PRESS CLUB TO MEET THURSDAY

Will Make Plans For Annual Picnic and New Members

All matters pertaining to past business and to plans for the remainder of the year's program of Press club will be settled at the business meeting at 7 o'clock, Thursday evening at the university Y. M. C. A.

The club is making efforts to obtain men prominent in newspaper and magazine work, among them Irvin Cobb, to speak here during the spring. The last opportunity for students interested in joining the club this year will also be announced.

Within the next two weeks the annual Press club picnic across the lake will be held at which the final group will probably be admitted to membership.

Business affairs relative to Pi Night and membership dues will be considered, and those members who have ordered Pi Night pictures will have their last opportunity to obtain them at the meeting.

4 Canoes Swamped; 9 Fall Into Lake

Nine students were spilled into the cold waters of Lake Monota on Sunday when four canoes overturned at various times during the day.

The first accident occurred just before dinner about a block from shore. Three men were in the canoe. At about 3 o'clock the second canoe tipped about a mile out in the lake opposite Bernard's boat landing. Both groups were brought to shore by Captain Isabel and the "Isabel."

The other two canoes overturned so near the shore that the occupants waded in. All of the victims were men students and none of their names were obtained.

"Canoeing is now safe as far as the lake itself is concerned. Students are warned, however, not to go out without taking life preservers along and if they are caught they will lose the privilege of canoeing," Captain Isabel said yesterday.

RELAY PLANS ARE NEAR COMPLETION

Large Entries Assure Success; Over 300 Athletes Will Compete

With the success of the Mid-West Relay meet, May 2, assured from the standpoint of a large number of entries, plans are now being completed to make the visit of over 300 prep school athletes an event that will stand out in their high school careers.

All plans of this nature are being drawn up under the direction of Leo Klingler '27, assistant general manager of the relays. Klingler's most important duty is that of housing the athletes over the week end while they are in Madison.

Letters have been sent to every fraternity on the campus asking all organizations to send the number of men and choice of teams, if any, that they will take, to Lavern Smith '27, chairman of the housing committee at B. 197. The deadline on obtaining a choice of which team a house prefers to entertain is 7 o'clock tonight. After that time teams will be assigned to a fraternity in the order which applications to house a team are received.

The entertainment work in general is being conducted by the committees working under Klingler. Every possible courtesy will be extended the preppers while in Madison and their coaches and team supporters from home towns. A luncheon is planned by Klingler for the coaches Saturday noon at the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria; visiting teams will be offered all facilities at the field house at Camp Randall; visitors will be provided with a section of seats so that cheering groups may sit together; and a committee of the leaders in campus activities will be on hand at Camp Randall to extend the athletes a welcome from the student body.

All petitions for offices in the spring election must be in Dean Goodnight's office by noon Saturday, May 2. The following positions will be filled:

Sergeant at Arms, senior class.

DELTA PI DELTA FIRE HEATS GRIDIRON PLANS

Plans for the Gridiron banquet became well-heated up Sunday night. While members of Sigma Delta Chi were holding a hot session at the Delta Pi Delta house on the coming affair, fire broke out in basement and was not discovered until smoke became noticeable in the parlor of the house. Station No. 2 responded to the alarm and extinguished the flames before any damage was done. Delta Pi Delta is now well up in the fraternity fire race, this being the second of the season, the other occurring during Christmas vacation.

Ford is Damaged in Crack-the-Whip Smash on Langdon

An automobile smashup at 3:30 o'clock last night caused a considerable proportion of the residents of the Latin quarter living along upper Landon street to turn out in full force. A Ford touring car belonging to Ted Becker '28, was being towed home, sans gas, by Bowen Smith '27, who was driving a Packard. At the curve on Langdon near Howard place the Ford was thrown around like the cracker of a whip and crashed into a Nash sedan parked at the curb. The windshield of the Ford was smashed and the front wheels completely demolished. The rear fender and the license plate of the Nash were bent slightly. Gordon Derber '28, who was riding with Becker, was cut slightly by the broken glass. The men who are members of Delta Chi fraternity were returning from a ball game at Camp Randall.

DESK EDITORS

There will be a meeting of Cardinal desk editors at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the Union building.

Students Warned Against Jay-riding

Police of the city have been notified to warn students who drive cars loaded down on mud-guards, running boards, and engines with students. The following letter received by Frank Trestle, Chief Traffic officer of Madison from an officer seems to have precipitated the action.

"I have been noticing your suggestions in the daily papers regarding traffic hints. I believe that the following suggestion ought to be put into effect. Persons should not hang on the running boards of cars two or three deep as they have been doing every day on Langdon street. There is going to be a call for the ambulance in that part of the city one of these days when someone is thrown off one of the cars going down that hill between Frances and Lake streets. One of the police officers could stop speeding on that street to good advantage."

Besides the danger to life by speeding and express wagon methods, students who own cars are depreciating the value of their speed-wagons when they permit friends to ride on the mud-guards.

SHOW PROGRAM HAS 25 EVENTS

Double and Triple Bar Jumps; Sweepstakes Event Arranged For Riders

A program of 25 events, including double and triple bar jumps and a pen jump, has been arranged for competition in the horse shows May 8, in the stock pavilion and May 9 on the lower campus by Robert Flarshein '26, chairman of the committee on field and course.

