POLICE PREPARE FOR CLASS RUSH FRAY ON CAMPUS

Clinic Doctors List Frosh and Soph Students "Ineligible"

Police captains, appointed to preserve order and protect freshmen against possible deportation on the part of sophomores, will meet at 12:45 o'clock today in the gymnasium to receive final instructions from Leslie R. Gage '23, chief of police.

The men also will receive clubs and sticks to use in case of violence. The leaders of the police group are taking no chances in letting the situation get beyond control.

"We are going to make every possible effort to protect the lower campus tonight and tomorrow morning," Gage declared when advised of rumors that sophomores plan to plow up or floor the ground.

Plans Are Mystery

"We also are going to see that freshmen are not molested going to or coming from their morning classes tomorrow. We will take every precaution against possible deportation of members of either class."

It was reported last night that freshmen were planning concentrated attack in the rush instead of relying on their superior numbers. The yearlings are not allowed to have meetings before the rush, but it was reported they would attempt to hold another unofficial mass meeting as they did last week, following the meeting of the sophomore class.

Sophomores Meet

The second-year men met in the auditorium of the engineering building last night to discuss plans of attack to be used tomorrow.

A number of plans were present-

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair and warmer weather is predicted for Madison and vicinity today with probably unsettled weather tomorrow.

DRAMA SOCIETIES TO UNITE; SINGLE CLUB FOR MEN, CO-EDS LOOMS IN COALITION PLANS

Red Domino, Edwin Booth, Twelfth Night to Join Forces

The organization of a single large co-ed dramatic club as a center of campus dramatic interest was assured last night when Red Domino dramatic club voted to unite with Twelfth Night and Edwin Booth clubs. Twelfth Night and Edwin Booth previously had signified their desire for a coalition.

A committee of seven members, representing the three clubs and the faculty committee on dramatics, will meet this afternoon to make definite plans for the organization. The three clubs will hold a joint meeting to complete the union next week.

"By a coalition of the clubs, dramatic work will be placed on a sound financial basis with a stable organization," Roy French '23, president of Edwin Booth, stated last night.

Financial Handicaps

With the three clubs working separately in competition, it has been necessary to keep dramatics on a small scale. The clubs could not each put on large productions without meeting financial embarrassment, and for some years the only full-length plays presented by the clubs have been joint productions", he said.

"It has been necessary under the three-club system to play to the box office. A unified organization will enable the students to produce plays which cannot be seen at a commercial theater. They will be able to do experimental work with high grade drama, work which is now supposed to be the purpose of the clubs.

Considered for Years

"The union has been under consideration for some years, but not until this year has it been possible to bring the clubs together", French concluded.

In the past, when any of the single sex clubs has presented a play or an open meeting, it has been necessary to call on outsiders to play the parts of the sex unrepresented in the club. This situation is one of unnecessary difficulty and inefficiency, according to members of the clubs.

The membership is mixed in the dramatic organizations of most other co-educational institutions.

TWAS GLORIOUS; CARDINAL HOLDS ANNUAL FROLIC

Cubs, Printers' Devils, and Faculty Members Join Event

Never before did the spirited clubs the printer's devils, and the dignified faculty members connected with The Cardinal prance the old-fashioned Virginia reel with such glee as at the banquet given last evening at the Monona hotel. It was fun; the 75 persons present will admit it.

Ralph E. Balliette, president of the board of control presided as toastmaster. Prof. G. M. Hyde of the Course in Journalism, and George L. Geiger '23 managing editor of The Cardinal gave addresses.

"There is 50 per cent more talent on The Cardinal staff this year than ever before," Professor Hyde said. A plan should be considered whereby members of the staff should be given more credit for their work. Major staff positions should be regarded as important as Phi Beta Kappa membership and athletics "W's".

The "personal touch" as advocated by Geiger was carried out when each guest or host self-introduced himself by giving his name, year at school, and Cardinal staff position.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

VARSITY TRAINS FOR HARD FIGHT WITH S. DAKOTA

Weaknesses in Line Make Reversal in Dope Now Possible

Varsity went through another scrimmage yesterday afternoon, the last hard workout before the game with South Dakota State college next Saturday. The showing of Coach John R. Richards' tentative eleven augured a possible reversal of dope in its next engagement.

Coach Guy Lowman's All-Americans were sent into the fray with instructions to "go", and that the thirdstringers "went" was indicated by the consistency with which they pierced the regulars' defense.

Quarterback O'Brien and his group took the ball in midfield. A series of plunges through the sliding Varsity line brought the ball to the goalposts when Coach Richards called a halt.

