"U" STUDENTS PLAN BIG TEN NEWS SERVICE

Establishment of Radio Communication is Favored

(Special to the Cardinal)

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Recommending that the Big Ten athletic officials should make some provision whereby men who engage in semi-professional summer baseball may remain eligible for conference competition, delegates to the Western Conference Editorial association in session here yesterday went on record as being opposed to the present system.

That such men do not play for the purpose of commercializing themselves or the game was the general belief expressed by the editors in their resolution calling for the new provision. Eight universities were represented at the meeting, Chicago and Northwestern failing to send representatives. Charles P. MacInnis '22 was the Wisconsin delegate.

A more adequate Big Ten service through specially written exchanges and dope stories, a photo exchange, and the establishment of radio communication was also planned by the editors, and the editorial and athletic policies of the different university papers were considered.

Brewster Campbell, of the Michigan Daily, was elected president of the association for the next year. Other officers elected were: T. W. Phelps, Minnesota Daily, vice-president; Noble Butler, Indiana Daily, student secretary. The University of Minnesota will entertain the second meeting of the association next year.

The visiting editors attended the annual Cap Night celebration Friday night, and the Michigan-Chicago track meet yesterday afternoon. The convention closed with a banquet last night.

EXTEND BADGER SLOGAN CONTEST

Suggestions Will be Received at Union Building Until Tuesday Noon

Can you use an extra five dollar bill this next week? If you can, you'd better call on your muse to help you compose a clever slogan for the 1923 Badger.

In order to give many who still wish to submit slogans an opportunity to do so, the 1923 Badger staff have decided to accept suggestions along this line until Tuesday noon.

Scores of catch lines have been submitted, including such offerings as "Wisconsin's Memory Book," "The Tie That Binds," and "The Greatest Book Since the Bible." The slogan used during this last year was, "The Year-book with a Mission," and that coined for the 1921 annual, "Wisconsin's Greatest Year-book for Wisconsin's greatest Year."

By extending the closing hour until Tuesday noon, the 1923 staff hopes to secure a splendid assortment of slogans from which to choose.

Contestants may mail or bring their slogans to the office of the 1921 Badger, Union building.

Motor Canoes Will Compete In Tournament

Featured by a motor canoe race, the canoe tournament to be held at 9:30 Saturday morning, May 28, as part of the Inter-scholastic Day entertainment, will contain seven different events, to be run off separately. Prizes of cigars, candy, and canoe paddles will be offered those who prove their supremacy in handling the canoes under all sorts of difficulties.

This is the first time in many years that a canoe tournament has been held on Lake Mendota before the close of the regular school year, and it will doubtless prove one of the most interesting and exciting events of the school year. The arrangements for the tournament are being made by Gordon Wanzer '24, under the direction of Meade Burke, manager of the Inter-scholastic Track meet, which is held on the same day.

The list of events follow:

Men's singles—200 yards, 9:30 a. m. Prize: Necktie (Pete Burns).

Girl's singles—100 yards, 9:45 a. m. Prize: Canoe paddle (Co-op).

Men's doubles—220 yards, 10 a. m. Prize: Carton of cigarettes (University pharmacy).

Girl's doubles—220 yards, 10:15 a. m. Prize: Box of candy (Candy shop).

Mixed doubles—220 yards, 10:30 a. m. Prize: Pipe and tobacco (Morgan's); box of candy (Chocolate shop).

Motor canoe race—Triangular course, 10:45 a. m. Prize: Pipe and tobacco (Lewis, the druggist).

Tilting contest for men—10:45 a. m. Prize: Pipe and tobacco (Hinkson's).

"Entries can be made until the evening of Friday, May 27," said Wanzer, yesterday. "We expect to have a great many entries and lively competition for the prizes that are offered by the Madison business men." Entries may be made with Wanzer at the Chi Psi house, B. 191.

MANDELKER WINS $100 ESSAY PRIZE

The tenth annual Menorah banquet held at the Woman's building last night was featured by the awarding of the $100 Menorah prize to Martin Mandelker '22 for his winning essay on "Health Conditions in Palestine." Prof. R. E. N. Dodge, of the English department, made the announcement and spoke highly of the excellence of Mandelker's essay.

The prize has not been awarded since 1918 when Johan Smertenke was given first honors. Mandelker has been active in Menorah affairs since his freshman year and was recently elected president for next semester. In his sophomore year he was a member of the varsity football team.

