CANOEING

"Cap" Isabell Promises to Get the Cardinal in Water and Open Navigation Soon

The Cardinal, university life boat, is getting its last coat of paint; the engine will be put in tomorrow; and "Cap" Isabel, skipper of that well-known craft, promises that the boating season will open early next week.

"We're hustling things up as fast as we can," said "Cap." "The Cardinal is almost ready to be launched and there are over 200 canoes all slicked up like a sore thumb waiting to hit the water. I'm sorry we can't start things this week-end, but we've got to wait for the Cardinal."

"Don't tell anyone," he chuckled, "but I hope it rains Easter Sunday! I know I'd have to turn folks away if the weather were good, and I'd hate to do that!"

THREE PLACES ARE OPEN ON UNION BOARD

That the positions on Union board for two sophomores and one junior are open to anyone from those classes was decided at the board meeting on March 23. Union board will make no recommendations for the positions. This action has been approved by the student senate.

These members will be elected by all qualified male voters of the sophomore and junior classes respectively and candidates will be nominated by the regular petition method.

Members of the Athletic board will be elected by all male students. Both men and women of the sophomore class will elect the editor-in-chief and business manager of the 1923 Badger.

Two sophomores and one junior for the Badger board will be elected by all voters of the respective classes.

All students except freshmen will elect two sophomores and one junior for the Cardinal board and one sophomore and two juniors for Forensic board.

FOUND LOAN FUND BY PRESENTATION OF "THE RIVALS"

To establish a student loan fund that will be available to freshmen as well as to upperclassmen, Dean S. H. Goodnight, at the head of a special student committee composed of representatives from all the schools, has succeeded in bringing to Madison the Coffey-Miller play.

This company will present Richard Brinsley Sheridan's, three-act comedy, "The Rivals," in Music hall on Saturday, April 9.

Superior and La Crosse Lose Out in Fast Games

TODAY'S SCHEDULE

Waukesha vs. Appleton, 10:30 a. m.
Menomone plays winner at 8:15 p. m.
Consolation
Elmwood vs. Rhinelander, 9:30 a. m.
Madison plays winner at 7:15 p. m.

By defeating the strong Superior and La Crosse teams in the second series of the state basketball tournament in the armory last night, Menomone and Waukesha High schools won the right to compete with Appleton High school for final honors today.

Madison and Rhinelander High schools won places in the finals of the consolation series and will play today against Elmwood.

Yesterday's scores follow:

Menomone 18, Superior 12.
Waukesha 11, La Crosse 7.
Madison 23, Monticello 10.
Rhinelander 20, Neillsville 7.

Displaying the most phenomenal basket shooting ability seen in the tournament thus far, the Menomone High school basketball team eliminated the highly touted Superior five from the championship race by a score of 18 to 12.

Another upset in the dope occurred when Waukesha defeated La Crosse in a fast game by a 11 to 7 score. Waukesha did not score a single point during the first half, but repeated their Milwaukee tournament performance by overcoming a seven point lead and emerging victorious. Waukesha showed great improvement over their performance of yesterday and they now appear to be far more formidable champion claimants than previously.

Superior Outclassed

Although the Menomone five shot miserably in the beginning, they established an early lead and maintained it throughout the game. In the second half Superior was helpless when Menomone commenced ringing long range shots from all angles of the floor. Although the Northerners were handicapped by Hancock's being on the sidelines due to injuries received in Thursday's game, the chances are that had he been in the lineup, he would not have been able to save his team from defeat.

Nevers and Letter did most of the scoring during the first half. The two mainstays played wonderful games and each was mainly responsible for the close score at the end of the first half. In the second period, however, Letter's teammates aided him more than did Nevers, and thus a bigger lead was established.

Menomone is now entitled to DOST realize that if more people would do absurd things this colyum would be infinitely easier to write?

ABOUT twenty-five persons in this school are furnishing all the scandal, the gore, the morsels delectable (attempt at a genteel infection of foreign tongue). Come on; let us all do our share. We will begin the absurdity by writing some verse today. The title is:

GO HIGHER

Oh, I ordered a case of good liquor.

It came, and I opened it up,
But I do here declare
That the bottles weren't there—
Absorbed by some pustulous pup.

—EXCELSIOR.

I stood on the corner a watching

The wind which was blowing for fair.

The opportune breeze
Bared a number of knees

Which for contour were certainly there.

—EXCELSIOR.

A friend of mine fussing a boy

Bestowed a most resonant kiss.

Though he aimed at her grin,
He hit only the chin,

And she said "I must score that a miss."

—EXCELSIOR.

THERE are to be movies taken of the entire proceedings tonight at the Movie mixer. With that in mind bear yourself with deportment and pick your mate with discretion for the cinema will record everything to posterity.

