NISBET NAMES ANNUAL STOCK SHOW WORKERS

Little International Will Take Place on Feb. 24

Committees for the fourth annual Little International Live Stock show to be held in the University Stock pavilion, February 24, were announced yesterday by John C. Nisbet '23, manager of the event.

The show, which is conducted by the Wisconsin Saddle and Sirloin club is an annual exposition of university herds and flocks. Farmers and prominent breeders from all parts of the country are invited to attend the exposition.

Expect Large Crowd

"The open house to be conducted by the College of Agriculture at which the 18 departments of the college will be on display to the public is expected to draw even a larger crowd than in former years" Nisbet said yesterday. The committeemen Donald Brace '24 and George Lery '25 are assistant managers of the show. The members of the committees are as follows:

Publicity—L. R. Taylor, chairman, T. R. Daniels assistant chairman, R. A. Ammon, W. P. Meyer, A. Platten, W. E. Sheutz, M. A. Schaars, Wm. Sarles.

STAR CAST PICKED FOR PRE-PROM PLAY

The cast for the prom play, "Stop Thief", which is to be presented with two performances at the Parkway theater on February 1, has been chosen and is now at work on the production.

This will be the first appearance of the Wisconsin University players since the combining of the three clubs, Twelfth Night, Edwin Booth, and Red Domino. Some of the most prominent women of the junior class will play parts in the play.

The play is farcical in three acts written by Carlyle Moore in which Frank Bacon of "Lightnin'" had one of the leading parts.

The following cast has been selected: Caroline Carr, Katherine O'Shea '24; Madge Carr, Pauline Ambrose '24; Jean Carr, Carol Goodyear '23; Nell, Olivia Orth '24; William Carr, Alfred Luddin, grad; James Cluney, Thomas MacLean '24; Mr. Jamison, Laurene Hastings '24; Dr. Willoughby, Don Marvin '23; Rev. Mr. Spelain, Lee McCandless '23; Jack Doogan, Roy French '23; Joe Thompson, Harold Bentson '24; Sergeant of Police, Vincent Conlin '23; Officer O'Malley, Carlyle Richards '25; Officers Clancy, Le Roy Wallace '24; Officer O'Brien, Carroll Roach '25.

The play is being coached by Miss Gertrude E. Johnson, assistant professor of speech, and Ralph K. Scheimpflug '23. Harold Bentson '24 is in charge of production. Herbert Boning '23, is business manager.

Christmas Seals Are Rapid Sellers

The sale of the Red Cross seals is progressing rapidly this year, according to members of Crucible, honorary junior woman's organization, which has charge of the sale among the students.

There are some students who have not yet been reached through the fraternity, sorority, and boarding houses. These students will have the opportunity of buying stamps at the University pharmacy, the Badger pharmacy, and Menges' drug store on University avenue.

The seals, which are one cent each are sold each year to raise funds for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association. Each student has been asked to buy at least 15 stamps.

10 have had charge of the sale in the various houses have been asked to report to the S. G. A. office in Lathrop hall between 11 o'clock and 5 o'clock Monday Dec. 11 to return the money and unsold stamps.

XMAS BALL TO BE AT PFISTER

800 Couples Are Expected to Attend Milwaukee Dance

More than 800 couples are expected to attend the Memorial Union ball to be held at the Hotel Pfister in Milwaukee on Wednesday evening, Dec. 27.

The entire seventh floor of the hotel has been obtained for the dance, including the Fern Room and the Red Room. Besides the large representation of Milwaukee students and their friends, a considerable number of Wisconsin young people from adjoining cities are planning to attend in parties.

Walter E. Bauman, '24, will have direct charge of the dance. Bauman was chairman of the Milwaukee normal promenade last year and has conducted several series of dances in the past few years.

"The Union will expect to raise a considerable sum, so we will need the co-operation of all Milwaukee students," said Bauman. "Everyone will want to attend the function during the holidays, and we will depend upon the Milwaukee people to spread it among the alumni at home."

A massmeeting of Milwaukee students probably will be called this week to spread tickets among them for sale at home, Bauman said. A sale in Milwaukee will be opened within two weeks.

Other members of the committees are:

Assistant chairman, Herbert Hontzen '23; music, Roland Ische '26, and Else Kuehn '25; decorations, Helen Powell '25; advertising, Albert Osterman '25, Marjorie Severance '23, Hazel Weinhardt '25, and Anita Schroeder '23; Milwaukee high school, Frederick Beckmann '23; features, Gordon Roberts '24; patrons and patronesses, John Fitzgerald '24 and Louis Black '24.

Commerce Mag Will Be on Sale Next Tuesday

"Impressions of a Greenhorn Prince of Commerce," written by one of the most prominent seniors here last year, and signed "Clarence," will be one of the features of this month's Commerce Magazine, which will be on sale Tuesday morning.

Miss Ethel Scully, secretary-treasurer of the Morris Fox company, one of the leading bond houses in Milwaukee, has written an article for the magazine called "Where do I Belong." It is a discussion of the situation of the bond houses. Miss Scully is prominent in the business world, and is probably one of the highest salaried business women in the state of Wisconsin.

"Exporting as a Career for College Men", is the title of another article in the mag this month. It is written by the editor of the American Exporter, who is a leading authority on exports in America.

Y. W. BAZAAR ATTRACTS MANY TO DEVONSHIRE

Environs of Famous English City Attract 1,000 Persons

Approximately 1,000 did the rounds at the Y. W. C. A. bazaar at Lathrop yesterday afternoon and evening, and wandered up and down Tottenham Row and the environs of the old English town of Devonshire.

The booths were filled with all sorts of attractive gifts and many people availed themselves of the opportunity to solve their puzzling gift problems. The Corner Book Shoppe did a thriving business. Gus Tuckerman's auction was a rapidly moving success, and disposed of many things.

Varsity Quartet Sings
The Varsity quartet in their rendering of old English songs both humorous and quaint made a great success in the program which was given in the Concert room in the afternoon. Mildred Rodolf '25 and Deborah Oldes '23, in an original song and dance act, and Margaret Ives '25 and Alethea Smith in a one act sketch also pleased the audience.

Candy Booth Has Big Business
The Cheshire Cheese Inn had good patronage and their old English dishes pleased all who had them. Many sororities gave up their dinner for the evening meal which was served there.

The Candy Booth was the largest money making concern of all. It had a larger stock of home made candy than ever before.

Love letters—love letters—and more love letters, every body had them, and the postmistress in the little old English post office did a lively business supplying the demands to satisfy sentimental natures.

Sherrard Will Lecture For Chemical Society

Mr. E. C. Sherrard, lecturer at the Forest Products laboratory, will address the Wisconsin section of the American Chemical Society at its regular meeting Wednesday evening, in the auditorium of the Chemistry building on the "Hydrolysis of Wood."

After receiving his degree from the University of Michigan, Dr. Sherrard was connected with the Goodyear Rubber company for a short time. Since then he has been working principally on the acid hydrolysis of wood in the Forest Products laboratory.

Immediately after the address a business session will be held by the members to take up proposed amendments to the by-laws and elect officers for 1923.

