1924 FOOTBALL CARD READY FOR COUNCIL'S OKEH

Schedule to Be Announced Tomorrow if Action is Favorable

The final home football schedule has been arranged and only awaits sanction of the council to be announced, according to Paul F. Hunter, publicity director for the athletic department.

The council will meet this afternoon in a regular meeting and will act on the schedule. If council action is favorable, the schedule will be published in The Cardinal tomorrow.

Will Satisfy Fans

Announcement of the completed schedule will settle a problem which has been the talk of the Wisconsin sport world for the past week. Many strong teams have been dickered with, but an air of mystery and silence has pervaded the sanctums of those "higher up" in the athletic department.

Promise was made yesterday, however, that fans will be satisfied with the final result of work done by officials during the past few days.

Print Schedule Tomorrow

"The announcement of an entirely satisfactory home schedule will be made late tomorrow afternoon," Paul F. Hunter said yesterday.

"We deem the teams we have booked for the fall schedule among the best attractions which we could possibly offer."

Whether or not any of the rumors which have been current on the campus during the past week are true will be known tomorrow morning.

VODVIL ASSISTED BY LOUISE REUTER

Make-up Artist to Aid in Production of All University Play

The 1923 Union Vodvil will bring to Madison once again one of the most interesting stage personages in the middle west, Miss Louise Reuter will come to assist in the staging of the production.

Miss Reuter, artist of make-up, is manager of Herman Reuter, Inc., Milwaukee, known in theatrical circles throughout the country. She will personally arrange the make-up of 42 people who will appear on the stage in the Union Vodvil.

The 1923 production this year lays claim to being the "only all-university" show since activities of every nature have contributed to its production. Merrill Taft, all conference full-back will appear in the Vodvil orchestra to be composed of 15 student musicians. The University Players are contributing a play. Women's activities are represented by Mu Phi Epsilon, musical sorority, and Reinette Douglas and Carolyn Hinsdell who will dance.

Louise Reuter is the daughter of Herman Reuter, founder of the Milwaukee company. Since her father's death three years ago, Miss Reuter has continued the business and is rapidly taking her father's place in the theatrical world. She recently made up the company which produced the Junior League Follies in Milwaukee.

"Y" BUREAU TO HELP ON XMAS POSITIONS

Students who want someone to take their positions during the Christmas vacation and other students who want to work during the holidays may find their opportunities through the employment bureau of the Y. M. C. A. Both groups of students are asked to register at the office. Merchants who want extra help for the rush before Christmas are asked to file their wants with the association.

C. I. P. A. Workers Meet at Luncheon

Sunday Evening

A Sunday evening lunch will be served at 6 o'clock Sunday in the Delta Pi Delta house for all C. I. P. A. workers.

All those who acted on registration and reception committees, conducted round table discussions, did office work or in any other way helped put the convention across are invited. Faculty members of the journalism department will also be present.

Following the supper, plans for next year's convention will be taken up and a group of students will be elected to carry out the work. Prof. E. M. Johnson, director of this year's convention and editor of the Scholastic Editor, has planned the get-together.

SUCCESSIVE FIRES HOLD UP TRAFFIC

Blaze at Pearson's Dormitory Starts Mysteriously in Old Rubbish Pile

The confusion resulting from fires in quick succession at Pearson's dormitory, 536 State street and Savidusky's Dye House company, 301 State street, completely blocked traffic last night for more than half an hour.

The blaze at Pearson's started mysteriously at 9:30 o'clock in a box filled with rubbish and old paper kept in a storeroom on the second floor. The firemen used 112 gallons of chemicals to extinguish the flames which crept up through the wall partitions. Considerable damage was done to the bathrooms on both the second and third floors and a small amount to the student rooming quarters.

Not more than 10 minutes later a chimney fire broke out at Savidusky's Dye House company. The fire, however, was extinguished before serious damage resulted.

A false alarm from the fire box in front of the university gymnasium caused the two warning sirens to blast shortly after 11 o'clock.

BUGLE CALL WILL OPEN CADET HOP

Lathrop Is Scene of Fourth Annual Military Dance

A bugle will blow, a cymbal crash and the fourth annual military hop which is being held in Lathrop gymnasium and concert room this evening, will be under way. Everything necessary for the success of the party has been prepared, and it is expected that a maximum crowd will attend.

The military hop, headed by Cadet Lieut. Col. Louis B. Rutte, is an annual affair given for the cadet corps, band, members of the various military organizations and ex-service men from all branches of the army and navy. It is the only social function of the cadet corps preceding the military ball which is held in the state capitol in the spring of the year.

The decorative scheme for the hop tonight will include colored floodlights, silver tinsel, flags and various other decorations in keeping with the military atmosphere of the occasion. Several machine guns and a one-pounder will complete the scene.

The Badger "Tokio" orchestra of nine pieces has been engaged to furnish the music, and special features consisting of a crack squad from St. Johns Military school and several "Surprise" acts will entertain the dancers during the intermission.

"There are a few tickets left and these will be placed on sale at the door," S. D. Thompson, ticket committee chairman, said last night.

The price of the tickets is $1 in order that everyone desiring a real party for a small amount of money may attend.

Y. W. C. A. BAZAAR PRESENTS TENTED ORIENT TONIGHT

Picture of East to Be Shown In Lathrop Hall Side-show

"Ring up Nebuchadnezzar," this afternoon.

This is not spiritualism—just a simple little sideshow you will find at the Y. W. C. A. Oriental bazaar at Lathrop hall today. Bring your nickels and enter the Nebuchadnezzar tournament.

All sorts of attractive Christmas gifts will be auctioned off at 7 o'clock this evening at the Gift Shop booth. Bill Sarles '26, cheerleader, will act as auctioneer.

Hall Depicts Orient

Lathrop hall will be transformed into an Oriental town whose streets will swarm with gaily dressed vendors, flower girls, languorous Turkish maidens and curious bazaar-goers. On every hand will be found festive Chinese booths, Arab tents, and curious shops with their tempting arrays of gifts, holiday cards, sweets and flowers.

An Oriental tea room, where one may rest and partake of delicious refreshments, has been arranged. For those who dance there will be music by three volunteer student orchestras.

Present Wilde's Comedy

Members of the Wisconsin Players will present "Catesby," a humorous one-act play by Percival Wilde, at 4 o'clock in the concert room. Those in the play are Margaret Campbell '25 and Gordon Abbott '25. The program also includes an Oriental dance by Evelyn Fuqua '26 and a vocal number by one of the members of Glee club.

Bright striped awnings will shade the streets and tents where the Chinese letter writers will sell mysterious love notes. Pushcarts laden with sweets will be drawn up and down the streets by candy venders. Girls costumed as Turkish slaves will pass cigarettes around for the men.

Tickets are 10 cents and may be obtained at the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. offices.

PROFESSOR TAYLOR TALKS TO STUDENTS

Prof. Graham Taylor of Chicago will speak to university students in this city Sunday morning at the First Congregational church. The subject of his sermon will be "The Supremacy of the Christ Spirit." Professor Graham is internationally known as a journalist, author, preacher, lecturer and early leader in the movement for the "social gospel." He is also a professor in Chicago University and founder and head of Chicago Commons.

