FIND PRINTS OF FILMS LOST BY SATURDAY'S FIRE

Damage Extent Lessened By Finding Replicas of 20,000 Burned Negatives

With the finding of 20,000 prints of negatives that were lost in the fire which destroyed the Forest Products photographic laboratory Saturday afternoon, the loss caused by the fire has been greatly reduced and the labor of 15 years in taking pictures in connection with the university has been saved.

The prints were found in another building according to Dr. M. E. Diemer, who is in charge of the investigation to ascertain the cause of the fire and the extent of the damage.

Building Being Repaired

Careful checking of the records show that absolutely no material was lost through the destruction of the negatives as the prints will serve as a record in the future.

Repairing of the building is already under way and the interior parts that were damaged will be entirely refinished, according to Dr. Diemer. It is expected that the work will be finished in three weeks so that the laboratory may proceed in its work.

As nearly as can be ascertained it is evident that defective wiring caused the blaze which resulted in damage estimated at $10,000.

Haresfoot Follies Will Be Featured By Varied Colors

Eight crystal chandeliers, colored lights, balloons and serpentine will feature the decorations for the sixth annual Haresfoot Follies to be held Saturday night in Lathrop gymnasium, according to Sidney Thorson, grad, manager of the club. The chandeliers, which were used at prom last year, with purple and yellow lights inside, a revolving crystal ball and colored lights placed about the gym will furnish a variety of effects for the occasion.

One of the two 10-piece orchestras which will furnish continuous music for the dance will play from a stage which has the silver cyclorama used in the Haresfoot show last spring as a background. The second orchestra will be located on a platform at the other end of the room. Ferns and palms will be placed around both platforms.

Tickets will be on sale all this week at the University pharmacy and at Morgan's. Tickets will be sold at the door Saturday night. The price is $2.

ENTRIES INCREASE IN SONG CONTEST

To Announce Winner at Banquet Friday Night in Woman's Building

Jack Sampson '27, and Donald Patterson '27, will present their song, "Promise," which was presented in Chicago by the Duncan Sisters, at the freshman banquet Friday night at the Woman's building. They will be accompanied by Owen "Bunny" Lyons.

Entries for the song contest for the freshman class are coming in, according to Adamson Hoebel, in charge of the contest. Entries must be in by Friday evening.

"We expect to get a real freshman song, which will have enough pep and originality to show the spirit of the class of '28," Hoebel stated. "The entries so far received have been very versatile, and the judges will have a hard time to select a suitable song from the good material which is already available."

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at the Y. M. C. A. and may be obtained from the freshman committee of fifty. Reservations must be made at once, as only 350 plates are available.

Donald Ogden Stewart Is Censor For Own Literary Achievements

Not an insignificant number of authors have had their books suppressed by a stern censor, but Donald Ogden Stewart, who comes to Music Hall next Tuesday to lecture under the auspices of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, claims the distinction of being the sole author who has suppressed his own literary outcroppings.

In "American Nights Entertainment," by Grant Overton, source books on Donald Ogden Stewart are given as:

"The Making of a Humorist," by Donald Ogden Stewart, suppressed by author, 1921.

"My Naval Career," by Donald Ogden Stewart (Privately published in 1921.)

The instinct toward suppression of his published autobiography had not, however, extended to the spoken word, for Mr. Stewart very frankly tells his experiences in business and in the navy in his lecture, "How I Failed in Business."

The crux of the matter seems to have been that Mr. Stewart, taking a keen interest in his job, was so busy reading the complete works of Anatole France, Ibsen, Flaubert, Tolstoi, Hardy, Conrad and others, that he did not have time to become the successful young man that the correspondence schools turn out.

Since his "failure in business," which followed the discovery of his talent for literature, particularly satire, Mr. Stewart has been successful author of four books, "A Parody Outline of History," "Perfect Behavior," "Aunt Polly's Story of Mankind," and "Mr. and Mrs. Haddock Abroad."

The subject on which Mr. Stewart will talk, or as he says, perambulate in is "Laughter in the Jazz Age." The admission will be 50 cents.

CARDINAL GROWTH TOLD AT BANQUET

Hyde Explains Plans By Which Cardinal May Own Print- ing Plant

The Daily Cardinal as it was at the time of its founding 32 years ago, and the Daily Cardinal as it is today, were the high lights of the speeches at the fourth annual banquet given to staff members by the Board of Control at the Monona hotel last night.

Dr. Willard G. Bleyer, director of the Course in Journalism, told of the Daily Cardinal when it was under the management of three faculty members in 1892, a striving paper in debt, with members elected by popular vote at a general mass meeting.

Prof. Grant M. Hyde, also of the Journalism Department, spoke of the hopes of the members of the paper of owning their printing plant.

John Bergstresser '25, president of the Board of Control, acted as toastmaster and called on Wes Dunlap '25 and Robert Casterline '25, who in turn called on other members of their individual staffs for a few words to tell of their part in the production of the Daily Cardinal.

Appointments to the staff were announced at the beginning of the banquet. John Weimer '25 was named theater editor, Alice Colony '26, rotogravure editor, and Bernard Goodkind '27 and John Esch '26, desk assistants.

Robert Paddock '26 was made a special writer and Katherine Black '27, Esther Fosshage '27, Catherine Hattman '26, Hope Dahle '27, Florence Victor '25 and Richard Bergstresser '27 were raised to the rank of reporters.

Will Start Hill Ticket Sale Today For Union Vodvil

Open sale of tickets for Union Vodvil will start this morning at 9 o'clock in the rotunda of Bascom hall, and continue until 3:30 o'clock. The sale will be resumed Friday and will continue at the Parkway all next week.

The actual tickets will be sold as the rack has been brought up from the Parkway. The prices for the Friday and Saturday night performances are $2, $1.50, $1 and 50 cents, and $1.50, $1, 75 and 50 cents for the Saturday matinee.

"Good seats at all prices remain for the Saturday shows," Norton Smith '26, ticket chairman, said yesterday, "and many of the cheaper seats are left for the Friday night performance."

OLSON WILL HELP IN NORSE CELEBRATION

Professor Julius E. Olson, of the Scandinavian language department, has been appointed honorary vice-president for the state of Wisconsin for the Norse-American centennial celebration to be held at Minneapolis next June in commemoration of the first landing of the Norse in America.

Loot From Acacia Fraternity Given Back By Thieves

Two men, who Sunday night made away with $250 in cash and jewelry at the Acacia fraternity lodge, last night returned the stolen property to Miles Hildreth, law student and member of the fraternity, it was learned from Hildreth today.

