NEW STUDENTS SENT BOOKLETS IN UNION DRIVE

Three Thousand Letters on Memorial Building Mail- ed By Committee

Three thousand personal letters and three thousand Memorial Union booklets were sent out last night and this morning to all new students by the Memorial Union committee.

These booklets are sent to each new student in order that he may read all about the Memorial Union, what it is, what it will mean to Wisconsin, and what he can do to share in its erection, before the massmeeting which will be held at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the men's gymnasium and annex.

The letter is a personal invitation to come to the massmeeting, and a brief explanation of the campaign.

"Every new student must read this book through and become familiar with the opinions of campus and faculty leaders on this project before he comes to the massmeeting on Monday afternoon," declared Morton Frost '23, general chairman of the Life membership drive.

The booklet contains descriptions and pictures of the proposed Union building, actual views of the Michigan union, and personally signed articles from the presidents of many of the important college clubs.

In the back is printed the Gold Star role of Wisconsin, in whose memory the Union Memorial building is being erected.

The book was written by Prof. E. A. Gardner of the Commerce school, who has given up his university work and is devoting his complete time in raising the funds to erect the new Memorial Union building.

"The new building will be the heart of Wisconsin spirit; it will cement the friendships made in college a hundred per cent, and will give us a bond of unity and co-operation that we cannot possibly get at the present," Professor Gardner said last night.

BOARD WOMEN COMPLETE PLANS FOR S. G. A. PARTY

Hallowe'en Costume Dance to Be Held in Lathrop Hall Tuesday

Complete plans for the annual Women's Self Government Association S. G. A. Halloween costume party were discussed at the S. G. A. Board meeting last night. The party will be held from 7 to 10 o'clock in Lathrop parlors, Tuesday.

Stunts will be in charge of Hilda Schultz '24. The Alpha Xi Delta orchestra will furnish the music. A 25 cent charge will be collected at the door to cover the cost of music and refreshments.

Plans for a budget system were outlined by Alice Coral '24. Under the supervision of the American Association of University women, budgets will be prepared from the accounts of 10 girls earning complete expenses, 10 girls earning part of their way, 10 residents of a dormitory, and 20 residents of organized houses.

From these figures, an approximate estimate of how much it costs to go to college will be made. This plan will "uphold the Wisconsin ideal of service and benefit future students," said Miss Coral.

Mildred Frye '23 was elected Board leader to take charge of attendance at meetings.

Cleo Parsley '23, president of S. G. A., urged the promotion of the S. G. A. library, and the more strict observation of the 11 o'clock weekend ruling. Board members were urged to hand in dues promptly.

$300 Received Yesterday In Y. M. C. A. Campaign

More than $300 was received yesterday in the Y. W. C. A. finance drive.

The amount of money received so far has been large in comparison with the number of women reached by canvassers, according to Nina Faris '24, chairman. Individual pledges have been as high as $10. The fact that examinations are being held this week has hindered the progress of the drive. Sorority houses have not reported.

Miss Mary Anderson, secretary of Y. W. C. A. will entertain the members of the winning team at her apartment November 7.

DOCTOR BURNED IN EXPLOSION

Miss C. A. Richards Injured At Forest Products Laboratory

Dr. C. Audrey Richards, a pathologist at the Forest Products laboratory, was severely burned in a gas explosion yesterday morning, at the office of forest pathology in the Old Soils building.

"The first thing I knew about a fire was when Miss Richards came out of her office, almost wrapped in flames, and trying to beat them down with her hands," said E. E. Hubert, another pathologist who was working just outside Miss Richards' door.

Fight Flames

"She rushed up to me, and I jerked off my laboratory jacket, and threw it around her. Then she got on the floor and rolled, trying to extinguish the flames. Dr. R. H. Colley, chief pathologist, then reached the scene, and threw a pail of water over her. This put out the fire.

"Miss Richards' dress was almost burned off, and her arms, throat, and face were pretty badly burned. I never thought fire could spread so rapidly," added Mr. Hubert.

According to members of the laboratory, Miss Richards was working at a culture case when the accident occurred. Noticing that her gas burner, which is inside the case had gone out while she was working, she struck a match to relight the burner. It evidently had been out longer than she thought, and the culture case was full of escaped gas. As soon as the match was lighted, the gas exploded, and the flames set fire to Miss Richards' dress.

Gas Explodes

The explosion attracted attention from other members of the laboratory, but they did not realize what had happened until she rushed from her office. The fire started in the sleeves of her dress, as her arms had been inside the culture case. Her thin dress made the fire spread very rapidly.

Miss Richards' burns were given temporary treatment at the laboratory after which she was rushed to the university infirmary. She was later removed to the Methodist hospital where she will probably remain for about one week.

Miss Richards has been at the laboratory for about five years. She has also done work in the university having received her doctor's degree in botany last spring.

Graduate Students to Give Hallowe'en Party

A Halloween party for graduate students will be given in the concert room of Lathrop hall at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening under the direction of the Graduate club.

One of Thompson's four-piece orchestras will furnish the music for dancing. The special features of the program will consist of a favor dance, a prize dance, and novel Hallowe'en stunts.

Miss Elizabeth is chairman of the committee in charge of the party. Autumn decorations have been planned by Edith Haynes of the history department. Miss Shaw of the Home Economics department is chairman of the refreshment committee.

TOTAL AMOUNT PLEGGED IN "Y" DRIVE IS $1,300

Total to Be Larger When All Teams Report, Says Augustine

A total amount of pledges received in the Y. M. C. A. campaign from organizations and student in the non-fraternity sections aggregated about $1300 according to the latest report received from the "Y" office last night. $1000 of this amount was turned in the first day of the drive.

A majority of the organizations have not turned in their pledges. It is expected the present total will be considerably enlarged when all organizations have reported.

Many team captains have delayed in getting reports from their teams. The tardiness in reporting is attributed to the fact that most students have many examinations his week. One-third of the students have not been canvassed, according to Harry Augustine '23. The drive will continue until the whole amount is raised.

"The 'Y' is an institution which plays a prominent part in campus life," said Augustine yesterday. "Through some source or another the 'Y' gives service to most every man in school. The students have at their service one of the best Y. M. C. A.'s in the middle west. Now is the time to give your 'Y' support to keep it one of the best."

ADVANCED R. O. T. C. MEN TAKE EXAMS

As a result of examinations for commissions which were given last Saturday to R. O. T. C. men of advanced standing, appointments will be made within the next week.

The examinations, given in the men's gymnasium annex, were both oral and practical. The men receiving the highest grades will be given appointments of first lieutenant, while the rest will receive appointments of second lieutenant. At the end of the year these men will receive commissions.

The men who will receive appointments are H. W. Klos, '25, A. W. T. Thompson, '25, B. A. Weimer, '24, L. D. Hanson, '24, S. Thompson, '24, H. A. Schloegel, '25, J. M. Rae, '24, J. Straka, '24, E. A. Manns, '24, C. J. Randall, '24, W. N. Gardner, '23, A. Paroni, '23, G. A. Gunther, '24, R. M. Baldwin, '25, J. F. Bridgman, '25, G. O. Darby, '24, C. M. Breslauer, '25, G. A. Munkwitz, '26, F. S. Henika, '24, E. W. Becker, '24, A. A. Lanz, A. J. Scherr, '25.

The remaining junior advanced course men will take their examination next Saturday morning.

Found Tradition Bureau At Western University

(Special to The Cardinal)

SEATTLE, Wash., October 25.—A bureau of customs and traditions, to consist of nine members—three faculty, three alumni and three from the undergraduate body—has been established by President Suzzalo. This body will handle all questions of precedent, and will make definite settlements of uncertain customs affecting the university.

To Broadcast Reports Of Homecoming Game

Radio reports of the Illinois-Wisconsin game November 11, will be broadcasted, play by play, from the university radio station, W. H. A., as a result of arrangements completed by T. E. Jones, athletic director. The station will also send out bulletins at important stages in the game, which is the occasion of the University of Wisconsin Homecoming.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair today and probably tomorrow, with continued mild weather is the forecast for this region.

Badger Humorists Call For Original Material

The co-editors of the satire section, Cedric Seaman '23 and Keith Davis '24, have issued a call for help on their part of the 1924 Badger.

"We want all kinds of material. Cartoons, jokes, jingles, and prose of a satirical nature will be acceptable. It will be impossible for the editors to write this section alone. The co-operation of the student body is necessary," said Keith Davis '24 yesterday.

One of the satire staff will be in the Badger office, Union building, from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock every day to interview prospective workers who desire further information.

DOLLAR DAY IS BARGAIN FETE

Madison Merchants Plan Novel Specials For Sale Today

Many specials have been planned by local merchants for Dollar Day today. One University avenue drug store has filled its window with sealed packages—in 10 of these there are dollar bills—it is merely up to the purchaser to get the right one.

Nearly every store in Madison is observing Dollar Day with dollar sales and special discounts on single lots. Everything from ukeleles to house dresses and from shoes to hairpins are on the bargain table.