Foreign Flashes

VERA CRUZ.—A clique composed of dissatisfied political "outs" and deposed landowners are backing a revolution which is showing signs of increasing strength. The rebellion has embraced the entire Huasteca oil region and its leaders are preparing to set up a provisional government.

LONDON.—Although Prime Minister Baldwin has been reelected to parliament, his party, the Conservatives, has suffered serious in-roads by the Labor-Liberal faction. The election returns are undoubtedly a tribute to former premier Lloyd-George and seriously threaten the Conservative stand against free trade.

BERLIN.—The present financial chaos has jeopardized the German pocketbook to such an extent that "10 cent beer" has met with flat failure. The German public has met the raise in price by refusing to buy, and the brewers are calling hasty meetings in an effort to ascertain what can be done to make the retailers lower the price.

Plumbers Respond To Dean Millar's Call For Chorus

More than 20 engineers turned out at noon yesterday in response to Dean A. V. Millar's call for men to sing in the Engineer's chorus.

Christmas songs were practiced in preparation for the annual Engineer's Christmas gathering to be held Tuesday evening, December 18. Professor Gordon, Extension division, directed the rehearsal.

An orchestra is also being formed under Professor Gordon's direction and will practice for the first time at 12 o'clock next Tuesday in the Engineering building auditorium. Engineers who can play orchestra instruments are urged to be at the first rehearsal. An oboe player and a bass stringed instrument player are especially desired.

PRESIDENT TERM LIMIT O. K.—HALL

Congress to Attempt Amendment on Present Length of Office

"That the measure to limit the president of the United States to one term of possibly six years is not at all inconceivable is the opinion expressed by Professor A. B. Hall of the Political Science department yesterday.

Questionnaire letters have been sent to each member of congress and the new amendment was endorsed by an overwhelming majority. The proposed change was brought up by Senator William J. Harris at the last meeting of congress and will be introduced again at the next session.

"If the one term plan were put into effect, it would obviate the tendency for the president to cater to popular opinion in order to be re-elected. With no personal interest in the coming election the president would be willing to face temporary disfavor if he believed his actions were justified.

"I believe that the president should be counseled by sage under-secretaries and advisors whose positions should be permanent and not subject to the spoils system of each new party organization coming into power," Professor Hall said.

AWARD FOR PROM SLOGAN ANNOUNCED

$5 Will Be Given to Student Who Offers Best Title

A prize of five dollars is being offered for the best slogan characterizing the 1925 Prom.

Very few slogans have been submitted so far and there is still a chance for someone to write the winning slogan, according to Helen Callsen '25, chairman of the slogan committee. Most of the slogans so far received are too long and unwieldy for an effective slogan, —Badger Studio Miss Callsen said yesterday.

The contest closes at 6 o'clock December 17, and the winner and the prize slogan will be announced in The Cardinal on the following day.

"The Prom slogan should be short, concise and expressive of the idea that this year's Prom is for everybody," Clifford S. Nolte, chairman, declared.

"It is not an affair for a particular group or clique, and it is not for the Junior class alone. It is an all-university function and we want the slogan to get that idea across."

The slogans should be mailed to Helen Callsen at 615 North Henry street.

ATHENAE WINS ANNUAL DEBATE FROM HESPERIA

Joint Tri-Society Classic is Marked By Fiery Arguments

For the thirteenth time since 1892, when the tri-society Joint Debate was formed Athenae Literary society won the Annual Joint debate in Music hall last night.

The argument, delivered before a capacity crowd was won on the negative's contention that the United States should not become a member of the League of Nations. The Joint debate, the classic of the forensic season, was characterized by fiery arguments followed by strong rebuttals which left the outcome in suspense to the last.

The winning negative team, representing Athenae, was composed of Edgar J. Smith '24, first speaker, Eugene P. Meyer L 3, second speaker, and Henry W. Blake L 2, closer.

Present Fiery Arguments

Hesperia, the winner of last year's contest with Philomathia, but the unsuccessful team this year, was represented by an affirmative team consisting of Harold J. Cranefield '25, first speaker, Edmund Hamlin '26, second speaker, and George J. Fiedler '25, closer.

The principal arguments by which the negative won the decision, were, first, that the benefits gained by joining the league would not be worth the cost in loss of principles to the United States, second that the United States would be tied down by certain clauses to provide men and money whether approved of the project or not, that the United States is able to do more independently than when allied with disagreeing nations, that European countries would never be willing to renounce their selfish aims to provide harmony in the League. Examples were cited of the British treatment of India, of France's attitude on the Ruhr, and Italy's attack on Greece.

U. S. is Powerless

Hesperia, chiefly hindered by a lack of strong rebuttal, except by the second speaker Cranefield, based their arguments upon the points that the United States is now powerless to affect European conditions, that the League aids social and economic advances and that in the interests of reconstructing Europe, this country should join the League.

Governor Blaine presided at the debate, and congratulated the university on the excellent quality of debating which was presented. Prof. A. T. Weaver of the Speech Dept. gave the decision.

POULTRY CONTEST WILL OPEN TODAY

Students Enter Fowls Loaned From University For Ribbon Prizes

The annual poultry contest and exhibit of the Badger Poultry club will be opened today at the poultry barn of the agricultural department.

Entry lists were made out yesterday and many agrics have entered stock borrowed from the university for the competition.

Ribbons will be given to the prize winning entries. James G. Halpin, professor of poultry husbandry, will judge the stock. Severay high schools in near-by communities will send stock judging teams to Madison to attend the show and study judging methods.

The poultry will be left on exhibition Sunday and Monday in order that all who are interested may visit the barn and examine the fowls. Visitors will be welcomed Sunday afternoon and all day Monday.

Y. W. C. A. TO DINE IN LATHROP HALL

Co-operation Between Industrial and University Women Features Dinner

The third annual Y. W. C. A. banquet will be held at 6 o'clock next Tuesday, in Lathrop parlors. The banquet for the industrial women and university women is a regular feature of the co-operation between the city Y. W. C. A. and the university branch.

"The informal banquet affords a chance for the girls to become better acquainted," Miss Anderson, Y. W. C. A. secretary, said yesterday. "The short program following the dinner has been varied in the past, but we always try to choose a speaker who will not only be interesting but one who will instruct us in our problems."

"This year Prof. D. D. Lescouer will talk to us on 'What's the Use'. Nell Martinson, who attended the industrial summer school at Bryn Mawr will talk on the value of summer school training in this field.

All students or industrial workers are invited to come whether they have ever done any industrial work or not. The university branch urges girls to come to the banquet and become acquainted with this field of work.

The work this year is being carried on under the chairmanship of Alice Corl '25. The executive committee is composed of Louise Toby '24, Mary Devine '25, Clara Hertzberg '25, Mary Talford '26 and Isabel Winterbotham '24.

Sarah Stevenson '25, has charge of the ticket sale. The tickets are 50 cents, and they may be procured from Jean Dunbar '25, in Barnard hall and from Alice Colony '26 in Chadbourne hall, or in the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop hall. All reservations must be made before Monday night.