For the evening show, in which more than 50 thoroughbred mounts from stables in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois will enter, the events are three and five gaited classes for both men and women, roadster class, pony class for children under 12 years of age, and a park riding class. Belle of Spring Brook, a high school horse, will give an exhibition.

The feature event for this show is the box jump. A rider will hurdle over a 4-foot wall into an enclosure 25 feet square, continue through and hurdle over the opposite wall. On leaving the square he will turn his horse and immediately hurdle back into the square and out over a side wall.

Governor Blaine, Mayor Kittleson, and Major Brunzell have given trophies for three of the events. Prizes of $1,000 in cash and 25 silver loving cups have been offered for the winners.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR UNION BOARD MADE

Recommendations to men voters for election to the Union board were made yesterday by the present board. One junior and one sophomore are to be elected from a list of three submitted by the board. One junior and one sophomore are to be elected by voters on open petition.

The juniors recommended are Lincoln Frazier, Lloyd Gladfeier, and Otis Wiese. One of these is to be elected.

The sophomores are Herbert Allen, Calvin Koehring, and Ewart Merica. One from this list is to be chosen.

NOT MUCH EXCITEMENT HAD AT TRI DELT FIRE

A couple of hundred "fraters" and several secret co-eds were entertained yesterday noon by the sight of a crowd of Tri Deltas rushing out of their house as three fire engines clanged up Langdon street to extinguish the small blaze which had broken out on one corner of the roof. The spectators were at first disappointed, for although ladders were precariously perched on the fire escape, only chemicals were used. A loud shout of joy arose, however, when one fire man took his ax and began to attack the shingles. The blaze was put out in short order. Little damage was done.

PAXSON AWARDED PULITZER HISTORY PRIZE FOR BOOK

"History of the American Frontier" Wins $2,000 For Professor

Frederic Logan Paxson, professor of history at the university, has been awarded the annual Pulitzer prize for the best book of the year 1924 on the history of the United States with his recently published treatise on Western development, "History of the American Frontier," according to an announcement made yesterday by Prof. Nicholas Murray Butler for the school of journalism of Columbia university.

With this award which is the highest of its kind in this country, goes a cash prize of $2,000. Critics and history professors throughout the country have praised this book as one of the most comprehensive and exhaustive studies into the story of the pushing westward of the American frontier from 1763 to 1883.

Here Since 1910

Prof. Paxson has been professor of American history at the university since September, 1910, when he came here from the University of Michigan. The professor is traveling in Europe this semester on a leave of absence. At present he is in Paris. He will return to this country to take up his work for the fall term.

"Prof. Paxson ranks on the very top of the authorities on American frontier history. Prof. Turner, formerly of this university and now living in Madison, Prof. Alvord and Prof. Paxson are the leaders in this field of American historical research," said Prof. Carl Russell Fish of the history department.

Work Crystallized

In his preface to the book selected by the Pulitzer committee, Professor Paxson has crystallized his years of research on the work in the two following paragraphs:

"When I began my studies in the history of the West some 20 years ago, the state of Colorado, where I worked, still bore the imprint of the struggle of the preceding decade. The frontier was gone; and the frontiersmen there as elsewhere were adapting themselves to the new conditions."

OGG ENDS LECTURE SERIES THURSDAY

"Recent Advances in Government" Will Be Topic of Final Talk

With a survey of significant events in the affairs of government during recent years, especially those in the United States, Prof. A. Ogg, head of the political science department, will conclude the series of lecture sponsored by Phi Kappa Phi in his talk, "Recent Advances in Government," in Bascom hall Thursday night.

Professor Ogg has recently been honored by being made a member of an international committee of eight, organized to undertake more effective distribution of American scholarly publications. Because of the disorganized condition of European finances, it has been difficult for European scholars to obtain American books and periodicals and thus a committee has been appointed to facilitate the exchange of publications.

Professor Ogg's lecture will be the sixth and concluding talk of the series of addresses by various professors which have been given during the year.

The fields previously covered are medicine by Dr. A. S. Leveyhart of the Medical school, capital and labor by Prof. John R. Commons of the economics department, zoology by Prof. M. F. Guyer of the zoology department, radio communication by Prof. E. M. Terry of the physics department, and chemistry by Prof. Joseph H. Mathews, director of the Course in Chemistry.

The annual conference of university extension directors convenes Thursday at the University of Virginia. Probably no educational move is so significant as this. With more than 40 universities represented, the total enrollment of these departments reaches far into the hundreds of thousands.

Extension work is a comparatively new thing in education. Instruction by mail would have been considered impossible under the old theory of college training; even today it is considered impracticable for certain courses requiring laboratory study. Yet any system that takes in hundreds of thousands of students cannot be called impractical in any sense of the word.

Nor is the work done in an extension course any less exacting than that of the class room. True the student does not have the personal supervision of the instructor from day to day but there can be no bluffing in such a course. The student must know the subject before he can hope to undertake the final examinations.

And the results of such a system are more than gratifying. A larger proportion of those enrolling per course in the Wisconsin extension division actually complete the work than do students enrolling for a four-year high school course or a college course.

In this way, as in the class room, the laboratory, the library, and on the athletic field the University of Wisconsin moves ahead, keeping abreast of the times in its larger program.

THE SOPHOMORE SHUFFLE

Why have any more dances? Why increase the social life around here when the deans maintain that it has already neared the saturation point? Why, as the sophomores put it, "shuffle" at the party at Lathrop hall next Friday evening?