About 75 members and alumni attended the banquet. President I. I. Rotter presided as toastmaster and Lieut. Benj. Levinson, a Yale alumnus, was speaker of the evening. Short talks were given by Prof. L. B. Wolfenson, Mrs. Joseph Jastrow, Dr. Selig Perlman, and I. A. Perstein '21.

BADGERS MUST BE CALLED FOR NOW

"Those who reserved Badgers must call for them at the Badger office in the Union building between now and next Wednesday," declared "Cap" Rasmussen, business manager, yesterday. The open sale is scheduled to start on May 25.

As 35 more Badgers were sold than the 5,000 ordered, those who wish to be sure of securing the year-book must attend to getting their copies immediately, according to Rasmussen.

WISCONSIN TENNIS TEAM SPLITS EVEN IN CHICAGO MATCH

Maroons Win Both Doubles
Matches at Varsity Courts
Yesterday

In a series of fast tennis matches played yesterday afternoon at the varsity courts, Wisconsin and Chicago broke even in their tennis meet. Wisconsin grabbed three of the four singles, but the Maroons won both doubles matches. Tredwell defeated Vories 6-2, 3-6, 6-2; Gotfredson beat Segal 6-8, 10-8, 6-4; Aagesen disposed of Gold 5-7, 6-0, 6-4; and Pickard lost to Frankenstein 6-3, 6-2.

In the doubles Vories and Segal won over Tredwell and Gotfredson by close scores of 8-6 and 6-4; the victors having been the conference doubles champions last year. In the first doubles match, Aagesen and Pickard lost to Frankenstein and Gold 6-4, 6-3.

The match between Captain Gotfredson and Segal was by far the most spectacular of the afternoon's play. After capturing the first set 8-6, Segal ran the score up to 5-1 in the second set, with the necessary set point within easy reach no less than six times. At this stage Gotfredson staged a remarkable comeback and after appearing as an almost certain loser, rallied and won an uphill fight at 10-8. The third set was also his 6-4.

The matches today were the last ones prior to the team's trip to Chicago on Wednesday when the conference games begin. Coach Linden has requested that all entrants in either the Intercollegiate tournament or the Freshman tourney play their matches as soon as possible to make way for the all-university meet which is scheduled to begin next week end.

Dark, Deep Mystery of Green Question Mark is at Last Divulged

Have you been wondering what-the-deuce the green question mark means, the punctuation mark which has been hitting you in the eye every time you look at a big tree?

And then have you looked at the startling Octopus window display in Harloff's window, which shows a blinking, human-looking Octopus, encircling in realistic embraces eight different specimens of college students, with the gym in the background and an Octopus-seller in the foreground, and a lot of Octopus covers for trimming?

And even then, haven't you thought of putting two and two together? The question of the day is, of course, what kind of jokes there will be in the next Octopus, and whether you will be able to get one in order to read the jokes. And the window display is merely a graphic way of reminding you of the condition the campus will be in on Wednesday, when the Senior number of the Octopus will have all in its grip.

Quite simple, when you understand it.

"U" FINANCE BILLS INTRODUCED SOON

The university appropriation bills have not been placed yet on the calendar for assembly action, according to a statement made by the assembly clerk yesterday. As the legislature is scheduled to adjourn about June 15, the university bills will be introduced, it is believed, within the next 20 days for disposition.

BADGERS WIN OVER PURPLE NINE, 9 TO 4

Wisconsin Outclasses N. W. in Every Department of Game

By LESLIE R. GAGE

Northwestern fell for the second time this season before the attack of Coach Guy Lowman's Wisconsin nine, when the two teams met at Camp Randall field yesterday afternoon. The Badgers acquired an early lead and never were in danger, the final score standing 9 to 4.

Wisconsin outclassed their opponents from Evanston in every department of the game. Their hits were opportune, and their fielding was air-tight.

Christianson faced Palmer at the start of the game, but in the eighth frame Hoffman was sent to the mound to finish the contest. Palmer started wrong, and before he could settle the locals had driven in three runs. Christianson, on the other hand, settled immediately and was invincible until the seventh inning, when the only scores of the game were counted by the Purple.

