ALL UNIVERSITY PEOPLE JOIN IN FOUNDERS' DAY

Committee Sets Gigantic Get-together Date For Feb. 10

The university, consisting of faculty, alumnae, students and parents located all over the world, are going to be asked to have one get-together function in celebration of the anniversary of founder's day on February 10.

This is the tentative plan which will be carried out definitely if the request which the cooperation committee as a whole is making to the university and its alumni proves successful.

"The university consists of faculty, students and alumni and not only those who happen to be present on the campus at one time," Prof. E. H. Gardner said yesterday.

Present Student Traditions
Definite plans for the celebrations in the various towns all over the country where Wisconsin alumni are located now have not been completed however.

It has been suggested that the university devote a day in telling the students about its traditions and this might be done in connection with the anniversary celebration.

Faculty speakers will be sent out to all parts of the state and even beyond in the principal centers according to the tentative plans. Professor Steven Gilman will be sent to Chicago.

Gardner Outlines Plans
The committee in charge of the cooperation work consists of Dean C. H. Schlacter, Prof. Max Mason, O. L. Kowalke, Prof. F. A. Pyre, Joseph S. Eyns, Prof. E. H. Gardner and Andrew Hopkins.

These ideas were first presented to a body of representative upper-class women at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. Professor Gardner outlined the plans.

Meetings of alumnae such as have been planned for this celebration have already been held in previous years in Chicago and other cities but the aim this time is a universal one.

POULTRY TEAM WILL COMPETE AT CHICAGO

The Poultry judging team left early yesterday for Chicago to compete at the national poultry show which is being held this week-end at the coliseum. C. E. Lampman '26, is coach of the team which is composed of Ray Pallet '24, Ernest Calenbach '24 and Clarence Iverson '24. The students will return some Sunday.

Green Button elections for all freshmen women will be held today from 9 until 5 o'clock in Lathrop hall. This is the organization for all first year women which is one of the four women's class organizations designed to increase the acquaintance within the class.

Candidates for the offices were announced after a meeting of all the freshmen held several days ago, nominated by Keystone and the two others who received the highest number of votes among the women proposed at the meeting.

Returns from this election will be announced Saturday. Candidates are, president, Elizabeth Gilmore and Bernice Whitchell; vice president, Jane Gaston and Evelyn Tough; secretary, Nellie Bilstad, Edith Jackson and Peggy Reed; treasurer, Ruth Johns, Elizabeth Ball and Miriam Wollager.

Every freshman woman is automatically a member of Green Button. This organization forms Red Gauntlet next year.

STUDENTS' WORK AT WISCONSIN IS INCREASING

—BIRGE

Prexy Discusses College Life and Ideals at Phi Kappa Phi Banquet

"Students of today have more work to do than those of 25 years ago, and those in turn had more work to do than the students of 25 years before them," President Birge said in his address at the Phi Kappa Phi banquet which was held at the University club last night.

Four members of the faculty and 40 members of the senior class were initiated into the organization, which is the only national honorary fraternity which makes its elections from all of the colleges in the universities.

Calls Life an Art
"It is often hard to say concretely just what you gained from your college course, but it is during the four years at college that the source for all of life is laid," President Birge declared.

"Life is an art, an art which is growing more complex every year, and one which we must formulate systematically for ourselves rather than waiting for it to come as it will. It is our duty while in college to develop the idea of life as an art and to put the highest ideals before ourselves as well as the other undergraduates."

Whitbeck Introduces, Birge
That life is more complex and demanding now than ever before was brought out because of the greater intricacies of society and its more permanent nature. In earlier days it was always possible to move out onto the new frontier when the ideas of an individual were contrary to those of the majority in the community, but now it is necessary to know enough of the general problems and situations to regulate your life in conformance with the best interests of society.

There can be more than one answer to a question according to Professor Whitbeck of Phi Kappa Phi, who introduced the speaker. This may be shown by the student who received full credit in an examination for answering a question on the number of soldiers that England sent to the colonies during the Revolutionary war wrote in this way, "There were a blamed sight more that came over than ever went back."

NO SNOW CHRISTMAS, SAYS WEATHERMAN

That no snow will fall during this cold spell, is the report of Eric Miller of the University Weather bureau. Those who are looking forward to white holidays will be disappointed to learn that this cold wave will last no longer than today. Warm weather will again reach Madison this afternoon, and Saturday will be still warmer and clear.

BOARD APPOINTS ICE EVENT HEAD

Hoffman to Organize Sport Plans of Winter Carnival

Gilbert Hoffman '24 was appointed yesterday by the Athletic department as chairman of the Ice Carnival, which will be held on February 15.

Helen Cushman '26, and Mildred Rieck '24, will act as assistants to the central committee, and will be in charge of women's activities.

Skating, skiing, tobogganing and various kinds of races will be a feature of this event. There will be an elaborate evening program.

The lack of cold weather has held up activities in all the winter sports, but with a continuance of the present cold wave, the committee will continue to perfect its plans for the biggest and best carnival ever held.

TUXEDOS WILL BE IN ORDER AT GAME

Union Vodvil theater goers will not have to forego seeing the DePauw-Wisconsin basketball game tonight, according to announcement at the gym the game will start at 7:15 o'clock instead of the customary time at 7:30 o'clock. Tuxedos will be in vogue, also. Theater and party goers are welcome in formal attire, according to Coach Meanwell, who wants a large crowd at the game.

VODVIL AND GAME NOT TO CONFLICT

Start 15 Minutes Earlier to Accommodate Theater Goers

Union Vodvil, the "only all-university show," will open for its first showing at the Parkway theater tonight. The DePauw basketball game has been moved 15 minutes ahead and will start at 7:15 o'clock so that game-goers can attend the show later.

The Union Vodvil show-orchestra will start its overture at 8:15 o'clock and the first act will go on at approximately 8:30 o'clock, allowing ample time to get from the gym to the theater.

"We want to cooperate with the Union board to the fullest extent and have changed the time of the game accordingly," Doc Meanwell announced yesterday.

"This has been the custom in the past and, in fact, many Union Vodvil goers have attended games in the past in formal dress."

Tonight's show will not be formal. None of the shows will be formal, but some parties will attend tonight's performance in formal dress.

Miss LaVerne Morrison, who plays in "The Raft," University Players sketch, was slightly injured at Wednesday night's dress rehearsal. She will be able to play tonight, however.