London Quartet Will Give Return Musical Dec. 12

Folowers of chamber music are assured of hearing a finished performance when the London String quartet plays here, according to the reports of those who heard the quartet when they played in Madison last March.

The quartet will play in Music hall auditorium Wednesday night, December 12 under the auspices of the School of Music.

"Chamber music, such as the London quartet will bring here is representative of the best in music today," Prof. Arnold Dresden, secretary of the Madison Orchestral association comments.

"Not only is the type of music the quartet plays one of the finest musical forms, but the quartet itself is excellent."

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the office of the School of Music.

TREATMENT CAUSES TRADE LABOR DROP

The reason for the decreasing number of American boys who are going in to the building trades is the manner in which they are treated by the employers, rather than any dislike of the work. This is the opinion of E. L. Bowman, educational director of the national trade extension bureau, in a study of the apprenticeship situation that is being conducted by the American Contractor, organ of the building industry.

HOOSIERS DEMAND PICKLE LUNCHES

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Sandwich stand owners and merchants here at the University of Indiana claim that pickles are more in demand than onions by the men students before 10 o'clock. After this hour, the men figure that the chances are small for meeting any co-eds.

SCARF PIN REPLACES FRATERNITY BADGE

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—The latest fad on the campus at the University of Indiana is for the co-ed to wear her "best man's" scarf pin in place of a fraternity pin.

CHICAGO—Maurice Frolick, a Waukegan taxicab driver, has been notified he will share in the estate of his wealthy uncle, Harry Jacobs, a Cleveland clothier, who is reported to have left much of his estate to his "most needy relatives." Frolick believes his share will be $50,000 or $75,000.

AVIATORS ON LAST LAP OF 10,953 MILE FLIGHT

Lieuts. F. O. Rogers and H. D. Palmer of the U. S. Marine Corps, are now negotiating the last leg of what will be the second longest flight in the history of aviation. It will be the longest American flight. The men left the Island of Haiti and have flown to Washington, St. Louis, San Francisco and back to Washington. Their return to Haiti will give them a total distance of 10,953 miles.

Campus Letters Keep 19 Postal Employees Busy

25,000 Letters Handled Daily; Wrong Addresses Cause Delay in Delivery

Students keep 12 carriers, four rural carriers and three mail clerks busy every day. This is a good thing to think about when you seem to have been forgotten by the home circle.

14,000 Letters a Day

The truth of the matter is that the university post office handles daily an average amount of 25,000 letters and papers which total a weight of nearly 1,600 pounds. The postal employees are greatly bothered by the number of letters that must be re-addressed, either because of the change of address of the addressee, or because of the wrong address or too general an address.

Madison State Tax Is $426,000; Passed For Soldier Relief

Madison's state tax is $426,000 this year. As the result of the revision of $1,115,000 in state taxes from the university mill tax which was ordered by Gov. John J. Blaine, Madison will pay approximately $11,000 less in state taxes this year. However, increases have been made in the county tax proper, soldiers' relief, highway tax and mothers' pensions.

Exclusive of the total amount which the city must raise is an item of $8,800, being a loan made by the city from the state for the board of education. This debt must be liquidated the coming year.

The following statement shows a comparison between the tax amounts to be raised this coming year and those of last year: State tax, 1924, $105,474.48; 1923, $116,842.04; decrease, $11,367.56.

Alaska Reindeer Worth More Than Land Cost

WASHINGTON—The reindeer herds of Alaska are worth $7,500,000, or $300,000 more than the original purchase price paid Russia for the territory by the United States. Secretary of the Interior Work asserts in his annual report. The first reindeer were imported from Siberia in 1892. There are now 300,000 in the territory, 200,000 of the total being owned by the natives. The region, according to Dr. Work, produces enough reindeer moss to support 4,000,000 animals.

VARSITY CLASHES WITH FROSH IN GYM MEET TODAY

Yearlings Out To Repeal Victory Over Regulars in Second Contest

The varsity and frosh gym teams will air their abilities today at 2:30 in the second of the two meets between the yearlings and the first string men. The frosh won the first meet which was held last Saturday, and they are out for blood again today.

The varsity men are making use of these meets to get in shape for the first regular meet of the year with the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. club on December 15 at Milwaukee and they are not so much interested in winning from the frosh as they are in learning the set exercises to be used in the Milwaukee meet.

The Badgers prescribed the exercises to be used in the meet, and not confirmed the selection there is little doubt but that they will be used. The Badger gym men are under a disadvantage in this meet because of small sized rings used by the Beer City athletes. The rings that Coach Schlatter's men are used to are much larger and longer than those which will be used in the meet. The Badgers intend to work out at the city Y. M. C. A. next Thursday where the rings are more nearly like those in Milwaukee.

Coach Schlatter warned his men last night that anyone who does not know the exercises will not be taken to the meet. He suggested also that every member of the squad try to keep eligible in his studies.

The varsity men will use the Milwaukee exercises in the meet with the frosh today. The frosh also have a prescribed set of exercises and their choice of anything else.

"We have the best frosh squad we have had in years," said coach Schlatter last night. "Several of the freshmen are almost varsity material now."

Snaively, Huxley, Youngs and Weiss are the shining lights on the frosh squad.

The following varsity men are working out daily in preparation for the Milwaukee meet.

USHER ADDRESSES

AD CLUB MEMBERS

E. J. Usher, advertising manager of the Wisconsin State Journal, addressed the University Advertising club on "Newspaper Advertising" at its meeting Friday night. He described in detail the organization and mechanics necessary for a newspaper's ad department. The 12 students were elected to active membership at the meeting are Ralph M. Crowley '26, John R. Egan '25, Arthur J. Gerlach '24, Raymond W. Baxandall '24, Ehrmel W. Neese '24, George V. Vaughan '24, Earl N. Cannon '24, Stanley M. Hetland '24, Frederick P. Price '24, Robert W. Eschmeyer '27, Walter M. Gibson '27, Lorenz H. Ristow '24. Mr. Usher was elected to honorary membership.

Ford Convention at Detroit Is Called Off

DETROIT—The Ford-for-President conference called to meet here Dec. 12 has been indefinitely postponed and possibly may not be held at all, it was announced today by Robert R. Pointer, chairman of the arrangements committee. Postponement was made, Mr. Pointer said, at the request of Mr. Ford. He would not amplify this statement, which is the first official recognition taken by the Detroit manufacturer of the conference. Should the convention be held at a later date, Mr. Pointer stated, it probably will not be held in Detroit, but in some middle western city. Mr. Pointer claimed that when Mr. Ford was asked if he intended to run for the presidency the answer was, "I am not prepared to say."

Is He Enemy Coach?

Rollie Williams

Can anyone say that this is the "enemy" coach just because he is the coach of the Milliken team which meets the Badger five in battle at the gym tonight? Surely not, for it is Rollie Williams, Wisconsin's own Rollie of sport fame. Rolland F. Williams completed the most successful athletic career in the annals of Wisconsin history last year, and not content to leave the sport world, he went to Decatur, Ill., to coach the Milliken college athletic teams. Fans are interested in seeing his cage team in action.