Grocery stores are offering dollar baskets filled with assorted lots; several men's stores are taking a dollar off on every $10 dollar purchase; one shoe store is enclosing a new one dollar bill with every purchase. The manager of one of the leading stores in women's apparel announces that they are discounting merchandise in every department, as high as 25 percent in the ready-to-wear department. All the articles on sale are new. Dollar Day is going to be a real bargain day.

Madison merchants are ready today to show people how to spread a little money over much space; and the stupendous amount of window shopping done last night means crowds today, and successful buying and selling by purchasers and merchants respectively.

The plan for Dollar Day was instituted by the retail division of the Madison Merchants organization, and was intended primarily to attract rural buyers. Last year's Day was such a success however, that city folk and students alike have been looking forward to the event.

Sign Advertisers Drive On Freshmen For Union

Familiar though the slogan is, "Build a Home for Wisconsin Spirit," the caption on the large sign erected yesterday at the foot of the upper campus stands out clearly to catch the eye of upperclassmen as well as freshmen. The sign was built primarily for advertising the drive among freshmen and new students but it is also a reminder to others that the Memorial Union drive is not yet complete. Under the larger letters is an announcement of the date of the drive to solicit freshmen and new students. The drive will be conducted for one week October 30 to November 6.

GIRLS TO SPONSOR R. O. T. C. UNITS

The call to loyal co-eds sounds again, despite the fact that the war is over. The appeal is made to the sisterhoods, and comes from a host of cadet officers.

Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, is going to ask each sorority to sponsor a special R. O. T. C. company, according to plans announced by President Robert L. Luening last night. A silver loving cup will be awarded each year to the sorority whose company stands the highest. In return, the girls will be asked to lend their presence and moral support at exhibitions and public formations of their companies.

"The plan is a unique one at Wisconsin," said Mr. Luening last night.

BABCOCK TO BE FETED TONIGHT AT BANQUET

Dairymen's Association Joins in Celebration of Birthday

The Wisconsin Dairymen's association, county agents, farmers' institute workers, and boys' and girls' club members will all unite in celebrating the 79th birthday of Dr. Stephen Moulton Babcock, noted Wisconsin scientist and teacher, at a banquet which will be held in the city Y. M. C. A. at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Babcock's birthday occurred October 22, but observance of the event was postponed so that prominent dairymen and boys' and girls' club members might see the noted scientist.

Frank Peterson '22 will act as toastmaster of the banquet. An address will be given by Dean H. L. Russell reviewing the public life of Dr. Babcock. Prof. G. C. Humphrey will speak on "Dairying in South America." Comic stunts by county agents, and exercises by the boys and girls are included on the program.

Appreciate Sacrifice

The banquet is intended as an appreciation of the idealism exemplified in the life of the inventor of the Babcock Milk test who gave his invention to the world without securing a patent on his discovery. The test was discovered in 1890.

Previous to the invention, no simple way was known of determining the butter fat of milk. Dairying lagged, and agricultural colleges were of relatively little importance. As the result of the invention of the Babcock milk test, an impetus was given to dairying, and the enrollment of the agricultural colleges soon increased.

DEFAULT GIVES TUHTAR TICKET SOPH ELECTION

Student Senate Announces Withdrawal of Other Candidates

The entire Tuhtar sophomore ticket will be elected by default with its leader, Maynard Brown of the Student Senate announced yesterday.

The candidates on the ticket are: Dorothy John, vice-president; Dorothy Marshall, secretary; Henry Smith, treasurer; and Milton Stangel, sergeant-at-arms.

The announcement was made following a request which came to Dean Godnight's office that the opposing candidates be permitted to withdraw. The candidate for the sophomore class presidency was forced to withdraw following faulty filing at the dean's office.

"We decided after the political meeting Tuesday night to let the candidates withdraw their names if they so chose," Brown said yesterday. "Four of the senate were at the meeting and voted for the withdrawal. This leaves the Tuhtar candidates the only persons left for sophomore offices."

Office Still Has Supply Of Student Directories

A general distribution of student directories was made at 4:30 o'clock in 165 Bascom hall, yesterday. There is a sufficient supply of directories for all students. Those failing to get theirs yesterday can get them today. The distribution only to classes meeting in 165 throughout the day was merely to avoid confusion and was not owing to a limited number.

TRAIN PEOPLE IN LEADERSHIP

Community Development Bureau Teaches Many How To Play

"Our purpose is to train the people of the community for leadership in games, plays, and other forms of recreation," said E. B. Gordon, chief of the Community Development Bureau of the University of Wisconsin Extension Division, in discussing the recreational institutes which are being held in various parts of the state under his supervision.

The work of training leaders to teach people how to play is comparatively new, according to Professor Gordon. The university has been doing this sort of work for two years, but the work up to the present has been more or less in the nature of experiments. Now, however, the bureau is prepared to hold an institute wherever the people wish it.

"The institute is in reality a school," Prof. Gordon says, "a branch of the work of the Extension division, in which university instructors do intensive work for two days. The institutes are held any where in the state at the demand of the people of a community."

At one of these institutes, which was held in Medford, and was one of the most successful ever held there was an attendance of 150 rural school teachers.

There will be a similar meeting held in St. Croix Falls, for the people of Polk County, on October 27 and 28. Professor Gordon, Dr. J. C. Elsom, professor of physical education of the University, and Miss Emily Elmore, former instructor in the women's physical education department, will conduct the program as follows:

"The Need for Community Organization of Leisure Time Activities," "Song Leadership," "How to Plan Community Programs," and "Amateur Dramatics" by Professor Gordon; "Mixer stunts for Social Gatherings," "Social Games," "Group Games," and "How to Conduct a Social Gathering," by Dr. Elsom; and leadership by Miss Elmore in "Folk Games."

University Presbyterian Church Holds Banquet

Thirty five members of the University Presbyterian church were present at the annual banquet held last night at the Presbyterian house, State street. Reverend M. G. Allison presided at the meeting.

Four elders were elected: Roland Baker '22, Harry Caswell '23, Charels Rawson '23, and James Douglas '23. Seven trustees were chosen.

The consideration for a financial drive for the new church was discussed at the business meeting following the banquet. The organization is seeking a $150,000 property for the site of a church to be erected under the control of the senate of Wisconsin.

Tickets for Elman Concert Go On Sale

Tickets for the violin recital by Mischa Elman are on sale this week at the A. E. Smith Music company store. The concert will be given at the university armory on Wednesday evening. Season tickets for the three numbers of the Union Board series will also be obtainable until November 1.

Elman is a native of Talmoje, Russia, and is still a Russian subject. Although less than 30 years old he has played for the public for 22 years, and has made nine tours of the United States. He made his first public appearance in England at the age of 7 years, and appeared in the United States for the first time with the Russian Symphony orchestra in New York when only 15 years old.

Elman has been received with enthusiastic approval by critics in every country which has been fortunate enough to secure him. The German critic Karl Wolff says of him, "No other violinist in the world can compare with his playing. I place him in the forefront of virtuosos."

"He is one of those very few who are the truly great in the world of art," says the Copenhagen "Politiken" and from Stockholm comes this description of his art, "His tone impresses by its volume, force, and bewitching sound. His technique is phenomenal."

London is strong in its praise of the young violinist, and calls Elman "The finest artist that the famous teacher, Leopold Auer, has ever produced." One paper says, "His playing was not only beautiful from a purely musical point of view, but was pervaded by intensity of human feeling that made the music tingle with life. He unquestionably belongs to the race of born fiddlers whom nature endowed with every requisite."

PLAN PROGRAM FOR FORENSIC BANQUET

A forensic banquet for all students interested in debating and oratory will be given by the Forensic Board at the Woman's Building, November 7, at 6:30 o'clock.

"The purpose of this banquet," said E. P. Meyer, general chairman of the committee on arrangements, "is to start the forensic season with a lively and spirited meeting. Candidates for this year's intercollegiate debate teams are especially urged to attend to secure information in regard to the preliminary tryouts to be held on November 16."

The program will include speeches by members of the speech department faculty, and former prominent intercollegiate debaters and orators. Over 150 students attended the banquet two years ago.

Tickets for the banquet will be placed on sale Friday, October 27, under the direction of M. H. Erickson '24, F. E. Risser '23 is in charge of publicity, and H. Seering '24 has charge of program arrangements.

NORGORD SPEAKS

C. P. Norgord, state commissioner of agriculture, will speak at the annual convention of the Central Wisconsin Cheesemakers, Buttermakers and Dairymen's associations in Neillsville today.

DANIELS TESTS AIR FERTILIZER

Professor Wants to Lessen Cost of Electrical Production

The production of cheap fertilizer from the air has long been the aim of many scientific men, but owing to the cost of the electric power necessary, the project is practical only near sources of abundant water power. To lessen the cost of such production is the purpose of experiments now being conducted by Prof. F. Daniels of the chemistry department.