It is possible that the above questions have arisen in the minds of many students, thus accounting for the fact that to date there has not been more enthusiasm over the party. It is all right to ask the questions, but in the light of the plans and ideas of the managers of the dance, they can readily be answered. The project is worth-while, and there is every reason to believe that the dance will be "hot" enough to suit the most butterfly-like.

While it is true that there are already many dances which students may attend every week-end, many of them are not campus dances, and some of them are not even conducted for student patronage. As long as students are dancing anyway, it certainly is much better all around if they dance at their own functions. They can do it just as cheaply and have more fun at the same time! The sophomore shuffle certainly holds out enough inducements in the way of entertainment to attract even the most blasé.

The committee in charge of this dance hope by making a success of it to initiate the custom of having an annual spring informal dance sponsored by the sophomore class and open to the entire university. This changes the whole complex of the matter, and exalts the dance from a mere party to a real function. The two major social functions of the year at present are Prom and the military ball, both of which are formal and expensive. The only other party of a corresponding nature, the Haresfoot follies, is informal and has proved to be exceedingly popular and successful. The Haresfoot follies always comes in November.

The possibility of instituting a spring informal dance seems a good idea, and such a party will belong to the sophomore class just as naturally as prom does to the juniors. Michigan has a spring informal of a similar nature, and the idea has met with much approval there. Why not at Wisconsin?

If the idea is a good one, it is worth supporting.

HOCH HINDENBURG

The German spirit has not changed so much as some would have had us believe. The first popularly elected president of Germany is none other than Germany's war-time hero. In a campaign marked by much bitterness and universal interest culminating in bloodshed, Hindenburg was a remarkably poor politician. Yet despite the paucity of his speeches and some of his rather tactless utterances, he succeeded in polling a million more votes than Dr. Marx and almost as many as his two opponents together. Strange enough, the women are said to have been a potent factor in his election.

Times have changed. When Germany first chose a president the choice of Hindenburg would have been unthinkable; it would have created almost any sort of a reaction in the allied countries. Today everyone takes it calmly enough. In France it was hardly received with favor, but the French papers seem to feel that there was little choice between the candidates and that there is no occasion to become unduly pessimistic. London is quite calm. Lloyd George remarks that Hindenburg is a steady old man, that we need fear nothing radical. Washington is said to be somewhat shocked by the election. Senator Borah, as is his custom, has something to say. He does not regard the election result as "necessarily disturbing." Senator Swanson feels that "Germany is put under suspicion."

The election was full of surprises. Hindenburg carried Bavaria, the stronghold of Catholicism, while Marx carried Weimar, the home of the field marshal. The workers did not participate to the extent anticipated. It is estimated that 80 per cent of the registered electors voted, and that 10 per cent of those not voting were workers.

What will happen? The new president cannot be expected to have clear sailing, because there is a majority in parliament against him. He has announced that the ministry will remain unchanged for the present. But, on the other hand, it is apparent that Hindenburg was not drawn from his retirement for ordinary reasons. He must have been made to feel that he could accomplish something—that is, that he could effect a change and quite a radical one at that.

It has been suggested that a slow but progressive program will be adopted. The first step would be to establish ministerial dictatorship; abolish responsible government. From dictatorship to constitutional monarchy is not such a long step. Or perhaps the Napoleonic method of a life-residency may be called into being.

Whatever may be conjectured as to the results and as to the plans of the new president, his election can only be regarded as a triumph for reactionism, for monarchy, if not for militaristic nationalism.

INTEREST IN DRAMATICS

There is something rather significant in the announcement that only six seniors have so far tried out for parts in the class play. Interest in pure dramatics at Wisconsin certainly is not what it is in other Big Ten universities. The University of Iowa players have given seven plays this year to crowds averaging more than 1,000. The Wisconsin University players have perhaps given more plays but the crowds have not come near to the Iowa figure. In addition to the plays given by the players, both of the literary societies at Iowa have given plays to large audiences. Of course, Iowa has no Union Vodvil and no Haresfoot. Therein undoubtedly lies an explanation for the success of pure dramatics. But the efforts of the Wisconsin University players and all such activities deserve better support on this campus than they have had this year.

The publicity men say they are going to make an unknown girl famous. It's possible. Look what Rockets did for Hard Hearted Hannah. All you have today is print H. H. H. and the whole campus knows whom you mean.

All the girls who didn't get Haresfoot dates were out en masse at the Parkway Saturday afternoon. We counted the men who were there. The other fellow was with a girl.

Readers Say So

A PLEA FOR TENNIS COURTS
Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

As a frequent and somewhat expert tennis player, I have found that there is a great insufficiency of tennis courts. The few courts available seem to be continually filled with women, due undoubtedly, to the effect of feminine wiles on the males who give out permits.

I do not speak merely from an amateur standpoint but also as a professional, for I have won a cup in the Minnesota event at Eveleth and I assure you that the conditions here are deplorable.

It would indeed be a moral victory if Wisconsin could get more tennis courts for the better players of the university. It is impossible for a player of any merit to retain his form without practice which is impossible with the few courts on hand and the difficulty encountered in obtaining them.

Yours for more tennis courts, better players, and a bigger university!

Rotarians to Hear Concert By Men's Glee Club Today

Visiting Rotarians attending the present convention of that organization here will have the opportunity of hearing the Men's Glee club, champions of the Middle-West, in a short concert given at 10 o'clock this morning in the Luther Memorial Cathedral.

