ALUMNI PLAN BIG BANQUET IN NEW YORK

John Philip Sousa Will Attend as Guest of Honor

The greatest meeting of Wisconsin alumni anywhere in this country is planned by the New York alumni for Friday, evening, December 3, when John Philip Sousa, the noted march composer, will be guest of honor at a dinner which will be followed by a dance.

The announcement issued to New York alumni by Gerhard M. Dahl, vice-president of the Chase National bank, New York, and president of the New York alumni association, has aroused interest to such a pitch as to resemble that which is evident at Homecoming time in Madison. Elaborate preparations are being made to honor Mr. Sousa in the way he deserves.

The feat of getting Mr. Sousa to defer a hunting trip for the Wisconsin meeting is credited to Maxon F. Judell, '17, who is a warm personal friend of Mr. Sousa, and who presented the Sousa march, "Wisconsin Forward Forever," to the university.

Among the guests will be Prof. Edward Alsworth Ross, of the department of sociology, C. C. Parlin, director of research of the Saturday Evening Post, and Ralph Starr Butler, formerly of the commerce faculty, and now with the United States Rubber company.

The dinner-dance will be held at the Aldine club rooms, Fifth avenue building.

BADGER SPACE

Groups Wishing Pictures Must Make Reservations

All groups wishing pictures in the 1922 Badger are asked to see the organization manager at the Badger office immediately to make reservations for their space and sign a contract.

Allotments of space have been made for all recognized fraternities, sororities, clubs, and societies. Each organization can find out how many pages it has by consulting the organization manager of the business department. Less than the allotment may be reserved, but not more.

Appointments must be made for sittings to take place before December 15, in order to get the pictures in on time. Arrangements have been made with the following photographers for the taking of group pictures.

Carl Thomas, 26 W. Mifflin; George Schneider, 20 E. Mifflin; De Longe Studio, 525 State.

Women are requested to wear dark dresses for group pictures.

FAMOUS SCULPTOR WILL SPEAK TODAY

Lorado Taft, famous sculptor, will give a public address in 165 Bascom hall, at 4:30 p. m., today. His subject will be "French Cathedral."

Mr. Taft won medals at the Chicago exposition of 1873 and the St. Louis exposition of 1904. He is a member of the National Sculpture society and the American Federation of Arts.

His book, "The History of American Sculpture," was printed in 1903. It records the artistic development of the American nation up to the year 1904. Mr. Taft, at present, has a studio in Chicago.

OCTOPUS PROVIDES SOLACE FOR "THANKSGIVING SENIORS"

BY A. B. M.

The Lampoon is crimson with envy; the Tiger has changed his spots; the Widow has gone into deep mourning; and the Pelican has sent in his bill. All this because the Octopus is entering the field in competition with important college humor magazines, and promises to rival the best of them.

Originality is the keynote of the latest number of the Octopus which is designed to cheer up the "Thanksgiving seniors" on their doleful journey. Two ingenious flights of imagination will certainly take anyone's mind off his troubles. "Twenty Years After," a new version of the "Rip Van Winkle" legend, ends with a jolt, and leaves everyone, like the author, feeling "like fining the city for building the sidewalks so near;" and a series of thrilling pictures showing what would happen "If the Lincoln Statue Came to Life for Fifteen Minutes," absorbs our attention as Sunday supplements did when we were young.

At first glance, one receives a high idea of the Octopus from the attractive and humorous pictures. From the not exactly pretty, but very interesting frontispiece by Hub Townsend to the undeniably pretty and interesting photograph of a Mack Sennett girl laughing at the Octopus, the whole number shows not a single dull or inartistic drawing.

As for the reading matter, one can conscientiously say that one's interest does not drop once from the spicy Octopus advertisement to the beautiful Arrow Collar man on the back. Some of the jokes verge on the broad, perhaps, but all except the exchanges are original, and even those are funny. The editorials are wise, and full of "pep," and there are several good special features, such as Dean Goodnight's timely article, "Why Freshmen Leave College," the biographical sketch of Carl Russell Fish, and "Notorious Nuisances."

NOTED CHEMIST WILL SPEAK ON PATENTS TODAY

Junior and Senior Engineers Excused From Classes to Hear Lecture

Dr. Frederick G. Cottrell, director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, will speak this morning at 11 o'clock in the auditorium of the Engineering building upon "Relations of Patents to Scientific Research."

