LEADERS URGE ALL TO VOTE FOR PROPOSAL

Every Student Is a Stockholder in The Daily Cardinal Corporation

ELECTION BOOKLET OUT

That it is the duty of every student, and instructor of the university to vote for the proposed amendment to the Cardinal constitution, because every student of the university is a stockholder in the corporation of the Cardinal was the consensus of opinion of a number of students influential in campus activities.

Ralph E. Balliet '23 president of the Cardinal Board of Control, suggested that a notice impressing upon the students the necessity of having everyone vote be taken to President Birge by the chairman of the elections committee and the president of the Senate, asking him to sign this notice, and have every professor and instructor read the notice to his classes.

Mass meetings, five-minute speakers, and other plans were also suggested, but it was feared that there still be many students who care too little about campus activities to vote.

Maynard W. Brown '23, chairman of the elections committee, said that facilities for voting would be much improved over former years. More buildings and more booths for voting have been secured, and every effort is being made to make voting as easy as possible.

The election booklet, giving the names of the candidates for the various offices and other information will be issued today, and all students are urged to get one and familiarize themselves with the election.

Y. M. Gets Requests For Out-Door Work

Increased requests for men to do various outdoor work have been coming in to the Y. M. C. A. employment department in the last few days, according to Secretary F. E. Wolf. "Work of all kinds has been rather scarce this year, but we are able to provide any who wish to work now," said Secretary Wolf.

Sell 3,700 Copies of Haresfoot Octy

More than 3,700 copies of the Haresfoot number of the Octopus found their ways into the hands of appreciative readers.

The Haresfoot carried 670 copies to sell between the acts of the musical comedy. This amount was sold before the Chicago performance and an additional shipment of 100 magazines was sent to meet the demand at Rockford. Thomas Tredwell '23 had charge of the sale in connection with the presentation of "Kitty Corner."

Men competed with women in selling the last number of the Octopus in accordance with a new system which the business manager wished to try out. The sales in Madison was about 3,000 copies.

Soviet Russia is Great Experiment

That there is and has been for many years a strong movement toward an international organization of laborers which must result in better social conditions, and that the Soviet government in Russia is a great experiment in social organization which is not given proper consideration, were statements of Prof. Nathaniel Schmidt, of Cornell university, who spoke in Music hall last night.

"A time must come when there will be no distinction between workers and non-workers, when all able-bodied men will contribute something, either manual or mental labor, to society," said Mr. Schmidt. "It is a shame upon our society that millions of people who desire to work are not able to find employment."

"Americans are prone to disregard the great experiment in social organization now going on in Russia," said Mr. Schmidt, "they don't look at the situation and ask, what about it? or how will it help or harm us?"

"I am interested in the Russian experiment not only because of its historical significance but because of the effect it will have upon our social organization."

Few Seats Are Left For "Kitty Corner"

A few good seats for today's two performances of "Kitty Corner," the twenty-fourth annual Haresfoot show, are still available and can be obtained at the box office. The curtain rises for the matinee at 2:30 and for the evening performance at 8:20.

A capacity audience saw the show last night at the Parkway. The performance was formal according to Haresfoot tradition.

Critic Calls "Kitty Corner" a Most Exhilarating Performance

By Stanley Bates Harkness
The success of the Haresfoot production, "Kitty Corner," en tour, has been bruited so loudly that little is left to be said in the way of praise. But there is always the privilege of piling Pelion on Ossa. Here goes! "Kitty Corner" is an exhilarating performance, amusingly conceived, and presented last night with great spirit at the Parkway. It was received with much applause—not to say, with vociferations. The music is melodious, the situations are at times intriguing, and the acting is, in the main, effective. As for those aspects which more strikingly meet the eye the ladies, both principals and chorus, though widely exploited as gentlemen—or at least as men,—prove to be quite convincing and pulchritudinous as ladies!

The ingredients of the plot are all that the most exacting could wish, for the village of Kitty Corner harbors a choice collection of assorted crooks and virtuemongers, ingeniously conjured up by Messrs. Gangelin and Scholtz. The stratagems and snares perpetrated by these dubious creatures enlist our sympathies for the langleigh heroine, Delicia and for Addison Sims, the handsome hero. Porter Butts showed keen intelligence and restraint in reproducing the feminine mannerisms necessary for an

Burton Doyon '98 Killed Under Car

Burton H. Doyon, 1126 Sherman avenue, a Madison business man, was killed in his car on the Middleton road last night.

The accident occurred near the university seed farm. No details are known except that the car in which Mr. Doyon was driving turned turtle, caught fire, and burned completely. It was evident that the driver had no chance whatever to escape.