"The two men came to me about 11:30 last night and returned the articles, including four or five watches, a fountain pen and some money," Hildreth.

Police tried today to get a description of the two young men from Hildreth but he declined to give the desired information, saying he could not remember what the men looked like.

NEED CARS FOR C. I. P. A. DELEGATES

Will Transport High School Editors From Stations to Library

A call for student taxis and taxidrivers has been issued by the reception committee for the Central Inter-Scholastic Press association convention.

"Many more cars are needed to transport guests from the Historical library to their rooms all day Thursday and Friday," said Margaret Patch '26, chairman of this committee. She asks that all students who are willing to lend their cars call her at B. 3212 today.

Of the 47 states sending delegates to the convention, five of them, Massachusetts, Tennessee, South Dakota, Colorado and New Jersey, have not been represented before. All of these 1,200 delegates are to be met at the four Madison stations by members of the reception committee and volunteers in the Course in Journalism. An information booth is to be placed at the Chicago & Northwestern station, and explanatory signs will be at both the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Illinois Central stations.

Arrangements, including a special 25 cent fare for the trip, have been made with the Yellow Cab Co. to transport guests from the station to the Historical library, which is the place of registration. In the lobby of the library delegates may obtain their coupon books and badges. On these ribbon badges, three and one-half inches square, is written the name, the home city, and the high school publication of the delegate.

Did the student directory print your telephone number or address incorrectly? Was your name misspelled or omitted entirely?

Send or bring corrections to the Directory Editor at the Daily Cardinal office in the Union building by Saturday.

The Daily Cardinal will publish the corrections received as a supplement to the directory.

Luckless "Hig" Loses Faith and Pays the Penalty

A big tear rolled down the cheek of a supporter of the Wisconsin football team. Why? Because they did not score? No, because the team was not beaten.

He was feeling low this morning when he whispered in the ear of "Jack," the Acacia mascot, "Well, Jack, old boy, we'll suffer together, only I must walk while you ride." Then the unwilling mascot was placed in a baby carriage and the carriage rolled briskly down Langdon street.

Noon—such crowds of students—deep blushes suffused the face of Hugo Murray '25, as he wheeled the baby carriage down the street. All resulted from a bet that Chicago would win over Wisconsin last Saturday.

"Well, 'Hig!' it served you right," one loyal co-ed advanced.

ENGINEERS GET FACTS ON TRIP

Seniors Hear Technical and Sound Condition of Mod- ern Industries

"An understanding of the social significance of huge industries in modern civilization was one of the greatest gains of the trip which electrical and mechanical senior engineers took last week," said Prof. Cyril M. Jansky yesterday in commenting on the trip, which 100 men took as a regular part of their course.

"Not only did the men get to understand the technical operations of large industries but they were quick to grasp some of the basic conditions under which laborers work," continued Professor Jansky.

The eastern trip was chosen by two-thirds of the engineers and the western trip by the others. Prof. John Price headed the electrical engineers who went on the western trip and Prof. Gustus L. Larson, the mechanical. The others in charge of this trip were Profs. Cyril M. Jansky, Patrick H. Hyland, R. E. Puerner and J. J. Novotny, chief engineer of the university heating plant.

Both groups spent two days in Milwaukee visiting the Lakeside Power station and the Allis-Chalmers company. On the third day the engineers visited the Nash Motor plant and the American Brass works in Kenosha, and the plant of the American Steel Wire company at Waukegan. Thursday they visited the Universal Portland Cement company and the Illinois Steel company.

Friday they were shown around the Hawthorne works of the Western Electric, and in the afternoon they visited the Crawford Avenue power station of the Commonwealth Edison company.

Saturday morning the mechanical group went through the Underwriter's laboratories and the electrical group inspected the Chicago Telephone company.

C. I. P. A. COUPON BOOKS TO BE SOLD TOMORROW

Convention coupon books including admission tickets to every feature of the C. I. P. A. convention will be placed on sale tomorrow. A banquet at the Woman's building on Friday night, a vaudeville performance in Lathrop and a dance afterward are the features planned for the entertainment of the guests and all university students. Students may obtain these coupon books from 109 South Hall, Professor Johnson's office, and in the registration booth at the Historical library tomorrow.

McCAFFERY AND BARKER LEAD INSPECTION TOUR

A western inspection trip of the metallurgy students of the Engineering college will be taken during the first week in December, under the guidance of Professors R. S. McCaffery and G. J. Barker. The trip will include the steel works at South Chicago, Gary and Indiana Harbor, the lead smelters at Chicago and East Chicago, and the zinc smelters at La Salle and Peru.

FEAR GIVEN AS CAUSE OF KILLING IN POWERS' PLEA

Rushing of Testimony May Send Case to Jury Early Today

Giving fear as the cause for firing the revolver that fatally wounded Peter Posepny '25, last May 12, former patrolman, Patrick J. Powers, reiterated yesterday when questioned in the Rock county circuit court at Janesville, the story he told in the preliminary hearing here last spring. The case was recently venued to Janesville from Dane county.

Testimony of the witnesses called in the trial by both sides, the state and Powers, has been rushed and it is expected that the case will go to the jury early today.

Posepny Taken For a Burglar

When District Attorney Theodore G. Lewis had closed the state's case with the testimony of Dr. C. H. Bunting, university pathologist, Attorney Frank L. Gilbert, who has successfully defended other alleged killers, began the testimony which he hopes will absolve his client, Powers, from the guilt with which he is charged.

"I was pretty fearful at the time, pretty nervous," explained Powers. "I thought he was a burglar. I was sure he was a burglar. I was afraid he would kill me." Later in the questioning, Powers said that he had in his mind several other burglaries that had been committed about that time in his neighborhood.

Recounts Happenings

Powers recounted the tale of his actions on the night of the killing, substantially as he had when questioned in Madison last spring. His wife, he said, had aroused him about 20 minutes after he had retired, and informed him that there was a man prowling around outside his house. He arose, and, according to his story, called "Halt!" before shooting. Powers attempted to make it clear that he meant no bodily harm.

When the jury had been picked it included the names of two former university students, Miss Grace Belding and Richard H. Taylor. The latter roomed for a year in the Powers' home while a student.

