Young people everywhere dream of one day being a UW Badger.
We're doing our part, by supporting academic and athletic programs, to help make those dreams come true.

Badgers Return Home to Face NIU

The Wisconsin football team (5-2, 2-2 Big Ten) takes on Northern Illinois (1-6, 0-4 MAC) today at 11 a.m. This is the Badgers' final non-conference game of the season. The contest will be televised by the Big Ten Network with Wayne Larrivee, Charles Davis and Charissa Thompson handling the commentary.

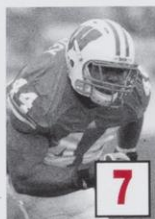

UW is currently receiving votes in both the Associated Press poll and the USA Today/Coaches' Poll. Northern Illinois is not ranked.

The Badgers have dropped consecutive games for the first time in nearly two years, losing on the road to Illinois and Penn State. NIU is in the midst of a three-game losing streak, having dropped the last two by a combined five points.

THE SERIES

This will be the 11th meeting between the two teams with Wisconsin leading the series 9-1 ... all 10 previous games have taken place in Madison ... in the last meeting, on Sept. 14, 2002, the 22nd-ranked Badgers needed a fourth-quarter comeback to defeat NIU 24-21 with quarterback Brooks Bollinger scoring the game-winning TD on a two-yard run with 1:21 left in the fourth quarter ... Wisconsin needed a two-point conversion with 2:09 left to beat the Huskies, 18-17, in 1992 ... the last three meetings between the Badgers and Huskies have been decided by a total of six points ... the Badgers will travel to NIU for the first time on Oct. 24, 2009

Today's Game at Camp Randall

Junior Travis Beckum leads all tight ends in the country in receptions (46) and receiving yards (555). He needs two yards to move into the top 10 on UW's career receiving yards list.

Key Notes to Consider

◆ The Badgers have won 11 straight games (and 22 of the last 23) at Camp Randall Stadium, tied for the fourth-longest home winning streak in school history. It is also the fifth-longest current streak in the country. Wisconsin's last home loss came against Iowa on Nov. 12, 2005.

◆ Since the beginning of the 2004 season only Ohio State has more wins than Wisconsin (36) among Big Ten schools. UW's 36 wins are tied for ninth-most in the country since 2004, behind only USC (41), Texas (39), Auburn (38), LSU (37), Ohio State (37), Boise State (37), Oklahoma (37) and Virginia Tech (37).

Junior Travis Beckum leads all tight ends in the country this season with 46 catches and 555 receiving yards. Over the last three games he has 26 catches for 362 yards.

◆ Including bowl games, UW has won 13 straight games against non-conference opponents. In regular-season play, the Badgers have won 15 games in a row against non-conference foes and 23 of their last 24. Wisconsin has won 16 of its last 17 non-conference home games.

General Notes

◆ Wisconsin has lost consecutive games for the first time since Nov. 5 and Nov. 12, 2005. The last time UW lost three straight games was the final three games of the 2004 season.

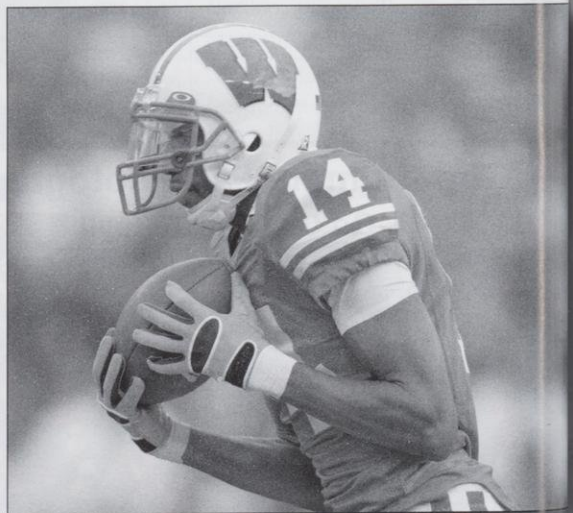

Bret Bielema's 17-1 record to start his head coaching career is the second-best coaching start for a Big Ten coach in history. Only the legendary Fielding Yost of Michigan, who went 55-0-1 from 1901-05, had a better beginning to a career.

◆ Wisconsin is one of three programs in the nation with no more than one home loss since the start of the 2004 season. The Badgers are 22-1 at Camp Randall Stadium during that time. The others are Boise State (23-1) and Southern California (20-1).

◆ During its 11-game home winning streak (since the start of 2006), UW has scored at least 30 points eight times. The Badgers are averaging 32.4 points in those games, compared to 14.5 for their opponents.

◆ Wisconsin was among the top 10 in both polls in each of the first six weeks this season. The last time UW was ranked among the top 10 in each of the first six weeks was 1963.

◆ The Badgers rank fourth in the country in time of possession, holding the ball for an average of 33:11 over the first seven games. In its four conference games, UW is winning the T.O.P. battle 32:53-27:07.

Freshman Kyle Jefferson had a career-high 124 receiving yards last week at Penn State.

Offensive Notes

◆ In just two seasons as a tight end, Travis Beckum has 1,458 career receiving yards, just one yard behind David Charles for 10th place on UW's all-time receiving yardage list. At his current pace, Beckum would become just the third player in Wisconsin history with more than 1,400 yards receiving in a season.

The Badgers have converted 47.5 percent of their third downs this season, third in the Big Ten and good for 14th in the country. UW is also 4-of-7 on fourth down this year (57.1 percent), fifth in the Big Ten.

◆ Freshman Kyle Jefferson set career highs in both receptions (six) and receiving yards (124). The 124 yards were the second-most by a true freshman receiver in UW history, trailing only Brandon Williams, who had 125 yards on Sept. 7, 2002 vs. West Virginia.

◆ Jefferson is averaging 19.7 yards per catch and is responsible for the Badgers' two longest touchdowns this season, a 64-yard reception vs. Michigan State and a 43-yarder at Illinois. His average per catch is the highest in the country among freshmen with at least 300 yards receiving.

◆ QB Tyler Donovan recorded career highs in pass completions (27), attempts (49) and yards (392) at Illinois on Oct. 6.

His 392 passing yards are the third-most in Badger history and the most for a UW player since Darrell Bevell threw for a school-record 423 yards vs. Minnesota (Oct. 23, 1993). His 49 passing attempts were also the third-most in Badger history and the most since Bevell threw the ball 51 times against Iowa (Nov. 18, 1995). Donovan's 27 completions were the fourth-most in school history.

Defensive Notes

◆ UW's defense has allowed 67 points in the second half this season (an average of 9.6), allowing the Badgers to outscore their opponents 89-67 after halftime. The Badgers have allowed an average of 74.6 fewer yards in the second half this season.

◆ True freshman defensive back Aaron Henry recorded a sack against Penn State and leads the team with 3.5 quarterback sacks this season. That is the most for a Badger defensive back in a single season since UW began tracking sacks in 1981.

◆ Junior linebacker Jonathan Casillas leads the Badgers in tackles with 53 this season. He recorded a team-leading 10 tackles at Penn State, his second consecutive double-digit tackle game and fourth of his career.

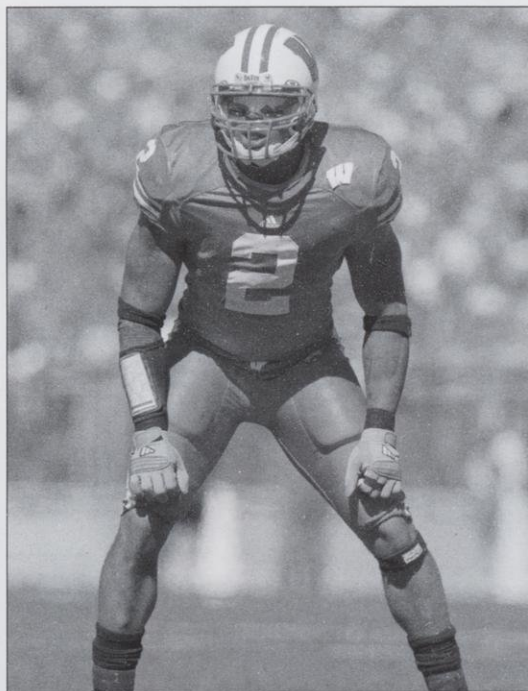

Special Teams Notes

◆ Taylor Mehlhaff has kicked 38 field goals in his career, one behind Mike Allen for third place on UW's career list. He also has 51 field goal attempts in his career, tied with John Hall for fourth all-time. Mehlhaff has connected on 38-of-51 (74.5 percent) of his field goals in his career, the third-best field goal percentage in UW history.

◆ Punter Ken DeBauche has rebounded from a slow start to the season. Over the last four games he has punted 21 times for an average of 44.1 yards per kick. His 8,704 career punting yards are third-most in UW history.

◆ Freshman David Gilreath broke a 60-year school record for kickoff return yardage in a game with seven kickoff returns for 189 yards vs. Michigan State on Sept. 29. The previous record was 178 yards by Clarence Self against Michigan in 1947.

◆ Gilreath needs only 86 yards to break Brandon Williams' school record of 670 kickoff return yards set in 2002. Gilreath has 584 yards on 26 kickoff returns this season.

Captain Jonathan Casillas leads the Badgers in tackles (53) and has had consecutive 10-tackle games coming into today.

Berbee Badger Chronicles

From Friday Walk-Thru Until Game Time

On Fridays, the team has a walk-thru where we finish up with the last practice of the week by making our final game corrections. We have a light practice on the field and we go over the plays and try to best prepare for the looks that we anticipate to get in the game the next day. This is also the most exciting time of the week because we know that the hard part is over, we are all ready, and all we have to do now is go play and let it loose on Saturday. After the walk-thru we all go shower and then we get on the bus and go to the hotel.

The night before the game we stay in the hotel to get our minds and our focus on the game and on the game only. Our ritual is to have dinner, a team meeting, watch a movie in our rooms, and then run down for a snack right before lights out. Dinner is usually the same, salad, chicken, steak, mashed potatoes, spaghetti and clam chowder. That is usually followed by a very healthy dessert of cookies and ice cream. Afterwards is the team meeting, which usually consists of Coach B giving the team a speech, something about eagles (inside joke), followed by a quick meeting with the position coach and then off to your rooms to watch a movie and relax with your roommate.

I room with Billy Rentmeester and we usually have nothing better to do than to talk about things that no one else in the world would find interesting. We also have our ritual where we call Marcus Randle El's room and sing songs to him as he hangs the phone up on us. That is usually followed by me just sitting there on my bed while Billy talks to his girl on the phone and whispers sweet nothings into her ear. After an hour or so of fooling around in the room we usually take a look at the film of the opposing defense on my laptop and then I usually get some work done for class or try and write this. Finally, at the end of the night, we lie together in bed and watch a movie. I think the official name for that is called Fullback Spooning. By the way I am just kidding. No seriously, I am kidding.

Anyhow, I guess that leads us to the following morning before we get ready for the big show in front of all of our Badger fans in Camp Randall Stadium. We usually receive a wake-up call and shortly after get a very hard knock on our door. That's really annoying, but very necessary, because I heard that in the years past, a player missed the call and had slept in. We then have breakfast and team service given by Father Mike, followed by a Hit Tape. The Hit Tape is a quick film put together by our film crew to get us amped up for the game. It usually works

Junior Chris Pressley is the Badgers' starting fullback. After missing the entire season last year due to a leg injury, Pressley is healthy again and starting in the Badgers' backfield. In addition to his work on the football field, Pressley has a number of interests. He is very active in community service and, as a business major, made a trip to China this past summer to further his studies. Every week this season, Chris will give fans an inside look at the Badger football team, taking them inside the locker room and into the huddle.

and they do a really good job with those. We then drive to the Camp Randall Arch and walk to the locker room a few hours before the game.

The locker room is usually quiet and most guys have their headphones on listening to their game music. I usually start off by listening to gospel to get me right and then I put on some typical hype music to get my blood flowing a little more. As we start getting called out for warm-up, our focus is really on the game as we take the field for the last time before the game starts. Our warm-up is really fun and just really is a chance to get a look at the other team and get psyched up with your teammates about the beauty that is about to occur. Finally we call it in and go back to the locker room and do our last-minute rituals before the game.

The Moment is Here

Finally, the moment comes when you walk out of the locker-room to the tunnel and down to the field. I must say that this is the second-best part of the day, besides the victory. As you walk out, you hear the fans roaring, the band playing, and see the student section just going nuts. This is a climactic moment and inside you know, 'It's Game Time.' When you look around at the stadium, and see all of the people cheering for your team, you want to go out and perform for them because you are on center stage. I always think to myself, "Wow, look at where the good Lord has brought me." Lastly, there is the kickoff, and the game begins. By the way, Badgers win!

Chancellor John D. Wiley

Chancellor John D. Wiley has more than four decades of experience with the University of Wisconsin-Madison, having been a graduate student, a professor, and an administrator during his illustrious university career. Assuming office on January 1, 2001, he is the 27th person to lead the university since its founding in 1848.

As UW-Madison's chief executive officer, Wiley is responsible for the overall vision and direction of the university. He represents the institution for a variety of constituents, including alumni groups, chambers of commerce and service clubs, the state legislature and governmental bodies, the UW System Administration, and the UW System Board of Regents. A prominent figure in higher education, he chairs both the Big Ten Council of Presidents and Chancellors and the board for the Council on Higher Education Accreditation, and is a member of the National Security Higher Education Advisory Committee. He also serves on several local and community boards, including the William T. Evjue Foundation and the Greater Madison Chamber of Commerce. He also has been deeply involved in fundraising from individual and corporate donors and charitable foundations.

From 1994-2000, Wiley served as UW-Madison's provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. In this role as the university's chief operating officer and deputy chancellor, he worked closely with deans, faculty, academic staff, and student committees in the exercise of shared governance and the overall management of the institution. Prior to becoming provost, he was dean of the Graduate School and the university's senior research officer, and from 1986-89, he served as associate dean for research in the College of Engineering.

Wiley received his bachelor's degree in physics from Indiana University in 1964. He attended graduate school at UW-Madison as a National Science Foundation Fellow, receiving master's and doctoral degrees in physics in 1965 and 1968, respectively. He joined the technical staff of Bell Telephone Laboratories at Murray Hill, N.J., from 1968-1974, and then spent a year at the Max Planck Institute in Stuttgart, Germany as an awardee of the Alexander von Humboldt Senior U.S. Service Award for Research and Training.

Joining the UW-Madison faculty in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering in August 1975, Wiley began a productive career in teaching and research, focusing on topics related to semiconductors and other materials and processes important to the electronics field. He is a co-founder of several highly successful research centers, including the Center for X-ray Lithography and the Engineering Research Center for Plasma-Aided Manufacturing. From 1982-86, he chaired the Materials Science Program, a graduate-level, interdepartmental-committee program for master's and doctoral degrees.

A LETTER FROM CHANCELLOR WILEY

Camp Randall Stadium has the look of a winner, with its updated fan-friendly atmosphere. The stadium is a source of Wisconsin pride, but it is our fans and their rich history of loyalty that makes any Badger sporting event a truly special occasion.

Our student-athletes are also winners—on and off the field. On the playing fields, we've had many victories and championships to celebrate. And in the classroom, intercollegiate sports teams set record highs for team grade point averages in 2006-07. Ten teams had a record high fall term GPA, and five teams set highs in the spring semester. 182 student-athletes achieved Academic All-Big Ten status and 90 graduated in December and in May ceremonies.

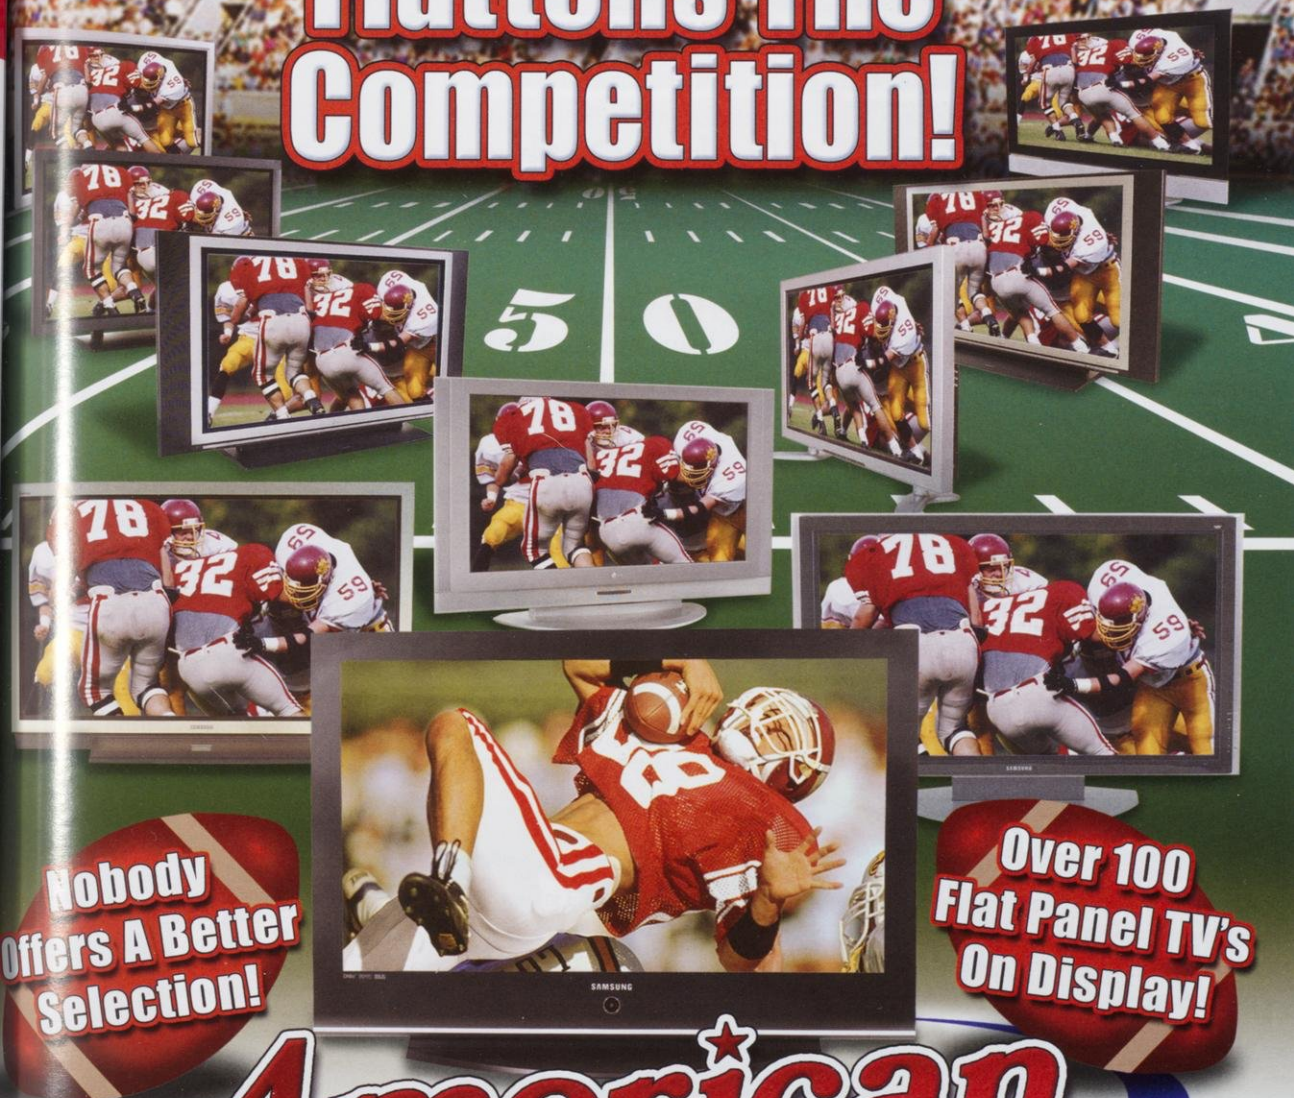

I am committed to helping ensure that our teams achieve the highest standards of excellence, not just in competition, but also in integrity, values and character.