Mr. Doyon had been in the lumber business here for many years. He was a Wisconsin graduate of the class of '98 and was a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Mrs. Marie Doyon, Burton Jr., freshman at the university, and a daughter, who is at Wellsley, survive him.

Efforts Fail to Get Russian Grand Opera

Efforts to obtain the Russian Grand opera for performances here by the Wisconsin Literary Magazine staff proved futile as the company has already left Chicago. There will be no chance to procure any performances for Madison because the company will not be near Madison again.

Frosh Commission Leads Y. W. Vespers

Y. W. C. A. vespers, conducted by the freshman commission will be held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Lathrop parlors. Miss L. L. Brown, dean of freshman women, will speak and short talks will be given by Esther Fifield '25 and Jane Baldwin '25.

ingenue. The suave and attractive young lover was well done by Jack Cornelius. The interplay of wit between those dependable comedians, Purnell and Carberry furnished the audience with plenty of amusement.

The plot proper does not establish itself so rapidly as it might in Act I; but the repartee is very brisk and lags only for a moment now and then. It is never heavy or boring. In the second act the action is more rapid, and in the third, with the entrance of the alluring vamp, stunningly acted by Townsend, the culmination proves distinctively effective.

The music and lyrics, the handiwork of Carver and Carpenter, the university Gilbert and Sullivan, show versatility, range, and ingenuity. Certainly not in professional performances does one often hear more charming songs than "Softly and Sweetly and Low," "The Land of Make-Believe," "The Harbor of Happiness," "Vamping," or "Romancing." The orchestration is sophisticated, sometimes quite haunting in its effect. No small praise is due John Mokrejs for the spirit and responsiveness of his orchestral accompaniments.

Several palpable hits were made. The anticipated "Good Gosh, Galosh!" introduced Faxon Hall and a

The Badger baseball team will open the home Big Ten Conference season at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when Russell Ford is booked to send his Gopher nine onto Camp Randall for the first tilt which the Northerners have mixed in since 1914.

Prospects Only Fair
Wisconsin prospects for a win today are none too good. The cold weather which the team encountered on coming home from the south has caused every man to stiffen up. This is especially true of the pitchers, none of whom are in good shape to start the fracas. Lowman's men have been further handicapped since their return home by the wet and cold weather. It has been impossible for the coach to hold any real hard practices, and batting workouts are all that have appeared on the program yesterday and today.

The lineup will be about the same as in the game against Northwestern last Tuesday. Christianson may not be able to start at right field, due to an injured leg. Tebell is the second choice for the position. The manner in which the pitchers warm up before the game will be the basis on which Coach Lowman will make his hurling selection tomorrow. Hoffman and Pickford, together with Captain Paddock, are the three moundsmen from whom the choice will be made.

Batten Appointed Yale Correspondent

Waldo W. Batten '23, has been appointed representative of the Yale University Press at the University of Wisconsin, according to correspondence which arrived at the university yesterday.

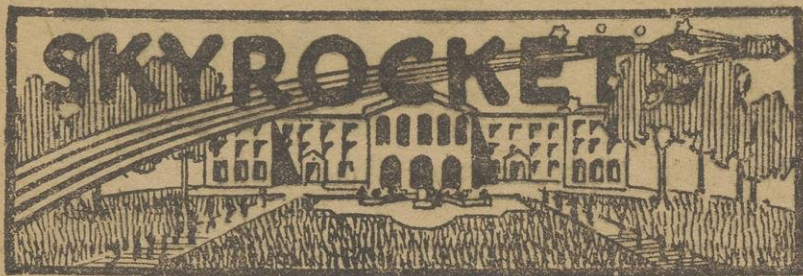

The election of Batten is the result of a general policy of Yale Press which selects at each state university in the United States and at higher institutions of education in Canada and England some student to represent its interests at that particular center of learning.

Batten will cooperate with all students and faculty members of the university in all Yale Press relations. Yale graduates will especially avail themselves of Batten's services. Batten is a charter member of the Delta Chi fraternity and was recently elected to Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity.

LAST CHANCE TO SEE

THE ELECTRICAL SHOW

SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1:30-12:00 P. M.

HARESFOOT played at the Parkway theatre last evening.

WHEN interviewed last night, the following representative men around the campus made the following statements:

Bill Purnell—I think we have one of the best shows ever.

Reginald Garstang—Haresfoot deserves a lot of praise for its latest triumph.

Porter Butts—The female parts this year are by far the best.

Paul Gangelin—One of the best books around which a musical comedy was ever wrapped.