Prom Slogan Undecided; Contest Open To Tuesday

No decision in the Prom slogan contest could be reached last night, Gordon B. Wanzer, Prom chairman announced.

"The returns were good in point of numbers," Wanzer said, "But none of them seemed to approach our ideal. Most of them were too long to be usable. The winning slogan will have to be short and snappy."

The contest will be continued until Tuesday night, Wanzer said.

FIRE!

Flying sparks from the chimney set fire to the roof of the Elton House, a student rooming place at 529 State street, early last night. The Elton house is owned by Mrs. Nelson. The damage was negligible.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is predicted for Madison and vicinity for today. Increasing cloudiness is forecast for tomorrow with slowly rising temperature.

Childs Will Talk Before 800 Today

More than 800 students will attend the general massmeeting at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in Music hall when Jack Childs, Wisconsin's representative in China, will officially open the Wisconsin in China week.

For eight years Childs has worked among the Chinese students in the Orient and this is the first time that Wisconsin students have been able to personally welcome their representative back to his alma mater.

There will be no solicitation of funds at the meeting but Childs will tell of his work in the foreign field and will relate some of his experiences.

During the recent famine in China Childs was awarded a distinctive decoration of the Abundant Harvest, an honor given only to civilians, for his work as executive secretary of the famine relief workers.

Members of the faculty organization of Wisconsin in China will sit on the platform at the massmeeting. Robert Stewart '23, has charge of the massmeeting preparations.

TO GIVE TALK AT LIBE TODAY

Varnum Will Speak on Portraits of War Heroes

A talk on the $65,000 collection of portraits of war heroes will be given in the State Historical library at 4 o'clock this afternoon, by Prof. W. H. Varnum of the department of fine and applied arts.

The pictures, which include portraits of Premier Georges Clemenceau, Lloyd George, ex-pres. Wilson, General J. J. Pershing, the King of Belgium and many others were painted at the close of the war by some of America's leading portrait painters in order that a pictorial record of the great men of that important period might be made permanent.

They are the work of such painters as Cecilia Beaux, John C. Johansen, Joseph De Camp and Tarbell. Mr. Johansen is especially well known in this city for his portraits of several of its citizens.

The collection is touring the principal cities of the U. S. before being finally installed in the gallery at Washington, and is under the direction of American Federation of Arts.

Several of the portraits, which stand eight feet high, were presented to the government by the larger cities and were purchased by popular subscription.

The collection, which has been touring the country for a year and a half, will remain in Madison until Christmas and will be on display daily. The gallery will be open today from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Local Editor to Speak at Press Club Banquet

Harry Ross, city editor of the Wisconsin State Journal, a newspaper man of extensive experience, will talk on the "Go-Getter" at the initiation banquet of Press Club in Lathrop hall, S. G. A. room at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Ross has held every position from a cub reporter to managing editor on a score of different newspapers throughout the country, and will have a great deal of practical information to offer to members and newly elected members. His address will consist of relating some of his experiences and trials, and will include a discussion of the present problems confronting men and women new in the game.

Regular initiation of new members will take place from 2:30 to 4:30 Monday afternoon in the Journalism lecture room, 37 South hall. All new members are asked to report some time between these hours for a brief initiation ceremony.

Each initiate is asked to bring with him some short, humorous, original sketch, either in prose or poetry, to be delivered before the initiation committee.

GREEKS TO VOTE UPON DEFERRED RUSHING RULES

Council Sends Questionnaire to All Fraternities on the Hill

The question of deferring the fall rushing season will be voted upon at the chapter meetings of all fraternities this week, and results will be submitted to the Interfraternity Council.

"In case the chapters decide to adopt a system of deferred rushing the rules will be worked out later. At present the only question to be decided is whether the fraternities are in favor of deferred rushing or not," said Edward Hooker L 2, chairman of the committee on rushing rules yesterday.

Council Sends Paper

A mimeographed sheet has been distributed to all organizations on the hill. This list follows:

"At the close of the past rushing season a great deal of dissatisfaction was expressed with the present system. Considerable sentiment was found in favor of deferring rushing. To ascertain whether this sentiment has the backing of the fraternities as a whole, we ask the early action of your chapter upon the following question as a preliminary step to the formation of new rules which the committee will present shortly to the respective chapters.

"Does your chapter favor deferring the rushing period to some time subsequent to the opening of college?

"The committee lists the following points which have led it to place the question before you:

"1. The necessity of returning to college from ten days to two weeks before classes begin is obviated. Men having work during the summer can retain their jobs longer. Others may have a few more days of vacation after Labor day.

"2. It is fairer to the respective fraternities. Under the present system a man is often pledged before the fraternity has had an opportunity to investigate his case. Men are taken in who do not prove to be congenial. There would be fewer pledges broken and more general satisfaction if delayed rushing were adopted. Each fraternity would have an opportunity to look over a larger percent of the entering class.

"3. It is fairer to the incoming man because he would have a chance to get organized before he is swept off his feet by fraternity rushing.

"4. Violations of whatever rules are finally adopted could be detected more easily if the men had an opportunity to locate at their

EXAM SCHEDULE AVAILABLE AT LIBE

The examination schedule for this semester has been made out and a copy is posted at the university desk of the Historical library for student use. Copies will not be sent to individual students as in previous years.

This schedule, which may be changed some before examination time, does not apply to the College of Engineering or the Law school, but special schedules for these colleges will be posted in their respective buildings.

Apparent conflicts in hours should be reported to Charles A. Smith, 151 Bascom hall, where information relative to room assignments is also available. Actual conflicts will be solved by the dean of the college involved.

One credit courses are not on the schedule and examinations in these will be at the last regular class period, or, by special arrangement with the faculty secretary, at an hour which does not conflict with the regular schedule.

Time involved in the examinations will be from January 22 to February 1. Two hours will be allowed for each examination.

I-R. WILL BE BILL PROPOSAL

Huber May Introduce Measure; Passage is Anticipated

Amendment to the Wisconsin constitution to establish the initiative and referendum in this state, is to be proposed in a joint resolution being prepared for submission to the 1923 legislature as an administration measure. The resolution also contains a provision which if adopted would make more simple the amendment of the constitution.

Senator Henry Huber, administration leader in the upper house, is expected to introduce the resolution in the early days of the session, and with administration control of both the senate and assembly, adoption is anticipated.

The resolution reserves the right to propose legislation to the members of either of the two houses, but provides that "no law enacted by the legislature, except an emergency law, shall take effect before 90 days after its passage and publication. If within 90 days there shall have been filed a petition to submit to a vote of the people such law or any part thereof shall not take effect until 30 days after its approval by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon."

Bills introduced in the legislature, on petition of 8 per cent of the qualified electors of the state, if made not later than four months before the next general election, must be submitted to a vote of the people, and shall become a law if it is approved by a majority of the electors voting.

It is provided that emergency laws are to remain in force notwithstanding this petition should it be made, but will stand repealed 30 days after being rejected by a majority of the electors voting.

Amendment to the constitution under the resolution should be proposed by any legislator during the first 30 days of any legislative session, and if passed by both houses it must be submitted to the people upon petition of 5 per cent of the qualified electors.