In addition, athletics offers the university another opportunity to connect with alumni and friends.

Thanks for backing the Badgers and On Wisconsin!

Director of Athletics Barry Alvarez

Barry Alvarez is in his fourth year as Director of Athletics at the University of Wisconsin and second without the additional title of head football coach. Alvarez, who began his career as athletic director in April of 2004, served as athletic director and football coach in 2004-05 and in 2005-06.

Alvarez's first year as Director of Athletics (without the football duties) was a memorable one as Wisconsin won four national titles (men's cross country, men's and women's hockey and women's lightweight rowing) during the 2005-06 athletic campaign. The Badgers also won five conference titles.

The UW maintained its winning ways in 2006-07 with the men's track and field team winning its first NCAA title. The women's hockey team repeated as NCAA champions as Wisconsin finished 16th in the Directors' Cup rankings.

Badger student-athletes also showed their capabilities off the field of play during the fall of 2007 when they registered the highest cumulative grade point average for a fall term in department history. Thirteen teams also finished with record high grade point averages for either the fall or spring semester.

Alvarez guided Wisconsin's football fortunes for 16 seasons (1990-2005). He has been at the forefront of the revival of the Badger athletic program during his entire tenure in Madison. He piloted Wisconsin to three Big Ten and Rose Bowl titles (including back-to-back in 1998-99) en route to becoming the winningest football coach in school history (118-73-4 record).

Alvarez was just the 10th coach in Big Ten history to win 100 games at one conference institution. His 8-3 (.727) record in bowl games with the Badgers is the best in college football history (among coaches with at least 11 bowl appearances). The 2004 AFCA Region 3 Coach of the Year, he also was the 1993 national coach of the year, a two-time (1993 and 1998) Big Ten coach of the year and a finalist for ESPN's coach of the decade (1990s) honor.

Alvarez is a 1969 graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he played linebacker and went on to earn his master's degree. He received a Distinguished Alumnus Award from his alma mater in 2003.

Alvarez and his wife Cindy are co-campaign chairs in the effort to bring a Gilda's Club, a free support center for families dealing with cancer, to Madison. Alvarez also serves on the board of directors for the MACC Fund (Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer).

Alvarez and his wife are the parents of three children—daughters Dawn (Mrs. Brad Ferguson) and Stacy (Mrs. Mike Delzer); son Chad (wife Stephanie). Barry and Cindy are grandparents to Joe and Jake Ferguson; Grace and Jackson Delzer; and Scarlet and Barry John Thomas Alvarez.

Head Coach Bret Bielema

One would be hard-pressed to draw up a better head coaching debut than the one Wisconsin's Bret Bielema fashioned in 2006.

The third-youngest head coach in Bowl subdivision football, Bielema has proven that age is just a number. He has shown that determination, hard work, organization and enthusiasm—all traits Bielema embodies—count the most when sizing up an individual's qualifications.

Bielema guided the Badgers to a 12-1 overall record and 7-1 mark in the Big Ten (good for a second-place tie with Michigan). Wisconsin capped its record-setting 2006 season with a 17-14 win over Arkansas in the 2007 Capital One Bowl. No previous Wisconsin team had won more than 11 games in a season. In addition, Bielema became just the third rookie head coach in NCAA Division I history to pilot his team to 12 victories.

Bielema's efforts were rewarded when he was named the 2006 Dave McClain Big Ten Coach of the Year. Bielema also was named one of five finalists for the Bear Bryant National Coach of the Year Award and was a finalist for the 2006 Schutt Sports Division IA Coach of the Year Award.

Wisconsin surprised most observers outside the program by setting school records for overall wins (12) and regular-season victories (11), as well as tying the UW mark for conference victories (seven). The Badgers did it with a defensive unit that ended the 2006 regular season ranked among the top three nationally in pass defense, pass efficiency defense, total defense and scoring defense. And they did it with an offense led by a pair of seniors (QB John Stocco and All-America tackle Joe Thomas), a young but talented offensive line, the Big Ten Freshman of the Year (P.J. Hill) at tailback and an emerging corps of receivers, including John Mackey Award semifinalist Travis Beckum.

Bielema was Wisconsin's defensive coordinator in 2004 and 2005, a period in which the program produced a 19-6 record under former head coach Barry Alvarez. The 2004 Badgers were sixth nationally in scoring defense and ninth in total defense. The 2005 club, which earned Wisconsin's first shutout since 1999, finished its 10-win season with a 24-10 victory over No. 7 Auburn in the 2006 Capital One Bowl; UW limited the high-powered Tigers to just 236 yards of total offense.

During Bielema's two years guiding the Badger defense, two players (DE Erasmus James and DB Jim Leonhard) earned first-team All-America honors and two others (DT Anttaj Hawthorne and DB Scott Starks) were first-team All-Big Ten selections. While coaching the Badgers' linebackers, Bielema developed Mark Zalewski and Dontez Sanders, both of whom earned honorable mention all-conference acclaim.

Bielema was co-defensive coordinator at Kansas State under former head coach Bill Snyder from 2002-03. The Wildcats were 22-6 during Bielema's time there and finished in the top 10 nationally (in both 2002 and 2003) in scoring and total defense. The Wildcats won their first Big 12 title in 2003. Among Bielema's standout players at Kansas State were first-team All-American Josh Buhl, 2003 NFL second-round draft pick Terry Pierce and second-team All-Big 12 selection Bryan Hickman.

Prior to his years at Kansas State, Bielema spent nine seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Iowa, where he worked for head coaches Hayden Fry and Kirk Ferentz. The 1997 Hawkeyes posted three shutouts and ranked No. 4 nationally in scoring defense. Bielema coached Fred Barr (first-team All-Big Ten), Vernon Rollins and Matt Hughes (both honorable mention All-Big Ten) at Iowa.

Head coaches for whom Bielema has worked—Alvarez, Snyder, Ferentz and Fry—have combined to win 553 games and guide their teams to 42 bowl games, so the second-year Badger mentor has learned from some of the best in the business. The last four teams (2002-06) for which Bielema has coached accumulated a 53-13 record.

Bielema earned four letters (1989-92) after joining the Iowa football program as a walk-on. He earned a scholarship after his first year and was a member of Iowa's 1990 Big Ten championship team. A starter as a junior in 1991, he was a team co-captain as a senior. Bielema signed a free agent contract with the Seattle Seahawks and later completed his playing career with the Milwaukee Mustangs of the Arena Football League. Bielema has participated in 10 bowl games as a player or coach.

A 1992 graduate of Iowa with a bachelor's degree in marketing, Bielema was born in Prophetstown, Ill., on Jan. 13, 1970.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT BRET BIELEMA

"I can say with great confidence that Bret Bielema was the perfect person for me to hand off the head-coaching duties to. Bret, above all, is enthusiastic and knowledgeable about the game of football. He's been around success his entire life. He has tremendous rapport with players and coaches. He's a tireless worker and I feel as though he's a rising star in our profession."

Barry Alvarez
Wisconsin Director of Athletics and former Badger head football coach

"Barry showed great wisdom in selecting Bret Bielema as the next head coach at Wisconsin."

Hayden Fry
Former Iowa head coach

"Coach Bielema always has something about football in front of him. His commitment is higher than any coach I have ever seen. His personal and social skills with us were tremendous. He knew what we were thinking almost as we thought it."

Joe Stellmacher
Former Badger starting strong safety

"(Bielema) has been aggressive, creative and not the least bit intimidated. He has had his team ready to play every week. He has showed the kind of moxie you'd expect from a former farmhand, walk-on, team captain and self-made coaching prodigy."

Andy Baggot
Wisconsin State Journal (Nov. 18, 2006)

"Bret is one of the brightest young coaches in America. His experience in the Big Ten as a player, assistant and coordinator allows him to have a clear understanding of what needs to be done to win at the highest level. In addition, he has been very fortunate to work for three legendary coaches: Hayden Fry, Bill Snyder and, of course, Barry Alvarez."

DelVaughn Alexander

Interim WRs Coach

DelVaughn Alexander will be coaching the Badger wide receivers for the 2007 season. He will be an interim coach this season and has signed a six-month contract with the University of Wisconsin.

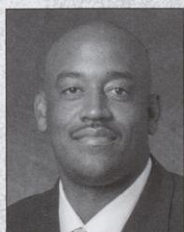

Alexander most recently has been running backs coach, assistant travel coordinator, assistant special teams coordinator and NCAA rules representative at the University of San Diego. The 2005 San Diego offense was ranked No. 1 in the nation in Division I-AA and won its conference title. Prior to that he was wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at Oregon State during the 2003-04 season. Alexander coached first-team all-conference selections in each of his two years with the Beavers.

Alexander coached wide receivers and quarterbacks for three seasons (2000-02) at UNLV. He was passing game coordinator in 2000-01. Alexander-coached players earned first-team All-Mountain West accolades in each of his three years there.

Alexander was also at UNLV for the 1998 season where he coached first-team all-conference choice Lenny Ware before spending 15 months (March 1999 to July 2000) with the San Diego Chargers. Alexander was a senior offensive assistant (running backs) with the Chargers and also had responsibilities with quality control, video analysis, opponent summaries and self scout.

Alexander was a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater, Southern California, from June 1995 to February 1998.

Alexander lettered in football and track at USC and earned a bachelor's degree in social sciences / history in 1995. He played for two bowl-winning teams (1992 Freedom Bowl and 1994 Cotton Bowl) and has coached for four bowl-winning squads (1996 Rose Bowl, 2000 and 2003 Las Vegas Bowls and 2004 Insight.com Bowl).

Craig Knoche

Graduate Assistant (Offense)

Craig Knoche is currently in his first year as a graduate assistant coach with the Wisconsin football team.

The Chicago, Ill., native came to the Badgers in the spring of 2007 as an offensive student assistant.

Prior to coming to Wisconsin, Knoche was an assistant to the offensive staff for the Stanford football program in 2006. Knoche was also the wide receivers coach at North Park University in Chicago from 2004-05.

Knoche was a three-time letter winner as a wide receiver at Illinois Wesleyan University in Bloomington, Ill. In 2002, Knoche graduated Magna Cum Laude from Illinois Wesleyan with degrees in mathematics and Spanish. In 2006, he earned his master's degree in pure mathematics from the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Jake Sprague

Graduate Assistant (Defense)

Former Wisconsin defensive lineman Jake Sprague is in his second season as a graduate assistant coach at his alma mater.

Sprague works with the Badger defense.

Sprague, who spent some time in the NFL (Tennessee and N.Y. Giants) after his career at UW, completed work on his bachelor's degree in history in 2006. He currently is working toward a master's degree in education administration.

A native of Oak Creek, Wis., Sprague had 115 tackles in 41 games for the Badgers from 1998-2002. He earned honorable mention All-Big Ten honors in 2002 and was a member of the Badgers' Big Ten and Rose Bowl championship teams in 1998 and 1999.

Bill Naves

Assistant AD / Football Operations

Bill Naves is in his second year as assistant athletic director/director of football operations at Wisconsin.

Naves is responsible for team logistics and day-to-day operations. That includes organizing fall camp, team game weekend arrangements (home and away), weekly team schedules, bowl game preparations, spring football schedule and logistics, as well as high school football camps, assisting with recruiting functions and additional external relations activities.

Naves joined the Seahawks in 1999 (he went with head coach Mike Holmgren from Green Bay to Seattle) as administrative assistant/football operations. Among his duties were the organization and operation of the team's mini-camps and training camp; assistance with the team's group travel operations; and creation of team operations schedules.

Naves was promoted to football operations coordinator/team travel in February of 2000. In that role he was responsible for all aspects of the team's group travel, including budget, team charters, hotel accommodations, meal arrangements and ground transportation. He continued to organize the Seahawks' mini-camps and training camps along with the creation and implementation of team operations schedules.

Naves was an administrative assistant/football operations for the Green Bay Packers from 1997-99. He organized the Packers' mini-camps and training camps, assisted with team travel, practice organization and team operations. He was an intern with the Packers' Super Bowl team in January of 1997.

A program associate for the Wisconsin football team from May of 1994 until April of 1997, Naves assisted with advance travel, recruiting, community outreach and coaches support for the Badgers. Naves was a student manager for the Wisconsin football team from 1989-94.

Naves is a 1994 graduate of UW-Madison with a degree in history. He is a native of Boyd, Wis. He and his wife, Paige, have a daughter, Natalia (2).

We'll Treat You Like Family

presented by Johnson Bank

Sophomore Defensive Back Chris Eernisse

If you met him, you'd wonder where sophomore Grafton, Wis., native and wall-on Chris Eernisse, got his humble demeanor, easy-going nature, brains and athleticism from. A running joke in the Eernisse family, Chris' father Mike would tell you one thing, while his mother Brenda would tell you another.

Valedictorian of his high school class, graduating with a 4.0 GPA, Eernisse has goals of attending medical school to pursue a career in sports medicine. Named first-team all-conference as a wide receiver and defensive back, while also earning a gold medal at the Wisconsin state track and field championships as a senior in the 3200-meter relay, Eernisse is as natural an athlete as they come.

"I always want to say the kids (Chris and his older brother David) got their athletic ability from me and their smarts from their mother," Mike said jokingly. "But I think too that a lot of Christopher's athletic ability and speed came from having his older brother always inviting him to play."

Married 27 years, both parents agree that Chris' motivation has been his key to success in the classroom and on the field.

"He has worked so hard to get everything he has earned," Brenda said. "He is so motivated and disciplined that he has really gotten it on his own."

Chris is quick to chime in that his family is a big support system for him, which is one of the reasons why he gave them four season Badger football tickets.

"My mom, dad, brother and sister-in-law, Tanya, are signed up for the season," Chris said. "I gave them to those four because they always supported me throughout high school and still do. I want to let them enjoy the game and time in Madison."

Growing up, the family of four was always looking for activities to do together. From going to Noah's Arc in the summer, to taking trips to Lake Chelan in Washington, to planning hunting trips up north, spending time together was of the upmost importance.

"Family is really important to us," Brenda said. "Hunting means a lot because my husband just loves it. It is one of his favorite things to do and to have the kids join him has been a good experience for him and the kids."

From deer hunting to pheasant hunting to turkey hunting, the family tries it all. This year, Chris is planning to make it home to hunt for the first time in years since he missed a big buck when he was 15 or 16 years old.

"I am going to try and go with my dad for opening gun season this year," Chris said. "We are pretty pumped about that. When I was younger I would go because my dad wanted me to, and that was when I had a lot of free time. Now, being a student-athlete, I hadn't realized how nice it is to have free time, which is why I am excited for this year and I think he is too."

Brenda knows her husband is excited for the father-son hunting trip.

"He is really looking forward to Christopher coming back," she said. "He really wants to try and get him a buck, and Christopher wants so much to put a trophy on the wall for his dad."

Nowadays, time spent together is truly cherished in the Eernisse family. Brenda and Mike enjoy having both sons come back, while Chris enjoys having his family visit in Madison. And to this day, although it has gotten harder over the years, even birthdays, a family tradition of sorts, remain special and are celebrated together.

"When they were younger, we would let the kids pick what they wanted to do on their special day," Brenda said. "We kind of got away from that, but are hoping to get back into it and still try to get together for birthdays. Maybe not on that particular day, but at some point we always try to celebrate it, because life is too short."

Today, Chris remains close with everyone in his family, including his brother David who lives just two blocks away from where the boys grew up in Grafton.

"We started to really get along a year or two before David got married in 2006," Chris said. "We had gotten really close, and now I'd say we are the closest we have ever been because of Badger football and being able to relate more stuff instead of just being the older and younger brother."

"Our daughter-in-law has really brought the three of them close together," Brenda added. "Christopher and David are more like friends than brothers."

And in May, a new Eernisse will be joining the family.

"I'll be an uncle," Chris said. "I'm pretty pumped about that."

Gameday at Wisconsin ...