Mr. Lewis explained that the state would show that, although Posepny was a trespasser, Powers killed him unnecessarily. The state's attorney said he will show that the bullet entered the student's head behind the right ear, and emerged in front, near the temple. Posepny, he added, fell with his feet toward

Retain Jack Ryan, Get Good Line Coach, Probe Seat of Authority, Cardinal StandBelieve System Just Beginning to Find Itself; Material
Seasoned

An Editorial

By KEN BUTLER

Retain Jack Ryan as coach of the Wisconsin football team, but engage an experienced and competent assistant coach and institute an inquiry into the present athletic system and determine if Coach Ryan is allowed to pursue his work with a free hand and without interference—that is the policy of the Daily Cardinal towards athletics at Wisconsin.

Football seems to be the only branch of sports in which Wisconsin has been weak, and this only during the last season. The season of 1923 was considered a fair season, in spite of the fact that only one conference victory was annexed. Wisconsin has good teams in swimming, track, cross country, baseball, and basketball, and their good standing is a credit to the present athletic system.

System Finding Itself.

The Daily Cardinal believes the Ryan system is just beginning to find itself, and now that the green material has been seasoned, coupled with the influx of well-drilled freshmen, Wisconsin teams will be still more formidable on the gridiron.

Every university and every coach has its years of hard luck and adversity. One thing that has figured in Wisconsin defeats the last two years has been a woeful absence of luck in getting the breaks of the game. Spells of this sort come in the grid history of every school, no matter whom the coach.

If Wisconsin ever had a chance for a winning team it should be next year. Give Ryan an opportunity to show what he can do with a squad who have the preliminary training, experience, and who have just begun to find themselves. The game of last Saturday shows the team's capabilities.

Need Line Coach.

The addition of an experienced assistant coach, however, is essential, and we believe the athletic department has this under consideration. T. E. Jones intimated just before the Iowa game that this change might be made. Such a coach would take away much of the burden of teaching fundamentals and leave Coach Ryan to work out the more intricate problems.

The head coach must have no interference. There has been, talk that Ryan has not had a free hand at Wisconsin. If this is true, it ought not be allowed to continue. No football team can be expected to put forth its best efforts if there is no one in supreme charge; no team can win games if the coaches differ as to the strategy that ought to be used. For that reason the Daily Cardinal asks that an investigation be started to find out the

FROSH GRIDDEERS
LIGHT, BUT FASTCoach Sundt Recommends 24
Men, 3 Managers For Class Numerals

Although this year's frosh grid team is one of the lightest that has turned out for practice in recent years, it is also one of the most aggressive. Coach Sundt stated that this team is one of the smartest in the way of football sense that he has ever handled. The readiness with which they picked up plays and the tenacity with which they retain what they learn bodes well for future varsity material.

This year's frosh eleven gave the varsity all the work it could take on in the practice scrimmages. Often times the frosh would score against the varsity and they were capable of holding the attacks of the varsity backs. The poor showing of the Chicago backs is partially due to the fact that the yearling backs imitated the Maroon ball carriers to such perfection that the Badgers were all set for Stagg's strategy.

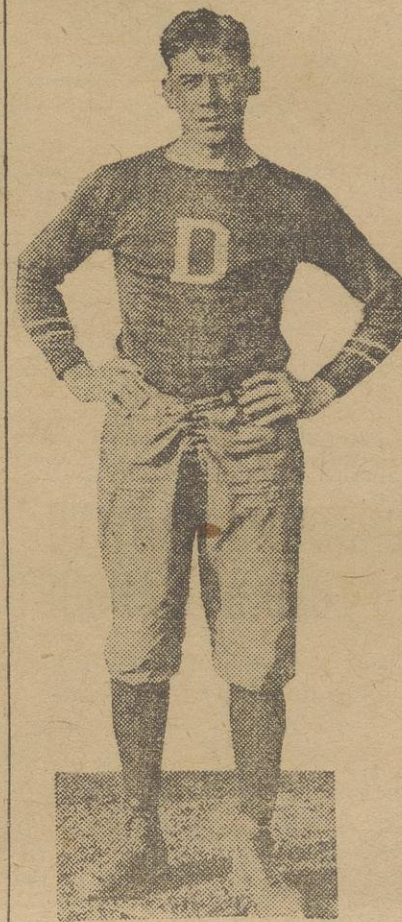

Coach Sundt is recommending 24 men and three managers to the athletic board for class numerals. They are Captain Edward Crowfoot, Paul Curtis, Donald Cameron, Richard Clement, Paul Campbell, facts on this score and remedy the trouble.

We believe that this represents, too, the consensus of the students and alumni who are close to the team and coach.

Keep Ryan, back him and work for a real football team in 1925!

We Want Ryan!

The Daily Cardinal favors the retention of Ryan as head football coach, urging that he be given full authority over the team. Singing of a competent assistant coach is recommended.

Walter Ambrose, Ray Bartlett, William Boma, Earl Burbridge, Parvin Eves, James DeHaven, Mike Kresky, H. Kuehlthau, M. Masters, E. Powers, E. Muenzberg, B. Feddersen, William Weathers, John Wilson, Victor Vrobel, Harold Van Horne, Adolph VaSalle, Einer Christianson, and Norman Wigdale. Manager H. Denmon will be recommended for numerals and a sweater while Managers Baker and Pinems will be recommended for class numerals.

ANNUAL TURKEY
DAY FIELD RUNJohn Paine Wins Goose;
Klevay, in Third, Takes
Duck; Time is Fast

Richard McKee, star member of the frosh harrier team, won the annual turkey day race held yesterday, by a large lead in the fast time of 12:35. This bettered the record made by Kubly, diminutive flash on this year's varsity team, who won the race last year in 12.49.

John Paine was awarded a fat goose as a result of winning second place. Klevay won third place and a duck, Ballman was fourth and gets a rooster, while Clark took fifth place and a hen. Paine also bettered the time which won first place last year.

Jackman Gets Egg.

Much to the disappointment of the spectators, the honor of winning the egg was not hotly contested. Bill Jackman, varsity cross country manager, entered the race at the last minute and had things his own way in the race for the hen fruit. Jackman displayed great gameness and perseverance in finishing the race. Last year the traditional egg was won by Hochberg, a frosh harrier.

One of the smallest fields ever to run in a turkey race started out over the course. It seemed like a family affair as only 14 men competed.