If the petition is signed by 10 per cent of the voters, the proposed change would have to be submitted to the voters whether passed by both houses of the legislature or not.

A majority vote of the people would be necessary to ratify any amendment, which now must pass two successive legislatures before being submitted to the people.

The resolution as proposed by the administration would give a modified initiative and referendum, reserving the right to introduce proposed laws to the members of the legislature but giving the people the final right to say whether the measures shall become law.

Master Magician is at Orpheum For First Half

Something new in the art of magic will be demonstrated by Carl Rosini, the master magician, and his company as a part of the new program at the Orpheum.

"Eccentricities" is a high class comedy singing and dancing act, headed by Bobby Jackson, youthful eccentric singing and dancing comedian. He will be assisted by three good looking young persons, a boy and two girls. A series of song impressions will be rendered by Jean Barrios, one of the most sensational vocalists in vaudeville. For each song impression, a different and striking gown creation will be worn. "Brazilian Desert" is the name of the vehicle by which Harry Tyler and Gladys Crolius will introduce themselves. Mr. Tyler is particularly eccentric in comedy and songs. Astonishment and enjoyment are expected to reign when Bell and Eva start their fun in a soda fountain. These two excellent entertainers, who have obtained a brand new idea. They create surprises when their soda fountain turns out to be something very different from what their audience expected. Hayes and Marion will offer a comedy skit entitled "Before and After." The Latest Happening of the world will be pictured by the Pathé News, which together with "The Topics of the Day" will form the picture part of the program.

baffled the brain of mankind—from Mother Eve to Cleopatra and down through the ages. "What's wrong with the women?" is a question that King Solomon, Henry the 8th, Bluebeard, and hundreds of others have tried to answer.

In the picture of that title at the Parkway starting today, the modern answer is given. It is an astounding photodrama of the money-mad, luxury-loving age gone wild. With ruthless hands it rips aside the curtains that hide the whims and foibles of modern woman, and reveals her in all her glorious strength and weakness.

An all star cast includes Rod La Roque, Barbara Castleton, Montagu Love, Mrs. De Wolf Hopper, and Julia Swayne Gordon. Additional features include Bobby Vernon in a Christie special comedy "Choose Your Weapons", a burlesque on "The Prisoner of Zenda" and the Parkway Magazine, which features latest news events and novelties.

A few good seats are still available at the box office for Harry Lauder's appearance here next Thursday night. Friday Viola Dana comes in a new picture called "Seeing is Believing."

Agric Triangle Leads Community Discussions

Two more rural community programs were added to the long list of community meetings conducted by Agric Triangle when teams from the organizations presented educational and entertaining numbers at the Tiedeman school, Middleton, and at the Gammon school near Madison, Friday, and last night.

More than 25 farmers crowded into the little school house at Middleton to listen to discussion of agricultural topics by members of the organization. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

"The community spirit evidenced by the people was wonderful, declared H. C. Schaefer '24, who presided at the meeting. "By means

ANNUAL INDOOR MEET GOES TO SOPH RUNNERS

FRESHMEN SCORE LESS THAN 30 POINTS IN TRACK EVENTS

Once again the sophomore proved their superiority over the rival freshmen when they walked away with the annual indoor track meet at the annex yesterday afternoon. The final score stood 74½ points for the sophs and 29½ for the frosh.

The yearlings surprised the sophomores by winning the eight lap relay by several yards, however. The race was finished in 2 minutes, 23 1-10 seconds. The best time made by any college in the annex last year was barely a record under this mark. Beloit ran the same race in 2 minutes, 22 seconds in the intercollegiate relay race held last year.

Gene Tuhtar, the high point winner of the meet, won two first places and tied for another place. Piper was second high man with eight points.

For the frosh, Kennedy and Sherburne tied for first honors, taking a first place besides running on the winning relay team.

The sophomores scored shutouts in four events by taking all three places in the half mile, the mile, two mile, and the high jump. In the mile, Cohen, a freshman, led the field for the first four laps when he lost his shoe. Although he finished the race with one bare foot, he steadily dropped behind and lost his chance to score.

Summary

40-yard dash—Sherburne, '26, first; Blumenstein, '25, second; Landschulz, '26, third. Time, 4 7-10 seconds.

45-yard low hurdles—Tuhtar, '25, first; Snell, '25, second; Kerr, '26, third. Time, 5 6-10 seconds.

40-yard high hurdles—Tuhtar, '25, first; Zilisch, '26, second; Legler, '26, third. Time, 5 7-10 seconds.

440-yard dash—First heat, Graham, '25, first; Sherman, '25, second; Held, '26, third. Time, 57 1-10 seconds. Second heat, Kennedy, '26, first; Campbell, '25, second; Blumenstein, '25, third. Time, 55 3-5 seconds. Finals, Kennedy, '25, first; Campbell, '25, second; Graham, '25, third. Time, 55 3-10 seconds.

880-yard dash—Neiderman, '25, first; Campbell, '25, second; Stiles, '25, third. Time, 2 minutes, 10 6-10 seconds.

Mile—Piper, '25, first; Bergstresser, '25, second; Perry, '25, third. Time, 4 minutes 53 1-5 seconds.

Two mile—Perry, '25, first; Piper, '25, second; Trier, '25, third. Time, 10 minutes 50 3-10 seconds.

High jump—Tuhtar, '25, and Henning, '25, tied for first; Jones, '25, third. Height, 5 feet, 8 inches.

Broad jump—Muzzy, '25, first; Zilisch, '26, second; Shapiro, '26, third. Distance, 20 feet, 6½ inches.

Shot put—Gilbreath, '25, first; Thompson, '26, second; Aller, '26, third. Distance, 35 feet, 3 inches.

Pole vault—Schmidt, '25 and Jones, '25, tied for first; Pyle, '26, and Hestwood, '25, tied for third. Height, 11 feet, 3 inches.

Relay—freshman team composed of Sherburne, Landchulz, Kerr, and Kennedy, first place. Time, 2 minutes, 23 1-10 seconds.

YALE ALUMNI DISSATISFIED WITH ITS COACHING STAFF

Friday's edition of The Yale Alumni Weekly states that the football committee and coaches should face conditions squarely, and find a remedy for the monotony of the last decade. The prevailing sentiment of the graduates is thought to be that a defeated coach must lose his position for no other reason than that he was defeated. The paper states that Yale football has not shown a winning system and can regain this only with tactical brains at the top.

CHALLENGED BY ARMY

The Army staff has offered to play Washington-Jefferson at West Point next year. It is stated on good authority that the offer was made to the president about two weeks before the end of the season.

OPEN TICKET SALE STARTS WEDNESDAY

Tickets for the Butler-Wisconsin basketball game Friday evening will be placed on sale at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the gym for students only and any remaining will be placed on sale for the general public Thursday afternoon at the same hour.

It is expected the teams will play to a capacity crowd. The Butler team, from Indianapolis, coached by Pat Page, the old Chicago star, is the only team which ever beat Wisconsin in a preliminary game. Butler turned the trick here last year in one of the best contests of the season, and comes back Friday with the same team, confident of winning again.