There's Nothing Else Like It

In 2005, Sports Illustrated on Campus said that Wisconsin has the best gameday atmosphere in the Big Ten Conference. That's quite a statement, but that may not go far enough. The fact is there may not be a better way to experience college football than spending a day at Wisconsin's fabled Camp Randall Stadium.

First of all, Wisconsin fans love a good time and they love to watch the Badgers win. There are plenty of both at Camp Randall. Badger backers arrive early – they are legendary tailgaters – and stay late, with thousands remaining inside the stadium to sing and dance as the UW Marching Band conducts its festive "5th Quarter" routine.

And there is nothing like the often-imitated-but-never-duplicated madness that is "Jump Around." Between the third and fourth quarters of every home game, thousands of Wisconsin fans, band members (and sometimes even players) jump to the 1990s hip-hop tune by House of Pain. The stadium rocks and rolls and shakes and bakes!

Badger fans are also loyal. Camp Randall Stadium has witnessed crowds of at least 70,000 in every game since the 1993 season-opener, a span of 14 years and 88 games. Seventy-eight of those games have been sellouts, including the last 25 in a row. The stadium record was set at the 2005 Iowa game when 83,184 fans packed the facility for former head coach Barry Alvarez's final game.

A Wisconsin football gameday experience is a tradition that has been handed down from generation to generation of Badger fans. From the cooking of brats to the marching of the band, from the singing of "Varsity" and the "Bud Song" to the chants of "Rooooonnn Daaaynnne!," from the ghosts of Crazylegs and the Horse to more recent heroes like Alvarez, Panos and Evans, the Badger gameday experience is a happening that any fan of college football will relish.

"But the thing that really stands out about Wisconsin is how the team is just such an integral part of the community there. In a lot of ways, Camp Randall is what college football is all about."

– Ron Smith, author of
Every Saturday in Autumn

Since the expansion of Camp Randall Stadium prior to the 2004 season, UW has averaged 82,057 fans at its home games. The Badgers have ranked among the top 15 nationally in attendance in each of the past three seasons.

Since 1992, Wisconsin has compiled a 69-23-3 (.742) record at Camp Randall Stadium. Over the past three years, the Badgers are 1-0 in home games.

MOST WINS DURING PAST THREE SEASONS

Wisconsin is one of just 10 schools in the nation to have won at least 30 games over the past three seasons. The winningest teams in Division I-A football since the start of the 2004 season are:

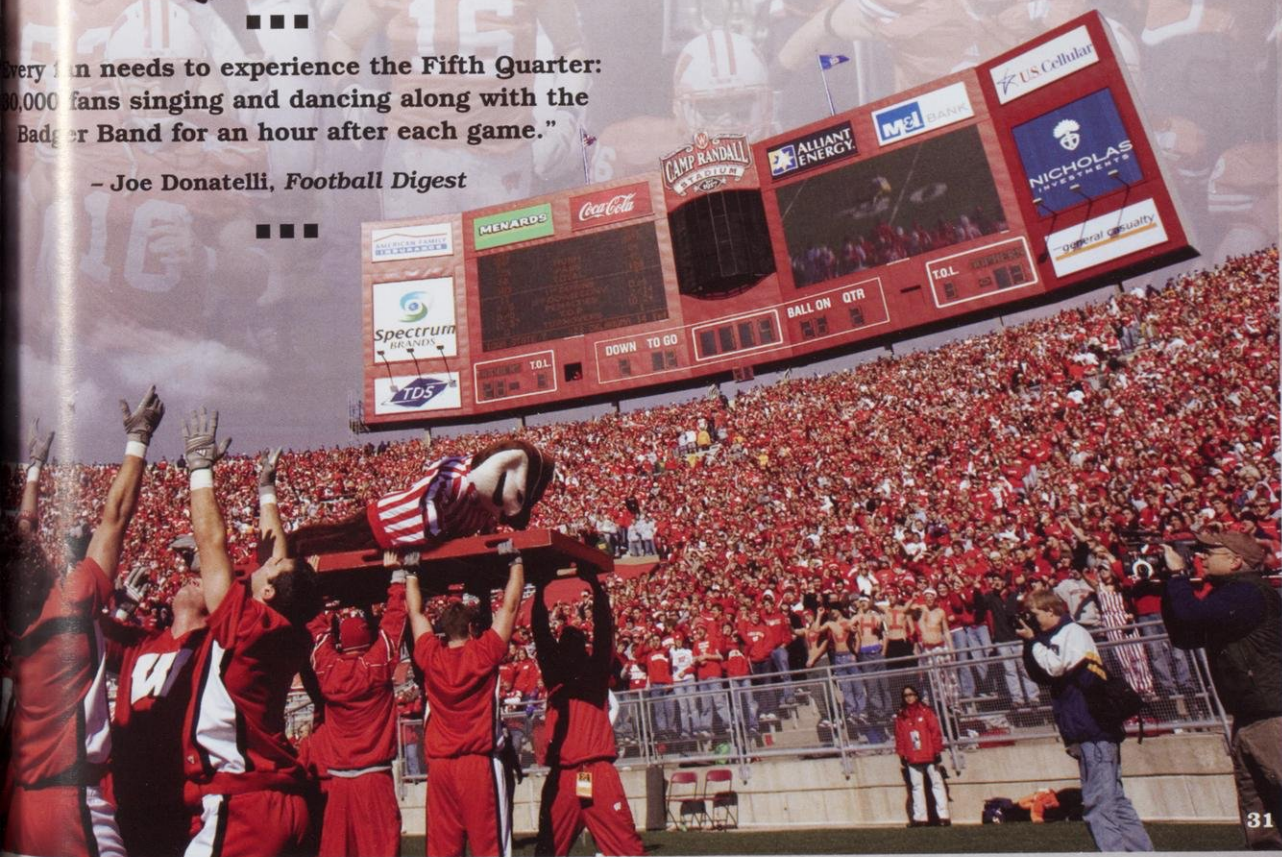

Southern California	36-3
Texas	34-4
Auburn	33-5
Boise State	33-5
Louisville	32-5
WISCONSIN	31-7
LSU	31-7
Oklahoma	31-8
Virginia Tech	31-8
Ohio State	30-7

Over the past three seasons, Wisconsin is 18-1 in games at Camp Randall Stadium. The Badgers have outscored their opponents 595-232 in those games for an average margin of victory of 19.1 points.

Every fan needs to experience the Fifth Quarter: 30,000 fans singing and dancing along with the Badger Band for an hour after each game."

— Joe Donatelli, Football Digest

What Are They Thinking?

PLAYERS' POLL

On Media Day in August, members of the UW football team answered some questions for the Badger Gameday Football Program. This week we find out who the players think is the has the best hair on the team.

Player, position	Pct. of Votes
James Kamoku, linebacker	27.5%
Andy Crooks, tight end	20.3%
Ken DeBauche, punter	13.0%
Aubrey Pleasant, safety	11.6%

The only other player to get more than two votes was linebacker Culmer St. Jean ... all but two of DeBauche's votes included the qualifier "before he was bald" ... the vote was pretty much split offense/defense as Crooks got twice as many votes as Kamoku from his offensive brethren but Kamoku doubled up Crooks on the defensive vote.

Linebacker James Kamoku, a native of Kailua-Kona, Hawaii, outdistanced Wausau, Wis., native and fellow fifth-year senior Andy Crooks for title of "best hair on the team."

Inside Their Heads

We asked five Badgers the same six questions. Even though they're all on the same team, you can see they all think a little differently.

Player / Coach	Quote To Live By	When I Get Free Time, I Try To ...	Favorite Cartoon Character	If I Could Switch Positions I Would Be A ...	Most Famous Person I've Met	Every Time I Get on a Plane I ...
RB Coach John Settle	Don't be fooled by a calendar, a day is what you make of it	Spend Time With Family	Elmer Fudd	Linebacker (Settle was a RB in the NFL)	Jim Brown	Pray
Right Guard Kraig Urnik	Keep On Keepin' On	Sleep	Tweety Bird	Linebacker	Muhammed Ali	Look out the window
Running Back P.J. Hill	Pain Pays	Sleep	Mickey Mouse	Wide Receiver	Ricky Williams	Sleep
Left Guard Andy Kemp	Respect everyone, fear no one	Watch TV	Tasmanian Devil	Fullback	Ahman Green and William Henderson	Eat
Wide Receiver Marcus Randle El	Do unto others as you would have them do to you	Play video games	Bugs Bunny	Cornerback	Snoop Dogg	Sleep

Camp Randall Stadium ...

Home of the Badgers

One of college football's finest facilities — Camp Randall Stadium — completed a four-year, $109 million renovation prior to the 2005 football season. The improvements are plentiful: new FieldTurf, new suites and club seats, new video scoreboards, new offices, increased seating capacity and better fan amenities like concession areas, restrooms and traffic flow.

The enhancements have not detracted from Camp Randall's charm but rather the stadium's character has been enhanced greatly by the improvements, ensuring that future generations of Badger fans will have a first-rate facility at which to watch the Badgers play on Saturdays.

Camp Randall was originally used as a Civil War training site. In fact, some 70,000 soldiers trained at the camp, which also included a hospital and a prison for Confederate soldiers on its grounds. Named for Alexander Randall, the state of Wisconsin's first wartime governor, Camp Randall Stadium opened in 1917 and was officially dedicated when the Badgers defeated Minnesota, 10-7, on Nov. 3.

Badger Nickname

The nickname "Badgers" was borrowed from the state of Wisconsin, which was dubbed the "Badger State." The name didn't come from the animals in the region, but rather from an association with lead miners in the 1820s. Without shelter in the winter, the miners had to "live like Badgers" in tunnels burrowed into hillsides.

Bucky Badger

Although badgers in various forms had been the University of Wisconsin mascot for decades, the version that is currently known as Bucky, sporting a cardinal and white sweater, was first drawn in 1940 by professional illustrator Art Evans.

In 1949, a student wore a badger outfit with a papier-mâché head at the homecoming game. A pep rally was held to determine the mascot's name—Buckingham U. Badger.

Bud Song

An integral part of any Wisconsin band performance is the playing of the Bud song. The tune is a spinoff of the song "You've said it all," a jingle with words and music originally written by Steve Karen for Budweiser beer commercials. The song has become legendary at the UW because of its polka-like rhythm.

Fifth Quarter

The Wisconsin band has become nationally famous for its post-game celebration called the Fifth Quarter. Win or lose, fans sing, dance and cheer the band as it plays traditional favorites like "On, Wisconsin" and the Bud song.

On, Wisconsin

The tune was composed in 1909 by William Purdy, with the words written by UW alumnus Carl Beck, who rewrote them in 1951. Some 2,500 schools and colleges have adopted the music and changed the words to suit their needs.

Hall of Fame

The UW Athletic Hall of Fame was established in 1991 to recognize and honor former student athletes and staff for their exemplary athletic achievement and contributions to the University of Wisconsin Athletic Department.

Badgers Give Back

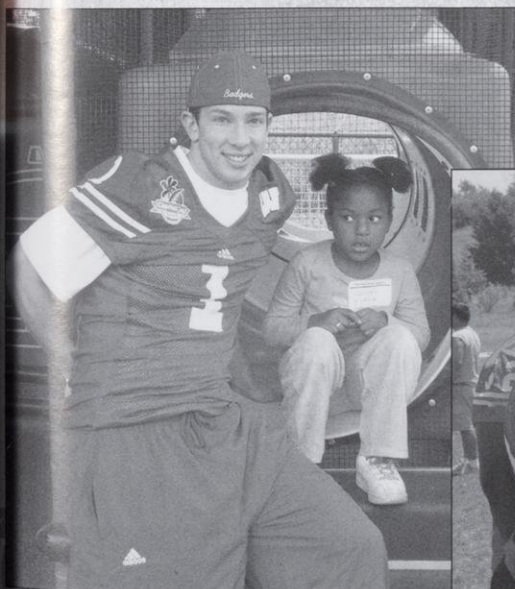

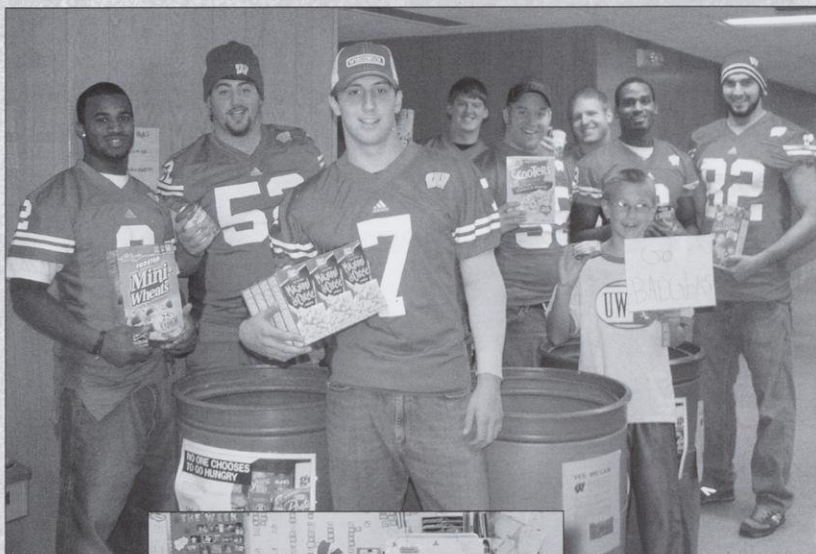

The Wisconsin Department of Athletics has a number of teams that regularly contribute to the city via outreach programs. The Madison community is truly supportive of the UW-Madison athletic teams and their student-athletes.

In appreciation for that support, many student-athletes volunteer frequently in community service projects. Every season, the football team works together on a number of community service projects to give back to Madison.

Two of the biggest events for children and adults alike are the annual Family Fun Days held twice a year, in August before the season starts and prior to the Spring Game. Fans are invited to mingle with the Badger players and get pictures and autographs.

In addition, players often visit elementary schools and children's hospitals. Picture on this page are visits that seniors Ken DeMauche and Chris Pressley made to a local Madison elementary school to read Dr. Seuss books to the children.

In 2005, seniors Jonathan Orr and Joel News helped organize the "Yes, We Can" campaign. The UW football team, the Madison School District's Elementary Schools and the Community Action Coalition in South Central Wisconsin teamed up to assist the hungry in the Madison community. Food drives have also been held in conjunction with home games and the annual Spring Game.

Getting to Know ...

Freshman Running Back Zach Brown

Freshman Zach Brown isn't just a football player for the Badgers. The running back has another hidden talent, namely bowling.

"I started bowling when I was a freshman in high school," Brown said. "It became a real big thing and I started to get better at it."

The Royal Palm, Fla., native averages around a 202, but his high game was a 230.

Although Brown has not found time to bowl since he's moved to Wisconsin because it is "strictly football up here," back home he bowled in a league and made the sport a weekly routine with his football friends.

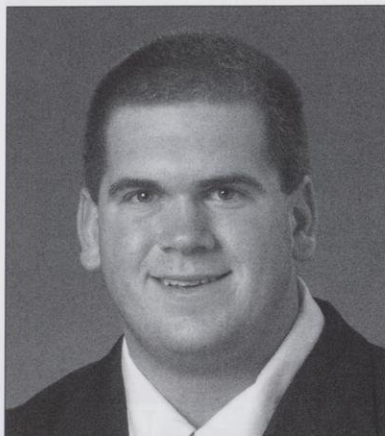

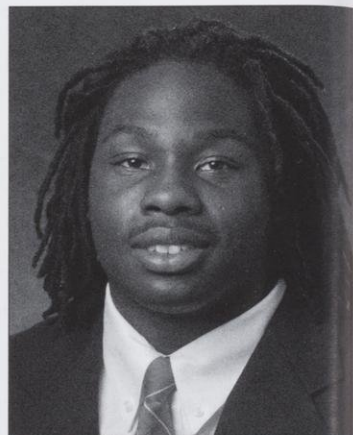

"Every Sunday we would bowl with the league and then, with my friends, we would go every Friday night when football season was over."

When asked if he was the best out of his group of friends he laughed, remembering the bowling competitions he used to have.

"I had another friend (who was good). Me and him went back and forth (all the time). But he was the one who got me started playing."

And his bowling ball of choice? His very own 16-pounder.

Laughing, Brown said proudly of his bowling ball, "It is blue with glitter on it."

Sophomore Defensive Lineman Jeff Stehle

Hailing from Constantia, N.Y., the sophomore defensive lineman did not always want to be a football player.

"I started basketball when I was younger, a lot earlier than football," Stehle said. "I remember playing with my brother and my dad coaching the team. So, originally I thought I'd play basketball because I was really good at it."

Younger, meaning toddler-age.

"I remember I had one of those Fisher-Price little plastic hoops at my house. We still have it downstairs at my house, actually. That's my first memory playing."

Then when he entered high school, Stehle decided to switch over. And even though he continued playing AAU basketball through senior year, a lot of football schools started contacting him. He chose to stick with what he figured would be the better route.

Always being tall, Stehle excelled as a forward/center. His best memories came from AAU and traveling with different friends from different schools.

"A couple tournaments I played with Greg Paulus who plays for Duke now and another buddy plays for the Washington Wizards, Andray Blatche. Just getting to know a bunch of people and winning sectionals my senior year (were my favorite memories)."

In his spare time at Wisconsin, tight end Garrett Graham enjoys relaxing and playing video games. But in his home state of New Jersey, the sophomore found surfing to be a fun and relaxing sport.

"I started when I was probably nine or 10 years old," Graham said. "And I surfed up until I was 16 or 17 years old, so I was pretty good."

Graham said his brother Brian was the first to start surfing and then he soon joined in and brought his novice level up to experienced.

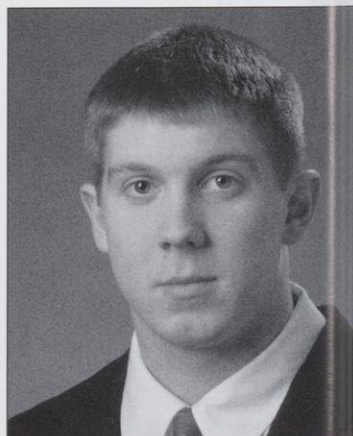

"I did it pretty much every day when I was young. All my friends surfed and pretty much everyone does it where I am from."