Under the present method of nitrogen fixation, the air is passed through an electric arc, which combines the nitrogen and oxygen into nitric oxide. This is dissolved by water sprayed through it, and the acid formed is neutralized by lime. The calcium nitrate formed is a very good fertilizer.

The great expense of the process is its chief drawback at present, Professor Daniels said. Only about 2 per cent of the electrical power necessary is utilized, the rest being lost in heat. While it is not yet possible to increase this efficiency, he hopes by improved methods of fixation and by less expensive apparatus to ultimately lower the cost of the final product.

At present, the cost of absorbing the nitrogen is one-fourth the total cost of the process and Professor Daniels hopes to reduce this part of the expense still farther. He has already shown that there is a cheaper way of collecting the product after it is formed.

The opportunity for making the process cheaper and more practical and hence good investment for capital, lies in the utilization of what is known as the "off-peak" load; that is, an electric power plant has to be built for the maximum load. At certain hours of the day when demands are comparatively small, there is a chance to utilize the power for nitrogen fixation by the process.

BILL TO INSURE JOBLESS DRAWN UP BY COMMONS

Economics Professor Associated With Measure to Protect Unemployed

A bill on unemployment insurance, which is one of the important bills of the program of the Wisconsin Consumers league made public on Monday, was drawn up by Prof. John R. Commons, of the department of Economics. This bill has been endorsed by the Wisconsin Confederation of Labor and will be presented before the legislature at the 1923 session by Senator Huber.

Professor Commons became associated with the bill after his address before the legislature two years ago, in which he discussed

FROSH AT CHAD GET RAZZBERRY BUT ENJOY LIFE

Initiation Week Ends and Freshmen Again Live in Peace

The Frosh at Chad are mighty happy to announce that they can once more eat in comfort.

"It's no fun cutting meat and spreading your bread with a spoon," said a verdant one. "I never knew what a comfort a knife and fork could be."

The week of initiation began Thursday night, October 12, at 10 o'clock. The Frosh were led by sheeted figures on a ghost walk through the halls. The climax came when they looked on the ghastly faces of the Freshmen incorrigibles of last year who had returned to haunt the hall. Their duties for the coming week and year were then read to them.

For a week the Frosh have been rising with gusto and have been pulling out the chairs at the table for the upperclassmen when they came in for meals. The duty of pouring all the water at the table and of allowing the upperclassmen to enter the elevator before them does not however, end this week but will be carried out during the entire year. These are hall traditions and Chadbourne is proud of them.

"Hazing is part of the joy of being a Frosh," said one young thing. "I wouldn't have missed it. But wait until I'm a Sophomore."

"They needed what they got. But we love them," a Soph reported.

"And that's that until next year."

the troublesome problems of unemployment. Since then he has been interested in the problem and has drawn up that is now formally called the Huber Unemployment Prevention bill.

As Professor Commons explains, "The Huber bill proposes that when an employer lays off a man, if the man has had six months work in the state during the year, the employer shall pay him a dollar a day for a period of 13 weeks, and pay the state 10 cents a day additional toward expenses of administration."

"As to the practicability of a proposition of this kind, unemployment insurance is already in existence in seven or eight countries with a somewhat different system," says Professor Commons in an article on unemployment.

LETTERS HELP MUSICAL IDEAL

Anti-Jazz Crusade Writes to Poets and Composers of Country

Letters to poets and composers, all over the United States, appealing to them to "help create a song literature embodying the finest ideals of American life," were sent yesterday from the New York office of the Anti-jazz crusade.

The letters are the result of a resolution adopted by the Ninth National Recreation congress, held in Atlantic City last summer. It was resolved that a nationwide and practical appeal be made to the poets and composers of the United States that they devote themselves to creating more worthy songs of the people.

A committee on folk music appointed by the congress to take charge of the campaign consists of Peter W. Dykema of the School of Music, C. M. Tremaine, director of the national bureau for the advancement of music, Sigmund Spaeth, formerly music critic of the New York Evening Mail, Mrs. Fred the Philadelphia Music league, and Kenneth S. Clark of the bureau of community music.

Song writers are urged, through these letters, to set themselves to the task of writing songs that will be as popular 10 years from now as they are now. The true popular songs, it is emphasized, are not those which are played and sung everywhere for a few months and then forgotten, they are those which become a part of their lives.

"Results of these letters will not come for several years," said Professor Dykema. "In the meantime come a few letters from musicians and editors of musical magazines, expressing their appreciation of the plan."

Federal U. S. Court Will Delay Opening Here

The next term of United States District court has been postponed from Nov. 6 to Nov. 8, it was announced today by W. H. Comerford clerk of the court. The change was due to election day, Nov. 7, which would have caused a recess in the court's activities. Jurors need not report at Madison until Nov. 8.

250 ATHLETES ON ENTRY LIST OF CLASS MEET

Freshmen Expected to Win Because of Large Yearling Turnout

The annual fall outdoor Inter-Class track meet which is scheduled to be held at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at Camp Randall has already an entry list of 250 athletes.

Any aspirant for track honors who is not a "W" man or a member of the Varsity squad is eligible to compete. By far the majority of the entries in the meet are freshmen, and for this reason the first year men are expected to cop first place honors.

The Sophomores, however, have an exceptionally large squad taking part in the contest, and make up enough points to nose out the frosh.

Have Good High School Records

Many of the freshmen performers are men who have made good high and prep school records. Legler and Kerr are speed boys having from Chicago who have splashed chances of showing up well in the high and low sticks. Shapiro, formerly a Milwaukee high school hurdler is another fast stepper.

Olson of Madison fame will aviate in the pole vault for the yearlings. Conway, Milwaukee star, will participate in several of the weight events. Cummons, Smith, and Held are fast quarter milers.

Kennedy, a Monticello product, will be a strong contender for places in the middle distances. In the interscholastic meet here last spring Kennedy won both the 100 yard dash and the half mile in his class.

The Sophomores have two reliable sprinters in Snell and Wiseman. Menke, a point winner in several of the freshmen meets last year, will run dashes and the quarter. Donahue, high jumper and weight heaver from the frosh Varsity of last year, is a sure winner of places in his events.

The track at Camp Randall is being watered and rolled in preparation for Saturday's meet and should be in fair condition. It is not likely, nevertheless, that fast time will be made in many events as the men have not been training consistently.

Officially the entries close tonight but any man wishing to run who has not signed up by then can get into the contest by seeing Coach Mead Burke who is taking charge of the meet.

Points won Saturday will be counted towards class numerals. Any athlete annexing 10 points will be awarded his insignia on the strength of this one meet.

"Rambling Badger" to Take Fans to Minnesota

Nearly all berths on the "Rambling Badger," the two-ton Dodge truck which will carry 20 Wisconsin fans to the Minnesota game, have been reserved and a second truck may be pressed into service to accommodate an additional 20 rooters.

The owner of the trucks, Eldon J. Thompson '24, stated that he will send both trucks to the Chicago game, and if the Minnesota trip proves successful, he will carry a crowd to the Michigan game, provided the demand should be great enough. The trucks have a special body and can be covered in case of inclement weather.

Reservations for the Minnesota trip may be made with Adolph J. Ackerman '24, by Friday night of this week. Call B-5831.

De Molay Will Initiate 50 Candidates Tonight

Fifty candidates will be initiated in the order of De Molay in Masonic temple tonight. The boys' society is sponsored by the Masonic bodies and governed by the following local Masons: L. W. Heyl, Edward Swain and Dr. F. N. Libby.

New Blanket Sweaters Keep Substitutes Warm

Have you ever thought when you sat shivering in the stands watching a football game on a cold day, how much worse off the poor substitutes are as they sit bare headed and bare necked on the bench waiting for a chance to play? Evidently the Athletic Association has thought of it, for some new blanket-sweaters have been purchased which are designed to keep players warm.

The new sweater is made of gray blanketing material, and is exceedingly warm. At the neck a hood of the same material is attached. The sweater is fairly long, reaching slightly below the waist.

When the garment is worn, the body and the neck, as well as the head is kept warm, while little more than the face can be seen.

The sweaters should add a great deal to the comfort of the otherwise hard lot of the football players.

MAROON SQUAD AWAITS TIGERS

Chicago and Princeton to Meet Saturday on Football Field

(Special to The Cardinal)
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 25—With no serious injuries resulting from last Saturday's game with Purdue, the Maroons are in excellent shape for the all-important battle with the Tigers this week. Although sloppy football marked the Bailermaker contest, the ragged playing may be attributed to the inexperienced, second string men that played the game.

Grilling practice marks this week's drill, and Coach Staggs is doing wonders in keying up his men for another victory over Princeton. The fast, plunging backfield has already proved itself, and the return of Captain Harold Lewis has done much to strengthen the line. If no serious injuries result from this week's scrimmage, the Old Man should send a fine bunch of Tiger-tamers to the field Saturday.

