The Men's Community Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars extend a cordial invitation to the citizens of Williams Bay and others to spend an evening, Tuesday, September 19th, 1939, at the Williams Bay School in celebration of the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Lt.-Col. and Mrs. John E. Atkins.

Informal, 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock.

A basket will be at the door for those who wish to give toward a lasting memento of the occasion.

CONSTITUTION DAY, SEPT. 17TH.

On Sunday, Sept. 17th many organizations are celebrating the One Hundred and Fifty-second anniversary of the Signing of the Constitution. There are editorials, movies and radio speeches telling about the Constitution.

It is rather timely that the editor is sending out this week the first 1,000 copies of the "Title-Deed to Our Rights as American Citizens".

Readers of "Bay Leaves" will recall that on April 20th the editor suggested that "Something Should Be Done About It". The "Knights of America", Guardians of the Constitution, was outlined as one means of doing something to create interest in citizenship.

Will you who receive copies give more than passing thought to the idea? It has great possibilities for the development of a real enterprise for Williams Bay and vicinity.

If you may not have received a copy, kindly send for one if you are interested in the idea. It will be sent by return mail.

Very truly yours,

F.M. Van Epps, Editor, Bay Leaves.

Lt.- COLONEL and Mrs. J.E. ATKINS
UNITED IN MARRIAGE, SEPT. 18, 1889

As we approach the 50th wedding anniversary of Col. and Mrs. Atkins it may be interesting to our readers to glance over the record of those years in which they have walked together.

As most of you already know the title, Colonel, was one received in the service of the Salvation Army from which he was retired in May of 1929.

Col. Atkins was born in Swansea, South Wales, British Isles of what he called "hard shelled Baptist" parents.

On the last Sunday of the year 1879 when he was a lad of thirteen he made up his mind to make a public confession at a meeting of the Salvation Army which was holding meetings in his town. So crowded was the meeting that he could not get to the mercy seat, that he had to wait until the next night, when he was the first one to step forward at the invitation to the mercy seat and kneel in the mud at the drum-head.

When he was a cadet in the Clapton Training Garrison he participated in the Kent and Yorkshire marches, as one of 250 cadets who covered some seven hundred miles on foot during five weeks and the estimate was that 10,000 souls were converted as the result.

The usual procedure to enter a village, call a halt and conduct an open-air meeting, then send out the cadets by twos to bombard the people about their souls, "button-holing" them at whatever task occupied them at the moment, whether it were gardening, washing, sewing, or horse-shoeing.

At Leicester during one of the meetings there was a riot in which not a musical instrument was left intact, and many of the cadets frightfully cut and bruised, and cadet Atkins was laid up with a head wound.

His first appointment as an officer was at Booston, a suburb of Leeds. Then followed a term at Torrington and Nottingham. In 1886 Captain Atkins volunteered for foreign service. He was sent to America, where his first service was at Wilkesbarre, Pa. The job had its perils, as he was three times in jail, beaten up, stabbed and had his fingers chewed by a madman.

Terms were then had at Minersville, Port Chester, N.Y., and Rockville, Conn. At the latter roughs broke in one night and tore the flags to ribbons and smashed the drums and created havoc.

It was at a camp-meeting in Old Orchard that Captain Johnny Atkins and Captain Annice Sykes met, and on September 18, 1889 they were married.

They launched the first Men's Lodging House in Syracuse, N.Y., raising the $1500 for its cost.

Out of the munificent pay of 80 cents weekly, Capt. Atkins invested 25¢ for a celluloid collar to help save laundry bills. One day a prank was played on him which proved very serious to him, as some one touched a match to the collar. Before he could remove it his neck was badly burned, the scar persists to this day.

Several Social and Divisional appointments followed, and then came the great World War.