Christianson Begins

The Wisconsin pitcher allowed but six scattered hits and was most effective in the tight places. Two of the six safeties were scratch hits, made with two men down. The Northwestern scoring in the eighth was aided by an error, and a wild throw on the part of Christianson, which hit Barker. Hoffman pitched excellent ball for the two innings

DELTA PHI DELTA INSTALLED HERE

Eta Chapter of National Art
Fraternity Initiated 15
Yesterday

Eta chapter of Delta Phi Delta, national honorary and professional art fraternity, was installed here yesterday by Mrs. Ruth Humble, national grand president, and 15 members were initiated.

The idea of an honorary organization at Wisconsin originated last year, when several groups co-operated to form an honorary branch of the Arts and Crafts club, and it is this group which yesterday received its charter and became a chapter of Delta Phi Delta. There are now chapters at the University of Minnesota, at Kansas university, at the University of Montana, at Washburn college, Topeka, Kansas, at Chicago Art institute, and at the University of Wisconsin. The fraternity was founded May 28, 1912, at Kansas university.

The members initiated yesterday were: Dorothy Axtell '22, Miriam Arey '23, Helen Elliott '23, Katherine Ely '22, Mrs. Stella Clark, L. and S. grad., Martha Broan '23, Mildred Blakeley '22, Erma Haak '23, Gertrude Kehl '23, Marietta Hipple '23, Dorothy Ritchie '21, Mrs. R. B. Stewart '21, and Aline Morton '22. Assistant Prof. William H. Varnum and Miss Ella Wilson were made honorary members.

The members had luncheon yesterday noon at the Garden Grill in honor of Mrs. Humble.

A compulsory meeting of all members of the editorial staff of The Daily Cardinal will be held on Monday, at 12:45, in the Union building.

THIS is the time of year that a bathing suit hangs from every window. Even as we write this, we hear the splash from the diving board; and our room-mate, the fair-haired one, comes in and splashes water all over us. The dog!

THE A. T. O. baseball team has nick-named Bill Sale the ancient mariner. Why? Because he stoppeth one of three.

NO CAPTION IS NEEDED

Dear Ed:
Yesterday as I was wandering up the hill in hopes that I would arrive in time for an 8 o'clock, I heard some co-eds discussing the Badger.

They were arguing as to the beauty portrayed in the various fraternity pictures.

Said the first s. y. t.: "Don't you you think the expressions of the Psi U's are very typical of them?"

"But, dearie," said the second s. y. t.: "They didn't have a picture on their page, did they?"

"Just so," came the heavy reply, "Utterly blank."

MOONSHINE.

The Co-Ed Speaks

"Co-eds should not say soup in the presence of men. It puckers their lips in a too inviting manner." —the Dean of Women at Northwestern.

I cannot say soup,
For it makes me look sweet,
The Dean, she will snoop,
So I cannot say soup.
There's not much I can eat,
Or he'll kiss, in a swoop.
I cannot say soup,
For it makes me look sweet.

WE have the title for another poem, but we can't write the thing. The title's too good to keep: "They Don't Serve Spoons with Coffee, 'Cause the Music is So Stirring."

Circus Drink to be Sold at Street Carnival Following Venetian Night

A regular street carnival, with booths, dancing, all sorts of costumes, and good music will be held on Lake street, between Langdon and the lake, on Saturday, May 28, following Venetian night, under the auspices of Keystone.

Jitney dances will be convenient, on fraternity porches and in roped-off places in the street, and one of Thompson's 8-piece orchestras has been secured for the occasion. The dancing will begin at 9 o'clock, following the Venetian night parade on the lake.

Lemonade, ice cream, cake, and other refreshments suitable for a carnival will be sold at the booths, which will be in charge of Blue Dragon, Yellow Tassel, Green Button, Clef club, Glee club, Euthenics club, and other organizations.

Keystone has undertaken the affair for the benefit of Tabard Inn, and the new co-operative houses which will be started next year. Lake street was chosen as the site, because it will be the center of interest during Venetian night, and the crowd will naturally gather there.

Concerts at Night Part of Legion Gala Week

A band concert on capitol square will be given every night during the week of May 30 under the auspices of the American legion as part of their spring gala week. The legionaires have arranged to use the two military bands of 20 pieces which are part of the L. H. Heth Shows who have been secured by the legion as the big feature of their gala week activities.