Dave Mahoney—I can't say. I don't remember much about it.

Heinz Rubel—I think Edwin Booth has it all over Haresfoot.

THE PLOT is very simple. Horace Homer, a former steeple-jack, comes home from war—a rum war—and finds his girl in love with another steeple-jack. With a pair of jacks for openers, the show goes on smoothly except for 23 songs and two intermissions, and the performance always stops about 11 o'clock. Baraboo papers please copy.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THIS PICTURE?

Lessons in Etiquette

In the first place, lady bandits who are in the know have discarded the mask and gun for more effective weapons. If you would be known as a real person of refinement, you must adopt other methods. Here's the dope:

When you have singled out your victim, follow him or her, as the case may or may not be, until you see where the victim is going. The point now is to wait until they come back. Then you hide behind a brick wall with a small but effective piece of lead-pipe especially designed for the occasion, and as the intended passes the wall of brick, you quietly permit the pipe to descend upon the victim's cerebrum. With a little practice even the beginner can attain a high degree of efficiency. (Not copyrighted.)

THEY LAUGH AT THIS IN KITTLY CORNER

Bill Purnell—Who told you I was coo-coo? You've been reading by mail.

Wells Carberry—Let's play that you hypnotize me. I ain't had no sleep for a week.

Sammy Becker—Dis ain't no game for a red-blooded man! I'm going out and help Port Butts wash up.

Heinie Hall—Well, fellows, as soon as Dad Wolf gets here we'll have to dust off Jack Childs' picture.

ANYWAY, with all those wash-erwomen it was a nice clean show.

JOKE COLUMN

(Lifts from Five of the Worst College Comics.)

DOCKWALLOPER—You ought to see that old sailor shimmy.

LANDPIRATE—Sort of a salt-shaker, I take it?

GERMAN PROF.—If "kuh" in German means one cow, how do you say two cows?

SEATPOUNDER—I dunno. Maybe it's coo-coo.

SNOOPER—I wish to buy a pair of shoes to wear around the house. Clerkman—Yessum, what size is your house?

LOCO—We're coming to a long tunnel. Are you afraid?

Inside track—Not if you take that cigar out of your mouth.

"I WANT a loaf of bread." "White or Graham?" "Don't make any difference. It's for a blind lady."

TO THE first person who finds any point of the foregoing gags we shall award one dozen self-indorsing bills of attainder.

25 Tailored Suits

Special at $32.50

Formerly sold at $37.50 to $49.50

Very good looking herringbone Tweeds, diagonal and heather Tweeds are included in this lot, anyone of which would make a most desirable all-around suit for immediate and summer wear. Some are bound in silk braid, others are given a trim appearance with the use of tailored pockets, slender buckled belts of self material and plaited backs. The colors are medium blues, tans, orchid and brown. All are silk-lined throughout. The skirts feature double tailored pockets.

A Knicker Suit is a most comfortable costume at all times, but most accommodating when the third piece is a skirt that becomes a most serviceable cape when occasion demands. Simply unbutton the wide skirt and throw it over your shoulders when you pass from street to beckoning trail. The material is a very substantial dark tweed mixture. Knickers have tailored pockets, and an adjustable buttoned knee-cuff. The coat is silk-lined and smartly plaited in the back. Formerly $75, now $50

Harding blue tweed is made up into a youthful box suit and enlivened with colorful wool embroidery. Now $39.50

A Sale of Spring Dresses, $16.50

Frilly taffetas, silk cantons in styles for general wear, krepe knit becoming and yet simple enough dresses, combination material frocks and a few spring weight wools—these are included in this week-end selling. Flowers of self or contrasting material, quaint little puffed sleeves and long bodices, of course, are features of this group.

There are frocks for many occasions—a frock of black lace and satin for afternoon, or informal wear, wears an orange corsage. A combination pongee and red and white checked taffeta is very youthful.

MANY ATTEND ELECTRIC SHOW

Pres. Birge and Distinguished California Guests Are Among Crowd

A large crowd including President E. A. Birge, Dr. Elwood Mead, director of the state land settlements of California, and A. C. Hardison, chairman of the California agricultural education commission, viewed the exhibits at the Electrical show last night, and declared it to be on a par with the Varsity exposition of last year.

The Electrical laboratories are crowded from top to bottom with exhibits. Amusing and spectacular stunts are mingled with historical and technical ones, so that not a dull spot remains in the entire building.

Offer Thrills and Fun

For people who like thrills, thrills have been added; for those who like fun, plenty of amusements have been installed; and for the strong young men, a weight has been brought to the show which few men, no matter how strong they are can lift, while any young lady can lift it with ease.