It is impossible to determine just what backfield combination will open the game. Bill Zorn and Johnny Thomas are both fine plungers and chances are that Zorn will go in at full and Thomas at half. Pyott will probably be the other half, although "Cullie" Byler may be used. Leggett is another fact back, but due to a dislocated shoulder, it is doubtful whether he will be used. McMasters will probably go in at quarter.

Otto Strohmeier was the outstanding star in the Purdue game and will probably hold one of the wing positions. He did the punting Saturday, the best we have seen this season, and with another week's practice, should give the Tiger backs a lot of trouble. Lampe and Dickson are both good ends, and between them will handle the other wing.

Fletcher will be one of the tackles and Captain Lewis of Gowdy will be the other. They will be supported by Proudfoot, Rhorke and Pondelick guards. King will probably play the pivot position, and with his weight, should do much to stop the Tiger offense.

THIRTEEN ELECTED TO DOLPHIN CLUB

Elections to Dolphin club, women's swimming organization, were made at the meeting yesterday. These elections are made on the basis of form, endurance, and speed. The tryouts consisting of 3 different standard dives, 12 lengths of the pool in any stroke or strokes, and 2 lengths of the pool in perfect form.

Initiation will take place in the tank room of Lathrop, at 7:15 o'clock this evening. All members are to be there for a brief business meeting at that time.

More than 60 tried out his semester. The next tryouts will be held the first part of the second semester.

Those elected are Margaret Andersen '26, Eloise Blakslee '26, Frances Bromley '24, Alice Drews '26, Julia Horner '24, Grace Goldsmith '24, Edith Jorris '26, Rhoda Koch '25, Beatrice Marks '26, Eleanor Mygdal '26, Edith Rowe '25, Esther Rosenberg '26, and Venus Walker '24.

MINNESOTA WILL MIX WITH OHIO NEXT SATURDAY

Gophers to Play Ohio in First Conference Game

(Special to The Cardinal)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 25—With the Northwestern game past history as far as his squad is concerned, Coach Bill Spaulding of the fighting and determined Gophers is pointing his men toward the coming battle with Ohio. The Gophers showed a world of promise and ability in the Purple fray and have the makings of a champion eleven. What they now need is a little more polishing, and this is what they will get.

With a few exceptions the Maroon and Gold pulled through the Northwestern game in good shape. Ted Cox, giant tackle on the Gopher forward wall, was kicked into the land of fairies and is still on the side lines watching his mates go through Bill Spaulding's favorite tricks.

Martineau bruised his leg in the Northwestern scrap and is limping slightly but will be in fighting trim when the Gophers lock horns with Coach Wilce's bunch from Ohio State.

Much of the Gopher offence will be centered around Martineau in the game with Ohio Saturday. The Martineau-Eklund passing combination is developing by strides and many enthusiastic Gopher followers feel confident that this pair will with practice equal the famous Wyman-Baston attack of the powerful Gopher eleven in 1916.

The exact attack Coach Spaulding will dish to Ohio is at present unknown but the Gophers will be kept going at top speed throughout the game. A large advance ticket sale is in progress and Minnesota is making ready to usher in the 1922 Conference season on Northrop Field.

Get Bids For High School at S. Madison

Bids for the erection of the new South Madison high school building will be received at a meeting of the school board of that village tonight. Construction of the first unit at a cost of $50,000, will be started within a week, according to Fred L. Kronenberg, local architect, who has prepared the plans for the building.

The first unit will provide class rooms and will be followed by the gymnasium and auditorium additions. The total cost of the building will be approximately $150,000. It will be erected on the vacant property in the rear of the present Franklin school.

Members of the congregation of Congregational Pilgrim church will hold a special meeting tonight to take action on the recent resignation of Rev. Henry Harris and to take up special business. A luncheon at 6:30 will precede the meeting.

Hockey Instructor to Give Informal Lecture

Miss Ingles, a member of the Scotch Inter-National hockey team for several years, will give an informal lecture on hockey at the field house at 10:45 o'clock Saturday morning.

During this week she is coaching all of the hockey classes and is introducing the new formations and strokes which are being used and endorsed by the national hockey associations of England, Scotland, and Ireland.

Miss Ingles is one of the eight women selected to make a tour of the United States, coaching women in behalf of the request which was made to the national hockey associations of the British Isle by American associations.

She is here under the auspices of W. A. A., which organization gave a banquet in her honor Tuesday night in the Lathrop parlors.

SCOREBOARD TO REPORT GAMES

Athletic Board to Install Device For Re-enacting Out-of-Town Contests

Plans were made to install a grid graph scoreboard for out-of-town football games, when the Athletic Board of the University met yesterday noon. By means of the electric board students unable to make the trips will be able to see every play re-enacted within two minutes of the time it occurs.

As proposed by Coach Linden, the Board decided to award class numerals to Dakin Boardman, winner of the fall freshman tennis tournament.

Plans were discussed for the University Circus which is to be held this spring. The last circus of this kind was held two years ago and proved to be a success. The date for the affair this year was set for May 12.

As baseball representative, Howard R. Combacker was appointed to the Athletic Board in place of Christianson.

At the meeting it was decided not to approve of a dual swimming meet with Iowa this year.

Appointments to the Intramural Board which have been made are: Lange, C. C. Chairman; Callenbach Agt; Whitten, Eng.; Johns, law; and Kuboseh, Medic.

PURDUE STARS IN POOR SHAPE FOR IOWA GAME

Boilermakers Have Large Hospital List on Eve of Important Encounter

(Special to The Cardinal)

LAAYETTE, Ind., Oct. 25 — Coach Phelan gave his men an extra day of rest today when he told his football squad not to report for practice. The men are badly battered up as the result of the hard games with Notre Dame and Chicago.

More men are on the hospital list and Coach Phelan's task of getting the men in shape for the Iowa game next Saturday looms bigger than ever. The Purdue students are backing the team to make as good a showing next Saturday as they did last year when they held the Big Ten champions to a 13 to 6 score, and being the only conference team to cross their goal line.

Captain Murphy who was injured in the James Milliken game received new injuries in the short time that he faced the Chicagoans. It is not thought that they will keep him out of the Iowa game. The loss of Fleischmann to the squad is the biggest blow that Coach Phelan has had this year. This diminutive lineman is one of the best men in the line. He received torn muscles in his side and will be out of the game indefinitely.

Kerr, who was hurt in the Milliken game will be in shape to face the Iowans next Saturday. Stewart, another star in the line should be in shape for next Saturday's game being kept out of the last two contests.

DOUBLE-HEADER FOOTBALL GAME HERE SATURDAY

Varsity to Play Frosh and All-Americans in Exhibition

Wisconsin football fans will get at least one opportunity to see Coach John R. Richards' men in action before the Minnesota game. It was announced at the gymnasium yesterday. Varsity will clash with Coach Lowman's All-American and "Keg" Driver's freshman teams in a regular contest at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon. The game is slated to begin at 3:30 o'clock, quarterback O'Brien's omelettes furnishing the entertainment for one half and the frosh for the other.

To make the program more attractive, authorities have arranged to announce scores of other games by quarters and halves. Admission to the game will be 25c. Proceeds are to be used to send the All-Americans to Chicago on Nov. 25.

The Saturday practice game is the first break in a long series of secret workouts. That there will be some good playing is indicated by the way in which the All-Americans have worked against Varsity in previous skirmishes. Ineligibles and other upperclassmen form a strong substitute eleven.

Opitz Shows Up
Coach Richards continued to point his men for the Minnesota and Michigan games in yesterday's scrimmages. "Short and snappy," characterizes the work of the Varsity eleven. The men were driven hard against the All-Americans, the two teams alternating in carrying the oval. Gibby Gibson reported for practice.

Opitz, a newcomer who was promoted from the All-Americans sometime ago, worked in the Varsity backfield for a short while. He showed that he will be another good reserve halfback. With Capt. Williams, Gibson, Harris, Whitten, Saari, Eagleburger, Carlson, and now Opitz, Richards should be well fortified with halfbacks when he hits the hard part of the schedule which calls for consecutive battles with Minnesota on November 4, Illinois, Michigan, and Chicago on succeeding Saturdays.

Williams was in top form yesterday. He dodged and zig-zagged his way for innumerable gains against O'Brien's eleven. While Varsity was battling the omelettes, the reserves worked against the frosh.

Coach Richards is still hammering at the line. It was the center cecion which wavered before Indiana's attack last Saturday, but with two weeks in which to prepare, the men will probably present a stonewall defense against Minnesota.

Coach Spaulding is working his Gophers for the Ohio State game. The Buckeyes come to Minneapolis for a game this Saturday. Although defeated by Michigan, they have recovered enough so that the Wilce-men are doped to defeat Minnesota. In skull practice, Wilce told his men that Michigan should not have won by more than a 6 to 0 score. He pointed out several weak points in the inexperienced linesmen and expects to cure all defects before the game with Minnesota.