This appearance of the club marks the first of a series of informal concerts which will complete the activities of the organization for this year. The club is scheduled to sing before the Woman's club on May 1, at Mendota hospital on May 5, and in conjunction with the Memorial services on May 30.

Professor E. E. Swinney, conductor, has expressed himself as being highly pleased with the work of the organization this year, and he feels that the men have gone a long ways towards accomplishing what they set out to do—to present "Wisconsin spirit in song."

The preliminary hearing for L. P. Robinson, charged with violating the state "blue sky" law, was again continued for two weeks in superior court Saturday.

WATER SUPPLY IS REPORTED NORMALIs Now Safe For Drinking,
Officials Declare in Statement

Madison's water supply is again safe. This was the statement given out from the state hygienic laboratory this morning through Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh, city health officer.

At a conference this noon in the Madison club of the board of health members: L. A. Smith, superintendent of the water works; Dr. W. A. Stovall, director of the university hygienic laboratory; and Floyd Rath, city chemist, a common agreement was reached that the water of the city and particularly of the Knickerbocker is now safe.

The Knickerbocker well, it was decided, will be kept closed for three or more days, during which tests will be taken daily. All precautionary measures to insure the purity of the water have been taken, the conference agreed.

Though the exact cause of the original pollution is not known, it was believed that impurities from the floor of the pumping station had got into the well after it had been closed for repairs on April 13.

Dr. Brumbaugh suggested that the people of Madison continue to boil their water for the next few days for complete safety.

According to Dr. Brumbaugh, there is no date to show that the intestinal flu, reported particularly prevalent in the West end, was due to the impure water.

ter being the mixed water supply of the entire city, were tested," Dr. Brumbaugh said, "and the tests show the water to be all right again."

"Is there still need to boil the water before drinking, then, Dr. Brumbaugh," the health officer was asked.

"That is optional with the user," he replied, "but it will not be necessary."

M. S. Nichols of the state hygienic laboratory, who conducted the tests, stated today that:

"As far as I am able to determine there has been no time, after last Wednesday when there was any danger in drinking the Madison water."

The Knickerbocker well water was not allowed to enter the general water main system after that day. Water samples brought to me by Leon A. Smith, superintendent of the city water department and Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh, city health officer, from the Knickerbocker well and from the general water system, now show that the supply is free from dangerous germs.

WISCONSIN TRACK MEN OUTSTANDING AT DRAKE RELAY

Two Records Broken in Special
Events and Relay Teams
Place

BY GEORGE DENNIS

The Drake relays like the Kansas Games found the Cardinal of Wisconsin one of the outstanding all around teams competing at the mid-western classic. Breaking two of the Drake records in the special events and placing in two of the major university relays the Badger tracksters came away with their share of the honors.

Herbert Schwarze deserves a large share of the honors for his great work in the discus and shot. The big weight man has only been able to work on the discus during the three weeks of the outdoor season yet he was able to out toss the discus the best in the middle west in the old Grecian event. Although not breaking his previous record in the shot Schwarze was far superior to his nearest competitors and broke the existing Drake mark by over three feet.

East vs. West

A fourth in the two mile and third in the mile was the Wisconsin quota in the relays. Michigan's sterling two mile quartet stepped out to a new Drake record of 7:51 2-5 while the Badgers drew a third in the mile that was won by Nebraska in 3:19 4-5 which is plenty fast.

Within the past two weeks three important relays have been staged at Kansas, Drake and Penn, and a check up on the performances of the athletes from the west and middle west as compared with the eastern track stars gives the westerners an advantage in 10 of the 14 events that were held in common.

World's Records

In all of the other relays and individual events the marks made at Kansas and Drake better anything that the athletes at Penn could produce. Two world's records were made at Kansas when the Jayhawk 440 quartet stepped the distance in .42 and the Illinois half mile team turned in a new world mark of 1:27. At Drake a mark of 17:58 3-10 was made in the four mile grind that is the best of this year.

A new intercollegiate record in the shot put, a tying of the world's record in the century, a mark that betters the eastern games by 10 feet in the discus, a jump of two inches better in the high jump, a six inch advantage in the pole vault and over three feet superiority in the javelin and hop step and jump each gives the western cinderpath men a decided advantage in the special events.

These sterling performances are indicative of what may be expected when the stars of the country met in the National Collegiate A. A. championships on Stagg field June 12-13.

SENIOR COMMITTEES TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Members of the various senior class committees will meet at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Woman's building. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock, and a business meeting at which reports from chairmen of the committees will be read will follow. The meeting is for committee chairmen and all members of the committees.

Telegraphic Track Meets for Frosh Have Five Year History

Stimulate Activity For First
Year Men; Iowa Favorite
Opponent

Telegraphic track and field meets for the Badger frosh were initiated into Wisconsin athletics five years ago as an incentive and stimulant for the yearling cinder men. Freshmen telegraphic track and field meets with the first year runners of other institutions have become a permanent event in frosh track, and the enthusiasm in the wire contests has grown to an extent each year that the men bend all their efforts toward a formidable showing on the approach of such a contest.

The yearling tracksters of Iowa seem to be the favored opponents of the Wisconsin team, for the two schools have engaged in wire meets each year since they were first held. Michigan generally figures in the wire contests with the Badger frosh, and so does Minnesota and Illinois.