Dr. Cottrell was formerly professor of physical chemistry at the University of California, and while there he patented the process and apparatus for the electrical precipitation of dust, fumes, and mists. He assigned this patent to the Research corporation, an organization formed to take over this patent, the income of the patent to be used for chemical research.

Dr. Cottrell became physical chemist and then metallurgist of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, and early last spring he was made director of the bureau.

All junior and senior engineering students are excused from classes in technical subjects at the hour named for the purpose of attending this lecture.

The lecture will be open to the public.

SPECIAL TRAINS TO ACCOMMODATE RUSH

Special local trains to take care of the large number of students going home for Thanksgiving will leave the Northwestern station for Chicago and Milwaukee at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Regular scheduled trains leave Wednesday over the Northwestern for Chicago at 1, 1:45, and 5:40 p. m.; for Milwaukee, at 1 and 5:35 p. m.; north bound, at 1 and 9:30 p. m.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul trains leave for Chicago (from the West Madison station) at 4:10 and 6:40 p. m.; for Milwaukee (from the East Madison station) at 1:02 and 6:55 p. m.; west bound (from the West Madison station), at 5:50 and 10:25 p. m.

Illinois Central south bound train leaves Madison at 2:45 p. m.

CREW PHOTOGRAPH

The 1922 Badger is anxious to receive good action pictures of university crews of this year or last. Photographs should be left at the editor's desk in the Badger office as soon as possible.

SUNDT IS TO BE PILOT OF 1921 ELEVEN

Grid Star Has Played for Last Three Years

Guiserd M. Sundt, junior in the College of Letters and Science, was elected captain of the 1921 Wisconsin football team Saturday evening after the Badger victory over Chicago. Sundt, whose home is in Stoughton, received a unanimous vote for the captaincy, at the team banquet which was held in the Del Prado hotel.

With three years of varsity football competition behind him, and "W's" won in basketball and track besides three football letters, Sundt will take up the leadership possessing a deal of athletic experience. The stocky fullback gained a place in the 1918 S. A. T. C. team in his first year at Wisconsin and has continued to remain a potent factor in every game which the Badgers have played since that year.

After his sensational work on the S. A. T. C. team, Sundt was chosen captain of the 1919 football team, but he resigned the leadership when "Chuck" Carpenter returned to school. Last year Guy was shifted to a halfback position, and his steady line plunging and defensive playing made him the terror of the conference. Sundt was injured in the middle of the season, and as a result was unable to participate in all of the games against Big Ten teams.

Resuming his normal position of fullback, the Badger captain-elect has this season proved a tower of strength on the defense, and the best line plunger on the Wisconsin squad. His defensive work in the Minnesota game time and again prevented the Gophers from carrying the ball across, and his steady gains through the line rushed the ball down the gridiron to a position from which Davey was able to boot it over.

In addition to playing on the football squad, Sundt plays guard on the basketball team and has won his "W" as a broad jumper and weight man on the track squad. Walter Eckersall recently declared that Sundt was the greatest all-around athlete that ever played for Wisconsin.

Captain Frank L. Weston, who steps out of the captain's shoes, has played his last game after three years of Big Ten competition. "Red" earned an end position on the 1917 eleven, and he has held down the left wing for three years. Each

SENIOR SUMMARIES MUST BE IN SOON

"Seniors have till December 1 to tell the world about themselves," declares Margaret Chambers, in charge of the senior section of the Badger. "All summaries must be in by that time to be included in the section. No pictures will be used without summaries, because the list of information on the summary cards is required to make the section complete."

All seniors are supposed to have summary blanks. Circular letters containing the blanks and information about them were mailed to all those rated as seniors. Those who were overlooked on account of being listed as juniors may obtain blanks by calling at the Badger office. Others who sent their summaries in early without thesis titles may phone in their thesis titles.

CINDERS FROM THE CHICAGO SPECIAL

Willard Duncan and Dody Seaton wore out the old green plush in one car while Gordie the Fairfield cast a dejected frown into a black musty text book two cars back. What ho, Gordie?

We saw Mary Farnum board the train midst a shower of rice, but our fears were dispersed when we saw she was not the object of the Chinese National gargle.

Dorothy Frank was unable to make the trip on account of her pet rat which she had to free from its inhabitants.

