FIVE CENTS

R. O. T. C. UNITS IN HIGHER WORK SHOW INCREASES

Enrollment Now Reaches 1200, Stated Major Brunzell at Fraternity Banquet

"Prospects for the R. O. T. C. this year are excellent," said Major O. L. Brunzell, commandant, at the first luncheon of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, held at noon yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. banquet room.

"Students are enrolling every day, so that we have not tabulated the total enrollment, but I may say that it has reached 1,200 already. The number of freshman is just what it was last year at this time, though we expected a decrease, judging from early figures," the major continued.

New Officers Introduced

"The number of sophomores taking the courses has increased, and there is a material increase in advanced courses, which, after all, is perhaps the most important feature of our work. The basic course is valuable, but the greatest service the department can render is to train officers and graduate them from advanced courses," he said.

Four officers recently detailed to the university, as a result of inspection of the work of the department by the chiefs of infantry, artillery, signal corps, and ordnance last year, were introduced to the members of Scabbard and Blade.

Plan Year's Activities

These officers and their sections here are Capt. W. R. McClure and Capt. J. E. Hull, freshman infantry; Capt. L. S. Gerow, junior infantry, and Capt. R. K. Learner, senior field artillery. All four of these officers come to the university direct from army service schools of their branch of the service.

Plans were made at the meeting to hold luncheon meetings every two weeks, and to cooperate with the cadet officers' association in planning an officers' banquet and other social affairs during the year.

Y. M. C. A. Bureau Reports Plenty of Work in Afternoon

Do you want a job?

The employment bureau of the Y. M. C. A. has work for men who are willing to do manual labor, as housecleaning or lawn raking. Other positions are available but the majority of these are manual labor.

"Jobs come in every morning for work to be done during the afternoon. If students will apply at the office between classes or during the noon hour, they may obtain work for the afternoon," said Miss Katherine Rosenberry, employment secretary.

SENIOR RINGS MAY BE ORDERED THIS WEEK

The Blue Dragon rings, for years the symbol of Wisconsin senior women, may be ordered this week by the women of the class of '25, according to Dorothy John, '25, president of Blue Dragon.

"Women who order their rings at this time will have them by the first week in December," Miss John said yesterday. "This will give them the advantage of being able to wear their rings for a long part of the senior year."

A representative of the firm that makes the rings will be in the W. S. G. A. office at noon and at 5 o'clock Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to take orders.

Y. W. C. A. FRIENDSHIP GROUPS ATTRACT 142

One hundred and forty-two women of the university signed up as members of the Y. W. C. A. friendship groups last night at a mass meeting in Lathrop parlors. The women will be notified of the opening of the groups by the ten sophomore leaders, who were introduced by Rena J. Grubb, '26, last night. Miss Mary Anderson, Y. W. C. A. director, and Elizabeth Stolte, '25, president, spoke briefly.

Boa Constrictor Now in Alcohol

A change in climate is thought to have been the cause of death last Sunday of the small boa constrictor that was given to the zoology department by a local fruit dealer.

The specimen was placed in alcohol for preservation by C. Kipp Weichert, assistant, and is now on display in the main hall of the biology building.

"The snake never ate anything after it was turned over to us and showed symptoms of being injured by traveling in refrigeration from the Caribbean islands," Mr. Weichert stated. "Snakes of this species have been known to live in northern climates before for long periods."

OUTING CLUB TO MEET TOMORROW

Organization For Underclassmen Sponsors Outdoor Sports

Outing club will hold its first regular meeting of the year at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow night in the fifth floor lecture room, Lathrop hall.

This club is for the purpose of developing outdoor sports which are not organized under W. A. A., according to Doris Burdick '25, president. Any girl is eligible for membership and it is especially an organization for underclassmen.

In order to become a member of Outing club, each girl is required to do 10 hours in at least two of the approved sports, which are ice-skating, roller skating, tobogganing, skiing, horseback riding, bicycling, boating and outdoor swimming.

Pins are awarded upon the completion of 25 hours in three sports. This gives the wearer 50 points in W. A. A. The final award which is a large Outing club emblem is obtained by leading five special excursions such as the annual fall hobo hike and the different picnics.

The officers of the club are Doris Burdick '25, president; Elizabeth Pier '26, vice president; Alice Colony '26, secretary, and Katherine Arnquist '26, treasurer.

PROF. DYKEMA HEADS KIWANIS CLUB MUSIC

Prof. Peter W. Dykema, formerly in charge of community singing at the university, has been made chairman of the music committee of Kiwanis International. Previously Professor Dykema directed community singing throughout the state until he was appointed to the faculty of Columbia university. He had charge of singing in the Madison Kiwanis club.

BLAINE NEAR INJURY WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Governor John J. Blaine and a party of friends narrowly escaped injury Monday evening, when their car overturned in a ditch near Wausaukee, Marinette county, on the way to Madison, according to reports. The accident occurred about 7:30 o'clock. The machine was not damaged and the governor and his party continued on their way. The governor was returning from a survey of the region in northern Wisconsin which was stricken by the late tornado.

DATE OF HARESFOOT TOUR IS CHANGED

The Haresfoot club's annual trip will not be taken during Christmas vacation this year. The club made this decision last night following a statement by Sidney Thorson, '25, that theater bookings for the Christmas season could not be obtained. The date for the tour was discussed but no definite time was set. Thomas Morony, '25, president, announced that singing classes would be held in conjunction with the regular dancing classes.

Groups of Lyrics and Childhood Rhymes Hold Audience

By Leo John.

Singing a moderately light program with exceptional ease and grace, Mme. Louise Homer won the hearts of hundreds in the stock pavilion last night in the first of the Union Board concert series.

The program was divided into four groups of from three to six songs each, mostly of the lyric type in English. The familiar Schubert "Serenade," in German, was best liked in the first group.

The second division on the program consisted of three arias, "Les Larmes" from Werther, by Massenet; "Chanson du Tigre" from Paul et Virginie, by Masse; and "Stride la Vampa" from Il Trovatore, by Verdi. The latter with its quick staccato notes and march-like tempo was warmly applauded.

"Mother Goose," a series of familiar childhood rhymes set to music by Sidney Homer, was best liked in the third group, which included two other songs by the same writer, "Sheep and Lambs" and "How's My Boy?"

The final section consisted of six light songs, chiefly of the humorous type, sung with geniality and sympathy. The encore to this group, "Little Orphan Annie," with just the slightest bit of character interpretation, evoked much applause.

W. S. G. A. BOARD MEETING TONIGHT

Alice Corl '25, President, Will Outline Program For Year

An important meeting of W. S. G. A. board, which is the first of the regular bi-weekly meetings, will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in concert room, Lathrop hall.

The full program of W. S. G. A. will be outlined for the year, according to Alice Corl '25, president, and it is extremely important that all members be present.

W. S. G. A. board consists of the officers of W. S. G. A., the presidents of each rooming house containing three or more girls, and one representative from each sorority and dormitory.

The duties of this board is to legislate on all W. S. G. A. matters which are presented by council or by any member.

"It is the duty of each individual member of this board to consider herself responsible for the type of conduct of the members of her house, and to report to the president of W. S. G. A. any conduct in violation of the regulations of W. S. G. A.," Miss Corl said.

AG COLLEGE IS PART OF INFORMATION TOUR

The College of Agriculture was visited yesterday by 14 Mississippi bankers and farmers who collected information on the Badger system of diversified farming.

Army of Midges Take Over Campus; Battle With Students for Supremacy

Chironomid, whither wanderest thou and why? Thus think we all nowadays. Madison is infested with just myriads and myriads of tiny bugs called midges, or using the scientific name, chironomids. They fly around about us wherever we go, and one has to be earless, eyeless, noseless, and mouthless to keep the inquisitive little creatures from poking around in his system.

Midges are water bugs. They live in the mud at the bottom of the lake all day, but at night they come out of the water and go exploring. According to the laws of their country, they are supposed to swim

Parody Contest to Close Today

Today is the last chance for students to submit parodies on "What's the Matter With Father," to be sung at the Minnesota football game in connection with Father's Day, October 18.

Students who still have versions to submit can leave them at the Daily Cardinal office, for Marshall Diebold, '25, who is in charge of this feature for Father's Day. An award of $5 will be given the writer of the best parody submitted.

The selection of the song will be made sometime during the week so that it can be printed on the program for the Coe-Wisconsin game this coming Saturday and can be rehearsed by the students in attendance at the game.

PEP BAND HOLDS FIRST REHEARSAL

Twenty-five Musicians Gather in Music Hall For Practice

A constitution will be drawn up and the roster of the new pep band made public following a rehearsal next Thursday night, it was announced by Paul Faust, '26, last night following an enthusiastic meeting at Music hall. Twenty-five musicians were at the rehearsal last night to work on fundamental tone testing and to practice Wisconsin favorites.

This was the second meeting of the organization, the first meeting having been held last Tuesday night when names of applicants were received and instruments assigned.

Major E. W. Morphy is co-operating with the new organization and supervising the rehearsals. He reports that there is still places for a baritone, a saxophone, a cornet, a B-flat alto, and a bugle.

Through co-operation from the athletic department a uniform consisting of sweater and cap will be given to members in the near future.

This organization has been formed as a permanent part of one of Wisconsin's traditions—the Red Wagon, which was revived last year very successfully. For the lead in mass meeting, pep-fests, team send-offs, and team receptions the services of the new organization are almost indispensable, many claim.

George F. "Shorty" Walstead, '25, varsity cheer-leader, will meet with the organization next Thursday night to work out some ideas in regard to the work of the band. The meeting will be held at 7:15 o'clock in Music hall. Applicants for membership in the band should come to the meeting or communicate with Paul Faust, Badger 191.

COUNTRY MAG COMES OUT ON CAMPUS TODAY

The first issue of the Country magazine will be on sale today at the home economics building and Agricultural hall. A novel cover and an unusual number of good stories and articles by faculty members and students are the features of the first issue.

TO STAGE MIXER FRIDAY NIGHT IN LATHROP ROOMS

Forensics Board Gives Up Gymnasium on Protest of Dr Meanwell

The all-university mixer which will be staged under the auspices of the Forensics board on Friday night, October 10, will be in Lathrop hall, according to an announcement made by George J. Fiedler '25, chairman of the dance committee and vice president of the board. Both the concert room and the gymnasium will be used.

Dancing Spoils Gym Floor

The decision to hold the mixer in Lathrop hall instead of the men's gymnasium was made following a conference with Coach W. E. Meanwell. Dr. Meanwell declared that he was opposed to dancing in the gymnasium during the basketball season.

"Dancing makes the floor so slippery that the men are liable to fall and be injured," he said. "After the Union board mixer last week Wakeman of the varsity squad fell and was temporarily disabled."

"The purpose of this mixer is to raise funds to meet the annual budget of the Forensics board," declared Fiedler. "Unless a large amount of money is raised at the mixer it will be necessary to cancel one of the intercollegiate debates."

Strictly Student Affair

One of Thompson's eight-piece orchestras has been obtained for the affair, according to Fergus Chandler '25, a member of the dance committee. The Forensics board has decided to use the balcony in Lathrop gym for a check room to prevent the loss of clothes and to avoid confusion.

To make this mixer a strictly student affair all those who attend must present their fee cards at the door. The price of admission is 35 cents per person. A committee of 12 women will be appointed by Frieda Auchter '25, the other member of the dance committee, to serve on an introduction committee.

First Hour Exams Are Scheduled For Week of October 20

Formal, written, one-hour examination covering all work up to and including the examination day itself will be given to every student in the university about October 20. This was the announcement sent out yesterday by university officials.

Reports of all grades below fair will be entered in the offices of the deans of each college before October 27.

In the College of Letters and Science reports of sophomores and freshmen will be sent to Dean Roe's office and those of seniors and juniors will go to the office of Dean Sellery.

Mid-semester reports will be due on or before November 27 this year, the announcement continues. The examinations will probably extend over a period of two weeks preceding the date upon which reports are requested.

OUTER GATE WILL BE REORGANIZED, BALLAM

Plans for a revival of the Outer Gate, a non-fraternity organization, have not as yet been definitely formed, according to Cyril Ballam, president of the society last year. The Outer Gate, organized last year, had proposed to gather non-fraternity men into one group to stimulate athletics and social affairs on the campus.

"We will start some such group this year just as soon as the students get settled," said Ballam, "for the Memorial union needs cooperation and athletics should be stimulated."

The standing committee appointed for this purpose consists of: Paul Cauton, chairman; and Cyril Ballam, Hig Murray, Herbert Naujoiks, Harold Tacki, Fergus Chandler, Henry Blake, and Ralph Axley, the remaining members.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDFROSH GRIDDERS
WILL SCRIMMAGE
AGAINST VARSITYMen on Squad Are Light, But Seem to Be Very Fast

After the usual drill in fundamentals, Coach Sundt gave his men some Minnesota plays and sent them through a long dummy scrimmage last night. The frosh are perfecting the Gopher plays to be used against the varsity in scrimmage the latter part of this week. Following the running through of these plays, Coach Jones gave the men a drill in blocking and carrying the ball.

The latter part of the practice was devoted to actual scrimmage. In the first lineup Sundt used Kuehlthau at center flanked by Weathers and Fetterson at guards. Kreske and Wilson were at tackle while H. Christianson and Bartlett held down the wing positions. In the backfield Rosen, Curtis, Metzberg and Crowfoot made up the quartet of ball toters. This outfit was given the ball and tried out the Minnesota shifts against a second eleven.

Tackles Look Good

Kreske looked mighty good in there at tackle and will probably be a permanent fixture at one of the tackle positions. On every play coming over his side of the line the big boy opened a hole wide enough for a wagon to pass through. The passing of Kuehlthau was rather erratic and will have to be polished up before he can be a valuable pivot man. The rest of the line played spasmodically. At times they open up holes for the backs and again they let the opposition sift through like water.

In the backfield Curtis looked good at fullback. Several times he plowed through the line for good gains. At quarterback Rosen showed great promise and with a little help from Coach Sundt should develop into a real star. The other men in the backfield were a bit off form at times although Crowfoot is fast and as soon as he smoothes over a few of the rough spots he will be a first-class back.

Christianson Is Good End

E. Christianson, playing end on the defensive eleven, looked mighty sweet as a wingman. He is a tall rangy fellow with a shock of red hair to top it off with and looks every inch a football man. He was in every play, whether it came his way or not and it always took at least two men and sometimes three to put him out of the play. He is a deadly tackler and nailed all plays coming around his end.

Tonight the frosh will be given some more Minnesota plays and then will be sent against the varsity the last part of this week or the first of next. Although this year's frosh eleven is lighter than that of last year the men are fast and aggressive and will put up a real battle in their scrimmage with the varsity.

COE HALFBACK IS NOW
PLACED ON SIDELINES

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Oct. 17.—Smith, sophomore halfback of the Crimson grid team, has been suffering from a bad blister on his heel and unless it is completely recovered Coach Moray Eby will probably keep him out of the Wisconsin game Saturday.

COE TICKETS PUT ON SALE FRIDAY

Tickets for the Coe game to be played Saturday will go on sale Friday at 8 o'clock and continue until 6 o'clock. Student seats will be sold Saturday until noon as has been the custom for the Ames and North Dakota games. One ticket can be secured on each fee card.

Glory and Reward in Scouting
Football Games, Says Zuppke

That the business of scouting a football game is not without its glory and its reward is told by Bob Zuppke, former Wisconsin griddier and now coach of Illinois football teams, in a current issue of a sports magazine.

Zuppke believes that scouting gives a team a broader knowledge of the game through a close study of the more important details of play. By close observation the scout may find a weak place in the opponent's line which, if taken advantage of, might mean a touchdown or even a game.

The offensive strength of a team can be judged by analyzing the tactics of each player, and by closely watching the running plays, passing attacks, and punts. The important thing about the offense that the scout must find out is the greatest threat when run, pass, or kick, how and by whom it is executed so that a defense can be built for it.

The thing to watch for in an opponent's defense is his greatest weakness so that an attack may be adapted to it. If the team is particularly strong on running attacks, the weakest spot in the opponent's line should be studied so that this attack may be used to the best advantage.

SO IT SEEMS

By Ken Butler.

Ryan worked his men on the practice field just long enough last night to get them warmed up, then trotted them into the stadium and continued secret practice.

The all-Americans used Coe college plays, consisting of a varied attack of passes, end runs, and line plays. The feature of the Coe style is the unbalanced line. The all-Americans used this last night. Some progress was made against the varsity, but no sensational runs were made.

The players are still weak on tackling and Ryan sent several backfield men to the sidelines when their work in this phase was faulty.

The squad spent a half hour at the beginning of practice tackling the dummy. Although tackling is a fundamental and usually mastered during the first weeks of practice, the team's obvious weakness in this department of the game makes dummy practice necessary.

John C. Karel, star Badger halfback of the 90's, was an interested spectator on the sidelines last night. Since he has been out of college Karel has been one of the state's greatest exponents of clean sports and true college spirit.

Coach Lowman is working with the ends every day, showing them the points of the flank position. He can be seen on the practice field every afternoon with a little group of aspirants for the end position around him. Lowman not only tells the men how to do it, but demonstrates himself the philosophy of block-

Attempt Made to Abolish Betting
at Badger Games

"Effort is being made at the best institutions in the country to entirely eliminate the betting evil and it is our earnest endeavor to blot out the evil at Wisconsin," said T. E. Jones, athletic director, yesterday afternoon.

"For the past three years the athletic authorities in the Western conference have conducted an educational campaign against betting on the part of students and alumni. However, it is necessary to present it each year to the old students as well as the incoming freshmen.

"In this connection it is interesting to note the recent remark of a noted educator, Dr. Tigert, commissioner of education of the United States. He prophesies that unless the betting evil as applied to college football is curbed in the next ten years, intercollegiate football will be abolished."

ing, tackling, pass-catching and other points.

Williams, who was clipped from behind last Saturday in the Ames game, forcing him to retire, is now out of practice and it is reported will be lost to the squad until the conference season is well under way.

Joe Steinauer has issued his call for fish—frosh, varsity, and otherwise—and will begin his class listed in the sport catalog as "swimming and eligibility."

Ten men instead of the usual eight will run in the cross country meet with Marquette Saturday. Marquette has the same hill and dale team that went through the entire season last year.

All-Conference?

Teckemeyer, center on the varsity football team and captain-elect of the crew, is a man Badger students may be proud of. He has made two W's in each of these sports and today looms up as one of the best centers in the conference. His work on last year's wonder crew was also remarkable.

'W' BASKET MEN
BOLSTER SQUADMeanwell Working and With Last Year's Freshmen to Perfect Play

With five W men of last year's basketball squad back on the job, prospects are bright for a fast quintet and a successful season.

Doc Spooner, varsity forward of last year, is back; also Barwig, Wackman, Captain Diebold, and Varney. All of these men have played two or three years under Coach Meanwell and have had conference experience.

AWA Men Hopeful.

Although the men have been working only a week, the squad already has the appearance of a theoretical team. Diebold, all conference guard, with Barwig to form the defense end, Spooner and Varney, two sure basket shooters, and Wackman, a possible center, are the main stays.

Tangen, Merkle, Christenson, and Gornon, aWa men of last year, are out to give the W men a hard fight to keep their positions.

Frosh Show Ability.

Then too, Miller, Droop, Otis, Martel, Captain Brooks, Younge, Hargett, Andrews, and Bane, all of last year's freshman squad, are trying hard to perfect Doc's system. Meyers, Bick, Anderson and McCarthy, captain of the '23 freshman team, have reported and are showing promise of varsity ability. All of these men have worked the short passing game and with a little coaching will be conference caliber.

The coach has been teaching the men to pivot, dribble, shoot, and pass. As soon as the men have learned these fundamentals, scrimmage will begin.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDTRACK TEAM TO BE BUILT AROUND
FOURTEEN W MEN

Keen Competition Will Develop in Every Event This Year

With 14 W men back to form the nucleus of the track team, Coaches Burke and Jones are looking forward to a successful season in both indoor and outdoor track this year. up to the present time, all of the men are eligible and Wisconsin should be well represented on both track and field this year.

Lloyd Vallely, former conference half mile champion, will captain the team this year. He is sure of garnering points in 2's favorite event in most of the meets this year. Tuhtar, who did better than 6 ft. 3 in. in the high jump last season, is also back. In the shot put the Badger coaches will have two very good men. Schwarze, winner of many meets while still a frosh, and Harmon, who tosses the weight quite a few feet, will take care of this event.

Many Distance Men Back.

Keen competition will be developed in the distance runs, where there are many men trying for places. These include Piper and Bergstresser, W men, and Perry, Petaja, Cohen, Schilke, Carter, Kubly, Campbell, and Schutt. These men are the equal of most in the conference.

Several good dash men and sprinters have also returned to school. They are McAndrews, who does the hundred in 9.4-5, McGivern, Gil Smith, and Kennedy, three other W men, and Flueck, Lewis, Hill, Menke, Schmidt and Bud Smith.

Broad Jump Taken Care Of.

The hurdles will be rather weak with only Muzzy back. In the broad jump Coach Burke will have McAndrews and also Muzzy. Kreiger is the only pole vaulter back who has made a W.

Cassidy, one of the best milers in the conference, will also be wearing the Cardinal persey. Besides the above mentioned men, there are several good tracksters from the 1927 frosh team. They are Stehr, McGinnis, Francis, Frackleton, and Aller.

With the above mentioned men back, Wisconsin should have a well balanced team. Very few men were lost through graduation. They were ex-Capt. Hammann, Finkle, Donohue, Reed, Jones and Snider. Their places will be filled with inexperienced men, but who ought to make good this year.

Prominent Athletes of Middle West Are Represented on Yearling Team

Wisconsin's frosh basketballers are learning to appreciate the phrase, the "survival of the fittest," as Coach George Levis is cutting his crop of yearling basket-court hopefuls from the original 125 to 40 picked men, the best of this year's acquisitions.

Names prominent in the prep school circles of the middle west last year are prominent on the roster given out by the Frosh mentor. They include such men as Brown, all-state man of Indiana last year; Eg, Illinois, all state man; Barry and Gentile, all-tournament men from the University of Chicago's national tournament last year, and Hotchkiss and Dew, Wisconsin all-state men.

The list of men retained follows: Millard, Brown, Hotchkiss, Henis, Ebentier, Nelson, Behr, Millard, Hillard, Freytag, Goff, Drew, Wagner, Wright, Paul, Weigent, Dunn, Sander, Mutschler, Alexander, Richards, Eg, Barry, Gentile, Messmer, Wolver, Holtz, Thiede, Wolf, Boldewack, Murphy, Hotchkiss, Dawkiss, Warnky, Minogus, Cochran, and Gunther.

Turns Out Stars

Mead Burke, coach of cross country and assistant to Jones in track, has done good work at Wisconsin. He starred here some years ago on the cinder path, and today is turning out star distance men. He has raised the cross country sport to a high level, and his teams are the equal of any in the conference.

"Red" Parker, "Larry" Hall
Eulogized By Hugh Fullerton in Article

Reed Parker and Lawrence Hall, two famous Badger cheerleaders, are placed in the rank of famous yell directors by Hugh Fullerton, well known sports writer, in his article, "Yells That Win Games," in the current "Liberty" magazine.

"When Parker led that wild Madison crowd in the old Ole Olson, Yon Yonson, You Bet, Wisconsin, the stands fairly rocked," says Mr. Fullerton.

"Red" Parker, famous for his eccentric antics and dancing as he led the Wisconsin football yells, was cheerleader here during the years between 1908 and 1911 while Lawrence Hall, now a Madison attorney, completed his course on the hill in 1920.

Wisconsin also comes in for mention in Fullerton's article in a bit of football history of the old Phil King days.

"It is true," he observes, "that Yale crowds seem to burst into cheering spontaneously and frequently override the direction of the cheerleaders. I remember once going on the field with a great Wisconsin team, led by Phil King, who had been one of the greatest players in the east. As the westerners, coached by King, ran onto the field, Yale stood to welcome them, and just as he ran across the goal line Pat O'Dea dropped a ball and kicked it. The fame of O'Dea's kicking had spread over the east and as the ball on a long, whirling flight arched across the field, struck the ground once and bounded over the goal line—the Yale crowd, which had been standing and cheering, suddenly said 'Woo-oo-oo' and sat down."

Badger Captains
No. 7—Herbert Schmidt

The champion of Big Ten gymnasts will captain the Badger gym team during the coming season. In order to master the art of controlling muscles, and to be able to make them cooperate smoothly, requires constant training from early childhood. At the age of six Huck Schmidt started his gym career. When he was 15 he enrolled in the Milwaukee Training school and seriously began his training. While attending South High in Milwaukee, Schmidt was a member of the high school gym team.

Later Schmidt became a member of the Wisconsin Gymnastic association and held the championship of the association for two years.

During his first year at Wisconsin Schmidt went out for the frosh cross country team and later responded to Coach Schlatter's call for frosh gymnasts. He won his numerals in this sport and was elected captain of the frosh team.

In his first year of varsity competition Schmidt won three places at the conference gym meet. Last year Schmidt won the all-conference championship, a feat that requires all the strength and ability that a man possesses. Schmidt is equally proficient on the horizontal and parallel bars, the flying rings, the side horse and at tumbling.

This year the team will be better than in previous years and plans are being made to give exhibitions between halves of basketball games. Schmidt will graduate this year with two W's, a major W for all round champion in the conference, and the reputation of being the best all round gymnast that has ever performed in Wisconsin.

Coach Steinauer Calls Meeting of Frosh Tank Aspirants
For Tonight

Joe Steinauer will start off his varsity and frosh practice next week with drills for the regulars, yearlings, and water basketball men. With many of last year's tankmen back, and this augmented by a crop of good swimmers from last year's freshmen, Steinauer has optimistic hopes for a successful year provided the old bugaboo—ineligibility—doesn't nip off some of his star performers.

Varsity workouts have been set for 4 to 6 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday each week. The freshman swimmers will practice and receive instruction on Tuesday and Thursday from 4 to 6 o'clock, while the water basketball men will practice Monday, Wednesday, and Friday night from 8 to 9 o'clock.

All freshman swim aspirants will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the gym. Steinauer also wants those who have not signed up for the squad, but who want to try out, to attend the meeting. There will also be a meeting at the same time of frosh and varsity water basketball men.

school as was expected. Aagesen, who had intended to return the second semester, has been promoted by the Ditto company to a branch managership, and will not be back. He was a top notch tennis player and his loss to the '25 squad will be severely felt.

Students are lucky, for, as a member of an ethics class aptly put it the other day, they have their future ahead of them while those who are at the other end of life have their future behind them.

It is time, once more, to start saying, "Support the Memorial Union."

The smallest demands from Wisconsin for football tickets is being made for the Minnesota game. When one considers that Minnesota is one of the Badgers' oldest rivals, that the Minnesota game has been a solid tradition here for years, and that Iowa and Notre Dame are both comparatively new teams to Wisconsin, this circumstance seems strange.

The pledge to wear the green cap has been taken up by the pledges of 11 more fraternities, after it was commenced by the pledges of 20 organizations. The frosh have something new here which should be recognized and commended by the university. May more '28ers join them.

Wisconsin might be said to be behind the times. It is now enjoying the summer which should have started four months ago.

Now that the Hill has announced that the first hour written examinations will be held during the week of October 20, a great number of students will wake up to the fact that studying in the university means business from the word go. Freshmen especially will receive their first experience with the proverbial blue book and the system employed by the university to determine how the students are attacking their scholastic work.

WHY ALL THE PUBLICITY?

Isn't it astonishing that those who are in charge of Fathers' Day should be putting out so much publicity for the event? They drag signs around at football games, put them up all over the campus, fairly litter the rooms, to say nothing of automobile wind-shields, with posters. In short, they seem to think that there is a danger that the campus will not be flooded with fathers on October 18.

That is surprising. It would seem only too evident that every father who could possibly make the trip, even the halt and the lame, would come to Madison as a matter of course, only too evident that every student, ed and co-ed, would see to it that his and her father would be on deck for the event. It could not be otherwise.

In fact, already fathers in Virginia and Texas and other points just as far away have already answered the invitation and made reservations for the father-faculty dinner which is to be held that night.

Some events which take place on the campus must have publicity to put them over. But Fathers' Day. Why, it should need no publicity. The number which was expected by the committee to be on hand is almost reached now, and there are two more days to go before the closing of the ticket sale. There are 500 fathers right here in Madison, too, who will probably send in their reservations in a body today.

No. Fathers' Day should be as assured an event as Homecoming. Why all the publicity?

LECTURE ROOM COURTESY

Last week a distinguished scholar, who adds lustre to Wisconsin's name by his presence here, substituted for the regular lecturer in a popular Letters and Science course. Because his manner of delivery was somewhat eccentric, and on account of the fact that he went into his subject with more than conventional earnestness, the class gave him scant attention, and even so far forget common courtesy as to laugh openly at the most serious points and to express its amusement by all manner of groans and forceful gestures. These were the actions of the class as a class, not the actions of the few sophisticated fools to be found in every lecture room.

And this is but a particularly disgraceful example of an attitude that in varying degrees is far too common in schools and colleges. By virtue of their high calling, their position, their learning we owe to our teachers and professors more than the usual respect due to superior age.

But, on the contrary, many of us do not even observe toward them the ordinary rules of courtesy which we would be ashamed to violate in our treatment of our classmates.

SELF-INDULGENCE

A professor on the hill, commenting upon students, ascribes their frequent downfalls to the habit of self-indulgence. Beyond question, this is true. Freshmen come here to be introduced, far too many of them for the first time, to self-reliance and utter independence.

Being very human, they find liberty sweet to enjoy, and self-indulgence follows. They have nobody to whom to answer, and all that is required of them is the minimum of work necessary to "get by." How well they do their work, what part if any they take in other activities, is purely a matter of individual decision, often poorly made.

Nor is this the case with freshmen only, for the same state of affairs continues with the sophomore, the junior, and the senior. To put off studying until the last minute, to go to the show instead of to the library, to dance instead of to sleep, to chat with the students in the next room rather than to give the lecture notes the once over,—all these are forms of that pernicious habit. They gain nothing for the student, they give him nothing in return, and only serve to make it harder for the individual to settle to his tasks.

A little realization and a little self-analysis on the part of each student would be infinitely strengthening.

NOT A BAD PLACE

It really isn't a bad place to go. Indeed, it is a splendid place to go, for it increases the individual's self-respect, gives him an opportunity to come in contact with something greater and better than that which may be found within the narrow limits of a textbook, affords him a time for deep and wholesome meditation, and grants him many opportunities for the finest kind of social contact. Church!

A sufficient time has already elapsed this year to permit the organization of work and the allotment of time. Hence, there is no longer any reason for not visiting the various churches of Madison and selecting one to attend. The habit of going to church may be formed easily, for once the individual attends, the second and third times are natural, consequences of the interest aroused, and thereafter, the habit takes hold. None will dispute and all will admit the value of church attendance. None ever regret attendance, but many regret non-attendance.

ARTS CLUB TO SKETCH MODELS; MEETS TODAY

Plans for the year will be discussed at the first meeting of the Arts and Crafts Club at 7 o'clock tonight in the industrial arts laboratory. This club is mainly for the purpose of bringing together people interested in the subject of the art. Applications for membership will be received tonight. Last year prominent speakers were brought from other cities to address the club.

This year tentative plans are being made to have sketching from live models at the meetings.

Meetings are held every two weeks, alternating business and social meetings. Election of officers will be held at the next meeting, and until that time the club will be under last year's officers, who were:

Few Parties on Social Calendar
For This Week-end

Only one dancing party is scheduled to be held Friday evening. Many organizations are planning to hold dances the week end of the Minnesota game and for this reason there will be only a few functions this week end.

Chi Phi

An informal dancing party will be given by members of Chi Phi at the chapter house on Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Noer have been invited to chaperon. "Jaimes, dear, your new suit looks

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity are entertaining with a "tux" party at the Park hotel on October 10. Prof. and Mrs. R. R. Arner will chaperon.

Delta Zeta

Members of Delta Zeta will entertain at open house on Friday evening from seven to nine o'clock. Mrs. G. Cook will chaperon.

Delta Pi Delta

Members of Delta Pi Delta will entertain on Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:00 o'clock at a smoker in honor of Professor Miller, one of the new professors in the journalism department. All men in the journalism course are invited to attend, especially freshmen and sophomores.

Chi Omega

Members of Chi Omega will entertain on Friday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock in honor of their chaperon, Mrs. Annette Day. The chaperon and one senior from each sorority will be invited.

PENNELL CROSBY '22 AND
OSCAR EKLUND '22 WED

Marion Pennell Crosby, a 1922 graduate of the university from the course in journalism, was married on Saturday to Oscar A. Eklund of Minneapolis.

The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Crosby, Rhinelander. The bride since her graduation has followed her profession in Minneapolis, publishing the monthly magazine, "Annals of No Man's Land." She has also been society editor of the Minnesota Star and for the last year had charge of the monthly publicity magazine of the Northwestern National bank of Minneapolis.

LOUISE HOMER IS GUEST OF SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Madame Louise Homer, who is a national honorary member of Sigma Alpha Iota, was entertained by Rho chapter at an informal reception at Music hall after her concert at the stock pavilion last evening.