Weakness In Line

With a patched-up forward wall, the first eleven was at a disadvantage, but its inability to hold Lowman's outfit showed a marked weakness in the middle of the line. Varsity was unable to bore through the reserves on offense and it is this failure to "carry through" that will have to be corrected before Conference forwards can be stopped. Russell Irish, at left end, spilled interference, and got the ball carrier several times.

Giving Varsity the ball on the reserves' 25-yard line, Richards ordered Barr and his eleven to make the distance in five downs. They went over in four, a pass from Barr to Pulaski doing the business.

South Dakota Strong

The two elevens skirmished until darkness put an end to their activity.

South Dakota has one of the strongest secondary college squads in the Middle West. It is prepared to open a bag of tricks against the Badgers and a powerful defense will be necessary to cope with the heavy Dakota line and the speedy background.

A large number of tickets were sold at the gym yesterday and it is expected that the sale will be greatly increased today.

Students will have to pay public rates if they fail to get the pasteboards before 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

Student Organizations

Must List All Officers

All student organizations must file lists of officers in the office of the dean of men in South hall. This includes all organized bodies of students, including all social, dramatic, and educational organizations.

Boundary Shifts Before Council Judiciary Body

Changing of precinct boundaries in the Third ward will be considered at a meeting of the judiciary committee of the common council at the city hall Thursday evening.

Claims for damages will also be reviewed at the meeting. Among the claims which have been referred to the committee by the council are those of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Howley for $5,000 and Paul Sprengle, $5,000, resulting from accidents claimed to have been the fault of the city employees.

Permits For 5 New

Buildings Are Issued

Building permits to the total of $24,500 were issued Wednesday. A. C. Tonn will erect a $3,500 frame residence at Highland and University aves. Permits for three frame residence buildings at 919-921-923 Spring st. to cost $4,000 each were issued to J. T. Blake, contractor. The largest permit was that issued to Hans Peterson for a frame apartment house at 114 N. Orchard st. at a cost of $9,000.

BEN PEARSE STILL IN RUNNING FOR BADGER FOOTBALL CENTER POSITION

Ben Pearse is still in the running for the center job on Wisconsin's Varsity football eleven. Although Nichols got the call in last Saturday's contest with Carleton, Pearse is often used in the pivot position. He has an ideal build for a center, powerful and rangy. Ben worked for a short time in the Carleton mix-up and he will probably see actions in other games during the season.

He is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

VARSITY NET MEN IN RACE

Three Tennis Stars Survive Tournamant Tryouts For Regular Team

With only three games yet to be played the Varsity tryout tennis tournament is nearly over. Three men who have been in the tournament have survived every match and are in the running.

Henika, by virtue of his recent defeat over Gibson, will play in the finals. Besides winning his match from Gibson, he has defeated Art Moulding, third man on the varsity team last year. By his excellent playing throughout the season, he is practically assured of a berth on the Wisconsin team this year.

Campbell and Bennett are scheduled to play in the near future, and the winner of this match is to play Henika in the finals. Both of these men have proved their ability as tennis players in former years at Wisconsin, and the match between them should be a good one.

Tom Tredwell, captain of last year's Varsity squad, has not been playing in the tournament because of outside activities. He will have undoubtedly a chance to play the winner of the tournament to decide the best tennis player in school.

Writ Stays Seizure of Booze on Ship

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Federal Judge Hand today granted a temporary restraining order prohibiting H. C. Stuart acting collector of the port of New York, Ralph A. Day, federal prohibition director for New York and John G. Appleby, chief zone prohibition officer, from putting into effect the federal order to seize ships and liquor under the Daugherty prohibition order.

The order was granted on application of the International Mercantile Marine corporation acting for the American Lines, included in that corporation. It specifically affects the steamers Finland and St. Paul.

The order will be in force, Judge Hand said, until a hearing scheduled for October 17.

Hobart Bondi, of university football fame, died yesterday afternoon following a short illness. He is survived by his father, Edward Bondi, and four brothers, Jay of California, and Hobart, Edwin and Robert of this city.

NEW MEN MAY SAVE MICHIGAN

Material for Vacancies in Wolverine Team is Mediocre

(Special to The Cardinal)

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan's chances to figure in the Big Ten race this season depend almost entirely upon how the green men in the center of the line perform under conference fire. The Wolverine backfield is intact from last year but it is the forward wall that is worrying Yost at present.

Although a host of men are trying out for the vacancies left by the graduation of Vick, Dunne and Wilson the material is extremely mediocre and it is hard to predict at present how the new men will perform in the big game.

Eligibility of Eddie Johns, veteran guard and tackle, who recently passed an examination to remove a condition has given Wolverine hopes a big boost but there are still three places to be filled by inexperienced men.

