Society Once Almost Defunct
Ten years ago the 50 members of the society by unanimous vote, agreed that the annual meetings and the entire organization be abandoned.

At the last meeting in 1915, Prof. L. S. Smith was elected secretary and treasurer. He undertook the almost hopeless task of making the society a successful and prosperous one. For the last ten years he has remained in office and the membership now stands at 300 instead of 50.

Modern Sheiks Not Nearly as Clever as the Old-timers

—FISH

Modern men may be termed sheiks but it is evident that this generation has not been the record breaker in winning women's hearts for according to Prof. Carl Russel Fish of the history department, our forefathers of the seventeenth century averaged three wives during their life.

"This was due to two factors," Professor Fish told his Representative Americans class. "It was absolutely necessary to a-a-a-a be married. At the time bachelorhood was not popular, and men out-lived the women in this particular generation."

Representative government, according to Fish, was started in this country by John Winthrop when a man in the Massachusetts colony refused to pay taxes because there was no representation, so Winthrop settled the argument by taking it upon himself to institute representation. A certain widow in Boston lost a favorite pig and legal proceedings followed. Because the officials of the government and the representatives could not agree, the bicameral system of legislation was introduced.

WEDNESDAY STARTS SORORITY PLEDGING

Formal pledging may take place any time after 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, February 26, the rules of the local pan-Hellenic regulating sorority rushing state. The preference slips will come through the office of the dean of women at this time. Informal pledging of girls not bid through this system of preferential bidding may occur after the morning of February 26.

11 O'clock Night

Sunday night will be an 11 o'clock night for women due to the fact that it is a night preceding a legal holiday, according to the W. S. G. A. office.

ICE CARNIVAL IS POSTPONED AGAIN

Warm Weather Once More Interferes; Ice Boat Race is Sunday

By S. K.

Wisconsin's Ice carnival, for the steenth time, has been postponed due to the poor condition of the ice and the warm weather.

The carnival which was to have been held at 7 o'clock tonight on the lower campus, has been indefinitely put off. It will be held as soon as cold weather sets in again.

An iceboat race, which has also been postponed numerous times, will be run at 11 o'clock Sunday morning if there is wind enough. There have been quite a number of entries, and the race will be held on Lake Mendota.

Entry lists for the ice carnival have been supplemented by the addition of Triangle, Delta Upsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, Theta Delta Chi, and Phi Alpha Delta. These additional entries bring the fraternity total to 11, and each group will send a four-man team to compete for the silver trophy which is offered for first place in the interfraternity relay.

According to John Eastman '27, chairman of features for the carnival, the ice meet will come a week from today if the weather man is good and gives some cold weather.

Legate to Talk Students' Help at Local Meet

Association with students in self-help enterprises, such as cooperative buying and housing will be the substance of the talk to be delivered by Ray H. Legate, secretary of the national student friendship drive, at the all-university meeting to be held in Madison this coming week.

Mr. Legate, who has been on the European continent for a number of years, studying the conditions among European students and visiting the various countries, will present many interesting facts for the enlightenment of American students interested in the work, was the announcement made by the committee in charge.

A program extending from Sunday, when Mr. Legate will speak on "The Student Friendship Fund, a Road to International Peace" at the first meeting in Lathrop parlors, into the coming week has been planned for the ensuing time of the conference.

MARTIN FAVORS LOCAL R. O. T. C. AERO UNIT

Major H. S. Martin, head of the air service for the sixth corps area, favors an air unit for the R. O. T. C. In conference with army officers and members of the National Aeronautical association chapter in Madison, Major Martin said that he would recommend the unit to members of the war department. The unit was denied to the school last year because the war department developed the old units, rather than establish new ones. The major thinks that there is sufficient call in the university to warrant the establishment of a unit here at the present time.

FORENSIC BOARD IS PARTISAN BODY, WRITES CHANDLER

Member Says He is "Through" With Bringing of Harrison, Democrat, For Talk

"I am through," said Fergus Chandler '25, member of the Forensic board, and president of the student senate, to Harold Sporer '25, president of the board, in a letter yesterday.

Chandler bases his resignation on a claim that the Forensic board sold out to Wisconsin Democrats and that Senator Pat Harrison, Mississippi Democrat, who speaks here Tuesday night under the auspices of the board, has been palmed off to the board.