Lothrop Corneilus Follett sat in the baggage car so as to be the first one in Chicago. Lothrop (or Bud as she is called) was prom chairman last year as you will remember. He voted democratic because he liked the candidate's name.

Julia Hanks, having no one to talk to but Bob Moehler, took along a book to read. By mistake she took the Rhymer's Lexicon. Now is the chance for someone to say her actions were without rhyme or reason.

Maude Flanner, who drove down in a trusty Daniels, said she never changed tires and fixed an engine on a better road in her life. We thought there was a good reason for your going, Maude.

The "Lit" advertised: Spend that idle hour on the train with reading "Lit." How could one spend an idler hour we eskew?

Alma Straight amused herself by counting the telegraph poles as they whizzed by. Alma is used to watching Poles. She says the Chi Psis walk past her house every day.

The first stop the non-stop special made was at Evansville.

When the train passed an oncoming locomotive, clear eyed Clarence McIntosh remarked that it was a good thing we had an engineer who could steer. Simple Mac.

Some enterprising young man with a piece of red chalk marked arm bands on the boys for 10 cents a throw.

SUNDT IS ELECTED FOOTBALL CAPTAIN

year, Weston has been chosen for end on the all-conference team, and last year, Walter Camp selected the fiery Wisconsin captain for an end position on the mythical All-American second eleven. By his uncanny knack of snatching passes out of the air, his ability to get down the field on punts, and his hard tackling, Weston has proved himself one of the best ends that ever donned the moleskins for Wisconsin.

When You Pass COP'S

do not get the impression that we serve only light lunches, salads and pastry. Of course we do; but it is a real restaurant, too, where you will be served with tender roasts, steaks, chops and sea foods.

Yes, COP'S is where a regular fellow can get a man's size meal anytime.

The Two Best Places to Eat HOME AND COP'S CAFE

Bill Hoard ate at Thompson's well known cafe and then ran around to the Blackstone to pick his teeth in the lobby.

This same Bill Hoard with Ralph Horton and other prominent Kappa Betas by reason of certain Kappa Beta activities was able to see the game twice on one ticket. Think of it—and a lot of people not able to get in at all.

Earl Hardy thought the La Salle hotel sure would hold a lot of hay.

A couple of girls asked us "Gee, how do youse know we ain't co-eds? We been in at one of them frat houses already."

Would you say these girls were bunnies? If so, and they had a lot of money, would it be right to call them jack rabbits?

Walter Gausewitz, the keeper of the Sig Chi Eifel Tower hound rode down and back on a pass. In other words he passed the conductor in the corridors.

Arnold Perstein attended a dinner at the Hamilton club, where Governor Cox was the chief speaker.

Alex Simpson cleaned up the Montezuma in a lively poker game. He requested us to print that he will gladly loan anyone money from now on. He says he's even risking it on Harlow Pease or Ralph MacKinnon—and that's going some.

Dorothy Pearson walked down and back. She said she had to reduce.

We had to reduce, too. Expenses tigh; not flesh.

Now we have given Minnehaha the merry haw, haw, annoyed Illinois, and marooned the Maroons it might be said we have some little old team. Not?

This Chicago special column will be continued after the Chicago game next year.

DR. C. H. VILAS PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME

Was University Regent and Prominent Citizen in This Community

Dr. Charles H. Vilas, a regent of the university and one of the best known citizens of this state, died at his home here yesterday morning after an illness of about two months.

Dr. Vilas has made generous gifts to charity, and was one of the men who helped found the Dane County Tuberculosis sanatorium. He was a brother of the late United States Senator William F. Vilas. Mr. Vilas was born at Chelsea, Vt., July 22, 1846. He was a son of Levi B. Vilas. Dr. Vilas received his degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1865 and a Master's degree in 1868, he received his medical degree from Hahnemann Medical college, Chicago, in 1878. Later he became president of this institution.

For many years Dr. Vilas traveled almost constantly, visiting the main hospitals and disease centers in the far east. He was a delegate to various foreign medical congresses in London, Paris, and Moscow. Dr. Vilas has written many pamphlets on medical subjects. He built and presented to the First Unitarian society of Madison, of which he was a member, its parish house in 1910, with complete furnishings. He presented to the Madison Zoological and Aquarium society its main building in Vilas park in 1917 and also gave a group of buildings of the Madison Anti-Tuberculosis association in 1917. He also gave large sums to the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. He has been president of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, a member of the Madison Golf club, Madison Literary society, and the Madison club.