PROF PREDICTS STORMY SESSION

Vital National and World Issues Will Will Be Hotly Contested

"A number of issues of national and international vital importance will undoubtedly be vigorously contested during the course of the sixty eighth meeting of congress now in session, A. F. Saunders of the Political Science department said yesterday.

Anticipation of the coming presidential election no party is willing to run the chance of antagonizing any portion of the influential public by forcing measures involving national sentiment. This will mean that the ultimate amount of successful legislation placed on the statute books will be comparatively small.

"The bonus bill will very likely come up for some discussion and finally, by mutual party agreement, be allowed to die. Both Coolidge and Mullen say that only under an increased taxation plan, which they believe to be out of the question, would the bonus prove feasible," Professor Saunders continued.

"The plan formulated by the committee for the entire re-organization of the governmental system at Washington which was started during the early part of the Harding administration, may receive considerable attention is presented on a non-partisan basis. A government department of education is to be established under the new arrangement.

"An attempt will be made to establish the fact that the world court, now endorsed by Coolidge, does not imply affiliation with the league of nations, and the Esch-Cummings bill will be certain or come up for alteration regarding the general railroad policy and the regulation of rated."

PROM CHAIRMAN DENIES "QUEEN" HAS BEEN CHOSEN

Announcement Made By Local Paper Utterly False, Nolte Says

The announcement of the selection of the prom queen which appeared in one of the local papers last night was denounced by Clifford Nolte '25, chairman, as utterly false and without foundation.

Nolte in his statement of the announcement expressed his belief that some reporter fabricated the story and endeavored to decide the question for him. He asserted that the announcement was a customary event and results from the newspaper competition to be first to announce the "queen."

Missed the Mark
The official statement as given out by Chairman Nolte last night is as follows:

"I have neither selected my partner for the Junior prom nor do I intend to select her until after the Christmas vacation. It has become more or less proverbial that if the press chairman has not chosen his partner by at least a week before Christmas vacation a partner will be chosen for him by some newspaper."

"Last year two such premature announcements were made, one in a local paper and one in a Milwaukee paper. Both guesses, however, missed the mark."

Send Telegrams
One of Nolte's comments on learning of the announcement was that he wished some one might make the choice for him as was evidently some one's endeavor.

Nolte sent telegrams to many state papers last night denying that the Prom queen had been chosen.

Crucible Conducts Red Cross Stamp Campaign

Red Cross stamps are being sold to the students through Crucible, Junior women's society.

Stamps have been sent to house presidents to sell to the girls. Each girl is expected to buy 25 stamps.

"All people who are selling the stamps must turn in the stamps and money to the S. G. A. office by noon tomorrow," Esther Fifield, president of Crucible said yesterday.

DEAN LAYS DOWN VACATION RULES

Regulations For Student Life Are in Effect From September to August

Announcements which will effect the life of students not leaving Madison for the Christmas holidays and for societies planning parties on days in January were sent out from the office of Dean Goodnight yesterday.

The regulations of the committee on student life are in effect from registration day for the regular year until the close of the summer session, thus covering all vacation periods.

Attention is also called to the fact that the evening of Tuesday, December 18, is a regular mid-week evening, not available for social affairs. Student parties planned for the evenings of January 4 and 5 should either be registered in the office before the vacation period or should be registered by mail during the vacation period, in order to comply with the four-day registration requirement.

January 11 and 12 are the last evenings open for parties during the current semester. January 18 and 19 and 25 and 26 are closed to outside activities of all kinds because of final examinations.

Erma Borchers, grad., and former member of Pythia will act as Critic of the evening.

Dean Nardin Backs Behrend's Plan to Prohibit Tag Day

"Flirtation is a poor means of obtaining money for even the best causes," was the statement of Dean F. Louise Nardin, when asked her opinion of Ald. J. H. Behrend's proposal prohibiting tag days.

"The student life and interest committee decided two years ago to refrain from using university women in soliciting donations promiscuously," the dean said.

"Tagging is a precarious way of getting money. People do not notice for what cause they are donating, and the next year they might not be inclined to give for a worthy cause."

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD PARTY FOR CHILDREN

The Presbyterians will hold a kid Christmas party Friday night at the student house. There will be presents, a Christmas tree and everything that goes to make up a good time for the "kiddies." This is the last social before the Christmas holidays and promises to be a good one. You are invited. Come dressed as a kid, and "let loose." Bring a 10c present with you and join in the fun.

PHILADELPHIA—Selling blood at $25 to $50 a transfusion is putting 25 students through the Jefferson Medical college at Philadelphia. They claim that living normal healthy lives a student can give one pint of blood once a week. Only rarely does a patient pay more than $50 for a pint of blood.

Songs and Dance to Feature Party of Newman Club

The annual Christmas party for the student and alumnae members of the Newman club will be held Saturday evening in Lathrop hall. Everyone who attends the party is going to bring some toys and trinkets which will be given to poor children on Christmas.

Miss Verdi D'Ardell '26, of the Newman club, has announced that a program will precede dancing and begin at 8 o'clock. Miss Margaret Mc Carthy, of the speech department, will give a reading. The men's choir of Saint Paul's university chapel will sing "Holy Night", and everyone will join in singing Christmas carols.

After the program dancing will continue until midnight. Mr. and Mrs. Osterle and Miss McCarthy will chaperon.

LESCOCHIER TELLS STATUS OF FARMER

"Laborers in the northern wheat fields are floaters while those of the southern fields are usually farmers who have left their farm to get additional work," Prof. D. D. Lescochier declared in speaking on the condition of the farmer at the Knights of Columbus luncheon yesterday.

"The farmer must compete with the factories in hours, conditions for work, conditions for his laborers and in wages. These factors often result in the cost of the wheat exceeding the retail selling price."

"Unless something is done about matters for the northern wheat farmer he will have to go out of business," he concluded.

RATED AS STRONG
FOES OF BADGERSTonight's Game Will Have Big Influence on Conference
Standing

The fighting badger team will meet a team of more than conference calibre tonight when it takes on the Tiger five from Depauw in the gym.

The Tigers defeated Illinois Tuesday night in a fast over-time game by a 29 to 28 score. Rated as one of the best basketball teams in the middle west, De Pauw is certain to give the Wisconsin quintet plenty to think about.

Tigers Have Strong Team

Fans who saw the Millikin game last week and decided that the Cardinal was invincible may receive a jolt when the two teams clash tonight. The Tigers have a team of veterans, and are going at top season form already. Captain Wills, White, and Laughlin are all playing their third year on the Hoosier five while Irvin and Hirt are veterans of a year's experience. These five men will probably start the game.