Under the state law the capacity of the gymnasium is limited to about 2,000 people and it is expected that every seat will be sold in advance for each game this season. For the benefit of those students who have afternoon classes the student sale will be held Wednesday afternoon from 12:30 to 6 o'clock when not to exceed two tickets may be purchased by students upon presentation of their fee card. As heretofore the tickets will be 50 cents each to students, and 75 cents to the general public.

OHIO'S INDOOR SEASON BEGUN

TRACK, GYMNASTIC, WRESTLING, AND BASKETBALL SQUADS START PRACTICE

(Special to The Cardinal)

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 9—Short pants athletes at Ohio State university are bestirring themselves for a big season under roof. Varsity basketball and wrestling squads have been working for weeks preparing for their first schedule tests.

Tracks and gymnastic teams are beginning to give some thought to winter schedules. And intramural athletics are drawing into the locker rooms hundreds of students not candidate for various varsity teams.

First Home Game

The first of nine home games on a 15-game varsity basketball schedule will bring Ohio Wesleyan, traditional opener of Buckeye schedules, to Columbus Friday.

Sport lovers who crave variety can look forward to the months of February and March. An indoor track meet will bring Chicago to compete with Ohio State in the Coliseum at the State Fair grounds on February 3.

Second Relay Carnival

The indoor relay carnival introduced a year ago will be repeated. Last year Ohio State sent six teams against Oberlin in a mile relay, Ohio Wesleyan in a two-mile event, Cincinnati in the four-mile, Wooster, Miami and Denison in medley relays. A similar program is planned, rounded out again with special individual contests in sprint, hurdle and jump events, with relays for junior and senior high schools of Columbus sandwiched between collegiate events.

The annual intramural festival, finals in the state high school basketball tournament and the Western Intercollegiate Gymnastic Wrestling and Fencing carnival will liven successive week-end in March. In addition to "Big Ten" universities, Nebraska and Ames also compete in the wrestling, gymnastic and fencing tournament assigned Ohio State for the first time.

TWO NEW HOMES ARE PLANNED FOR WEST SIDE

Transfers in vacant lots have been made recently as a result of which Carl J. Baer of Baraboo will build a new six room colonial home in Hillington Green.

Prof. Frank A. Sprague has also purchased a lot in West Lawn Heights from Wilfred Way and will construct a home of colonial design. The purchasers and buyers were represented by the Realty Sales corporation, 517-18 Gay bldg., of which Edward Samp is manager. This company will also build the homes.

OHIO STATE FANS GET FIRST CAGE CONTEST FRIDAY

OHIO WESLEYAN, TWICE CONQUEROR OF BUCKEYES, IS ATTRACTION

(Special to The Cardinal)

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 9—Not only players, but fans as well are on edge for the opening of the basketball season at Ohio State university next Friday. The rising curtain will reveal Ohio Wesleyan bucketers deployed against the rival Buckeyes.

Ohio State, with a 15-game schedule ahead, will again play their home games, of which there are nine, on the Coliseum floor at the State Fair grounds, one of the best basketball floors in the country.

First Public Appearance

Indications are that dyed-in-the-wool basketball fans will be augmented by a substantial number of the just curious at the first public appearance of the 1922-23 Ohio State court team.

The Ohio Wesleyan encounter will afford the first opportunity of Ohio State followers to look over the tossers the new Buckeye mentor, H. G. Olsen, has been working with for nearly two months. The closed door and other training innovations Coach Olsen has introduced are also apt to prove bait to the curious.

Ohio Lost Last Year

Since 1920, when Ohio State walloped Wesleyan twice, the Buckeyes have twice been nosed out by the Methodists, first by one point and last season by two. An incentive quite part from the desire to get away on the right foot is therefore dangling before the State loopers. Through the years, Ohio State has trimmed Ohio Wesleyan basketball teams 17 times. The neighbors have reversed the story nine times.

Captain Robinson, Blair, Dudley, Davis and Taylor are Ohio State veterans available for the opener, although Blair has only been working with the team since the close of the football season.

COACH LOWMAN TO TALK BEFORE WESLEY FORUM

Guy Lowman, baseball coach of the university will be the speaker at the meeting of Wesley Forum tonight, on the subject of "Sportsmanship."

"Doc" Meanwell, who was to speak at this meeting, has been called out of town it was learned yesterday. Consequently, the two coaches have changed dates. Meanwell will be heard in January.

According to Lawrence Denyes, L. I., the topics for January will be of an especially live nature. All will be on current social problems and presented by a fine group of speakers. Mr. E. D. Lescolier will speak on "Ideals in Immigrant population", Prof. J. R. Commons will discourse on "Industrial Goodwill", and other interesting subjects will be presented.

The annual Xmas concert has been arranged for next Sunday evening.

OVERCOAT UNCLAIMED AS COACH SELCTS WINNER

The overcoat offered by Olson and Veerhusen company to the football man doing the most for his team this season will probably be awarded the first part of this week, it was announced last night.

It was originally planned to make the presentation at the football banquet last Thursday, but as the selection of the best man had not been made at that time, it was postponed. The choice is said to lie between Rollie Williams, Marty Below, and Gus Tebell, Wisconsin's three all-conference men.

Professors Pyre and Jones, and Coach Richards are thoroughly sifting the record of each Varsity man in order to make the award absolutely fair. Announcement of the winner will be made in the Cardinal within a few days.

FRENCH CLUB

French club will meet Tuesday evening in Lathrop parlors at 7:00 o'clock. All members are urged to be present, and to bring their dues if they have not already paid them.

ROLLIE, GUS, MARTY ON WESTERN SQUAD

Rollie Williams, Gus Tebell and Marty Below have been accorded places on the first team in the All-Western selections made by Walter Eckersall, famed sport writer, yesterday.

The selection of three Wisconsin men on the mythical western eleven comes as the second signal honor and tribute paid to the Badger fighter and Coach Richard's eleven this year. The same three were chosen by Eckersall for the first Big Ten honor team.

Wisconsin, with three men on the eleven, outranks every other school in the West in point of numbers represented. Michigan is second with two. Iowa, Chicago, Nebraska, Illinois, Minnesota and Notre Dame each are represented by one.

Eckersall's lineup for the first All-Western team is as follows:

Player	Position	School
Kirk	L. E.	Michigan
Weller	L. T.	Nebraska
McMillen	L. G.	Illinois
King	C.	Chicago
Degree	R. G.	Notre Dame
Tebell	R. E.	Wisconsin
Williams	Q. B.	Wisconsin
Martineau	L. H. B.	Minnesota
Kipke	R. H. B.	Michigan
Locke (Capt.)	F. B.	Iowa

BADGER BASKET SQUAD TO OPEN SEASON MONDAY

VARSIETY WILL PLAY AGAINST FROSH IN FIRST GAME

Basketball fans will get their first opportunity to see the Wisconsin squad in action when Varsity and frosh scrimmage in the first open practice of the season at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening.

For the first time, the regular five will "do its stuff" before a crowd, and seats will be placed to handle the expected number. Coach Walter E. Meanwell has sent his proteges through a series of secret workouts which began shortly after the beginning of the scholastic year. With the preliminary game but a few days away, Varsity is swinging into tip-top shape and the line-up is taking a definite form.