SECOND BAND STARTS ON MARCHING DRILLS

The citizens of "Little Italy" are being given a treat these nights by the university second band when it goes down to those parts to practice marching. Considerable interest was aroused Monday night and practically all the children south of the railroad tracks turned out to greet the band which proceeded to march up and down the streets to the martial strains of "On Wisconsin" and other songs. Doubts were set at rest by the explanation that the second band, composed largely of new men who have had no marching experience, is merely going through its annual fall drill, under the direction of Norval Church of the music school.

NATIVE TALKS ON SPANISH SPORTS

Professor O. Solalinde to Address Club at Meeting Thursday Evening

Professor Solalinde, visiting here from the Centro De Estudio of Madrid, will address the Spanish club on "Sporting Life in Spain," at the first meeting, at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, in Lathrop hall. His address will be very simple, and as there are no requirements for membership all students are invited to attend whether they can speak Spanish fluently or not.

Pauline Hoebel, '26, and Kathryn Bigham, '25, accompanied at the piano by Luella Ninaber, will sing a group of popular songs in which the audience will be requested to join. Election of officers will also be held.

The club looks forward to a very interesting year. Students of the conversation classes are planning to present plays, and to participate in songs, music, and games at the coming meetings. There will also be 12 women present at each meeting to explain anything that may be puzzling and to help with the program.

Students' Office of Federal Board is Discontinued

Due to a shortage of funds to carry on the work adequately the federal board office formerly located in the Union building has been consolidated with the uptown office at 204 Monona avenue, according to E. M. Stenjem, in charge of the United States Veterans' bureau.

The office was used in the Union building for the purpose of providing a convenient place for federal board men in training at the university.

For the present men receiving training from the federal board will have to carry on their business with the uptown office. Though the consolidation is only temporary Mr. Stenjem could give no idea as

Kappa Eta Kappa Will Hold Mixer Thursday Evening

Kappa Eta Kappa, professional electrical engineering fraternity, in cooperation with the student branch of the A. I. E. E., will hold an informal mixer for all students in the course at the electrical engineering laboratory, at 7 o'clock, Thursday, October 9.

The meeting is a general get-together, get acquainted proposition. Freshmen and sophomores are especially invited to attend and make full use of this opportunity to meet their future instructors, classmates, and others in their profession, as well as to get acquainted with their course.

Unique electrical experiments will be in process, and questions will be answered. Short talks will be given by members of the electrical faculty. Supper and cider will be served.

GOODNIGHT SPEAKS TO STUDENTS IN CHURCH

"Student Life and Campus Problems" was the subject of an address by Dean S. H. Goodnight last Sunday noon in the First Congregational church to about a thousand students. Dean Goodnight outlined the main difficulties of the university as they came to him from his daily contact with the students, and suggested needed readjustments through student cooperation.

The dean's lecture was the first of a series planned by the Congregational church for the purpose of acquainting the undergraduates with prominent persons in our own and other universities.

"We have procured a corps of speakers for the remainder of this term," said the Rev. J. E. Sarles, pastor of the church, today. "President Ozora S. Davis, of Chicago, who will give the talk next Sunday, is in demand for college audiences all over the country. He is coming up to preach at our regular service next Sunday and he will address the students from 12 to 12:30 o'clock on 'A Man's Thinking and His Living.'" to when the university office would be reopened.

ELMAN TO APPEAR IN CONCERT HERE

Noted Violinist Booked For Madison Engagement on November 11

Mischa Elman, the celebrated violinist who played at the university gymnasium in the Union Board concert series two years ago, will give a recital at Christ Presbyterian church this year. The recital date is November 11 and the tickets are on sale at Hook Brothers store.

The students of the university and the residents of Madison have always given Elman packed houses at his concerts here.

Fritz Kreisler, Jascha Heifetz and Mischa Elman have received welcomes from Madison audiences equal to those which these artists receive in much larger musical centers. The art of great musicians is well understood and appreciated in Madison and, because of this, the artists give their message in the best manner possible.

The club was organized two years ago under the direction of Prof. H. F. Wilson, its custom being to meet twice a month on Tuesday nights at 6 o'clock when a lunch has been served, followed by talks by the members.

The Apis club is an international organization which was started in 1919 in England by a group of men at Benson, Oxon. The chapter here is the only one in the United States, and has already received a medal of efficiency for constructive work done. Cornell university is going to organize a chapter this year.

The club will hold a banquet and business meeting at 6 o'clock Tuesday night, October 21, in the entomology building. All students who are interested are asked to attend.

OPINION OF THE PRESS

"The most interesting programme maker of the season was Robert Schmitz. This young Frenchman seems to have the knack of selecting music to play that is both un-hackneyed and musically worthy and combining it in such a way that the listener's powers of attention are never overtaxed." — DEEMS TAYLOR, New York.