In the summers while they were in middle school, Graham, his brother and friends would wake up early to check the waves.

"We'd get there before it was light out and we would surf in the morning for about three or four hours. Then we'd come back at night when it got good again."

Asked if he is good enough to do it competitively, Graham laughed and said, "No, I don't think so."

"We don't have waves in New Jersey like they do in Hawaii," he added.

We Are Family

The Badgers' four starting defensive linemen are as close off the field as they are on it

by Karl Anderson, UW Athletic Communications

Mike Newkirk, Jason Chapman, Matt Shaughnessy and Nick Hayden have started every game at defensive line for the Badgers this season.

They are like a lot of groups of friends one would find around campus. They describe themselves as close-knit. There's good-natured ribbing with an overlying sense of respect amongst everyone in this group.

The biggest thing that separates these four from other people on campus is that they just happen to be the starting defensive line for the Badgers. Senior defensive tackle Nick Hayden, junior defensive tackle Jason Chapman, and junior defensive ends Mike Newkirk and Matt Shaughnessy have forged a bond that goes beyond the football field.

"We really like to do a lot of things together," Chapman said.

Those "things" are typical of most college students. Hanging out and playing video games are just a couple things they like doing in their spare time.

It's what they do on the field though that separates them from the regular college student.

The line has a wealth of experience. The four have started every game this season and have combined to play a total of 134 games between them.

Chapman, a native of Bedford Heights, Ohio, says that having four guys up front with experience is key to adjusting to game situations.

"When different situations occur, we know how to handle them because that experience makes us better," he said. During practices, the four tend to stick together.

"We just like joking around with each other," Hayden, a Harland, Wis., native, said. "We tell each other stories during practice while on the field. We keep to ourselves. But when we need to say something, we'll say it."

It's because of each other that they have all progressed as players too.

"We learn from each other," Chapman said. "We learn from each other's mistakes, each other's games. Basically we are our own critics."

One person in particular who has noticed their development is defensive line coach Randall McCray.

"They've got their own little clique inside themselves," he said. "Which doesn't bother me. The team understands what they are and what they do."

Even though he is only in his second season as their coach, McCray said that he has seen a lot of growth from the defensive line.

"They've worked really hard at it," he said. "As coaches, we just guide them. The kids need to take ownership of their positions. When they do that, which this group has done, they'll be successful."

McCray said that the four are good people and that they care about the game.

"They study and they want to be successful," he said. "They do all the little things and they're athletic. My first overall impressions were that they care and that they're fast."

He says that each one brings something unique to the table.

Chapman brings a great first step. Hayden has the experience. Shaughnessy brings speed off the edge with his pass-rushing ability and long arms. Newkirk brings strength and the ability to understand the game.

From a coach's standpoint, McCray said that they're pretty easy to coach.

"The more they want to be successful, the easier it is,"

he said. "These guys want to be successful. They want to be coached. They want to learn. They want to be right. They want to make plays."

Add it all up and you've got a front four that helped lead one of the best defensive units in the country last season.

The team led the Big Ten and was No. 5 nationally in yards allowed per game. It was No. 2 nationally in scoring defense, giving up just 12.1 points per game. Five opponents last year didn't score a touchdown.

To translate that to this year, the four feel that they're going to need to elevate their games.

"We lost a lot of great leaders from last year," Hayden said.

"We just need to come together and play as one," Chapman added.

Personality-wise, each guy brings something different to the group.

Hayden said that he jokes around the most of the four.

"I try to have fun all the time," he explained.

Chapman said, and the rest agreed, that he is the quiet one out of the four.

"Some of his actions speak very loud though," Hayden added. Shaughnessy is considered the joker of the group.

"He's got little jokes that he whispers to people," Hayden said.

"I'm the instigator," Shaughnessy interjected.

Newkirk was described by the others as the intense one.

There is a lot of respect amongst the four, but that doesn't mean guys won't get their shots in on the others when they can.

When Hayden, the only senior of the four, was asked if he'd passed anything down to the other four or advised them on anything, he responded by saying his pass-rushing ability. He paused a moment before saying he was just kidding, but it was too late. Laughter and a joking sense of disbelief came across the other three.

"Did you really just say that?" Chapman responded incredulously. "Wow..."

Chapman got his own jabs in later. Playing video games is one of their favorite hobbies and he let it be known that Hayden might not have the stuff that the others do.

"We just chill and play video games," Chapman said. "Watch Nick lose at Madden every weekend. He is the worst player at Madden ever."

Off the field and on the field, the four have come to be good friends. Coach McCray has his own way of looking at them.

"Any time things go well or go wrong, family is what you always turn to," he said. "They consider themselves their own family."

WEST SIDE STORY

Theater critics unanimously agree that Leonard Bernstein's "West Side Story" is one of the landmarks in the history of the American theater. The impact that this production made after its premier on September 26, 1957 at the Winter Garden Theater on Broadway is still being seen and felt on stages throughout the world. "West Side Story" was developed as a "concept musical" and there was no attempt made to separate one theatrical mode (dance, music, dialogue, acting, writing, and décor) from another, or to allow one of those elements to dominate over another. Nevertheless it was generally agreed that the amazing score by Leonard Bernstein transcended everything else. The story is that of Shakespeare's tragedy "Romeo and Juliet," but the modern setting is in the urban underworld, which alternates between gang violence and tender love scenes. It is a production that has become a part of our American culture. It is therefore with the greatest respect in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of that important theatrical event that the University of Wisconsin Band offers the music of "West Side Story."

At pre-game the UW Band will salute Bret Bielema's 2007 Badgers, welcome the team and fans from Northern Illinois University and, as a special concert presentation, offer a favorite of jazz musicians everywhere, "Lover Come Back To Me." Pre-game concludes with the presentation of the National Anthem with the UW Band assisted by the Very Special Chorus and the introduction of Bucky Badger to the stadium.

The Wisconsin Band is pleased to announce three recordings are now available. The band performs with the Electric Tailgate Company on a CD recently released, the "Badger Bandstand," and the "5th Quarter;" all are available on cassette or CD. Also available are two videos; highlights of the band's trip to the Rose Bowl in 1994, "The Road To The Roses" and a documentary of the 1999 marching band season "March On, Wisconsin." Contact the Band Office for further information (455 N. Park St., Madison, WI 53706, phone 608/890-0342, or www.badgerband.com).

Mark your calendars! The 2008 Varsity Band Concerts will be held on April 17, 18 and 19 in the Kohl Center. Watch the web site for ticket sale details (www.badgerband.com).

20th annual VSA Day at Camp Randall

More than 300 VSA Choir and high school band members with and without disabilities are participating in the 20th annual VSA Day at today's game. Choir members are performing the National Anthem in American Sign Language and members of the "VSA Day Marching Band" will join the UW Marching Band at halftime in a performance of "You've Got a Friend in Me."

UW Marching Band Director Mike Leckrone has served on the board of VSA since October 1987. In 1988, inspired by his wife's experiences teaching children with disabilities, Mike identified the need to create an integrated music program and VSA Day was born. He said he "wanted to create something that was fun and could be done spontaneously with these kids. Participation was the essential ingredient. I wanted something that didn't have to be 'perfect.' Music is a universal language that should be enjoyed by everyone. I wanted fun, but more importantly, I wanted to give these kids a chance of a lifetime to have a ball!" Through this program, he has energetically encouraged countless people of all ages and abilities to make music an integral part of their lives.

Thanks to VSA Day corporate sponsors American Family Insurance, Thermo Fisher Scientific and Thompson Investment Management, as well as Top Promotions, Whole Foods, Nick "The Beadman" Motl, the Wisconsin State Journal, the UW Athletic Department, and Mike Leckrone and the UW Marching Band for their continued support of VSA arts, helping promote the creative power in people with disabilities.

For more information about VSA arts of Wisconsin (formerly known as Very Special Arts), please visit www.usawis.org or call 608-241-2131.

Badgers in the NFL Update

Houston tight end Owen Daniels has 29 receptions for 372 yards on the season, both Texans' team highs.

Daniels Continues to Flourish in Houston

With wide receiver Andre Johnson continuing to sit out with a sprained left knee, second-year tight end Owen Daniels and his Houston teammates have raised their level of play to compensate for the loss of the Pro Bowler.

Daniels in particular has been a revelation for the Texans, hauling in 23 receptions for 300 yards during the four games Johnson has missed, including five catches for 49 yards in the Texans' most recent 37-17 loss at Jacksonville.

During practice last week, head coach Gary Kubiak stressed the critical role Daniels has had of late in the Texans' gameplan.

"He's been very, very important," Kubiak told HoustonTexans.com. "In the game the other day, he told me, 'Give me the ball.' He's never said that to me (before). He's becoming a pretty darn good player."

Daniels, who played quarterback early in his Badger career, was a favorite of former quarterback David Carr and has quickly developed a good rapport with new signal caller Matt Schaub.

"He has a good feel for route running and zone coverages so he can get open and he finishes plays," Schaub said. "He catches the football and he makes something happen with it afterward."

On Oct. 7, in a 22-19 win over Miami, Daniels earned Houston's offensive player of the game honors by hauling in six passes for 96 yards. Five of his six receptions went for first downs, including two key grabs of 19 and 14 yards on Houston's winning drive.

For the season, Daniels has 372 yards receiving, a career-best, and his 29 receptions are only five away from his total from last season.

Williams Makes Debut with Rams

Two weeks after being released by San Francisco, wide receiver Brandon Williams signed with the St. Louis Rams to help fill the team's need for a return specialist. Williams will replace two-time Pro Bowler Dante Hall, who is expected to miss several weeks with an ankle injury.

In an otherwise dismal 22-3 loss to Baltimore, Williams provided a bright spot, averaging 22.4 yards on five kickoff returns and 11.0 yards on two punt returns.

Williams was also forced into action at wide receiver, after an already depleted Rams' receiving corps lost Drew Bennett to a hamstring injury in Baltimore. Despite having less than a week to learn the playbook, Rams' head coach Scott Linehan had plenty of confidence playing the St. Louis native.

"He knows the system is somewhat similar coming from San Francisco," Linehan told StLouisRams.com. "We were pretty much yelling (plays) at him from the sideline on a lot of them."

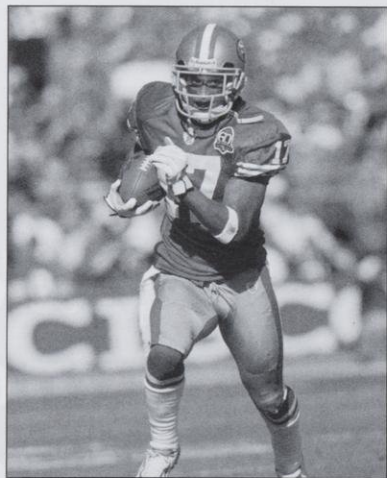

Overall, Williams was pleased with his performance.

"I felt good (in the return game)," Williams said. "I wish I could have gotten a little bit more here or there, but that will come with reps. Dante and I talked a little bit on the sideline during the game, so he gave me a little tip here and there, and I will be implementing that."

Prior to joining the Rams, the former third-round pick and second-year veteran had played in 16 games during his NFL career. During that stretch, Williams returned 27 punts for 179 yards (6.6 avg) and 16 kickoffs for 380 yards (23.8 avg) as a member of the 49ers.

Weekly Roundup

Miami wide receiver Chris Chambers caught six passes for 73 yards in the Dolphins' 41-31 loss at Cleveland ... Kansas City running back Michael Bennett had two rushes for three yards and two catches for six yards in the Chiefs' 27-20 victory over Cincinnati ... Jacksonville cornerback Scott Starks had two tackles in a 37-17 win over Houston

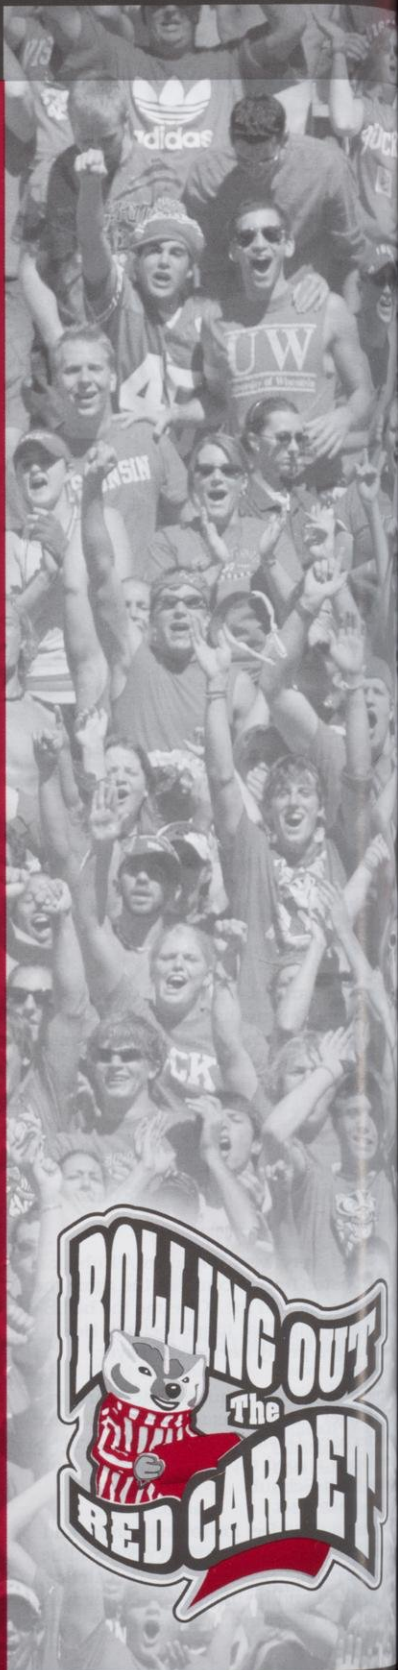

Brandon Williams made his debut with St. Louis Sunday, averaging 22.4 yards on five kickoff returns and 11.0 yards on two punt returns.

What's Happening on Campus?

Eric Knueve (back left), an adviser for the University of Wisconsin-Madison's Adventure Learning Programs (ALPs) and specialist in experiential education, joins student facilitators in working as a team to find the platform balancing point of a "four-way whale watch" during a training session held for ALPs student facilitators at the group's new, low-elements training course in west Madison, Wis., on Sept. 16, 2007. (©UW-Madison University Communications/Photo by: Jeff Miller)

Learning the Ropes With ALPs

Eric Knueve has been climbing trees and swinging from ropes for most of his professional life.

An adviser for Adventure Learning Programs (ALPs), a unit of UW-Madison's Student Organizations Office, he's an expert in experiential education, a teaching philosophy involving learning by doing.

One key facet of ALPs is the use of climbing and ropes courses to help groups build self-esteem, trust, teamwork, communication and problem-solving skills. A ropes or challenge course is a series of activities and obstacles that provides small groups with an intense adventure experience in accessible urban areas. In a low ropes course, obstacles are on or near the ground, while a high ropes course is built on utility poles, in trees or in the rafters of buildings.

Knueve and the students at ALPs are making a two-decade-old dream a reality; the idea of a ropes course owned and operated by UW-Madison has been supported campuswide since the 1990s.

Located at the West Madison Agricultural Research Station, the low-ropes portion of the challenge course is now complete, and ALPs is working to find funding to add a high ropes element and a shelter structure.

Last year, more than 3,000 people participated in ALPs workshops. As the programming and resources continue to grow, Knueve hopes to also increase its community involvement.

"More and more outside groups are coming to us because they've heard of us through people at the university." He says that with the new ropes course and additional staff, he hopes ALPs can sustain itself with outside group workshops, helping them further their mission and goals while carrying out the Wisconsin Idea.

Alumni Get VIP Experience at Homecoming 2007

More Badger fans and friends than ever before will be able to join in this year's Homecoming celebrations.

All are invited to celebrate this year's theme — "Where in the World is Bucky Badger?" — at a run/walk for charity, the annual Homecoming parade, a pep rally and fireworks display and a football game-day tailgate party.

The 22nd annual Homecoming Charity Run/Walk starts at 11 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 21, on Library Mall. The 5k run/walk follows a route along the Lake Mendota shoreline and through campus and ends with a cookout lunch on Library Mall. Participants can register the day of the race; the cost is $20 for adults and $15 for students. In addition to the run/walk, children age 14 and under (and their parents) are welcome to run alongside UW-Madison's mascot in the first-ever Kids' One-Mile Fun Run with Bucky, starting at 10:30 a.m.

The Homecoming parade in downtown Madison will begin at 5 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 26. The parade will feature homemade floats, prizes, performances and the UW Marching Band. The parade starts an hour earlier than previous years and will be immediately followed by the 7 p.m. pep rally and fireworks display at Memorial Union.

The week concludes with the Wisconsin Alumni Association's Badger Huddle tailgate on Saturday, Oct. 27, at the UW Field House. Attendees can participate in the Homecoming Silent Auction and gear up for the Wisconsin vs. Indiana game, immediately following the tailgate.

Researchers Identify Key Step Bird Flu Takes to Spread in Humans

Since it first appeared in Hong Kong in 1997, the H5N1 avian flu virus has slowly evolved into a pathogen better equipped to infect humans. The final form of the virus, biomedical researchers fear, will be a highly pathogenic strain of influenza that spreads easily among humans.

Now, in a new study, a team of UW-Madison researchers report the identification of a key step the virus must take to facilitate the easy transmission of the virus from person to person.

A team of researchers led by virologist Yoshihiro Kawaoka has identified a single change in a viral protein that facilitates the virus's ability to infect the cells of the upper respiratory system in mammals. By adapting to the upper respiratory system, the virus is capable of infecting a wider range of cell types and is more easily spread, potentially setting the stage for a flu pandemic.

As the name implies, bird flu first arises in chickens and other birds. Humans and other animals in close contact with the birds may be infected, and the virus begins to adapt to new host animals, a process that may take years as small changes accumulate. Over time, an avian virus may gather enough genetic change to spread easily, as experts believe was the case with the 1918 Spanish flu, an event that killed at least 30 million people worldwide.