Strong on Flanks

On the flanks Yost has four letter men in Captain Goebel, Kirk, Neisch and Henderson while Muirhead, star tackle from last year will play the same position this season. Vandervort a 200 pound sophomore will probably be his running mate. Johns will be stationed at one guard while Rosatti or Van Orden will probably fill the other guard position.

Slaughter and Blott are fighting it out for the pivot job and are being trained by Ernie Vick, former All-American center. Neither player is near the equal of Vick offensively or defensively.

If the forward wall stands up under the assaults of the Big Ten elevens Michigan should have a strong team for the backfield quartette which finished the season is ready to start this fall.

Experienced Backfield

Uteritz will direct the team from quarter, Roby and Kipke will be at halfback with Cappon at fullback. Herb Steger, the Oak Park flash, has gone great in scrimmages and may crowd out some of these men, while Dunleavy, Knode and Keeler will be used in a number of games.

Uteritz, Kipke, and Steger all carry the triple threat while Roby and Cappon are line plungers.

Knod is substitute quarterback and directed the team in the opening game against Case as Captain Goebel and Uteritz accompanied Coach Yost to Columbus to see the Buckeyes in action against Ohio Wesleyan. 15,000 Michigan rooters will journey to Columbus for the initial Big Ten game when the Wolverines clash with the Scarlet and Grey.

FRESHMEN AIDED BY SOPH BOARD

The sophomore commission of the Y. M. C. A. performed many services for the incoming freshman during the opening days of school, a report of the commission, issued yesterday, declared.

A rooming house list of both single and double rooms was conducted for the use of all men in the school. Approximately 2,900 men in school were directed to houses where they might obtain either single or double rooms. This work was headed by Edward T. Schele '25.

Members of the commission met every incoming train, day and night, on all roads. They took care of the baggage of the new men and directed them to the Y. M. C. A. where they could get information concerning rooms. Stanley Kadow '25, was in charge of this work.

Many freshmen were visited by members of the commission. This was done in order to inform them of university life, where they might go in case of sickness, financial trouble, or other difficulties, and in general to make them feel at home in their new surroundings.

VARSITY MIXER SATURDAY NIGHT

"Meet more people at the university".

That is the aim of the Union board in giving the second all-university mixer of the year at the gymnasium at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Morton Frost, president of Union board, promises a complete program for the mixer. There will be a number of special feature acts given during the evening. A 10-piece orchestra will play for dancing while refreshments will be sold.

PURDUE TEAM TO FIGHT N. D.

Boilermakers Prepare For Big Game With Noted Irishmen

(Special to The Cardinal)
LAFAYETTE — With the first game of the season out of the way Coach Phelan has turned his entire attention in getting his squad ready for Notre Dame here Saturday. The showing of the Boiler Makers against James Millikin here last week was not satisfactory. The work of the men on the defense was much better than that done on the offense.

A week of hard work was on the program, but rain is keeping Coach Phelan from doing everything that he wants.

Captain Is Injured

Captain Murphy will probably be kept out of the Notre Dame game on account of injuries received in the Millikin game. In the first half he was thrown on his left side, tearing the muscles in his arm loose. Kerr, veteran end, is also out of the game on account of an injured leg. These two men are at the present time the only ones on the hospital list.

This year's team has the strongest tackles, guards, and center combination that any Purdue team has had for several years. W. L. Claypool, playing his third year at tackle and aided by Stewart, a sophomore, on the opposite flank, form a pair that are good on both the offense and defense.

Leading Candidates

Swank, a senior and Fleischmann, sophomore, are taking care of the guard positions in grand style while R. L. Claypool, another sophomore is passing the ball. Preshaw playing his first year on the team is the best of the end candidates. Morgan, Kerr, Hawkins, Geiger and Dye are the men who are trying for the other end position.

Frosh Girls Lead Race For Purple Golf Honors

Freshmen girls are leading the field in the Woman's Golf championship race at Northwestern. About twenty girls are in the race, the average score being 50. The freshman girls have turned out in much greater numbers than the upperclassmen, which is severely handicapping the juniors and seniors.

DAKOTA ELEVEN ARRIVES TODAY; 'READY TO WIN'

Best Line-up of North School Will Face Badgers

The South Dakota football team arrived at 4:00 o'clock this morning over the Chicago and North Western. Limbering up and practice will be held on Camp Randall field today at 3:30 o'clock.

Coach West states that the team comes to Madison uninjured, and unless subsequent injuries develop, the team will start the game with its best lineup.

First Men Were Saved.

In the St. Thomas game last Saturday, the first string end men were not used. Three more touch downs probably have been made if they had played. The quarters were shortened to enable the St. Thomas players to catch an early train.

