to Wesley Forum on Labor Problems

Urof. John R. Commons of the economic department spoke before the Wesley forum last night on the topic, "Have Labor Unions Justified Themselves?" Professor Commons showed how some unions have proved successful and are economically justifiable, while others, in his opinion, have not justified their existence. He gave the printers union as an example of one that he considers has met and solved the problems of a shorter working day and has put the eight hour day into operation successfully.

The Bath club, one of the most exclusive in London, now admits women to its membership, and already more than 400 feminine members have been enrolled.

by a corps of experts under the personal direction of Mr. Kaplan. Electricians are finishing their work which has transformed the munitions building to a veritable fairyland.

Give Away Auto

Chairman Ritter of the tickets committee states that every precaution is being taken to prevent the recurrence of the crowding and waiting which was prevalent at past shows held in the Four Lakes Building. Another exit is also being planned to eliminate crowding of outgoing crowds.

The Overland Sedan which will be given away to the holder of the lucky number appearing on the admittance ticket, will remain on display in the windows of Andelson Bros. Co., 17-19 W. Main st., until the last day of the show. Every admittance ticket will carry a number and this number will entitle the holder to a chance on the Sedan, no extra expense will be necessary. The committee has set 35 cents as the admittance price. This amount includes war tax. On Wednesday, Children's day, all children of 16 years and under will be admitted to the show free of charge. Holders of complimentary tickets will be required to pay a war tax of four cents on each ticket at the booth designated by signs to be erected at the building.

Thompson's orchestra will play at the show afternoon and evening under the personal direction of "Al" Thompson. On Thursday night, Feb. 22, the ten piece orchestra which Mr. Thompson is sending to the Notre Dame University "J." Hop, at South Bend, Ind., will be the feature.

Undernourished Children Need

Chocolate Bars

60 to 70 percent of city school children suffer physical impairments due to undernourishment (New York and Chicago health surveys).

Undernourishment may mean lack of food, but more often it is an unbalanced ration.

Children require protein, carbohydrates and vitamins for physical and mental normalcy. They get all these elements in delicious form in Eline's Sweet Milk Chocolate Bars.

Eline Bars contain ample protein in the nuts and milk—and an abundance of carbohydrates in the sugar. The vitamins in the milk fire the protein and carbohydrates and render them available for energy.

Eline's use the choicest cocoa beans (rich in butter fat); pure, refined sugar, and nourishing whole-cream milk from cows that feed in the fertile emerald green fields of Wisconsin and drink crystal pure water from spring-fed lakes and babbling brooks.

Eline Bars do not contain an ounce of skimmed or powdered milk. They are rich to taste, persuasive in aroma, and delicious in flavor, yet they cost no more than common chocolate.