Bowling with the Badgers ...

UW consistently plays in - AND WINS - major bowl games!

This second-quarter touchdown catch by tight end Travis Beckum gave Wisconsin a 17-7 lead over Arkansas in last year's Capital One Bowl. The Badgers went on to win the game 17-14, their second consecutive Capital One Bowl victory.

Over the last 14 seasons, no team in the country has won more bowl games than Wisconsin. The Badgers' nine bowl victories over that span ties them with Boston College for the most in the nation. UW has participated in 17 bowl games over the past 14 seasons, a mark matched by only Ohio State and Michigan among Big Ten teams. During that time, the Badgers have made eight appearances in January bowl games, including three Rose Bowl wins.

Last season, Wisconsin played in its third consecutive January bowl game, defeating 12th-ranked Arkansas, 17-14, to capture its second straight Capital One Bowl. The win gave UW its school-record 12th victory of the season.

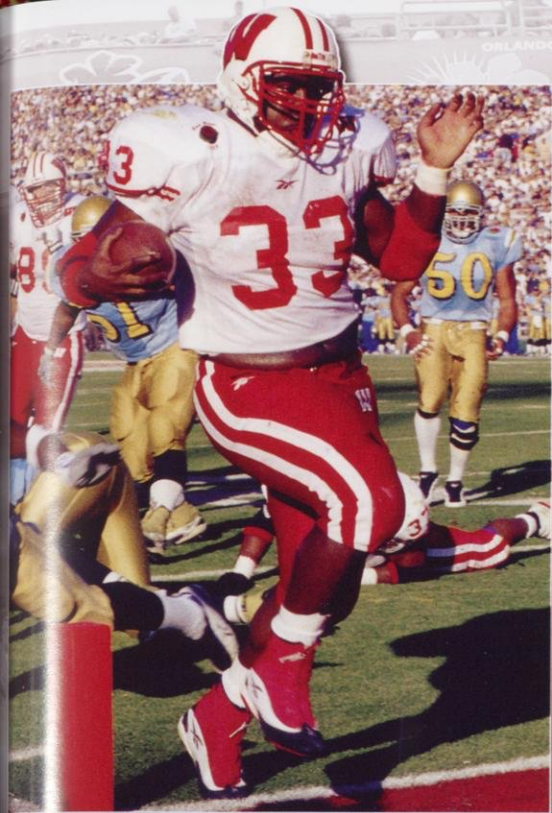

The Badgers had won just one bowl game prior to 1994. Since then, UW is 9-3 in postseason play, including 6-2 in January bowl games. Wisconsin has defeated teams from the Pac 10 (four times), SEC (twice), Big 12 (once), ACC (once) and WAC (once) during the last 14 seasons.

Bowl games with the Badgers are also a big hit with Wisconsin's renowned fans. In the past decade, thousands of fans have traveled to watch the Badgers in prime winter destinations like California, Florida, Arizona and Texas.

University of Wisconsin ...

A World-Class University

Alando Tucker, the 2007 Big Ten Men's Basketball Player of the Year and a first-team All-American, receives his diploma at graduation ceremonies.

The University of Wisconsin is a world-class university, nationally and internationally recognized for its academic excellence, incredible students, inspiring faculty, exceptional value and an amazing campus and community.

The UW was founded in 1848 with the first class of 17 students enrolling on February 5, 1849. Today, Wisconsin ranks as the nation's ninth largest university with 41,466 students (28,462 undergraduates).

On a single campus, students can find a complete spectrum of liberal arts studies, professional programs and student activities. As one of the nation's first land-grant universities, Wisconsin maintains a strong research emphasis in agricultural and life sciences. Award-winning research spanning the academic disciplines, however, has earned Wisconsin a place among the world's elite institutions of higher education. The quality of its undergraduate, graduate and research programs is recognized around the world.

Students can also take advantage of opportunities to study abroad, participate in honors programs, complete an internship, conduct hands-on research and take service-learning courses.

The flagship school of the state system, UW-Madison offers the only public schools of law, medicine and veterinary medicine in the state and is one of only two state-supported schools to offer doctoral degrees.

One of the most picturesque college campuses in the country, Wisconsin sits along the shore of beautiful Lake Mendota. The city of Madison and the university were designed to be linked, signifying the interrelated nature of academic and political life at Wisconsin.

Growing with the times to meet changing needs in education and research has kept the university great. With an eye to the future, the university continues to change, guaranteeing a community and environment where true learning can take place.

Badgers Recognized Among the Nation's Best!

Every great program is built on the shoulders of outstanding players. It is no different at Wisconsin. With the remarkable success of the football team in recent years has come national recognition for a number of Badger players.

In 2006, many UW individuals were recognized for their contributions to the school-record 12 wins. Chief among those players was offensive tackle Joe Thomas. Thomas was a consensus first-team All-American and became the first UW player to win the Outland Trophy, presented to the nation's top lineman.

Two returnees, junior tight end Travis Beckum and sophomore running back P.J. Hill also garnered national recognition last year. Hill was named national Freshman of the Year by Rivals.com and also earned Big Ten Freshman of the Year honors. Beckum, in his first season as a tight end, was a second team All-American and John Mackey Award semifinalist.

In his first year at the helm, UW head coach Bret Bielema was named Big Ten Coach of the Year and was a finalist for the Bear Bryant national Coach of the Year Award.

The most decorated former Badger is running back Ron Dayne. The NCAA's all-time leading rusher, Dayne won the 1999 Heisman Trophy in a landslide, outdistancing runner-up Joe Hamilton of Georgia Tech by more than 1,000 points. As a senior, Dayne also won the Maxwell, Walter Camp and Doak Walker Awards.

Dayne was the second Heisman Trophy winner from UW as Alan Ameche took home the award in 1954.

In recent years, Badger players have been fixtures on national award lists. UW players have been finalists for the Rimington Trophy (best center), Outland Trophy (interior lineman), Lombardi Award (lineman), Chuck Bednarik Award (defensive player), Bronko Nagurski Trophy (defensive player), Ted Hendricks Award (defensive end), Fred Biletnikoff Award (receiver), Lou Groza Award (placekicker), Mosi Tatupu Award (special teams) and Ronnie Lott Trophy (defensive player).

In addition, Badger players walked away with two major awards in 2000. Cornerback Jamar Fletcher earned the Jim Thorpe Award as the nation's best defensive back while Kevin Stenke won the inaugural Ray Guy Award, given to the nation's best collegiate punter.

This year a number of UW players are in contention for major awards. Beckum and Hill are both on the Maxwell Award Watch List. Linebacker Jonathan Castillas was named to the Chuck Bednarik Watch List while center Marcus Coleman is on the Rimington Award Watch List.

Joe Thomas, along with UW head coach Bret Bielema, accepts the 2006 Outland Trophy at the Home Depot College Football Awards Show in Orlando.

Ron Dayne, college football's all-time leading rusher, won the 2000 Heisman Trophy by more than 1,000 points.

 Lee Evans was a finalist for the Biletnikoff Award in 2001, the same year he set the Big Ten single-season receiving record.

Jim Leonhard, a three-time first-team All-American, is UW's career leader in interceptions and punt return yardage. He was a finalist for the Ronnie Lott Trophy in 2004.

College Football Hall of Fame

National Football Foundation College Hall of Fame

These seven former Badgers have received the highest honor the game of football affords. They have been inducted into the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. They are the greats of the game and their achievements are documented at the College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, Ind.

Pat O'Dea (elected in 1962), nicknamed "The Kangaroo Kicker," was a two-time All-America fullback and punter between 1896-99. He was also a two-time team captain.

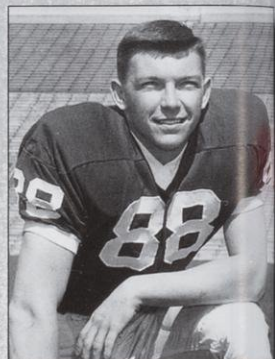

Robert Butler (elected in 1972) was a three-year letterwinner at tackle and won all-league (1912-13) and All-America (1913) laurels.

Pat Harder (elected in 1993), an All-America fullback, was the Big Ten's scoring and rushing champion in 1941.

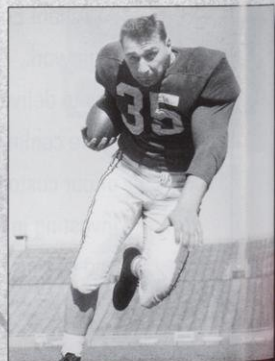

Dave Schreiner (elected in 1955), the two-time All-America end, was the Western Conference's MVP in 1942.

Pat Richter (elected in 1996) was a two-time All-America end and led the nation in receiving as a junior.

Marty Below (elected in 1988), a rugged right tackle, earned All-America praise as a senior.

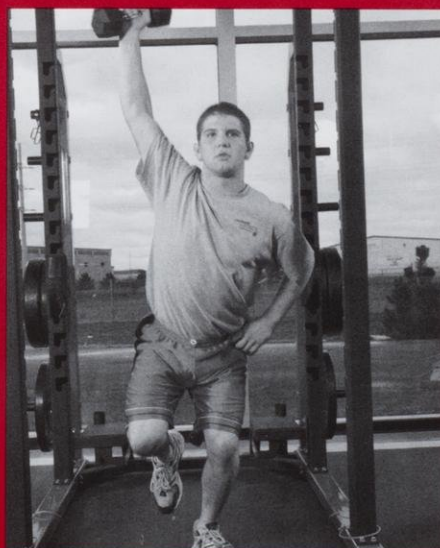

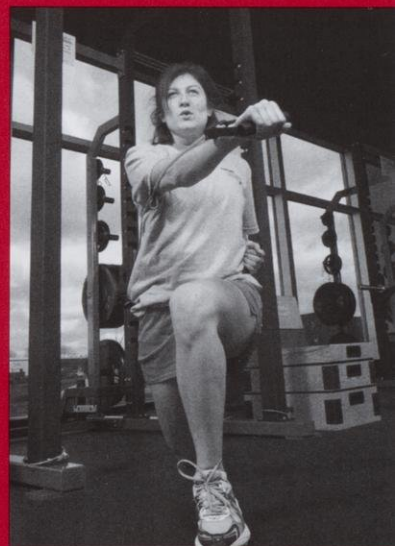

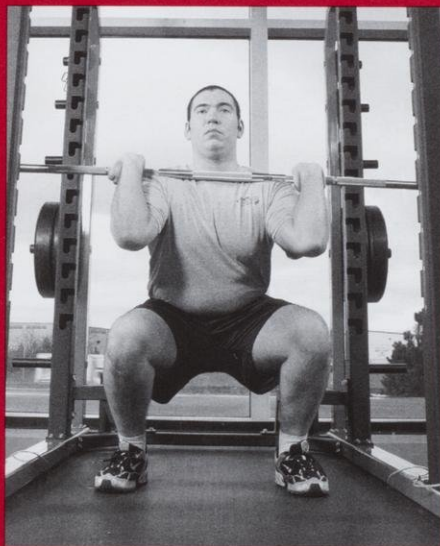

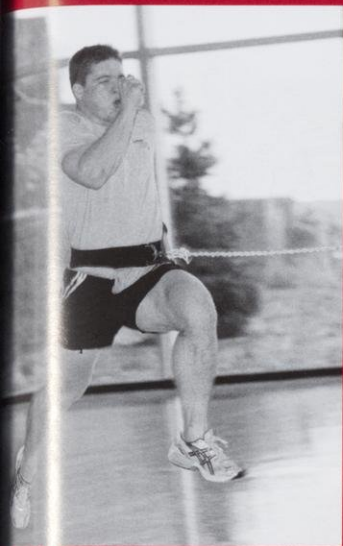

Alan Ameche (elected in 1975) was the 1954 Heisman Trophy winner and a multi-year All-American in the classroom and on the field.

SUPPORT THE AUTO DEALERS THAT SUPPORT THE BADGERS

UW Athletics strongly encourages Badger Fund members, season ticket holders, fans and alumni to visit the showrooms of the following Wheel Club members when looking for a vehicle. You will be impressed with the professionalism of their sales staffs and the quality of vehicles on their lots. Give them an opportunity to show you why they are such an integral part of Badger Athletics...and tell them "Bucky" sent you!

Employ a University of Wisconsin Student-Athlete

A message to all business people in our Wisconsin community:

Employ a person who knows about responsibility, hard work, organization and being a team player: hire a Badger student-athlete.

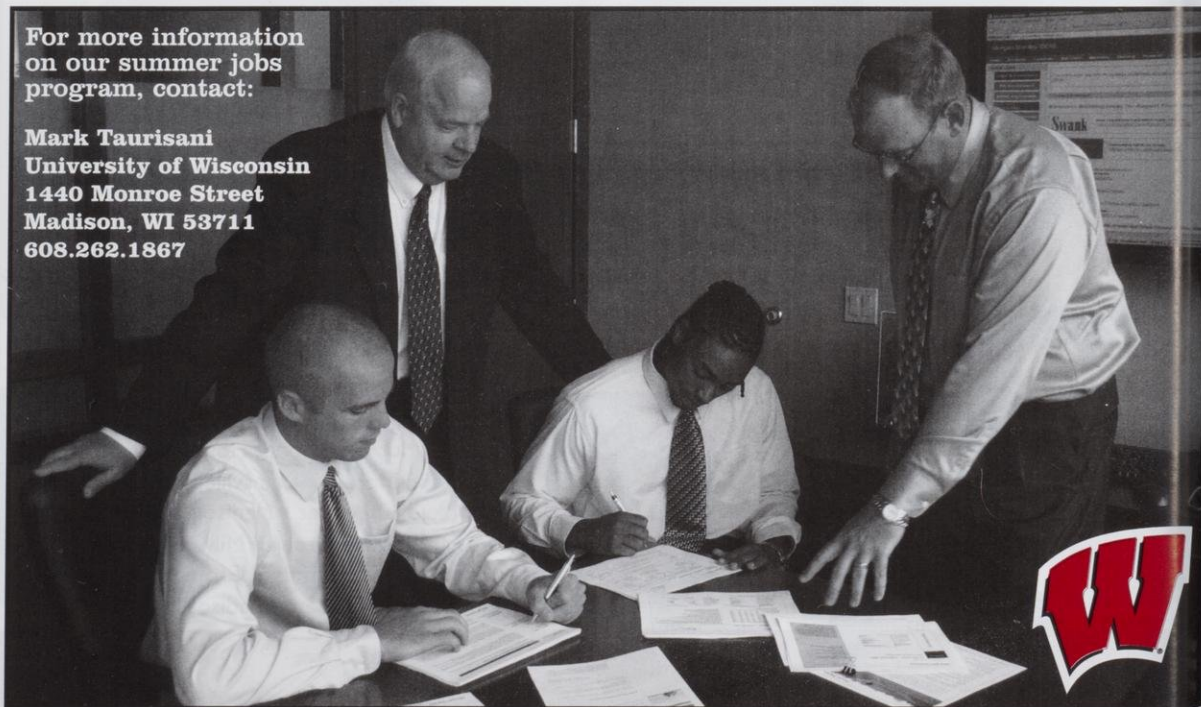

Place our athletes in either labor jobs or internship type office positions with the opportunity for advancement after graduation. We believe that this program is mutually beneficial to our athletes as well as to employers during their heavy work times.

Some of the most rewarding moments happen on the sidelines.

It pretty much goes without saying that one of the most valuable elements of sports is dedication — to your game and to your team. That's why we're so inspired when it's mirrored by the fans. Whether it's a crowd of hundreds doing "The Wave" or a couple of parents holding a sign, this is the part of any game that hits home for us — people supporting people. In fact, it's exactly why at American Family, we're happy and proud to join the cheering section.

This Week in Badger History

Tony Granato, who along with Jim Johannson recorded the two fastest consecutive goals in UW history, went on to play in the NHL where he tallied 254 career goals with the New York Rangers.

OCTOBER 20-27

Sept. 20, 1991 — After posting 10 losses and two ties in 12 previous meetings, the men's soccer team recorded its first-ever win over national power Indiana, 1-0, in Madison.

On the same day in 1996, the Badger women's soccer team played to a scoreless tie with Michigan, becoming the first Big Ten team to complete the conference season undefeated (5-0-2).

Sept. 21, 1899 — Pat O'Dea kicked a 100-yard punt in the pre-modern era for the Badger football team against Yale.

Sept. 22, 1976 — The men's hockey team set a team record for most assists in a period with 14 in the third period against Western Ontario.

Sept. 23, 1993 — Sophomore Darrell Bevell passed for 423 yards against Minnesota en route to setting the team single-game record for passing yards. It is one of two 400-yard passing games in UW history.

Sept. 24, 1993 — Laura Bleyhl set the once all-time lowest individual total on 54-holes with a 221 total (73-74-74) at the Stanford Invitational in Palo Alto, Calif.

Sept. 25, 1986 — Wisconsin men's hockey player Steve Tuttle scored three goals in a 5-2 win over Minnesota to become one of three players to record a hat trick during the 1986-87 season.

Sept. 26, 1984 — More than 600 people crammed the floor of the Field House to honor 10 years of women's participation in athletics at the UW. Kit Saunders-Nordeen and former UW and Olympic rower Carie Graves were inducted into the newly initiated Women's Athletic Hall of Fame.

Sept. 27, 1985 — Tony Granato and Jim Johannson tied the record for the fastest two goals scored in UW history when they tallied goals six seconds apart at Lowell.

Carie Graves, pictured here with Peggy McCarthy, was inducted into the Women's Athletic Hall of Fame in 1984.

YOU HAVE TO WORK FOR IT

REMEMBER THAT KID? YOU KNOW, THE ONE DOWN THE BLOCK WHO MOWED ALL OF THE NEIGHBORS' LAWNS. HE MOWED ON SATURDAY. HE MOWED ON SUNDAY. HE MOWED AND MOWED AND MOWED UNTIL HE FINALLY SAVED ENOUGH FOR A SHINY NEW TEN-SPEED. AND YOU THOUGHT TO YOURSELF, "THERE'S A KID WHO UNDERSTANDS THE VALUE OF A DOLLAR AND ISN'T AFRAID TO WORK FOR IT." REMEMBER THAT KID? WE SURE DO. WE ARE THAT KID.