PLAN BENEFIT FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

A benefit dance, the proceeds of which will be used to bring Christmas cheer to the crippled children who are being cared for in Bradley Memorial hospital, will be given by members of the University Employees' association Wednesday night at Lathrop hall. It is open to the faculty and their friends.

Although Bradley hospital is not yet completely furnished, about 20 children from the home for dependent children at Sparta have been sent here for several months' treatment, under the new state clinical system. Christmas entertainment will be provided for them with the funds raised tomorrow night.

DR. VILAS

THE university student, along with the people of Madison, mourn the death of Dr. C. H. Vilas. In the loss of so estimable a character, there has gone from us a true friend and a staunch supporter of the university; a man of noble ideals and purposes; a man who sought to better the physical, the intellectual, and the moral condition of his community.

Fifty-five years ago, in the class of 1865, Dr. Vilas received his bachelor's degree from the university. Since that time he has never ceased in his endeavors to make Wisconsin a greater and a grander institution. As a citizen of Wisconsin, as an alumnus, as a regent, Dr. Vilas has played a noble part in elevating Wisconsin to its present place of prestige and honor.

It is not only by serving the university that Dr. Vilas has become revered. It is also through his untiring activity to better the community in every way. Through his activity in scientific and educational organizations, through his fostering of art and culture, through his furthering of philanthropic undertakings, Dr. Vilas bettered every phase of the city's life. He had the highest conception of citizenship, and he lived his conception.

Because of Dr. Vilas' achievement, we feel that we have lost a true friend, a benefactor of society, a man who understood and practiced the highest ideals of citizenship.

SAVE THE OCTOPUS

NOT altogether unlike its predecessors in the field of humor at Wisconsin, the Octopus is being threatened with the scrap heap of financial ruin. First came the Sphinx, and then the Awk, both decidedly creditable humor sheets. They went under not because of any material defects in their physical makeups, but simply because of a blanket refusal on the part of the student body to support them.

The same set of circumstances now faces the Octopus. It fills a long felt need at Wisconsin; it is far superior to either the Sphinx or the Awk; it has gained a wide recognition elsewhere despite the short time it has been on the campus; but regrettable as it may seem, it is passed up by students. Most of them borrow their friends' copy rather than shell out a quarter.

If the student body permits the Octopus to go the way of the Sphinx and the Awk it is exceedingly doubtful if Wisconsin will ever again have a humorous magazine. We need one of the calibre of the Octopus. Buy your copy on the hill today.

HIT 'EM HARD

MOST of the students have been having a pretty lively time lately. The activities of Homecoming reached almost every student. Many of our number took a journey southward last week-end to see our team beat Chicago and incidentally to see a few other things. The vision of Thanksgiving recess is, at present, making most of us thankful. So it goes!

All this, enjoyable as it is, does not harmonize any too well with our studies. It is a hard fact to appreciate until mid-semester examinations begin to pile up. Then, we find ourselves face to face with reality. We strike the ground with a thump. We realize that we have perhaps been having too good a time.

Fortunately, however, there is still time for most of us to get busy and make a good showing on our examinations. To make this good showing requires that we banish from our minds the events of the past two weeks and of the coming week-end. By taking life seriously we can make the grades we want in our mid-semester examinations. But it takes work and plenty of it.

It is indeed worth while to take mid-semesters seriously. They are important factors in the determination of one's semester grades. In not a few cases, doubtless, they will have considerable weight in determining who will be among the missing at one of the roll calls in the near future. Moreover, they do represent that for which we have really come to college.

Let's get down to business then. Let's make study the real purpose of college—for the present at least. Let's benefit ourselves and our school by keeping our scholarship standards high. When our remaining mid-semesters come around, let's hit 'em hard. That Thanksgiving turkey will taste better if we do.

WAR NOT OVER SAYS LE MANN

Movements Resulting From War Continue With Great Force

"The war is not over; the social and intellectual movements in Europe which had their beginnings in the war continue with greater force than ever to carry on a civil war against existing forms of government," said Henry Le Mann, director of the Belgian board of labor education, in his lecture, "Post-Bellum Europe," at 4:30 yesterday afternoon in Bascom hall.

"The war has been the opening chapter that precipitated the events which we are witnessing. The outcome of the war has resulted in the seizure of political powers by those least fitted to wield them. This refers to Russia particularly.