After the race the winners decided to pursue the policy of last year's conquerors and a banquet will be given to both varsity and frosh cross country squads Saturday night at the university Y. M.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDCAPABLE MATERIAL
POINTS TO WINNING
1925 GRIDIRON TEAM

Badger Backfield, With Exception of Jack Harris, Will Remain Intact

Prospects for a successful grid team in 1925 seem exceptionally bright, considering the material from this year's varsity combined with the many good players who will come up from the freshman squad. If Oscar Teckemeyer returns, only three regulars from this year's team will be lost.

This will leave the backfield, with the exception of Harris, intact. There will be Larson, the two Harmons, Stangel, Leitt, McAndrews, McGiveran, and Barnum to form next year's backfield. In addition to these there will be Eddie Crowfoot, Tappert, Masters, Vrobel, Van Horne, Curtis and Wigdale from the freshman squad.

Ryan Faces Problem.

Ryan's problem next year in the backfield will be one of selecting the most valuable players, rather than one of lack of players. In the place kicking department will be Larson, Leitt, and Doyle Harmon. Stangel and Leo Harmon are two good punters. Larson, Doyle Harmon, and Crowfoot are good quarterbacks.

Masters and Vrobel are two of the fastest backs, with the exception of McAndrews and McGiveran, who have raced across Randall field for many a year. Van Horne is an excellent passer, and the combination of Van Horne to Crowfoot should gain renown in Big Ten circles in years to come.

Teckemeyer at Center.

Ryan will have Polaski and Burrus back at end, with Long, Bokhuber, Solbraa, and Blackman from the varsity squad. Cameron, Bartlett, Kreske, and Christianson from the yearling squad will bid for places as wingmen.

With Teckemeyer back at center, there will be Wilke, Bonini, and Kuelthau. Ryan will have good material for the other line positions, including Muegge, Stipek, Straubel, Slaughter, Sauger, Kasiska, Schwarze, Nelson, McMasters, plus Boma, Feddersen, Muenzberg, Ambrose and Weathers.

Reserve power has been counted as important by most football coaches. Ryan will have substitutes aplenty, in addition to the well-seasoned players of this season.

GRANGE ELECTED TO LEAD ILLINI

Fred Henderson is Chosen Captain of 1925 Chicago Grid Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 26.—Harold Grange, famous Illini halfback, was chosen captain of his team for 1925. The election was held Monday at the annual dinner to the football squad, tendered by the Rotary club of this city.

"Red," whose fame as the outstanding player of the year in the Big Ten conference has traveled the country over, spoke briefly at the dinner to express his appreciation of the honor.

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—The captain of the Maroon gridgers for the 1925 season will be Fred (Bub) Henderson, who has starred as a tackle on Chicago teams for the past two years.

Just before his election Monday, Henderson received his "C" along with 23 other grid men. When a freshman, he won his numerals in football.

The captain-elect, whose home is in Butte, Mont., attended St. John's Military academy, preparatory to entering the University of Chicago. He is possessed of excellent football knowledge, weighs over 200 pounds, and has a quiet friendly manner.

HOCKEY ASPIRANTS WILL MEET TODAY

A meeting of all hockey players who intend to try out for either varsity or freshman hockey teams will be held in the trophy room of the gymnasium at 12:45 o'clock this noon. Bob Earle '26, hockey manager, urges all men interested to be present.

So It Seems

Wisconsin will probably suffer the least in football from graduation of all Big Ten universities this year. Captain Harris, Miller, and Bieberstein played their last game for the Cardinal against Chicago.

Minnesota is said to lose eleven men, Chicago loses six, Iowa loses Captain Parkin among others, Illinois loses several of its best men, and the other teams will suffer similar losses.

Clarence Barofsky, who was one of the outstanding men on the 1923 freshman football eleven, is planning to return to Wisconsin in February, overthrowing rumors that he is to enter Notre Dame. Barofsky's appearance in Cardinal colors next fall will mean that the Badgers have additional strength in clever broken field running, punting and passing, and a player of proven generalship at quarterback.

Directors of the Madison chapter of the "W" club adopted a number of resolutions concerning the university athletic situation, which were to be presented to the athletic council at its meeting last night, according to E. J. Samp, secretary of the organization.

The chief discussion at the council meeting last night was over a tentative schedule for 1925, as near as could be learned. It is possible that there will be five conference games on the Badger schedule next year. The coaches meet at Chicago December 5 and 6 to arrange the schedule definitely.

elected captain to lead the 1925 grid team. He has been picked on many all-conference honor teams as center. Next year will be his last in football.

NO BIG CHANGE
IN GRID SCHEDULE
FOR NEXT SEASON

Definite Opponents Will Be Picked at Coach Conference in December

Unless the unforeseen and the unexpected happens, Wisconsin will meet on the football field next year practically the same teams that faced the Cardinal this year. Although no definite schedule will be drawn up until the December 5 and 6 meetings of the conference coaches and athletic directors, Thomas E. Jones, athletics directors, recently denied that any important changes in the schedule were being contemplated.

Ames is practically the only team that probably can definitely be said to be on the Badger's preliminary schedule. Marquette is clamoring for a game, but according to Mr. Jones a Marquette game is highly improbable. Coe college is a likely choice due to their exceptional showing against the Badgers this year. There is also some agitation to have the Badgers face a state college in one of the preliminary games, but as the minor games are arranged after the Big Ten schedule is completed, there can be no certainty about any of the early season opponents.

Ames Likely Opponent.

It is quite possible that one of the weaker conference teams will find a place on the schedule for next year, as this year's bill was one of the heaviest ever carried by a conference team. Either Northwestern, Purdue, or Indiana, all of whom have met the Badgers in past years, may face the Cardinal again next year. According to statements emanating from South Bend, Notre Dame will again face the Badgers, probably at Randall. Chicago will undoubtedly be met, and although the Maroons are due to visit Madison, the two teams will probably meet at Chicago. Iowa and Minnesota are due to be met on foreign fields, the latter school for perhaps two years straight.

In the event that Michigan and Wisconsin should not meet next year, the Cardinal would have to pick a homecoming opponent from the ranks of Ohio State, Purdue, Northwestern, Illinois, and Indiana, the first and fourth of which being highly unlikely selections. The possibilities of an intersectional game are likewise remote, as the athletic department has at no time indicated that such a game was being considered, although in the past Wisconsin has met Yale in an intersectional game in the days of Pat O'Dea.

Sportive Rambles
in Aphasia
By KEN COOK

Having nothing to do I dropped down to Chicago the other day. There seemed to be a lot of excitement around the loop, about as much as is caused by the arrival of the ice man at an Eskimo's back door. Inquiry revealed that there was a football game out on the outskirts of town.

