The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Dear Felix

I had engaged one or two intimate friends of Mr. Morris, (with whom I am acquainted) in your behalf - but have since been informed that the law authorizing a census of the U. S. has not been passed, and that congress will not act upon it until 1829-30 - if so, appointments will be made in the Spring of 30. - I have called to ascertain of Morris, but have not seen him.
You will hear from me again very soon - and shall know the particulars

Yrs in haste