The open sale of tickets for the same Saturday began yesterday afternoon in front of the men's gymnasium and will continue today from 12:00 to 5:30 o'clock and Saturday morning from 9 to 11:00 o'clock.

Students, faculty and university employees only are entitled to the student rate of 50 cents by showing a or laboratory card or mark of identification showing that the bearer is entitled to the special rate.

Sale Ends Tomorrow

Instructors and employees not listed in last year's directory must present statement from the head of his department.

The public may buy tickets during above hours at the regular public rate. Positively no tickets can be sold at reduced rates after 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning. After that time the lowest priced seat will be $1.50.

SCIENTIST IS LIKE PLUMBER, EXPERT ASSERTS

Chemist Says World Emphasizes Practical Side of Science

The present tendency of the world is to emphasize the practical side of science, and to neglect the intellectual, often causing the scientist to be classed with a plumber or bricklayer," Dr. G. A. Wendt who is connected with the Standard Oil company declared in an address last night before the American Chemical Society at the chemistry building.

"Research has some value besides mere utility. Science has done more than add to the material comforts of life and has, through research, led to the more general intellectual development of our lives.

"As research advances, science becomes more fascinating and alluring, for the horizon continues to enlarge ever presenting new problems and new unknowns. Scientific knowledge does not interfere with religion, for one can enjoy nature and life even more when the actual facts are known."

Dr. Wendt divides research into three main parts, first is the mastering of the technique or the learning of methods and tools; second, the development of observational powers and the acquirement of facts; third, the extension of these facts and the derivation of new ones.

The speaker said that art and research are related to each other in that both are active in removing obscurity from facts of life.

Castalia Entertains With Mixer at Lathrop Tonight

Castalia Literary society will entertain at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Lathrop hall with an open meeting for all those interested in the organization.

The meeting will be an informal mixer. Punch will be served, and dancing will follow a short program consisting of a piano solo and book review. Catherine Boyd '23, president, will give a short talk on suggestions for tryouts which will be held next Friday evening.

NIGHT EDITOR—H. EUGENE ALLEMAN

LO! THE POOR ATHLETE!

THE day when the teahound re- veled in all of the glory of publicity and abuse is no more. His fame, ill-gotten as it may have been, has departed with him.

Perhaps the species—teahound is extinct. Or it may be that it is simply in hiding. Waiting until the more or less righteous wave of indignation against its kind has spent its strength and departed to seek another victim.

Victims there must be. Someone must be blamed for the diabolical state in which the colleges now find themselves.

The victim has been found.

Now it is college athletics that is a "strangling influence on the student body." No less an authority than "Dad" Elliott, of Y. M. C. A. fame, is responsible for this belief. He said recently at Iowa State college:

"The system of athletics practiced in the colleges and universities of today is a strangling influence on the student body."

"It is built upon the principle of winning games, honestly, if possible, but win them. If a team loses, the entire student body feels it is beaten, and reacts accordingly. Athletes are produced at the sacrifice of their scholastic standing, and consequently do not place in the world as they would have done otherwise. The true test of a team is the way they will act in a game, the score 27 to 0, the ball on their own five-yard line, and two minutes yet to play."

How have the mighty fallen! Yesterday a hero, today an object of pity.

No longer can the athlete feel that he is performing a noble service. He must now realize that his place in the world is beneath that of other men.

His scholastic standing, his career, has been sacrificed upon the ignoble altar of athletic prowess.

And the athletic system is a "strangling influence on the student body."

Those who have been blind to this fact for so long will no doubt welcome the intelligence. They will perhaps realize that they have been worshipping false idols, gods that wreck instead of raise.

These lovers of athletics will now know that a game between the colleges produces an unhealthy spirit. Gone is our former belief that the games united the student body, built stronger men, provided a safety valve for surcharged feelings.

Now that the truth is known it is probable that colleges will be eager to abandon athletics. Nothing must exist that will in any way "strangle the student body," and sacrifice athletes.

It is too late to save those athletes such as Davey, Sundt, and the others. Their careers are doubtless hampered beyond hope. But we can trust that other athletes will be kept from playing in sports that sacrifice their scholastic career. Is it too much to hope?

THE BETTER SIDE

WHEN the devil is well, the devil a devil is he; but when the devil is sick, the devil a saint will be."

So our parents were wont to tell us. And it might not be altogether amiss still to remember their teachings.

The spiritual side of man is too often lost sight of. In the midst of health one does not think of sickness. In times of prosperity one does not dream of famine. And few think of the spiritual self except in times of tribulation.

Everyone at some time or other appreciates that he has a spiritual self, that that spiritual being is the better part of him.

There are in Madison many organizations that give invaluable service toward caring for the spiritual wants of the students who are in their midst.