Eggs are fried without heat, electric lamps are lit without wires, toy locomotives are started and stopped with a sharp whistle, a toy dog also begins to run when visitors whistle to him, telephone calls are run through a mechanical central, so that there is no fear of having a "hello girl" listen in. In fact all sorts of things that ordinary mortals find quite beyond their comprehension are accomplished.

The "Mote" of a Motor

At the show you will have an opportunity to see what your bones look like, what your voice looks like, what those mysterious Hertizian waves look like, what makes a generator generate, what makes a motor "mote", how lightning is manufacture and the cause of the Aurora Borealis.

People who have had their hair stand up straight may have their hair stand up for them if they go to within 5 feet of a large Tesla coil through which 300,000 volts are passed, and which is also capable of doing other astonishing things.

really beautiful chorus in red and white, whose smiles and spirited dancing quite captivated the audience. "Softly and Sweetly and Low" sung exquisitely by Porter Butts, and the duet "Romancing", in which he and Cornelius joined, were sung with nothing short of art. Encores were also well earned by Purnell for his soulful rendering of "I've caught lots of bridal bouquets but when will I be a bride?" Similarly artistic was David Mahoney's "The Land of Make Believe," sung with resonant voice, clear enunciation, and unusually convincing interpretative powers. Another hit was Carberry's nimble dancing, which highly deserved the applause accorded it. He has the ease, the grace, and the alertness of a professional.

The gorgeousness of the changing color in the last act was reminiscent, in its way, of the various Follies. In fact, the costuming throughout was diverting,—more diverting than in past seasons.

Haresfoot seems a misnomer for the organization that staged "Kitty Corner", for Haresfoot connotes luck; and performances like "Kitty Corner" don't come about by chance. They are the result of a high degree of diversified intelligence, concentrated in one effect. The success of these plays, as everyone knows too well who takes part in them, is due not to luck, but notoriously to cunning. Those who have contributed to the success of this play may well feel pride in their achievement.

If you have not seen "Kitty Corner" you had better go.

Big Faculty-Regent Dinner is Planned

The committee on public functions will hold a Faculty-Regent dinner Tuesday evening May 2 in Lathrop gymnasium, to which all members of the instructional force of the university and the wives are invited.

It is a quarter of a century since such a dinner has been held, and the committee in charge is expecting a hearty response from the faculty body. A rather pretentious program is being planned for entertainment and will include a number of short and snappy features in the form of speeches, exhibitions, stunts, and songs. About 1,000 invitations are being sent out from which the committee expects at least 800 acceptances.

The Regents will meet May 1 and 2.

PHILADELPHIA BUREAU
DAILY NEWS RECORD.

Philadelphia, March 17. — Departing from a 30-year tradition, William H. Wannamaker, retail clothier, has launched an advertising campaign featuring a branded line—"Stratford Clothes," made by Cohn, Riseman & Co. The first advertisement in the series appeared in the local evening papers on Wednesday. The advertisement stated in part:

"Introducing 'Stratford Clothes.' For more than 30 years we have been making, selling and advertising our own clothing virtually to the exclusion of all other clothing.

"Now we have decided also to sell 'Stratford Clothes.'

"For a full year we have been examining, comparing and testing clothing made by America's leading manufacturers.

"We have found that 'Stratford Clothes' rank with the best clothing built in America, and America builds the finest clothing in the world.

"'Stratford Clothes' comes up to our standard of what good clothing ought to be—100 per cent.

"The fabrics are fine quality. The fashions are new and good. The tailoring is of the first water.

"We are pleased to combine our name with the label of 'Stratford Clothes' and we intend to feature as a regular part of our business this splendid and complete line of young men's new spring suits."

NEEDED: 3,500 VOTES

At least 3,500 faculty members and students must turn out next Friday and vote for the amending clause of the corporation constitution of The Daily Cardinal if the amendment is to be passed. Every student in the university is a member of The Daily Cardinal corporation, and the resolution, if passed, will change the number of votes necessary for making future amendments from the present one-half, or roughly 3,500, to only 500 members.

The makers of the original constitution did not foresee the difficulty which would arise when the time came to propose new amendments, each to require the affirmative vote of 51 per cent of the students, whereas the usual vote at student elections has always been considerably less than 1,000.

This is the time to remedy the situation by turning out full force, 3,500 strong, next Friday, and voting "Yes."

PLAY BALL!

BIG TEN baseball will be officially ushered in at Wisconsin this afternoon when Coach Lowman's Badgers meet Minnesota on the diamond at Camp Randall. Today's game will afford the first opportunity for baseball fans to see the Wisconsin team in action against a Conference team since last June.