GUY NAMED TED

THEY CALLED HIM THE KING OF CADDIES. THE ONE WHO HELPED GOLFER AFTER GOLFER
BIRDIE THE TWELFTH. THE CADDIE WHO ALWAYS SEEMED TO KNOW WHICH WAY THE GREEN WAS BREAKING. OR THE EXACT DIRECTION THE WIND WAS BLOWING. HE KNEW JUST WHEN TO HIT A HEAVY SEVEN. OR AN EASY EIGHT FOR THAT MATTER. HE ADVISED. HE GUIDED. HE HELPED. WOULDN'T IT BE NICE IF YOUR BUSINESS BANKER DID THE SAME? WOULDN'T IT?

Meet the Northern Illinois Huskies

Joe Novak is in his 12th season as head coach of the Huskies. Entering the 2007 season, Novak had won 61 games and was ninth all-time on the Mid-American Conference wins list. Novak is in his 34th year of coaching. He has served as an assistant with Miami (Ohio), Illinois, Indiana and Northern Illinois.

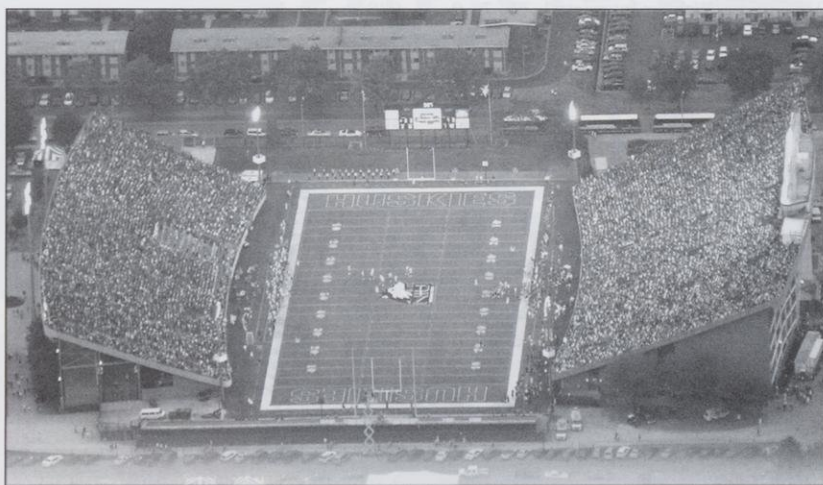

Sophomore running back Justin Anderson had a team-leading seven touchdowns in the Huskies' first six games. The Chicago native is in his first season as the starting RB. In the team's first six games, Anderson averaged 122.7 rushing yards and 28.7 receiving yards per game.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS FACTS

- DeKalb, Ill., the home of Northern Illinois University, has a population of 45,000 and is only 65 miles west of downtown Chicago.
- Ranked No. 1 in the nation for number of graduate degrees in education awarded to African-Americans (according to Black Issues in Higher Education).
- Former NIU players in the NFL include: Justin McCareins (Jets), Sam Hurd (Cowboys), Michael Turner (Chargers), Ryan Diem (Colts), Garrett Wolfe (Bears) and Hollis Thomas (Saints).
- Former U.S. Speaker of the House and current Illinois Congressman Dennis Hastert earned a master's degree from NIU in 1967.

Huskie Stadium (capacity 24,000) has been the home of Northern Illinois football since 1965. In August of 2007, the football team moved into the brand new Jeffrey and Kimberly Yordon Center. The addition provides student-athletes with academic services, athletic training and strength and conditioning facilities. In 2003, the playing field was rededicated as Brigham Field in honor of long-time Huskie, Robert J. Bingham. Over 50 years, Bingham was a student-athlete, assistant coach, head coach, athletic director and assistant to the university president. FieldTurf and a video scoreboard have been present since the 2001 season.

Behind the Scenes With ...

THE FIELD GOAL NET OPERATORS

Ever wonder who is responsible for raising or lowering the nets behind the goalposts at Camp Randall Stadium when a kicker is getting ready to attempt a field goal or extra point? Well the Badger Football Gameday Program was so we searched out Mark Petranyi and Gene Neumaier of the UW Facilities and Maintenance Staff to see what they could tell us about their Saturday jobs.

How did you get this job?

GENE NEUMAIER: It's just part of our gameday duties.

MARK PETRANYI: I worked on campus for the Physical Plant for about one year. I found out about an opening at the Athletic Department. I applied for the job, which was a promotion and was hired. That was back in 1985. Part of the responsibilities working for facilities was working the football games.

Is it something you need to practice or have any special training?

GN: No

MP: No. You just need the strength to pull the net up. It just involves pulling on a rope, holding it in place and then letting it down.

How long does it take you to get it all the way to the top?

GN: About 20 seconds.

MP: Approximately 15 seconds

Ever raise or lower the net at an inopportune time?

GN: When the band was still on the field, the net used to be about 20 yards further back than it is now. We couldn't see as well from back there and put the net up as the Badgers went for it on fourth down. They ended up getting a first down.

MP: No. With 80,000 people watching you sure don't want to make a mistake. Although the net has gone up and the team called a fake field goal. The net was not needed.

Has the net ever gotten tangled or hung up on something so that it couldn't be raised?

GN: About six years ago, a band member passed out on the net just as the team was about to kick a field goal. The paramedics were working on her so we couldn't get the net up. Per Mar had to go into the student section to retrieve the ball.

MP: It has gotten caught or stuck a few times both going up and down. We have to react quickly and correct the problem. The main cause is the ropes getting tangled. We have always got it unstuck quickly. It never affected the kicking of the ball.

Ever get caught sleeping on the job and forget to raise it?

MP: Never. We always have to pay attention to the game and be aware of where the team is on the field so we are ready to put the net up if needed. We have been a little late in getting the net up and have had the field goal kicked while we are still pulling the net up.

Any changes now that there's a sponsor logo on one end?

GN: It's a little heavier.

MP: The net is a little heavier with the ad logo on it. With the sponsor net, we have to make sure the net is all the way up and even at the top so the logo hangs straight.

Do you ever move it slightly while the opposing team's kicker is lining up a kick?

GN: No.

MP: No. We put the net all the way up and hold it there. We do not operate the net any different for either team.

Ever get heckled by the fans?

GN: If you are in the north end zone, in front of the student section, sometimes they will cheer the net guys so it makes our day a lot more fun.

MP: Once, when my walkie talkie got caught in the net when it was going up. The net pulled the radio off of my belt and it was caught on the net. The radio went up with the net. A few fans cheered and pointed at the radio.

Athletic Department Senior Staff

SHAWN M. EICHORST Executive Associate Director

Shawn M. Eichorst is in his second year at UW-Madison and serves as the department's chief of staff responsible for day-to-day operations, as well as liaison with UW campus administration, UW Athletic Board, Legal Affairs, Risk Management, the Big Ten Conference and state government.

Eichorst came to the UW from South Carolina where he served as the athletic department's chief administrative officer for two years as well as serving as interim athletic director in June of 2005. Eichorst previously served as the director of athletics at UW-Whitewater from June of 1999 through December of 2003. Under his leadership, UW-Whitewater developed into one of the nation's top Division III athletic programs.

He serves on the Executive Committee of the Sports Management Institute and is a past member of the NCAA Division I Student-Athlete Reinstatement Committee. Eichorst is a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin and is a past member of the State Bar of Wisconsin Board of Governors.

Eichorst was an all-conference defensive back, three-time letterwinner and 1990 team captain for the UW-Whitewater football team. He graduated magna cum laude in business from UW-Whitewater in 1990 and earned a law degree from Marquette in 1995. He also is a graduate of the Sports Management Institute.

A native of Lone Rock, Wis., Eichorst and his wife, Kristin, have three sons: Jack, Joseph and Bennett.

VINCE SWEENEY Senior Associate Director for External Relations

Vince Sweeney, senior associate athletic director for external relations, has been part of the UW Athletic Department's administrative team for 17 years. He has administrative oversight of men's basketball and supervises marketing and promotions, ticketing, communications, Web site services, video services and serves as the department liaison with Learfield Communications and Badger Sports Properties, the Big Ten Network, UW Trademark Licensing, Buckey's Locker Room and adidas.

Sweeney joined the UW in 1990 as the director of trademark licensing and in 1991 was named the director of marketing and promotions. Sweeney was promoted to associate athletic director for external relations in 1994 and to senior associate athletic director in 2003. Prior to joining the UW, Sweeney worked for 13 years in sports journalism as an award-winning reporter and editor.

In addition to serving on the Board of Directors of the Greater Madison Convention and Visitors Bureau, Sweeney is a past board member of the National Association of Collegiate Marketing Administrators. He also has served as a member of the NCAA's subcommittee on Basketball Marketing and as consulting editor for Collegiate Sports Marketing. In 2005, Sweeney's first book was published: Always A Badger: The Pat Richter Story.

Sweeney was named the 1994 "Marketer of the Year" by the Madison Chapter of the American Marketing Association, and his department earned two Awards of Excellence from Athletics Management magazine in 1995.

He and his wife, Sharon, have two daughters, Kelsey and Keara.

JOHN CHADIMA Associate Director for Facilities and Operations

John Chadima has served as the department's associate athletic director for operations since 2003. He is in charge of managing capital projects and oversees facilities and facilities master planning, maintenance and equipment. He also is the department liaison with University Ridge Golf Course and has administrative oversight of the football, men's and women's golf and wrestling programs.

Chadima was previously the director of football operations (1990-97 and 2000-03) and he was responsible for coordinating team travel, scheduling, preseason training camp, the summer jobs program and maintaining the sport's multi-million dollar budget. He was the school's director of facilities and events (1997-2000) in between assignments with the football team.

Chadima has a bachelor's degree (1988) in physical education with an emphasis in athletic administration from Iowa. He also studied in the master's programs (for athletic administration) at both Iowa and Wisconsin.

SEAN FRAZIER Associate Director for Event Management and Services

Sean Frazier joined the UW Athletic Department in August, 2007 as associate athletic director for Event Management and Services. Frazier oversees event management, food and beverage, strength and conditioning and technical services. He supervises men's and women's hockey and serves as liaison with the WCHA and the UW-Madison Dean's Council.

Frazier came to UW-Madison from Merrimack College, where he was Director of Athletics since August, 2005. Prior to that, he served as Director of Athletics and Recreation at Clarkson University and at Manhattanville College. He also has served as assistant director of athletics at the University of Maine.

Frazier is a native of Centerport, N.Y., and a graduate of the University of Alabama where he played football for four years. Sean and his wife, Rosa, have a daughter Marina (5) and son Maximo (3).

TERRY GAWLIK
Associate
Director for Sports
Administration and Senior Women's Administrator

Terry Gawlik was promoted to associate athletic director for sports administration in 2005 after serving seven years as assistant athletic director for sports administration.

Gawlik serves as the department's senior woman administrator and oversees women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, softball, men's and women's swimming, men's and women's track and volleyball. She also serves as coordinator of the department's gender equity and NCAA self-study planning.

Prior to becoming an athletic director, Gawlik served as an administrative assistant and event coordinator from 1994-98, supervising game-day operations, post-season tournaments and booster club events for men's and women's basketball and volleyball, as well as assisting with marketing and promotions.

A 1981 graduate of Southwestern University with a bachelor's degree in physical education and English, Gawlik earned her master's in physical education and educational administration from Texas State University in 1983. She resides in Middleton with her husband, Dan.

JOHN JENTZ
Associate Director
for Business
Operations

John Jentz, who came to the UW-Madison in 2000 as an assistant athletic director for sports administration, was named the department's assistant athletic director for athletic business operations in 2003. He was promoted to associate director in 2006. Jentz supervises business services and human resources. He also coordinates bowl, post-season and foreign travel and oversees men's and women's rowing.

The Green Bay native was an assistant athletic director at Cal State Fullerton for four years prior to returning to the Badger state. At Fullerton, Jentz supervised eight sports and oversaw the athletic business office, ticket office, and championships for the Titans.

Prior to Fullerton, he was an accountant in the business office at UC-Riverside. He later managed development funds and also coordinated several athletic events, including the NCAA Division II Track and Field Championship.

Jentz began his administrative career at East Stroudsburg University where he supervised the ticket operations and event staffing while earning his master's degree (1993). A 1992 graduate of Brigham Young, John and his wife, Nancy, have five daughters: Kristy, Marin, Emma, Serena and Lindsay.

MARIJA PIENKA
Associate Director
for Development

Marija Pientka, who has directed the operations of the Badger Fund since its inception, was promoted to associate athletic director for development in 2006. She joined the development staff for Intercollegiate Athletics in 1998. In addition to overseeing the department's fundraising and development activities, including the Badger Fund, she also supervises men's and women's tennis and the spirit squad and serves as the liaison with the Wisconsin Alumni Association, the National W Club, booster clubs and the UW Marching Band.

Pientka oversees all phases of the fundraising program. She also serves on the Board of Directors for the Madison Chapter of the Executive Women's Golf Association and previously served on the board of directors for the National W Club.

A graduate of the UW with a bachelor's degree in journalism, Pientka was a Badger tennis All-American and four-time All-Big Ten selection. She earned Academic All-Big Ten honors three years and currently ranks seventh in career singles wins and third in career doubles wins.

Pientka is married to Jim Pientka and she has two stepchildren, Jack (8) and Jessica (5).

STEVE WATERFIELD
Assistant Director for Student Services

Steve Waterfield joined the UW Athletic Department in 2004 as assistant athletic director for compliance. In August 2007, he was promoted to assistant athletic director for student services. In that capacity, Waterfield oversees compliance, academic services and Sports medicine and supervises men's and women's soccer.

Waterfield came to UW-Madison from Ohio State, where he was assistant compliance director from 1999-2004. Prior to that, he served as assistant attorney general in the workers' compensation section of the Ohio Attorney General's Office from 1997-1999.

Waterfield, a native of Sandusky, Ohio, holds an undergraduate degree from Kenyon College, a law degree from Ohio State, a masters degree in sport management and an MBA in from Ohio State. He and his wife Jaime reside in Madison.

A Great Time to Be a Badger!

In 2006-07, the University of Wisconsin continued its winning ways, claiming two NCAA championships. UW has now won five national titles over the last two seasons. The Badgers also added two individual national titles and won four conference crowns last year.

Wisconsin won the 2007 NCAA Indoor Men's Track & Field Championship, crowning the first national title for a UW track and field team. The title was also the first-ever for a Big Ten Conference team.

Senior Chris Solinsky earned two individual national titles in 2007. He won the 5,000 meters at the NCAA indoor championships and claimed his second consecutive title in the 5,000 meters at the NCAA outdoor championships.

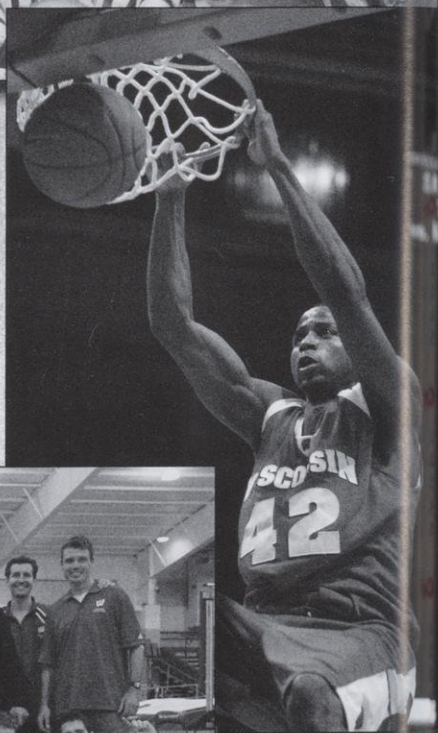

The women's hockey team became the first UW program to repeat as NCAA champions since 1985 when it won the 2007 title. The Badgers claimed their second straight title, becoming the third school to repeat at national champions.

Wisconsin also won Big Ten titles in men's cross country, men's indoor track and field and men's outdoor track and field as well as the WCHA title in women's hockey.

In addition, five UW programs also set records for most wins in a season—men's basketball (30), women's basketball (23), football (12), women's hockey (36) and wrestling (19). The football team captured its second consecutive Capital One Bowl title while the men's basketball team was ranked No. 1 in the country on Feb. 19, a first in school history.

Clockwise from top: The UW women's hockey team won its second consecutive NCAA title in 2006-07 ... senior Alando Tucker was a consensus first-team All-American and led the Badgers to a No. 1 ranking in the Associated Press poll ... the Wisconsin men's indoor track and field team became the first Big Ten team to win the NCAA indoor title.

The Big Ten Conference

The Big Ten Conference is an association of 11 world-class universities whose member institutions share a common mission of research, graduate, professional and undergraduate teaching and public service. Intercollegiate athletics has an important place within the mission.

Founded in 1896, the Big Ten has sustained a comprehensive set of shared practices and policies that enforce the priority of academics in student-athletes' lives and emphasize the values of integrity, fairness and competitiveness. Big Ten universities provide approximately $94 million in direct financial aid to more than 8,400 men and women student-athletes who compete for 25 championships, 12 for men and 13 for women. Conference institutions sponsor broad-based athletic programs with more than 270 teams.

Big Ten Universities

- are members of the nation's only conference whose constituency is entirely composed of institutions that are members of the AAU, a prestigious association of major academic and research institutions in the United States and Canada.
- have more than four million living alumni and over 300,000 undergraduate students attending Big Ten universities.
- house on their campuses 10 of the nation's 35 largest academic libraries. Collectively, conference libraries hold nearly 70 million bound volumes and the institutions work collaboratively to build and share their resources with other league members.