Madison churches welcome university students. Whatever a man's creed or faith he may find here services that bring him in closer touch with himself and with the Father of all men.

A new edifice is being erected on University avenue. The new Luther Memorial church may be spoken of as an imposing structure and artistic design. But it is more than that.

It will provide spiritual comfort for those university students who

FEAR KILLINGS AS TURKS WAR

Refugees Pour Into Over Crowded Grecian Mainland

PARIS—Greece has decided to sign the Mudania armistice convention and evacuate Thrace, according to the conditions stipulated in that document, the French foreign office was officially informed today.

In view of the program of the Nationalists demanding the complete "Ottomanization" of Turkey, a panic is expected among the 260,000 Greek civilian population of Thrace, which now will be turned over to Turkey.

News of the terms of the armistice struck terror to Christians in Thrace who know the Turk of old. Frantic rabble today are streaming into Greece.

The migration may complete the catastrophe here. Greece, a tiny nation of 5,000,000, has neither the food, accommodations nor employment for this horde of penniless exiles. With winter approaching, disease is already prevalent in the crowded concentration camps and the situation has passed the phase where the government can cope with it unaided.

The half million women and children deported from Smyrna and the Asia Minor coast who landed on the Greek mainland and the archipelago islands are now augmented by the vanguard of the Thracians, who already are crossing the Maritsa river and streaming into Deagatch and Porto Lagos.

CONTRACTOR IS MISSING HERE

No Trace of E. B. St. John Since He Drove Away Week Ago

Mystery surrounds the disappearance of E. B. St. John, 50, Madison contractor who left his rooming house, 142 N. Franklin St., at 4 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, taking with him only one suitcase and driving away in his Chalmers touring car. He gave no reason for his departure and no word has been received as to his whereabouts. All efforts to locate him have failed so far.

A temporary mental breakdown is a theory advanced by his brother, A. P. St. John, 16 N. Broom St., as the possible cause for his disappearance. Five contracting jobs being constructed by Mr. St. John are standing idle, work being delayed until he can be located.

St. John had been working unusually long hours all summer, according to his brother, and it is feared that ill health and worry have undermined his mind temporarily.

He had been living with the family of Henry Gerling, 142 N. Franklin St. for the past year and had been a man of regularity and good standing, according to Mrs. Gerling. Mrs. Gerling had noticed no attitude of depression or worry about the man, she stated.

The matter has not been placed in the hands of the police as yet. A local law firm has been consulted by the brother.

Playground of Middle West Madison Plan

To Ask Legislature For Appropriation; Make City Beautiful

Plans for making Madison "the playground of the middle west," were announced at a luncheon of the Madison Rotary club this noon by Don E. Mowry, secretary of the Association of Commerce. The next state legislature will be asked for an appropriation to carry out this work, if the plan materializes.

A state conference of members of various associations of commerce, and many conservationists will be called at the opening of the legislative session to agitate for an appropriation for advertising Wisconsin's natural beauties.

Mr. Mowry also outlined the growth of associations of commerce, which prior to 1912 had hardly existed as an idea in the minds of men, and as a fact, not at all. He demonstrated the working of the association as a service bureau—maintaining a credit bureau, a library file, an employment division and an information bureau helpful to all men in expanding their business and to travelers from Madison and en route.

Charles Whalen spoke of the unselfish devotion that is demanded of the members of Rotary, in an address preceding the speeches of Mowry and Ela. Adjutant General Holloway and Alfred E. Rowlands were given ovations on the birthday—children of this week.

HAZING RULES BAR OUTBREAK

Severe Penalties Are Provided
By Senate For
Violators

In addition to the major and minor traditions and the ordinances pertaining to their violation which have been printed in The Cardinal, certain provisions exist regarding punishment and hazing. The provisions are the results of the rulings of the various student senates of the past and are endorsed in the senate constitution.

The general provisions of vital interest to the student body, are as follows:

All penalties shall date from the day of conviction and shall run continuously until fulfilled.

The penalties shall not be imposed upon any senior by remaining active or holding throughout his senior year.

The student court shall publish the names of all students charged with violation of the traditions, and the disposition of their cases. Publication shall be made in the student daily paper or papers.

Forbids Hazing

Among the objectionable forms of hazing to be discontinued are the following:

There shall be no interference of any description with freshmen going to or from any university exercise or other exercises, including those of all student organizations.

No hazing shall be permitted on the athletic field or on the university campus.

There shall be no hazing on private property with or without the consent of the owner or lessee.

No student shall be put into the lake.

Designate Upperclassmen

Upon the following designated upperclassmen rest the special duty of preventing hazing:

Weavers of the "W", athletic or forensics, officers of the junior and senior classes and members of the student conference committee.