More than 20,000 people witnessed the Wisconsin-Minnesota game at Homecoming last fall, and nearly as many were present when the Badgers played Michigan a few weeks later in the home camp. The gymnasium was packed to capacity at every game during the past season. The hockey matches, gym meets, swimming meets, and wrestling meets were well attended. Every Wisconsin sport can point to an unusually successful season during the past year. Baseball is one of the major sports and should be as well patronized as any other.

In the past years the athletic department has been forced to meet the expenses incurred in baseball and track by drawing on the money taken in at the gate at the football games. This is an unfortunate circumstance, but nevertheless it is true. No one sport should bear the burden of meeting the deficit created by another.

Just as much effort and just as much work is required for a man to make the baseball squad as any other team. His efforts should be rewarded by as large a turnout when he performs, as when the gridiron hero lines up for the kickoff, or the basketball player answers the call of the whistle.

Despite the shadow that has been cast over baseball in the last few years, it is and will remain our national game. The ear of every American, from the small boy who jealously guards his knot-hole to the veteran of the stands who views the game from a box, is tuned by the crack of the bat in the spring. Baseball is a wholesome sport, professionally and otherwise, and it deserves an equal rating with any college sport.

Some 30,000 fans braved rainy weather to see the Cubs and the Reds open the season in Chicago this week. Make the opener today worthy of Wisconsin and baseball. Baseball at Wisconsin needs you this afternoon and at every game this year. Get behind the team and help to round out Wisconsin's biggest year in sports.

TO HIM WHO HATH

TO the members of a production such as is Haresfoot's "Kitty Corner" any praise that we may give would but be a repetition of enthusiastic plaudits that they have received during their tour.

But the biblical quotation, "To him who hath shall be given," is again recalled.

College productions similar to these put on annually by Haresfoot as a rule are but little better than the average amateur production. That Haresfoot, however, has always put on a finished piece of acting and stage management is well recognized throughout the Middle West. The staff of this year has had a precedent of success in the past that set a standard too high to be easily equalled.

"Kitty Corner" has not only lived up to the standard set, but has established a new one—one that will be hard indeed to ever equal again. The members of the cast and production staff have heartily merited the congratulations that have been tendered.

During the tour of "Kitty Corner" a pleasing fact was noted by the cast. At every performance when "Varsity" was sung there were Wisconsin alumni on their feet in an instant standing again to the strains of the song of their Alma Mater. Our alumni throughout the state welcomed the opportunity to renew their association with the university. They caught again the freshness of college spirit, the breath of college life. Many of them doubtless had appeared in like productions during their college career. But whether they had or not, they at least were able to better visualize the Wisconsin of today and to re-live their memories of the Wisconsin of yesterday.

Haresfoot produced only at Madison would still be wholly worthy of the effort. But Haresfoot-on-tour tends to bind the alumni closer to their Alma Mater. It provides an opportunity for many of them to keep up the college spirit and to sense the progress of the institution which Haresfoot so ably represents.

"This is the first time such work has been done by students in the Course in Journalism, but it is hoped that more experience of this type can be got from time to time," said Prof. Grant M. Hyde, this morning.

Copies of the two issues edited by the students together with the following copy which will contain a resume of their work will be sent by Mr. Howe to all weekly newspaper publishers in the state. The issue of April 18 was edited by George E. Green, formerly of Elkhorn; Lucille Zander, Brillon; William F. Blocher, Wittenberg, and Donald F. Schram, Beloit.

The issue of April 25 will be edited by Bruce McCoy, Sparta; Isadore Coward, Lodi; Harold E. McClelland, Rice Lake; and Harry B. Lyford, Hampton, Va.

Orph Shows Latest Griffith Production

Lillian and Dorothy Gish have set a new standard in the art of emotional screen acting in the leading roles of D. W. Griffith's "Orphans of the Storm," which will be shown at the Orpheum theatre next week.

Griffith has surrounded these two mistresses of the screen with a cast of supreme excellence, including such players as Monte Blue, Creighton Hale, and Lucille La Verne.

The film is an adaptation of the famous old stage play, "The Two Orphans," which probably has been shown on the legitimate stage to more people than any other play ever produced in America.

Dean Nardin Opens Sorority Convention

Dean F. Louise Nardin gave the opening address yesterday afternoon of the province convention of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority, which is being held this week at the chapter house here. Representatives from the University of Illinois, Lawrence college, Iowa State university, Iowa State college, and the University of Nebraska arrived yesterday morning.