"The Russian attempt has been somewhat successful so far because of the weakness, corruption, and ineffectiveness of the power which it overthrew.

"The difference between communism in Russia and the labor movement in Central and Western Europe, is that in Russia the socialistic movement is made up of a numerically small number of industrial workers—a minority movement using minority tactics, while in Central and Western Europe it is a majority movement employing majority tactics.

"Labor in Central and Western Europe places more emphasis on constructive effort—the developing of organizations which promote the ideas of responsibility among the working classes, while in Russia the effort is destructive."

Mr. Le Mann expressed the hope that the Russian experience might succeed, even though it upheld ideas which he did not care to see transplanted to Western Europe. He said that even if the movement did fail it would not have a lasting result upon the social movement in Europe.

Recent statistics show that more men in Harvard are specializing in English literature than in any other subject, while economics stands second in popularity, and chemistry third.

ROME IS LIVING DECLARES FISH

New Committees Announced at Meeting of Badger Club

"Rome is not a dead city but a living city with a spirit all its own," said Prof. Carl Russell Fish, of the history department, speaking to the Badger club in the parlors of the university Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening.

"It is true, however, that Rome is so diversified that it takes some time to really digest and enjoy it," Professor Fish continued. "Even in the people, themselves, is found the same amount of diversity that is found in the history and architecture of that city."

"The first impression an outsider gets of Rome, which is one of the most beautiful cities in the world, is that of unity in every respect. It is also a strictly religious city, and, at present, there are more people of learning there than in any other city."

Professor Fish concluded by tracing the growth of Rome through the various periods in history from the beginning to the present.

Professor Fish was introduced to the club by Albert J. Davidson, who was acting as chairman in the absence of William Pickard. A solo by Constance Brewer and some community singing completed the program. The following committees were then announced:

House—James Watson, chairman, Herb A. Bork, Charles E. Rotlurt, O. F. Sandhamer.

Publicity—Paul Plowman, chairman, F. B. Godfrey, E. W. Chandler, B. A. Stein, Milton H. Erickson.

Welcome—Doris Bennett, chairman, Edith Stolpe, Evelyn Horton, Vera Templin, Bernice Scott, Dorothy Torkelson, Dorothy Churchill.

Refreshment—Jessie Frederick, Victor Oliver, Helen Keatery, H. L. Wickey, Helen Dresser, Harold C. Smith, Norman Reetan, F. C. Poeter, M. McClellan, J. Tonight's program will consist of talks by Sam Goldman and Joseph Scheier. In addition there will be two musical numbers by Sylvia Rosenberg and H. Schapiro. It is expected that some definite word on the possibility of Wisconsin getting the mid-west convention of the national organization will be ready for the business session.

DOLPHIN CLUB HAS POSTPONED EXHIBIT

Because the free-for-all swimming meet between the classes will take place tonight in Lathrop hall, Dolphin club's swimming and diving exhibition has been postponed until December 9.

"We hope that those who had planned to go to the exhibition before the postponement will save the date of December 9 for it," said Olga Anderson, president of the club, last night. "The plans for the exhibition were almost complete when the delay became necessary."

The chairman of stunts, Elizabeth Waterman, has evolved a lively program of water feats which, according to officers of the club, will be attractively presented by the Dolphin members.

W. A. A. TO CONSIDER MATTER OF POSTURE

Whether the Women's Athletic association will award points for posture will be decided tonight at the third meeting of W. A. A. this year.

The results of posture tests largely determine the physical perfection of the women and those who are in charge of the physical education work say that the awarding of points for posture will promote a better physical standard among university women.

"We wish to remind the members that attendance at W. A. A. meetings is compulsory," said Margaret Swith, president, last night. "We want all members to come to the meeting, for there is much constructive work to be done."

PARTY IS PLANNED BY PRESBYTERIANS

There will be a party at the Presbyterian house on Friday evening for students and their friends who are unable to go home for the Thanksgiving holidays. The committee in charge is planning a full evening of entertainment, designed to drive away any vestige of the "blues." A cordial invitation is extended by the committee to all Presbyterian students and their friends.

A hike to Black Hawk cave is planned for Saturday afternoon. A campfire supper and sing will be features of the hike. The party leaves the house at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

JUBILEE SINGERS TO APPEAR AT CHURCH

The Jubilee singers will make the initial appearance of their Wisconsin tour this evening at 7:30 o'clock when they will entertain a Madison audience at the University church, corner of University avenue and Charter street. The concert is given under the auspices of the Wesley League.