Iowa Wins in 1920

Iowa won the dual telegraphic meet held on May 20, 1920, with a total of 84½ points against the 55½ piled up by Wisconsin. During the 1920-21 track season the freshmen lost the interclass track and field meet to the sophomores by the narrow margin of 1-3 of a point; the score was, sophomores 41; freshmen 40 2-3. On May 19, 1921, the frosh lost to the All Americans in an exceptionally interesting meet by the count of 47 to 69. In this contest the frosh won all places, except one third position, in the several weight events.

The yearling runners went big on May 10, 1922, when they won nine first places in a wire meet with Iowa and consequently carried the contest 60½ to 47½. On April 22 of the same year the frosh lost to the varsity 95 1-6 to 39 5-6. Three freshmen carried first places; they were, Valley in the 880, Jones in the pole vault, and Donohue in the high jump.

Wisconsin Triumphs

The Iowa team was again plundered by the Cardinal runners on March 4, 1922, to the count of 55 1-6 to 34 5-6. Wisconsin scored a slam in the 880 event. Illinois barely won from the Badgers in the same season, 46 1-6 to 43 5-6. Illinois won all positions in the 440 and running broad jump, while Valley led Wisconsin's slam in the 880.

The yearlings fell far short of points in the frosh-varsity meet during the 1922-23 season, with the score at 70 to 11. On February 23, 1923, Iowa again fell prey to Wisconsin 62 to 26. According to the November 1, 1923 issue of the Daily

Lavern Smith Plans Increased Athletic Section in Badger

A bigger and better athletic section in the 1926 Badger is the result of the work of Lavern Smith '27, athletic editor. More pictures and action scenes have been added so that all will be able to get a better idea of the host activities of the Cardinal teams.

"Wisconsin's New Era in Athletics," is the theme of the whole athletic section with several pages devoted solely to the topic of Wisconsin's outlook for bigger and better athletics in the future.

Starting out with Wisconsin's triumphant performance on the Hudson at Poughkeepsie last June, the pages portray the Cardinal on gridiron, track, basketball court, ball diamond and the score of minor sports in which the men of Wisconsin compete for their alma mater against the best collegiate teams in the land.

A special feature of this year's sport section is a group of first hand action pictures of the Cardinal crew as they swept down the Hudson ahead of the crack eastern shells and beaten only by the wonder crew from Washington. The photographs were taken by one of the varsity reserves who was along on the trip.

Asked To Help Install Green Bay Gyro Club

E. H. Mueller, secretary of the Madison Gyro club has been invited to attend the installation of the new chapter.

Cardinal the freshmen played havoc in the interclass meet at Camp Randall when they scored 74 2-3 points, as against 32 1-3 by the sophomores, 28 by the juniors, and the seniors only a few points.

Frosh Beat Sophs

On December 6 of last year the frosh were beaten by the sophomores 54 1-3 to 44 2-3. Thus far this season telegraphic meets have been somewhat unpleasant for Wisconsin, with the results of defeats netted them by Iowa, 67 to 43 2-3, and Michigan, 41 1-3 to 23.

Last Saturday afternoon the freshmen runners made a remarkable showing against the varsity reserves in the annual track and field meet held at Camp Randall. The final count stood 67 to 67. The fact that the varsity reserves have followed the sport for some years, while the frosh had only one week of full-time coaching, gives the yearling Badgers a victory, figuratively speaking.

St. John's Win Astor Trophy In Rifle Tourney

DELAFIELD, Wis. — Word has been received that the St. John's Military academy rifle team has won the Col. John J. Astor cup, emblematic of the interscholastic championship of the United States. The Wisconsin cadets nosed out their closest rivals, Central High school of Washington, D. C., by fifteen points. This compensates St. John's for the loss of the N. R. A. trophy by the narrow margin of six points. To date this year, St. John's riflemen have won the state title, the corps area championship, and the Astor cup.

30 Entries In Mid-west Relays

Large Number of Competitors
Insures Successful
Meet

With the receipt yesterday of several more entries for the Mid-West relays here Saturday, the number of high schools now entered swells to approximately thirty.

The relays will be much bigger this year in every respect than they were last year, for up to date there are 325 athletes entered, which is 75 more than participated in the first similar carnival. Already two more schools have entered than last year, and about five more entries are expected, according to George Dennis '27, general chairman.

Senn High Enters

The more important of the schools whose entries were received yesterday are Nicholas Senn of Chicago, Rockford, Cedar Rapids, Cambridge, Milton Union, and North high of Milwaukee. Dennis looks for South High to have an entry in today's mail.

Saturday will be the only chance for students and townspeople to see the far famed Wisconsin two mile relay team in action. This crack relay squad will give an exhibition race, and will be composed of four of the following: Captain Vallely, Carter, Cassidy, Kennedy, Flueck, Hilberts and Hill.

Special Exhibitions

Besides this special relay exhibition, McAndrews, McGinnis, and Schwarze, three of the best men in the country in their special lines, will also give exhibitions. The trophies for the various winners of the high school relays and the special events are now on display in the University pharmacy window.

If any of the fraternities who wish to take care of a few of the high school men over the weekend have not already made their arrangements, they are urged to consult with the housing committee as soon as possible in order to avoid confusion and delay.

FRATERNITY WRESTLING FINALS ARE TONIGHT

The championship of the Interfraternity Wrestling league will be decided tonight when Phi Kappa Tau meets Farmhouse in the main attraction of the final matches at 7 o'clock on the top floor of the gymnasium.

