GILKEY OPENS BIG RELIGIOUS CONVO FRIDAY

Banquets Are Scheduled For Tonight and Tomorrow

PRES. BIRGE TO PRESIDE

The all-university religious conference will open tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 with a convocation to be held in Lathrop gym where Dr. Charles W. Gilkey will deliver an address on "Religion in the Modern World." President E. A. Birge will preside at the convocation.

The conference, which will continue until Sunday night, is being given under the auspices of the campus religious council. Robert P. Gerholz '23 and Esther Bellows '23 are the general chairmen of the conference.

Banquet Tonight

Dr. and Mrs. Gilkey are expected to arrive in Madison this afternoon. This evening at 6 o'clock in the parlors of the University "Y" a banquet will be given in honor of Dr. Gilkey. Allan Halline '23 and Clifford Bruden '22, in charge of the arrangements, declared last night that 200 men would be present at the banquet.

Friday evening at 6 o'clock a group of 100 representative men and women students will give another banquet for Dr. and Mrs. Gilkey in S. G. A. parlors.

Morning watches are being held daily at the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in preparation for the conference.

Closes Friday

The music for all the conference meetings will be under the direction of Prof. E. B. Gordon. In addition to the university quartet there will be a picked choir from the leading churches of Madison.

The program for Friday will be completed with an address in Lathrop gym at 7:30 by Dr. Gilkey on the subject, "Christianity as a Social Program."

One outstanding feature of the conference this year will be the personal interviews of Dr. Gilkey with students. Leo H. Kohl '22 is chairman of the committee in charge of this department of the conference work. Any student desiring a personal talk with the

PRE-BALL HOP IS AT CANDY SHOP

The completely remodeled Boyd's studio, which was damaged by fire last December, will be opened on St. Patrick's day, March 17, with the pre-Military ball dance, according to announcement made by I. O. Hughes '22, chairman of the dance committee, Wednesday.

As originally planned, the pre-Military ball dance was to be held at the armory, but on account of the state high school basketball tournament, which takes place the following week, gymnasium officials have requested the committee not to use the floor. It was felt that waxing the floor would interfere with the speed of the tournament games.

"We are glad to be permitted to use Boyd's studio on the opening night and feel that many students will take advantage of this opportunity to dance on a brand new floor," said Hughes yesterday, while commenting on the change.

Tickets will be placed on sale at the University pharmacy and Morgan's next Monday, the sale continuing until the end of the week. The admission is $1.50, plus war tax.

Although the remodeling of the studio has not been completed, carpenters and decorators are working day and night to have the hall ready for the dance. A new floor of clear maple has been laid, and the dancing space increased considerably.

Urges Heavy Vote In Joint Election

"Every girl in the University should come out and vote Friday," said Ellen Correll '22, president of S. G. A., in speaking of the joint election of S. G. A., Y. W. C. A., and W. A. A. to be held at Lathrop hall from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Friday.

The rules governing the voting are as follows:

1. There is to be no electioneering at the polls or on the campus.
2. No votes are to be cast by proxy.

3. Every girl registered at the University is eligible to vote for S. G. A. officers. Only members of Y. W. C. A. vote for Y. W. officers. Only members of W. A. A. vote for W. A. A. officers.

Voter's guides, giving qualifications of the nominees will be available at the polls.

The joint election committee composed of Ellen Correll '22, Auta Lyman '22, Mabel Winter '22, and Irma Winchell '22 will police the polls.

LAND EFFECTS RACE GREATLY —ROSTOVITZEFF

Racial Peculiarities Not as Important in Historical Evolution

That the characteristics of the two types of civilization, the Oriental and European, seem to have been imposed on the races, not by their racial peculiarities, but by the condition of land and historical evolution was the substance of Prof. Michael Rostovtzeff's lecture on Wednesday night in 217 Science hall on the subject, "Race and Civilization."

Dr. Rostovtzeff explained that the civilizations of the various geographical divisions of the world have remained practically the same throughout the invasions of other races. Babylonian civilization had its roots back in the fourth century B. C., and remained Babylonian through the successive invasions of the Sumarians, the Semites, the Cassites or Indo-Europeans, the Syrians, the Persians, and the Macedonians. It finally died, but as long as it lived it was Babylonian.

Case of Egypt

In a similar manner, the Egyptian civilization failed to change even with the invasions of Semites, Hittites, Hebrews, Syrians, Persians, and Greeks. They moulded to the character of the land and to relations to their neighbors.

"Why Greece today does not have the force and energy, the productive power that it had in ancient times when its geographical conditions are the same, is the problem to be solved," said Dr. Rostovtzeff.

Problem Not Solved

"The explanation seems to be mainly historical. Greece, at the time she stood foremost among nations, was situated at such a time and place as to make her heir to the civilization she developed. The entrance of influences from other civilizations of the time came at the opportune moment, and Greece benefited by their timeliness. Still, this does not solve the problem finally. I can hardly more than present it. It remains for someone else to solve."