Sends Sporer Letter

It is charged in the letter that George Fiedler L2, vice president of the board, is anxious to obtain speakers to promote the Democratic cause and the League of Nations.

A copy of the letter sent to Sporer was given the Daily Cardinal by Chandler last night. Up to a late hour last night, Sporer and Fiedler could not be reached. The letter follows:

President of Forensic Board,
Harold J. Sporer.
Sir:

As a member of the Forensic board, I object to having Senator Harrison speak here Tuesday night. The Forensic board has been sold to the Wisconsin Democrats.

Calls Fiedler Propagandist

George J. Fiedler, the vice president of the board, who suggested Pat Harrison as an available speaker at a meeting last semester, has long wished to foist Democratic and League of Nations propaganda on the student body. The Forensic board ought only administer the forensic program of the student body and bring scholarly speakers to the students. Instead, its policy in selecting speakers has been to choose who are in politics and who are Democrats. This has become apparent only recently, but, having discovered it, I am through.

Madison May Yet Become World's Incense Market

By J. E. D.

China, which we always figured was the originator and perpetrator of the incense idea and purveyor to the whole world, so to speak, is getting its incense from the Cardinal pharmacy, right here in Madison—or, at least $34 worth of it.

To be explicit, as they say in freshman English, Ching Y. Ying, a graduate student who hails from Shanghai, China, is sending a box of the odorous powder back home to the folks. The box is addressed to C. Y. Ying, 710 Keng Ching Lee, Sinzu Road, Shanghai. It weighs 37 pounds and parcel post charges are $4.44.

Rose, violet, pine, orange blossom—a whiff of almost everything in the box, even to sandalwood, which Ying likes the least. (Now we always thought the Chinese did like sandalwood.)

ASSISTANT HEAD OF EXTENSION RESIGNS

Prof. F. W. Shockley resigned as assistant dean of the Extension division in order to accept a position at the University of Pittsburgh, it was announced yesterday.

As a member of the faculty of the eastern university, he will be director of extramural instruction and of the summer session. Extramural instruction is the type of work carried on by the Extension division here.

Professor Shockley came to Wisconsin four and a half years ago from the University of Indiana. He has served the Extension division in different capacities and at the time of his resignation was assistant to Dean Louis E. Reber.

BURTON DEATH IS IRREPARABLE LOSS —BIRGE

The death of President M. L. Burton brings to an untimely close a most notable career as university executive. Dr. Burton had been a successful president at Smith college and at the University of Minnesota before going to the University of Michigan at a rate unparalleled in the history of American universities. His early death is an irreparable loss to higher education both as regards his administrative power and his personal influence.

GLEE CLUB MEN GO TO ROCKFORD

Sing at Midway Theater Tonight, Enter Chicago Contest Monday

Opening its second week-end of concert activities, the Men's glee club will appear at the Midway theater in Rockford today. The club goes by bus, leaving Madison this morning and returning after the last concert tonight.

The Rockford appearance is the last the club will make before participating in the mid-west inter-collegiate glee club contest at Chicago Monday. The club goes to Chicago Monday morning.

Concerts of last week have given Prof. E. E. Swinney an opportunity to locate the club's weak spots, and in the daily practices this week, he has overcome many of them, according to R. C. Nethercut '25, president of the club. Rockford will make the sixth town at which concerts have been given this year.

Thirty men will make the trip to Rockford today. After the concert at Chicago Monday, the club will have a two weeks' rest until the Madison concert on Friday, March 13.

Dinner For Girls' Glee Club

The members of the Girls' Glee club were guests at dinner when the Men's Luncheon clubs held their reception for the legislature at Luther Memorial church on February 18. Afterwards, under the direction of Dr. Charles Mills, they sang several numbers. They have other programs scheduled to be given before the spring concert, which will take place some time during the latter part of March or first of April.

The process of making rust-proof iron culverts was shown by the moving picture, "The Manufacture of Armco Ingot Iron," which was given yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Chemistry building. The movie traced the story from the iron ore to the constructed roads made possible by the culverts. The next picture in the series, which is being given under the auspices of the Chemistry department, will be "The Story of Asbestos," to be shown in March.

BIBLE GROUP TO STUDY "TEACHINGS OF JESUS"

The bible group will have its meeting at 9 o'clock Sunday in the Y. M. C. A. The topic under study for the week will be taken from I. E. Bosworth's "Teachings of Jesus." The group is considering the good that Jesus did, the opinion of Him that His disciples held and the opinion that modern contemporaries have.

