A. G. WRIGHT'S SHEBOYGAN DIRECTORY 1886 SALUTATORY.

THE second issue of the Sheboygan Directory herewith makes its bid for public favor and approval. Without laying claims to infallibility, it may yet claim to have been gotten up with care; and its imperfections are due to the inherent difficulties of a work of this nature, and not to lack of system or a proper effort to avoid mistakes. It is hoped that it will be found a help and a guide to those using it.

Notwithstanding the general slowness of trade in the past few years, Sheboygan has grown largely. Her population, according to the late census, was about 11,500, while the number of names in this issue of the Directory would indicate a population of over 12,000.

I would thank the business community for the patronage afforded, and trust to deserve its continuance.

A. G. WRIGHT.