Some of the school boys were expected to play a football game with others from up in the northern wilds (Wisconsin) where they have a school of hire education. Hire education because you have to pay for it. So I boarded a subway, (what are you snickering about, they have subways in Chicago, don't they?)

Negotiating the mudhole at gate six I was handed from one usher to another and was finally thrown out because they had torn off my ticket looking it over. However, I bribed a cop to let me wear his uniform and walked in with the band. I didn't have any instrument so they took me for the director.

As it turned out the game only lasted two hours so I didn't pay much attention to it. One thing I did notice. There was a fellow out on the field dressed up for a yacht party, white pants and everything. This bird had a gun which he was polite enough to keep hidden until about half of the game was over. Then he whips it out and shoots it towards the teams. They were wise and didn't take any chances with this bird and beat it off the field in a hurry. Why the cops didn't rush out and arrest this bird is more than I can tell you.

After a while the scare passed over and the teams came out on the field again. When they got started playing once more I discovered this white-shirted gunman down at one corner of the field where nobody could see him. I hollered at the cops about him. One of them came up and looked in my hip pocket but beat it without doing anything about this guy with the gun.

Well, I knew darn well that something was going to happen with that guy standing down there with a gun in his pocket and wearing white pants and shirt on a day like that. This loony probably thought that the teams were playing with his ball. Pretty soon he looks at his watch and decides he'd better get his ball pretty quick or he'll be late for supper. Out comes the gun and the guy shoots it. And again the teams take the hint and beat it quick, one of the big fellows taking the ball with him. There being no dead men left writhing on the ground I conclude that this bird is a pretty poor shot.

He starts after the guys that he thinks have got his ball. However, the crowd now gets wise and all beat it quick. When I arrive outside the gate I wished I had stayed

ARE CHOSEN BY COACH HITCHCOCK

Two Capable Men Available For Each Weight Division; Outlook Bright

The tentative varsity wrestling squad was announced yesterday by Coach G. Hitchcock, who has been training the men since November 1. Most of the men from last year's varsity squad are included, along with several men from last season's frosh team who have shown possibilities in their workouts this fall.

"I will have two good men in almost every division," Hitchcock said yesterday. "This will make substitution possible in case of injuries to any of the men."

Stipek on Squad.

With the football season over, Raymond Stipek '25, has started practice in the heavyweight division. He wrestled in the light-heavyweight class last year, but Hitchcock is planning to use him in the heavier class with Adolph Bieberstein '25, another football man who had won two "W's" in wrestling.

In the 175-pound division, Walter Muegge '27, and Max Brackett '26, were selected by the coach and he expects them to hold their own with any men in the conference although they lack experience.

Feel Loss of Holmes.

Harvey Chada '26, who took Bieberstein's place in the conference last year while the heavyweight was injured, and William Splees '27, who did creditable work on the frosh squad last year, were chosen for the 158-pound class.

The 145-pound division has a "W" man, Lyle Zodtner '26, as the most probable competitor, although Carter Harrison '26, will push him hard for the final choice. Zodtner won three and lost one dual meet last year.

Because of the ineligibility of Capt. Robert Holmes '25, the 135-pound class has lost an experienced wrestler. Three men are working hard for the position and are in good condition. These men are Robert Wheeler '26, William O'Laughlen '27, and Ivan Branham '27.

The 125-pound division will probably be taken care of by Withworth, who won a "wWt" in his first year of varsity wrestling last season. David Minkow '27, and Randall Elmer '26, will compete in the featherweight class with Minkow probably having the first call.

inside and taken my chances on getting shot.

Hereafter, I suggest that they keep gunmen out of the football games. That's Chicago for you, though.

FOR A CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP

As has been said before in these columns, the friends of Wisconsin as well as the part of the university world in general which is interested in athletics, are wondering what the university is going to do about the football situation here, what measures it is going to take to make it possible for the Wisconsin team to be at the other end of the percentage column. The Daily Cardinal has asked students to send in communications on the matter. Perhaps the fact that the editor's mail box has not been exactly full to overflowing with communications indicates that there really is not a great deal of student interest in the question. Nevertheless, this conclusion does not necessarily follow, and we trust that it does not.

At any rate, the Daily Cardinal has determined upon the course which it believes in all good faith should and must be pursued if Wisconsin is going to extricate itself from the cellar position in 1925. It believes, furthermore, that the majority of the alumni and not a few of the students will agree with the policy which this paper has hit upon. Albeit the alumni and students may not have investigated the situation very deeply.

It is common knowledge that of this year's backfield men, only one had ever played football for the university before. It is common knowledge that because of injuries the line was sadly depleted, especially in the wing positions. It can not be gainsaid that the coach had physical difficulties aplenty.

A week ago, the Daily Cardinal published an indorsement of Coach Jack Ryan. Today the Daily Cardinal repeats that indorsement. It believes in Coach Ryan, is confident that next year, with the abundance of W material which he will have, he will put out a team which will win. He is an experienced coach, he knows Wisconsin, he knows his material. If he is allowed or forced to leave, it will be practically impossible to secure another man to come to Wisconsin where he knows that he will be fired with little ceremony if he does not come across with the goods the first crack out of the box. There are not many real coaches in the country who are clamoring for new positions. The task of securing a man to fill John Richards' place was no easy one.

It is no extraordinary saying that "too many cooks spoil the soup." Every organization must have a head which has the final say in every policy. If three or four different persons were organized to do the work of the president of the United States, this country would be in a sorry position. The more members of the senate there are, the more haggling there is and the senate operates as it was intended to operate, only with too great efficiency, as a check. Many people have come to the conclusion that Coach Ryan has been given the position of head coach nominally and not actually, in the belief that such is the case. The Daily Cardinal suggests that an investigation be held, preferably by the board of regents, to investigate and ascertain whether Coach Ryan has had free and final and absolute control and to see to it that in the future he be given such control.

Thirdly, the Daily Cardinal believes that a first class line coach be secured to assist in the work, but in accordance to the second suggestion, to assist and be under the directions of the head coach not with equal control. The loss of two of the best linemen Wisconsin has seen will be felt keenly next year. While the line has been excellent this year, it has not had a first rate coach.

BUILD THAT UNION NOW

There is not a student or an alumnus who for one reason or another does not wish that Wisconsin had a union building now or that it would start building one immediately. There are all sorts of reasons advanced for the construction of the building, most of which were advanced originally by the solicitors in their drives for funds.