SOUTHERN CLUB HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MARDI-GRAS

Southern club, held its annual Mardi Gras in thoroughly southern fashion at the Cameo room last night. Exactly 175 couples showed up to enjoy an evening of fun and color. A stag line composed of presidents of Greek letter fraternities, a large bowl of punch, surrounded by a bale of white cotton and an old fashioned grand march made the atmosphere truly southern.

HORSE SHOW IN STOCK PAVILION STARTS TONIGHT

Annual Event Featured By Bright Lights and Band; Crowds Expected

By P. B.

Amid the music of a 60 piece band, glaring arc lights and a sawdust arena, the sixth annual Wisconsin International Night Horse show will be ushered in at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the stock pavilion.

The equestrian population of the university and Madison is expected to attend in large numbers to cheer on their favorite steeds and to watch the Prince of Wales club in a novel drill and the Swift's six horse team of dapple grays.

Sororities to Compete

Selections by the Jefferson high school band will begin the evening program. This will be followed by a parade of the university draft teams. The women's and men's three-gaited event and the R. O. T. C. special event will follow in order. The five-gaited riding class, barrel race, and ladies' jumping contest will be next.

A pulling demonstration between a Madison draft team and a farmer's team by the use of a dynamometer, will be held. The R. O. T. C. jumping contest will be followed by another event in which nine sororities will compete for the silver cup offered to the best rider.

Swift Team Concludes

The Prince of Wales riding club demonstration, coached by H. Bruechne, will be a new venture on the part of the university women riders. The club has practiced several months for the event. Drills and maneuvers will be carried out and the riders will be dressed in costumes of blue with red hat bands. The three-gaited open class will be the last riding class on the evening program.

A performance of Swift and company's famous six horse team of grays is the grand finale event of the night show. This sextette comprises the world champion Percheron gray horses which have entertained many audiences of night horse shows.

The 60 piece Jefferson high school band, during its stay in Madison, is being entertained by the Kiwanis club. Plans have been made for them to visit the capitol. The Kiwanis club has arranged luncheon at the Capitol cafe where some speaker will address the band members. SIX ENCOUNTERS ON PROGRAM FOR BADGER ATHLETIC MEN TODAY

Basketball, Track, Rifle, Wrestling, Gymnastic, Hockey
Squads Clash in Meets

Another busy Saturday for Badger athletes.

Six contests are on Wisconsin's athletic program for today. Of the contests away from home, the Wisconsin-Illinois basketball tilt scintillates in the athletic spotlight, also the dual track meet at Iowa City and the rifle meet at Milwaukee.

Three Matches Here

Hockey rink, mat, and gymnastic apparatus claim the attention here today as Coach Iverson's squad engages Carleton in the second game at 4 o'clock this afternoon, and tonight at 7:15 o'clock the combined wrestling and gymnastic meet occurs on the armory floor of the gymnasium.

Undefeated Cardinal wrestlers and gymnasts will exhibit their skill against Minnesota and Pennsylvania. East meets West as the Penn tumbler and apparatus men enter the triangular meet with the Gophers and Wisconsin. The wrestlers led by Capt. Lisle Zodtner, take the mat against Minnesota in the varsity squad's first dual meet of the season at home.

Cagemen Return Tomorrow

After the tough battle against the Suckers tonight the Wisconsin basketball men will have little rest before the Purdue game here Monday night. The cage team will return from Urbana tomorrow morning.

TOGOGGAN, ICE RINK OPEN FOR STUDENTS

The toboggan slide and the Mendota skating rink are now in the best of condition, and the winter sports committee announces that the students should take advantage of them.

After work of several days, the toboggan slide has been iced, all the way, making its condition perfect. It may be used afternoons and evenings.

The Mendota skating rink, which could not be built before because of the rough ice, has been flooded and made smooth since the thaw. Lights are furnished for the skaters at night. This rink will be kept up for the rest of the winter.

REV. M. LAMPE MEETS WITH PRESBYTERIANS

Rev. M. Willard Lampe, secretary for the national board of christian education for the Presbyterian church will be in Madison today and tomorrow to address students.

The three Westminster Guild chapters will entertain him at a luncheon this noon at the Presbyterian student headquarters. The cabinet of the Presbyterian student's alliance and officers of the cabinet forum will give him a dinner tonight.