The Heth shows, a combined circus and carnival, will be on the Illinois Central lot at Bedford and Dayton sts. Service men in uniform will be on the grounds every night to act as guards. In addition to the outdoor show the legion will give away an Oakland automobile on Saturday night, June 4.

JUNIOR "HONORARY"

As editor of this year's Badger, I wish to assume the entire responsibility for the captions "Honorary Junior Fraternity" heading both the White Spades and Ku Klux Klan pages, referred to in an editorial in yesterday morning's Cardinal.

Instructions had been given to prepare the copy for these pages similar to that of last year's Badger and the matter of having the word "Inter-Fraternity" included in the Ku Klux Klan caption was not brought to my attention until late this spring when the section containing these pages was off the press.

PURPLE FALLS BEFORE BADGERS

that he worked. But one Purple runner reached first, and that as a result of a hard hit liner to the infield that was too hot to handle.

Captain Elliott featured for Lowman's team at the bat, finding Palmer for two safe ones out of three times to the plate. His first hit was a home run which scored both Hardell and Farrington in the first inning. The drive was far beyond the reach of the Purple centerfield. Elliott reached the plate long before the ball reached the infield. His other hit was a long single into center, which he attempted to stretch into a double. Barker's throw caught the Badger captain a few inches off the bag. Barry drove a long triple into right field in the sixth round, which looked like a home-run drive when it left the catcher's bat.

Farrington Stars

Eddie Farrington had a fine day in the infield, taking care of six difficult chances. In the second inning Farrington robbed Reiger of a safe drive when he ran behind second base and made a one-hand stop. Christianson fielded his position in great style, and knocked down several hard hit balls.

Wootan featured for the visitors, connecting for three of the six hits that Northwestern registered. Lynch knocked out a double in two chances. The Northwestern infield stopped a rally in the fifth frame when they retired the side with a fast double play.

The Badgers got away to an early start, and counted a trio of tallies in the initial inning. With one man out, Hardell singled over the third baseman, and stole second. Farrington was passed, and Elliott followed with his circuit drive into deep center.

Rally in Fourth

The next rally came in the fourth. Elliott was walked, and stole second. J. Williams fanned, but forced Curtiss to throw to first after he had dropped the third strike, thus allowing Elliott to advance a base on the play. Ruediger singled into center sending the Badger leader home. Ruediger stole second, and Barry struck out. Lyman lived on Bryant's error and Ruediger scored, Lyman making second on the play at the plate. Christianson singled and Lyman came home. "Rollie" Williams scratched a hit, and Christianson counted when Heilman pegged wild attempting to catch him at third. That concluded the scoring.

An error and a single by Jack Williams annexed another run the following session. In the sixth the last run of the game crossed when Barry tripled and scored on Lyman's long sacrifice fly.

The visitors rally came in the seventh. A hit batsman, an error and two extra base hits were responsible for the four tallies.

ON MODERN DRESS

THERE has been imminent at the university for some time an outbreak against the present-day indecency of feminine dress. Rumors of it have appeared. Occasional opinions have been offered. It has been felt on the campus as an impending question. But all this has been merely the rumbling of thunder in the distance. The thunder has increased in volume and in frequency. The sky is darkening. An outbreak is imminent.

To discuss a question of this nature is difficult. The natural rebellion of youth against "Radical Reform" has built an almost impenetrable wall about the laxity of dress. As editorially stated in The Smith College Monthly:

"So long as the older generation 'views with alarm,' so long will the younger generation glory in its naughtiness and invent prodigious reasons."

Every argument, every admonition against this prevalent relaxation, is met with the retort: "Old fogy." Youth is simply NOT OPEN to reasoning. It has set itself against all attempts to improve present conditions.

Let us throw aside the barrier and consider the facts. The dress, or rather the lack of dress, of today's girl is a matter meriting grave consideration. Female arms and legs and bare shoulders and backs and bosoms are so prevalent that no description need be given. The editor of the Nebraska Awgwan is quoted in The Literary Digest as commenting thus:

"Modesty has given way to daring, beauty to undisguised attempts to exhibit charms, and form has been supplanted by shape. The hobble skirt, slit skirt, and decollete waist of the short long-ago brought a cry for dress reform. What have the reformers to say about the modern knee-length, kid-glove-fitting gown, with abbreviated top and bottom, to say nothing of the short-sleeved or sleeveless waists which accompany these modern 'creations.' The bathing girl of today is merely a foresight of the average girl of tomorrow, it would seem, from the trend of modern feminism toward elimination of essential apparel."

The same article quotes from the New York University News the following:

"Overlooking the physiological aspects of women's clothing, there is a strong moral aspect to this laxity of dress. When every dancing step discloses the entire contour of the dancer, it is small wonder that moralists are becoming alarmed. The materials, also, from which women's evening dresses are made are generally of transparent cobweb. There is a minimum of clothes and a maximum of cosmetics, head-decorations, fans, and jewelry. It is, indeed, and alarming situation when our twentieth-century debutant comes out arrayed like a South Sea Island Savage."

Drop the barrier and think about it seriously. It is not a mere question of prudery. It is one that concerns womanhood and manhood. It concerns motherhood and the future generations. President Murphy of the University of Florida says:

"The low-cut gowns, the rolled hose and short skirts are born of the Devil and his angels, and are carrying the present and future generations to social chaos and destruction."

President Bishop, of Southwestern University, is quoted in The Literary Digest as saying that although a college president may not be likely to know at first hand very much about the new dances and costumes—

"He probably does know that some sinister influence is at work which is breaking down the reserve of our American young women both in dress and in manners. And he sees, on every 'full-dress' social occasion, examples of the style of women's dress which leave the arms, shoulders, back and part of the bosom uncovered, and also expose, in certain postures or in unguarded movements, an inch or more of the naked limbs between the end of the short skirt and the rolled-down stocking. He is likely to be considered an old fogy, but his heart turns cold with apprehension concerning the womanhood and the motherhood of the coming generations. If he were not too much concerned about his own 'dignity' he would like to wring the necks of the low-lived designers (most of them men, it is said) of the styles of which some American women are the half-innocent and wholly silly victims.

If we can but forget that natural tendency to say "old fogy," the facts of the case are so self-evident that we cannot help being impressed and moved to action. The action, however, must be hurried. The situation is becoming so critical that more stringent methods of effecting a change are being considered.

In more than twenty of our state legislatures bills limiting the shortness of skirts, the depth of the neck and back of gowns, and the transparency of materials have been introduced. In Utah a statute providing fine and imprisonment for those who wear on the streets skirts higher than three inches above the ankle is pending. In Ohio a bill has been drafted prescribing that no decollete shall be more than two inches in depth and that no garment composed of any transparent material shall be sold, nor any "garment which unduly displays or accentuates the lines of the female figure."

To change present conditions by legislation would be as unfair as it would be disagreeable. Let us drop the barrier and think, seriously, fair-minded, and then let us act. Let us cease being savages before the final storm overtakes us.

Kappa Psi Pledges

Kappa Psi announces the formal initiation of Karl S. Barnard, Brillion, Wis., Earle E. Gage, Whitehall, Wis., and Norbert E. Schwake, Two Rivers, Wis.

Formals of the Week End

An unusual feature of the Kappa Delta formal dance, which was given Friday evening in Lathrop parlors, was a sparkler dance. The lights were turned low while the dancers carried lighted sparklers. Rose colored and green balloons were tossed about during another dance. The decorations were of irises and bridal wreath, and the sorority colors were represented by an attractive lighting arrangement in green and white and gold. Mr. and Mrs. Carl LeClaire chaperoned the party.

At the Alpha Tau Omega formal lattice work formed a background for decorations of blue and gold carried out with flowers, which were twined in the lattice work and decorated the tables. Dainty blue and gold leather bracelets were the unique programs for the dance. Mr. and Mrs. John Baker were chaperons of the formal.

Twined flowers and foliage decorated the Elizabethan room of the Park hotel for the formal dinner dance of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity, which was given Friday evening. Silver braided bracelets decorated with the fraternity crest were given as favors. The dance was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. Victor Lenher.

The Candy shop was decorated in pastel shades for the formal dinner dance of Skull and Crescent, interfraternity society, which was held there last evening. Flowers and vines against white lattice made an arbor in which the tables were placed. It was the tenth annual spring formal of the organization and marked the reception of new members who were initiated last week end. Dean Scott H. Goodnight gave a welcoming toast to the new members. Dean and Mrs. Goodnight chaperoned the party.