Miss Nardin emphasized in her brief talk the importance of college women in molding the thought of the universities and of making the thoughts of women effective in college life.

"As college women we can't dodge sharing responsibility with our brothers," Miss Nardin said, "and we must stand for real comradeship in the problem of life with men friends. Sororities as a group must have the time and opportunity to discuss these questions, and consequently they have a chance to see that the true spirit of fellowship exists on their campus."

SELF WAS MOST NATURAL THEME OF GREAT POET —CESTRE

Fostering Wholesome Instincts
To All That Loved Whit-man's Works

"Fostering wholesome instincts is what saved Whitman's poetry from grossness," said Prof. Charles Cestre, exchange professor at the university, in a lecture before the Language and Literature club last night in the auditorium of the Law building on the subject of "Whitman as a Poet of the Self."

"He represented self trust, self assertion, and earnestness to the Old World. He was the poet of natural man calmly seated in the stronghold of self. Whitman was the mouthpiece of the emotions of the American pioneer. He attracted attention in France, when the romanticism had outlived its best days by his poems of buoyancy and glad exhilaration."

"Self was his most natural theme. He inaugurated the unselfish self. Whitman loved comradeship and felt a part of all the natural things about him. The open road and the trackless sea were proper nurture for him."

"It is in his democracy, his love of nature, and in his development of personality that Whitman is a great poet."

Mead Praises Land Settlement Scheme

Land settlement as a state experiment can be very successful in many ways in the opinion of Dr. Elwood Mead, chairman of the California State Land commission, who addressed a convocation of engineering, agricultural, and commerce students in 165 Bascom hall yesterday afternoon.

"The settlement experiment has proved to be a success financially and every way. Committees of farmers of the community buy supplies for the settlement and thus relieve the individual of the responsibility. Other committees attend to the marketing of the products. So good is the reputation of the community for high grade standard products that they are practically able to set their own prices."

"Aside from these material benefits and advantages, of the settlement scheme, there is another, more important phase. The farmers receive training in business management that they would not otherwise get. The social influence of the community life is wonderful. Farmers and their wives are attending dances now who never had time to dance before because of the duties of their work."

Modrigal Club and Socialists Win Ovation By SHELDON HENDERIKSON

The large crowd which heard the Madrigal Club in its concert Wednesday evening was more than pleased and as was shown by the big ovation which was given the singers.

The singing of the club was characterized by a precision of attack and beautiful tonal shading, together with absolute attention to the director Alexius Baas, at all times. The club challenges comparison with any choral organization in this community. There was a fineness and finish to the accompaniment played by Miss Otterson such that few pianists are able to give.

The Madrigal club has about 35 voices, and gives free concerts to the city every year. Each year a concert is given for which admission is charged, and at these concerts some great artist is also presented. The soloist at the concert to be given this year will be Miss Vera Poppe said to be the world's greatest woman cellist. She will appear with the Madrigal club on May 4, and will be more than worth while hearing.

When H₂O Isn't Water

"GENTLEMEN" said the Chem. Prof., at the end of the term, "You'll probably remember only one thing of all I've tried to teach you. And that is that Water is H₂O—and then you'll be wrong."

Even shaving soap isn't always shaving soap. A correct shaving preparation like Williams' Shaving Cream must do a lot more than simply make a lather.

—It must be generous with its lather. It must be thick and creamy in cold water or hot.

—It must hold its moisture. Williams' will not "freeze" dry on your face.

—It must soften your beard right down to the very roots.

—It must prepare your face for quick, gentle shaving. Williams' is so pure and wholesome that it actually helps the most tender skin.

Developing and Printing A Profession

The developing of amateur films is a business in itself and requires the closest attention of professionals. The fact that a great many people offer a developing and printing service does not indicate that the process is simple. The shop making a business of this art, alone, is in a position to give you honest workmanship. Your films deserve this attention; it costs less in the end. Eventually you will realize that the best results come from such an establishment.

BADGERS OPEN HOME BIG TEN SEASON TODAY

Baseball Nine Tilts With Gophers at Randall

Coach Russell Ford to do the twirling for the Gophers. The first-named is an experienced pitcher who made an enviable record for himself while hurling for St. Thomas college. Two of the three pitchers above mentioned are southpaws.

Coach Lowman does not feel any too sure as to the outcome of the game, due a number of conditions. If the weather this afternoon is real warm, the Badgers should show up to a fair advantage, but a cold day might result in a slugfest for the Minnesotans. Coach Ford had more than 100 candidates from which to select his nine men, and it is more than probable that he has been able to locate a hard hitting aggregation. The Gophers have played two games thus far this week, winning the first by a score of 10 to 1.