EXTENSION DIVISION IS 'SCHOOL MASTER'

Directs Courses in Retail Selling and Advertising in State

The University Extension division has become the "school master" for the Wisconsin Association of Commercial Organization secretaries, as a result of the recent conference in Milwaukee, between Dean Louis E. Reber and Hugh G. Corbett, president of the association. The Extension division is now directing courses of study in cooperation with the association, to be used by retail merchants, in the different cities of the state. These courses not only aid the managers but also the employees.

Part of this study is made through correspondence. The courses offered by the Extension division in the retail field are retail advertising, retail selling, store management and sign card writing. It was suggested that each secretary call these courses to the attention of the local merchants.

Classes may be arranged to meet in the larger stores and to aid this work, full instructions for conducting the meetings will be sent to any store so that the manager may conduct the meeting himself with the Extension text material as a basis.

The Extension division hopes to develop the following services in further cooperation with the Association speakers' bureau to provide lectures and speakers for merchants' gatherings; institute service to organize and conduct merchants' institutes; and general cooperation with educational agencies.

City Hall Bond Issue and Hospital Lose In Beloit

BELOIT, Wis.—A proposed $125,000 bond issue to build a city hall lost by a majority of 324 in a special referendum election here on Thursday. A negative majority of 65 also was recorded against building a municipal hospital. There was a vote of more than 3,000.

SEASONAL DUCATS FOR CAGE GAMES READY NEXT WEEK

Hunter Announces Council Approves New System of Selling Tickets

The athletic department hopes to put basketball tickets on sale by the middle of next week under the new series system approved by the Athletic council last Tuesday, according to Paul F. Hunter, director of ticket sales.

Hunter announced yesterday that faculty members should send in their applications at once, or the tickets reserved for them will be sold to the general public. Fee cards will not be necessary.

"The new system has been adopted partly to accommodate the faculty in order that they will not have to stand in line," he explained. "Unless they have applied before the regular sale opens tickets will not be reserved for them."

Games Are Divided

Under the new method, all nine home games are divided into lots of three each, with two conference and one non-conference games, in each lot. The series is distinguished by the letters A. B. and C. and is not grouped according to time, but extends over the whole playing season.

The series is as follows:

A. De Pauw, Dec. 14; Illinois Feb. 16; Ohio, March 3.
B. Indiana, Jan. 14; Butler, Feb. 12; Chicago, March 15.
C. Franklin, Jan. 2; Northwestern, March 1; Iowa, March 11.

A student may apply for one series only, and he will have the same seat for all games of the series. If all tickets are not sold after everyone has had a chance to select the series, the remaining lots will be put on sale again, and opportunity to purchase a second lot will be given.

The seats in the east side and in the south half of the west side will sell for $1 a game, or $3 a series; the north and south ends, and the north half of the west side will be 50 cents a game, or $1.50 a series.

To do away with the long lines and the cutting of classes which characterized the ticket sales last year is the purpose of the new method.

FROSH AND SOPHS BATTLE ON TRACK

Yearlings and Second Year Men Mingle Again on Cinder Path

Once more frosh will meet soph in battle today when the two teams clash on the cinder track in the gym annex for the annual fall frosh-soph track meet.

Interest has been growing more and more during the past week between the two factions, and a spirited contest is certain to result. Entries have been coming in at the gym during the past few days.

The meet will give sophomore aspirants to the varsity team a trial which may mean much in the future success here, and the frosh, confident of a win, will have no easy task in downing the second year men.

Places in the meet will count toward track numerals, each place being recorded and the record kept. Many of the same men who were entered in the inter-track class meet last Tuesday will compete again today.

While the meet Tuesday was fast, it is certain to be surpassed today, for the spirit of rivalry between the classes of '25 and '27 is greater than that between track classes.

The meet today will begin at 2 o'clock in the gym annex and is open to anyone who cares to see it. Events will be run off promptly, and the contest should be over by 4 o'clock.

VARSITY SET FOR ROLLIE'S NETMEN

Fast Game Expected When Short Pass System Gets Going

With a fast week of practice behind them, and two games with the frosh safely tucked under their belts, Coach Meanwell's varsity basketball team is all set to take on Rollie Williams' Milliken team in the gym tonight.

Rollie, a former pupil of Meanwell, has schooled his men in the short pass system, and a fast, spectacular game should result. The Milliken team came through a fairly successful football season, but claims basketball as its forte.

Fans who followed Rollie Williams' athletic career at Wisconsin during the past four years are extremely anxious to see a team of his in action, and gauging his coaching power by his playing power, look to see the Milliken team show the Meanwell five a battle.

The game with the Illinois team was secured by the Athletic department only after much effort, and is deserving of a large attendance.

Tickets go on sale at 1 o'clock today at the gym. There are no reserved seats, all ducats going at the uniform price of $50. Tickets for this game are not included in the series system of ticket sales which goes into effect soon.

GOPHERS ANGRY AT ECKIE: SHUNS NORTHERN STAR

The Minnesota Daily, University of Minnesota's student publication, is decidedly up on its ear over Walter Eckersall's selection of an all-conference eleven. Eckie picked Kipke, Michigan's star backfield man, over Earl Martineau, the Minnesota flash, and Minnesota is exasperated, not to say angry.

In a biting editorial the Daily assails the Chicago Tribune sports writer in no gentle terms. The editorial admits that critics may have their off days just like ordinary human beings, but it suggests that Eckie's off day seems to be rather prolonged.

"On his All-Conference football team, Walter Eckersall, the sage of Chicago, (if one is to make the remark with extreme qualification) picked Workman, Ohio State, for quarterback; Grange, Illinois, and Kipke, Michigan, for halfbacks, and Taft, Wisconsin, for fullback. Earl Martineau was left off. If the mistake were not such a serious slight and bad piece of judgment, it would be laughable. Earl Martineau, one of the Big Ten's greatest players, is placed on Eckersall's second eleven," groans the Daily editorial writer.

The editorial quotes the article printed in the Daily Cardinal after the Michigan game called "That's all Eckersall" and suggests that Eckie be treated just that way in the future.

Win By 39 to 19 Count in Hard Fought Battle of Thrills

The varsity regulars found the freshmen far from weak in the gym yesterday afternoon when they won only by a 39-19 score in the third of a series of open practice games.

The first two games resulted in overwhelming victories for the varsity and the cardinal, looking up on the green-clad yearlings as easy pickings, came near being upset. The game is the first one in which the yearlings have been all able to hold their own.

The varsity was handicapped during the greater part of the game, however, by the absence of Captain Gibson, center, and Barwig, a guard. The two veterans were taking an exam and could not be in the scrimmage. Wackman took Gibson's lace at the pivot position, while Varney substituted for Elsom, who dropped back to take Barwig's customary position.

Find Frosh Fast

The game was played in preparation for the Milliken game to be held in the gym tonight. The regulars need to be under fire with a crowd looking on, and the open scrimmage method is a way to fill that need.

In direct contrast to the way the varsity has romped rough-shod over the frosh in former performances, they yesterday had difficulty even in keeping a safe lead. The frosh going in first class form for the premier time this season, kept dropping the ball through the net frequently enough to remain in the running.

Harget is Star

The yearlings drew first blood when Harget tossed a neat field goal soon after the lay started. A moment later he put 1927 in a three-point lead with a successful free-throw. The varsity retaliated a moment later, Spooner and Wackman each getting a field goal. From that time to the end of the game, the regulars were in the lead, but the frosh pushed them until the final whistle blew.

Harget, former LaCrosse high school star, showed his metal for the first time yesterday. Seeming to get over the stage-fright which has held him in check during the former games, he cut loose, garnering three field goals and making good all of his three free throws. Martel, who has played well consistently, followed him closely with two field goals and a free throw while Brooks, big blond center, sent the ball through the net for two field goals.

Spooner Works Well

Spooner continued to be the chief individual scorer for the varsity. He sunk six shots from the field and made one free-throw. Varney continued his good work, making five field goals and one free-throw for a total of 11 points, while Wackman, playing center, chalked up 9 counters.

17 DAYS TO XMAS

Every year the front pages of the metropolitan newspapers carry intriguing little boxes with decorative Santa Clauses indicating the number of days left in which to do Christmas shopping.

All the department and novelty stores on Main street spend the Friday after Thanksgiving decorating windows and ceilings with tinsels and hangings—just so John Doe and Mary Smith will be continually reminded that Christmas is soon.

Every year the Daily Cardinal prints a serious article at this season of the year on advising students to finish all topics, hand in all reports, study hard the last few weeks so that Christmas vacation can be easily enjoyed.

And always are we admonished not to forget a box of candy for her, a pair of socks for him, a muffler or brother, a kettle for mother, etc.

But this year, these things are assumed as being understood. Mr. and Miss Student frankly want to be selfish. Because of that they wrote a letter to Santa Claus and let it go at that:

Dear Santa Claus:

Now that we have all our lessons prepared and all our gifts bought for the folks back home, we thought that there are several things you might do for us this Christmas.

First we would like to get the athletic situation settled in a hurry so that we could know who we are going to play next year.

Along this line, too, we might ask for a basketball championship for this year, but we know that that lies with the boys on the team and that they'll give it to us without your help. But then you might put some nice snappy trick plays or canny shots into their Christmas stocking.

And then we want you to give a good prom to Cliff Nolte so that he can give it to us. Maybe you had better give him a queen, too, before he forgets it.

As for ourselves and prom we just ask that our "one and onlys" will accept and that we'll have the usual good time at such functions.

Then too we are expecting you to give us our Memorial Union in the spring. Right now we are working as hard as we can on it and would like your help.

As for the faculty, we want you to be good to them and give them an intelligent lunch of students. But do see if you can't persuade them to give up their Double Standard in activities and put athletics and dramatics on the same basis.

Then just put a lot of Wisconsin pep in every student's stocking and tuck it way down into the toe. You needn't send any Pink Tea.

As for the "cheering spirits" Wisconsin has outgrown that stage and there are no more "Annual Drunks," so, no thanks, Santa.

We are expecting the usual consignment of winter sports, only please make them a little safer than last year's, as you remember one of the boys was killed and we don't want it to happen again.

Maybe it's asking too much for you to give us good grades for next year, but do your best.

On the side, you might send us a snow storm or two so that we'll get the real Christmas spirit.

So we wish a Merry Christmas to you Santa and hope you wish the same to us.

Yours truly,
Miss and Mr. Student.

MORE FRATERNITIES

Each year Wisconsin adds five or six new fraternities, some social, some professional, some local, some national, to its already long list of these groups. The growth of the Greek fraternity in this fashion is healthy in all respects and beneficial to the respective fraternities as well as to its members.

For years, one of the cardinal points of contention over college practices has been the fraternity question. Intelligent and capable men have advanced most serious charges against the system and often with perfect justice. That they are breeders of idleness, laxity, snobbishness, irresponsibility has often been proclaimed, generally without proof, but sometimes with disheartening correctness.

But nowadays the criticism of the fraternity system has become less pronounced and more definitely associated with prejudicial rantings of the uninformed. Either the fraternity system has proved itself or popular interest in the question has been overshadowed by weightier problems of college situation.

The first assumption seems the most correct for some definite reason can be assigned to this theory. And that reason lies in this very expansion of the fraternity idea. The ideal situation then will be the time when every man in the university becomes a member of a social organization.

The situation briefly stated is that in a large institution of eight thousand every student can not possibly know intimately every other. No matter what college spirit is created or what united feeling is prevalent, there always will be cliques and small groups which band together in comradeship and fellowship.

The organized fraternity thus offers the best and most easily controlled means by which the groups can gain the most benefit and pleasure from their association. The point then is that a fraternity is a good thing in a large university. It is to be doubted whether the case for the fraternity could ever be so strong in a small college where the campus is the smallest unit, (or at least should be).

Thus if it is granted that organization is the best thing for an institution of large size, it also follows that there can not be too many of these organizations. The fraternities are always the first to be approached on any subscription plan for university function or event, they are always willing to benefit and they do much to help the school.

Let's give every man the opportunity to derive benefit from fraternal association, and see if the university does not in turn reap a benefit. Fraternities are welcome at Wisconsin.

THE WOMAN'S PART

This afternoon and evening the women of the university will present the annual Y. W. C. A. bazaar at Lathrop hall. The women have put a great deal of time and effort into the affair and have tried to be both original and entertaining in their offerings.

An event which comes every year has a difficult time for each year it must be better than the last. The managers of this year's event have asserted that it is "the best."

The event is a worthy one and will, no doubt, receive a favorable student reception.

REVELATIONS, XII:23

—And the Dean Sellery shall blow his trumpet and open wide the gates.

And ye shall be judged each according to his deeds, for the day of judgement has come at last.

And behold the angel of the dean shall descend upon ye with a flaming white slip of paper in each hand and it shall be the judgement of the deans, each man according to his works.

Then woe to ye of little mark! Yet snakes and adders and vamps and activity-mongers for the land shall be purged of such as ye and the children shall inhabit the school.

Then shall the unjust and the unfaithful be condemned to everlasting disgrace and sent down to the station to live with fire and cinders in that land where trains shrouded in darkness shall take them away and into eternal oblivion.

And there will be flunks and rumors of flunks ere all these things come to pass, and trials and tribulations and weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth before the throne of the almighty dean.

And the dead shall rise from their slumbers with a mighty awakening and it shall be on Monday the tenth of December that this shall come to pass and the grades shall be shouted from the house-tops and woe to ye of good intentions who knew not the day nor the hour for it shall be too late to make amends.

So it is written in the book of the registrar and so be it.

And that's that!

"Y" Starts Series of Discussions On Christianity

A series of Sunday discussions on the meaning of Christianity will be inaugurated tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock when Frederick E. Wolf, general secretary opens his talk in the fellowship room of the Y. M. C. A.

The general subject of the entire series of these discussions will be "What is Christianity?" The experiences of the apostles as revealed in the book of Acts is to be the basis of the talks. The first 30 years of Christianity's existence will be covered in the series.

"A practical examination of the religion of Jesus as it is set forth in the Acts of the apostles in order to discover, if possible, its value for the life of today will be the objective set for our discussion," Wolf said yesterday.

THIS IS WORSE

Editor the Cardinal:

We were pleased to note the sportsmanship Wisconsin showed regarding the Eckersall decision controversy. A case so similar came up in the far west one time that I must tell you about it for the sake of comparison.

One team carried the football across the goal line and laid it down—very quickly—a player of the other side picked up the ball and ran the length of the field and crossed the goal line and yelled touchdown and the referee blew his whistle—the rules as he said simply state that the referee shall blow his whistle when the ball is carried across the goal line—but in this case no whistle was blown declaring the ball dead.

Of course there was a little argument but it was over much quicker than the wordy row at Madison—BUT the pleasing part was the real sportsmanship shown by the competing teams for they both sent a abundance of lovely flowers and every man was present during the last act.

Campaign Underway For New Building on State Street

Calvary Lutheran University church has purchased the property on State street adjoining Fitch court, upon which to build their new church in the near future. The Rev. A. D. Haentschell, pastor of the church, has been conducting services for the past three years in auditorium of the Wheeler School of Music above the Co-op.

Plans for the church are under consideration at the present time, and a campaign to raise funds for the building has been going on for the last year in the 700 synodical Lutheran churches of the state. A subscription of $10,000, the largest received so far, was donated by O. C. Lempke, Wausau.

The main offices of the campaign are located in Milwaukee. The campaign is conducted by George J. Weigle who is assisted by Ernst Van Briesen, president of the alumni association here.

The student church is supported by the synodical conference, a general body comprising congregations chiefly of the Missouri and Wisconsin synods. There are approximately 400 students who belong to the synodical conference attending the university.

Agricultural College Sponsors Four Day School Starting Monday

Wisconsin's pea canners are going to school.

December 10 will mark the opening of the Pea Canners short course which is to be held by the College of Agriculture for four days according to the announcement of W. E. Nicholoy, managing director of the Wisconsin Pea Packers association.

The time will be devoted to intensive study and consideration of the many problems which confront the pea packer in the course of a summer's run. Economical production will be especially stressed by the men appearing during the course.

H. L. Russell, Dean of the College of Agriculture, will open the course with "The Past, Present and Future of the Canning Industry," on Tuesday.

E. J. Dilwiche who has been working to improve peas for canning purposes for several years and who has produced several strains or varieties which have proved superior by tests at many canneries, will explain his research work and discuss the selection of seed peas.

The department of economic entomology and the department of plant pathology together with experts of the United States department of agriculture will hold meetings to study and talk over pea plant diseases and pests, particularly the pea aphid.

SYNOPTIC COURSES
TABOO, BIRGE SAYSImpractical to Unite Study of General Culture and Professional Subjects

That synoptic courses are not likely to work at Wisconsin because of students specializing in subjects is the opinion expressed by President Birge yesterday.

"Synoptic courses are an attempt to solve the problem faced by every modern university of combining general culture with intensive study of a professional subject," President Birge said.

"Should these courses be reintroduced at Wisconsin and made compulsory, they would be taken with an ill will by those who need them most. If they should be given at an odd hour of the day with liberal credit attached, those taking them would be more likely to attend for entertainment than instruction. The lectures would have to be of such a popular type that they would defeat their own ends.

"Wisconsin has never had the elective problem faced by some eastern universities of having undergraduates elect elementary studies throughout their four years course and graduating with high grades. Our problem is to keep students from devoting themselves to one subject or even one phase of a subject. Seniors are constantly attempting to take too many hours of work in one subject.

"When the curriculum was reorganized under President Chamberlain, synoptic courses were introduced, but, partly due to the indifference and opposition of some of the faculty and the general student body, they were not successful. A series of lectures were given by the different professors in an effort to give students a knowledge of subjects outside of their own field. Those majoring in sciences were expected to take synoptic lectures in the languages and histories, and vice versa. The courses, however, failed in their aim, and were abolished," President Birge concluded.

FAIRS ARE GREAT TEACHERS--JENNT

Prize' Essay Contestant Describes Educational Value of Farm Event

"Have our county, district, state and national fairs and expositions reached the limit of their educational value," Gerald Jenny '24, questions in his essay which was awarded first place among 164 representatives of American Agricultural colleges who competed, last week under the sponsorship of the Saddle and Sirloin club at Chicago.

"They have only begun. Their possibilities for service, when once fully realized, are unlimited," Jenny states in answer.

"Pages of progress are written each year by the county, district, state and national fairs and expositions. A mighty and potent force, they are encouraging economy in farm practices, advancing breed interests, improving farm business methods, and building happier homes for countryfolk.

"There are held annually in the United States over 2,000 fairs and expositions attended by more than 25,000,000 visitors. These numbers will grow, and the fair of tomorrow more and more will be pressed into service to teach by example the country folk."

FIGHT TO REDUCE PRESENT TAX RATE

City Council Met Last Night in Public Hearing to Cut Taxes

A determined effort to reduce the 1924 city tax rate another half mill leaving it at 26 as it was this year will be made at the public hearing and special council meeting Friday night by Ald. Patrick H. Barry, Joseph L. Starr and W. L. Woodward, according to an informal meeting following the committee of the whole meeting Thursday night.

The decrease will be made, according to present plans, without cutting any salaries or any departments. A reduction of about $46,000 can be secured with the Three propositions which will reduce the 1924 tax rate if adopted by the city council tonight are:

1.—Adhere to the agreement of last year through which the school board deficit of $300,000 will be paid off at the rate of $50,000 instead of jumping this figure to $80,000 as entered in the budget this year. Proposal to be made that $20,000 be cut from this amount leaving it at $60,000, about $10,000 more agreed upon.

2.—Abolish the contingent fund of $26,000 entirely.

3.—Use the South Madison taxes, ranging from $15,000 to $20,000, as a contingent fund when they are finally turned over to the city.

aid of revenue to be received from South Madison.

To Cut $46,000

Ald. Starr will probably ask that the contingent fund, now agreed to, be eliminated and the South Madison tax ranging from $15,000 to a possible $20,000 be used for this purpose. This will reduce the budget estimate by $26,000.

An agreement reached by the finance committee last year when the city took over the $300,000 deficit of the board of education that $50,000 be paid off every year will be brought out to aid the reduction. Ald. Barry objected to $80,000 being paid off this year. He contemplates cutting $20,000 from this amount, which, with contingent fund, would mark a reduction of $46,000, or one-half mill from the rate.

Ald. Woodward is in favor of the step to keep the rate at the 1923 figure. Mayor I. Milo Kittleson indicated that he was in favor of the movement.

"I feel that the tax rate should be held to the minimum if it can be done without crippling the city or any of its departments," Mayor Kittleson said. "I feel that the reductions as planned will be feasible and use of the South Madison tax share for this year will give the city a large contingent fund also."

Objections will also be raised tonight against the contemplated raise of $300 for the aldermen. Ald. George Breitenbach, Barry, and Woodward expressed themselves as against the raise. Ald. Breitenbach stated that the aldermen should realize that they have a certain community spirit which they should be willing to show.

Salary Matter Up

A threatened fight on the $1,500 set aside in the 1924 budget for a smoke inspector was killed when Ald. Woodward, chairman of the special committee, stated that this was merely a means of providing funds and showed that the council will have the opportunity to vote a definite salary at the February meeting, when all salaries will be fixed.

Ald. R. F. Elver, father of the resolution asking for the aldermanic raise, informed the council that very little objection has been raised against the measure in his ward.

The budget also provides for an appropriation of $5,000 for reassessment. A sum of $1,000 has been allowed for the redrafting of city ordinances.

Adoption of the budget as it now is was moved by Ald. D. C. Sullivan. The committee of the whole meeting was adjourned until the public hearing which will be held by the council Friday night. Final work on the budget will open at 7:30.

Insurgents; Led By Huerta

VERA CRUZ—Troops in the entire maritime zone have joined the insurgent movement against President Obregon and Gen. Calles, according to reports this morning. The rebellion is now said to embrace the whole of the Huasteca oil region.

Loyal troops from Mexico City, it is reported, were in contact last night with insurgent forces. The railway lines between the capital and this city have been sent out.

Leaders of the movement, including Adolfo De La Huerta, Gen. Guadalupe Sanchez, chief of military operations in this district and Jorge Prieto Laursens, are preparing to set up a provisional government here and plan to elect one of their number as provisional president.

Rafael Zabarah Capmany is reported to be slated for the post. Several deputies of the national congress, most of them prominent in the Cooperativa party which is supporting the presidential candidacy of De La Huerta, are in Vera Cruz or are on their way here.

Leaders of the revolt have offered guarantees and employment to the people, and have given assurances that trade will be protected.

Many land owners, it is announced, have joined the rebels, hoping thereby to regain the properties they lost under the law compelling land-owners to share their estates with their tenants.

SLOGAN ADOPTED BY CHEST CLINIC

"No Unknown and No Untreated Cases of Tuberculosis in Wisconsin"

No unknown and no untreated cases of tuberculosis in Wisconsin.

This is the slogan of the free chest clinic team of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. The special mission of the team is to seek out early and unsuspected cases of tuberculosis. The clinics travel all over the state, penetrating into every nook and corner. All examinations are entirely free of charge, the clinic work, like all its other work, being supported by the sale of the penny Christmas seals.

When the Anti-Tuberculosis Association was able in the spring of 1919 to put to test its dream of holding free chest clinics, where anyone might come for examination by competent, licensed physicians, it was predicted that there would be few patients. How wrong this prediction proved is shown by the fact that more than 32,000 examinations have been made by the clinics.

Some idea of their value can be gained when it is realized that more than 5,500 cases of tuberculosis were found.

The importance of discoveries of unsuspected cases can hardly be overestimated, for upon early discovery and subsequent prompt and proper treatment usually depends the very life of the patient.

It is estimated that there are more than 16,000 active cases of tuberculosis in Wisconsin, many of them sources of constant danger to those with whom they come in contact. The clinic team in the four years has grown from a one-man institution to three full-time and one half-time physicians, a social worker and a follow-up worker. Each year the number of patients who come for an examination is increasing.

In addition to tuberculosis, a great number of minor and other major disorders are discovered by clinic physicians, for the examination given at the clinic includes not only the lungs, but the heart, the nose and throat, glands of the neck and the teeth. Cooperation with local physicians is one of the features, and nearly every clinic is attended by local physicians who visit either from interest in public health work or who bring puzzling lung cases for consultation. No charge is ever made by the clinic.

This clock is operated for two or three months at a time without appreciable variation and without so much as one-tenth of a second accumulated variation for the whole year.

The board of directors of the Dane County Humane society met Thursday at the home of Mrs. I. Milo Kittleson, president.

Appointing of sub-agents in each community was approved.

"Most of our work is confined to Madison," Mrs. Howard Fish said, suggesting the action. "Only regular inspection of the villages can increase the usefulness of the society."

William Busse, county humane officer, made his monthly report of the investigation of 48 cases. Mrs. Kittleson reported on the work of the Second International Humane conference which she attended in New York recently.

DAUGHERTY GAVE TIP ON SAILSTAD

Former Wisconsin Student, in Hospital Here, Told Authorities

Lawrence V. Daugherty, 28, a former student of the University of Wisconsin, and a traveling salesman for Hart, Schaffner and Marx Co., Chicago, is the man who gave California authorities the "tip" which led to the arrest of Edward J. Sailstad and Dorothy Anderson, the Chicago "Sunshine Girl," at Napa, Calif., on Wednesday.

Daugherty is at present in a critical condition at St. Mary's hospital here, following an operation on Nov. 27 for appendicitis. He could not be interviewed as to the circumstances which led up to his establishing of the identity in California, but a portion of the story is known by friends here.

He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, 225 Lake Lawn place, and lived there during his attendance at the university here during the 1922-23 term and during the summer session this year.

Daugherty left Madison after the summer session and secured a position with the Chicago clothing concern as a salesman. He made a business trip to California, about three weeks ago and while in Eureka, Calif., he stopped at the Eureka Inn, a hotel.

Daugherty was born and raised in Eau Claire, Wis., and knew Sailstad.

While in the hotel one day he saw Sailstad. He knew the background of the "Sailstad case" and quickly turned about without speaking to the man, whom he was satisfied was Sailstad.

He notified L. M. Caldwell, assistant claims manager of the Travelers' Insurance Co., San Francisco, by telephone.

The aid of police and sheriff deputies and private detectives was enlisted by the insurance company and they soon picked up the trail of Sailstad, only to lose it numerous times.

Then descriptions of the man and the girl were broadcasted to county officials and the pursuit of the hunted man led to Crescent City, Ore., and finally back to Napa, Calif.

Officials waited. On Wednesday, Sailstad walked into the office of Sheriff J. R. Harris in Napa, seeking to sell some typewriter ribbons.

A deputy sheriff, named Stecker, recognized the resemblance between Sailstad and the printed picture hanging in his office, and following Sailstad and the girl when they drove out of Napa to St. Helena, where he arrested the pair. Sailstad at first denied his identity but finally told the whole story.

BADGERS KNOCK COOLIDGE DECREE

Entire Wisconsin House Delegation Express Disappointment in President

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Disappointment and general disapproval of President Coolidge's message to Congress was expressed today by the entire Wisconsin delegation in the House.

In the eyes of the Wisconsin members of Congress, Mr. Coolidge is now definitely identified himself with the extreme conservative wings of the Republican party and has pledged his allegiance to the Old Guard.

While most of the Badger representatives are in accord with the President on many of the minor recommendations in the message they all sharply disagree with him on the major issues. They strongly favor a soldiers' bonus and believe that a bonus can be paid without preventing a reduction in taxes. They also take sharp issue with Mr. Coolidge on his recommendation that the Cummins-Esch bill be retained and they feel he has not gone far enough in his recommendations for farm relief.

Senator Lenroot said regarding the messages:

"It was a very capable message, although I am not in favor of some of the recommendations," Senator Lenroot said. "I am in favor of the soldiers' bonus. The bonus matter must be disposed of before tax revision is taken up, and this will necessitate some modifications of the Mellon tax plan."