Big Ten Athletics

- Over the past two years, the Big Ten has reached a series of milestone media agreements to provide the conference with its greatest television exposure ever, including extensions with CBS (for basketball) and ABC/ESPN (for football, basketball and volleyball) and the creation of the Big Ten Network, a national network devoted to Big Ten athletic and academic programs. The Big Ten Network operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year since it launched in August of 2007. It will showcase a wide array of sports as well as original programming produced by conference institutions and represents a 20-year partnership between the Big Ten and Fox. The conference's new media agreements will result in the broadcast of more than 500 events nationally and regionally beginning with the 2007-08 academic year, compared to 300 events in the final year of the previous agreements.

- The NCAA collects two types of graduation rates—the federal graduation rate, which accounts for all entering freshmen who receive aid and graduate within six years, and the Graduation Success Rate (GSR), which reflects the mobility of student-athletes by accounting for transfers. Based on the most recent federal graduation rate average for the 1996-99 entering freshmen classes, Big Ten student-athletes graduated at 71 percent. In comparison, the student body at conference institutions graduated at 73 percent while all Division I student-athletes graduated at 62 percent. The Big Ten's GSR was 82 percent compared to the Division I average of 77 percent.

- The Big Ten recognized 2,018 Academic All-Big Ten honorees during the 2006-07 academic year, the highest total in the last decade. Over the past five years, the Conference has annually acknowledged more than 1,800 student-athletes as Academic All-Conference honorees.

BIG TEN NETWORK

Launched in August 2007, the Big Ten Network is dedicated to covering the Big Ten Conference and its 11 member institutions.

The Big Ten Network will provide unprecedented access to an extensive schedule of conference sports events and shows; original programs in academics, the arts and sciences; campus activities; and associated personalities. Sports programming will include live coverage of more major men's and women's events than ever before, along with news, highlights and analysis, all complemented by hours of university-produced campus programming.

The network is available to all cable and satellite carriers and television distributors nationwide, with most programs offered in stunning high-definition television. The Big Ten Network is a joint venture between subsidiaries of the Big Ten Conference and Fox Cable Networks.

- The Big Ten claimed seven team national championships during the 2006-07 season, just one shy of the conference record of eight national titles established during the 1955-56 campaign, while also finishing as the runner-up in five other sports. The Big Ten has earned at least four national crowns in eight of the last 10 seasons. Big Ten national champions in 2006-07 included Michigan State men's ice hockey, Minnesota wrestling, Northwestern women's lacrosse, Penn State fencing and men's gymnastics and Wisconsin women's ice hockey and men's indoor track and field. The conference has also produced team national crowns in the sports of basketball, cross country, field hockey, football, golf, soccer, softball, synchronized swimming, tennis and volleyball over the last decade.

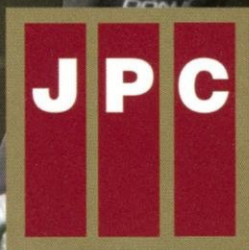

- Big Ten Conference schools are among the national attendance leaders in football, men's and women's basketball and women's volleyball. During 2006-07, more than 8.7 million fans attended Big Ten home contests in those sports.

Casey Rabach has started all 32 games at center in his two seasons with the Washington Redskins.

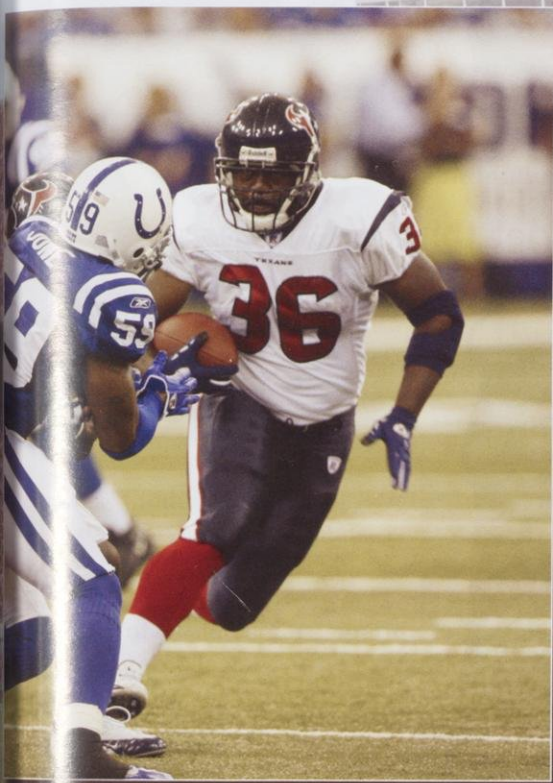

Joe Thomas (above) was selected third overall by the Cleveland Browns in the 2007 NFL Draft. That was the highest for a former Badger since 1955, when Alan Ameche was chosen second by the Baltimore Colts.

Lee Evans (left), the 13th pick overall in the 2004 NFL Draft by the Buffalo Bills, had a career-high 1,292 receiving yards last season. Against Houston on Nov. 19, 2006, he recorded a pair of 83-yard touchdown catches in the first quarter on his way to a franchise-record 28 receiving yards.

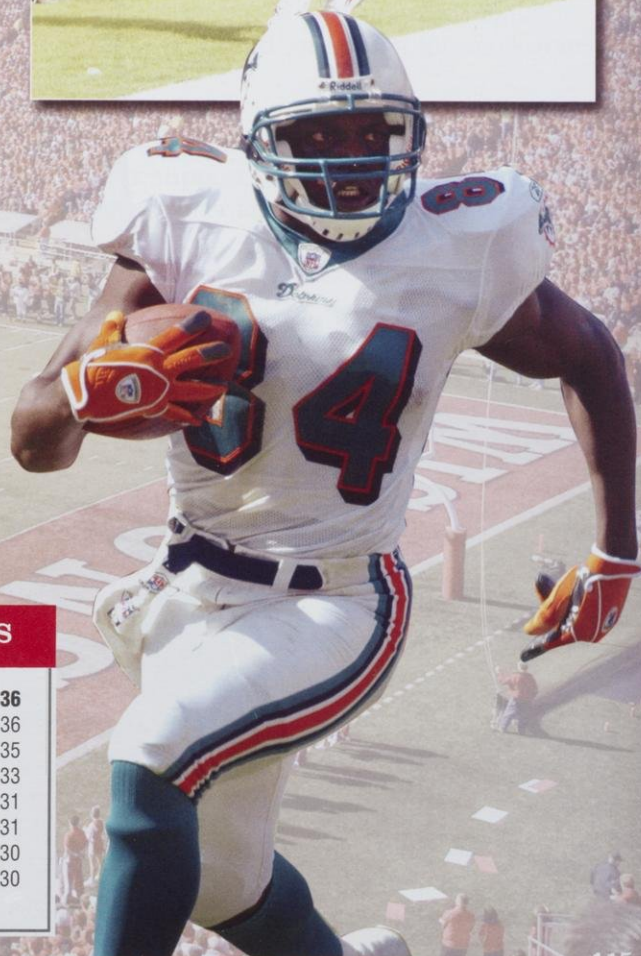

Since 1999, nine Badgers have been selected in the first round of the NFL Draft. That is the second-most in the Big Ten behind Ohio State.

Owen Daniels (top right) was named to the 2006 NFL All-Rookie Team after catching 34 passes for 352 yards and five touchdowns in his first season with the Houston Texans.

Ron Dayne (above) was the Houston Texans' leading rusher last season and averaged 107.3 yards per game in December. That included a 153-yard outing in the Texans' 27-24 win over eventual Super Bowl Champion Indianapolis.

Chris Chambers (right) has accumulated more than 5,000 career receiving yards in his six seasons as a Dolphin and played in the 2006 Pro Bowl.

A Message From The Big Ten Conference

Dear Big Ten Fans,

Big Ten athletics have always existed within the context of higher education and are an integral part of each university's mission. Today, just as in 1896, athletic opportunities are provided to enhance the overall educational experience for student-athletes. The Big Ten remains committed to promoting a healthy environment built on a foundation of fair play and ethical conduct.

The Big Ten and its member institutions strive to create a positive atmosphere at all intercollegiate contests. The individuals involved, from university administrators to coaches and game officials, are dedicated to fostering a competitive environment that is fair, safe and respectful for all concerned.

Your cooperation and similar commitment is another vital aspect of making this event enjoyable for all spectators and for those competing today. Behavior intended to intimidate or demean any of today's participants, including the opponent and officials, is contrary to the educational purpose and mission of intercollegiate athletics.

The student-athletes participating today will exhibit a passion and drive that is at the core of the Big Ten intercollegiate athletic experience. I thank you for your support and commitment to the very excellence for which these talented individuals strive and this conference has always valued.

You are an integral part of this event, so please respect the game and each other.

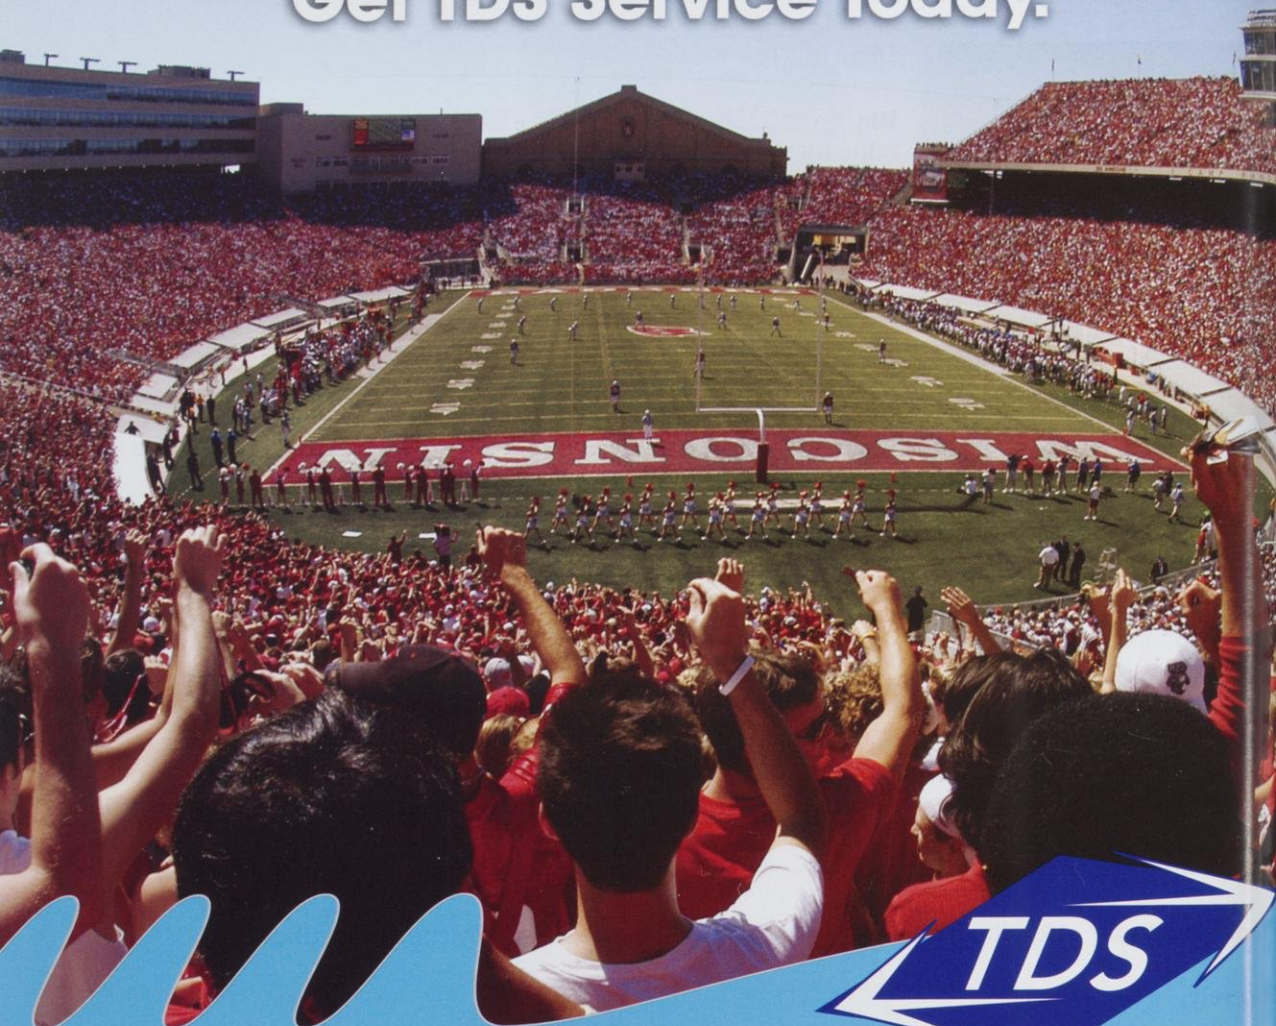

Thanks again for attending this Big Ten Conference event and enjoy the competition!

Sincerely,

James E. Delany
Big Ten Commissioner

2007 GRIDIRON SERIES

The Gridiron Series continues with four new classic covers from the University of Wisconsin football game day programs. These wonderful and historic pieces of art are being produced as posters and made available for purchase for your home or office.

Four covers from this limited edition series from the 1920s through the 1940s were first produced in 2006. This season, four new stylistically different posters have been chosen to be printed as 16x20-inch posters and 5x7-inch note cards. The images represent different decades as well as feature schools like Marquette that no longer sponsor football.

Discover Wisconsin's illustrious past and enjoy this beautiful and collectible art. The note card sets include three of each of the season's four images for a total of 12 cards and envelopes. Use them as unique birthday, special event or holiday greeting cards.

The Gridiron Series posters cost $18 individually, or purchase the season's series of four for $60. The note cards are $15 per package. View the collection and order your vintage posters today at uwbadgers.com/vintage_posters.

Retired Numbers

35 AMECHE

#35 Alan Ameche

Alan Ameche, the 1954 Heisman Trophy winner, was a three-time All-American and ended his career as the NCAA's all-time rushing leader. He led the Badgers to the 1953 Rose Bowl and rushed for 133 yards in that game. The four-time NFL Pro Bowl pick was inducted into the College Hall of Fame in 1975.

#40 Elroy Hirsch

Elroy Hirsch played only one season (1942) at UW, but he was one of the most beloved sports figures in school history. Hirsch, nicknamed "Crazylegs," rushed for 786 yards for Wisconsin's 8-1-1 team in 1942. He starred for nine years with the L.A. Rams and later served as UW's Director of Athletics (1969-87).

#88 Pat Richter

Pat Richter, who led the nation in receiving as a junior, was a consensus All-American in 1962. A two-time first-team All-Big Ten selection, he paced the conference in receiving in 1961 and 1962. A member of the Washington Redskins for eight seasons, Richter later returned to UW to serve as director of athletics (1989-2004).

#80 Dave Schreiner

Dave Schreiner, the two-time All-America end, was named Western Conference Player of the Year in 1942. Schreiner lettered three years at the UW as an end, both on offense and defense. He is a member of the National Football Foundation and W Club Halls of Fame. He was voted to the UW's all-time team in 1969.

#83 Allan Shafer

The memory of former quarterback Allan Shafer is continued via the "Living Memorial" Scholarship that is given in his name. Shafer was fatally injured during the 1944 Wisconsin-Iowa game. Shafer is one of two Badgers (Jay Seiler is the other) to die from a football-related injury.

ALL-TIME TEAM

In conjunction with the centennial celebration of college football in 1969, Wisconsin fans selected the school's all-time team. The 11-man unit features 1954 Heisman Trophy winner Alan Ameche, who was voted "All-time Greatest Player."

ALAN AMECHE (1951-54): 1954 Heisman Trophy winner ... set NCAA career rushing mark (3,345)

KEN BOWMAN (1961-63): 10-year NFL career with Packers ... played in East-West Shrine Game

HOWARD "CUB" BUCK (1913-15): Labeled by some as the best lineman of his era ... consensus All-American

PAT HARDER (1941-42): Second pick in NFL draft ... MVP of Chicago Tribune College All-Star Game

ELROY "CRAZYLEGS" HIRSCH (1942): Set many receiving records with Rams ... eventually served as Badger A.D.

DAN LANPHEAR (1957-59): Madison native was a 1959 All-American before pro career with Oilers

ARLIE MUCKS, SR. (1914): All-American on gridiron and silver medalist at Olympics (discus)

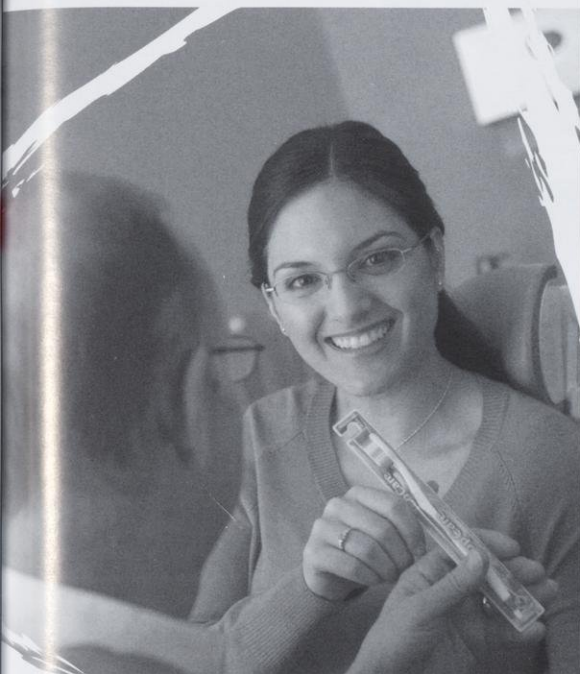

PAT RICHTER (1960-62): Hall of Fame inductee both on field and in classroom ... former Badger A.D.

DAVE SCHREINER (1940-42): First two-time All-American ... three TD catches in one quarter still a school record

RON VANDER KELEN (1962): Passed for 401 yards vs. No. 1-ranked USC in the 1963 Rose Bowl

ROBERT "RED" WILSON (1946-49): Big Ten MVP in 1949 ... played baseball for the Chicago White Sox, Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers

ACADEMIC HALL OF FAME

Two former Badger gridiron stars (Alan Ameche and Pat Richter) have been inducted into the CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame.