1,500 MEN WILL ENTER ANNUAL DRAKE RELAYS

Games on April 28-29 Draw Great Band of Track Athletes

(Special to Daily Cardinal)
DES MOINES, Ia.—The greatest gathering of track and field athletes ever assembled west of the Mississippi river will get into action here on April 28 and 29 in the thirteenth annual Drake Relay games, the track classic of the west.

Nearly 1,500 athletes, representing 30 universities, 35 colleges and 100 high schools will compete in the various events, according to the entry list which is now on file in the office of K. L. (Tug) Wilson, athletic director of Drake university.

Noted Coaches Attend
Some of the greatest figures in athletic circles in the United States, including Knute Rockne, Notre coach, "Tom", of the University of Wisconsin, and John L. Griffith, of the University of Illinois, will be among the officials of the meet.

Many of the greatest athletes in this country will get into action here in the coming games. Among them will be Gus Desch of Notre Dame, holder of the world's record in the 440-yard low hurdles, Bill Hayes of Notre Dame, former national champion in the 100-yard dash, Sundt, Wisconsin weight man, Landowski, of Michigan, and Merrick, of Wisconsin, two pole vaulters who tied at 12 feet 9 inches in the Illinois indoor meet recently, and who have both cleared more than 13 feet consistently in outdoor practice, and Platten of Wisconsin and Osborne of Illinois, high jumpers.

May Break Record
Everett Bradley, Olympic star and captain of the Kansas track team, will undoubtedly break the national record in the shot put here, as he established a new record in that event in the Missouri Valley indoor meet at Kansas City recently with a heave of 45 feet 1 3/4 inches. Sandefer, another Kansas athlete, also puts the shot around 45 feet.

The four-mile relay record, established by the University of Wisconsin in 1916, 18:02, will go into the discard if the Illinois four-mile team runs true to form here. In a recent indoor meet, the Illini cut 12 seconds from the Big Ten record in the four-mile.

Relays to be Speedy
Many of the speediest mile relay teams in this country will be pitted against each other in the Drake meet here. Illinois, Nebraska, Chicago, Iowa, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Notre Dame, Minnesota, Northwestern, Drake, Mich-

Council Recommends Nine Senior "W" Men for Conference Medal

Nine senior "W" men were recommended to the Athletic council to be considered for the Conference medal awarded at each Big Ten school annually. The athletes were named at a meeting of the Athletic board held yesterday noon.

They are George Bunge, football player; William K. Collins, football back and swimming captain; Guy M. Sundt, winner of his "W" in football, basketball, and track; Mark Wall, former cross-country captain and long distance man on the track team; Carl F. Ceaser, basketball captain during the past season; "Cop" Taylor, ex-basketball captain and winner of his letter for three consecutive years; Dale Merrick, pole vaulter on the track squad; "T" Gould, football man; "Al" Knollin, captain of the 1922 Varsity track squad and champion Big Ten hurdler.

Letters were awarded to Varsity wrestlers and swimmers, but announcement of the recipients will be withheld until the Athletic council passes on the awards. Numerals were given to nine grapplers who won in the inter-class wrestling meet.

Award Wrestling Numerals
The Varsity cheer leaders now have a choice between the blanket and a "W" sweater, according to an amendment passed by the board passed were to give members of the swimming team which won first place in the Big Ten Conference meet a major "W"; to change rules governing intra-mural gymnastic competition; and to designate that a white sweater with a red band be awarded to Varsity swimmers.

The following men got wrestling numerals: I. E. Nessler, T. Suzuki, H. B. Stair, Holmes, J. D. Peterson, F. J. Shaller, R. J. Stipek, A. M. Obrecht, I. O. Hembre.

Gymnastic Rules
These rules governing intra-mural gymnastic competition, as recommended by Coach F. E. Schlatter were adopted:

1. Each man must compete in at least two events.

igan, Iowa State, Grinnell, and the University of the South are some of the teams which will compete in the mile relay race in the university section.

Teams from all sections of the United States will be entered in the meet. The University of the South, of Sewanee, Tenn., has already entered, and the entries of Vanderbilt university, Centre College, Texas A. and M. and Occidental college of San Francisco are expected to be received soon.

Have Rain Insurance
Among the famous coaches who will be here with their track teams are A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago, Bob Simpson of Missouri, former world's record holder in the high hurdles, "Indian" Schulte of Nebraska, Howard Jones of Iowa, "Tom" Jones of Wisconsin, Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, Harry Gill of Illinois, John Nicholson of the University of the South, and Frank Loomis, Jr., of Hastings college, another former holder of the world's record in the 120-yard hurdles.