"I am in thorough accord with the proposal for an entire revision of the structure of railroad rates, and the only way that this can be brought about is through the consolidation of the railroads."

"I am also very glad to find myself in entire accord with the president's views on what is necessary for the improvement of agricultural conditions. In all my speeches in Wisconsin in the last few months I have been urging agricultural co-operative societies for the purpose of enabling the farmer to have a voice in the price he receives and in preventing surplus production."

"I heartily indorse the president's position on Russia and his general attitude on our foreign relations. I am especially pleased with his interest in and advocacy of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway."

Comments from other members follow:

Representative Nelson, republican, Wisconsin: "The president, coming to congress for the first time, has the good will of the members personally. His message was concise and well-delivered. I find little in it, however, that will please the country. I cannot agree with his recommendations with reference to taxation, transportation, adjusted compensation, the world court, high coal prices, or the grave and serious problems of the farmers of the west."

Representative Berger, socialist, Wisconsin: "It was a courageous message, but the man who made it can never be elected, if nominated."

Senator Shipstead, farmer-laborite, Minnesota: "The president's message is no disappointment, for I expected little."

Senator Magnus Johnson, farmer-laborite, Minnesota: "I am keenly disappointed in the president's message. I had hoped that President Coolidge would offer some practical method of relief for agriculture, but in reading his message I failed to discover anything of a definite or practical nature along this line. The president wants the farmers to pull themselves out of their difficulties. He advocates co-operating marketing. This is not enough."

No aldermanic candidate will be entered in the political campaign of next spring by South Madison, according to influential citizens of that district. The feeling is that it is more advisable to leave the choice of candidates to the older part of the Ninth ward and choose a representative from this list. The term of Ald. Thomas McGowan expires in 1924.

As Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of the Third Asiatic Expedition to Asia, and his associates explain their plans and hopes for another and more thorough expedition into the Asiatic continent some of the 10,000,000-year-old dinosaur eggs collected in the last journey, are to be sold to help defray the expenses of the last quest after prehistoric relics and data. Twenty-five eggs of the giant animal that is known to have roamed the lands of the earth at one time, were brought back. Most of them are for sale—at $2,000 each.

TWO BOARDS SHOW SMALLEST BUDGETS

Budgets of the board of public works and the board of appeals were the smallest to be passed upon by the board of estimates at its final meeting Wednesday night. Both will be limited to an expenditure of $25.

The duty of the board of public works is to pass upon all permanent street improvement contracts, or contracts for new municipal buildings. The board of appeals was created through the adoption of the zoning law and passes upon all building questions where rules of the zoning law are in question.

COUNCIL FAVORS EXPANSION PLAN

National Inter-fraternity Convention Believes Increase of Societies Necessary

"The primary purpose of the Interfraternity conference this year was to increase the number of national fraternities in proportion to the enormous increase of students," Walker G. Dollmeyer '24, said. Dollmeyer attended the conference held at the Pennsylvania hotel in New York, November 30 and December 1, as Wisconsin's council representative.

"In accordance with the idea of increasing the number of nationals, a meeting of representatives from local fraternities was called for the first time," Dollmeyer stated.

New National Formed

A new national, Phi Kappa Pi, fraternity with 10 chapters, was born at the closing session of the annual interfraternity conference due to the voting of the forty-eight delegates from local fraternities.

"For the first time the conference, which consists of national officers of all the national fraternities, had as its guests twenty eight representatives from different universities. From now on representatives from universities will meet as a national local council in conjunction with the conference.

Encourage Visits

"One of the things with which the conference concerned itself was the visitation of the conference members to the fraternities in the several universities. This visiting is to make for more hospitality and interest in the conference, and will be carried on to a greater extent than ever before.

"The conference decided to introduce a bill into congress to put fraternity jewelry under the patent law," said Dollmeyer.

EXTENSION ASSOC. TO MEET IN CITY

National University Extension Association Organized Here in 1915

Arrangements for the annual meeting of the National University Extension association, to be held in Madison next spring, are now being made by a general committee, composed of members of the local Extension division faculty under the chairmanship of Prof. W. H. Dudley.

The National Extension association is an organization which is institutional in membership. It held its first meeting in Madison in 1915, at which time the present association was organized. It now includes 39 universities. The purpose of the association, according to Frank W.

EAST IS EAST, WEST IS WEST—CUPID LAUGHS

Samuel Greenfield and his Siamese Wife, formerly the Princess Eufa de Souza.

During the thirteen years that Samuel Greenfield, Cincinnati chair manufacturer, remained in the far east his friends wondered what was holding him there. They learned when he arrived home recently and introduced his wife, Princess Eufa de Souza, daughter of a Siamese prince. She was socially prominent in Siamese circles and speaks several languages fluently.

Shockley, assistant to the dean of the University Extension division, is to study the development of the University Extension in the Universities, and to discuss the different common problems, thus aiding in their solution.

"It is expected that this will be an unusually successful convention as the committee is already hard at work. If every thing turns out as it is planned, every delegate should take back to his college community much that will be of value in the Extension work," said Mr. Shockley.

RHODES SCHOLARS NEAR SELECTION

Utterance of Sen. Cashman Disregarded as Candidates Are Interviewed

Notwithstanding the recent utterances of Sen. John E. Cashman, one of the newest members of the Board of Regents, to the point that the Rhodes scholarships are pro-British, selection of the 15 candidates is in progress.

The members of the committee of appointment arrived in Madison and occupied their entire time yesterday in interviewing candidates. In addition to President Birge who is chairman of the committee, the members of the body are H. H. Holt, W. F. Raney, E. Lyman and Arthur B. Doe.

Members of the faculty when interviewed on the subject in no case expressed themselves in accord with Senator Cashman's views. One professor declared that the Rhodes scholarships were no more pro-British than the Carl Schurz professorship, which permits a German student to carry on his studies.

Carl Russell Fish, professor of history, replied, "Oh, nonsense!" when it was suggested to him that the awards were pro-British.

Prof. A. R. Holfeld of the German department who has received several degrees from German universities considered the scholarships a benefit.

"I think we should welcome such an institution as an advance in the progress of international relations. Such an exchange of ideas as the Rhodes scholarships results in would be profitable for all countries," Prof. Holfeld said.

Plan Legion Posts

Lorenz Names Two Committees To Investigate More Council Units

Two committees were named by Dr. William F. Lorenz, chairman of the Dane county council, American Legion, at a meeting held Thursday night in the meeting room of the Association of Commerce. The promotion committee, to investigate the possibility of establishing additional posts in the county, consists of D. D. Reiniger, Sun Prairie, L. H. Tasker, Marshall, and T. Ames, Brooklyn. A history committee, to report on the advisability of issuing a history of county posts, is composed of H. L. Garner and H. P. Lochner, Madison, and Dr. Harry Keenan, Stoughton.

Plans for the formation of a county unit of the "10 and 8," fun making branch of the Legion, were also discussed.

The next meeting of the council will be held Jan. 3 in Sun Prairie.