GAGE TO PLAY FORWARD

Butler college has a strong enough team so that the Badgers will be forced to go at top speed throughout the entire contest. Coach Meanwell will use every possible combination in an effort to wallop the Indians.

Les Gage is billed to play left forward, while Ken Elsom and Byron Barwig are also making a very strong bid for a forward job. Douglas Gibson has a big edge in the chase for center, but Wackman has improved rapidly. There is little doubt over the two guards. Capt. Gus Tebell and Rollie Williams are the best pair of defense men in the Big Ten.

PAIGE HAS STRONG TEAM

Coach Pat Paige will bring a team of veterans to Madison. He has the knack of developing winning teams, last year beating Wisconsin, Illinois, and other powerful quintets. Paige coached the Chicago university squad for several years and his teams were always to be reckoned with in the Conference title chase.

After the Butler college contest, Wisconsin will meet Beloit college, champions of the Little Five, and Marquette university. Both of these teams will furnish strong opposition to the Badgers.

FIVE SORORITIES HAVE PERFECT BOWLING RECORDS

The second round of the sorority bowling was played off Friday afternoon and Saturday morning at the Madison bowling alleys. This gives many of the sororities an advantage in the championship race at this time. Alpha Chi, Alpha Xi Delta, A. O. Pi, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Chi Omega all have perfect records thus far. Yesterday's scores are as follows:

Kappa Delta 3; Kappa Kappa Gamma 0.
Alpha Xi Delta 2; Pi Phi 1
A. O. Pi 3; Phi Mu 0
Chi Omega 3; Alpha Delta Pi 0
Kappa Alpha Theta 3; Tri Delta 0.

Kappa Alpha Theta 3; Tri Delta 0
Alpha Chi 2; Alpha Gamma 1
Phi Omega Pi 3; Delta Zeta 0

The highest individual score was bowled by Ruth Staudemeyer '24, who bowled a total of 213 on the 10 frames.

MICHIGAN WINS GAME FROM NOTRE DAME 41-23

Michigan defeated Notre Dame in her first basketball game of the season 41 to 23. The game played on Friday night was a fast one and indicates that Michigan will have a strong team this year. A high score was run up by Coach Mather's men in the first half and an entire new team was put in during the second period. The Michigan stars were Bill Miller and Mike Paper.

PENN STATE WILL LEAVE FOR CALIFORNIA DEC. 19

Penn State football team will leave for California on December 19 where it will train to play Southern California on New Years day. Approximately 25 gridmen will enjoy the trip. The team will do some sightseeing and will witness the Pittsburgh-Stanford contest at Palo Alto December 30. The squad will be back home about January 7.

BACHELOR vs BENEDICK

FIVE married men make up the basketball team of Butler college, which will meet the Varsity next Friday evening in the first game of the season. None of the Badgers, to our knowledge, at least, has yet shown such intrepid defiance of circumstance.

In view of these facts, the contest will have a peculiar interest. Single blessedness versus connubial cussedness, so to speak.

The fact that the Benedicks beat the Badgers last season puts a particularly great responsibility on the Meanwellmen. A double defeat by an aggregation of student husbands would be intensely significant. We hate to think, we dare not prophecy, that the effect of such evidence might be on the great host of unmarried undergraduates.

Nevertheless, Badger basketeers, upon you rests the responsibility of proving that sanity of student singleness.

Loyal bachelors, and spinsters too, for that matter, may materially aid their cause by turning out for the open practice at the gym Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

This will be the first opportunity to see the team in action. It will also be the first opportunity the team has had this year to play before a crowd.

That is decidedly important. A team which has played in private has not the confidence of one which has withstood the stares of a thousand spectators. A team needs public practice to get into first rate condition for a public game.

Those who turn out for public practice tomorrow evening will not only enjoy themselves and show loyalty to the team, but will aid materially in putting that team in condition for its first game.

P. S. The public practice is sufficiently late so as not to interfere with chapter meetings.

DOPE SESSION

JACK Childs will tell Wisconsin,

Monday afternoon in Music hall, about the work he is doing in China. No money or pledges of money will be demanded at the meeting. No spell-binding emotional appeal for funds will be made.

Those who attend may take their pocketbooks and fountain pens with every assurance of safety. Childs will merely tell an interesting story of an interesting work a great story of a great work.

In previous Childs in China campaigns for funds, an undereurrent of uncertainty has been evident among students. They have heard and read a lot of statements and appeals couched in eloquent terms of altruism, but there has been little first-hand dope.

Now Jack is here with the straight dope. Unless we are mistaken, he will clear up such misapprehension and dispel a good deal of doubt with reference to the work of Wisconsin in China.

Jack is no psalm-singer; he is not primarily a sky pilot. He is a man from a great institution in a great country with great possibilities unrealized.

To hear of that work a large crowd undoubtedly will pack Music hall Monday.

BETWEEN HALVES

The plan of the athletic department to provide entertainment between halves of basketball games is one which is welcome to all quintet fans. Hard benches seem harder when there is nothing to distract attention; the rest period unalleviated by entertainment is a decided bore to spectators.

The entertainment will also be of value in making better known the work of the minor sport teams. Few students know or realize what the gym team, the wrestling team, and other aggregations are doing. Their work is decidedly worth while, besides being interesting to the spectator; and exhibitions will make them better known.

Candle Light Service to Be held at Vespers

A candle light Christmas service, the most distinctive of the year, will be held at Vespers this afternoon in Lathrop parlors at 4:10. Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry will be the speaker and Belle Knights '23, will take charge of the service.

The singing of Christmas carols will be lead by Sophomore commission, and following the service the members of Freshman commission will serve tea and Christmas candies.

Clara Hertzberg '25, has charge of arrangements and Virginia Resnor '25, will play the piano.

Great Educator
And Geologist

Last President Believed in Broad Educational Forms

In the year 1879 the University of Wisconsin graduated an engineering student who was to become one of its most famous alumni, President Charles Richard Van Hise.

Born not far from the little town of Fulton, Wisconsin, he was brought up as a farm boy. In 1875 he came to Madison and took up his residence in North hall where he commenced his studies which were to make him the eminent geologist he was when he died four years ago.

It is a significant fact that he never attended any other university except Wisconsin and that he was never regularly connected with any other faculty, except as a nonresident professor of the University of Chicago. Thus President Van Hise rose to the first rank in science and administration while connected with a single institution. It was upon him, furthermore, that the university conferred its first doctor of philosophy degree.

Believed In Broad Education

Perhaps it was because he had never been directly concerned with any other place of higher education that he was bound so completely heart and soul in his alma mater as he was.

From the year of his graduation Dr. Van Hise was a teacher in the department of geology. A great amount of geological survey work was carried on by him while he was on the instructional staff of the institution.

Dr. Van Hise believed in education in a broader sense than was offered by the average college or university during his presidency. He consequently exerted every effort to extend the scope of the University of Wisconsin, and to add branches of education to it. His reconstruction work in connection with the extension division was only one of the many important steps which he took in bringing this end about.

He was constantly receiving calls to other positions during those years of his presidency. Because he felt that his first duty lay towards the university, however, he refused them.