SERVICE EVERY MORNING

The "Morning Watch," one of the important parts of the Religious conference of March 10 to 12, will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday mornings, from 7 to 7:30 and Sunday morning from 8:30 to 9 in the parlors of the University Y. M. C. A.

Robert P. Gerholz '23; state secretaries: Grover Little, of Ohio; Cyrus P. Barnum, of Minnesota; and O. E. Pence of Illinois, will head the meetings.

BADGERS FIRST IN RADIO-PHONE NEWS SERVICE

Will Send Items Weekly to Amateur Wireless
Operators

A wireless telephone news service, broadcasted by the powerful radio station of the physics department will be instituted by the University of Wisconsin next Friday. The Badger university is the first to utilize the wireless telephone to disseminate its news.

The news service, which is supplied by the University Press Bureau to M. P. Hanson, operator of the university station, will be broadcasted once a week as a regular part of the radio service. It will be sent at 8:45 p. m. every Friday evening at the close of the weekly radiophone concert. The wave length is 360 meters.

Thousands of amateur operators in all parts of the country, as well as in Wisconsin, regularly listen to the services of the Wisconsin university station, and the items to be broadcasted will be selected for the widest interest. Because "spot news" is likely to be old in a weekly service, more general items and special features will make up the service.

The new service is distinct from the college news exchange carried on by the student newspapers of Wisconsin and several other universities, through their university stations, from 10 to 12 p. m. every Monday.

Hebrew Songs to Comprise Program Of Noted Soprano

Mary Joyce Powelankey, soprano, will appear at Music hall tonight under the auspices of the Wisconsin society to give her concert of Jewish and Hebrew songs.

Miss Powelankey was born in Muscatine, Iowa, of Russian-Jewish parentage. About a year ago she was graduated from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. She has studied with some of America's foremost teachers. Most recently she has been working with Francesca Daddi in Chicago. She will appear with the Chicago Grand Opera company next year.

Miss Powelankey's concert was warmly received in Cincinnati. The critics declared that her voice was pure and charming, and that her songs were most sympathetically and intelligently delivered. The critics have been equally kind wherever the artist has appeared.

Leon L. Iltis, instructor in piano at the university, will accompany Miss Powelankey in her concert Thursday evening.

Miss Powelankey's repertoire is varied as is evidenced in her program for Thursday evening.

Engineer Explains Welding in A. I. E. E.

A. M. Candy, of the engineering department of the Westinghouse Electrical & Manufacturing company, explained the mysteries and practical applications of electric arc welding to a group of engineers at an open meeting of the American Association of Engineers held in the auditorium of the Engineering building last night.

Broken or worn out parts of large or small castings can actually be replaced by the arc. The delicacy of the work done by experienced welders, as exhibited by Mr. Candy, showed that even this, the most fearful of electrical phenomena, has been completely mastered.

Arrangements for the representation of the association in the St. Patrick's Day Parade were made at a business meeting immediately preceding the lecture, and the preparation of the A. I. E. E. float was placed under the charge of Gwilym F. Prideau '22.

BADGERS BEAT MAROONS BY 24-17 COUNT

Dazzling Play Bewilders Chicago; "Duke" and "Cop" Finish Well

FANS GET REAL TREAT

The Wisconsin basketball team trimmed Chicago last night on the armory floor by a score of 24 to 17. The game was the fastest as well as the roughest seen on the home floor this season.

Captain Ceaser and his cohorts gave the fans a real treat by putting up a dazzling exhibition of the Meanwell style of play. The ball was so speedily passed that the Chicago defense was completely bewildered, and it was only the fierce fighting of the Maroons under their own basket, and the fact that the Badgers missed many short shots, that prevented Wisconsin from piling up a large lead.

Although a marked man, "Cop" Taylor topped off his career in front of the local fans last night by getting the Badgers into a safe lead and then aiding them materially in maintaining it. He scored three field goals and six free throws.

Badgers Play Well

The Badger captain, "Duke" Ceaser, was the main cog in the local offense, and his scrappy defensive play was mainly responsible for the Badgers controlling the ball for such a great portion of the time.

Dickson was the Maroons' shining light, with three baskets to his credit. Halladay and McGuire fought hard to ward off impending defeat, but it must be admitted that some of the tactics to which they reverted were not well received by the local fans.

Rollie Williams and Gus Tebell maintained an airtight defense throughout the game, allowing the visitors only six field goals, most of which were made from long range. In addition to making the Maroon defense look foolish on numerous occasions, Rollie was able to come up and send two counters through the hoop.

Gibson Starts Scoring

Gibson started the scoring by caging a field goal less than a minute after the opening whistle had blown. A technical on Rollie Williams. (Continued on Page 7)

REGENTS CONFER DEGREES TO 16

The Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin at its monthly meeting March 1, conferred 16 degrees of graduation to students who completed their courses at the end of the first semester of the year 1921-22.

Twelve of the graduates are residents of the state of Wisconsin.

The graduates and their respective degrees are listed below:

Bachelor of Arts—Edward Joseph Breen, Fort Dodge, Iowa; Elizabeth Aston Voorhees.

Course in Commerce—Newton L. Bowers, Rice Lake; William Paul Dietzman, Richland Center.

Bachelor of Philosophy, Normal Course—Elliott Raphael Donalds, Superior.

Graduate in Pharmacy—Alfred Fred Beck, Arcadia; George Edward Schindler, Ashland.

Bachelor of Laws—Fred William Genrich, Jr., Wausau; Everis Hayes Reid, Hurley; Philip Fox LaFollette, B. A., Madison; Warren Gregg Wheeler, Wauwatosa; Spencer Alexander Lucas, Sparta; Donald Moore Perry, Black River Falls; Silas Llewellyn Spengler, B. A., Menasha; James Dahls Peterson, La Crosse; and Alfred Moore Rogers.

The degrees of Bachelor of Law were granted to students who received a certificate of completion of the law course at a recent commencement, and have now finished their office apprenticeship.

CASUAL COLLEGIANS

By Fol de Rol

"By golly, I wisht I were a millionaire," said I one evening, looking up from my American magazine. My remark caused Rufus to break into a roar of ribald laughter. "You," said Eduard—my other roommate—"would have a great time, I suppose you'd buy a yacht—that's the first thing one usually thinks of, you know."

"That's a big illusion," said I, flicking the ashes from my monogrammed Lucky Strike. "Did you ever see a yacht that wasn't for sale?"

"Oh, I don't know," said Ed, "I'm not thinking of selling mine. But tell us what you would do if you had a million bucks—or any part thereof."

They looked at me curiously. I reciprocated with the same sentiment.

"Well," said I, settling down to some hard talking and spreading myself comfortably all over the chaise longue, "the first thing I would do would probably be pay off some of my debts. Then with the other $5 I would—"

As I picked myself up from beneath a couple of banjos and the house squiffer, I begged them to yield me but a word. They wouldn't.

"In that case I hope some of your relatives hear the call before long," said Ed, as he opened his note-book to where my account was scrawled.

Suddenly I remembered an engagement I had made the evening before and I arose to go.

"You'll pardon me fellows," I drawled hurriedly, "I think I'll run along. I've got a little engagement with the chow hound for tea—"

"Tea?" they shouted. "Where?" "Oh, at the University pharmacy. Say, has anybody got a quarter—"

Biographers Give

E. A. Birge Memorial of Alfred Bright

President E. A. Birge has just been presented with a copy of a memorial biographical sketch of the late Alfred Harris Bright '74, who died on Sept. 2, 1921. The sketch was prepared by three of Mr. Bright's associates, two of whom are Wisconsin graduates—John L. Erdall '87, and George A. Kingsley '95, for the memorial services conducted by the Minneapolis Bar association of Feb. 4.

Although Mr. Bright was born in New York state, he came to Walworth county, Wis., in 1852, and spent much of his life in this state. In 1874 he received his B. A. degree from the University of Wisconsin and was graduated from the Law school in 1876.

From 1887 to 1891 he practiced law in Milwaukee, and then left for Minneapolis to become general solicitor of the Minneapolis, St. Paul, and Sault Ste. Marie railway company. Later he was appointed general counsel of the road and served in this capacity for many years.

Alfred Harris Bright was long known as one of the most versatile corporation lawyers in Minnesota, and was at one time president of the Minneapolis Bar association.

Education is Held As Cure For Wars By Supt. Callahan

If the money spent in the United States for the past eight years for war purposes had been spent throughout the whole world for education during the past half century, the catastrophe of the World war might have been avoided, John Callahan, state superintendent of public instruction told the second annual convention of the Wisconsin Association of High School and Graded School Board members, which opened in the assembly chamber of the capitol Wednesday. The convention is being attended by more than 100 delegates and visitors.

Mr. Callahan declared that one of the most acute problems facing Wisconsin schools is the rural school, where more often than not, the teacher has either so few pupils that she cannot keep up her enthusiasm or has so many that she is worn out. In the latter case, when she has to teach all grades, she should be an expert in army subjects, and this sort of a teacher can hardly be obtained for rural schools. He also criticized the present valuation system with its unfair apportioning.

"It is probably safe to say that never in the history of the nation have school administrative labors been attended with greater difficulties than during the war and since," declared S. B. Tobey, Wausau, who took the place of W. W. Albers of that city, president of the organization. Mr. Albers was unable to attend.

"The cost of schoolhouse construction and repairs increased from 60 to 80 per cent, while the salaries of the teaching forces had to be materially advanced. Teachers sought more lucrative occupation with the result that an acute teacher shortage had to be met. This means not only higher compensation, but also the recruiting into the service of the half baked, as well as the superannuated teacher."

A discussion on the general salary schedule, as in force at the Fond du Lac schools was given by Frank Candlish, president of the Fond du Lac board of education.

Gov. Blaine's 'Son' Is Unable to Have His Check Honored

A young man, stepping into the Commercial National bank here, introduced himself as "George Blaine of Wausau, the adopted son of Gov. J. J. Blaine," to President Solomon Levitan and asked that his check for $25 be honored.

The young man was so confident of his standing and insistent, under grilling, that he was an adopted son that Mr. Levitan called up the governor's secretary (the governor is out of the state just now) to back his personal knowledge that Gov. Blaine has no son.

Mr. "Blaine" then declared that he would seek a more kindly disposed banker.

Janesville Gas Rates Cut 10 Cents by State

Gas rates in Janesville were ordered reduced 10 cents a thousand cubic feet by the railroad commission today. The order cut the charges from $1.85 for the top step to $1.75 and other steps by the same amount.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 30 at 5 p. m. yesterday, the lowest 24 at 5 a. m. this morning. The sunsets at 5:56.

Strong winds and moderate rain attend the storm that is crossing New England. Clear and colder follows in the states east of the Mississippi. The weather is becoming unsettled on the plains in the area of low barometer. Warmer in the Canadian plains and in New Mexico.

STOP THE TRESPASSERS

IT is now time for the annual editorial on the care of the upper campus. The mention of the subject brings a smile to the face of the old-timer. He has read three or four warnings on the theme in these columns. His indulgence must be asked once more.

The question is one that has to be driven home with increasing force each year with the influx of hundreds of new students.

The complaint centers about the foot path beaten across the upper campus from the Engineering building to South hall. It was never uglier than it is now. It never appeared quite so shameful in view of the "Please" signs dotted about so generously on the upper campus. It never seemed quite so conspicuous a proof of the carelessness and forgetfulness of which scores of students are guilty.

The upper campus is one of the great spiritual forces of the university. It tells the story of the seasons more eloquently than Wordsworth could have done. The majestic sweep of tender green in the spring has been an inspiration to twenty generations of students. That the campus should be ruined by the thoughtless now is a thing not to be tolerated.

This campus is not a device to save time between classes. Two paths are provided for this purpose. The students should take this matter in hand at once and see that not another trespasser crosses irregularly. If the students are not willing to save the campus, then the university authorities ought to station guards along the way to preserve one of the most beautiful landmarks of the university.

SENIOR ADVISERS

THERE is a growing need for a senior adviser system for freshmen to supplement the faculty adviser system. Some time ago the inadequacy of the faculty system was pointed out. The difficulties in this system cannot easily be overcome until the university catches up with the swollen enrollment. The deans are doing all in their power to adjust the machinery of the university to present conditions.

Meanwhile, some immediate and effective help must be extended to the freshmen, hundreds of whom are at sea. Many of these, of course, have only themselves to blame. Some are indecisive, some are indifferent, and some are in the university when they should be back home. This is no plea for nursing along such students. No advisory system has ever been invented to save this type.

But there is a large group of first year students who are here for business and who need sympathetic guidance for the first few months. The results seem to show that the faculty advisers do not meet the situation adequately. The faculty is small and the number of students is large.

Here the seniors might render valuable service. They have survived three years of university life and should have accumulated some wisdom in the process. Most of them "know the ropes." They are in constant touch with the problems of the undergraduate. Why not enlist their help as supplementary advisers to the freshmen?

The women already have an efficient system based on these features. Why cannot the men do the same thing? As a matter of fact, the Commerce school is now trying out the plan and the advisory commission has made a good start. The freshmen could be allotted to seniors in the college in which they enroll, so there would be a similarity of interests between the advisers and advisees.

Not only would a system of this kind help the freshmen in getting the right start scholastically, but it would also make possible the establishment of a tie of friendship, which is too often lacking between freshmen and seniors. The importance of such friendships cannot be overrated.

This system would in no sense be intended as an encroachment on the faculty prerogatives in such matters, but rather as a supplementary system.

It is worth considering.

ARE COMPARISONS ODISIOUS

THE women are holding a joint election tomorrow for S. G. A., Y. W. C. A., and W. A. A. offices. The rules for the election which are announced today call to mind many of the heated political battles waged at the polls on the men's side of the fence.

For some reason, one does not associate the trappings of the hustings with the public affairs of the co-eds. If the feverish politics which characterizes so much of the self-government among the men is present with the women they keep it pretty well among themselves.

There is an orderliness and an efficiency is done is highly creditable to the women.

The organization of self-government among the women is more compact and centralized than the plan in use by the men. The machinery seems to be better oiled. Perhaps this is due to the difference in attitude on the part of the men and women toward their respective about the self-government of the women that deserve recognition. The officers do their work thoroughly. This work is no small matter. The enforcement of the S. G. A. regulations is in itself a big job and the success with which this branches of self-government. The women feel that each of their number is an essential part of the system with definite rights and duties and with definite responsibilities to the university. The men are rather inclined to view self-government with suspicion. They are wary of undue interference with their doings and many of them look upon the whole business as "politics."

The women are making good at self-government and they might teach the men a few tricks.

Flying Fish And Neptune Appear In Athletic Mag.

The Minor sports number of the Athletic Review, put on sale at the Chicago basketball game last night, contains a general resume of all minor sports, and a series of feature articles that make it very interesting reading. Sale will be continued on the hill this morning.

"Boy, Page Mr. Neptune," a serious-comic collection of facts on swimming and baths, is quite unique and should have been placed nearer the front of the book. Wisconsin's attitude on professionalism in sports, as long as Coach Tom Jones is head of athletics here, is strongly stated by the coach himself in the leading article.

The center of the book, in one sense at least, is the sports humor section, and the editorial on the inter-sectional athletics question is a strong plea for a reversal of the Wisconsin policy of provincialism in making up sport schedules.

Coach Guy S. Lowman, head of the department of physical education, has an article on the development of gymnastics from the time of the Persians and Greeks to the present decade. He ably compares the United States electric system of physical education with the German and Swedish systems.

Those who have been reading the Lit will find relief in "On Motor-ing" a short story with a subject somewhat irrelevant to college athletics. The story has plenty of action even though the Ford refused to operate.

An imposing view of the gymnasium shown near the front of the magazine will furnish an irresistible appeal to high school athletes and will recall memories of the old days to the minds of Wisconsin graduates.

The minor sports, including swimming, wrestling, tennis, and gymnastics, are covered in a series of one page write-ups. Baseball and track also receive some attention.

O'Shea Joint Author Of Two New Books

Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the education department of the university is joint author, with Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of two books recently published by Macmillan company. These books complete the Every-Day Health series, the first four books of which were published four years ago.

The keynote of health, developed in the books, is that one must keep the body in good repair to get the most out of life. The books are written for use in the public schools and the first ones of the series are used extensively in schools throughout the country.

Professor O'Shea is also editor of "A Manual of Mental Measurement" by Doctor Kuhlman, head of the research department of the Minnesota State Board of Control.

Artistic Program to Be Given March 15

Medieval legends and story-songs in poetry and music will be presented by Madame Marie Lydia Standish, the leading interpreter of French folk lore and Irish legend in America, in concert room of Lathrop hall Wednesday, March 15, under the auspices of Red Domino dramatic society.

Mme. Standish will be arrayed in costumes of beauty and historic fidelity. The musical settings as well as costumes and all details of the production are carried out to artistic perfection. Mme. Standish has appeared in all of the great cities of the country where she has interpreted in costume a town crier of the sixteenth century, a lady of fashion of the crinoline period and other characters and has also delivered clever satires on French married life.

47 States of U. S. Represented Here In '22 Enrollment

Forty-seven out of forty-eight states in the United States are represented in the enrollment of the University of Wisconsin, besides 14 students from the District of Columbia and 147 students from 24 foreign countries.

Nine of the states have many more women than men. Illinois sends 314 women to 288 men, Michigan 74 women to 45 men. Nevada is the only state which has no registration in the enrollment table, and Wyoming has only one.

Out of the total 7344 enrollment, 5204 are residents of Wisconsin, while 2160 are non-resident students. Among the foreign students 16 are women. China and Norway lead the list with 61 and 13 respectively.

Dane county totals 1459 enrolled, 156 of them coming from Madison. Illinois leads in the number of out-of-state students with 602, Iowa has 175, Indiana 149, Minnesota 123, and Michigan 119. Florida has two students, Rhode Island two, Maine two, Georgia three, and Louisiana nine, of whom eight are women.

than one application was received from one student so that only about 400 individual students applied for work the first semester. These applications ranged in nature from clerical work to dish-washing.

The majority of men wanted to wait on tables. A few wished to carry on the trade of draftsmen, or newspaper reporters. One desired a chemical photographic position. Some were willing to be janitors, or do chores, and not a few were willing to do anything. The Y. M. C. A. gave out 840 odd jobs last semester.

These statements show that a fairly large percentage of the men students are doing or trying to do something to help pay their way through college. All of this work given out by the Y. M. C. A. was not permanent. It can be estimated, however, that about 500 men are either entirely or partly working their way through the university.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

BADGERS BEAT MAROONS BY 24-17 COUNT

Both Caesar and Taylor Finish Season Well

Iams gave McGuire a chance to net a point for his team, but Taylor immediately retaliated by tossing a free throw. The Maroons managed to get several short shots at the basket at this time, but Halladay and Dickson could not seem to locate the hoop. Taylor scored three more consecutive points on fouls by Halladay, after which Dickson made the first Maroon counter of the game.