To guard against the ill-wind of the "rain gods" cutting into the gate receipts, rain insurance has been taken out on the Drake meet. Should one-tenth or more of an inch of rain fall between the hours of 8:30 and 2:30 on the days of the meet, teams entered in the games will be guaranteed full expense money.

Award Gold Watches
The meet has been divided into three sections, university, college and high school. Two days will be required to complete the holding of the various events. Specially engraved gold watches will be awarded the winners of the special events held in connection with the meet and medals will be given for places in all events.

The 100-yard dash, 120-yard hurdles, 440-yard low hurdles, shot put, javelin throw, discus throw, high jump, broad jump, and pole vault are the special events to be held this year.

Another new event this year will

2. Each member of a class or college team entering in at least two previous events and scoring over 75 per cent of the possible judges' points shall be awarded his college or class insignia.

3. Contestants may compete in more than two events if they choose and one point will be added to their team standing for each extra event in which he scores 65 per cent or over of the possible judges' points.

4. The team standing will be obtained by taking the grand average of the members' marks in their two highest events and adding thereto one point for each extra event in which a contestant scores 65 per cent or over of the possible judges' points.

"W" Men Do Not Score
5. All "W" men will compete but will not score in the team standings.

6. The men placing first or second in the fencing and broadsword contests will be awarded the class or college insignia.

The following amendment pertaining to the award for cheerleader was adopted:

The Varsity cheerleader shall receive for his award either the blanket as provided for in the constitution at present, or a white V necked sweater, with a regulation "W" having a small white letter "c" in the middle, similar to the award of a Varsity manager.

Swimmers Get Major "W"
The following amendment was adopted in interpretation of amendment covering the award of the major "W" in swimming for first and second places in Conference meets:

"That the major "W" be awarded to members of the Wisconsin relay team winning first place in the Conference in that event."

It was further voted that when the major "W" is awarded in swimming, it shall be given on a white sweater, with red band around the waist, to distinguish it from other sports.

SOCCER ENTRIES DUE APRIL 28

Inter-Class Tourney Will Start Soon After College Compet

Entries for the inter-college soccer tournament must be in with Coach Fred E. Schlatter by Friday, April 28. The inter-class tourney will start after the inter-college matches are over.

College insignia will be awarded to the winning team in the first tournament, and the winners of the inter-class meets will receive their numerals. Points to count toward the Nelson trophy will be awarded to the various colleges as a result of the inter-college tourney.

The Wisconsin varsity soccer squad will be picked from members of the teams entered in the inter-college and inter-class tournaments which will take place this spring, and the squad will start practicing in anticipation of the fall season.

Soccer will probably be ranked as a minor sport at Wisconsin next fall, and arrangements have already been made to play Minnesota in soccer on the morning of the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game at Minneapolis next fall. Games can probably be arranged with the University of Michigan, the Michigan Aggies, and the University of Chicago.

At several of the Big Ten schools, soccer has been a minor sport for some time. Minnesota is at present in the same condition as is Wisconsin. They have been having class teams, and hope to have the game established as a minor sport next autumn.

TRACK SQUAD MEETS FROSH CINDER MEN

Winners Stand Good Chance to Enter Drake Relays

Varsity track men and freshmen squad speedsters will open the outdoor track season with a Frosh-Varsity clash at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Camp Randall. Coach Jones expects the results of the meet to be of advantage in choosing his entries for the Drake relays to be held at Drake college, Iowa, next Friday and Saturday.

Distance men, hurdlers, weight men, and sprinters, who will represent the Varsity today are all in fair condition, having trained once and sometimes twice a day during the spring recess. The weather has been too severe for broad jumpers, high jumpers, and pole vaulters to risk spraining their muscles in outdoor work, but these men will probably make a fair showing without excessive training.

Stolley Runs Hurdles
Knollin, Stolley, and Newell are the men who will run the high and low hurdles. Stolley has been making especially good time in the 440-yard low hurdles.

Platten and Gibson are the most formidable contenders in the high jump, while for the pole vault, Merrick is sure of coping first honors.

Some of the weight tossers slated to compete are Sundt, Wood, Yaudes, Gude, and D. Gibson.

Frosh in Poor Shape
Coach Meade Burke's freshmen squad, which has not had the advantage of the week of outdoor work, is in poor shape for a grueling contest. The number of freshmen reporting for practice at the present time is comparatively small, and the Varsity runners should have no great difficulty in swamping the yearlings.

The following are the entries for the Varsity and some of the freshmen entries who have annexed points in former meets:
