LAST DEBATE OF YEAR IS WITH PURPLE TONIGHT

Negative Team to Meet Gophers

The last important debate of the year will be held tonight in 165 Bascom hall, when Wisconsin's affirmative team meets Northwestern's negative at the same time. The Badger negative team argues against Minnesota's affirmative at Minneapolis.

The question, one which has continually come up recently in connection with European economic conditions, is "Resolved, that all international debts and claims, arising out of the world war, and not settled by May 1, 1923, should be cancelled without condition or qualification." This subject involves the entire field of international relations as well as intricate financial conditions.

Stewart is Closer

Wisconsin's affirmative team is composed of first speaker Charles A. Rawson '23, second speaker Francis Karel '23, and closer Robert B. Stewart '23. Members of this squad have all had extensive debating experience, either in joint debates or intercollegiate meets. The negative squad, arguing at Minneapolis consists of Arthur T. Thorson '22, Henry W. Blake '24, and Arthur C. Thorson '23, closer. Each man has had former Varsity experience. An unusual feature of the Northwestern debate is the presence of a woman as second speaker on the Evanston team. Wisconsin has not had a woman debate representative for at least 18 years.

Debate is Stiff

The debate here is generally regarded as the stiffest of the two word battles, for Northwestern is similar to Michigan in the general excellence of their forensic teams. Both schools have the edge over Wisconsin in numbers of victories in former contests, but the score is close, and chances are of the best for victories.

Prof. R. K. Immel of Michigan will deliver the decision here, while Prof. J. A. Taylor of the University of North Dakota will officiate at Minnesota.

JESS COHEN'S ROMEOS SERENADE ON CAMPUS

Strains of "Farewell Blues," "Swanee Smiles," "Dreamy Melody," "China Boy" and several other popular songs were heard last night in Varsity Village to the delight of the numerous co-eds in habitat here.

Jess Cohen's entire orchestra, assisted by the Varsity Quartette, serenaded the amorous and unamorous last night shortly after 10 o'clock. A huge truck which carried the thirteen men and a piano went through Sorority Alley, around Barnard and Chadbourne halls and down Langdon street. Jess Cohen '23, Jack Wells '23, Horace Faggart '24, Jack Cornelius '23, Marty Below '23, Russell Irish '23, Ed Fosgate '23, James Van Alstyne '24, Frank Cusick '23, Adolph Schert '24, Donald Scott '24 and Costello.

1000 Spring Travel Octopi Sold on Hill Yesterday

Approximately 1,300 copies of Spring Travel number of the Octopus were sold yesterday. This is the usual sale for the first day. The special feature of the sale was the stationing of salesmen at the foot of the hill; others sold in the various buildings. Those still desiring copies may obtain them at the drug stores.

WEATHER: WARMER

Fair and warmer weather is predicted for today, with tomorrow probably fair and Saturday cooler. The maximum temperature yesterday was 68 2-10 degrees at 5 o'clock in the evening and 41 2-10 at 6 o'clock in the morning.

CONTRACT SIGNED FOR GALLI-CURCI

Amelita Galli-Curci, world renowned soprano, will sing in the university stock pavilion May 21. All doubt was removed when the contract as signed yesterday.

$5,000 in three days is the record ticket sale which stands without precedent in the history of Madison and stamps Galli Curci as the greatest single drawing card who has ever appeared before a local audience.

Authorities in charge announced yesterday that plenty of $4 seats are left but the three dollar tickets will only last a day or two. Mail orders with a self addressed stamped envelope enclosed should be sent to the University School of Music.

The house is now being blocked out to determine the exact number of seats available for the concert. Tickets will be mailed out next week.

STUDENT DRIVE GETS APPROVAL

Campus Opinion Favors Plan to Aid Needy European Students

The Student Friendship fund will take definite form on the campus tomorrow when the tag day is held. The drive will be conducted under the united auspices of the Council of Forty and Keystone.

The consensus of the student body is that similar work of this kind last year was a pronounced success when the effectiveness with which the money was distributed among the needy European students is considered.

Students active on the campus were unanimous in their approval of the efforts to relieve the suffering condition of the students in European universities:

Rollie Williams '23—I am heartily in favor of this movement that is meeting with so much favor in other universities. I think that the students should do as much as they possibly can.

Gus Tebell '23—The $1,500 that was raised here last year was very well spent. I am in favor of the movement and hope that the student body will get behind it.

Marty Below '24—One would hardly miss the 25 cents that he gives toward this fund and it would amount to a large sum as a whole. The idea is very good.

Gordy Wanzer—I am willing to help the movement in every way that I can. It is a very good idea.

Square Club Buys Langdon Street House For $27,000

The Wisconsin Square of Square and Compass has purchased from G. A. Ketterer for $27,000 a house at 614 Langdon street.

The house was previously owned by the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity who had purchased it from the Alpha Delta Phi's.

For several years the members of the club have contemplated the buying of a house, but deferred their plans because suitable property could not be purchased. Plans to build were changed because the cost of building was too great.

The Square club is one of about 11 chapters of Square and Compass, an organization for master masons at various colleges. No attempt will be made to change the organization into a fraternity.

PROPOSE AMENDMENT TO SENATE DRILL BILL

The Sachtjen bill, assembly bill number 170, has been reported for passage from the joint educational committee which held an open meeting last Friday afternoon and will probably come before the legislature tomorrow, according to reports last night from the floor of the assembly.

If the bill is engrossed, recommended for further reading, it will probably come up for final action early next week and will then be sent to the senate.

The Sachtjen bill would amend a former assembly bill and make military drill optional.

4 CANDIDATES ENTER FIELD FOR ELECTIONS

Four more candidacies for offices in the spring elections were announced yesterday. Hawley V. Porter will run for sophomore representative for Union board on open petition. Eugene Meng will run for junior representative on Union board on the boards recommendation. Marion Se Cheverell '24 will run for one of the one-year positions on the Cardinal Board of Control. Wes W. Dunlap will run for sophomore representative on the Student senate.

Porter is president of the Rocky Mountain club and won a "SWT" in swimming this year. He has had charge of the collection department of The Cardinal this year. Porter is chairman of the sophomore committee working to save the capitol building for prom and the Military Ball and was on the committee for the sophomore dance. He is a member of Madison chapter of DeMolay and Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity.

Meng has been active in the Memorial Union drives of 1921 and 1922. He has been on the staff of the Octopus and the 1924 Badger. Meng was a member of the freshman swimming squad. He has served on Homecoming and Varsity Jamboree committees. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

Marion Se Cheverell has been active in journalistic affairs for three years. She has been on publicity committees for Green Button, 1922 Venetian night, Homecoming, and the vocational conference. She has been a member of The Cardinal staff for two years and is at present a special writer. She is a member of Press club and Sigma Kappa sorority.

Dunlap is a member of the editorial staff of The Cardinal and has served on several publicity committees. He was on the committee for Venetian night, Varsity Jamboree, Military Ball and the 1923 Horse Show. He is a member of Square and Compass, Press club, and Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

J. A. ANDERSON GIVEN SWEDISH FELLOWSHIP

J. A. Anderson, graduate student in the College of Agriculture, has been granted a fellowship in the American-Scandinavian Foundation for the coming academic year and will sail for Stockholm, Sweden this summer. Anderson will study under Dr. Chris Barthel in biochemistry, bacteriology, and problems of fermentation. Elmer Kraemer, of the chemistry department, has just returned from the University of Upsala in Sweden where he studied colloid chemistry under Dr. Svedberg who is at present giving lectures at the University of Wisconsin.

PROFS PRAISE UNION BUTTONS

Badge is the Symbol of Loyal, Devoted Spirit, Gage Declares

"The Union badge is the symbol of the loyal, devoted spirit which always has characterized the Wisconsin man. It is not a campaign button in any sense of the word," asserted Leslie R. Gage '23, president of Union Board, asserted last night.

"The button, which will be given out next Monday to those who have completed half payment or more on their life membership, to the Union, will be worn by every loyal Wisconsin man," Gage said.

Badge Not Reward

"The badge is not merely an award for a money payment. It is conceivably more than that. It will designate a man as a life member of the Wisconsin Union, which is composed of all the men students and which is becoming more and more the most characteristically Wisconsin organization. It is the first tangible forerunner of the Union building that will be the home of the Wisconsin spirit which this badge symbolizes."

"The badge is one which every man should be desirous of wearing, not only during his undergraduate days, but also as an alumnus of the university, for the insignia will gradually become a mark of distinction and to indicate a common relationship between all of its wearers," John Dawson '24, secretary of the Union declared.

Michigan Issues Button

Many faculty members have signified their support and approval of the badge.

"The button issued by the Michigan union, as a symbol of membership in the organization and in the university, has been highly valuable in cultivating loyalty. I confidently expect that a similar effect will result from the issuing of a button by our own Wisconsin Union," Prof. Karl Young, head of the English department and life member of both the Michigan and the Wisconsin unions, said.

Scott Favors Idea

Prof. W. A. Scott, director of the Course in Commerce stated that he strongly favored the idea.

"Anything that will help cement the bond of feeling between the members of the Union and which will aid in the realization of a Memorial building should be endorsed by everyone," Prof. Scott said. "The idea of the button is splendid. I am heartily in favor of the scheme."

DEBS HAMMERS SOCIAL SYSTEM BY CANDLELIGHT

Gym Lights Go Out on Speaker

Eugene V. Debs commenced his tirade against the present social system by the light of a few candles and gas lights last night in the university gymnasium. The building was packed to overflowing; standing room was scarce; even the isles were crowded.

The lights went out sharply at 7:25 o'clock. Workmen hurried to the building and succeeded at 8:20 o'clock in finding the flaw after the two introductory speakers had finished and Mr. Debs had begun his speech.

Trouble Not Told

The source of the light trouble was not designated officially last night. Martin T. Bennett '25, usher at the lecture, declared last night that he talked with a university electrician by the name of Nelson who located the trouble in the fuse box back of the Mining laboratory where a fuse affecting the library and gymnasium circuit had been pulled.

According to Bennett, Nelson stated to him that a person, to reach the fuse box would have to climb through high tension wires and that there were scarcely 15 men in Madison who could have known where the box was located and what circuits it affected.

Decline to Talk

The university electrical department last night disclaimed any knowledge of impairment of the light service and of Electrician

HARESFOOT AND MILITARY BALL PLANS FINISHED

Two major Wisconsin traditions will take place tomorrow night when the 1923 Haresfoot production "Kikmi" plays at the Parkway theater and the Eleventh Annual Military Ball is held in the Capitol building.

It was found impossible to change the dates of the two affairs after definite arrangements had been made and officials of the organizations cooperated to allow students and Madisonians to attend both. The curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock at the Parkway. This is one half hour earlier than the usual time.

The ball will last until 1 o'clock Saturday morning. Those who go to the Haresfoot performance will be able to enjoy most of the dances at the capitol.

Tickets for spectators and dancers at the ball are on sale at the University pharmacy and at Morgan's today and tomorrow. The committee in charge of tickets wishes to remind students that only today and tomorrow remain in which to purchase tickets.

All spectators will enter the west entrance from State street and take the west elevator to the second floor. No spectators will be allowed on the ground floor.

The grand march will begin in the east wing, from the governor's reception room and will go up the west stairway and around the second floor in two columns of couples.

An appointment with the United States department of agriculture was accepted yesterday by Henry R. Trumbower, a professor of economics at this university from 1910 to 1916. His new work will be in the nature of investigation of transportation of farm products. He will have particular interest in the use of the motor truck for this work he says.

For the past six years, Professor Trumbower has been a member of the Wisconsin railroad commission. His term expired February of this year, but he has been retained by the governor up to the present

ONLY 20 TURN OUT FOR SPRING FOOTBALL WORK

Ryan Displeased With Outlook

Coach Jack Ryan is far from satisfied with the football men in school if the small turnout for spring practice yesterday can be taken as representative. With good weather prevailing, Wisconsin's mentor expected a large number of men to turn out, but Monday and Tuesday he was greeted by only 20 men.

"I'm far from pleased with the attitude of the men at the present," said Coach Ryan yesterday. "They ought to show some indication that they are at least interested in the future of Wisconsin football."

Fundamentals of football and handling the ball constitute the chief work for the men at present. Practically all of the 20 men who have reported either are men from last fall's frosh squad or men who are untied, said the coach.

With the loss of Captain Rollie Williams, Tebell, Gibson, Barr and Hohlfield and the possible loss of Pulaski, Ryan faces the task of developing green men to fill the vacant positions.

"Mind in the Making" Ranks High in S. G. A. Libe Sunday

"Mind in the Making" is the most popular of the non-fiction books in the S. G. A. library, according to the recent survey which was made by Harriet Greene '24, head of the library.

"My Discovery of England", "The Story of Mankind", and "A Chair on the Boulevard" are next in popularity among the more serious books.

The library now has 98 volumes and the average rate of turn over is six for all books, though this figure runs much higher in the case of fiction, "Maria Chapdelaine" for example has been read by over 25 university women.

Nine new volumes were added the first of this week. The books are rented out at the rate of two cents a day for the first three days, and for three cents a day after that time limit.

There are still 17 volumes which are missing from the collection which should be turned in at once.

INMAN TO CLOSE GOPHER DEBATE

Arthur C. Inman '23, will close against Minnesota in the debate at Minneapolis tonight. He has had extensive intercollegiate experience in the last two years.

FRATS PLAY FOUR BASEBALL GAMES

Four games were played off yesterday afternoon in the interfraternity baseball league. The most noteworthy game was the game between the P. A. D.s and the Triangles in which the lawyers defeated the engineers 12 to 8. Other scores were: D. U. 20, Phi Kappa 9; Alpha Sig Phi 8, Zeta Beta Tau 3; Sigma Chi 12, Square and Compass 1.

CLASSES WORK ON TANK MEET

Frosh Fish Show a Decided Advantage Over Others

Inter-class swimming is now definitely under way with the frosh aggregation looming large to cop the meet. The frosh squad this year has been stronger than usual, and Coach Joe Steinauer looks for big things from them. So far the greatest number reporting for practice has been largely made up of the yearlings.

The first meet after the time trials and practice will be held in the gym tank tonight at 7:30 o'clock. According to the coach the meet will be copped by the frosh with a large score. They have the best material and have had more practice and instruction than any of the other men. The turnout of the upperclassmen has been very small.

The men who are reporting for the frosh team are Butler, Osgood, Alton, Snell, Beck, Lee, Bump, Coleman, Frazier, Hull, West, Smith, Rowland, Hemke, Nixon, Strauss, Fox and Ray. Some of these men look good as future varsity material. With a little coaching some of them may be able to fill some of the vacancies in next year's varsity squad.

The soph sharks who will enter the meet tonight are Short, Stiver, Morley, Flenck, Winchell, Bridgeman, Krapp, Bond and Potter are the only men entered for the third year school. While Crawford will have the difficult task of upholding the honors of his class alone.

The number reporting for the inter-college meets has been disappointingly small, but the coach urges everyone who can swim at all to report tonight. The intramural practice and meet will take place sometime next week and the coach wants every man out who can do any work in the tank.

11 NEW MEN ARE INITIATED INTO THE RIFLE CLUB

Eleven new members were initiated into the Rifle club at the regular meeting in the Armory office Tuesday night. The men elected into the club are D. J. Behling '26, W. L. Jackman '25, R. Jackson '26, W. A. May '26, S. L. Nerdum '26, K. V. Powers '26, M. A. Schwartz '26, T. Ziegler '25, T. S. Pinney '26, L. B. Fish '26, and W. G. Winkels '26. The new members were elected on a basis of tryouts held several weeks ago.

The rifle team is engaged in shooting the National Intercollegiate gallery match this month. The match is to be fired in six stages, three prone, one standing, one kneeling, and one sitting. The regular N. R. A. target will be used and the range is 50 feet. The team won third place in this match last year and has good chances of placing again this year.

Members of the team who are to shoot in the Intercollegiate match will be picked by means of an elimination shoot this week. Fifteen men are eligible for the team, the 10 highest being selected trying out for places, and competition is expected to be keen.

BELOIT RUNNERS ARE FEARED IN MEET SATURDAY

Badgers Weakened By Losses

That the Beloit track team is an aggregation to be feared is shown by the way the Badger tracksters are being groomed for the dual meet which will be held between the two teams at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon.

"The Beloit squad should not be underrated," said Mead Burke, assistant track coach yesterday. "The college has a remarkably strong team this year and it has a chance to win from us."

Wisconsin Handicapped

The Wisconsin squad will be handicapped by the lack of the service of four of her premier middle distance men. Johnson, Ramsay, Hilberts, and Valley, half-milers will be in Lawrence, Kansas, to run in the relays. The four men who were chosen to take the trip to Kansas, however, were chosen from a field of eight middle distance men, and the half-mile event should not suffer greatly through their absence.

The strength of the Beloit school lies principally in several of the events in which Wisconsin is weak, and with a few breaks, it is not at all unlikely that the state-liners might take the meet.

Fear Beloit Captain

Captain Addiel of the Beloit squad is a man greatly feared in college circles. He is a dash man and works well in the jumps. Mc Auliffe, basketball star, is a good jumper and Woo Tsoi Lee can be depended upon to show up well.

Swede Dahlgren and Vondrashek are formidable weight men who will make Van Ellis, Harris, Diebold, Stangel, Stipek, and other Badger huskies work for all they get. Wilhoit is a miler who has shown some class and who will probably count for Beloit.

In the absence of Valley, Wisconsin forfeits sure points in the half mile. Carter and Rossmeliss will bear the brunt of the middle distance work and will probably perform creditably.

Spetz in Dash

Captain Spetz and Eagleburger can be depended upon to work hard in the dashes, but several younger members of the squad will have a chance to show up the regular. Provision has been made enabling Badger mentors to enter as many men as they care to in each event, and many men who have shown promise will be given trials against Beloit.

Platten and Donohue should count in the high jump and Tuhtar may place. Newell, Muzzy, Tuhtar, and Elsom are hurdlers who should score. Bergstresser, Tchudy, Piper, Perry and Schneider, will uphold the distance end of the job. Tomlinson and Hammann will pole vault, and Hammann and Gibson will work in the broad jump.

Depauw Defeats Indiana Track Team in Muddy Meet

Indiana's track team was defeated at Bloomington by Depauw 69 1-3 to 50 1-3 Saturday in a muddy meet. Six first places were captured by Depauw but Indiana beat them there making seven firsts. Depauw however won by taking the second and third places.

Michigan Loess to Georgia 6 to 5 in Baseball Game

Michigan defeated Georgia last Saturday in baseball, in a game of 11 innings 6 to 5. The winning home run was made by Knode of Michigan after Eldridge of Georgia had fumbled. Liverance and Gibson took turns pitching for Michigan.

SOCCER MATCHES TO START SOON

Soccer activities will swing into full play with in a few days when the inter-class soccer tournament starts. The entry lists in the gymnasium are entirely complete with the exception of the senior list which boasts only three games.

"The annual tournament for this spring will begin as soon as the entry lists are complete," said Coach Linden yesterday. "The three junior classes have responded readily to the call but the fourth year men are slow in reporting."

The class teams are composed of men who have had soccer in gym classes during the spring and fall, and some good amateur teams have been produced in past years. Winners of the tournament will be awarded numerals.

IOWA TO OPEN NET SCHEDULE

Five Tennis Matches Will Be Played This Spring

With the first tennis match scheduled for a week from Saturday, Coach George E. Linden is hoping to get his men out on the courts for their initial practice this afternoon. The courts undoubtedly would have been in good shape by this time had it not been for the snow flurries last week, which hindered work on them.

Five Conference matches are on the schedule this spring, the first one being with Iowa university on April 28. The University of Minnesota will come to Madison the following week to try their skill with the varsity team, and on May 12 Chicago will be seen here in the last home match. The annual Conference meet will be held at Chicago on the 24, 25, and 26 of May.

The outlook for a winning team this year appears quite bright, as three letter men are back, and several other candidates who have displayed ability in former university matches have also signified their intentions of getting into shape just as soon as the courts permit. Capt. Tom Tredwell, Art Moulding, and N. Agesen are the men who have won their letters in former matches while Geo. Bennett, Larry Hastings and F. S. Henike have shown that they are of varsity caliber.

The loss of Gotfredson will be keenly felt, as he was always a hard man to beat. While a member of the varsity net team, Gotfredson won many matches, and he was always one man upon whom Coach Linden could depend.

Little is known of the strength of any of the other Conference teams, although Iowa is certain to give the varsity team all the competition they want. Hector Janse and Ted Sewenson have both reached the semi-finals in the Iowa state net tourney. These two men are also paired in the doubles. Janse is a former basketball man.

If Coach Linden's men can come through in their first meet with Iowa a week from Saturday, they will be given a good chance for Conference honors this year, as the Iowa team is ranked with the best in the Conference.

French Olympic Entrants Attend Sprinters' School

Preparation for the Olympic games to be held at Los Angeles next year, was begun last Thursday at Paris by the opening of a "school for sprinters" conducted at the Pershing stadium. Direction of the school is in charge of Rene Mourlon, the fastest 100 metre man in France since Ali-Kahn retired. Rapid advancement is demanded of the pupils at the school and they must be able to make the 100 metre dash in :12 and the 400 metre run inside of :52. Twenty-two applications for admission have already been received by Director Mourlon.

Two fine baseball days have allowed Coach Gul Lowman to round his Varsity team into fair condition for the Conference opening against Indiana here tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Yesterday afternoon the Varsity stacked up against George Ruediger's frosh for several innings of real baseball. The Varsity pushed five runs across the plate in four innings at the bat, and the freshmen scored four times in eight innings.

Pitchers Take Turns

Each of the four Varsity pitchers took their two innings on the mound. Pickford, Schrank, W. Johnson and W. Radke hurled to the frosh in turn.

The Varsity lineup has become rather definite, although the outfield berths, with the exception of left field, have not been regularly assigned. The lineup against the frosh yesterday was Eddie Aschenbrenner c, Hully Holm 1b, Ellie Ellingson 2b, Howie Combacker ss, Gus Tebell 3b, Rollie Williams lf, Mills, Servartius, and Becker, outfield.

Hoosiers Have Stars

The Hoosier lineup shows four names of men who won fame on the football gridiron last season. Thomas, Moomaw, Clay and Sloate all faced defeat at the hands of the Badgers at Camp Randall last fall.

The lineup as announced by Coach "Cow" Minton will probably be Miller cf, Thomas 2b, Wichterman rf, capt., Moomaw c, Clay lf, Sloate or Smith ss, Parker 1b, Haworth 3b, Woodward, Gause or McCarthy pitcher, Mathias c, Zollmer, utility.

Baseball interest is rampant at Indiana this year, largely as a reaction to the trip the team took through the Orient last spring. As a result, Coach Minton had a large turnout of candidates and until just before this trip north, was carrying 45 good baseball players on his squad.

SPANISH PLAY TO BE PRESENTED APRIL 26

The annual Spanish club play is to be held April 26 in the Lathrop concert room.

This year's production, "Nuestro Futuro Diputado", a farce in three acts, was written by Prof. Samuel A. Wofsy for the Spanish club performance to display both the dramatic and artistic ability of the cast. The features of the play are the popular Spanish songs and dances sung and portrayed by girls in the cast. "Clavelitos" is one of the popular Spanish songs sung by Hilda Schultz '24, who takes the part of a flower girl. Pauline Hoble '25 as "Tomassa" sings "La Sanbung" and other songs.

Miss Hoble also gives a Spanish castanet dance and Doris Koenne as "Adelaida," a servant girl, portrays a character dance.

Tickets may be secured from all instructors of freshmen and sophomore Spanish classes.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Eugene V. Debs carried the torch of social reform into abysmal darkness at the university armory last night.

Whatever the symbolism involved, it is a shame that the broadened, freer policy of the university authorities concerning radical speakers should be blotched and discredited by the sneaking act of an individual.

The facts of the light trouble last night are still uncertain, but the circumstances and coincidence of the light failure seem to point to deliberate plotting by someone.

It is interesting to note that the lights were out for 45 minutes and that still the university electrical department states it knew nothing of the trouble.

Debs was given the privilege of speaking in a university building. That privilege is not questioned. If the extinguishing of the lights was an intentional act, the perpetrator not only committed a strategic error by adding fuel to Debs' fire but threw a cowardly insult in the face of a tremendous audience and effectively besmirched the reputation of the university.

Though light came tardily last night, it came. To clear the university of any suspicion or slur that may arise, the light of investigation should reveal the facts of the darkness that greeted Debs.

ABOLISH THE MIXERS

The demonstration at the last "all-university" mixer is a straw big enough to warrant breaking the mixer's back.

The mal-adjustments and the mal-practices attendant on every mixer this year, particularly at the most recent one, are sufficient justification for relegating the traditional Union board mixers to the scrap heap and seeking an all-university dance on a new basis.

At the mixer last Friday night, the worst offender, it was difficult to tell whether more town boys and girls danced or more university students. There were two men for every girl. Four overcoats were stolen. During the course of the evening several students decided that they didn't approve of the treader pants a town boy wore and so set about to relieve him of them. A general free-for-all between townies and students over the right of the boy to wear the pants ensued.

The case of the all-university mixer is simple. In the first place it isn't an all-university mixer. It is scarcely a university mixer. And there isn't much mixing done in the mixer that is left. The affair has fallen into general student disrepute. University women, particularly, refuse to go. The few that do go find themselves embarrassed amid fights, crudeness, and rough-housing and leave. There seems to be no reason for keeping the all-university mixer as such any longer.

Union board surely must appreciate the ill-success of the venture and will seek a remedy. The student body, however, will not care to see the mixer go without a substitute. There are obvious advantages accruing to university social functions within the reach of all.

Perhaps changing the character of the dance entirely, offering entertainment, placing it on a couple admission basis with the same minimum charge of 50 cents for the couple, and insuring its university aspect by requiring fee cards would be a solution.

It is not entirely advisable that the first mixer of the year be eliminated, however. Experience has shown that it affords excellent opportunity for new students to become acquainted and that the majority of the student body attends for the sheer novelty and that the affair. But later the novelty wears off and students accomplish acquaintanceship, leaving utterly no excuse for further general mixing activities.

The student body and The Cardinal looks to Union board for the early abolition of its mixer program and the proposal of a popular substitute.

GRAY PICTURES AND RED

Says the Drifter in the Nation, "I have heard that the undergraduate is going to the dogs. He smokes, drinks illicit liquor, has forsaken the religion of his fathers, he looks upon the government of his country with suspicion, he trusts nobody, he believes in nothing, his relations with persons of the opposite sex are thoroughly questionable."

It is true that such is the publicity that the students get not only in this country but in England and France and elsewhere. There seems to be some queer twist in the public mind that will allow the student to be pictured only as sitting at his desk with his feet resting upon it, smoking cigarettes and drinking strong liquor, and gazing at the obscene pictures of questionable actresses. Such is the picture of the student to be found in the minds eye of the reading but unthinking public.

Indeed, why should that not be the picture found in the public's mind? Is it not far more easy to look at than a more true one, far more interesting, suggestive. Does it not give the public the opportunity to indulge in the pleasure of saying, "How awful, I told you so!" and all that which is indicative of the public delight in scandalous reports.

To picture the student as he really is, such would be to rob the picture of its interest, for who would care to look at a student night after night sitting at his desk and monotonously turning over page after page of first one text and then another.

Going to class all day and then sitting up and studying until late in the night is far too dull a portrait to hang in the eager mind of the public and journalists. And the picture was too dull back in the scholastic Age of Perfection.

Alumna Writes that Haresfoot Has Best Show

Editor's Note: The following communication was received following the presentation of the Haresfoot show in Chicago and is the letter of a prominent member of last year's Cardinal staff who this year is on the staff of the Chicago Daily News. It indicates what the alumni reaction to the excellence of the performance which will be given here Friday and Saturday has been.

By MARION STRASSBURGER '22

"Kikmi" played to a crowded and delighted house in Chicago. Those alumni in the audience who expected to enjoy the show were pleasantly surprised to find how very enjoyable it was; those who came a bit dubiously, anticipating an amateurish and, possibly, boring performance, remained to applaud, and returned to their homes with an added pride in their school and a regret for the years and miles which separated them from the Wisconsin campus.

All credit to a Haresfoot cast which must have worked indeed to turn out the finished production which appeared at the Aryan Grotto theater Monday, April 9. All credit to the advance agent and managers who met the alumni and arranged the setting for the success which this year's show undoubtedly is. All credit to an enterprise which unites for a brief time alumni activity with campus endeavor.

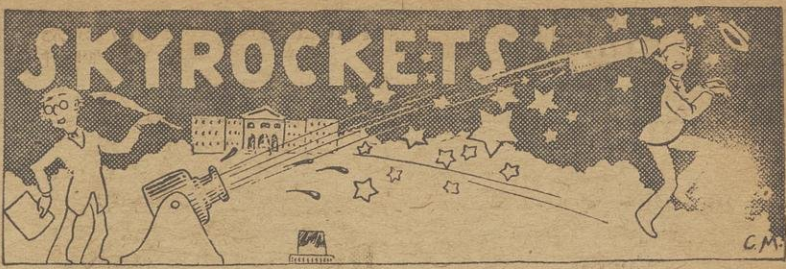

Alumni along the route are always grateful for the reminder of student vitality which Haresfoot brings. The club is visible evidence of the life and vigor which still exists in that much abused phrase—Wisconsin spirit.

"Kikmi" merits exceptional praise. A clean show it is, with some rare beauty and much fine technique; an entertaining show with clever lines, amusing songs, and an amazing variety of "stunts" with melodious airs and well-trained choruses; a charming show, with attractive voices and some remarkable dramatic talent.

The growing scope of Haresfoot was illustrated this year in the effectiveness of student-built sets and lighting arrangements. Withal, the club this year offers a profitable evening for anyone, and especially to the alumni, who too often find little to remind them of the campus world.

The Haresfoot show was in the general opinion, the best college performance that Chicago has seen this year.

May the club always have as excellent a cast and production staff, as pleasant a vehicle, and as proud an alumni group.

WE WISH TO ANNOUNCE that there will be a meeting of all the fusers who were not out on the Drive last night. This meeting will be held in the telephone booth in Bascom hall.

Harold Holmes—"Will you please open a window before you begin the lecture?"

Prof. O'Shea—"What for?"

Harold—"Because it is unhealthy to sleep in a closed room."

Glenn Rittenberg—"Gene Tuhtar must be a sanitary boy."

Hub Weller—"What makes you think like that?"

Rit—"When anyone speaks to him they say 'HY-GENE.'"

RADIO SECTION

We have many testimonials from Radio bugs about how efficient their receiving sets are.

Jess Cohen took his set in the kitchen and got Greece.

Shorty Taggart says he got Caruso on the ground wire last night.

Our own station S. O. L. is working very well. We went without meals for two days and got Hungary.

CAMPUS CLOSEUPS

Fraternities

Before we came to college, we knew that the Greeks ran restaurants and shoe shineries, and we were quite surprised to find them running eating houses or Frat clubs at the universities. These Greeks seize some Frosh and after listening to their hot line for an hour or so, the Frosh thinks he is dealing with the only club in the world that can beat the Elks. They praise him, feed him, and entertain him before they pledge him and then they abuse him, starve him, and are entertained by him. He has to do work harder for nothing than a one eyed man in a burlesque show. He puts in all his spare time and then gets paddled for not having any more spare time.

MORAL: If you're a Greek, you're a matyr.

If you're a Barbarian, don't let anyone civilize you.

S'MATTER FROSH?

Editor, The Cardinal:

We are two freshmen who attended a freshmen class meeting several months ago. At that time we heard the plans presented for several class functions that were to take place in the near future, or at least sometime before Cap Night in the spring. At that time it was prophesied that the class of 1926 was going to be one of the peppiest classes of all times. Spring is here and the end of the present semester is not far off, barely two months remaining for this class to show the talked of pep. One dance was held last fall, it is true, but not much pep was evidenced. We as freshmen stand ready to do our bit if the opportunity is offered, but it seems to us that the officers of the class who we helped elect should be the ones to start something. We want it understood that we are not knocking but simply offering a suggestion. Perhaps there is some action under way, and if so we shall be glad to hear about it. And anyway, frosh, let's go!

"A PRIVATE" AGAIN

Editor, The Cardinal:

If, as "Mr. A. Private" says in Saturday's Cardinal, "Many cadets, who under normal circumstances would speak against the drill, influenced by the fact that everybody around them was signing, felt under the pressure of the moment that they had no choice but to sign the petition," they certainly were a fickle-minded and weak-willed lot, lacking any courage of their own convictions. The disarming enthusiasm continually charge that anyone interested in preparedness is moved by mob spirit; yet if there are any who signed the petition against their belief, especially when they were not to do so, they themselves, sheep like, have followed the mob which they profess to despise. Were you coerced into signing it, Mr. A.

DEBS HAMMERS SOCIAL SYSTEM IN DARKNESS

Nelson's work in repairing the damage to the Mining laboratory fuse box.

Speaks in Epigrams

Br. Debs' speech consisted of a series of epigrams against the present economic system, against capitalists, against competition, and against a money-controlled government, but for an enlightened laboring class gathered together and consolidated into the Socialist party.

"The present economic condition has fulfilled its historical mission, and by the natural law of evolution has outgrown its usefulness," Mr. Debs asserted.

"The overthrow of the capitalistic control of the economic world and socialization of industry is not only for the poor and oppressed but for the higher interests of all humanity.

No Beneficiary

"The present system has no beneficiary. The tainted wealth amassed by the intellectually superior does no one any good. It turns to ashes upon the lips of the rich.

"The badge of labor is now the badge of servitude. If you are a working man under this regime Rockefeller gets what you produce, and you get what he produces,—nothing.

"The difficulty is that the laborers are not organized. They do not see that the Socialist party is for them. Rockefeller does not vote for the Socialist party. Why should he? He has two good parties of his own to vote for.

Rose With Ranks

"Some men have said that because I was born a poor man that I have risen from the ranks. This is not so. If I ever rise, it will be with the ranks; not from the ranks. 'I hate war. I was with President Wilson until he declared war. The war was declared by the rich and was fought by the poor. How many members of Chambers of Commerce are there with only one leg? They are patriots by proxy,' Mr. Debs said.

That is, each class will be divided into patrols of eight students each. No class is to have less than two patrols nor more than five.

NEWSChas. Ray tries
Barrymore type
Drama - picture

By J. F. W.

"THE GIRL I LOVED"

Featuring Charles Ray
Presented at the Strand
Directed by Charles de Grasse
Distributed by United Artists Corporation

This is a picture of moonlight, of beautiful captions, and of a love that did not attain its desire.

It seems that Charles Ray has established his position as the American boy in such fashion as to defy rivalry, and "The Girl I Loved" only serves to enhance that position.

It is a departure from Ray's usual picture, both in plot and method. He here turns to drama of the Barrymore type, and the load bends his shoulders.

But the picture itself is good. All the seasons of the year are portrayed, and the night scenes of moonlight, both of summer with its perfumed blossoms and of winter with its snow and sligh bells, are fascinating.

However, the story calls for emotional heights of which Ray seems incapable. Or perhaps it is the fault of the director. At any rate, it is highly improbable that a man would rush from a church in the midst of wedding for a good old roll in the dust to vent his emotion. Yet that is what Ray does.

With diamonds for trumps the villain led hearts but the joker in this case being Grumpys who was played by that master character artist, Theodore Roberts.

The screen play closely follows the stage play in which Cyril Maude took the star role.

The cast assembled includes May McAvoy, Conrad Nagel, and Casson Ferguson. Their acting is good but is distinctly overshadowed by the clever character delineation of Theodore Roberts. He made a very lovable grouch even in his most grouchy moments.

PLUMBERS GIVE IRISH PARADE

The Oft-postponed Review of Engineers Set For Saturday

Through the efforts of James Mackie '23, general chairman of the Engineers' parade, a reviewing stand has been built and will be placed in Capital park Saturday. This location was chosen both for the benefit of the motion pictures that will be taken of the parade and for the position of the reviewing officers and the judges of the parade who will be able to observe the capers of the plumbers for about the entire length of the street.

Mackie has announced that preparations for the parade are almost complete. Although the parade has been postponed several times on account of bad weather, the Engineers have shown such persistent spirit that the most prominent men in university and state life have promised to view the parade from the reviewing stand. Governor John J. Blaine, President E. A. Birge, Dean F. E. Truneau, State Engineer J. D. A. Mack, City Engineer E. A. Parker, Professor J. D. Phillips, and F. L. Peabody will be among the notables on the reviewing stand.

A huge float has just been completed that will be symbolic of all branches of engineering. The spirit of engineering will be represented in this float by a co-ed. This is the first time that a woman has been seen in the parade.

Sherman Green '23, assistant general chairman, has learned on good authority that Saint Patrick will come to Madison by airplane to take direct charge of the parade. Although he is satisfied with the way the parade is being handled, he is merely making up for the bad weather on his and the Engineers' day of days. Saint Patrick in his communication by radio to Green late last night ordered that the entire parade be controlled by radio from the University Station.

He will show scenes of Delphi and Olympia.

Dr. Magoffin is associate professor of Greek and Roman history at Johns Hopkins university. Infirmary Inmates Can't Enjoy Our Spring Fever

Pity the poor students who are at the infirmary.

For there are some 37 of them who are unable to be out and enjoy the first real spring weather we have had. This number is about the normal number of students.

But all their hours won't be dull, for each day five copies of the Cardinal are sent out there by the Cardinal, and these help to shorten the hours of the day, as well as bring them news of the campus.