Announcement of the sale of the Henry T. Sheldon home, 260 Langdon st. to Mrs. R. Becker, Madison, was made yesterday. The price was reported to be $18,000. The house adjoins the Delta Gamma property.

New plan in coaching the freshmen. Tonight he took the sixteen best players on the yearling squad and put them on the varsity squad in place of a like number who were cut from the varsity. These men will be considered varsity men in every way except that they cannot participate in intercollegiate games. The new plan is to give the men from the Freshmen squad an idea of what style of coaching the varsity receives. Coach Phelan will get a better line on his new material for the varsity next year.

NEW BUILDING TO BE ERECTED

Fruit Company Buys Land
at State and Gorham
Streets

Two real estate deals, which will carry with them expenditures totaling approximately $85,000, have been practically completed by Joseph Heilprin, president of the Heilprin and Co., wholesale fruit dealers, N. Bedford and W. Mifflin sts., it was learned today.

The purchase of the triangular piece of business property at the northeast corner of State and Gorham sts. from Oscar Rennebohm, for a reported price of $50,000, is the biggest of the two deals. Possession will not be taken before Jan. 1, it was said today.

Mr. Heilprin is negotiating for a large piece of vacant property on W. Main st., adjoining the Gould, Wells and Blackburn Co., owned by the Illinois Central Railway Co., for a site for a new warehouse. The company plans the erection of a $25,000 building, construction work to start next spring. Following the completion of this project, the fruit company will move from its present quarters in the Illinois Central company's freight depot.

The new warehouse is needed to take care of the growing business of the company. The site, which has a frontage of 66 feet on Main st., and 166 feet depth, will be provided with excellent shipping and receiving facilities, in that it adjoins the spur tracks of the Illinois Central road. The purchase price is set at about $10,000.

The State st. property was only recently purchased by Mr. Rennebohm from Harry L. Moseley. The deal was consummated the latter part of July. It has a frontage on State st. of between 80 and 90 feet, and runs back almost 100 feet on Gorham st.

Whether Mr. Heilprin expects to convert this building into a large uptown wholesale and retail fruit establishment, is not known. It now contains the Diamond Cash and Carry grocery, the Brown Book shop, and Malec and Malas Shoe Co.

Urge Purchase Of Addition To Cemetery

Commissioners May Be Authorized To Act;
Up to Council

Negotiations with a view to purchasing the 60-acre tract of land adjacent to Forest Hill cemetery was authorized by the council finance committee at a joint meeting with the cemetery commissioners Tuesday night. The motion passed by the committee stated that the commissioners be instructed to open negotiations for the purchase of the land from the Wingra Land Co., and if necessary to purchase the adjoining two lots.

The land is a tract to the west of Forest Hill. A sum of $2,000 was asked for the land by the company but an appraisal committee was appointed to set a value on the land. They returned a decision of $900 an acre. This decision was appealed to the Circuit court and was to be heard at the next term. Since that time conditions have arisen which have caused the company to offer dropping of the appeal on condition that the city purchase two adjoining lots near the Illinois Central tracks.

The cemetery commissioners announced that the new land would not be needed for about 20 years as space is now available for about 2,000 more lots.

The Stadium plus committee at the University of Illinois plans on raising $200,000 from the class of 1926. The honor pledge will be $100 and the minimum pledge is $50 as it was the two previous years.

The official regalia of the freshman men at the University of Texas is an orange and white cap with the number '26 in green on the front. Freshman women will wear a green, orange, and white bow on the arm.

Two Day Convention of County Agents Held Here

The annual convention of county agents, cow testers and farmer's institute workers convenes at 9 o'clock today in 206 Soils building. The purpose of the convention is to discuss marketing, dairying, and other problems that confront extension workers.

The convention continues through tomorrow and Friday. The county agents will be joined by the members of the Wisconsin Dairymen's association tomorrow, who will hold their fifty-first convention. Feeding the dairy cow will be the topic of discussion for tomorrow.

Today's program includes "A Half Day with Marketing," at 9 o'clock; "How the Rural Clergy Can Help in Setting a Community to Work," by Rev. W. Mahoney, 1:30 o'clock; "A County Program for Live Stock Improvement," E. H. Parker, 2:15 o'clock; "Women's Program in Rural Community Development," Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, 3 o'clock; "Institute Poultry Course," J. G. Halpin, 4 o'clock, Poultry building.

University Women Will Have Fourth Convention October 27-27

The fourth annual conference of the Wisconsin Federation of the branches of the American Association of University women will be held in Madison tomorrow and Saturday.

Dean F. Louise Nardin, president of the Madison branch, will act as official hostess to the visiting delegates. All activities will be open to members of the A. A. W. W., of which there are over 200. The official delegates from association branches at Beloit, Fond du Lac, Appleton, Kenosha, La Crosse, Oshkosh, Ripon, Superior, Wausau, Milwaukee, Beaver Dam, and Madison will attend. Mrs. Magnus Swenson together with Miss Nardin will be delegates from this city.

Three large social functions and a full program of addresses for the two business sessions are scheduled.

The Women's University club, 420 N. Carroll street, will hold open house continuously during the conference. The club will entertain at tea on Friday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock. This affair is in charge of Miss Martha Edwards of the history department of the Extension Division.

Reception Friday

A reception will be held Friday evening at the home of President E. A. Birge, at 8 o'clock, in honor of the visiting delegates. President Birge will greet the guests and Mrs. Henry C. Adams, Ann Arbor, Michigan, sectional director of the northeastern central section will speak. Miss Anna Birge, officer of the state federation, will be on the reception committee.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock the first business session will be held in Lathrop parlors. Speakers will be Mrs. K. K. Kennon, Milwaukee, on "Plans for State Membership Campaigns"; Mrs. Curtis B. Livingston, Kenosha, on "Plans for Increasing Branch Membership"; Mrs. Frances F. Bernard, Washington, D. C., on "Educational Politics". Mrs. Bernard is national educational secretary and prominent throughout the country as an author and educator.

Saturday noon there will be a luncheon in Lathrop hall for all delegates and Madison members. The luncheon will be followed by a short tour on the campus and a visit to the main buildings.

At 2:30 o'clock the second business session will be held in Lathrop parlors. There will be brief business reports from the Paris conference, "The International Federation of University Women", by Miss Lydia Brown and Miss Elizabeth Williamson of the University. Dean F. Louise Nardin will speak on what the association can do to obtain competent sorority chaperons.

BABCOCK DAY

TODAY has been designated as Babcock Day in honor of Stephen Moulton Babcock, professor emeritus of agricultural chemistry and inventor of the far-famed Babcock milk test.

For thirty five years Dr. Babcock has been with the university through all its vicissitudes and progress. He helped in battling the former; he contributed in no small measure to the latter.

From the standpoint of long and faithful service alone, Dr. Babcock deserves the honor that is tendered him today.

The tribute that the university is paying today to the altruistic chemist is not alone because of his long and faithful service on the faculty.

It is more for his splendid contribution to the people of the world—the contribution that has taken his name and the name of the university and the state to all corners of the world—the contribution that has revolutionized the agriculture of the world—the Babcock milk-testing machine.

It is the greatest invention that the dairy industry has ever known. It has saved millions of dollars for producers and consumers. The revenue in royalties would have made Dr. Babcock uncountably wealthy.

But the great altruist-chemist sought no financial aggrandizement, no ringing praise for self. With no thought of personal fame nor riches he gave his invention to the state that it might benefit the state and all mankind.

He asked nothing for himself; received nothing. Nothing but the satisfaction of giving an invaluable service to the world.

The university joins today in paying respect and tribute to Dr. Babcock. And in so doing it is paying honor not only to the great inventor but to the spirit of service that he so generously displayed.

That spirit of service without hope or wish for personal praise is but typical of the spirit that typifies Wisconsin. For such a spirit are Wisconsin graduates noted. It is that spirit that those familiar with the institution sense in the very air of the campus and is reflected wherever Wisconsin graduates may go.

JAZZED DIGNITY

THE drum major of the Indiana band pleased some, amused others.

His ability to perform his duty in a jazzy manner is unquestionable. His contortions were entirely in keeping with the part that the Indiana band wanted him to play.

A band that wants an unplumed and jazzy dignity chaser as a drum major need look no further. His dress, actions and appearance were harmoniously working to put across the one effect of jazz.

It is unnecessary to use a store of adjectives in describing the personality or manner of this drum major. Let us sum it up by admitting that he was different from the drum majors that have lead and are leading Wisconsin bands.

It has been suggested that Wisconsin should have such a drum major.

We neither damn nor praise the idea. Indiana is but one of many colleges that have thrown aside convention in this regard.

What may please other colleges, however, may not please Wisconsin. What may be fitting for them may not be fitting for the Badgers.

Wisconsin bands are primarily military bands. They are so named and so in function. They are concert bands in the winter. Obviously at military formations or in concert work the drum major and director would be entirely out of keeping were he in the least jazzy.