While the above mentioned are especially charged with preventing hazing, it is agreed and understood that any student of the university has the right to prevent any attempt of hazing.

LONDON—Next Monday Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, will pay to the Federal Reserve bank of New York a check for $50,000,000, on account of this year's interest on the British debt to America. This sum is about the amount due, but the exact amount is not known, as it will have to be settled when Sir Robert Horne arrives in America.

This is due to several questions such as the rate of interest on the accrued interest which has never been decided.

It is now announced that Sir Robert, although not able to leave on Oct. 18 on account of the unsettled state of foreign and domestic policies, will sail as soon as possible after that date and certainly before Oct. 30.

DEATH RATE IN U. S. DROPS

State Welfare Work Has Decreased Mortality, Leader Says

One hundred eighty attended a general luncheon meeting of the state conference of social work yesterday noon in the Congregational Church. Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health, presented definite statistics of birth and death rates.

Mr. Owen R. Lovejoy, head of the national child labor commission, New York, advocated the passage of bills on child welfare in the New York legislature. He suggested a system of federal government control of all child welfare questions. Lovejoy is president of the national conference of social work, and is well known throughout the country as an eloquent speaker.

H. H. Jacobs, president of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, cited the decline in the death rate since the origin of welfare work in this line. The per centage of lives saved in the state has been enormous, according to Mr. Jacobs.

University is Big Factor in State Dairy Work, He Says

The college of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin is doing much to further the dairy farming in the state, Gov. J. J. Blaine declared in his address yesterday on "Wisconsin Day" at St. Paul before the National Dairy exposition.

That dairy farming stabilizes land values and that instruction in dairy farming at the university is of great advantage to the state, is the opinion of the chief executive.

"Under the leadership of large visioned men, our College of Agriculture, the dairy organizations and dairy cattle men, Wisconsin was able to carry out one of the most significant revolutions known to the history of agriculture," he said. "Its significance is pre-eminently featured in the bills of fare of the great hotels of New York and London which today display 'Wisconsin Cheese' as a mark of quality.

"Wisconsin today stands first in the number of dairy cattle, having over 2,750,000 valued at $200,000,000. It stands first in the gallons of milk produced, reaching close unto one billion gallons. In the value of dairy products the state ranks first.

"In the production and value of cheese, Wisconsin far exceeds other states. It also ranks first in processed milks, producing one-fourth of processed milks of the United States.

"Wisconsin's progress has been progressive and constant. In the last 10 years, our percentage increase in value of dairy cattle has been 222 percent as compared with 126 percent for the whole United States, and our percentage increase in production of milk has been over 69 percent in comparison with 18.6 percent for the whole United States.

"The position that Wisconsin has attained in the dairy world gives added incentive to Wisconsin dairymen to make greater progress, and we have the possibility and opportunity for marked future expansion because of the vast undeveloped northern part of our state.

"And even in the area almost wholly under cultivation, the possibilities and opportunity for future expansion were limited only by the ability and ingenuity of Wisconsin farmers in producing forage through new processes and specialization in producing a balanced ration. And I know of no limit as to the ability and ingenuity of Wisconsin farmers and dairymen.

"The future possibilities will be aided by the present movement in Wisconsin to increase the average production per dairy cow, in the elimination of disease among dairy cattle, and by the continual sifting of the scrub and the substitution of the cow of superior quality and breeding, thereby bringing about better animals, better feeding methods, better care and in addition thereto less loss in the production of milk and better systems of distribution."

American Expert Trade Total Drops in August

WASHINGTON—America's export trade with Europe suffered a marked decline in August, dropping to $155,000,000 as compared with $206,000,000 in August, 1921, but the value of goods imported from Europe jumped upward as importers hurried shipments across the Atlantic in a race against final enactment of American tariff legislation. The export total for August as announced by the commerce department was $85,000,000 against $59,000,000 the same month last year.

Trade with South America increased both imports and exports showing a gain over August, 1921. Exports to South America were $19,000,000 as compared with $14,000,000 a year ago. Imports were $27,000,000 as compared with $24,000,000 last year.

COUNTY DANCE LAW IS URGED

Says City Law Useless; Shows Increase at Rural Halls

State legislation which would empower counties to make laws controlling public amusements was urged by Dr. C. H. Harper at the luncheon of the Social Workers' conference at the Congregational church this noon.

"Madison has passed an ordinance that regulates dance halls," said Dr. Harper, "but since that ordinance went into effect, the attendance at local dance halls has dropped off 80 per cent, and that at halls in surrounding towns has increased, some to as high as 60 per cent. The facts speak for themselves. Unless the county as a whole can regulate its amusements, city ordinances are futile."