Both teams have thus far won against all opponents, so the outcome of tonight's battles will be truly decisive in nature. As the two squads have not met previously, little can be said as to their comparative strength in regard to their individual wrestling.

The other places will be wrestled between Delta Pi Epsilon and Alpha Gamma Rho, and Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Chi. The lineup for the Farmhouse is, heavyweight, Parvin Eves; 175 pounds, Donald Cameron; 152 pounds, Carter Harrison; 145 pounds, Luther Rundell; 135 pounds, Carl Rott. Phi Kappa Tau is, heavyweight, Arthur Johnson; 175 pounds, Landon Chapman; 152 pounds, Wayne Peterson; 145 pounds, Theodore Griffey; 135 pounds, Shannon Little.

DELAFIELD—St. John's Military academy lost an interesting seven-inning practice game to Milwaukee Junior Chamber of Commerce, 2 to 0 Saturday.

WISCONSIN ATHLETES TO EXHIBIT SKILL FOR VISITING ROTARIANS

An athletic program, to be put on by members of four Wisconsin major sports teams, will be staged in connection with the Rotary club convention here next Wednesday afternoon, it was announced Saturday.

George Little, Badger director of athletics, has consented to have Cardinal football, baseball, track and crew squads perform for the Rotarians on that afternoon, and he has invited the public in general to attend.

According to present plans, a football scrimmage, a real baseball game and a track meet will be part of the afternoon's entertainment, which will close with a view of "Dad" Vail's crews in action on Lake Mendota.

The larger the crowd, the better the day, say the Rotarians, for whose special benefit the program has been arranged. They expect a large crowd of fans to flock to the historic playground to watch the athletes.

Six Crews Workout on Lake; Slowly Improving Day by Day

Dad Vail Believes That Some More Men Could Report

Despite rather unfavorable conditions for rowing, six Badger crews piled out into the lake yesterday afternoon. The men are not improving with any bursts of rowing instinct, according to Coach Dad Vail, but nevertheless they are as far advanced as he had hoped they would be at this stage of the laborious training which is now in progress before the climax of the Wisconsin crew season at Poughkeepsie.

It is not too late for more men to report for crew, as no very definite selections have been made as yet. The coaches feel that there is a great deal of very apt crew material that has never even considered for an instant its adaptability to rowing.

As a rule, it is large boney men with solid, wide shoulders and arms and legs longer than the ordinary who make the most expert rowers. In the case of the winners of the regatta last summer, the Washington team from the far west, Dad comments that practically every man on this speedy crew had the physical characteristics mentioned above.

Up to this time all the crew workouts have consisted in ordinary peaceful rowing. There have been no practice races between various varsity or freshman shells, but in the near future it is likely that some form of competition will be started.

Chairs Hand Eddie Stumpf's Sox Lacing, 17-2

SHEBOYGAN, Wis.—After defeating Eddie Stumpf's Milwaukee Red Sox Saturday by a 12 to 4 score, the Sheboygan team of the new Wisconsin State league socked home another win Sunday, when they piled up a 17 to 2 score. Bill Lathrop had the Sox at his mercy throughout the seven innings he worked, holding them to two hits and one run. The Chairs scored in every inning but two. Illinois Sends Meet Blanks To High Schools

URBANA, Ill.—Formal entry blanks for the University of Illinois' interscholastic on May 15 and 16 were mailed Saturday to 746 high schools in the state. Track, tennis, and golf are the sports in which the high school athletes will compete.

Racine Athletics Lick Beloit Fairies, 8-6

RACINE, Wis.—Racine Athletics made it three straight wins in their spring games here, taming the Beloit Fairies on Sunday in a hectic ball game, 8 to 6.

One inning, the sixth, in which Beloit scored four of its runs on a triple, base on ball and four errors, gave the Fairies their only chance of victory.

Racine hit Phillips and Dodge equally hard for eleven blows while nine safeties was the best the invaders could collect off Baxter and Gallia.

WELCOME FOR 400 MID-WEST RELAY MEN IS PLANNED

Tuhtar in Charge of Arrangements; Athletes Arrive Thursday Night

From the time that the 400 high school athletes who are entered in the second annual Mid-west relays to be held at Camp Randall May 2 arrive at Madison until the time that they leave for home, they will be in constant company with leaders in campus activities, according to Eugene Tuhtar '25, chairman of the reception committee.

"It is our intention," Tuhtar said yesterday, "to make the boys feel at home. We want to give them a real taste of Wisconsin hospitality. We want to show them as good a time as possible and to present to them the real Wisconsin, yet we do not want to be guilty of ostentatious rushing."

The committee in charge of the reception of the athletes will meet soon and complete the plans for the entertainment of the visiting trackmen.

The hundreds of high school athletes are expected to begin arriving in Madison late Thursday night. From then on until Saturday noon the trackmen will be swarming in on every train coming into Madison. They will be met at the station by students and escorted to the various fraternities at which they will stay while in Madison.

W.S.G.A. RULES QUOTED FOR SPRING WARNING

Now that spring has come with its outdoor appeal, the powers that be deem it wise to unearth the W. S. G. A. rules about motoring.

The handy little book of Information for House-Mothers has this to say: "No house organization can make itself responsible for seeing that rules concerning motoring are carried out. Each individual woman is asked to make it a point of honor not to motor unchaperoned at such times and places as may bring misunderstanding upon the student and may injure the university."

"Women must leave the lake by 10 o'clock every night of the week. Life-saving service is discontinued at that time."