WHEN the boys start having noon dates something is decomposing in Danish sections. We refer to the occupations of one Mike Knapp.

LIVES OF GREAT MEN, No. 1

Shorty Barr

We have not time to tell of his whole life as he is eighteen years old and it would take too long. However that of primary interest is his intrepid social qualification. Not only is he a star on the grid-iron but a lizard on the waxed floor. Only yesterday he borrowed a pair of suspenders to assist in disporting himself at a swell formal function. As is generally known the whole of Lake street turned out last night to give ovation to his debut in a silk topser. The street was lined with countless throngs who were not to be dispersed until finally Shorty appeared and said in his modest but effective way, "Oh, thank you, fellows."

(Note—Shorty slipped us a five spot to run this).

The Delts have six new pledges—/ all of them basketball players. They will start work on the pier Monday. What the Delts used to do on their pier was not considered work we must add.

The seven chocolate drops from Illinois (they are not from there, but we don't know how to spell Kentucky) dropped into town yesterday, and the mingled wails of their reed instruments which assailed our conch-like ears all evening are to be blamed for whatever mediocrity that can be found in this obelisk of duel.

SHORT TOPICS

Hilda Mabley's voice changed yesterday. She now sings second bass.

Helen Hooper's whoops are the life of "Contemporary Drama."

The Pierson sisters will lecture in "Comparative Literature" next Tuesday.

Joe Hook is treating his knees with turpentine to withstand the coming ravages of Haresfoot.

Sterling Ewald shaved today. At least it looks so on the face of it.

We bought four doughnuts at Main hall Thursday. Should have bought more, but that's all the money the girl dropped.

There's no foot in the world bigger than Milton Borman's left—unless it's his right.

The biggest plunger in school does not play poker. Ora McMurray only haunts the pungent tank.

SPECIAL—Lothrop Follett, aged forty, gave a fatherly talk to several thousand girls at Lathrop hall Thursday night. His earnest, straightforward "message" was one which will long be a buoyant factor in their lives. Oh, had someone only taken us into hand before it was too late.

WE shall rise at noon to see how much column has been censored. We shall then trace our steps to the halls of the gloomy library to our work which it seemeth will never end. Oh, what is life anyway but one d—d thing after another with the phone always busy? —The DUKE DIKAKIAK.

EGYPT

Times of the Ptolemies Will be Pictured in Varsity
Movie Scene Today

Sphinxes, waving palms, a huge Egyptian scarab, lotus flowers, decorations—no, it won't be Egypt in the days of the Ptolemies; but it will be a close imitation, the Varsity Movie Egyptian scene which will be part of the prologue depicting the evolution of education.

The scene will be "set" on the campus in front of the Biology building. Members of the Varsity Movie production and art staffs have been at work for weeks with the aid of the history department to arrange a scene which will be historically correct in every detail.

Dancing girls will perform beneath the palm trees; Egyptian slaves will wave large, palm-leaf fans; and stately Egyptian astrologers will claim equal attention with charming Cleopatras.

All this of course if the sun shines; for everyone knows that Egypt is the land of eternal sunshine. The scene will be prepared by 11:30 and the filming will take place at noon, when the sun is most directly overhead.

Waukesha-La Crosse

In the first half of the Waukesha-La Crosse game, the star Southcott failed to get started, and, though his team repeatedly worked the ball to within shooting distance, they could not locate the basket. However, in the meantime, they allowed La Crosse to score only a basket and a free throw. The second half was furiously fought, but the Waukesha offense could not be checked, and they steadily forged into the lead. Vondrashake repeated his last night's record by making all of his team's points. He is a great floor man and has an uncanny eye for the basket. He will undoubtedly receive consideration when the all-state team is selected.

Madison - Monticello

The Madison - Monticello game was the best exhibition of the day in the consolation series, Madison winning, 25 to 10. Monticello sprung the unexpected and outplayed Madison completely in the first half. Endres' men found themselves soon after the second period began and commenced an offensive onslaught that no tournament team could have checked. All of the men shared in the scoring except Diebold. The big captain however, played a great guarding game and was, in a large measure, responsible for the great rally made by his team. Madison meets the winner of the Rhinelander Elmwood game which will be played at 9:30 o'clock this morning, at 7:15 tonight for consolation honors.

Rhineland - Neillsville

In the other game of the consolation series, Rhinelander had little difficulty in defeating Neillsville 20 to 7. The game was fairly fast and the crowd was well pleased with the excellent team work shown by the Rhinelander team, Bohm, Rhinelander's bantam weight forward, was the star of his team. He has fully as much basket ball ability as any forward in the tournament, and, did he possess twenty pounds more weight, he would be sure of all-state consideration. Rhinelander plays Elmwood this morning to decide which team will play Madison this evening for consolation honors. Although Elmwood will benefit by a rest yesterday they will find great difficulty in de-

"W" Banquet Tonight.