Owen R. Lovejoy, New York, made a parting appeal for support of the legislative bill for the amendment of the U. S. constitution to make legal child labor legislation.

H. H. Jacobs, president of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, and director with his wife of the University settlement in the Polish district of Milwaukee, also addressed the meeting. Mrs. I. P. Witter, president of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work, presided. About 300 people attended the luncheon.

U. S. WELCOMES TEST.

WASHINGTON—Decision of the Cunard line to seek an injunction restraining the government from enforcing its ban against the entrance into American ports of all ships bringing alcoholic liquors was expected by department of justice officials to be the initial step in the fight of foreign ship owners against the recent liquor ruling of Attorney General Daugherty, it was said Wednesday night.

Department officials reiterated their readiness to "meet the issue," both as regards an injunction and in the matter of a test case.

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The opening guns for the ninth congressional district race were fired last night in the town of Denmark, near here, when George J. Schneider of Appleton, La Follette candidate and Lieut. Gov. George Comings addressed a meeting there. The addresses were confined chiefly to an exposition of principles of progressive Republicanism and an appeal for unity among the labor and farmer elements. The two candidates are scheduled to speak at Stangelville, Tisch Mills and Keweenaw today.

LINERS FIGHT U. S. RUM LAW

Court Orders U. S. to Show Why Writ Should Not be Granted

NEW YORK—Officials of the Cunard and Anchor steamship companies late on Wednesday instituted proceedings in the United States district court hereto restrain government officials from seizing either their ships or the liquor aboard on the high seas.

The application for the injunction, after it had been opposed by Assistant United States Attorney Clarke, was refused by Judge Hand, who, however, ordered the federal authorities to show cause why the order should not be granted. Argument will be heard on Oct. 18.

The "dry ship" fight was taken into the local federal court immediately preceding the departure of the companies' attorneys for Washington, where they are to confer with Attorney General Daugherty on the issues of his recent ruling.

Both lines are of British registry. The attitude of the American Steamship Owners' association toward the dry ship ruling, as expressed in an official statement after a meeting of directors on Wednesday, is that it will peacefully abide by the Daugherty ruling if the prohibitionists will, as a reward, lend their support to the ship subsidy bill now before congress.

City and County Officers Deny That They Have Joined The Ku Klux Klan Order

"We have members of the Ku Klux Klan in every important place in the city. We have members among city and county officials. They are also in the state capitol. We have them in the schools. We know what is going on in the newspaper offices. That is part of the work of our organization."

This was the statement made yesterday by F. S. Webster, who is the local organizer for the Ku Klux Klan. Mr. Webster has been living at the Belmont hotel and says that his home is in Chicago. The state organizer is W. S. Weiseman, who has offices in the Camp building in Milwaukee.

Reporters for The Capital Times today interviewed city and county officials to ascertain whether or not any of them have been asked to join the Ku Klux Klan. Their answers follow:

Leo Kinney, police sergeant—They had better stay away from me.

Harry Davenport, police captain—Not that I know of.

George Fjelstad, county clerk—Not by a darn sight. Where do they get that noise that so many of the county officials belong to the organization? I haven't been able to locate a member here.

C. A. Lewis, register of deeds—Hardly. I haven't seen one of them.

Thomas Reynolds, clerk of the county court—I'm not affiliated.

E. J. Waldron, clerk of the junior superior court—Not yet. I have nothing against them, however, excepting their concealment. Why can't they show their faces if they are on the level?

M. A. Tolland, deputy clerk of the circuit court—Not yet. They might as well save their time and stay away from here.

L. O. Larson, deputy sheriff—Not guilty.

Phillip H. Hintze, county surveyor—Haven't seen one of them yet.

Mayor I. Milo Kittleson—No one has been approaching city officials as far as I know.

William Dowling, alderman—I believe the man should be judged regardless of what church or nationality he belongs to.

Leon A. Smith, superintendent of the water department—I have not been approached. I do not believe in any organization which works in the dark.

E. F. Bunn, city auditor—I have not been approached and if they do approach me, positively no.

E. E. Parker, city engineer—I don't know anything about it.

Harry Buser, city clerk—if they hold a public meeting in the city I intend to go. I have heard so much about them that my curiosity has been aroused. I have not been approached or had it suggested to me.

Sun Prairie Man Suicide; Lack Motive

Josef Colah, 44, Laborer Shoots Self With Revolver

Josef Colak, 44, Sun Prairie laborer, who was found dead in the kitchen of the John Showers home, Sun Prairie, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a .32 caliber revolver, it was announced by coroner W. J. Campbell after an investigation today.