Theta Delt Picnic-Dance

Members of Theta Delta Chi fraternity entertained yesterday afternoon and evening with their annual spring picnic-dance. The party went across the lake in the afternoon where a picnic supper was served in Bernard's park. In the evening they returned to the chapter house for an informal dance. Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Mead chaperoned.

Sigma Nu Informal

An informal dancing party was given last evening by Sigma Nu fraternity at the chapter house, 625 N. Henry. The chaperons of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Riley S. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McDonald.

Alpha Gam Initiation

Iota chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity held formal initiation on Friday evening. The following were initiated: Professors B. Youngblood, J. J. Yoke, and W. A. Sumner; undergraduates: Harold A. Brown, Milton E. Schmelling, Roswell H. Stinchfield, Harris B. Parmele, W. Norris Wentworth, Ray Thompson.

A banquet was given at the chapter house on Hoyt street at 6 o'clock Saturday. In the evening an informal dance was held in the Elizabethan room at the Park hotel. Prof. and Mrs. George C. Humphrey chaperoned.

Among the alumni who returned for the initiation were: E. M. Smith, J. F. Crawford, H. T. Albrecht, S. J. Lamb, H. H. Cole, R. G. Fritschel, and V. Kivlin.

LILLIAN WALKER

Movie Star who made "Dimples and Smiles" famous the world over, at the Orepheum in Person Tomorrow Night

At The Theaters

COMING TO THE ORPHEUM

Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday—Kimberly Page & Co.; Hampton & Blake; The Golden Bird; 5 Avalons; Bennington & Scott; Willie Hale & Bro.; Pathe News.

AT THE ORPHEUM TODAY

Owen McGivenev, the distinguished protean actor presenting "Bill Sikes;" Murray Kissen in "A Hungarian Rhapsody, assisted by Ben Reubens, Harry Weston and Frank Corbett; The Six Kirksmith Sisters in "An Old Fashioned Garden;" Walton and Brandt, Two in One; Gertrude Newman, Broadway's Little Gazz Girl; Tuscano Brothers, skillful wielders of Roman Axes, and Pathe News reels makes up the present vaudeville program at the Orpheum, which will be on view today, with daily matinee and two performances each evening.

LILLIAN WALKER COMES

Movie fans and vaudeville patrons will be out in force Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the coming week, for Miss Lillian Walker, famous movie star, who made "Dimples and Smiles" well known the world over, will headline on the Orpheum program for the first three days. This will be the first opportunity Madison theater-goers have had of seeing this little lady in person and together with the excellent acts booked for this bill, including Bert Baker and Company in "Prevarication"; Green and Dean, offering nifty songs in a nifty way; Zika, the World's renowned vaudeville Magician; The Three Blighty Girls, rare bits of Scotch vaudeville; Herbert's Dogs, the Loop-the-Loop Canines, and Pathe News and Topics of the Day reels, local amusement followers can look forward to a dandy bill.

Lillian Walker, she of the dimples and the blond curls, the sweet smile and the sparkling eyes, is the latest addition to the host of famous celebrities who have enrolled under the vaudeville banner. Since the early days of motion pictures, Miss Walker has not only been prominent as a screen star, but as well the reigning favorite of the world's army of movie fans, particularly beloved by women and children for her ideally perfect camera reuection of youthful innocence, sunny disposition and radiating personality, this remarkable attractive and winsome young miss achieved the enviable reputation of making "Dimples and Smiles" famous the world over and comes to the Orpheum theater in person, headlining the vaudeville bill for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Miss Walker was one of that group of celebrated actors who played in the original Vitagraph company. She came to pictures after a short career on the stage, and while familiar with the technique of the legitimate drama, has a little understanding but no experience in vaudeville. Constantly hearing her associates declaim on the great opportunity possible in this line of amusements for capable artists, Miss Walker determined to give it a trial. Her debut in vaudeville was an instantaneous success, not only did it mark an epoch in the life of this clever star, but as well in the realm of vaudeville.

In her present offering, Miss Walker, unlike many other picture stars who have entered vaudeville, does not sing or dance, instead she happily "monologs" her way into the hearts of her old admirers and makes hosts of new ones, as she smilingly tells you the "ifs," "ands" and "whys" of the moving picture world with now and then an anecdote bearing on the fads and foibles of the male and female celebrities of the screen.