Following the games tonight, the banquet given by the "W" club will take place at the city YMCA. This is the biggest even in the line of entertainment for the visitors as the various prizes and trophies will be given out at that time, and it is expected there will be more than one hundred guests present. Talks will be given by Dr. Meanwell, Coach Lowman, "Red" Weston, "Cop" Taylor, Major Wood, and various members of the visiting teams.

The following teams are now out of the running in either series; Neillsville, Monticello, La Crosse and Superior.

Elmwood, Rhinelander, and Madison will fight for consolation honors, and tonight at 8:15, the championship battle will take place when the drawer of the bye will play the winner of the morning game.

THE MILITARY BALL

PLANS for the ninth annual Military ball, which will be held in the Capitol on April 8, are nearing completion. In many respects the 1921 ball sponsored by the university cadet corps will outclass in splendor and impressiveness all previous social functions of this nature.

Democracy will be the keynote. Cabs are taboo. Flowers are officially blacklisted. Favors are out of the question. The entire proceeds of the ball will be turned over to the Memorial Union fund.

The Military ball will be a genuine "buddies get-together." All service men will turn out in their uniforms, and will wear their chevrons, shoulder bars, medals, insignias and service stripes.

Fall in, mates, and help make this a real reunion.

* * *

GREEN CAPS

TOMORROW morning, the men of the class of 1924 will appear in their Easter bonnets, the traditional green caps.

The wearing of the prescribed Frosh cap is on of the oldest and strongest-rooted of all university traditions. The green cap is the agency which binds the incoming class together and fosters class unity. At the same time, it is a representation of the fact that the university is an institution which is worthy of, and which demands, a certain respect, even at personal sacrifice, from all first year students regardless of their previous high school records or achievements.

Most freshmen wear the prescribed cap with loyalty to their class and their university. A few manifest a disregard for the university and its traditions, and pursue their selfish ends. The number is small, but is, none the less, too large.

It is hoped that this spring every man of the class of 1924 will wear the green cap with pride and dignity and will thus manifest his regard for the university and its traditions.

Freshmen who ignore the university traditions can be made to live up to them through the action of the Student Senate. Such action should, however, be unnecessary where the proper spirit prevails.

Freshmen should don their green caps tomorrow.

BETTERING STUDENT LIFE

AN editorial in the New York Times for March 19 commends "the leaders of the student body at the University of Wisconsin" for their open hostility to "drinking, immoral dancing, and a lax, tolerant spirit." There should be no hesitancy on the part of university students to second the commendation of the New York Times.

While the unobserving may ignore the stand of these student leaders, while the skeptics may consider the position futile, and while the anti-university press may rail in bombastic exaggeration over the university laxity, it must be admitted that conditions in the university are constantly improving. Through the efforts of individual student leaders and the organizations they represent the attitude against the "lax, tolerant spirit" has resulted in higher standards of student life. We may assert with a reasonable degree of certainty that there is far less "drinking, immoral dancing, and lax tolerant spirit" in that university than there was a year ago.

A position to better student life in the university must be fostered and encouraged. These conditions are the soil from which springs the attitude of the people toward the university. It is largely up to the students, and particularly up to the student leaders, to promote such conditions as will make student life at the university of Wisconsin unimpeachable. The best way to defend the university is to give no ground for criticism.

The student body should join with the New York Times in commending the open action of those who are striving to elevate student life to a higher plane. No purpose is more laudable. Such actions should continue and should be extended for the sake of the university's good name.

ANDREWS SPEAKS ON AMERICAN HISTORY

Prof. Charles M. Andrews of Yale university lectured yesterday afternoon on "Reflection of the American Revolution." Prof. Andrews is an authority on American history. He spoke of the trouble caused by the belief that the United States has always been right and England wrong.

"The American people are too fond of worshipping their ancestors," Professor Andrews declared. "They dress their heroes up in characters and ideals which they wish to believe their ancestors had."

BUNNIES

Cottontails in Biology Building Play With Colored Easter Eggs

Rabbits and Easter eggs! They've always gone together ever since we can remember.

In Madam Pink Ear's cage, up in the lobby of the Biology building, they go together too, though the latter would have looked suspiciously like our ordinary breakfast variety if they had not been tinted purple and pink. The mother rabbit with her fluffy white family of four was the center of an admiring circle of Eds and Co-Eds all day Friday.

Her smallest, a veritable young "Puck," amused himself by creeping playfully in the excelsior, sidling up to a sleeping companion, and touching a whisker gently with his quivering nose. Then a wild scramble would ensue, the animated white balls bobbing, bouncing, and tumbling, here, there and everywhere, not stopping until the ring-leader paused for breath in a quiet retreat like the feed-box or behind the bars of the side-rack.