To gain admittance to the Hall, student-athletes must be former Academic All-Americans who distinguished themselves off the playing field after graduation.

Ameche, who played professionally after graduation, retired in Philadelphia after his career and became one of the city's philanthropic leaders. Richter played pro football in Washington before returning to the UW to earn his law degree. He worked at a Madison law firm and at Oscar Mayer before his appointment as Director of Athletics at the University of Wisconsin.

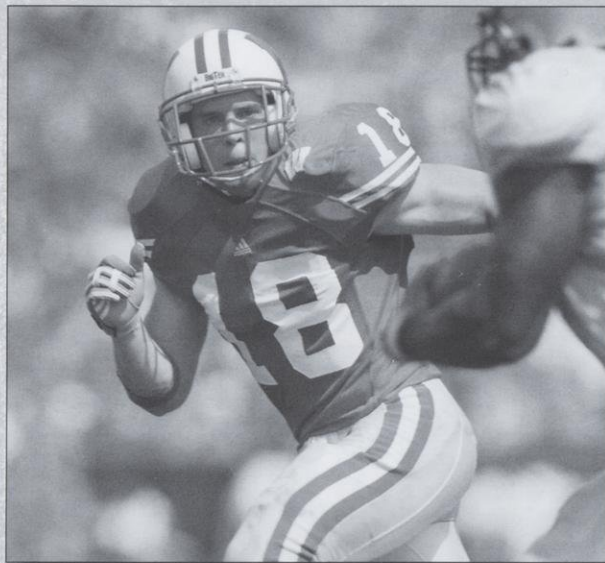

NCAA Post-Graduate Scholars

The NCAA annually awards post-graduate scholarships to student-athletes who excel academically and athletically and who are in their last year of competition. Thirty-five scholarships each year go to football players (13 to Div. I-A players). Wisconsin's recipients are listed below.

It is through the support of dedicated volunteers that the University's sports program is so successful. No group better represents this commitment than Bucky's Ambassadors. This group of volunteers spends hours leading tours, handing out schedules and posters at games, assembling media kits and direct mail projects, acting as hosts and crowd controllers at special events, and many other personal and group activities. Look for the Ambassadors dressed in their Bucky jackets or red Badger vests at each Badger game. Thank them for a job well done. If you're interested in joining the Ambassadors, please call 608-262-7425.

Radio Coverage

For the 14th year in a row, exclusive radio coverage of Badger football can be heard on the 55-station Wisconsin Radio Network. The Department of Athletics and Learfield Communications / Badger Sports Properties entered into an agreement for radio broadcast rights for football and basketball in 1994.

WIBA-AM (1310 AM) and WIBA-FM (101.5 FM) are the rights holders in the Madison market, and WTMJ (620 AM) carries the games in Milwaukee.

Television Coverage

It's easy to follow Badger football through the Big Ten's comprehensive television package. All Wisconsin games will be selected for live TV coverage on either ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 or The Big Ten Network.

Launched in August 2007, the Big Ten Network is dedicated to covering the Big Ten Conference and its 11 member institutions.

The Big Ten Network will provide unprecedented access to an extensive schedule of conference sports events and shows; original programs in academics, the arts and sciences; campus activities; and associated personalities. Sports programming will include live coverage of more major men's and women's events than ever before, along with news, highlights and analysis, all complemented by hours of university-produced campus programming.

The network is available to all cable and satellite carriers and television distributors nationwide, with most programs offered in stunning high-definition television. The Big Ten Network is a joint venture between subsidiaries of the Big Ten Conference and Fox Cable Networks.

The Department of Athletics has made a strong commitment to bringing its news straight to the fans. The Badgers' Web site (uwbadgers.com) produces news updates multiple times daily to keep fans up-to-speed on the happenings in the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Web users can tune in for live video streaming of media news conferences, chat with coaches, staff and student-athletes, order tickets online or listen to live radio broadcasts of games.

NCAA Guidelines

What Every Badger Fan Should Know

With increasing numbers of NCAA rules governing outside intervention in recruiting, coaches cannot afford to have any extra "help" in recruiting elite student-athletes to the University of Wisconsin. The penalties are too severe.

Here are some tidbits of information concerning you and Badger athletics ...

You are a "representative" of the UW's athletics interests (i.e., booster) if any of the following apply:

- a) you are an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin;
- b) you have ever made financial contributions to the athletics department, to an athletic booster organization of the UW, or to a UW athletics program;
- c) you have ever helped to arrange employment of enrolled student-athletes and/or National Letter of Intent signees;
- d) you have ever been involved in any way promoting the Badger athletic program.

Once an individual is identified as an "athletics representative/booster," the person retains that identity forever, even if that person no longer contributes to or supports the athletics program.

NCAA Bylaw 13.01.5 states: In Division I, a representative of the UW's athletics interests is prohibited from making in-person, on-or-off campus recruiting contacts, or written or telephonic communications with a prospect or the prospect's relatives or legal guardians.

A prospect is any student who has started classes for the ninth grade. In addition, any student younger than ninth grade could become a "prospect" if they receive any benefits from an institution or a booster. Student-athletes enrolled in preparatory school or two-year colleges are also considered prospective student-athletes.

What Can You Do?

If you know of a high school or junior college student-athlete who might want to attend the UW, the only permissible activity for a representative is to call the appropriate UW coach.

Extra Benefit Rule

A representative of UW athletics interests cannot provide an "extra benefit" to a prospective or enrolled student-athlete. An extra benefit is any special arrangement by an institutional employee or a booster to provide for a student-athlete or a student-athlete's friend or relative a benefit not expressly authorized by NCAA legislation. Some examples of prohibited activities are:

- a) providing gifts or reduced cost services;
- b) providing a loan, or arranging for or co-signing a loan;

- c) employing relatives or friends of a prospective student-athlete as an inducement for the enrollment of the prospect;

- d) providing use of an automobile;

- e) providing rent-free or reduced-rent housing;

- f) providing tickets to an athletic, institutional or community event;

- g) entertaining or contacting a prospective student-athlete or a prospective student-athlete's family on or off campus;

- h) offering student-athletes, or their relatives or friends, the opportunity to purchase items, even at face value, not adequately publicized as available for sale to the general public; or

- i) promising to provide any of the above.

According to NCAA rules, the University of Wisconsin Athletic Department reserves the right to withhold any benefit or privilege associated with their athletic department (i.e., booster clubs, ticket privileges, etc.) from individuals that are involved in a violation of NCAA legislation.

Employment

A representative of athletics interests is permitted to provide employment for student-athletes under the following conditions:

- The student-athlete's compensation can't include any remuneration for value or utility that the student-athlete may have for the employer because of the publicity, reputation, fame or personal following that he or she has obtained because of athletics ability;

- The student-athlete may receive compensation for only work actually performed; and

- The student-athlete's compensation must be at a rate commensurate with the going rate in that locality for similar services.

With more than 700 student-athletes competing at the UW, the Department of Athletics encourages businesses to hire Badger student-athletes. Please contact Kelli Richards, UW's CHAMPS/Life Skills Coordinator at 608-265-0138 or the UW Department of Athletics if you are interested in pursuing these opportunities further.

For more information regarding rules and regulations, or for an informational brochure regarding rules for alumni and friends of Badger athletics, please contact Steve Waterfield, Assistant Athletic Director for Compliance, at 608-265-2973.

Camp Randall Stadium Policies

Conduct Code

In order to keep Wisconsin football games as enjoyable as possible for our fans and their families, we ask that you respect others around you. If a ticket holder's conduct endangers or disrupts players, coaches, officials or other patrons, the University reserves the right to remove the ticket holder from the premises. No refund will be made in such cases. Stadium violations (body passing, throwing objects, and possession of alcohol 21 or older) and object passing may result in a $181 fine.

Smoke-Free Facility

Smoking is prohibited in all state-owned buildings, including Camp Randall Stadium. Designated smoking areas are located within the stadium perimeter.

Entry / No Re-entry

Please enter the gate printed on your ticket to allow for the most efficient entry to the stadium. Gates open 90 minutes prior to kick off. Fans may not leave the stadium and then re-enter during the game. If an emergency arises, check with gate security.

Express Lines

Fans are encouraged not to bring any carry-ins. Fans with no carry-ins will enjoy the use of Express Lines at all gates, with the exception of the student entrance at Gate 5.

Alcohol

No alcohol may be brought into the Stadium. Possession may result in police arrest and a fine of $181. The fine for first offense for underage possession/consumption of alcohol is $243.

Guest Services Center

For general game day information, visit the Guest Services Center located under Section YZ, in the south end zone concourse.

Emergencies

In the event of a medical emergency, immediately notify a security guard, usher, police officer or paramedic in your area. UW Health First Aid Stations are located in the upper deck at Section FF, in the 5th level concourse behind Section T, and under Section YZ in the south end zone concourse.

In case of an emergency it is possible to contact a patron during a game if you know their exact seat location by calling (608) 265-8676. No announcements will be made over the stadium sound system.

Lost and Found

If you lose an article on game day, please go to the Guest Services Center located under Section YZ, in the south end zone concourse, or call (608) 265-8676. For lost-and-found inquiries on non-game days, please call or visit the Camp Randall Welcome Center in Kellner Hall (608-262-1866).

Items Not Permitted

For the safety and security of all patrons, certain items are prohibited, including, but not limited to: any food or beverage items, cans, bottles, coolers, thermoses, backpacks (gym, duffel and tote), luggage, strollers, laser pointers, banners, flags, signs, noisemakers, weapons, balloons, beach balls or umbrellas. All patrons entering Camp Randall Stadium are subject to search. Storage facilities are not available for checking prohibited items.

Endowed Funds

Many UW alumni and friends have chosen to contribute to the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics by establishing endowed funds for scholarship and/or operational needs. Created through gifts made to Wisconsin Athletics that are managed and invested by the UW Foundation, these funds provide annual income for scholarship and operational support while the principal remains in perpetuity to benefit the Division. The funds have a tremendous impact as they benefit today's student-athletes and also those in generations to come.

The following endowed funds, named for the donor or someone the donor wishes to honor, provide much needed support to for Badger student-athletes. Our student-athletes, coaches and administrators thank these patrons for their generous support of Wisconsin Athletics.

One great program deserves another.

University of Wisconsin-Madison HALL OF FAME SPOTLIGHT

The University of Wisconsin-Madison welcomed its 17th class into the Athletic Hall of Fame this year. With the induction of seven new outstanding UW athletes, the Hall of Fame now consists of 155 Badger greats.

The class of 2007 included:

Sherisa Livingston	Bert DeHate
Earl "Jug" Girard	Matt Demaray
Jim Temp	Bill Gregory
Vern Woodward

Matt Demaray

Wrestling 1989-1992

Matt Demaray took his place among Badger legends as he was inducted into the University of Wisconsin Athletic Hall of Fame in August of 2007. Prior to joining the Badgers in 1989, Demaray was named the 1988 USA Espoir National Champion and USA Fila Espoir World Freestyle Champion.

During Demaray's illustrious career at Wisconsin, he was a 3 time All American (1990-92.) Demaray's junior and senior campaigns established his place as a Badger Wrestling Legend. In 1991 and 1992, Demaray was a two-time NCAA champion in the 150 lb weight class. In both years he was named Big Ten Wrestler of the Year, earned the 150 lb. Big Ten Championship, and was also named Wisconsin's Outstanding Wrestler.

In 1991, Demaray also became one of only three Badgers of all time to record an undefeated season in 1990-1991 (42-0.) In 1992, Demaray was also named First Team Academic All-American by the National Wrestling Coaches Association, and received the Big Ten Medal of Honor Award.

Following his career at UW, Demaray won the U.S. Senior Open Freestyle Championships from 1992-1995. He was an Olympic Team Alternate in 1992. Demaray also served as assistant coach of the Badgers in 1992 and 1993.

The National W Club is a proud sponsor of the University of Wisconsin-Madison Athletic Hall of Fame. The National W Club is the UW's letter winner organization. All former Badger student athletes are eligible to become active members of the National W Club. For more information, visit our website at www.nationalwclub.com or call Jill Ries, Membership Director, at 608-262-1008.

Inside the Program

At every Badger home game, more than 80,000 fans in Camp Randall Stadium and millions more watching on TV witness the UW coaching staff and players in action.

What they don't see is the behind-the-scenes workings of the UW Athletic Department that makes the games enjoyable for the fans and the teams.

There are hundreds of UW Athletic Department employees that work all week and long hours on Saturdays to make Badger football games the events they have become.

This week we profile the equipment staff.

The Wisconsin football equipment staff spends countless hours every day in order to prepare and wrap up football practices, drills and especially games.

Organized by Mark Peeler, the staff does what it can to help make the day run smoothly for the players and coaches. Peeler is in his 13th year working with the Wisconsin football team. He is responsible for player and staff apparel and equipment.

Prior to practice, Peeler and his staff makes sure the players have everything they need. Whether it is socks, shoes, things they lose or things that are worn out, the staff is there to make sure each athlete has everything they need.

"Every day we check the equipment, especially the helmets, to make sure everything is in working order so that it doesn't break on the field," said Peeler. "Only when something breaks and isn't fixed is the time that our equipment personnel get attention, and it's usually not the good kind of attention."

"Our student managers do so much for us," Peeler remarked. "We have a total of 15 student managers that help us out. Five are in the locker room helping with the check-in and check-out of equipment. The other 10 are on the field and are each assigned a coach to help with drill-specific work."

Whether it is setting up cones, holding dummies, setting balls and holding chains, the students do a lot of work and are a very important part of the program.

The equipment staff is responsible for setting up the locker room, making sure everyone's uniforms and pads are in order, prior to each home and away game.

"Our students managers are such a great group of kids," said Peeler. "We couldn't do what we do without them,"

On gamedays, the equipment staff packs the equipment trunks with all kinds of extra gear, from facemasks to gloves to extra coats and towels. When traveling to away games the staff literally moves the entire equipment operation on the road.

Peeler and his staff arrive at the stadium about four hours before kickoff to prepare the locker room and field. They get the helmets out and hang the jerseys in front of the players' lockers to make the locker room look nice and ready for the players. The game pants and a game program are laid out for each player to take a look at as they are arriving to the locker room.

After a game, all the students work together collecting all the clothing and equipment. Peeler and his assistant, Terry Calloway, take care of the actual washing of the uniforms and getting them prepared for the next game. Home games are a lot easier due to the turf; the uniforms don't accumulate much for stains. Away games on grass and rain games are a whole other story. The road white uniforms can become very dirty very fast with wet conditions.

Peeler and his staff spend numerous hours every day working with the athletes and coaches and are a key part to the program's yearly success.

"The thing I love most about this job is seeing the growth of the students as they progress over four or five years," said Peeler. "When these kids come in as freshmen they are experiencing a whole new world. I really enjoy the way they mature and become better players and better people in the time they are here. Also, I love to come to work every day, and you can't ask for more than that."

The next time you are watching the Badgers at Camp Randall or on TV, be sure to take a minute and observe the numerous people on the sidelines assisting the players and coaches before, during and after the game.

Final Thoughts

Each week, Justin Doherty, UW's assistant athletic director for communications, will offer a look at the Badger football program. In his position, Doherty has unique access to the coaches and players and a good understanding of their experiences. This week he talks about a couple of Coach Bielema's philosophies.

Anyone who has listened to head coach Bret Bielema speak publicly – at a news conference, Badger Days function, media day, alumni gathering – has likely heard one of two phrases: “1-0 mentality” or “it’s not what happens during the course of a game, it’s how you react to it.”

Bret has uttered these mantras hundreds of times and, because of that, I sometimes wonder if their impact is lessened. I hope not, because they’re not just meaningless clichés. Rather, I’d say they are pretty wise philosophies that apply not only to football, but to life in general.

Let’s take “1-0” for example and use it in a football analogy. My take on “1-0” is that you focus on each moment (or day, or game, or meeting, etc.), do the best you can with it and then move on so you can focus on the next moment. Regardless of whether a quarterback throws a touchdown pass, an interception or an interception, he has to move onto the next play. He can learn from the previous play, but he has to let go of it or he won’t be able to focus completely on the next play.

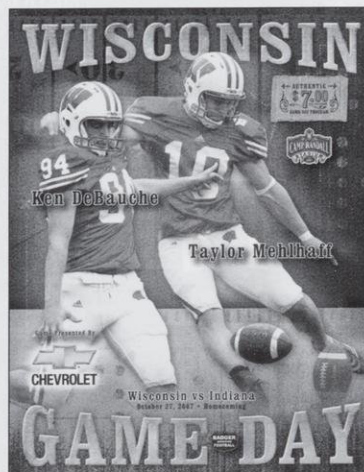

The “1-0” philosophy is available to all of us at most any time. But it’s often easier said than done. Potential distractions are everywhere. Our focus shifts or floats off somewhere and, the next thing we know, we’re stuck thinking about the previous play. Which is where the second of Bret’s sayings – “it’s not what happens during the course of a game, it’s how you react to it” – comes into the picture.

All kinds of situations arise during a football game. A touchdown. A missed field goal. A foolish penalty. A great catch. A brilliant coaching decision. And on and on. Each event, each action, elicits a response or reaction. Team A intercepts a pass and returns it for a touchdown. How does Team B respond? Team B’s offense fails on a fourth-and-1, giving Team A momentum. How does Team B’s defense respond?

I witnessed a great example of both philosophies last week. I ran into Luke Swan the day after his season-ending injury at Illinois. He was on crutches and, obviously, pretty down. I mentioned to him that, prior to the injury during the Illinois game, he had gone over 1,000 yards receiving for his career. I also told him that I believe that buried somewhere in each moment of adversity is an opportunity.

Luke showed up at practice two days later, encouraging his teammates and offering tips to the likes of freshmen Kyle Jefferson and David Gilreath. It was both of Bret’s philosophies rolled into one at that moment. It was a young man doing what he could in that given moment (“1-0”) and demonstrating a most useful way to react to something that had happened in the course of his life.