Doctor Lampe will speak at the Sunday morning services at the headquarters presenting at that

WRESTLERS MEET GOPHERS TONIGHT

Hitchcock Not Enthusiastic Over Chances For a Badger Victory

With first competition on the home mats before them tonight, the Badger wrestlers do not anticipate an easy victory over the strong Minnesota squad.

"Our chances are fair for winning but we anticipate several hard bouts," declared Coach Hitchcock yesterday. "Some of the men have had little experience and that will count against them."

Lineup Tonight

The lineup for Wisconsin tonight will be:

Elmer Hanson, 115 pounds; Charles Whitworth, 125 pounds; O'Laughlin or Wheeler, 135 pounds; Capt. Lisle Zodtner, 145 pounds; Harvey Chada, 158 pounds; William Splees, 175 pounds; and Raymond Stipek, heavyweight.

With two dual matches won from Chicago and Carleton, the Wisconsin team is off to a good start this year and a victory over Minnesota would increase the hopes for a championship this year.

One Choice Doubtful

Capt. Lisle Zodtner, Harvey Chada, and William Splees have defeated their opponents in both meets this year and are to be counted on to repeat tonight.

Coach Hitchcock is as yet undecided as to whom he will use in the 135-pound division. Michael O'Laughlin, a sophomore, who threw his man in less than five minutes at Carleton or Robert Wheeler may get the call. Wheeler wrestled in the Chicago meet but was out of the Carleton match because of injuries.

FROSH WIRE MEET WITH MICHIGAN OFF

The freshman Wisconsin-Michigan track meet was postponed yesterday due to the death of President Burton of Michigan. No date has yet been set for the meet. Wisconsin has run her end of the meet off, and the marks will be published after the reception of those made by the Wolverine freshmen.

SEND FISH COLLECTION FOR RESEARCH WORK

The university is sending a collection of 15,000 preserved specimens of Wisconsin fish to Dr. Carl Hubbs, at Ann Arbor, Mich., who is doing research work on the fish of the Great Lakes.

time some of the aspects of religion among university and college students as he has seen it in his work throughout the United States. He will be present at the Sunday evening club discussion, which will take up the subject, "What is God's job and how does He work at it?"

Cage Jottings

Several conference basketball games tonight. The main one to Wisconsin is the Badger-Illinois fracas. If the team fights as hard as they did against Iowa last Monday night, the game should be close but the conference leading Suckers should come out ahead.

There is one hope, that is that Illinois, with Captain

Mauer on the sidelines due to an injury, will be handicapped enough not to be able to work smoothly. Lipe, who is taking his place, is a good man, and ought to bolster the team instead of handicap it.

Now for the letters, one reads: Hoop Jotments:

You want my guess on the outcome of the basketball season? Dope favors Illinois, all right, but I believe Indiana will come through on top. At least a tie with Illinois.

Wisconsin will finish about fourth or fifth. I believe Wisconsin's stock will rise considerably in the coming games but not enough to get nearer the top.

WISCONSIN MERMEN DROWN CHICAGO 35-34

SWIMMING MEET AGAIN DECIDED BY RELAY RACE

Water Basketball Team Also Scores Victory Over Maroon Swimmers

By KEN BUTLER

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 21. (Special.)—Wisconsin swimming and water basketball teams triumphed over the Maroon natators here last night in close and exciting contests. Victory in the relay event again won for the Badgers as the score of the events was 34 points for each team. The water basketball team came back in the second half of their contest and won, 5 to 4. Chicago led 2 to 1 at the half.

After winning the relay by nearly a length of the tank, Steinauer's men just about broke even in the events to follow until the 200 yard swim, where Chicago took first and second. Chicago took first in the plunge, and when the announcer called the last event, the 100 yard dash, Wisconsin was three points behind the Maroons.

Herschberger Wins 100-Yard. Herschberger beat Noyes of the Maroons by a small margin, and Hipple swam a great race for third place, and the meet. Another good race was in the 200 yard breast stroke, where Bardeen beat out Diamond for second place.

The summary:
Relay—Won by Wisconsin (Hipple, Flueck, Gilbreath, Herschberger). Time—1:20 1-10.

Dives—Dorf, Chicago; Hall, Wisconsin; Simpkins, Wisconsin.