Colak was discovered dead on the floor of the kitchen of the home by Mr. Showers who was awakened about 5:30 a. m. by the report of a revolver shot on the floor directly beneath his bedroom.

Colak had been employed as a laborer on a number of farms about Sun Prairie during the past few years. He was not noticeably despondent, according to members of the Showers family and no motive for the suicide is known. He was unmarried.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Sun Prairie.

Thomas McGowan, alderman—I have not been approached. Religious qualifications would keep me out, anyway.

LARGER RADIO POST PLANNED

Improvements at University Station Will Be Completed Soon

Seven new electron power tubes and a new high voltage switchboard are some of the changes and improvements now being made in the university radio station, W H A, according to M. P. Hanson, chief operator of the station. The tubes are being made in the laboratories of the physics department, under direction of Prof. E. M. Terry, and are different from the vacuum tubes used last year in that the inner supports are of Pyrex, and the outer casings of ordinary glass.

The new switchboard, much improved and of larger size, is fitted with various electric meters, by means of which the operator can tell at a glance whether everything is working properly. A number of safety devices have been added, to protect both operators and apparatus from injury in case of accidental breakdown. Work on the station will be completed this month, and regular university programs and reports will be sent out by November 1.

Greater efficiency in the station and more dependable operation will result from the extensive construction work that is being done.

What is in A Child's Heart?

ELEN BRIEDERT, regarded as pretty and popular, used to enjoy the cave man tactics of the film lovers—on the screen.

But when, during a visit to Honolulu, she became the object of the cave man wooing of a dashing artillery officer, she fled shamelessly, ignominiously aboard a ship and back to the states.

A day out at sea Miss Briedert seemed more composed. Friends cornered her in a confidential nook on the upper deck.

Would the captain pursue her to California?

"I can't tell you anything about it," exclaimed the love fugitive, "but when I decide finally, it won't be because I've been coerced. Cave man tactics don't get over with me."

"Why, Nannette---

"I thought you said you couldn't knit? Where did you get that stunning sweater—it's a dear!"

"And I couldn't knit—until now," replied Nannette.

"But it was so easy when the demonstrator at Manchester's showed me how. I bought some Fleisher yarn—and here it is, all done and on!"

"Do you suppose I could learn?" queried she of the bobbed hair.

"Of course you could," said Nannette. "There's an expert at Manchester's every afternoon this week from 2 until 5:30 and she's just awfully good about teaching you. It's no trick to learn with such a teacher. And the yarns—really, the colors are enchanting!"

PERFECT NEW TYPE OF WOOD

Sawdust is Used By University Professor in Marvelous Discovery

From shavings and sawdust combined with suitable binders, there is now being made a new re-constructed wood material that has many advantages over ordinary wood, and is the result of research made by Prof. George Kemmerer, of the chemistry department.

Professor Kemmerer's new process has been used commercially since last winter, and has proved better than wood for certain purposes.

The sawdust is mixed with a new binding material which Professor Kemmerer discovered and perfected, is put into a mold, and then subjected to pressure, of from 500 to 1,000 pounds per square inch. The resulting product is much tougher and harder than ordinary wood, does not split, and is practically impervious to water. This re-constructed wood takes finishes, such as varnish and enamels, well.

Used for Many Articles

The chief use of the material is in the manufacture of irregular shaped articles, such as toilet seats, radio dials, and variometer rotors. When ordinary wood is used, much hand labor is required to make the necessary curves.

With the new material, the wood put in a mold of the desired shape and size, placed under pressure, and a hard, elastic, grainless, seamless, article without joints, is produced quickly and cheaply. The article does not break or chip, and holds screws firmly.

Although the material can be cut with a saw, it is very difficult to cut.

When samples of the wood and the new product were put under pressure, it was found that the ordinary wood bends and splits up more readily than the new product.

At present, Professor Kemmerer is working on the idea of making rims for automobile steering wheels and finds that the new process is admirably suited to the purpose.

WASHINGTON — An agreement which is expected to result in fixing the maximum price of anthracite mined by "independent operators" at $9.25 per ton at the mines has been reached between the Pennsylvania authorities and fuel distributor, Sencen, representing the federal government.

Consumers To Get Hard Coal Ton at a Time

Consumers of anthracite coal in Wisconsin will have to be content with a ton at a time during the early part of the winter, the state fuel committee advised today.

Wisconsin docks are not receiving large supplies of anthracite at present so that the fuel committee says that it is unable to assure consumers an adequate supply. It declares that there will be no favors shown dealers or coal users.

Racine, Kenosha, Sheboygan and Manitowoc have received no anthracite cargoes yet. Milwaukee is said to have been more fortunate with several cargoes unloaded there, some of which will be available for distribution through the state.