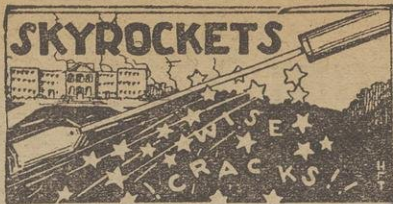

If Wisconsin football fans want to have the band that goes with the team amuse rather than entertain, then the band must carry two drum majors. One in keeping with the dignity and prestige that Wisconsin bands always have; the other a jazzy contortionist.

Dignity cannot be jazzed and remain dignity. It would be too hard to see a Wisconsin band forsake its former policy.

Few would want to see the Badger band become noted as a minstrel show.

DAD'S DAY IS SPREADING.

Notables From Many Lands Enrolled In International Club

A son of the German ambassador to the United States, a student from Turkey, and another from Russia are some of the notables to be found among the 80 foreign students enrolled in the university the files in the registrar's office. This was learned upon consulting yesterday.

Of further interest is the fact that 37 of this number are Chinese. The next largest group is that of the Philippines and the Japanese.

Herman J. Wiedfeldt, the son of the German Ambassador, is a special student taking largely freshman subjects in the College of Agriculture. The Russian member of the university is David Rozman. He is an advanced student and is studying labor. He is much interested in international affairs. Yosaf Zia is from Constantinople, Turkey.

In the International club these members from foreign lands get together semi-monthly, become acquainted with each other, and have a chance to discuss their respective homes. According to Mr. T. Suzuki '23, vice-president of the International club, the meetings are both entertaining and instructive. Slides show the architecture and are of the distant lands, musical programs give a knowledge of the national musics, and talks by the members furnish a clear idea of the habits and customs of these lands and sometimes help to an understanding of current international questions.

The officers of the club are Herman Levitz '23, president, T. Suzuki '23, of Hawaii, vice-president, and Ferdinand Sola '24 of Buenos Aires, secretary.

LEOPARD CUBS DOING NICELY

Others Born in Wisconsin
Have Lived Only Six Months

Two leopard cubs were born at the Wingra park zoo about five weeks ago. They were deserted by the mother when an hour old, and Fred Winkleman, director of the zoo, took them home—and now he and Mrs. Winkleman are spending most of their time trying to raise the two cubs.

Other leopards have been born in Wisconsin, but the mother has killed them, or they have not been able to stand the conditions to which they were subjected, and none have ever lived for more than six months. These are being bottle-fed on cow's milk, and Mrs. Winkleman says that it often takes a full hour to feed them. At first, they would drink only a half ounce at a feeding and were fed every two hours during the day, but the amount was gradually increased to two ounces, and the number of meals reduced to four or five.

When the rascals were only a few days old, they were quite good and drank their milk readily, but now they want to play at eating time, and so, dilly-dally along taking only a spoonful or so at a time. It seems that young leopards are very delicate, and must be watched constantly. They must always be warm, for their own welfare and for other people's comfort, since they make a great racket when things just don't suit them. Their official language sounds like one-third cat purr, and two-thirds dog growl, mixed in a most modulated tone.

The cubs look like freckled kittens just at present, having a tawny fur much bespotted with black. Then they are about the size of a two-months old kitten and weigh two and a half pounds (weighed only a pound and an ounce when a day old.) But they fail so whe anything upsets them that one can ever be sure whether or not they will continue to gain steadily.

Mr. Winkleman successfully raised a leopard-jaguar hybrid on a bottle, and the animal, now a year and half old, is considered one of the finest in the zoo. It is quite tame, and Mr. Winkleman believes that these leopards will be just as tame and playful when they are full grown, as they are now.

Students of the University of Nebraska had pledged $65,000 by the end of the second day of the campaign to raise $90,000 for the building of a Memorial Stadium within the next two years.

GUN AND BLADE

The Gun and Blade club will hold a regular business meeting at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the club rooms of the Union building. Plans for new projects will be discussed.

Gold Dust Twins Will Be At S. G. A. Costume Party

Gold-dust twins calk-walking about with sedate and soulful brides of no time's duration, ghouls dancing and capering around with bloody pirates, witches sweeping up and down with colored mummies in trail—that's just a sample of what women can see at the annual S. G. A. costume party which will be held Tuesday night in Lathrop parlors.

By special arrangements permission has been given for the party on its right night, and so from 7 to 10 o'clock university women can observe Halloween in the way which it should be observed.

A prize will be given to the class which has the greatest number of be-decked members in attendance. Stunts will be given which have never before been given on any stage or platform regardless of locality. The Alpha Xi Delta orchestra will furnish the music for dancing during the evening.

"HOLLYWOOD BABY" HEADLINER AT ORPH

That the Orpheum circuits Third of a Century anniversary may be properly celebrated in Madison, the local Orpheum theater has again booked a splendid bill for the last half of the week commencing with the matinee today. Dainty June, "The Hollywood Baby," has been selected as the feature attraction. This little juvenile star is making her first appearance in vaudeville, presenting a delightful conception of screen atmosphere. Dainty June will be remembered by her work with such stars as Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton and Dorothy Phillips.

Two of the leading players in vaudeville sketches are Walter C. Percival and Miss Renee Noel, who with their cast of players will appear in "Just A Husband." Smart Set magazine prize playlet. Perhaps no other act is more popular with vaudeville audiences than The Three White Kohns.

Farnel and Florence in their side-splitting comedy "For No Reason," is a hodge-podge of witticisms of local and present topics arranged in such a way that makes their offering most out of the ordinary. Fries and Wilson are a splendid looking team of young chaps, whose billing of "Song Writers and Entertainers" would lead one to expect to see an exclusive singing act,

Cider, Song, Talent, For Legion Festival

Cider, song, and local talent will open the winter entertainment for members of William B. Cairns post, American Legion, at the social meeting of the post to be held in G. A. might represent the stamping of many dancers.

Later the rustic dance, above mentioned, is brought in. But almost the whole of the long overture is made up of variations and embellishments of the opening rapid violin figure, and the whole is closed with a soft chords that melt into each other and lead finally to a repetition of the fairy call with which the overture began. At the end, the appreciative listener may well draw a deep breath, for he has been in the land of Titania and Oberon, and only the cessation of the charmed strain has power to release him from his enchantment. The overture and the incidental music for the play are frequently performed, and the various numbers appear in many phonograph record catalogs. The overture is obtainable on Victor No. 35625.

SELECTION NO. 8.

Marche Slav, by Peter Ilitsch Tchaikowski. (Born 1840, Wotkinsk, Russia; died 1893, Petersburg).

Nationality in Music.

The message of music is universal, but it is expressed in many varying languages. No nation has more characteristic music than Russia. Its composers, notably Tchaikowski, use scales and harmonies that frequently reveal to the intelligent listener the source of the music. The Marche Slav is an excellent example; it is unmistakably Russian.

A Solitary Man.

The remarkable thing about Tchaikowski (Tchai, like chi in child), is that there is so little that is remarkable to say about him. The son of a mining engineer, and destined at first for the service of the government, he was not precocious like Schubert, Mozart, Mendelssohn and many other great musicians, and his musical endowment revealed itself quite late in life.

Nor did his fame and reputation become established with a rush; indeed, he was nearly 40 before after many disappointments, real success crowned his efforts. By nature rather shy and retiring, he shunned more and more as time went on the society of men.

A Giant Composer.

He is at his best, and most inspired, when he strikes the note of passionate despair which runs through the philosophy of the Slav. It is for this reason, perhaps, that we feel Tchaikowski to be the most genuinely Russian of all the great composers. None but a Russian, and none but this Russian, could have composed the massive mournful works in which his fame is connected.

A Nation March to Victory.

The Marche Slav was written in 1887 while Russia was at war. It is filled with the barbaric splendor of a great conflict. After a menacing pounding of drums the main theme appears; it is a wailing song, a folk tune based upon a descending minor scale and employing the comparatively rare interval of an augmented or enlarged second. Soon a brilliant trumpet fanfare is heard over which a sweeping theme floats.

There is the commotion of battle, the joy of victory, and finally as a stirring climax the Russian national anthem (God the All-Terrible) is heard, in combination with the joyous, dance-like melody to which pealing church bells are added. Marche Slav has been recorded by Columbia, No. 5933 and Victor 55105.

Dedication of the new $210,000 bridge across the Wisconsin river at Sauk City will take place Nov. 4. The bridge will be opened for traffic immediately afterwards.

MADISON'S FOURTH COMMUNITY Music Memory Contest

Conducted under the auspices of the Madison Community Music Committee

A movement to increase the knowledge of good music through learning to recognize from hearing twenty-four of the best musical compositions. Four are assigned to each of six weeks. At the end of the period, a contest is held, in which parts of the compositions are played and the listeners attempt to write down the titles and composers. This year in evaluating the papers, no additional mark will be given for correct spelling.

SELECTION NO. 7

Overture to Midsummer-Night's Dream, by Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy (usually called simply Mendelssohn) born and died in Germany, 1809-1847.