100 yard swim—Herschberger, Wisconsin; Noyes, Chicago; Gilbreath, Wisconsin. Time—9 6-10.

200 yard breast stroke—Harkins, Chicago; Bardeen, Wisconsin; Diamond, Chicago. Time—2:52 8-10.

220 yard swim—Greenberg, Chicago; Lane, Chicago; Flueck, Wisconsin. Time—2:50.

Plunge—Atwood, Chicago; Cook, Wisconsin; Granquist, Chicago. Time—26 5-10.

150 yard breast stroke—Gilbreath, Wisconsin; Markley, Chicago; Radcliffe, Wisconsin. Time—2:01 6-10.

100 yard swim—Herschberger, Wisconsin; Noyes, Chicago; Hipple, Wisconsin. Time—56 5-10.

Aqua Cagers Win

Superior basket shooting won for Wisconsin in the water basketball. Captain Joe Feuchtwanger was high scorer for Wisconsin with two free throws and a field goal to his credit. Winchell made the other point on a free throw. Merriam was the big point maker for the Maroons. The game was marked by frequent fouling.

The lineups:
Wisconsin—Benson, Esch, Burrus, J. Feuchtwanger, Winchell, R. Feuchtwanger, Radcliffe, Gilbreath and Herschberger.

Chicago—Merriam, Gowdy, Petrolowitz, Hall, Greenberg, Bennett.

LANSING, Mich. — The lower house of the Michigan legislature today voted, 61 to 24, to reject the proposed federal child labor amendment.

Hockey Team Loses, 2 to 1

Iverson's Men Play Good Game
But Fail to Beat North-
men

Handicapped by poor ice and playing against a superior Carleton college team, Wisconsin's hockey squad went down to defeat last night in a closely contested game. The ice which was exceptionally soft slowed up the game a great deal.

The teamwork of both Carleton and Wisconsin was very good, that of Wisconsin showing much improvement over the Minnesota games of last week.

Remington was the star for Carleton, making both of their tallies in the first period. Jansky and Gore were the stars for Wisconsin, though the team worked well as a whole.

The second period was almost even, both sides displaying a remarkable defense. In the third period Gore scored Wisconsin's only tally. Both sides were somewhat equal in the number of shots at the net, but Manierre, Wisconsin goal, stopped one too few and allowed Carleton to win.

The game originally scheduled for 7:30 o'clock last night had to be postponed until 8:30 due to the fact that the poor condition of the ice necessitated its reflooding.

The second game will be played this afternoon on the varsity rink at 4 o'clock. A fair sized crowd attended last night's contest.

GYM TEAM MEETS PENN "U" TONIGHT

Wisconsin and Gophers Meet
Strong Eastern Apparatus
Men

Pennsylvania, a new opponent of Wisconsin athletic teams, will compete with the Badger and Minnesota squads in a triangular gymnastic meet at 7:15 o'clock tonight in the gymnasium.

The four man team of Pennsylvania competed at Chicago last night on its tour of the west. It recently defeated Annapolis, considered to have the best gymnastic team in the east.

Coach Schlatter said yesterday that chances would be favorable for a return meet in the East next year.

Schmidt in All Events
Capt. "Huck" Schmidt will again be entered in all five events tonight and anticipates some of the hardest competition of his gymnastic career.

Walter Huxley will compete in the horizontal bar, flying rings, parallel bars and tumbling competition. He won first on the horizontal bars last Saturday in the match with the Milwaukee "Y" team.

Two for Side-horse
George Kress, side-horse man, will try to capture first honors this Saturday as he did a week ago. H. Hiemke is entered in the horizontal bar, parallel bar and tumbling events and Earl Hicks on the side-horse and flying rings.

Minnesota probably will not bring a fencing team and thus the Badger fencers will remain idle.

INDEPENDENTS PLAY BASKET GAMES TODAY

The Humbergians meet the Peacocks and the Bright Spots engage the University club in the games of the independent basketball league at 2 o'clock today in division 1. The former game will be played on court 1, the latter on court 3. Three games will be played in division 2 at 3 o'clock. The All Stars will meet the Murphys on court 1, the Oschners battle the Slinger grads on court 2, and Laphams engage the Johnson streets on court 2.

TRACKSTERS PRIMED TO DEFEAT IOWA AS TIME FOR CONTEST NEARS

By GEORGE DENNIS
(Special to the Daily Cardinal.)