THE STRAND CALENDAR

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Dorothy Gish in "Flying Pat," also Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck." Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday—Marion Davis in "The Restless Sex," also motion pictures of Madison and a comedy cartoon.

"Flying Pat"

Dorothy Gish in "Flying Pat" will be shown at the Strand theater for three days starting today. Peppery Dorothy is at her mirth-provoking best in a rollicking story of young married life. She scampers in and out of airplanes, crashes out of the sky into an apple tree, and finally is reconciled to her distraught husband out in the kitchen, where, unbeknown to him, she has taken a job as cook.

Miss Gish is the "Pat" of the title. Having married an ex-aviator and being told by him that she is to seek a career, it is natural that she conceives an ambition to be the champion lady airplane-tamer. Of course, when hubby mentioned career, he wasn't thinking of flying and the handsome captain who so kindly offered to teach Pat the finer points of volplaning. So there are complications that finally lead the bride to a teary exodus from her husband's roof. But the world proves cold and the men over-flirtatious, so she comes back—but not to the parlor. She stops at the kitchen, where she supplants a cook who has just resigned. here she listens in on the consultations which her frantic husband is having with the detectives who are searching for her.

Buster Keaton in his latest comedy hit "Hard Luck," is the added feature attraction.

COMING WEEK AT GRAND

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Zane Grey's "Riders of the Dawn." Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday—A First National special "Not Guilty."

"Riders of the Dawn"

Benjamin B. Hampton's latest contribution to motion picture entertainment demonstrates that he is alert to the responsibilities that must be shouldered by producers before a production is a success. "Riders of the Dawn" can be said to be a really big picture. It is a finished adaptation of a stirring story of the Northwest, "The Desert of Wheat," by Zane Grey.

The action of the play is intense throughiut, and this has been accomplished by demonstrating in a straightforward manner the activities of a class of men who have sought in the past to destroy the enormous wheat crop in the Northwest and in other sections of the country. Melodrama and romance are interwoven skilfully. Of unusual interest are the pictures of the wheat fields, the methods of harvesting the grain, and the battles between the vigilantes and the scoundrels seeking to destroy the property. The cast is a notable one, including Joseph J. Dowling, Roy Stewart, Robert McKim, Claire Adams and others of note. "Riders of the Dawn" comes to the Grand Sunday for a run of three days.

FULLER CALENDAR

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Buster Keaton and William H. Crane in "The Saphead." A seven reel special.

Shakespearean Star Plays in "The Saphead"

Odette Tyler, who plays Mrs. Cornelia Opydke, the fascinating widow in "The Saphead," with William H. Some of her most memorable performances were as Ophelia in Hamlet, Desdemona in Othello, Constance in King John, Juliet in Romeo and Juliet, and Rosalind in As You Like It.

BOSTON—A bequest of $12,000 to Richard Crane, III, U. S. minister to Czecho-Slovakia, is contained in the will of Paton C. McGilvary, former overseas flier, whose bullet-riddled body was found recently in an alley in the Back Bay district. The will was filed for probate here Saturday. It provides that after payment of the bequest to Mr. Crane, the residue of the estate shall go to his father, E. B. McGilvary, head of the department of philosophy at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner who conducted the investigation of McGilvary's death, with the assistance of the police department, has not yet filed his formal report, but has expressed his belief that McGilvary committed suicide.

PHI BETA KAPPAS HEAR DEAN SELLERY

Dean George C. Sellery gave the annual address at the Phi Beta dinner last night at Lathrop hall, which followed the initiation of the 56 students recently elected to membership in that organization.

The initiation itself was held at 5 o'clock and was presided over by Prof. Frank C. Sharp, president of the Wisconsin chapter of the fraternity.

Dean Sellery selected a historical setting for his address and spoke of the ideas and ideals of Pierre Du Bois, the great lawyer reformer of the thirteenth century. He read several passages from the writings of Du Bois to bear out his own assertion that, if the Renaissance had not come when it did, the ideas of the great reformer and of his contemporaries would nevertheless have gone far to produce the same results.

He went on to show how a similarity exists between the ideas which were current in the thirteenth century and those which are abroad in our modern world.

Prof. Sharp acted as toastmaster during the evening, and Helen M. Dick responded for the senior members and Sterling Tracy for the juniors.

President E. A. Birge welcomed the incoming members and spoke a word of farewell to the seniors who are soon to graduate.