Unspoiled, The Fortune's Favorite—To know Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy must have been as delightful as it is to study him as a composer. His tranquil, perfectly balanced nature, at once brilliant and solid, manly and refined, finds the noblest expression in his melodious and charming music. Born of wealthy parents, he was able to develop naturally, and to give his artistic bent full indulgence. At seventeen he produced an octet which could hold its own in the world of music, and at eighteen he composed the overture to the Midsummer-Night's Dream, which immediately stamped him as a thoroughly original composer. Thereafter he remained to the end of his short life—he died when thirty-eight—one of the leading musical figures of the world.

Among the works which he threw off with astonishing rapidity in many different fields, and which we still reckon as belonging to the world's best music, are two concertos for piano, one for violin, two symphonies, several concert overtures, many pieces of chamber music, much piano music, notable the celebrated Songs Without Words—both the name and the conception being his invention—and his two great oratorios, Elijah and St. Paul.

Description in Music—Mendelssohn was a romanticist in that he liked to associate music with definite ideas or experiences. He was a lover of program music, and a believer in it, but viewed it broadly. He stressed not so much the descriptive power of music as its ability to suggest a mood or a general subject. In his Italian symphony he writes as final movement a Saitarello that has the very dance-spirit in it; his well-known hunting song for piano is full of suggestions of the hunting horn and of the chase; his overture called Fingal's Cave was directly suggested by the hollow sound of the waves beating on the rocks in that cave, which he had visited.

A Glimpse Into Fairy Land—The overture to the Midsummer-Night's Dream, written originally as a duet and played by himself and his sister Fanny for some guests, is also a piece of program music, largely made up of two contrasting dance themes. One represents the dance of the fairies, the other the dancing of the yokels in Bottom's company. The overture starts pianissimo with high-pitched chords that might suggest a fairy call; then the strings begin a rapidly shifting figure that is very like the tripping of fairy feet. This soon grows in power and introduces a crashing theme that

SPEED TRACTOR IN FILM WORK

Goff Explains Manufacture
Of University
Movies

Speed,—speed that breaks old records and sets a new pace, is almost a challenge today. In the field of photography, E. L. Goff of the Goff studios of Madison, has set a record for making and releasing "film newspapers" of the football games recently played at Camp Randall.

Last Saturday the film of the Indiana-Wisconsin game was brought into the studio at 5 o'clock. At 8:25 o'clock it was finished and taken to the Strand theater where it was thrown on the screen five minutes later. The time required to develop and finish the news film was three and one-half hours.

Use Time Savers

"I speed up the drying process by the use of a reel, revolved by a motor upon which the wet film is wound to dry," Mr. Goff said. "We also employ all the other time-savers that we are able to use."

For example, we get out the title slides for moving pictures in one-half hour by having our artist make all the camera titles in reverse so that the stage of the negative of the motion picture is eliminated and the only film made is a positive, the one sent to the theater."

To Film All Events

Mr. Goff is now actively engaged in making all sorts of news films for theaters in the state. He expects to photograph all seasonable events and release them from his studio at 114 South Carroll street.

"The activities of the university will be photographed as they come," Mr. Goff promises. "I have already taken pictures of the football games and the class rush. I anticipate making my Homecoming films the biggest features thus far. They will go to the National News Film service for distribution."

Complex Process

"The film for the motion picture must go through two separate stages in the making," explained Mr. Goff. "The negative is developed, this process requiring from four to ten minutes, then washed and put into the 'hypo' until the film is clear. It is then dried."

"The second part of the making is the printing upon the positive celluloid plate to be used in the machine. Printing is accomplished by the use of a special camera through which the negative and the celluloid plate are run past an electric light. As the films move into place a shutter covers the light, then opens when each block of the film is in place."

All films come in blocks of 16 identical pictures arranged in succession. In making the pictures a timer regulates the number of copies so that there are 16 pictures to every foot of film. When on the screen one second is allowed for reading each word on the slide.

PROF. PARKER, HIT BY CAR, IMPROVING

The condition of Prof. F. A. Parker of the Music School, who was recently struck by an automobile yesterday, according to Dr. R. T. Cooksey, attending physician.

"Professor Parker was able to take a few steps today," was the statement the physician made last night, "and although his age makes it doubtful that he will ever entirely overcome the injuries sustained, we hope that he may be able to walk again."

The accident occurred Saturday, October 7, on the corner of Wisconsin avenue and Johnson street. Professor Parker stepped from behind a car, not seeing an oncoming car until it was too late. The driver of the latter, Mr. Daniels, tried to swing his machine out of the way, but was unable to do so entirely. Professor Parker was knocked down receiving a severe injury to his right hip and several bruises.

Where, Where, is Boscoe, Star Economics Pupil

AERIAL KIDNAPING IN SEARCH FOR SITE OF YEOMEN'S $10,000,000 HOME

MR. FARMER AND MRS. BELL

MONMOUTH, ILL.—President C. C. Merillat of the Monmouth Chamber of Commerce looked annoyed.

"They've got to come," he said. He gave an order over the telephone. It sent an airplane winging south.

A. N. Farmer, special representative, and Mrs. Lillian Bell, supreme chaplain of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen were in Dixon, Ill. 100 miles away inspecting a site for the $10,000,000 home for motherless and fatherless children which the fraternal society is planning to establish. They had intended inspecting other sites in Monmouth and Peoria but found their traveling schedule would not permit. They wired their regrets.

They were leaving their hotel in Dixon to take the train out of the state when the Monmouth airman hustled up.

"I have orders to bring you to Monmouth if I have to kidnap you."

"But our schedule—" argued Mr. Farmer.

The pilot handed them into the airplane. Soon they were high above the earth and the possibility of effective protest. Skimming through the sky, they swooped down into Monmouth. President Merillat with a committee showed them the proposed home site. Then generously he sent them on a the airplane to Peoria where they had plenty of time to inspect the site there before their crowded day ended. And thanks to the flying machine that makes a jest of time and distance, they were able to keep their schedule.

Rivalry is keen among cities all over the country to obtain the Yeomen's home. Sites have been offered in every state. A tract of 2,000 acres is required. Built on the cottage plan, the home will form a veritable village with post-office, bank stores, gardens, dairy and school of its own. It will house 100 families.

beginning course in Economics after his many years as star pupil.

The other day he made an attempt to begin the mental development course, but was bodily advised not to. Perhaps it was because a dog isn't educationally inclined or it was too late in the year to start. Better luck next time, Boscoe.

CABINET TAKES UP GOVERNMENT

Bonar Law and New Ministers Are Sworn Into Office

LONDON—The cabinet of Premier Andrew Bonar Law, was sworn in at Buckingham Palace this morning. As a result of the taking of the oath of office the members of the cabinet began to function as the new government immediately.

The new cabinet follows: Lord president of the council—Marquis of Salisbury; Lord high chancellor—Viscount Cave; Chancellor of the exchequer—Stanley Baldwin; Secretary for home affairs—William C. Bridgeman; Secretary for foreign affairs—Marquis Curzon; Secretary for colonies—The duke of Devonshire; Secretary for India—Viscount Peel; Secretary for war—The earl of Derby; First lord of the admiralty—Lieut. Col. C. M. S. Amery; President of the board of trade—Sir Philip Lloyd Greame; Minister of health—Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen; Minister of agriculture—Sir Robert A. Sanders; Secretary for Scotland—Viscount Novar; Attorney general—Douglas Hogg; Lord advocate—Hon. W. A. Watson.

Eight of the new ministers held office under the Lloyd George administration.

SAYS BRITAIN MUST PAY

LONDON — "I will support any party and any government that pursues a policy of peace, economy and steady progress, neither revolutionary nor reactionary and does it efficiently," Former Premier Lloyd George told the coalition liberal members of parliament at a meeting this morning. In another part of his speech he made the declaration "Great Britain must pay America all her debts."

Mr. Lloyd George declared that in the coming elections the interests of the country must come first. Referring to the coalition government which he had headed, he said: "We have stood for national unity—for unity of the men of all creeds, parties and sections."

"Our object first was the winning of the war and afterwards extricating the country out of its after-war difficulties."

er's institute workers will join the dairymen in attending the lectures given by authorities on the feeding of dairy cattle.

The annual conference of county agents and farmer's institute workers was convened yesterday. Discussion of marketing problems, and community problems occupied the greater part of the day.

Sell Butter by Carload

Marketing butter by carload lots as amplified by the Wisconsin cooperative creamery association, Amery, was one of the important developments of the conference, according to those in charge. The local creameries all unite to ship their butter in car lots rather than in small consignments as is practiced in most localities. The savings amount to many thousands of dollars a year.

The Wisconsin Cheese Producer's association, the Northern Tobacco pool, and the Chicago Milk Producer's association were discussed as examples of organizations that market their products on a commodity basis.

Rural life problems were considered in the afternoon. Addresses were given by Rev. W. Mahoney, Watertown, J. H. Kolb, W. Mc Neal, and other social workers.

The program for today includes: "Winter Rations for Profit," by Prof. F. B. Morrison, 9 o'clock; "Recent Discoveries in feeding dairy cattle," by Prof. E. B. Hart, 10:15 o'clock; Inspection of experimental animals, 11:30 o'clock; Demonstration of the feeding value of dairy by-products, 1:30 o'clock; "How I Got a Herd to Average 450 Pounds of Fat," Olin Ruste, Mt. Horeb, 3:30 o'clock; Banquet, 6:30 o'clock.

Eagle Lake Resort Burns; Estimate Loss $25,000

RACINE, Wis.—Eagle Lake resort, located at Eagle Lake, west of here, one of the oldest hostleries in this section, was totally destroyed by fire, involving a loss of approximately $25,000. Spontaneous combustion is thought to have been the cause.

Claim Repair Work Will Interfere With Big Sale

A request that repairing of State st. be discontinued until after "Dollar Day" has been made of City Engineer E. E. Parker. Merchants on this street declare that tearing up of the street at this time would hinder Madison's big sale day.

The work, it is said, can not be delayed as the ruts are a menace to travel, a number of claims for damages having been filed against the city by persons who were injured or had autos wrecked in attempting to turn out of the ruts.

Four blocks of the paving have been torn up. Laying of the new strips can be completed in about two days, it is estimated by officials of the Butler Construction Co. The street will be opened the first of next week, it is estimated.

To Choose Site For New Tobacco Pool Building

The erection of an office building to house the headquarters of the Northern Wisconsin Tobacco Pool on E. Wilson st., on the residence property adjoining the Overland Sales building at foot of King st.

will be decided at a meeting of the pool officers here tomorrow, it was learned today.

The site has been chosen as the most centrally located of all sites now obtainable at reasonable cost. It will be decided whether the pool will buy or lease the property tomorrow.

Private capital, it is understood, will be interested in the financing of the building plans. An old residence now stands on the property.

633 GRADS ARE GIVEN SCHOOLS

Teachers' Employment Bureau Renders Service to Alumni

Exactly 633 graduates have been placed in teaching positions during the past summer and up to October 25, according to Prof. Thomas Lloyd-Jones, chairman of the committee on high school relations.

The graduates were placed by a teachers' employment bureau conducted by that committee.

"The committee was not directly responsible for all of the appointments, but some service was rendered to each and every one. Credentials sent out from this office were of positive help to the greater majority of them," Professor Jones said.

Of this total number, 455 were women and 175 were men. Included among them were one college president, one normal school president, nine superintendents of schools, 22 superintendents and principals, 17 principals, three supervisors, and three critics.

Among the other positions filled were agriculture, 3; agricultural education, 11; agricultural journalism, 1; agronomy, 2; animal husbandry, 3; commerce, 11; accounting, 3; bookkeeping, 1; business administration, 1; economics, 33; education, 15; electrical engineering, 2; metallurgical engineering, 1; English, 108; geography, 7; history, 83; home economics, 46; industrial education, 10; law, 1; and mathematics, 50.

About 15 were placed in music positions; 16 in physical education; 7 in political science; 2 in psychology; and 11 in public speaking. Sixty-five positions for teaching foreign languages were filled, as follows: French, 26; German, 13; Latin, 24; Spanish, 2.

Fifty-three teachers of the various branches of science were placed, including science, 2; chemistry, 26; physics, 6; biology, 2; botany, 10; plant pathology, 2; medical bacteriology, 1; and zoology, 7. Nine applicants for positions in sociology received them.

CHARGE DANCE LAW IS BEING BROKEN

Charges that Madison dance hall proprietors were violating the city ordinance regulating the operation of the halls, were made in a letter today to Mayor I. M. Kittleson from G. G. Glasier, chairman of the subcommittee on advertising of the local committee of public opinion. Mr. Glasier urged that the offenders be warned and that if action is not immediately taken by them that legal steps be taken against them.

Mr. Glasier charges that the owners of Boyd's Candy Shop and Kehl's school of dancing violated the law by omitting the names on advertisements, of the parties under whom certain dances were to be conducted. He also charged the Barbers union of having violated the same section.

"I believe these violations are due mostly, if not entirely, to ignorance of the requirements of the dance ordinance and that the violations are not intentional," says Mr. Glasier. "I suggest that it would be desirable if some means could be found to bring the requirements of section 11 of the ordinance to the attention of those who contemplate holding dances in the future so that further unintentional violations may be obviated."

Former Student Named Assistant U. S. Attorney

Stanley M. Ryan

Stanley M. Ryan, Janesville will succeed Arthur Mulberger, Watertown, as assistant U. S. District attorney for the western district of Wisconsin.

Mr. Ryan is associated with the law firm of Nolan, Daugherty and Grubb, Janesville, and was graduated from the university law school with the class of 1922. He was a prominent figure in campus activities and was drum major of the band last year. He was also president of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity.

LAMB ADDRESSES MASONIC STUDENTS

Deputy Grand Master C. F. Lamb addressed Square and Compass at regular weekly supper and meeting of that organization in the Y. M. C. A. last night. Mr. Lamb assured the members of the club that the city lodges were heartily in favor of the work being done at the university and extended a welcome to the meetings of the lodges to any university Masons.

The club voted to organize a degree team to take part in regular work at the meetings of the city lodges. Degree team work is the only means students have of participating in lodge meetings while at the university as they are not permitted to hold regular meetings of their own. The team will be under the direction of Howard Funk '24.

The local square will be instituted in the national organization in the near future and the members discussed several plans for increasing the membership of the club before the institution. Officers of the club expressed a wish that the campaign be continued until every Mason in the university is a member of the Square and Compass.

The meeting adjourned early in order to allow members to attend the initiation ceremonies of the Madison chapter of the De Molay held in the temple last night. A number of university students were included in the members of the class initiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Nordahl, 216 N. Lake st., had as a week-end guest Mrs. T. O. Roisum, formerly of Madison, now of Stoughton. changed the company.

LANE LETTERS SCORE WILSON

Intimate Pictures of War President in New Collection

BOSTON, Mass.—A series of history making letters, describing in detail the American war cabinet and giving an intimate picture of Woodrow Wilson as he appeared while presiding over the secret meetings of his official family, was made public for the first time Tuesday.

The letters written by the late Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior in the cabinet of President Wilson from 1913 to 1920, have been collected and edited by his widow, Anne Wintermute Lane, and have been published by Houghton, Mifflin Co.

The correspondence reveals how the president frequently lost patience with the tremendous problems confronting him, and how at other times discouragement crowded him to such a degree that he was prompted to turn bitterly upon his advisers when they failed to agree with him.

The letters give a description of Mr. Wilson's attitude on preparedness before America entered the war; tell how he regarded the proposal to arm merchant ships; describe his opposition to anything approaching the "code duello" spirit at a time when the United States was neutral, and then, when great questions were pressing for decision, tell how he encouraged his cabinet to talk of trivialities while he went along on his own course to solve the huge problems facing his administration.

Held Both Wrong.

"The president said he didn't wish to see either side win, for both had been equally indifferent to the rights of neutrals," Mr. Lane wrote to his brother on Feb. 17, 1917, commenting on a particularly animated cabinet discussion.

On the subject of preparedness, even a few months before the United States entered the war, Mr. Lane quoted President Wilson as being "not in sympathy." Writing again to his brother Feb. 16, 1917, Mr. Lane said:

"Houston talks of resigning. McAdoo will—within a year, I believe. I have tried to smooth them down by recalling our past experiences with the president. We have had to push and push to get him to take any forward step. He comes out right, but he is slower than a glacier—and things are mighty disagreeable whenever anything has to be done."

"Yesterday he had a cabinet meeting," he wrote under date of Oct. 23, 1918. "All were present. The president was manifestly disturbed. For some weeks we have spent our time at cabinet meeting largely in telling stories. Even at the meeting of a week ago, the day on which the president sent his reply to Germany—his second note of the Paris series—we were given no view of the note, which was already in Lansing's hands and was emitted at 4 o'clock."

"Germany came back with an acceptance of the president's terms—a superficial acceptance at least—since the appeal to the cabinet yesterday."

"This was his opening: 'I do not know what to do. I must ask you advice. I may have made a mistake in not properly safeguarding what I said before. What do you think should be done?'"

"This general query was followed by a long silence, which I broke by saying that Germany would do anything he said."

"What should I say?" he asked.

"That we would not treat until Germany was across the Rhine. 'This he thought impossible.'"

Mr. Lane himself became discouraged at times. On Jan. 19, 1920, he wrote:

"The whole world is skew-gee, awry, distorted and altogether perverse. The president is broken in body and obstinate in spirit. Einstein has declared the law of gravitation outgrown and decadent. Drink, consoling friend of a perturbed world, is shut off; and all goes merry as a dance in hell."

Alpha Pi Delta fraternity announce the pledging of Fred C. Greenwood '23, Lake Mills, Wis., and John W. '24, Beloit.