IOWA CITY, Ia., Feb. 21.—As the time for the Wisconsin-Iowa dual track meet draws near, the team, realizing that it will be closely contested all the way, is more determined than ever to score a victory over the Hawkeye aggregation.

Prospects for a victory took a brighter hue yesterday morning when Harry Hill, midget quarter miler and dash man, appeared at the station ready to make the trip.

Coach Jones received a telegram from the California athletic authorities offering him the desired date of April 11, but with a stipulation that the Badger team run in a quadrangular track meet with California, Southern California, and Leland Stanford universities as the opposition. Coach Jones has not yet decided what his action on such a proposition will be, as he is more desirous of meeting California in a dual meet. However, members of the team expressed their desires in the matter by playing "California, Here I Come" repeatedly on a small toy victrola that one of the members of the team has on the trip.

HORSES AND COWS

"Like father, like son"—so runs the timeworn proverb. It is not amiss to apply this general conception of heredity to the state and the university, for this institution had its birth from the state government in its pioneer days, and has been dependent upon it for life ever since. It is in the natural course of things that, like its parent state, the university should be noted for its excellence in agriculture, and especially in the sphere of stock raising. The Badger state is the great dairy state of the West, and the College of Agriculture is preeminent among schools of that type throughout the country.

One manifestation of this preeminence in the nurture of horses and cows and all things that grow is the Wisconsin International. This annual event bows only to the International at Chicago in the field of stock shows, and is certainly the greatest of its kind among the universities. Here on the campus it is unique among the many attractions and shows that are constantly occurring, and probably is more typically a Wisconsin production than any other. It is not designed to be of interest only to farmers, but has an appeal for the most urban individuals because of its show value, if for no other reason.

The Wisconsin International for 1925 is on the program for tonight, and those who have become bored by the usual run of entertainment, as well as those who are interested in live stock, will find this exhibition delightful.

WISCONSIN ABROAD

The past year has been replete with occurrences of momentous importance to the university, and a keen observer of what has been going on both above and below the surface around the campus cannot help but have some realization of the abundant health and vitality which these goings-on indicate. And nothing better indicates the spirit of generosity and good will toward all the world than the campaign in behalf of the student friendship fund, which last spring resulted in a gift of approximately $3,500 from the university to the war stricken students of Europe.

Several days ago Miss Margaret Qualle, who was instrumental in encouraging the students to make that gift last year, returned for a few hours and made a report on the good that has been wrought by that act on the part of the university. She told of student self-help stations at the various European universities, at which destitute students are provided with the means of earning their own living. She told of cooperative work shops maintained by students during their spare hours, of hospitals and sanitariums for those who have found the going too hard, and of restaurants and cafeterias where substantial food is provided at a minimum cost for those who can afford it, and at no cost whatever for those who can't. She told of the work of Conrad Hoffmann, a graduate of this university, as the director of all these gigantic undertakings for the relief of students, and she told how thousands of those who have been thus benefited, men who will some day have the reigns of government in their own hands, have learned to idealize America as the soul of international friendship and generosity.

All these things have been aided and abetted by the students of Wisconsin. The fruits of that gift of a year ago may not be fully matured until two or three decades have passed, when its effect on international goodwill will become definitely apparent.

Meanwhile, thousands of men and women are studying today in those countries where economic conditions are still so critical and uncertain that they would be unable to pursue their studies if it were not for this American help. The need goes on and is likely to continue in its serious aspects for several more years to come. Wisconsin is soon to be asked once more to extend its helping hand across the Atlantic, and in the face of such an opportunity to propagate work already well done, the university certainly must respond.

WISCONSIN SHOULD KNOW

To a state which established its university concurrently with its statehood, and which has abundant reasons to realize the wisdom of its action, it is not necessary to justify education. And that is not our purpose. It is our hope that the experiment in education which has begun so well, and from which we have realized so much, shall be worked out to its vigorous conclusion, and that no lack of money or encouragement, shall hamper it.

As alumni we have a natural pride in the university—pride in the beauty of its campus, in the fame of its educators, in the skill of its scientists. We want that beauty to be heightened by new buildings, that fame to be spread by more educators, that skill to be advanced by greater opportunity for research. We want others to know an even better Wisconsin than we did.