Play Long Shots

Coach Ashmore believes in having a team of eagle-eyed shots, and the tilt is certain to be spectacular. The Ashmore team is drilled in the long shot game, and should the Tigers fail to pierce the Badger defense, they will resort to the long ones to win.

The Badgers, with a rest from open competition for a week, are in good condition to start the tilt.

The probable lineups follow:

Wisconsin	De Pauw
Spooner	L. F. Laughlin
Elsom	R. F. White
Gibson	C. Wills or Johnson
Barwig	L. G. Hirt
Diebold	R. G. Irvin

Debate, Societies Settle
Down to Work

The literary societies, after attending the annual joint debate last Friday in a body, will resume their regular work tonight, the main features being a special program for alumni at Athenae and a debate on the taxation of all present tax-exempt securities in Hesperia.

Athenae will engage in a special "Numeral Ceremony," and will be addressed by several alumni of the society. In addition, the members of the winning joint debate team will make short talks. The Numeral ceremony is in honor of winning the joint debate, the thirteenth time since 1892, when Philomathia, the third men's literary society was formed.

Hesperia will present a debate on the subject "Resolved, that all federal, state and municipal securities be made subject to taxation."

Philomathia, for its last meeting, will install the new officers, and hold an informal program.

Edward R. Siren '25, returned to Madison Wednesday night after a six month's tour of the world.

"I toured the entire continent of Australia for a stack of wheat-cakes," Siren said when telling how it felt to get back to good old U. S. A.

Siren, who is a student in the College of Engineering was a member of the party who took the Junior mining trip last summer. When they got as far as Denver, Siren and a friend from the University of Washington decided to see the world. Working their way on a cattle ship they landed in Australia and later made their way across Africa. On the return trip they

Overtime Game

URBANA, Dec. 12.—The DePauw basketball team defeated the Illinois five 29 to 28 in a two time extra period game here Wednesday night.

The Tigers jump from here to Madison where they take on the Badgers Friday night.

The DePauw team is composed mostly of veterans this year and it is preparing to give the Cardinal a royal battle. Although Coach Meanwell's team was tied for the Big Ten championship last year the Tigers may surprise them.

The probable DePauw starters are: White and Laughlin, forwards; Johnson or Captain Wills, center; Irvin and Hirt, guards.

LEVIS AXE FALLS
ON FROSH SQUADNew Year's Cut Will Reduce Present Aspirants to Twenty

Because nearly 50 freshmen are working for places on the first year basketball team, Coach George Levis plans to reduce his squad to about 20 men shortly after the Christmas recess. The practices which have been held since early in October and the games with the varsity have pointed out which candidates are the strongest contenders for regular positions.

The present squad is too large, and it will be necessary to cut the number to about 20 men if we expect to get real results from our practices," declared Coach Levis.

The fact that less than 15 men from the football squad have reported for basketball is a disappointment to the coach. According to plans, it was arranged that special practice sessions would be held for the gridders if a sufficient number of them came out with the purpose of making basketball a major activity.

"I had devised my schedule in such a way that I could have separate practices with the first year football men. In this way, they could catch up with the work of those who have been practicing since early in the fall, but the small number of candidates has caused me to give up these plans. I would like to add at least five football men to my present squad," concluded Coach Levis.

The football men who reported during the last week are: Shaw, Wrend, Hawley, Muegge, Olson, Larson, Sand, Clinger, Skelly, Kolb and McMaster.

HE ISN'T A CHAMPION
BUT A NEPHEW OF ONE

Coach Ray Moore of the boxing class was working out the other night with one of the embryo Jack Dempseys and the uneducated one got tired after a couple of rounds. Moore, however, was still going strong and he called for another aspirant. No one answered so Ray asked an innocent appearing youth who was sitting on the edge of the ring to "step" a few rounds.

The young fellow disclaimed any knowledge of the manly art, but since Moore promised to be good he put on the gloves. They squared off in the middle of the ring and then things began to happen. Bang! A straight right collided with the coach's jaw, and before he could get set again he ran into a beautiful left hook. For about two minutes Moore looked rather bad but he redeemed himself and the round ended with the newcomer sitting on the floor.

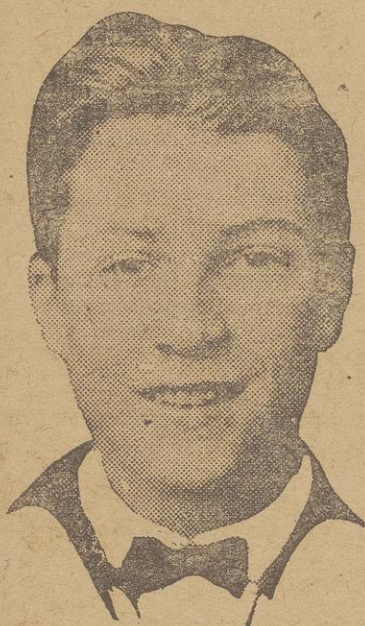

"I thought you couldn't box," said Moore after he got his breath. "I can't," answered the youngster, "but I learned a little from my uncle. He's Jim Corbett."

visited the Hawaiian islands.

He had a chance to apply some of his knowledge about ships boilers that he learned in engineering Siren said,—shoveling coal. Landing in San Francisco with the proverbial 25 cents in his pocket, he "bummed" his way back. Siren expects to return to school next semester.

GYM MEN PREPARE

on Eve of Big Tumble
Meet

"There are two men on the gym team right now who are Varsity calibre, the rest are quite ragged," said Coach Schlatter Thursday night after the team had tryouts at the city "Y." "There will have to be a great deal of improvement if we want to win another conference championship," he said.

There will be a meet with the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. this Saturday. The coach said that they have a strong team and will furnish plenty of competition. The men who will make the trip are: Capt. Stevens, Kress, Koch, Schmidt, Krueger, Heinke, Thompson and Reinhold.

Schlatter said that Captain Stevens and Schmidt look very good. He has Schmidt, Heinke and Krueger on the horizontal bars; Stevens, Koch and Schmidt on the parallel bars; Krueger, Schmidt and Koch on the rings; Stevens, Kress and Koch on the side horse, and Koch, Stevens and Schmidt for tumbling. Besides the above, he will take two fencers along, Thompson for the foils and Reinhold for the sabers.

Local birds will compete for honors at the poultry exhibit to be held at the Elk's club house, 120 Monona ave. next Wednesday night. Everything that has wings will be shown. The proceeds of the evening will go toward sending the drill team to the Boston convention next July.

Engineers With a Near Shutout

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 17.—Purdue defeated Rose Polytechnic Institute here tonight in the opening game on the Boilermaker basketball card, Coach Lambert's five winning by a 45 to 7 score. The Engineers from Terre Haute failed to cope with the form displayed by the Purdue combination and could not present a defense against the fast work of Capt. Gullion and his teammates. The visitors scored by a lone field goal which was made about the middle of the second period.

Spradling Stars

Spradling, a Sophomore, playing his first game on the Varsity five, led the scoring with seven field goals. Capt. Gullion and Robbins each sank five baskets from the court.

Capt. Blair B. Gullion '24 is leading the Purdue basketball squad this season. Gullion is playing his third successive year for the Boilermakers and will again be found at the pivot position for the Old Gold and Black five.

All-Conference Center

Gullion was picked for all-conference center in 1921-22 by Spaulding's official basketball guide and in 1922-23 for center on the all-conference second team. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity and of the Gimlet Booster Club.

BELOIT, Wis. — Two captains may act for Beloit college next year if the tie vote for "Baldy" McGaw of Rockford, Ill., tackle and Capt. Nelson, Butte, Mont., full back, can not be broken in balloting after the holidays. Members of the squad split evenly, 9 to 9, on the balloting. If he deadlock continues, it is proposed to have the two men act alternately as captains in the 1924 games.

BOOSTS FOR ART

Much pity is heaped upon us poor unfortunates of the wild and provincial West or middle West by our friends, the aesthetes of the East, because we have such little opportunity to cultivate artistic appreciations. Even now in a time when transportation facilities bring the different parts of the country into comparatively close association with each other, people on the Atlantic sea-board look down upon us as more or less artistic barbarians.

True it is that we have nothing like the Metropolitan or Boston art galleries; we must go to Chicago to find anything which approximates them. Yet we are not in such bad straits as our eastern friends think.

The Madison Art association has always done much to augment interest in art among students and town people alike. By its exhibits in the State Historical museum it has given us poor unfortunates of the provinces delightful tastes of the realm of painting.

At the present time an excellent portrait exhibit, including the works of some of the finest American painters is being displayed in the museum. Thus it is that we have an opportunity to study the works of some of the famous modern masters—Sargent, Abrahamson, Johannsen.

So it has been, ever since the association was founded. Circulating exhibits have been secured and displayed; works owned by Madison people, such as those in the present exhibit, have been shown to the public. So it has been, and although we may not have the opportunities of those of the East, yet if we take advantage of the opportunities which are afforded us, we need not leave the university aesthetic ignoramus.

WE TURN TO GREECE

Twenty-three centuries ago on a small peninsula jutting into the eastern end of the Mediterranean sea there lived a people who excelled among all the peoples of the earth in philosophy, in literature, in art, in mathematics. These people found great joy in living, found great joy because they knew how to live. They knew how to live because they worshipped the right god—the god of knowledge and because they excluded from their worship all worldly gain. These people were the Greeks.

Feeling that a university should have some course which would give its students something of this splendid spirit of the ancient Greeks, the faculty established here a course based on the curriculum of the old College of Liberal Arts and exemplifying some of the ideas of the sages of the Golden Age. Thus students who wish to obtain that intangible part of education which enables them to live more richly and fully in the spiritual sense than a strictly professional course. This is called the Course in Humanities.

Its body is very much similar to the regular course in Letters and Science; its requirements differ less than one at first suspects. Perhaps the natural reaction to the requirements is that they are stiff. As a matter of fact, however, our fathers who went to eastern institutions in the the seventies and eighties would be very much inclined to disagree with us. No, the requirements have been carefully worked out so that the student in the Course in Humanities can not help but receive a thorough initiation into the four great fields of learning: language and literature, history, science, philosophy and mathematics.

As may not be generally known admission to this course may be had by students who have been in the university as well as by entrants, and at any time of the year.

Perhaps you did not know that such a course was being given in the university; perhaps you wanted to take such a one but were ignorant of its existence; perhaps you needed only the suggestion. Perhaps you are beginning to tire of our mad chase after financial wealth and would like a try at obtaining spiritual wealth.

At any rate, the Course in Humanities is the nearest thing to Greek education that we have. It seems unfortunate that not more students are taking advantage of it.

WEEKS AND WEAK-MINDEDNESS

Hardly a day in the year passes that is not crowned as the birthday of some special week. With his amazing powers of invention, with his restlessness and unbounded desire to be forever doing something whether that something be worth anything or not, with his everlasting efficiency of which he never seems to tire, with his uncanny gift for being able to make a lot of blaa over the slightest bit of an idea that crops into his cranium, mankind has swamped himself with a deluge of "weeks" and "days" which are supposed to stand for something but which, because of their great number, have lost their significance and become a huge joke.

We have "Thrift Week," "Safety Week," "Education Week," "Better Speech Week," "Good Book Week," "Constitution Week," "Fire Prevention Week" and a host of others too many to mention. Now, besides the regular "Fire Prevention Week," we are urged to form a "No Fire Week." It will be but a little while before every week in the calendar is marked off by weak-minded citizens as a special week. We will be having "Setting Up Exercise Week," "Strawberry Week," "Baseball Week," "Kitty Kar Week," and what not. Then our feeble-minded friends will have made those weeks which do hold some purport insignificant, and perhaps then some one with the necessary power will see the absurdity of it all and with one grand sweep will abolish every special week in the calendar.

Besides having weeks, we have innumerable clubs. We learn that drivers are hurrying to sign the safety pledge. That is all very fine and well, but where is the good of such a club. Those drivers who are careful are the only ones who will care to join and what good will it do them? It is the careless driver who should belong to such a club and he does not take the trouble to become a member.

So it is with days. Of course "Dollar Day" is an affair of the merchants and is quite beside the point. But consider that we started out with "Mother's Day," certainly an excellent institution. But it ran into "Dad's Day," also all right in itself, but too much like the other to be anything but a mimicry. If some of these weak-minded inventors are not locked up, before we know it we will have a "Brother's Day," a "Sister's Day," a "Grandpa's Day," a—oh well, so on, ad nauseam.

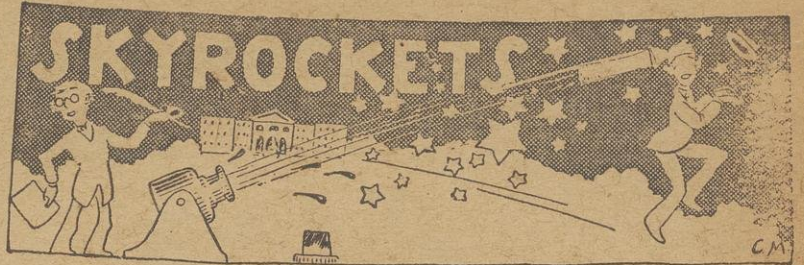

Editorial Quips and Facts

"For the absolute good is the course and source of all beauty, just as the sun is the source of all daylight, and it cannot therefore be spoken or written; yet we speak and write of it in order to start and escort ourselves on the way, and arouse our minds to the vision, as it were a pilgrim shown on his way to some shrine that he would visit; for the teaching is only whither and how to go; the vision itself is the work of him who hath willed to see."—From the National Gallery Guide Book, London.

There is the Union Vodvil—and it was planned to alternate it each year with a university circus. Where, pray, is the circus? Not even the seniors in school have seen a university circus. They used to be great when they were first held in the armory—the townspeople who remember them say. They were even better when they were held in the stock pavillion. Are they dead and gone forever or will it be possible for some Barnum to revive them next year?

"Valliant Heros of Past Shown on Walls of Armory Building.—Headline in the deet. Sounds like king Tut's tomb.

If the freshmen girls kept their eyes open during the regular elections this November they ought to have some good tricks up their sleeves for the Green Button balloting.

Solomon the Sapient on His Way to See UNION VODVIL

Yeah, we saw the Vodvil last night.

Sure we'll tell yah all about it just like we promised. You know our motto—

He kept them all satisfied.

It takes a good man to do that.

In the beginning Bill Purnell created the Union Vodvil and the first day he created a Red Headed Dunlap. And lo he liked his work and it was good to look upon and so he made another after the same fashion.

By and by this COLUMN will give anyone who can tell the lads apart a pass admitting one to all Barnard Hall Open Houses for 99 years.

Which all reminds us of the fact that a certain well known co-ed who is in the show says she can tell them apart, because Hudson always blushes when he sees her.

Half-pint is in the show, but I won't tell you where. Try and find her.

Sheba is there too and we predict that the Almighty Bill will receive a shower of complaints from distressed but well meaning old ladies who think it criminal to keep such sweet little boys out so late at night.

Byron Rivers looked like this in his dressing room at the Parkway last night. I leave it to you to imagine how sweet and entrancing he will look on the stage.

BYRON RIVERS

Jack Cornelius was once elected the best looking man in school and so while any honors he may win in Union Vodvil will be in the way of an anti-climax, he is just as good looking as ever, and you men mustn't get all mad just because your sweet women hold their breathe in silent ecstasy while he sings.

Just thank goodness gracious that they are quiet for that long.

As for that a certain member of the faculty who happened to hear me make that statement said that if Jack could keep his wife still he would give him a steady job.

If you want to know anything about the Prom Queen read the State Journal.

No, don't thank us, we are glad to tell you about it.

Glad its over. Now we can ask our girl and not worry about competing with Cliff.

DESERT ISLE

Shades of Robert Louis Stevenson!! A poor boy cast away without—Holder Newt we almost spilt the milk. Anyway he is cast away and the things he hasn't got back make him weep watery tears.

Gilmore really has the heaviest act—I mean the heaviest stage settings. Whether he gets the heaviest drag with the crowd we will find out tonight.

We mentioned the Almighty Purnell above. He is the director of the circus and just below you can see how he looked before he quit work when he was on the Chautauqua Circuit in Nebraska.

The Tired Business Man in the Front Row—steady, I suppose in this case it will be the bored Faculty—will be sort of out of luck. Chorus girls will be notable by their absence.

BILL PURNELL

There is one act that will keep you in suspense. At least it gets the principal up in the air for a little while. But he finally comes down to earth.

Even as you and I.

By some remarkable operation a prominent Noo Yawk physician has restored the great Heinie Hall of 1923 Haresfoot fame to babyhood and the girls who have seen him say that he is too dear for words.

Of course they always did say that anyway, but—

We almost forgot to mention the fact that one of our most famous Rocketeers is in the show—namely Thas All who has been entertaining you on Saturdays will put on a specialty dance. Hope you enjoy him as much as we hope you enjoyed his Rockets.

In conclusion you may have traveled far in foreign climes, but if yah ain't seen the Vodvil—

Yah ain't been nowhere and yah ain't seen nothing.

LOMON the SAPIENT.

OTIS TO SING AT CONCERT SUNDAY

Baritone Will Add Variety to Program of University Orchestra

Baritone solos sung by Edward H. Otis '24, will give variety to the public concert of the university orchestra at 3 o'clock in Music hall auditorium, Sunday afternoon.

"Pleading" by Elgar and "Bedouin Love Song" by Chadwick will be sung by Otis, a student of the School of Music. Both solos are songs that invariably appeal to popular fancy. "Bedouin Love Song" enjoyed a wide vogue about 25 years ago and has continued to hold a place in public favor ever since.

The work of the orchestra for this semester has been centered on this concert. Orchestra members have met twice weekly to practice the numbers to be given in the Sunday program under the direction of Major E. W. Morphy, director of the band and the orchestra.

S. G. A. Gives Two Christmas Parties Today

The S. G. A. organization announces two Christmas parties today. The first will be a tea from 4 to 6 this afternoon in Lathrop parlors.

The tea will be given by the S. G. A. executive board and the district chairmen for the executive board. There will be bridge and dancing. Sara Fletcher will be in charge of the tea.

The second party will be given tonight and will be the regular dancing class of the S. G. A. There will be an orchestra and refreshments, Christmas decorations and Christmas spirit. All girls are invited to attend. There will be no charge.

No Mistletoe in Kansas Christmas; Bugs Eat Supply

Mistletoe will not hang from chandelier or doorway in Kansas homes this Christmas; and all because some provoking little bugs refuse to change their diet just before the holidays.

Since stark sprigs of limp worm-eaten and solitary, startlingly white berries would make poor shipments north, the amazing greed of these selfish insects of the southwestern states will undoubtedly shrink the supply here.

Madison florists, however, expect a small supply at the end of the week. Their stock of mistletoe is never great, not because the demand for it is not active, but because, according to one florist, "You don't need much, you know."

FALL CLASS AT OHIO STATE MATRICULATES

cent of the first autumn quarter graduating class in the history of the Ohio State university are Ohioans. Nine other states and far away South Africa and the Philippines supply the other 14 per cent.

It is regarded as somewhat significant of the trend of modern education that two of the newer colleges of the university, the colleges of education and the graduate school, lead in the number of members of the class.

Twenty three seniors in the college of education are candidates for degrees at the first autumn convocation to be held Dec. 21. Twenty one advanced students are candidates for the higher degrees.

Houses to Present First Class Shows

By SAPPY. Although no sensational pictures are booked for next week, the Madison theater goes on may prepare themselves for big things to come. Almost every theater has big bookings, and now that the Strand has made a new contract for the Cosmopolitan-Goldwin pictures, who have taken over most of the Paramount pictures, no more second class films will be shown in Madison.

The Strand tops the bill of the movie houses. The first part of the week, Sunday to Tuesday, it will run the 1923 version of Douglas Fairbank's success "The Mark of Zorro," which shows some sensational fencing. For the second part of the week, namely from Wednesday on, the Strand will show its first Cosmopolitan-Goldwin picture, "Unseeing Eyes" with Lionel Barrymore, Sena Owen and Luora Holheim, a new German actor of renown. "Unseeing Eyes" is a thrilling story of the Canadian wilds, and is said to be unexcelled in scenic photography.

A close second to the Strand will be the Parkway with the million dollar production "In the Palace of the Kings" taken from the novel by F. M. Crawford, featuring Blanche Sweet, Pauline Stark, and Edmund Lowe. The picture will run for the whole week.

The Madison will present for the whole week "Mothers in Law", a melodrama with Gaston Glass, Ruth Clifford and Edith Yorke. It is a Gasnier Production, treating of the mother-in-law problem in an entirely new manner.

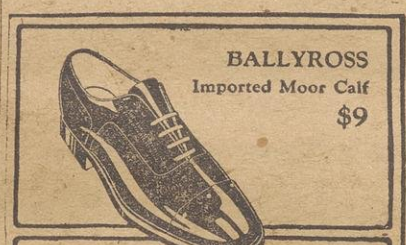

For the first part of the week the Majestic will present Bryant Washburn, Eva Novak and June Elridge in "Temptation", a ripping story of modern society. For the second part of the week, it will offer "Defying Destiny", another society picture with an all star cast.

The Orpheum will give a good show for the first part of the week if the real show comes up to the press-previews. It will feature Pepita Cranados, a Spanish dancer and her troupe, and Laura Peripont in the sketch "Women Who Pass Through the Night". For the second half of the week, the Orpheum will feature Cattison Jones and Elsie Elliot who will bring with them Hal Fischer's Collegiate Orchestra.

GERMAN CHILDREN PERILED BY T. B.

Seven Millions May Contract Disease Because of Undernourishment

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 — Seven million German children are in immediate danger of contracting tuberculosis as a result of prolonged undernourishment, according to a cablegram made public yesterday by Major General Henry T. Allen, Chairman of the American committee for relief of German children.

The message was sent from the headquarters of the American society of Friends (Quakers) who have returned to Germany to feed the starving children with the fund of $20,000,000 that is being raised in the United States by General Allen's committee.

Children Need Food

"Altogether seven million children are in urgent need of food," the message reads.

"Most of them do not get any warm meals or any bread at all. They are so badly undernourished that they are in great danger of contracting tuberculosis. In Dresden, one-sixth of the school children suffer from famine."

"The shortage of foodstuffs for children is increasing steadily owing to augmented unemployment and to the rapidly rising cost of materials. Five million people are without work and an additional one and a half million are working short time. The index of the Government for the cost of living in October was 234 times higher than before the war."

In September the prices of foodstuffs equalled 200 per cent of the gold prices in peace times. The wages approximate 60 per cent of peace time wages, according to reports of the various municipalities."

"The providing of milk for babies and small children is entirely unsatisfactory since the various towns obtain only one tenth of the milk which they received in peace times. They get coffee and saccharine instead. As a result the mortality rate of babies during the last three months was 21 per cent higher than last year, although the birth-rate in Berlin declined by 30 per cent. Half of the newly-born children have been transferred to orphan asylums since the parents cannot provide for them."

Shortage of Meat

"The shortage of clothing for children during the coming winter will affect their state of health very much. Approximately three million people are without underclothing and shoes. Babies are without clothes and in many instances bedclothing is entirely missing."

These figures are consistent with the estimates given in a recent report from the representative in Berlin of the United States Department of Agriculture.

According to this report, meat consumption, not including imports, was 123 pounds per capita in 1912 and 84 in 1922. But the estimates for the first six months of 1923 show a consumption of only 34 pounds per capita.

THREE KILLED WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — William McLaughlin and his wife, Milwaukee, and Arthur Minturn, West Allis, were fatally injured early today when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a freight train near here. A heavy fog prevented the occupants of the car from seeing the approaching train which crashed into the machine. The injured were taken to a Waukesha hospital but died a short time afterwards.

PROGRESSIVES FORM FARMER-LABOR LEAGUE

Lieut. Gov. George F. Comings was busy conferring with progressives in Madison Thursday regarding the formation of a state-wide Farmer-Labor league and the holding of a Farmer-Labor conference in February to nominate a full state ticket to be supported in the republican primaries next September. WILL DROP NINE COUNTY ASSESSORS

Shortage of Funds Forces Commission to Cut Force January 1

Dropping of nine of the forty county assessors of incomes, entailing a complete revision of the assessors' districts throughout the state, has been decided upon by the state tax commission, it was learned officially Thursday. The change will be made Jan. 1, it is said.

Lack of sufficient funds which the emergency board as yet has failed to supply is said to be the principal cause for the commission's action.

The tax commission is working out the revision plan, according to officials. Announcement of the assessors to be dropped is expected within a week.

In a letter to the state emergency board recently, the tax commission reported the need of approximately $19,000 in order to carry on its work. The emergency board has failed thus far to reach an agreement on the funds. Meanwhile, the tax commission has voted to abolish the offices of a number of the assessors in order to come within its appropriation.

COMMITTEE ACTION
UNFAIR--ROGERSWisconsin National Committeeman Says It Is Scheme To Pack Convention

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Alfred T. Rogers of Madison, republican national committeeman for Wisconsin today denounced in strong terms the action of the committee yesterday in giving the solid south a quota of approximately 200 delegates in the next republican convention.

"I protested against this action," Rogers said. "Because it was in plain violation of the action of the last republican convention which reduced the southern representation to its proper proportions and further because it was obviously a scheme to aid reactionary candidates for president in packing the convention."

"The southern delegates who go to the next republican convention will be controlled largely through the use of federal patronage and through other even more questionable means."

"They will represent practically no public sentiment among republican voters at home but their votes can be used to neutralize the votes of the delegates from Wisconsin, Minnesota and other progressive states who cannot be bought or whipped into line for a reactionary candidate and a reactionary platform."

"I regard the action of the old guard element behind this scheme tonight by members of the fraternity. Among the chaperons will be Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Osgood and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Pinther are to chaperon."

Four Children Burn
to Death In Farm Home

LOOGOOTE, Ind.—Four children of William Fehrman, farmer, were killed when their home burned last night. They were asleep upstairs and could not escape. The Fehrman family had moved in the day before. The fire resulted from a bad flue.

to manipulate a large block of delegates in the convention as outrageous, it will involve the republican party in another scandal like that which helped to defeat it in 1912. I know that the people of Wisconsin are opposed to this kind of political jobbery and I therefore did everything in my power to oppose it."

ORGANIZE DRIVE ON POOL HALLS

Parent-Teacher Association Takes Stand Against Law Violators

Organization of a concerted drive on violators of laws affecting school children was voted by the Central High School Parent-Teachers' association at a meeting in the high school Wednesday night. The association appealed to the local Parent-Teachers' council to sponsor a general investigation.

Illicit liquor, pool halls, questionable motion pictures, and late-night social gatherings became targets during the discussion which followed talks by Volney G. Barnes principal of the school, and Emerson Ela, an attorney.

Specific directions an investigation would take have not been determined. Mrs. W. E. Miller, who was elected president at the meeting, said Thursday. The action of the high school association will be submitted to the council in January. Meanwhile sections of the association will conduct inquiries.

Besides Mr. Miller, officers elected are Mr. Barnes first vice president; Mrs. Jean Cowles, second vice president; Mrs. F. O. Pennington, secretary, and Mrs. Stanley Hanks, treasurer. They will serve for a year.

"It is possible for boys and girls to buy liquor in Madison," Mr. Barnes said, declaring that there are conditions that parents should investigate at once. "But we are not troubled with liquor being brought into our high school."

"The school children of Madison need centers of recreation. Club rooms should be established. These should be open after school until dinner time. The place for any school child, in the evening, is home."

School parties and other social affairs should begin early in the evening and should be ended by 11 p. m., sons should not be permitted to make nightly use of the family automobiles, and a strong stand should be taken against objectionable motion pictures, members of the association agreed. Action on these questions will be taken at sectional meetings of mothers and teachers to be held during January.

Md. Ela scored parents "who are too busy and interested in themselves to devote much thought to the problems of their children in school."

"This attitude is wrong and most parents know it," he said. "If they would take an active interest in all children in school and not only in their own children, improvement would result in a short time."

The entertainment program at the meeting included two numbers by the girls' glee club under direction of Miss Laura Duncan, accompanied by Miss Margaret Rott; an interpretive shadow play performance of "Cinderella," staged by the high school art class under direction of Miss Marie Riker; and a dance given by 12 girls under direction of Miss Irma Baus. Paul Sanders led in community singing.

NARDIN ADVISES FRESHMAN GIRLS

Dean Emphasizes Personality
as Most Important Factor in Success

"Personality is the greatest factor in attaining success in the world," Dean F. Louise Nardin said in an address to the freshman women at the vocational conference convocation yesterday afternoon.

"There are three major factors in personality that the freshman must consider if she wishes to see her name some day in the future in Who's Who.

"These three essentials are health, mental balance and, finally adjustment to your work," Miss Nardin said.

The Dean emphasizes the great need of perfect mental balance in attacking the problems that face every one all through life. Reasonableness, independence, cooperativeness, unselfishness, cheerfulness and leadership are points under this factor of mental balance in which all freshman should try to attain the ideal.

The freshmen were given questionnaires to fill out for the use of the vocational committee.

MAY BREAK SENATE DEADLOCK MONDAY

Democrat Lacks One Vote of Being Named Committee
Chairman

WASHINGTON—With the senate in recess leaders of the various groups were busy with conferences today attempting to negotiate a settlement of the deadlock over the chairmanship of the interstate commerce committee voting on which is to be resumed Monday.

The voting alignments in the senate fight over the interstate commerce committee chairmanship shifted sharply yesterday. Sen. Smith, dem. S. Car., came within one vote of being elected over Sen. Cummins, rep., Ia., after five of the seven senators who had been supporting Sen. La Follette, had switched to the democratic candidate. Sen. Bruce, dem., Maryland, however, went to the support of Sen. Cummins, because, he explained in a statement, that he felt that the move of the La Follette supporters "would make the election of Sen. Smith not a democratic triumph but, rather a significant one for Sen. La Follette and his following."

Foreign Flashes

NOGALES, Ariz., Dec. 13—Rebel forces at Manzanillo, Mexico, have captured and executed General Miguel Pima of the federal army as he was returning from a visit to lower California where he had been on a mission for President Obregon.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 13—French and German delegates welcomed the intervention of American experts in the reparations tangle. The appointment of American delegates on the experts committees of the reparations commission is awaited. Senator Lenroot is holding in abeyance the bill to appropriate $20,000,000 for German food relief.

Burlesque Act in Union Vodvil

Heinie Hall and Bill Eddy

"How do you do, I'm sure!" is the name of an act, a part of which is pictured here, which will be presented in Union Vodvil and which is just as crazy as its title. The act is given by T. Faxon "Heinie" Hall and William "Bill" Eddy.

The first showing of Union Vodvil will take place at 8:15 o'clock tonight. Other shows will be given at 2:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon and at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night. The De Pauw basketball game tonight has been moved ahead in time to 7 o'clock so that persons going to the game can attend the show later.

"How do you do, I'm sure!" is a burlesque act on the father and baby in the city park. Hall is the baby in the carriage and Eddy plays the fond father. Hall's baby voice and Eddy's hard boiled daddy tactics with a line of good humor make the act one of the bright spots of the program. Each of the partners sings and Hall does some clever dancing. A nutty sketch closes the act.

CHORAL UNION TO GIVE "MESSIAH"

Final Rehearsal Held Yesterday;
With Several Difficult Courses

The last rehearsal of "The Messiah" oratorio before the coming public concert was held by Choral union yesterday.