Once Coach Meanwell's men hit their stride, plenty of chances to score were had, but short shots were repeatedly missed. After ten minutes of play, Rollie Williams dribbled through the entire Maroon team for his first basket. Captain Halladay followed with his only counter of the game. Les Gage was substituted for Gibson at this time, and he made his debut by throwing the ball from over his right shoulder into the basket. Jack Williams was sent in to relieve Caesar at this time. Before the period ended, Taylor, Williams, and Dickson each counted once more.

Try to Stage Come-back

The Maroons came back with a rush as the second half opened. After a few minutes of scrimmage, Taylor shook McGuire for an instant and stole up for an easy shot at the basket. The Maroons commenced to lengthen their passes, but the Badger guards did not permit a single short shot at their opponent's basket. Romney made a pretty side shot from a difficult angle, leaving the score 18 to 10.

Both Taylor and McGuire commenced to miss their chances for free throws. The latter employed the same method as in former games, that is, rushing the throw before the Badger players were lined up and giving his own man, Yardley, an open shot at the basket. It worked just once, when the Maroon center counted two points via this method. Gibson was sent back into the game, and he and Caesar each made a basket while the Maroon guards were busy tagging Taylor around the floor. "Cop" and Dickson each made one more counter before the final gun sounded.

Cheer "Cop" and "Duke"

During one of the periods when time was called out in the closing minutes of the last half, twenty-two hundred persons united in giving mighty cheers for Captain Caesar and ex-Captain Taylor. The two forwards were playing their last home game for Wisconsin, and each was playing one of the best battles of his career. Each has captained the team for a season, and the two have formed the nucleus of Badger fives for the past three years.

Between halves, motion pictures were taken, first of a portion of the crowd, and then of the two teams in action. The pictures will be shown at the Strand later in the week.

May Tie for Second

The manner in which the two teams stacked up last night would indicate that Wisconsin will be tied with Michigan for second place in the conference by the end of the week. Should the Meanwellites be in shooting form while performing on the Midway on Saturday night, the Maroons will be beaten by a safe margin.

The summaries are as follows:

Field goals—Wisconsin: Taylor 3, Caesar 1, Gibson 2, Williams 2, Gage 1. Chicago: Dickson 3, Halladay 1, Yardley 1, Romney 1.

Free throws—Taylor, 6 out of 9; McGuire, 5 out of 9.

Substitutions—Wisconsin: Gage for Gibson, Gibson for Gage, J. Williams for Caesar, Caesar for Williams, Gage for Caesar.

Officials—Young, Illinois Wesleyan, referee. Molony, Notre Dame, umpire.

ONE MILE RELAY TEAM FEATURES WIS.-IOWA MEET

Corn State Will Have Strong Team in Fastest Event of Meet

The one mile relay team which set a new mark for the event at the Illinois relays last Saturday will feature in the Wisconsin-Iowa track meet to be held in the annex at 7:30 Saturday night.

Wilson, Brookins, Morrow, and Keppler, the speedy corn state quartet, will stack up against Johnson, Stolley, Spetz, and Wade, in what will be one of the fastest races of the meet. With the Badgers on their own familiar track, the strength of the teams is about equalized.

Colleges Enter Teams

Other novel features of the first Madison meet between the two schools will be two inter-college relays, one a 2-3 mile affair with a team of four men running two laps each, the other a two mile run, each man going a half.

Letters and Science, Agriculture, Commerce, and Engineering have entered teams for the events. News of the Chicago-Wisconsin basketball game which will be played that night at Chicago will be received at the annex by telegraph and announced during the progress of the meet.

Although the Iowans have a strong team this year, the general balance of the Hawkeye aggregation can not compare with that of the Cardinal squad. The Hawks have four good men who can be fairly counted on to place in the coming contest.

Brookins Formidable

Brookins in the dashes is generally conceded to be one of the most promising sprinters in competition today. He won the 75 yard dash against a formidable field at Illinois, and with his combination of excellent form and real speed, he is the man to be feared by Captain Knollin and Ralph Spetz, the Badgers' mainstays in the dash.

Wilson is another sprinter of note. He won the 220 yard dash at the Inter-Collegiate meet in Chicago last spring, and took the 300 yard run at Illinois Saturday. He is a strong man in the quarter mile which he will enter in the meet here this week against Johnson and Stolley.

Peterson in the distance runs, and Hoffman in the high jump, are the two other Iowa stars whose performance ranks among the highest. These men are good but it takes a team to win a meet, and Wisconsin has a team.

Mat Men Prepare For Ames Meet

With the Ames wrestling meet only a few days off, Wisconsin mat men are working steadily under Coach Hitchcock in preparation for what will undoubtedly be the hardest struggle of the season.

Ames has defeated West Virginia, Purdue, Northwestern, Nebraska, and Oklahoma and has yet to meet defeat. Smith, 175-pounder, has been taking all comers at his weight. He is the new find of the Iowa institution.

Wisconsin will start the same team against Ames that was defeated by Chicago here last Saturday. Cattau will compete in the 135-pound class, Captain Peterman is slated to battle in the welter-weight division, and Templin will make 158 pounds for his class. Heuer and Kiessling will be the Badger big men to wrestle Ames heavyweights.

The team has been asked by Coach Mays, of Ames, to weigh in at Ames, Iowa, at 9 o'clock Friday.

Northwestern's athletic record looks like a panoramic photo of a flock of goose eggs. The only thing the Purple has is a good gymnasium. Would that some rich Badger alumnus would wake up in the morning with too many million bucks and offer a new gymnasium. If someone doesn't pretty soon, the old building will come down with a crash that will make the Washington theater wreck sound like the snare drum part in "Poet and Peasant."

Frosh Track Team Elects. Tuhtar. to Yearling Captaincy

Eugene W. Tuhtar was elected captain of the freshman track team at a meeting of the squad Saturday afternoon in the gymnasium office, before the meet with the Iowa frosh. The new leader of the yearlings is the best all-around star on the squad, leading as a high jumper, but doing good work in the dashes, and both the low and high hurdles.

As a representative of Milwaukee north division high school last spring the freshman athlete shattered the State interscholastic high school record in the high jump, with a record leap of 5 feet 10 3-8 inches, bettering the record held by Bob Wahl, a former Badger track star, by 1 3-4 inches.

Throughout the track season this winter the youthful Badger has demonstrated his ability as an all-around cinder performer, and although his work has not been as spectacular as that of other freshman stars in their particular events, his consistent placing in the meets of the year won him the leadership of the yearling team.

In the radio meet with the Hawkeye freshmen, Tuhtar was second high point man with a first in the high jump and a tie for first in the high hurdles. His work in the telegraphic contest with the Illini was also of high calibre, the new captain taking first in both the high jump and the high hurdles. In the frosh-varsity meet, Tuhtar showed up well against the regulars with a fourth place in the high jump. The freshman leader earlier in the season started in the frosh-soph meet, the inter-fraternity meet, and the outdoor college meet at Camp Randall in the fall. He is a competent leader for what Coach Burke terms the best freshman team in years.

All-"U" Gym Meet At Gy mTonight

The all-university gymnastic meet which was postponed, will take place tonight at the gym. Any man in the school is eligible to compete.

This meet will be the last of a series of intra-mural contests, the inter-college meet having been taken by the Engineers, and the inter-class meet by the Juniors. These meets took place within the last two weeks.

The Varsity gymnastic season will close with the all-Conference meet, which will be held here March 16 and 17. The Badger acrobats will journey to Minneapolis this weekend for the dual meet with the University of Minnesota, to be held on Saturday, March 11.

All of the men on the Varsity gym squad are in fine shape at present, with the exception of Hansen, who has a bad wrist which prevents him from doing any work on the various apparatus. The team is badly hampered, however, by the loss through ineligibility, of five of the best men. Although they were defeated last week by Chicago, there is still a chance of beating Minnesota. Chicago is regarded as about the strongest team in the Conference, and a defeat from them is not as bad as it would be from any of the weaker teams.

The Conference championship wrestling bouts will be held in conjunction with the Big Ten gymnastic meet which will be held here next week. For this meet, the four best wrestlers in each weight will be chosen. The representation will not be merely by schools, for the men will be selected by merit alone. These men will be chosen next week, and Coach Schlatter will go to Iowa to participate in the selection, early in the week.

About fifteen schools will probably be represented in the entries for the gymnastic and wrestling meet. Besides the Big Ten, which consists of Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Chicago, Northwestern, Purdue, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio State, and Iowa University, there will probably be entries from Oklahoma, Missouri, Ohio Wesleyan, Nebraska, Iowa College, and Michigan Aggies.

Do you remember these old basketball stars: Levis, Wis.; Haas, Wis.; Kingsley, Minn.; Wyman, Minn.; Norgren, Chicago; Ralph Woods, Ill.; Felmley, Ill.?

BOXING MEET NEARS END IN HEAVY BOUTS

Two Are Champions of Class; Others in Finals

With championships decided in two divisions, and semi-finals run through in the others, which will be settled this afternoon, the annual inter-class boxing tournament advanced toward completion yesterday.

Pushing the fight throughout the three rounds, Leo A. Gould '24 took the title from J. A. Fortier '22 in the finals of the 120 pound division. Ray Moore beat Pearson in the 150 pound class, and Leonard won a decision over Comstock in the semi-finals of the 130 pound division.

120 Pound Fight Fast

Three knockdowns in the first round and plenty of rapid action in the last two made the 120 pound battle the most interesting of the three bouts. The dancing Gould did the leading in each round with his stocky opponent, Fortier, covering and clinching to escape a rain of blows, but occasionally coming back with spurts of rapid mixing in which swats were exchanged indiscriminately. Gould rushed the fight in the last round, and having won the decision in each period was awarded the bout by the judges.