The singers have just finished tours in Iowa and Illinois. They are six in number and will give a varied program of plantation melodies and song specialties.

MINERS TO EAT TURKEY TONIGHT

The Mining club will entertain its members tonight with a Thanksgiving turkey dinner at 6 o'clock in the Mining laboratory. Frederick G. Cottrell, director of the bureau of mines, will speak.

Professor Cottrell is scheduled to speak at 11 o'clock in the auditorium of the Engineering building, and at 4:30 p. m. in the Chemistry building.

AT THE STRAND

That there are thrills concealed in the prosaic motor truck, as well as in the graceful lines of the racing automobile is proven by Wallace Reid's latest picture, "What's Your Hurry?" which will be shown at the Strand theater for the last times day.

As "Dusty" Rhoades, auto racer, the breezy star wins a speedy tussle on the track, but fails to impress Patrick MacMurrin, whom "Dusty" hopes to have as a father-in-law. Pat is the manufacturer of Pakro trucks, but only succeeds in getting more deeply "in wrong." However, when a big irrigation dam threatens to yield under the strain of a raging storm and to bring disaster upon the valley below, "Dusty" not only shows his own mettle but also brings Pakro trucks to the fore.

"What's Your Hurry?" is the work of Byron Morgan, who also wrote "The Roaring Road" and "Excuse My Dust." Lois Wilson was never more charming as the leading woman, and Charles Ogle and Clarence Burton are also in the cast. The picture is a Paramount.

There will also be shown a News Weekly and Luke McLuke film-osophy.

"Treasure Island"

Maurice Tourneur's "Treasure Island," adapted from the famous classic by Robert Louis Stevenson, will be the attraction at the Strand for four days commencing Wednesday. This is a typical Tourneur picture with an all star cast including Shirley Mason, Lon Chaney, and many others.

BETTER VAUDEVILLE SHOWN AT ORPHEUM

At the Orpheum, there is a movement for better vaudeville for Madison, and we all agree that there is certainly plenty of room in which that movement might move without becoming offensive. The present bill that opened last night is a great step in the proper direction.

Frank Dobson and his "thirteen sirens" are the headliners of the show. Dobson himself is a clever comedian; and, supported by an attractive group of well-gowned girls, his act gets away with lots of speed. His offering is a little musical comedy, with peppy action and snappy lines. The dances and songs are pleasingly done.

Libonati, with his xylophone, is absolutely good. His music has a spark and snap that is marred only by his need of a hair cut. The use of four hammers produces an effect especially interesting.

Clay Crouch, a southern gentleman, has a clever line of new jokes and songs. Leach Wallin Trio opens the bill for an original wire swinging act, in which one of the trio swings on a wire held between the teeth of her colleagues. "An Artistic Treat" closes the bill with a series of statues. The "Discus Thrower" was exceptionally well received. And Kinograms.

AT THE FULLER

The Fuller tonight offers its patrons William H. Kibble's grand spectacular revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This attraction is classed as the biggest scenic production of this well known story the American stage has ever seen. No such amount of money as Mr. Kibble has spent on this production has ever before been expended on this neglected and much abused but still most successful of American dramas.

AT THE GRAND

Constance Talmadge is as ingra-

tiating as ever. She is a young woman who has a charm all her own! And she need never fear for her laurels. There is no one on the screen like her in the least; even her youthful loveliness is quite unlike the youthful loveliness of all other aspirants.

NEBRASKA UNIVERSITY BUILDS WIRELESS STATION

Nebraska university is building a wireless station which will have a sending and receiving radium of 500 miles in clear weather. This will put Nebraska in line of communication with all schools in the Missouri Valley conference. The senior electrical engineering class is constructing the apparatus and they expect to have it finished some time this month.

CATHOLIC WOMEN HEAR ABOUT POET

The Rev. Mr. P. B. Knox of St. Knox of St. Patrick's church read a paper on Francis Thompson, Catholic poet, before the Catholic women's club at the Woman's building yesterday afternoon.

Following the meeting Mesdames Walter Coffman, G. J. Lillesand, Ray G. Kretlow, and L. G. Heibel acted as hostesses at a social hour.