Loan Fund Helps Needy Students to Complete Work

The W. S. G. A. loan fund, established in 1907 to assist university women to complete their courses, has now reached the $1,000 mark. It was recently increased by $175.

This loan fund was changed to a cash scholarship prize in 1914, for its purpose could better be fulfilled when given in this form. The annual $100 scholarship fund was placed in a permanent cooperative house fund in 1919 and has been given to Tabard inn every year. The money for this scholarship is turned over to the faculty committee on scholarships every year and is awarded by this body.

In addition to the scholarship and loan fund, W. S. G. A. decided last year to recognize high scholastic attainment in the freshman class. A silver loving cup was presented at the senior swingout to Edith Leach '27 for having the highest average last year.

GIVE BANQUET FOR JUDGE E. STEVENS

Recently Elected Justice of Supreme Court Feted By Phi Alpha Delta

To honor Judge E. Ray Stevens, recently elected justice of the state supreme court, and a member of Phi Alpha Delta, professional legal fraternity, members of the Wisconsin chapter of Phi Alpha Delta gave a banquet at the Madison club on Saturday evening. Ninety persons were present.

Undergraduates in the chapter were hosts. Prominent alumni from Milwaukee, Madison, La Crosse, Fond du Lac, and Chief Justice Vinje, Justices Owen, Rosenberry, members of Phi Alpha Delta, and Justice Burr Jones attended.

Attorney Glenn W. Stephens '16, Madison, was toastmaster, and introduced the five speakers on the program.

Congratulations were given to Judge Stevens by Robert Gollmar

L3, from the active chapter; by Attorney Paul R. Newcomb '07, Milwaukee, for the alumni of the chapter, and by Chief Justice Vinje '87, on behalf of the supreme court.

Justice Burr Jones '71, former law partner, reminisced on early associations with Judge Stevens. They were partners for eight years, and Stevens succeeded Jones on the supreme court bench.

An eagle does not worry about the number of caterpillars or field mice on the ground below him. A flying nation with the right flyers and flying machines, need not worry about the number of German, Polish or Russian or other babies born into the world. Mere numbers become less and less important, and that's fortunate for Europe and America, facing Asia's great breeding grounds.

"Charlie's Aunt"
Presented at the Orpheum
By the La Vern Players
By TED.

In speaking of the production of "Charlie's Aunt," I hardly know whether to call it a revival or a resurrection. If I am not mistaken, it was used by some of our fathers for their senior play in high school. It is so old, in fact, that most of the young people of today might never have seen it, if it had not been for someone who got it into his head that it would make a good movie.

The picture was made, and is being shown here this week. And because of this same movie, the Orpheum company decided to present the original play at the same time that the picture was being shown. The people of Madison therefore have the opportunity this week of making a direct comparison of the two forms of "Charlie's Aunt," should they so choose.

As presented by the La Vern Players, it is funny if for no other reason than that of its old-fashioned soliloquies and "asides," which can't help being heard by every one not supposed to hear them. The situation is farcical in the extreme, and could not possibly have occurred anywhere except on the stage. Still, it is laughable, and the fun is fast and sometimes furious, not to say rough—physically. Richard Allan's "delicate femininity" as Charlie's Aunt need give Byron Rivers no cause for worry. His chin sometimes takes on that same peculiar purplish hue noticeable occasionally on Haresfoot chorus ladies.

William Yule, new to the company, makes a very good Sir Francis. Messrs. Bellamy and Brown play the college students, with Misses Cluer and McPherson as their lady friends. Adele Bradford as Charlie's real aunt does her work rather quietly and rather well. Miss La Vern has only a small part.

Charley's Aunt
Featuring Sidney Chaplin
Presented at the Madison
By S. P.

Better than any comedy which has blessed Madison for months, this wildly-moving story of undergraduate love at Oxford proved last night and Sunday to be even funnier as a picture than was the original play. The picture ranks among the best this season, even if the continuity is choppy, undoubtedly due to cutting.

The story deals with two students who desire to propose to their respective loves at a luncheon to be given in their rooms. One of them has an aunt, who is expected to act as chaperon, and lend the color of propriety to the affair. But after the girls come, auntie wires that she cannot arrive in time. So in order to go on with the party, a friend is dragged in to impersonate the missing chaperon. Syd Chaplin, dressed in voluminous black silk and lace, takes the part of this friend, and the humor of the picture is entirely due to his capable acting. His rendering of this rather difficult role must rank him with Lloyd and his own brother Charley.

If you care for open, swift humor thickly-laid on, you will like "Char-

Mask and Wig
By CHATTY

It has been rumored that there are to be big and entertaining doings in the vicinity of the Latin quarter Thursday night about dinner time or thereabouts. Some of the all star performers of the university are expected to do their stuff for the pleasure of whomever desires to be pleased.

Which bring to mind the fact that every last bit of the stage settings used in "Ivan Ho" from each third of the castle pillars in the second act to the windows of the interior set, is back in the work shop on University avenue.

Margaret Anglin, who is to appear here Saturday matinee and night, last played here in "Billeted," a war piece, which gave her a great opportunity to use her famous hysterics. She is one of the best little throwers of a case of hysterics on the American stage.

Of course, all the girls will be flocking to see the erstwhile matinee idol, William Faversham.

"Foot-Loose" is a typical Zoe Akins play. If you saw Ethel Barrymore in her "Declasse," you can know just about what to expect. Something that tries to be light and at the same time heavy and succeeds indifferently.

Announcement has it that "Stepping Stones" is to close at the Illinois May 9. Which seems to indicate that "The greatest show on earth—bar none" may not have succeeded so very well.

However, Fred Stone likes to leave the public wanting more, and that may be what he is doing.

"Stepping Stones" played a year in New York and another year between Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago. An amazing report is to the effect that Stone's next show will play the same cities and then follow with a road tour.

It's a good joke on the censors who tried to put a stop to part or all of "They Knew What They Wanted" that this play was given the 1925 Pulitzer prize.

Majestic Revives
"The Rosary," Old
Fashioned Thriller

"The Rosary"
Presented at the Majestic
By the Majestic Players
By J. F. W.

"The Rosary" is the kind of play critics feel they must say nice things about, even if they don't mean them. The audience usually laughs and cries a bit during their progress, heaves a righteous sigh at the curtain, and then proceeds to forget all about it.

It is old-fashioned (the stock companies seem to have succumbed to the revival bug at the same time) and reminiscent of the glorious twenty-three days. Mr. O'Shea, who played the part of Father Kelly for a long stretch some years back, does the best work. Miss Homer's duties are exacting, for she plays two parts, and demand some quick change work; she does nobly. Hesselberg and George Wilson have difficult parts, and handle them well.

For the play we cannot say much. It is exciting and adventuresome, and provides a few thrills. It makes an appeal to practically every emotion and sympathy of which the human being is capable, but its conclusion is the old-fashioned one in which the saintly character is suddenly flooded with light from above, and a wave of transcendental wisdom overcomes him; thus the evil is exposed, and the good prevails. If you like that sort of thing, go to see "The Rosary," otherwise wait for next week's production of "Outward Bound."

Ames To Open Missouri
Valley Season Today

AMES, Ia. — Iowa State College will open its Missouri Valley baseball season against Kansas University today and Tuesday at Ames, with more strength offensively than had been anticipated earlier in the season, for although the Cyclones lost the first start against the Iowa State Teachers, Wednesday, they showed a strong defense.

In the second game on Thursday, they unleashed a bevy of blows that knocked the tutor moundman from the box and bid fair to send the relief finger to the bench.

A shower at the end of the sixth inning ended the game, however, with the Cyclones on the long end of a 6 to 1 count.

Pan-Hellenic Plans Scholarship Lunch; Will Present Cup

Plans for the Pan-Hellenic scholarship luncheon were made at the meeting held at 4:30 o'clock today in the W. S. G. A. library. The luncheon is to be given at the Lorraine hotel at 12 o'clock Saturday noonday, May 2. The invitations are issued to the two girls in each sorority which have the highest weighted average for the year. Forty-six girls are being invited to attend.

A scholarship cup will be presented at this time to the organization having the highest standing. This year it will go to the Beta Phi. When a group has won the cup three times it becomes theirs. The cup is a 16 inch silver cup and will have the name of the winner engraved upon it each year.

Discussion of a motion to place in the Dean's office the power to prevent lowering scholastic standings for initiation in the case of some one particular girl, was finally put on the table with the suggestion that those organizations which do not already make a report to national headquarters in such cases, be recommended to do so.

Pythia Debaters Prepare to Meet Rockford Friday

The Pythia debating team consisting of Elizabeth Rabinoff '27, Grace Goldsmith '25, and Eileen Blackley '25 is preparing for its meet with Rockford college on Friday, May 1. The members of the Rockford team are Helen Wilcox, Hazel Scherrard, and Linda Bernhart.

The question is the same as that used in the Pythia-Castalia debate of which Pythia was winner, namely, "Resolved, and law or portion of a law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, should be valid law if reinstated by a two-thirds vote of the next succeeding congress."

As the debate is an open forum, there will be no decision and no judge. The audience will determine the result and is given the privilege of asking any questions of the members of the teams after the arguments have been given.

himself to the life of a new country. Turner had already pointed out the significance of the frontier in our history, but the occasional historical pioneer who followed his lead must make his own tools, find his own sources and assemble his bibliographies.

"This is all changed today. The Mississippi Valley Historical Review has become the organ of the Westerners, which the sound scholarship of Alvord and his host of associates has cleared the ground. The time is ripe for this synthesis, in which an attempt is made to show the proportions of the whole story. My successors will of course do better, but none will complete his task with a firmer conviction than I possess that the frontier with its continuous influence is the most American thing in all America. In future generations we may perhaps become an amalgam of the European races and lose the advantage of a fresh continent, but we shall still possess and be shaped by a unique heritage."

Taught at Various Schools

During the war, Professor Paxson was editor of the War encyclopedia published by the Committee on Public Information and served as major in the U. S. army in charge of the economic mobilization section, historical brigade, war plan division, general staff from 1918 to 1919.

Prof. Paxson has taught in the universities of Chicago, California,

Michigan and Pennsylvania during the summer seasons. Before he came here, he taught at the University of Michigan for four years and at the University of Colorado from 1903 to 1906.

The University of Pennsylvania granted him the degree of bachelor of science in 1898. He received the master of arts degree from Harvard in 1902 and his Ph. D. from there in 1903. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

As president of the Mississippi Valley Historical association in 1917, as councillor of the American Historical association in 1920 and as vice president of the Wisconsin Historical society in 1919, Prof. Paxson has been honored by these in his own profession.