Was Eminent Geologist

As a geologist he had an international reputation. His discovery of a simplified method of finding minerals was a tremendous advance in science. After studying the disposition of minerals he found a way in which man could more easily and speedily ascertain where they may be found.

Dr. Van Hise was a member of the National Academy of Science and also belonged to many other scientific bodies. As a member of the United States Geological Survey he was bound by an unwritten law of that organization to carry on his research for the sake of science only and not for his own remuneration.

He died in 1918, eight days after the signing of the Armistice, an eminent geologist, great educator and wise reconstructionist.

Prelude to the fifth act of "King Manfred," by Reinecke, "The Morn" from the "Peer Gynt" suite by Grieg, and the March from Raff's symphony will also be rendered. The closing number of the program will be the overture to the opera "The Merry Wives of

Diemer Invents
Moving Picture
Fireproof Film

Do you know whether the last movie you attended was thrown on the screen with a "standard width" or "narrow gauge" film? The picture looks the same, but there's a lot of difference in the way they're made.

The standard size, manufactured from nitro cellulose, is highly inflammable; the narrow gauge is made of acetate of cellulose and burns very slowly. The standard film has 16 pictures to the foot, the new size, 20.

Mr. M. E. Diemer, director of the department of photography, is the inventor of the machine that prints the reductions from the negatives of the standard width to the narrow gauge type. One of his machines was recently shipped to the University of Alberta, Canada.

Narrower Than Old Type

When the Pathé company and the Society of Motion Picture Engineers adopted a film that was made of non-flammable materials about three years ago, and designed one-fourth inch narrower than the regular film, it was necessary to construct a machine that would print the negatives on the narrow film from the standard size.

No patent has been taken out for the machine because its use is rather limited. In the United States there are no strict laws compelling the use of the non-flammable film, but in Canada the law requires the use of non-flammable films.

Laws Not Enforced

"In a few years probably all motion pictures will be screened from non-flammable films," said Mr. Diemer. "Present insurance laws require this, but municipal authorities generally control the power to enforce the law and as a result it is not observed.

"The narrow gauge film is necessarily reduced from the standard width because all negatives used now are of the standard width.

Mr. Diemer's invention makes it and schools, where the fire hazard is great, to use motion pictures without the danger that the old-type of film carried with it.

QUARTET STARTS
SEASON FRIDAY

The first public concert of the Wisconsin Male Quartet will be made next Friday night when it will sing a popular program at the First Baptist church under the auspices of the Baptist Student cabinet. The concert will be made up of classical, humorous and college airs.

For two seasons the quartet has been appearing in and around the city and now it is about to enter upon its third season. Already it has sung a number of selections at various university events, such as the Lowden address several weeks ago. The Friday night program, however, will be the first complete concert which it has rendered this year.

Grad Interprets
Service Idea In Yellow Empire

Childs Teaches U. W. Ideals to Chinese Students Six Years

By WALTER A. FRAUTSCHI

It was in 1916 that Jack Childs was first sent to China as Wisconsin's representative in the Orient to spread the idea of service and to carry on a program of constructive work in the name of the Badger university.

Childs was sent to the Orient as the result of direct observations made by Prof. Edward A. Ross and others who actually saw the work that other universities were doing among the returned Chinese students in the foreign field. Childs as a Wisconsin graduate and a man interested in such work was selected to fill the position and since that time has been supported each year by the students and faculty of the university.

That the work of Childs in the Orient has not been in vain is evidenced by the fact that during the recent famine Childs was awarded the fourth class decoration of the Abundant Harvest, an honorary civilian medal, for his work as the executive secretary for the National Famine relief drive which raised $2,300,000 in Chinese currency.

Interprets Idea of Service

Normally the work of Childs is an international one and has to do primarily with the establishing of good feeling between the races and the interpreting of the Wisconsin idea of service.

Other activities which he carries on through the Chinese Y. M. C. A. as one of its American secretaries are the promotion of games and sports, the helping of the returned Chinese students from this country, the arranging for special speakers and meetings, and the furthering of social service programs.

Wisconsin is not alone in this idea of aiding the Chinese students who have come to this country and carried some ideals of western civilization. Twenty-nine other universities and colleges support secretaries or do some sort of work among these men in China. The amount given by these colleges varies from $40,000, as given by Yale, own.

Work Begins Tomorrow

Tomorrow the movement of Wisconsin in China for the support of Jack Childs will begin. A student organization and a separate faculty organization will work among their respective groups and endeavor to "sell the idea."

WORK OF CHILDS

Students of this university may swell out their chests in righteous pride of their representative in the yellow empire, for surely the faculty of the university value him highly. Statements of a number of professors here show that Jack Childs is doing a tremendous amount of excellent work for China, the Chinese student and the University of Wisconsin.

"Childs' work in Peking is by all odds the biggest thing which is being done there," Prof. C. G. Dittmer, of the department of economics, believes. Professor Dittmer has taught just outside of Peking for six years and knows conditions there. "His return to China is looked forward to with the greatest earnestness and expectation by the Peking missionaries, students and citizens," Professor Dittmer declares.

The Wisconsin in China work is "the finest thing the University of Wisconsin is doing as a whole", is the opinion of Prof. Carl R. Fish, of the history department.

The greatest significance and most profound interest in the work is in seeing China care for herself and not be governed by foreign powers," Prof. A. B. Hall, of the department of political science, said in speaking of the work. "America wants to be in friendly relations toward the Yellow Empire, for we are helping her unselfishly. Jack Childs is at the most strategic point of attack for America to aid China. And he is the man fitted to aid her."

To Triumphant
Peaks In Novel

"When you had the Crystal Box you were happy and contented, and would never want anything again."

This ending to the stories told by an old, old lady so impressed Hugh Walpole when he was a boy that he calls the fragments of his autobiography published in the October, November, and December number of the Bookman by the title "The Crystal Box."

The glimpses of his life that Hugh Walpole, who is to speak here January 18 instead of 17, gives us in the short autobiography explains many of the scenes and characters in his novels.

Left New York

At nine and one half years of age Walpole was sent from New York, where his parents were living for the time, back "home," that is to England, to school. His own short description of the schools pictures it vividly.

"The food was inadequate, the morality was 'twisted', and Terror—sheer, stark, unblinking Terror—stared down every one of the passers."

Walpole's experiences here immensely fostered his tendency to romance by driving him into a world of his own, a world of "dreams thick with ropes of pearl, clusters of diamonds, unfathomable snows touched with the finger of an eternal rosy dawn, temples haunted by violet hued serpents, Aladdin's cave and pirates' holds."

Read Many Books

All through his childhood Walpole read so many books that the world of Scott's and Dicken's novels became more real to him than his home, his family, his friends, and school.

After he finished Cambridge "it was supposed" that Walpole should be a clergyman. So he went to work in a Mission for seamen, but was not very well suited to the work.

After an exceptionally bad day at the mission Walpole, sitting down to his supper, saw a vision of a huge cathedral, and in its shadow tiny midgets walking. He pulled paper toward him and began to write, trying to keep pace with the brain.

At Last A Novelist

"I went to bed in the early hours of the morning, ecstatic, triumphant," he says. "It was so easy. One had only to watch the people, to listen to their voices; it was so easy. Thank God, I was a real novelist at last."

He soon learned his mistake. Everything he did, everywhere he went, his characters were with him. Throughout the dialogue only one character spoke, change the name as he would, and that was Hugh Walpole himself. He found that he must have a definite plan, and limit the number of his characters.

He began to neglect his work at the mission until one day he was told that he was no longer wanted there. That evening he resolved "to be a novelist, good or bad, for the remainder of his earthly days."

Trade Union
History Told
In New Book

Perlman's Text Says Labor
Differs Here and Abroad

By ELIOT H. SHARP.

HISTORY OF TRADE UNIONISM IN THE UNITED STATES, By Selig Perlman; The MacMillan Company.

That the history of organized labor in the United States differs greatly from that in Europe is brought out by Prof. Selig Perlman, of the department of economics, in his new book on trade unionism.

Beginning with the early labor movements as far back as 1827 and the struggle for survival, Professor Perlman follows the trade unionism down through the "wild-cat" prosperity period and the "greenback" period to the time when trade unions became connected with the courts about 1897. This comprises the first half of his history, a third of the entire volume.

Foreign Labor Is Socialistic

It is the opinion of Professor Perlman that, unlike European workmen, the American laborer is not socialistic in nature. He points out how the native workmen have disappointed several generations of Marxians by their refusal to accept the Marxian theory of social development and the Marxian revolutionary goal. The European is ready to carry on revolutions in order to gain his ends; the American wage earner, however, is not willing to employ such methods.

The second part of the book is devoted to the period from 1898, when the unions first received partial recognition by employers, to the developments during and since the World War. The final portion of the volume is given over to conclusions and inferences drawn from the history of unionism.

In this part the author shows the struggle through which labor went in order to determine whether it should follow an idealistic course or a material one, and how the latter path finally won out. The workmen's objective was originally identical with the ideals set forth by the Declaration of Independence, according to Professor Perlman. After a long tussle, however, their philosophy became more materialistic and they made demands which, when granted, would aid them materially.

Will Be Textbook

At length the writer explains how politicians have over and over again endeavored to establish a third labor party and how it is that they have failed in this.

The book is clear throughout and the style is more for a text book than it is for a treatise. It is not too dogmatic and is solid and matter-of-fact. It is a compilation of the research done by Prof. John R. Commons, head of the department of economics, and co-laborers at the university from 1904 to 1918, and Professor Perlman has added interesting conclusions which he has made from this work. The volume will be used as a text book in the department of economics the second semester.

Mozart Club Will Give Season's First Concert

Forty-six members of the Mozart club will take part in the first concert given by the club this season, which will be held at Christ Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The program will be in charge of Alexius Baas, director, Ben Eilert, soloist, Charles H. Mills, organist, and Miss Margaret Otterson, accompanist.

Members on the program will be "A Prayer of Thanksgiving", old hymn of the Netherlands; "Softly, in the Gloaming", by Franz Abt; "Chorus of Spirits and Hours", by Dudley Buck; "The People That Walked in Darkness" from "The Messiah"; and the Halleluja Chorus by Handel.

Solo parts in the "Chorus of Spirits and Hours" will be sung by Ben Eilert, and Alexius Baas will be soloist for the selection from "The Messiah."

200 Seniors Work in 2 Hour Shifts at University Plant

Seniors in the College of Engineering are hard at work on a series of practical experiments in steam heat and refrigeration which were begun at 2 o'clock yesterday by the department of steam and gas engineering.

Over 200 engineers are engaged in the experiments. Dates and dances have been tabooed, for the experiments require strict exactitude and will continue over long periods of time. The experiment in refrigeration is being undertaken in the steam and gas laboratory of the Engineering building, and will run continuous for 32 hours. The experiment in steam heat is being worked out at the university heating plant, and will last for 24 hours. All engineers, except those in mining courses, are working in three hour shifts under the direction of Mr. Ben Spieth, instructor in steam and gas engineering.

According to Mr. Spieth, the experiments are being undertaken for the purpose of determining maximum amounts of heat and cold units which can be derived from combustibles and refrigerating materials under proper conditions.

At the heating plant every pound of coal and water is being weighed by the students before steam pressure is created. Readings are being taken at 15 minute intervals to tabulate the steam pressure. Flue gas is also being analyzed to ascertain the proper amounts of air which can be inducted into the furnaces without aiding the escape of combustible gases.

The heating plant, which supplies all campus buildings with heat, creates 1,500,000 pounds of steam daily. Over 180 tons of coal are consumed daily. The total energy of the plant is 3,200 horsepower, and the heat generated by one furnace alone reaches 3,000 degrees. Underground pipe lines through a series of tunnels transmit the heat. It is estimated that approximately 10 miles of pipe compose the network of heat arteries which lead out from the heating plant to all university buildings, including the Forest Products

Lutheran Students
Hold Christmas Party

The Young People's society of the St. John's Lutheran church will entertain with a Christmas party for all Lutheran students and their friends at 8:15 o'clock next Friday evening at the church. Special musical entertainment will be provided.

laboratory.

At the conclusion of the experiments, data will be tabulated and calculations made which will furnish authentic material for commercial purposes. At present the heating plant transmits 65 per cent of the heat energy from the coal, and it will be the purpose of the engineers to verify previous results.

Prof. Wolfenson to Speak
Before Menorah Society

Professor Louis B. Wolfenson, formerly of the university semitics department, will be the principal speaker on the program arranged for the meeting of the Menorah society, to be held Wednesday evening in Lathrop parlors.

Prof. Wolfenson, who was actively interested in the local society, being one of its organizers, has chosen "Judaism and Patriotism," as the subject for his speech.

Other interesting numbers, as announced by Irving Goldberg '22, newly elected president of the society, will include a reading by Evelyn Hauptman '24, a talk on the Feast of Hanukah, which begins on Friday, by Theodore Goldman '25, a dance number by Yvette Goldberg '24, and Dora Harris '24, a dramatic selection by Harriet Lewis '23, and a vocal number by Cecil Eiseman '25.

Would Curb Power to Discharge Teachers

A law to take away power of superintendents of schools to summarily discharge experienced teachers will be proposed by Senator W. A. Titus of Fond du Lac, when the legislature convenes he announces. Senator Titus said that he would introduce a bill to give teachers, who have been employed for four years, a permanent tenure in Wisconsin schools, unless discharged after a hearing before the city board of education in which the teacher would have an opportunity to be heard.

"There is at present a dictatorship of superintendents in some cities that should be broken," the senator said.

Would Have State Incur
Debt for Farmer Credit

Amendment to the state constitution permit the state to incur indebtedness for the purpose of extending credit to farmers, will again be proposed to the legislature by Senator C. H. Worden of Ashland. The 1921 legislature passed Senator Worden's first resolution and now it must again be accepted by both houses before going to the people. It is his belief that the extension of credit to the farmers would work for the upbuilding of northern Wisconsin where settlers are attempting to build farms out of the vast area of cut-over land.

Judge Hoppmann to Talk to Boys Monday

Judge A. C. Hoppmann will speak to Madison boys at the Moose hall, 7 and 9 E. Main st., Monday night at 7:30 o'clock on "The Boy and His Problems."