It is true that the basic contribution of the university to the state has been the sending out of some 30,000 graduates and former students into its life. Their service has been one of leadership, on the farm, in the factory, in government; it has expressed itself "not only in the better job for the individual, but in the higher temper of the community of which he is a part."

President Birge has said in a statement to alumni:

"Behind all this multifarious activity there is one purpose which dominates the life of a state university—that of bettering the life of the people of its state by the advancement and diffusion of knowledge. Fundamental to the execution of this purpose is the habitual recognition by the people of the intimate relation between knowledge and prosperity, between knowledge and happiness. I do not mean a mere half-hearted or perfunctory assent to this doctrine but its acceptance with such clearness and vigor that people are willing not only to support higher education but to make sacrifices for its support.

"Thus the former students and graduates of the university have a most important part in its work. . . .

"How can their knowledge and their interest be made effective in promoting the well-being of the community through the aid of education—of the university? Certainly not by mere assertion or by preaching. Our former students must be centers of university life, still vitally connected with the university. If they have received either guidance or inspiration from the university, that must be manifested in their lives. They must be not merely individual centers of influence but they must strengthen themselves and their fellows by uniting so that their influence may be multiplied by union and made permanent by organization. . . .

This then is the real contribution: a method of thinking—an approach to real problems—information, that is, something to think about, and some solutions to problems already thought through. What is all this but a training for the most effective citizenship, for the greatest service? What better thing can a state ask from its citizen, or a citizen give to his state, than the ability for clear and earnest thinking about real problems, and the will and courage to apply such thinking for the common good?

University Exposition Committees Will Do Construction During Vacation Time

Spring vacation from April 8 to 14 will be utilized by the University exposition committees for the construction of all material and booths for the exposition which opens on April 16 and lasts until April 18.

Most of the plans for construction are now in the hands of the construction department of the exposition. Those supervisors who have not yet completed their plans are conferring with members of the construction department this and next week in order to derive as much help as possible in solving their problems.

The material for each of the booths and all fixtures in them, when ready will be laid out on the floor of the gymnasium and the annex. Thus the construction men will put together the respective parts, much in the manner that a knock-down house is put together.

Actual construction work will be done in the service department of the university under the supervision of the construction division of the exposition. Plans have been made so that the possibility of error is reduced by supplying blue prints for each exhibit.

Reader's Say So

NEXT YEAR'S PROM

Next year's prom will be in the gym—or it won't be at all. Gnash your teeth, and write communications to the Cardinal till the ribbon drops off your Underwood—and wildly shout "bolshevik"—then make the best you can of it.

Why? Because the state legislature, long distrustful of the wicked spendthrift college student, has become irritated almost too much by the little pranks with which innocent prom-goers amused themselves at the last party.

Because hundreds of dollars' worth of music is wasted at every prom in the capitol—nobody can hear it; you dance on faith (on a hard floor).

Because the expenditure for a prom in the capitol this year was not met by receipts, leaving, naturally, a deficit.

Because prom should be a university function—not a Madison medicine-show attraction.

Because prom in the capitol is a hard five-hours grind and an intolerable bore.

Down at Illinois and up at Michigan they have proms that are worth fighting to get tickets for. They are not held in brick-floored statehouses. And everybody must have a good time, or people wouldn't be so anxious to go.

If prom means nothing more than Wisconsin's greatest social function—try to get the capitol again next year. But if the idea is to swing a party that will be a financial success, and where the participants can really enjoy themselves—make up your mind to the gym. Might as well get used to it now as later; who knows when the Union building will be started, and who has figures to show that there will be a hall big enough for prom when it is finished—along in the twenty-first century some time?

MAILS SERMON ON 'DANGEROUS AGE'

Hibbard Sends Recent Barstow Talk to Parents and Alumni

"It's all very well to blame the poor student but the father and the mother come in for some share of criticism," Carlisle V. Hibbard, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., said in explaining why he is sending to alumni and parents copies of a sermon given by the Rev. Robbins Wolcott Barstow, of the First Congregational church, the early part of this month.

Mr. Hibbard, a member of the church in which the sermon was given, had 1,000 copies made, with the intention of mailing them to people concerned with the subject.

He pointed to the fact in the sermon that the dangerous age is not 20 but 40, and further said the article appreciated the side of youth.

"It's a corking good thing and, without being frothy, has a wholesome interest for the alumni, the parents and for the students themselves," said Mr. Hibbard.

