THE UNIVERSITY WEST END CLUB.

In November, 1898, several members of the University faculty living in the western part of the city held an informal meeting to discuss the possibility of organizing themselves into a club for the general purpose of mutual acquaintance and social intercourse. Complete organization was effected on November 17th, and a constitution was adopted. The presidents of the club have been: Walter M. Smith, 1898-1899; H. L. Russell, 1899-1900; E. B. Skinner, 1900-01; O. G. Libby, 1901-02.

The club began with a membership of about fifty, but in the four years of its growth it has nearly doubled its list of members. The original purpose of the club to limit its membership to a definite part of the city has been gradually given up. The matter now rests largely with the executive committee to determine how inclusive the membership is to become. The papers presented to the club have been uniformly excellent, and in range and variety well represent the diversity of interest among its members. The desired social feature of the club has been secured by having the meetings at the homes of the members. The success in past years has shown the need of such an organization as the University West End Club, and seems to indicate that in the future the club will continue to be what it is now, a center of intellectual and social activity for all its members.