But every time an artist or dramatic company performs at the university the need for a union building with an adequate theater or auditorium comes home with real force to the members of the audience. Monday night Albert Spalding played in the stock pavilion. Yes, laugh; that's right. Except that it was not a laughing matter, despite the fact that it was a joke. If you were a member of that audience you know how cold the auditorium was, how absolutely inadequate in other ways also. The artist himself had a cold and it is rather doubtful that he will ever consent to appear in the stock pavilion again.

Last week the Flonzaley quartet played in Music hall. Music hall is the only auditorium on the campus of its size which is at all adequate for such a performance. But it is certainly inadequate. The stage can not be seen from any row in the balcony but the second and can be seen only with difficulty from the rear of the room. Last summer a players' company tried to do something in Music hall. Their efforts were in vain. With such a stage the best company would have difficulty.

Wisconsin needs an auditorium. The union building is planned to have two, one large and one small and both fitted in first class style for such performances as we have on the campus. We need a union building now for many reasons, but we certainly need it to supply adequate auditoriums for dramatic and artistic attractions.

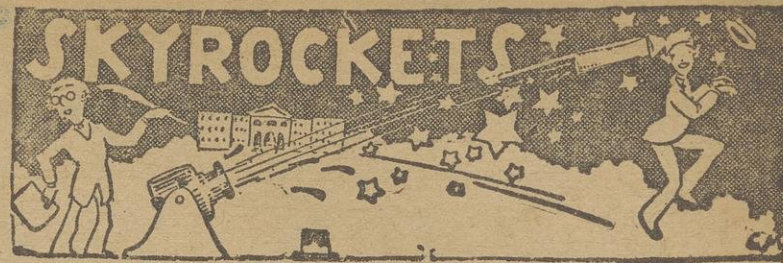

It might be a good idea to have solicitors stand at the door of an auditorium where an attraction is being held and take in donations to the building fund at the close of the performance. Members of an audience, with the impossibilities of our present auditoriums fresh in their minds, would be extremely sympathetic at such times and probably just as generous.

FOLLOWIG THE BALL

The Daily Cardinal followed the ball last weekend, much to the delight of many football fans and Badgers who were on hand in the Windy City for the final game of the season. Copies were given to 700 Badgers Saturday morning and afternoon and were probably read by many more than that number. These 700 copies of the Saturday morning issue were taken down to Chicago on the early train and the first ones were given out a little after 9 o'clock when the train arrived.

One alumnus who had not seen the paper since his university days many years ago almost jumped for joy when he was given one. A student picked one up from the sidewalk on the corner of Clark and Madison streets Saturday morning and read the latest campus news. Those papers which were not distributed at the various hotels where Wisconsin people were numerous were given out at Stagg field during the game.

The Daily Cardinal tried to follow the ball. Yet some have wondered why so few papers as 700 were distributed, have even said they believed the paper was trying to save money by not having more papers on hand. But necessity and not stinginess must be the explanation. One man carried the papers to Chicago. The 700 copies made a heavy and cumbersome bundle as it was, and it would have been impossible for him to have carried any more. Had there been any other way to transport the papers to Chicago several thousand would have been distributed.

THIS SOUNDS LIKE DICK BEL-LACK.

Dear Skyrockets:

The American Magazine has refused the story of How I Made My Life a Success, so I am sending it to you.

At an early age I began to get a prominent bald spot so I decided to become a barber. During the long waits between customers I used to waste my time playing checkers but since the newspapers have been printing cross-word puzzles I have been trying to figure them out. My vocabulary has been so enriched and my general knowledge increased by these exercises that I am now the most popular orator and after dinner speaker in our city. I have spoken at as many as two banquets in the same month. As they rarely ask me to pay for my meals on such occasions you can see that it is quite a saving. I hope soon to be able to pay the tailor for the dress suit I was forced to buy. I am unmarried.

Sincerely yours,
K. van Ess.

ROCKETS STAFF EATS!

The annual hash-crowding contest of the Daily Cardinal staff was staged at the Hotel Monona last eve. At the ringside were Methuselah, Jay, and Tramissene.

Proceeding the editor, whose name we are not permitted to divulge, the rockets chief rose in a roar of applause (other staff members appearing in evening clothes), daintily waving a chicken wing in his left hand, thus giving Jay a momentary corner on the celery.

"My first appearance in journalism," said the rockets, where he was interrupted by salvos of cheers. "My first appearance," he continued, but the cheers also continued, the paid hirelings of the business manager finally succeeding in their dastardly plan to prevent a statement by the rockets.

Other important events included an announcement of a Cardinal sleigh ride this winter, to be run off in relays, as long as the snow and sleighs hold out. The society staff prayed for a long winter, having been promised a date for the occasion with the sport assistants.

After dinner mints were served amid great crunching and delight. A groan from under the table broke up the banquet; the celery supply had been exhausted!

Applicants Received According to Singing Ability and Music Interpretation

Exactly 31 new members have been admitted to the Girls' Glee club this semester, making a somewhat larger total than usual, according to Esther Nelson '25, president of the club.

"We have no maximum or minimum limit," said Miss Nelson, "we restrict the numbers in the club only so as to keep the parts balanced. Applicants are admitted on the basis of a four-fold test, the excellence of their tone quality, their range, their ability to read at sight, and their aural accuracy. The selection committee is made up of members of the university faculty who listen to the tryouts from behind a screen in order to avoid being influenced by any personal likes or dislikes. All women students in the university are eligible except first semester freshmen. The tryouts take place the second or third week after school begins.

Commerce Mag Has Varied Features in Second Issue

By A. H.

Neatness and compactness are the outstanding elements in the make-up of the second issue of the Commerce magazine which makes its appearance today. The cover, and in fact, the whole magazine, seems to carry out the ideas of neatness and conciseness.

Dr. Alfred P. Haake, a graduate of the Course in Commerce and formerly professor in business administration here, is one of the chief contributors to this issue. His article, "The Field of Market Research," tells of his personal experiences in his work.

"The A B C of Group Insurance," an article by Eldridge Haynes, Metropolitan Life Insurance company, explains and defines the various kinds of group insurance.

Among the students who contributed to this issue of the magazine are John R. Davenport '25 and Edwin H. Rapp '27. "Education in Dollars and Cents," an article printed through the courtesy of the Boston university, gives the comparative statistics of the earnings of the untrained man, the high school graduate and the college graduate.

Portrait Painting Shows Spiritual Evolution—Hagen

"The history of portrait painting in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries shows the evolution of spiritual life and the destruction of mere external appearances," said Prof. Oskar Hagen in an address delivered before the A. A. U. W. yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the city library.

Psychological traits are brought out by the artists of the seventeenth century in contrast to the merely physical studies of outward appearances in the works of artists of the previous centuries, said Professor Hagen.

Durer, Holbein, Van Eyck, and Rembrandt, were discussed by Professor Hagen in his talk which he illustrated with slides. After the lecture coffee was served in the university library quarters on the upper floor of the city library building.

A., and sanctioned by a joint committee consisting of representatives from both organizations.

The Tri-Quan club for freshmen and sophomore high school boys which has been organized at the Central and Wisconsin high schools, has taken out club membership in the Y. M. C. A. ## LANTERN SLIDES SHOW STUDENTS GERMAN ART

The German department has a collection of several hundred lantern slides of Germany, of historical and artistic interest. As a class in German reaches a point where slide illustrations can be used the instructor proceeds to show them. The slides consist chiefly of important cities, cathedrals, town halls, medieval castles, and selections from paintings of famous German artists. Albrecht Durer, Holbein, Gruenwald, Boecklin, Fieberbach and Liebermann are a few of the best known artists whose paintings are kept by the German department. The idea of the slides is to make the students interested in their subject and to give practical application and illustrations to what they are learning.

That First Thanksgiving

FIFTY-ONE stern, armed men and four homesick Pilgrim women as hosts to ninety savages in gorgeous holiday paint!

How picturesque our forbears' first Thanksgiving!

With forty-six of their original number dead, with bitter memories of months of terror, of whooping red men, and "wolves that sat on their tails and grinned"—these Pilgrims tried to forget hardship in feasting, and they gave thanks to God for the gifts that nature provided.

What thanks would they have given if they could have had a Windsor Room — minus the hardship and red men—a Windsor Room with its delicious foods for their hall of feasts!

But that first Thanksgiving was 300 years ago—and the Pilgrims are gone—and the Indians are gone—and the Windsor Room will be host to hundreds of Wisconsin students on Thanksgiving Day—tomorrow.

Already the pungent odors of plum puddings and bliss-giving pumpkin pies are making folks stop and sniff in anticipation. Already scores of turkeys are being basted and stuffed with pungent sage dressing—Preparations for Wisconsin's Thanksgiving!

YOU ARE INVITED!

You are invited to come to the Thanksgiving dinner at the Windsor Room. There'll be Pumpkin Pies with whipped cream, and Cranberry Sauce, and real Roast Turkey!

NEW GROUP FOR WOMEN PROPOSED

Possibility of Sorority Scholarship Cup For Promoting Better Averages

The advisability of forming a new inter-sorority organization was discussed at the meeting of pan-Hellenic Monday afternoon. Jane Pier-son '26, president of pan-Hellenic, led the discussion which resulted in a motion that each representative carry the idea back to her sorority for approval.

The purpose of such an organization would be to make for a closer co-operation between sorority and non-sorority women. A tangible means for doing this would be the giving of various functions, such as teas or dances, at which unorganized women as well as sorority women would act as hostesses. The membership of the organization, however, like the men's Skull and Crescent, would consist only of representatives from each sorority.

Alice S. Miller, assistant dean of women and adviser of the pan-Hellenic society, presented graphs and charts showing the various sorority ratings during the past years, emphasizing the apparent great variation of scholarship of the different sororities from year to year, and asking for constructive suggestions to aid in establishing the scholarship rating.

"The great variation," said Miss Miller, "is greater than the variation of the personnel of the chapters." The possibility of a sorority scholarship cup to stimulate greater effort for scholarship among the different sororities was discussed, and plans were made to act upon the suggestion at the next meeting.

Purnell Hits Bumpy Road For Union Vodvil Material

Dogged persistence and willingness to do all the odd jobs from calling the leading lady's car to fitting shoes for the chorus are necessary qualifications for a would-be theatrical producer, if one may judge by the experiences of William Purnell '22, producer of Union Vodvil.

"Who are you anyway?" the inquiring reporter inquired. "What are your qualifications for managing this big Union Vodvil production?"

"Well, you see it's this way." "Bill" teetered against the wall on two chair legs and waved his cigarette. "I spent the first part of last summer in Chicago helping in the production of five plays given by the Jewel Tea company at Cohen's opera house.

"When that was over I went to New York with a letter of introduction to Alexander Leftwich, casting director of the Shuberts.

"I was thrown out of the office several times by the underlings, but I hung around until I finally nabbed him and made him talk to me. He was glad to have a university man help him, but of course he knew nothing of my ability and told me I'd have to do anything that came up.

"He's one of the finest men I've ever met. Part Russian and part English, he landed in this country with a wife and baby and $7. Now he's at the top.

"I did everything they could find for me. I fit shoes for the chorus, called the leading lady's car, read the parts of people who were absent from rehearsals, took calls and telegraphs for the Shuberts, ran errands for Al Jolson and made myself generally useful.

"One of the funniest experiences I ever had was in the play 'Madame Flirt.' The copyright had run out and to protect it we had to give a public performance. It was presented before an audience of three, two ushers and the candy boy. Mrs. Joseph Schildkraut had the leading role and I took three different parts. We had a fine review in the papers next morning, my name appearing as Sam Ash, a well known actor, who wasn't in it at all.

"I saw every big revue and play in the city and picked up a lot of ideas for scenic and production effects which I'm incorporating into Union Vodvil. I'm treating the amateurs just like professionals. They are subject to the same rigid rules.

"The 'Miracle' is by far the finest production that has ever been put on. I saw my favorite parts at least ten times, hiding behind the scenes.

"The best experience in this production business is to put on a whole show by yourself. I could hang around Broadway twenty years and perhaps never get such a chance. That is one reason why I'm here now. When Vodvil is over I'm going back to New York again and join the battle and the bread line.

HIGH SCHOOL SPEECH CONTEST TO BE HERE

Tells Educational Clubs That Mental Rigidity Must Be Overcome

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—That partisanship and prejudice are the chief barriers to individual and national welfare was asserted by Prof. M. V. O'Shea, in an address today before the convention of Federated Educational clubs, meeting in the Morrison hotel.

Prof. O'Shea made experiments on his audience which showed how mental set determined what he would see and believe. "The chief difficulty is to prevent individuals from getting set too early or in respect to matters that are not of enduring value. When an individual's mental set becomes established, it is about as impossible to change it as to change the form of the head or the length of his arm," Professor O'Shea said.

With the typical individual most of his mental activity is concerned with trying to make everything fit into his prejudices.

"The greatest thing that can be accomplished in education is to keep youth plastic as long as possible and prevent the establishment of a mental set or prejudice or partisanship. The longer one's mind is mobile and plastic, the less danger that he will contract narrow prejudices. It is uniformly true that people who lose their plasticity earliest are least capable of seeing anything as it is. Everything is colored so as to agree with their prejudices."

"PROMISE" WILL NOT BE HEARD AT VODVIL

Contrary to a statement made in yesterday's article announcing the Union Vodvil program, the presentation of the song "Promise" as sung by Topsy and Eva will not be given its first hearing in Madison. However, two other songs to be sung will be introduced for the first time.

CORRECTION.

MADISON MAY GET CAR FARE RAISE

Eight Cent Fare Proposed For Street Railways to Meet Costs

Madison may soon have an 8 cent street car fare.

At the conference of representatives of the Madison Railways Co., the city, and the railroad commission held at the railroad commission offices yesterday afternoon, it was stated that an 8 cent cash fare and a token fare based on seven tokens for 50 cents would be necessary to carry out the construction and improvement program desired by the railroad commission for the city of Madison in the next ten years.

C. M. Larson, chief engineer of the railroad commission, presided at the conference. The street car company was represented by Attorney E. J. B. Schubring, Warren Montgomery, Dudley Montgomery, and J. S. Allen. The city was represented by Mayor Kittleson, Alderman J. H. Brown and Alderman Woodward.

"The Madison Railways Co. is not making the improvements and extension which the railroad commission feels the city of Madison is entitled to," said Mr. Larson. "The local street car company is not making the same progress that is being made in other cities of Madison's size. The railroad commission is anxious to have the street car company begin work on the program that has been laid out by the commission."

It was stated that the improvements and extensions which have been laid out by the railroad commission for the next ten years will approximate $700,000. Dudley Montgomery stated that the only way by which the company could obtain the funds to carry out these improvements of $70,000 a year would be through increased fares. It was estimated that an 8 cent cash fare and 7 fares for fifty cents would be necessary to produce the additional $70,000 a year. Mr. Montgomery pointed out that the audit completed by the railroad commission for the year ending August, 1924, showed that the company had earnings of $36,000 available for depreciation and profit.

Mayor Kittleson contended that if there is to be an increased fare it should come largely on the cash fares, the occasional users of street cars, and not upon those who are compelled to use the street cars regularly. The mayor also contended that the company should continue to sell tokens on a half dollar basis rather than on the dollar basis because the larger amount would be a hardship on many people.

After a lengthy discussion it was

May Make C. H. S. Into Vocational School Next Year

Enlargement of the Madison vocational school through use of the Central high school building and entire elimination of the latter for high school purposes may be acted on in the near future, according to a report submitted to the vocational board of education Monday night by Paul H. Graven, director.

The report showed that the enrollment at the school in day and night classes has reached 2,256 pupils, crowding the institution to capacity. No space is available for the installation of additional courses, Mr. Graven said.

Contracts for the equipment of the new electrical department were awarded. Electrical supplies will be furnished by the Wisconsin Foundry Co., on its contract of $635. The Central Electric Co., Milwaukee, was awarded the contract for electrical equipment on its bid of $680. Wolff, Kubly, and Hirsig, Madison, will deliver the hand tools on its contract price of $313.

"I Want What Every Woman Wants—A Man," Says Jane Burr, Noted Writer

JANE
BURR

"I cannot find my man. I am alone," is the plaint of Jane Burr, the writer and novelist who is generally accepted as America's great authority on questions of love, marriage and emotional life.
Her two unsuccessful marriages and her subsequent trial marriages are described in detail by Miss Burr, in December Hearst's International, as the basis for her conclusions on the question of mating.
"The soul-hunger of the intellectual woman of America is the soul-hunger of the intellectual woman everywhere," says Miss Burr. "We want intelligent, dependable men who are adjusted to the world. There are thousands of just such men in America, but women of my type rarely have the chance to meet them."

BOARD IN FAVOR OF SEWAGE PLANT

Make Recommendation in Report Which Goes to Council

Plans and specifications for the new Nine Spring Sewage disposal plant have been approved by the state board of health and returned to the city on condition that several recommendations be observed in the operation of the plant in future. The report with its recommendations will be presented to the common council Friday night.

C. M. Baker, state sanitary engineer of the state board of health, inspected the plans and recommended that the city observe the suggestions made which include quarterly reports to the state department. Dr. C. A. Harper, state health officer, signed the report.

Recommendations of the state department for future operation of the plant when it is completed follows:

1. That detailed plans be consistent with the preliminary plans and that they be submitted to the state department for approval before actual construction is completed.

2. That a competent person be placed in charge of the plant and that it be continuously operated.

3. That regular reports in regard to the operation of the plant be submitted to the state board on approved forms four times each year.

4. That a study be made of the sewer system of Madison with a view of eliminating as far as practical storm water that at present finds its way into the system. Bypasses should be kept under lock and key and if possible storm water overflows should be eliminated.

The state board of health also reserves the right to order changes and additions to the plant if conditions make it necessary. The city is given two years in which to begin actual construction of the plant. Should the work not be started in this period the approval of the plans and recommendations will be declared void.

Don't forget the 5-lbs. to the sorority when she takes the frat pin

NOBODY knows where the old custom originated of sending a five-pounder to her sorority sisters, when she shyly took the frat-pin. Probably it was some medieval consolation prize. Perhaps a sultan's idea to prevent dissension in the harem. Who knows? Scholars are baffled. But the quaint obligation persists.

But the next time you "lend" your bejewelled pin remember!—Obey that impulse—make your five-pounder Johnston's—and watch your stock go up!

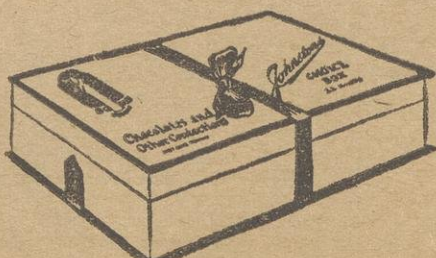

These gentlemen will be pleased to cooperate. They know the addresses of all leading Sorority Houses:
