THAT CHICAGO GAME

ROUSING MASS MEETING TO-MORROW NIGHT AT LIBRARY HALL.

Good Prospects for Northwestern Game—Chicago Working Hard for Saturday's Game.

Interest in the Chicago game is increasing steadily. The repeated defeats which the Maroons have met with this season have led many to think that the game next Saturday will be a cinch. Such is not the case however. There is a spirit of rivalry existing between the two institutions which insures a hard-fought contest. Coach Stagg is noted for his ability to whip his men into shape at the crucial time and is sure to have the Midway team in the best possible shape when it goes against the Badgers. He was a close observer of the work of the Wisconsin team last Saturday and is certain to have some new tricks figured out with which to meet the fast, snappy play of the Badgers. Therefore, to arouse a greater interest in the work of the team and to make the students feel that they must depend more on the strength of their own team than on any possible weakness of the Maroons, the management has decided to call another mass meeting of the students for to-morrow night. The new songs will be practiced and members of the faculty and the team will speak on the prospects for the coming game.

The game with Northwestern is still in doubt. A telegram was received from "Doc" Hollister to-day in which he refused to make definite arrangements until after Northwestern had met Minnesota on Saturday. Notwithstanding the confidence which the supporters of the purple express as the outcome of the coming contest at Minneapolis, it seems that the Evanston coach and manager wants to have a direct comparison between the two teams before he risks the chances of a game. Should the purple win on Saturday, which would be very unexpected, it is scarcely probable that the game will be arranged for Northwestern would then have everything to lose and nothing to gain.

Farm Notes.

Dean W. A. Henry of the College of Agriculture is attending an Association meeting of Agriculture College and Experimental Station in New Haven Connecticut.

Prof. Carlyle returned last night from his deer-hunting expedition bringing with him some fine specimens of his hunt.

R. A. Moore will remain for a few days with the large party of hunters who are in that section.

Frank Kleinheinz the farm shepherd has been honored by being appointed the judge of one class of sheep at the Live Stock Exhibition in Chicago. This is certainly a great honor as this exhibit will be the largest ever held on the continent.

—Chauncey G. Austin, law '02, while ascending the steps of the Capitol yesterday, slipped upon a piece of ice and fell. One of the bones in his left hand was broken. The injury, though painful, is not serious and Mr. Austin is able to attend classes.

—Sarah Seeber, Nellie Galusha and Dorothy Curtis are attending the national convention of Gamma Phi Beta with the Northwestern chapter at Evanston this week.

PROF. ROSENSTENGEL'S FUNERAL.

Will be Held From His Late Residence Tomorrow Afternoon.

The hour that Professor Rosenstengel's funeral will take place is at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the family residence.

The honorary pall bearers are Fred Vogel Jr. of Milwaukee, Dean Birge, Prof. Schutt of Chicago, Prof. Raad, Supt. of Schools at Bellville, Wis., Mr. Ziack of Rockford Ill., Judge Siebecker, and Hon. John A. Johnson.

The active pall-bearers are Profs. W. H. Williams, J. B. Parkinson, Chas. Forster Smith, W. W. Daniells, C. S. Slichter, and Mr. John Suhr. These are arranged according to the express wishes of Prof. Rosenstengel. Rev. Gilmore of the Unitarian church will officiate at the funeral.

Delegates from Milwaukee German associations, and neighboring cities will arrive tomorrow morning. Mr. E. Dupprich of Milwaukee, director of the German American Seminary, of which Prof. Rosenstengel was president, will be here and will conduct the services at the grave.

The family wishes to announce that the services will be held at the house and will be open to all friends.

Mandolin Club Election.

At the meeting of the mandolin club last evening, members to fill out the complete number of the club were elected. In electing the new members their ability, as judged by the mark received in a previous examination, and the quality of their instruments were alone taken into consideration. The successful candidates were George Gove, and Ernest Tomlinson, first mandolins; Arthur Uhllein, Weber Russell, and Paul Bennett second mandolins; A. J. Rhodes, D. T. Sheldon, George Markham and Charles Thompson, guitars; violin, W. E. Brown; flute, Stuart E. Washburn. The first meeting of the club will be on Thursday at 6:45 in Library Hall.

The Charity Ball.

On the twenty-third of this month will occur one of Madison's two chief society events of the year. On this evening the Attic Angels will give their annual Charity Ball in the gymnasium. The event last year was such a success as to warrant the expenditure of enough time and money to make this year's Charity Ball equal to the "Prom."

The decorations will be of the highest order. There has been some misunderstanding as to the matter of tickets. A box ticket includes both dance and supper tickets and will cost twelve dollars.

The Attic Angels will serve the supper themselves and will make it befitting the occasion.

Further particulars will be published later.

Two Bulletins Issued.

Bulletins number 41 and 42 of the University of Wisconsin series have just been issued. Number 41 contains the doctor's thesis by Carl Edward Magnusson, fellow in physics, on the subject, "The Anomalous Dispersion of Cyannin." Number 42 contains the bachelor's thesis of Carl Hambueschen. On the merits of this thesis Mr. Hambueschen was awarded the Science club medal.

—The 120 students who have been busy surveying the campus this fall are now preparing maps and doing other office work.

ANNUAL JOINT DEBATE

HESPERIA AND PHILOMATHIA TO MEET DEC. 14.

Question of U. S. Income Tax to be Discussed—Thorough Preparation Being Made

The date for the joint debate between Hesperia and Philomathia has been fixed for December 14. A good deal of interest is being manifested in the debate this year. Last year the debate was not held until after the holidays, but this year the participants were given ample time for preparation so the debate can be held earlier. The subject of the debate is as follows:

"Resolved, that the adoption of a general income tax levied by the U. S. government is contrary to the best interest of the nation; it being conceded that such a tax would be constitutional, that it become a law, that it remain in operation at least fifteen years, that it be under an efficient civil service, and that an inheritance tax shall not be available for federal purposes." The negative side will be upheld by Hesperia and the affirmative by Philomathia.

The Hesperian team is A. V. Smith, Solomon Huebner and J. E. Brindley. P. W. Boehm, N. T. Hancock and L. G. Lohr will support Philomathia's side. The men have been working hard all summer in looking up their material and a very close contest is assured.

Hesperia is an old established society and numbers among its alumni ex-Senator Vilas, Senator J. C. Spooner and other great public men.

Philomathia is a comparatively new society in the University, having been admitted to the debating union in 1890. Since then the honors of the joint debates have been won by her twice.

—The first gymnasium drill for members of the faculty which was to have been yesterday afternoon was postponed until to-morrow.

THE JUNIOR EX.

Representatives of Different Societies Getting Ready.

The members of the different literary societies chosen for the annual Junior Exhibition have for the most part picked out their subjects or selected the field in which these will lie.

There will be six contestants this year. Miss Louise Loeb will represent Castalia. The representatives of the Hill societies are F. W. Bucklin for Hesperia, Harry Sauthoff for Philomathia and J. C. Miller for Athenae. In the Law school J. C. McKesson will represent Columbia and T. P. Abel, Forum.

Mr. Bucklin's subject will be in the field of Civic Patriotism. Mr. McKesson will treat of a contrast between the north and south. Mr. Sauthoff has selected as his subject "Mammonism versus Christianity."

All the contestants have had good preparation for their work, and have been active members of their respective societies.

Miss Loeb graduated from the Appleton H. S. in '97, and took her Freshman year at Downer College in Milwaukee. She was a member of the team that represented Castalia in the Downer-Castalia debate last year.

Mr. Bucklin graduated in the class of '98, from the Brodhead H. S. He is taking the English course.

Mr. Sauthoff graduated from the Madison High in '98, and is taking the Ancient Classical course. He was semi-public orator in his sophomore year.

Mr. Abel graduated from the Kenosha High school in '97, studied in a law office before entering the law school.

Mr. McKesson graduated from the Burlington High in '98. He has taught one year and has been an active member of the Columbia.

Mr. Miller graduated from the Marinette High school in '97. He represented the High School literary society in oratory and debate. He has taught school for a year and is taking the English course. He took third place in the Freshman Dec. and was semi-public orator in his sophomore year.

Brief College Items.

It is estimated that about 500 students are working their way through Harvard.

The gifts to Harvard for '98-'99 as announced by the treasurer, amounted to $1,544,829.67.

The new shops of the College of Engineering at Minnesota are now finished and ready for occupancy.

The State University of Iowa is rapidly accumulating another library to take the place of the one destroyed by fire in 1897.

The department of Physics at Cornell has received two interesting pieces of apparatus for the exhibition of photographed objects in the colors of nature.

Professor D. A. Kent of Iowa State Agricultural College has been appointed by the Sultan instructor in farming for the Turkish government.

Stanford University has received a valuable collection of fishes from France. They will be used for study in the Zoology department.

The employment bureau of the Cornell Christian Association secured positions for students in need aggregating over $6,000 in salaries.

Mrs. Jane Sather of California has presented the University of California with the deeds to a block of realty in Oakland. The value of the gift is about $150,000.

The eighth annual convention of the American Republican College League will be held at Philadelphia Nov. 30 and Dec. 1, 1900.

While painting the class numerals on the stand pipe last week, McGillivray of the junior class at Kansas University, fell about 75 feet and was severely, though not fatally, injured.

Yale Law School has adopted the honor system and all examination papers will be turned over to the students without the presence of professors.

The oldest college in the world is Mohammed College at Cairo, Egypt, which was 1,000 years old when Oxford was founded. It has 11,000 students.

The completed registration of the Harvard Law School shows a total of 644 students, of whom 273 are first year men. There are 82 colleges represented.

Earlham College recently defeated Eastern Indiana Normal School at Muncie Ind., by a score of 139 to 0. This establishes a new football record. There were ten place kicks made.

There are 101,056 young men and women in American universities and colleges, 54,231 in schools of law, medicine and theology 67,538 in normal schools 23,501 in reform schools and 97,731 in kindergartens.

Newly Decorated.

The appearance of the new engineering building since the new pictures solicited by Dean Johnson have arrived and been placed on the walls reflects great credit on Dean Johnson. Too many of the halls and recitation rooms of our buildings are entirely bare of pictures. The appearance of the walls of the different buildings certainly makes an impression, upon visitors especially, and upon the students, to a degree which is too often underestimated. The students and instructors are both benefited by rooms looking "like parlors." The sense of artistic beauty cannot help but have a good influence upon the beholder, and especially in this age of pictures should the institutions of learning pay particular attention to these details which might appear at first to be non-important. Recitation rooms should be made as attractive as possible and the results will more than balance any expenditure in that line.

Football Matters.

Negotiations for a game with Northwestern are at present at a standstill but it is to be hoped that such a game can ultimately be arranged. Aside from the satisfaction of playing an old and tried rival there are considerations of a financial and comparative character that should have weight. Such a game would be valuable from a financial point of view whether played in Milwaukee or Madison, especially if played in Milwaukee where football enthusiasm is at a great height and where they are very desirous of having a game. The game would also be a factor in deciding the relative status of Western teams, as any such estimate is at present absolutely impossible in view of the unsatisfactory nature of these schedules and the complicated condition of such relative scores as can be of even slight use in judging.

Northwestern considers that by defeating Chicago she has acquired a strong claim to be considered in championship calculations and refuses to decide upon a game until she learns the outcome of her game with Minnesota next Saturday. In the event of her winning from the gophers she will probably decide not to play the game. It seems probable that the Wisconsin-Northwestern game will be arranged.

The University of Colorado will soon build a $200,000 gymnasium. The roof will be built so that it can be opened in sections like doors and thus exercise can be taken practically in the open air.

An international conference of athletes will soon be held in Paris for the purpose of discussing the plan of holding a series of international games at Buffalo next year in connection with the Pan American exposition.

Lecture on the Forum.

The first lecture of a series on the Roman Forum was given by Dr.
Showerman yesterday afternoon. "The statement that Rome is a bridge which at the same time separates and connects ancient and modern life," he said, "and that all history converges to Rome and then diverges from it, is true of the Roman Forum as well as of the city itself. The Forum, as the center of business, political, legal, religious, and spectacular life was the heart of the city."

The lecturer sketched the physical characteristics of the area which became the Forum and then traced its development from the legendary period up to the time of Cicero. It was a marshy space between the Capitoline and Palatine hills about 200 meters long, 75 wide at the northwest end and 35 at the southeast, traversed by a stream, abounding in pools and springs and subject to inundation by the Tiber in time of flood. It was the meeting-place of the Palatine, Capitoline, and Esquiline communities from the first, and, after the uniting of these, was drained and took on formal limits. The temples of Saturn, Vesta, and Janus, the Comitium and the Senate house, the Cloaca Maxima, and rows of shops were the earliest structures, and these with the temples of Castor and Pollux Concord, several Basilicas, and various monuments commemorative and honorary, represent the history of structure in the Forum up to Cicero's time. It had by this time become the scene of legal and political activities almost exclusively, the ordinary business having distributed itself to other parts of the city. The most famous street of the Forum was the Sacred Way. Others were the Argiletum and Clivus Argentarius on the north, the Vicus Iugarius and the Vicus Tuscus on the south.

The lecturer closed with the translation of a passage from Plautus, giving a glimpse of the Forum in 184
B. C.

The next lecture will be given Tuesday, the 20th, and will treat of the legends of the Forum and its oldest monuments. It will be illustrated.

A great many students are finding that a typewriter is almost a necessity. When we remember that one can get through with from three to ten times as much work on a typewriter as with a pen it does not seem strange that they are coming into almost universal use.

The Madison Cycle Co. at 113 State street rents all makes at very reasonable rates and also carries a full line of typewriter supplies.
