St. Peter's Band

Band

The band which led early singing was directed by William Tietz until he was succeeded by Rev. Theodore Eggers when he was our pastor. In 1939, St. Peter's Band merged with Immanuel's to form the Lebanon Band. This group has been active from the time of its twin beginnings to the present, with a reputation greater than its small-town heritage.

It is interesting to note that the band included several multi-generation families. Three generations of the Braasch family have played basshorn. There have been three generations of Schliewes also, Theodore, Edwin, and Wayne.

One can hardly find a better example of the German people's love for music than in the Lebanon Band.