Though rabbits are not responsible for the Easter eggs which are the symbol of renewed life or the resurrection, there is a connection between Easter and the hare. The date of Easter, dependent upon the phase of the moon, has been represented from ancient times by the symbolic hare or rabbit.

TO HAVE DANCING AND READINGS AT FIRELIGHT MEETING

The last half of the hour will be spent in games and dancing for everyone.

"These weekly meetings have proved popular with a good number of men and women students," said Edith Royse '21, who is in charge of the program. "Tonight's entertainment is especially interesting, and we hope to have a large crowd out."

AFFIRMATIVE WINS IN AGRIC DEBATE

Search for Missing Balloon With 5 Men

PENSACOLA, Flo. — Naval authorities expressed the belief today that the only hope for the safety of Chief Quartermaster G. K. Wilkinson, and four student pilots, missing from the naval air station here since they took the air in a free balloon Tuesday night is that some vessel in the Gulf of Mexico may have rescued them. Scores of naval air and surface craft today took up anew the search for the free balloon. The last heard from the balloon yesterday was that it was then off St. Andrews Bay drifting toward the open sea and only about a hundred feet above water. Two messages brought in by carrier pigeons told the plight of the balloonists. The last said all the ballast had been overthrown but at that time the big gas bag was slowly sinking.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN WILL BE AWARDED 10 SCHOLARSHIPS

Non - resident Upperclassmen
May Apply for Tuition Exemptions

The faculty committee on loans and scholarships offers ten scholarships for women for the academic year 1921-22. These scholarships will range in value from $50 to $300 and will be granted on the basis of scholarship, worthiness, and financial need. Tuition exemptions for non-resident upperclassmen are also offered.

Further information concerning the above scholarships and application blanks may be obtained from Prof. Julius E. Olson, 60 Bascom hall. Applications must be in the hands of the committee by May 1.

Tuition Exemptions

Applications for the Legislative scholarships must also be made during the month of April. These scholarships exempt the holders from the payment of the non-resident tuition and are awarded "to a number of needy and worthy non-resident students upon the basis of merit to be shown by suitable tests, examinations, or scholastic records and continued high standards of scholastic attainment."

The Legislative scholarships are not awarded to incoming freshmen but are open to upperclassmen in all colleges and schools of the university. Graduate students must apply at the office of the dean of the Graduate school. Application blanks, with instructions, may be obtained by others than graduates at the office of the registrar.

OUTING CLUB WILL HAVE FINAL EMBLEM

Members Who Have Won Pin to Work for Felt Insignia

That a final emblem in the form of a red felt Outing club letter will be the further goal of Outing club members who have already earned their pin was decided at the March meeting of the club Thursday night when new officers were elected.

It was the last suggestion made by the old board, and it was enthusiastically received when presented to the club.

"We have felt that an added incentive was necessary to Outing club pin wearers," said Zirian Blish '22, chairman of the board. "After a girl has earned her pin by 25 hours work, there has thus far been nothing further for her to work for. Now, by leading five parties in three sports, with a total time amount of 15 hours, a girl is eligible for the final honor."

Plan Picnic

The annual spring picnic of the club was planned for April 21 at Winona park, at which time the new officers will be installed.

Ellen Correll '22, Outing club representative to the W. A. A. convention at Bloomington last week, made her report.

"Wisconsin was the only college of the 54 represented that had a club combining all sports not organized by W. A. A.," she declared. "They were all eager to hear about our club, and many of the girls made plans to start Outing clubs at their own schools."

Outing club at Wisconsin was organized in 1917. It has a present membership of 350.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

Bryant Washburn in "Burglar Proof" will be the attraction at the Strand theater for the last times today. It tells of a man who, finding that the world hates a tightwad, decides to turn over a new leaf. The "turning" is replete with humor for the playgoers.

The story is finely developed and presents several highly amusing situations. The titles are witty and one of them explains what "Burglar Proof" means. In other words, the hero is so "tight," it would take a charge of nitro-glycerine to shake a dollar out of him! But Cupid shakes him from his money roll and doesn't use an explosive either.

Buster Keaton in "The Scarecrow" is the added attraction.

Bebe Daniels in "She Couldn't Help It," and Fatty Arbuckle in "Out West" will be shown at the Strand Sunday to Tuesday.

AT THE GRAND

George Walsh, the athletic screen star, will be featured at the Grand today in his latest picture "From Now On," a story by Frank L. Packard. In this picture the star carries an intensely exciting story of the underworld through a rapid fire of incidents, stunts, narrow escapes and thrilling spectacular scenes. The picture was to have been shown for two days, but as the Grand was closed yesterday, Good Friday, the picture will be seen for but one day.

Charles Chaplin's new wonder picture "The Kid" comes to the State Street theater tomorrow for a week's run.