In the book "The War Romance of the Salvation Army" written by Commander Evageline Booth and Grace Livingston Hill, Col. Atkins is referred to as "Le Petit Major" and mentioned quite in detail as "A Splendid Type of The Salvation Army War Workers, who as brothers to all men, and as unofficial chaplains, brought honors to both the Stars and Stripes and the blood-stained banner of the Cross. (cont. another page)

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Atkins (Cont.)

The war story of the colonel is a long one and should be put in a book, but though retired he keeps so busy he hasn't had time to put it in writing.

He was called upon by Maj. Theodore Roosevelt who thanked him for what he had done for a poor lad who had died from hanging. Before his death he had asked for the Salvation Army man and Col. Atkins' approach had won the man's attention so that he felt that he had found a friend even though he was in chains and had only a few hours left. The simple story told by the Salvation Army man so stirred the man that he died with a word of forgiveness and a smile.

Major Roosevelt was so impressed with the change in the man that he wanted to meet the Salvation Army man, "Le Petit Major". Col. Atkins remained with this battalion all through the rest of the war and often went "over the top" with them, and was the unofficial chaplain.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. paid this tribute: "The work of The Salvation Army, as illustrated by the work of Major Atkins, is duplicated by no one. He has been a chaplain and more besides. He has the confidence of officers and men."

After the war Col. and Mrs. Atkins served in Chicago and upon retirement came to live in the home that they had built in our community in Summer Haven subdivision.

Col. Atkins has served as a member of the Village Board and also for several terms has been Village President.

On Monday evening, the 18th a suitable celebration of their Golden Wedding will be held in the Salvation Army Citadel, West Madison St., Chicago. On the following evening many of their friends will be at the school building in Williams Bay for a reception for them, given by the Men's Community Club and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

During all the years Mrs. Atkins stayed by his side in working in posts in many places in America, using her beautiful singing voice to the glory of God.

During the World War she remained at her post in this country and was recognized by President Wilson for service to the soldiers.

She has not been in the best health of late and except for occasional visits to her sons and daughters has remained closely to her home.

VILLAGE BOARD TAKES STEPS TO THE PROPERTY OF SUMMER RESIDENTS DURING WINTER

A letter from Mrs. F.E. Cuniberti to the Village Board said in part- "Eighteen panes of glass were broken in my home and bath-house (during last winter). As a taxpayer I have a right to some degree of police protection. In leaving Williams Bay for the winter I do not relish the thought that my property may be the prey of similar lawlessness in the future."

It was the first official communication that had come to the Board about the many cases of a similar kind that happened last winter, except that of Hallow E'en when some destruction was reported.

There had been conversations with individual members, the police, and even the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Cuniberti did the proper thing in communicating in writing to the Village Board.

Something will be done to see that in the future such things do not happen in Williams Bay. The Board is working on a plan now.

SPEAKING OF BREAKING WINDOWS

Laws do not do much good in the prevention of petty disorders like the breaking of windows. We must get to the bottom of the idea which prompted the boys to do it.

I broke windows in the course of baseball games or with slingshots when I was a "kid" but I reported to the owners and made good in some way.

What prompted boys to deliberately break windows along the lake shore from College Camp to Conference Point is a mystery.

The parents of the boys are in some cases helping to make good the losses. Some of the boys who did it are not known. Those who have confessed their part will not be the future lawbreakers. They have learned their lesson.

The creation of the community spirit of Williams Bay which makes each one a guardian of the property of Williams Bay, winter and summer, Hallow E'en and Fourth of July should be our aim.

Will each reader help create this spirit? Have the boys read this and talk it over in your family circle. Such reverence for the rights of others can only be born in a family group. We cannot leave it to the school, Boy Scouts, etc.

THE TELEPHONES

We take so much for granted these days that we are greatly upset when something goes wrong with our public utilities.

The silent telephones caused by the big shovel severing the cable a few weeks ago made us value that service. It was remarkable how in a few hours men were assembled for Racine, Lake Geneva, etc. to splice the cable. It took experts with long training to get each wire hooked up properly.