VOCATION MEETING HAS CANINE VISITOR

Because she was interested in picking a life profession, an intelligent appearing dog came to the vocational committee meeting of W. S. G. A. which was held in Mrs. C. B. Flett's office yesterday noon. The dog listened to the reports concerning opportunities in the home economics field which will be posted on the bulletin board in Lathrop hall next week. That W. S. G. A. has maintained a vocational committee since 1914 and that a committee of 15 technical advisors was willing to advise her brought forth joyful bark. She left to register in the home economics department.

PROGRESSIVES TRY PARTY ORGANIZING

Meet in Chicago to Bring Permanent Structure Into Existence

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The first definite announcement of Sen. Robert M. La Follette's intention to throw his support to organization of a new political party, distinct from the Socialist as well as the Republican and Democratic organizations is seen here as imminent with the assembling of the Conference for Progressive Political Action at Chicago tomorrow.

The senator's son, Robert M. La Follette, Jr., is now in Chicago ready to confer with representatives of the railroad brotherhoods who are holding a separate conference preliminary to their participation in the Chicago convention. Young La Follette has spent the last week conferring with Progressive leaders in New York, Cleveland and other cities and returned to the capital for conferences with Progressives in Congress before going west.

It is understood here the line of cleavage in the Conference is between three groups; the Socialists, who favor the immediate formation of a class party made up of workers on the farm and in the factory, under Socialist leadership; the railroad brotherhoods and other organizations which are opposed to active participation as trade unions in any third party movement whatsoever; and a third group who favor a new party made up of individuals, regardless of affiliation with trade unions and farmer organizations, and without domination by the Socialist party leadership.

It is understood the latter group is representative of the views entertained by Sen. La Follette.

The senator's son is understood to be attending the Chicago convention as an observer and not as a delegate holding credentials to the gathering.

An effort to maintain the Conference for Progressive Political Action intact as an organization available for supporting candidates for congressional and state offices, regardless of party affiliation, for which it was originally established is seen as the point upon which the action of the Chicago convention will turn.

Socialist delegates who worked at the organization's convention at Cleveland last July 4 under the leadership of Morris Hillquit, New York City, and Rep. Victor Berger, Milwaukee, are expected to insist on the immediate formation of a new party, with Socialists generously recognized on the National Committee.

STUDENTS LIKE TAXI LINE, SAYS THOMPSON

"The students are taking to our new taxi service policy quickly," Al Thompson, manager of the Cameo room, states. "We opened a taxi service about a month ago, to the university district after the dances, for the convenience of students." Mr. Thompson said that the Cameo room had been fitted with some new decorations and that he would furnish a nine-piece orchestra for each dance for the rest of the year.

FORMER REGENT PRESIDENT DIES

Major C. Mead, Father of Prof.
W. J. Mead, Passes
Away

Major C. Mead, former president of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, and father of Prof. W. J. Mead of the university geology department, died at his home in Plymouth, Wis., on Thursday after a long illness.

Mr. Mead was prominent in the activities of the Democratic party of the state for several decades. He held numerous public offices during his lifetime and was the author of the bill creating the present state board of control while a member of the state senate.

He was city attorney of Plymouth for over twenty years. In 1888 he was elected as senator from his home district and served until 1902, when he was appointed to the board of regents by Gov. La Follette. While a member of that board he was named to its presidency in which capacity he served for two years. He was also a delegate to several of the national conventions of his party from Wisconsin.

Mr. Mead was a member of one of the first families to settle in the state. His grandfather came with the first rush of the settlers in 1849. During his early manhood Major Mead taught country school for a number of years and for a time was principal of one of the ward schools in Sheboygan.

He entered the university later and graduated from the law school

Russell Extolls Character of New Zealand Journals

The character of New Zealand newspapers and their difference from American newspapers was the substance of the talk delivered by Dean H. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture before a group of agricultural journalists and the public Thursday night in Agricultural hall.

Both metropolitan and rural newspapers were cited as examples of the high type of journalism which New Zealand upholds. Dean Russell pointed out how the paper in that country is the stabilizing force, reflecting the serious-mindedness and the intellectual quality of the people as a whole toward the better things of life.

No scandal or sensationalism appears in their papers, said Dean Russell, but rather a clean outlook toward matters of national or international importance.