All boys of 8th and high school grades are asked to attend. H. S. Bostock, ventriloquist and magician, will entertain and there will be a reading of "The Boy," by E. C. Story.

FISHER BUYS OLD THEATER

Will be Renamed "The Madison;" Increase Capacity by 1,000

The Grand theater, one of the oldest playhouses in Madison, was sold yesterday to F. W. Fischer of Fischer's Paramount Theaters Co., Inc., and will be re-opened about Feb. 1 after having been remodeled throughout and renamed as "The Madison."

Together with the announcement of the purchase of the Grand, comes the announcement that the building plans have not been dropped, and negotiations are now under way for the erection of a new Fischer's theater in Madison, construction to begin possibly early next spring.

Nothing is definite in the building program yet, Mr. Fischer said today, but it is known that sites on Monona ave. and on the opposite side of the capital square are under contemplation.

The amount involved in the deal yesterday was not made public, but it was announced that $50,000 will be spent for alterations and repairs to the old building. An entire new front and canopy will be built, the construction to be of cream-colored tile.

The seating capacity of the theater will be increased to 1,000 by eliminating the lobby in front and reducing the size of the stage.

A $15,000 pipe organ, the largest of any in the city, is to be installed, Mr. Fischer announced.

F. J. McWilliams will be retained in the active management of the show house.

Plans are under way for bringing a Paramount movie star to Madison for the formal opening of the theater, and arrangements already have been made for the appearance of George Beban at the new theater in person shortly after its opening.

The interior of the old theater will be completely re-finished.

SLANG REVOLT IS THREATENED

Radio Abbreviations May Become a Part of the Language

(Special to The Cardinal)
COLUMBUS, O., Dec.—Page the orthodox grammarian. There is danger that even the modern slang of conversation will be revolutionized and given added stimulus toward lower depths of abbreviated phraseology, if radio messages become common means of communication, professors of Ohio State university acclaim.

Professor Charles A. Wright of the department of electrical engineering at the university raises the question if amateur radio operators increase in numbers, will their abbreviations slip into common usage and thus become a part of the American vocabulary?

As an example of what might be thrown at a person during informal conversation with one of these fellows cards received at Robinson laboratory broadcasting station on the campus are submitted as evidence.

One from San Juan, Porto Rico, reads: "U wr wkg 2 EL. Am I rite? Would like to hr fm u. Congratulations OM." By way of interpretation, the following may be noted: OM means "old man", wkg, "working"; wr, "were"; U, "you"; hr, "hear"; rite, "right".

Another card from an operator in Fort Worth, Texas, says "Ur C. W. sigs hrd hr Sept. 13. Vy QSA and steady. Called u but N. D. Hr u ever hrd me?"

QSA is the international abbreviation for "loud". ND means "nothing doing". Otherwise, the message is very convincing to the average reader, is it not?

Pastor Interprets Chicken Language

"Cluck, cluck."

Means nothing at all to you, does it? But it does to the Rev. Dr. Fairbank B. Stockdale, pastor of the Bayside Methodist Episcopal church at Bayside, Long Island, who, after years of study, now declares his ability to understand and interpret the language of chickens.

Dr. Stockdale is a student, minister, and author. Whenever he approaches a chicken coop, the old hens had just keep their mouths shut unless they want to let him in on all the family troubles, barnyard scandals, love affairs, and bragging of their egg accomplishments.

"About 30 years ago," said Dr. Stockdale, "I had a flock of chickens and began to study them until now I can readily pick up at least 21 different chicken noises. When a hen is about to hover her brood at night she makes a sound in imitation of the food call yet it is quite evident that she is trying to her best without deliberately lying to coax the last chick under her wing. There are different sounds for all warnings of intrusions.

"You can form an acquaintance with every living thing. You can teach chickens, as I have, to come when you whistle and they will answer no other whistle but yours. I trained a spider to come from its web and crawl to my shoulder for a fly. There was a trout in a spring at Bellport, Long Island, which would come to the surface when Will Gerard walked to the spring. It knew the vibrations of his feet. When I walked in his tracks the trout paid no attention."

That people are inclined to be too credulous concerning the intelligence of animals is the opinion of Wisconsin university biologists.

"It's all right but the last," said Prof. George Wagner of the zoology department with a laugh when he had read about the pastor's pets "but the assumption that the trout discriminated between two men by the vibrations of their feet sounds 'fishy'."

"Perhaps the man who trained the trout was so corpulent that he shook the ground when he walked, while Dr. Stockton trod lightly," Prof. Wagner suggested by way of excusing the story of the trout's reputed intelligence.

"That animals can recognize certain persons is true enough. Visit any zoological garden. When the keeper approaches the caged cranes they know very well who is coming. But for spiders and fish to know their masters is slightly far fetched."

The December number of the Campus for sale, Monday, according to C. L. Kutil '23, editor of the publication.

The correcting of soil acidity by the use of lime is the principal article in the December issue, according to critics. In the treatise, Prof. Emil Troug discusses the value of lime stone when applied as an amendment to the soil. One hundred fifty copies were ordered by the Waukesha Lime Stone Co. for use in the furthering the use of limestone among the farmers.

Other leading feature stories in the magazine include "Henrying through Marathon" by Gerald Genney '24, "Calling the West", by Maynard Brown '23, and "Where Does Your Money Go?" by Jessie Morton '23.

Copies of the magazine will be sold on the honor system in Agricultural hall, Home Economics building, Soils building, and Agronomy building.

PROFS ATTEND HOLIDAY MEETS

Faculty Men Will Present Papers at Conventions in Chicago

Seven conventions, in all of which University of Wisconsin professors will have prominent places, are being held in Chicago during the holidays.

Prof. E. A. Ogg, director of the Political Science department, will have charge of the meetings of the American Political Science association, at which fifteen or twenty universities and colleges from all over the United States will be represented. At one of the meetings Prof. P. B. Potter will preside and give a paper. Prof. A. B. Hall, also of the Political Science department here, speaks at another of the meetings.

The American Association of University Instructors in Accounting, is another of the conventions to be held at the same time. One of the chief events will be a paper by Prof. F. H. Elwell, Wisconsin professor in accounting.

Professors E. A. Ross and Richard T. Ely of Wisconsin, and Frank A. Fedder of Princeton, have been invited to take part in one of the discussions following papers on population and statistics at the meeting of the American Statistical association.

Other conventions in which Wisconsin holds a conspicuous place because of her representation by her professors are the American Sociological association, the American Farm Economic society, the American Association for Labor Legislation, and the American Economics association.

Change is Necessary

"5. Radical change in our rushing system has become necessary, due to the flagrant violations and utter disregard of all rules this fall. Deferred rushing has worked satisfactorily at other institutions that have adopted the system, and there is every reason to believe that it would work at Wisconsin."

"After the chapters decide whether they desire a system of deferred rushing the committee will be able to submit various plans which have been drawn up tentatively from material received in part from other institutions which have been investigated by the committee until some plan which meets with the body as a whole can be adopted."

The committee will be very glad to receive suggestions at any time from those interested."