The fight for the 150 pound title was more evenly contested. The veteran Ray Moore took things easily, however, and won the bout with a clear decision in the last two of the three rounds. Pearson fought gamely against his experienced opponent, and the first period resulted in a draw. This bout, characterized by heavy hitting and much clinching, was not as fast as the scrap in the lighter division.

Leonard Still In

To decide an unavoidable draw, Gil Comstock mixed with Leonard in the 130 pound class, and Leonard the winner, will fight Le Veille this afternoon for the championship. The speedy Comstock stepped out as time was called, and the fight started with a rush. A few heavy wallops to the head landed by his heavier opponent, Leonard, took all the pep out of him, however, and the rest of the battle was a struggle on the lighter man's part to keep from being slaughtered. All three rounds went to Leonard.

The remaining three bouts will be settled this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the boxing room of the gymnasium. Men winning in each division will be awarded their class numerals.

Rifle Team Wins 2; Has But 1 Defeat

Two victories and one defeat were chalked up by the Wisconsin R. O. T. C. shooting team as a result of its record made last Saturday in telegraphic competition.

The Badger riflemen beat Northwestern university, 3365 to 3359, and overwhelmed the University of Cincinnati, 3365 to 2528. In its second defeat of the season, Wisconsin lost to Oregon Agricultural college by a margin of 7 points. The final score was 3572 to 3365. Iowa has previously beaten Wisconsin marksmen.

Coach Ray Shire has scheduled seven meets for this week-end. Wisconsin will compete with Gettysburg, New Hampshire, Minnesota, Ripon, Tennessee, Montana and California.

With a record of 381 points, Phil Deicher has the best sharpshooting record. O'Connor and Ruffolo are in second and third places.

The following men formed the team which shot last Saturday: Deicher, O'Connor, Ruffolo, Jones, Katz, Handberg, Bode, Kletzien, Priess, and Rorison.

Nobody knew where cartoonist "Sid" Smith got his famous "Unele Bim" character until Dr. Cook, Minnesota basketball coach, came out into the open. Barnes, Illinois southpaw twirler, may be the original "Andy Gump." Who wants to be "Min?"

Milwaukee Specialist to Speak in Madison

Dr. G. V. Brown, Milwaukee, specialist in reconstruction surgery in the U. S., will speak on "Modern Achievements of Surgery in Reconstruction" at the annual meeting of the Madison General Hospital association at the Woman's building March 14. ## We Buy The First Tube —A Month's Test

Fruit on Teeth

It brings to whole races beautiful teeth, almost immune to decay.

Now dental authorities want every brushing to apply those fruit effects to teeth.

You may try it for a month at our cost, if you will.

Apply It Five Times Daily on a tooth brush, in this delightful way

Dental research has lately discovered the effect that fruit has on teeth.

There are races whose diet is rich in fruit. They have beautiful teeth, almost immune to tooth troubles.

In this climate, where fruit is not a constant diet, 49 in 50 people suffer tooth attacks.

Those facts led to this research. And science now has found the ways in which fruit protects the teeth.

One great effect

Starch deposits on the teeth do a vast amount of damage. They gum the teeth, get between the teeth. And they often long remain there to form acids.

Nature puts ptyalin in the saliva to digest these starch deposits. But that ptyalin is generally too weak.

Now it is found that certain fruits increase that ptyalin up to 12 times over. Thus they create for starch deposits a multiplied attack.

More alkali

Acids cause tooth decay. Nature puts alkalis in the saliva to neutralize those acids as they form. But, with average diet, those alkalis too often lack the power.

Now tests show that certain fruits multiply those alkalis—up to 7 times over. Thus they combat the acids with a sevenfold power.

That is why millions keep sound white teeth through a diet rich in fruit.

A better way

Now dental science has evolved a better way to bring the same results.

The essential fruit elements are embodied in a tooth paste. One may thus apply them regularly and at proper times.

The name of this tooth paste is Dentifruit. It instantly brings in the mouth the needed fruit effects. And it brings them when you need them most, particularly at bedtime.

One month free

It is now desired that everyone should watch these fruit effects. So we supply a month's test to anyone who asks. We buy a full-size tube.

You will enjoy the test. The tooth paste yields a fruity taste. Each use attacks the starch deposits which keep most teeth unclean. It leaves the mouth in alkaline condition, so the after-effects are refreshing.

Day and night you will feel that teeth are being properly cleaned and protected. You will know at once why modern authorities insist on these fruit effects.

Get this free tube and enjoy it.

The Five-Fruit Dentifrice

Based on elements derived from pineapple, orange, pawpaw, grapes and apples.

Made to regularly bring the benefits to teeth which these five fruits would bring. Every application multiplies the tooth-protecting forces in the mouth.

Increases many fold the factors which digest the starch deposits and neutralize the acids.