The Choral union concert will take place at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in Music hall auditorium. It will consist of a number of choruses from "The Messiah", by Handel.

Several of the choruses not usually given in concerts of this type will be sung in this concert. The difficult "Amen Chorus", "His Yoke is Easy", and "And With His Stripes" are among the numbers which the program includes.

Katherine Reid '26, will give the soprano solo parts. Mrs. John A. James will sing the contralto solos, and William Ross, grad, will take the tenor solo parts. G. McPherson will sing the bass solos. All the soloists are members of the chorus, for the first time in the history of the union.

Prof. P. W. Dykema, director of Choral union will have charge of the concert, and he will be assisted by Frances Landon at the piano.

The concert will be open to the public without charge, and is the only public concert which the Union will give this semester.

BARRON—The city council has been directed to have plans drawn for a sewer system for the city. Plans and estimates will be procured and work will probably be started in the spring.

CHATTY GIVES INFORMATION ON HOLIDAY FILMS

By CHATTY

Just so you will have some idea of the pictures that are going to be playing in Madison during the holidays so that if you are anxious to see them you will take the opportunity at home rather than waiting until your return to the campus and being disappointed we will give you this morning a little advance peek. Sh-h-h, it's quite a secret, but readers of newspaper columns can be pretty well trusted to keep secrets so bring your ear close and we'll give you the dope.

First of all, if you want to see "The Light That Failed"—you ask us, how can one see a light that failed?—well, anyway, if you want to see "The Light That Failed" most especially of any other picture that you know will be going the rounds, you'd better not wait until your return to this town in January to see it but take the first opportunity that happens along in your home town or a neighboring city. For it will start here at the Madison Sunday, December 23, to run only a week and it will be gone on its way by the time you're back. It ought to be a good film, too. You know Rudyard Kipling's story. The movie will feature Jacqueline Logan, Sigrid Heimquist and David Lawrence.

During the last days of this year's school we will be able to see "The Cruise of the Speejacks" but we shouldn't get around to the Majestic before the happy 19th, we will do well to see the picture during the vacation. You know of the wild circuit of the globe made in a mere cock's shell of a boat by Mr. Gowen, his pretty wife and six picked college athletes. No, Marty wasn't one of the athletes; the trip happened when he was making fame for himself in high school. Anyway, the party braved all sorts of perils and had quite a hot time. We don't know whether you're particularly anxious to see "The Common Law" with Corinne Griffith, Conway Tearle and Elliot Dexter but if you are, just remember that you won't be able to see it here after you return for the old grind. It's going to start at the Majestic—same place that "The Cruise of the Speejacks" will be playing Sunday—it's going to start at the Majestic December 23. The story's by Robert W. Chambers, if that means anything to you.

When you do come back to the old place on the hill you're going to find Bill Hart knocking them off at the Majestic in a new two-gun picture written by himself. "A Chapter in Her Life" with Claude Gillinswater, Jane Mercer and Jacqueline Gadsen will then be playing at the Madison.

So that's as much dope as we can give you this morning. Remember that you're not to breathe a word of it. We had to promise Mr. McWilliams up at the Madison to make you shut up after you get the dope before we printed this.

Ah—er, by the way, if you don't want to bother with buying a W. G. next week, you'll be able to find all the dope about Chicago theaters on this page Tuesday. There's going to be some fine stuff in the Windy City these holidays.

Typical Turneur
Film Now Showing
"JEALOUS HUSBANDS"

Presented at the Strand.
Directed by Turneur.
Featuring Eva Novak and Earle Williams.

By V. F. H.

Maurice Turneur always produces fairly good pictures, and this is no exception, although it is nothing to rave about. Earle Williams and Eva Novak are the adult stars in the play, but neither seem to take overly much interest in their parts. The best acting is done by two youngsters—Ben Alexander and another little chap whose name we failed to get—and they are certainly good.

The little fellows put it all over their elders. Turneur has an educated camera which seems to take delight in conducting us into dark places where we view with shuddering horror scenes of excessive brutality and unequalled villainy, where whiskey flows as water and fair play is a code unknown. Central High Gives
Two Plays Tonight

Local high school talent will be display tonight when the students at the Central high school stage a holiday program in accordance with their usual custom. The performance will start at 8:15 o'clock and will be held in the auditorium of the school building.

"What Men Live By" is the first of the two plays which will be presented. It is taken from Tolstoi's interesting story and according to dress rehearsals, will be as well done as any play ever put on by local school students. The other play is called "Young Mr. Santa Claus." Tickets for the production are on sale at Hook Brothers' music store.

The coaching is being done by Miss Lucille Welty who has taken the place vacated temporarily by Miss Cornelia Cooper who has won such applause for her directing in the past. Practically every department in the school is cooperating with her in putting on the performance, an unusual fact in the history of local amateur dramatics. All the advertising posters have been made by the art department and have been placed in merchant's store windows.

The art department also has designed the costumes which in turn are being made in the domestic science department. As the manual training department is making the stage scenery, so in another department working on the electrical effects.

There is little doubt but what this production will be finished to the last degree, for Central High has established a reputation for staging dramatics such as few institutions of the kind enjoy.

Sieglemann and Bull Montana do their best to be crooked looking—and George succeeds. Bull looks more like a good-natured pug than anything else—he's so frankly tough in appearance that you almost like him. All of which shows that he is miscast.

The plot is old—as usual. This time it the "find my child and I'll come back to you" stuff, with enough extraneous material thrown in to make a novel. There are a few improbable scenes, but the worst of all occurs when the eternal police appear on the scene at just the right time, and throw open the double doors—remember it? Both sides glare, motionless, for five seconds then we have the struggle and subsequent capture of the crooks. We're going to keep on seeing movies until some day we run across a picture where the thief is not

Up Stage Bits

BY TORMENTOR

And the show will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock tonight, according to Bill Purnell, Vodvil director.

Without being excessive it can be said that Union Vodvil this year is the best in the history of the college.

At the dress rehearsal Wednesday night the entire show went off in three hours. When an amateur show of the quality of this one can be run off with that rapidity, it indicates a capable director and a meritorious performance.

The Friday night performance will in no way interfere with the basketball game for the overture at the Parkway will not start until 8:15 and the first act until 8:30.

Ralph Scheinplug, according to reports, has made a success for his caught, but lives for the rest of his days on the proceeds of his nefarious occupation. It happens in real life—why not in the movies?

Again we had to sit through a Baby Peggy comedy. They should put that child in school where she belongs.

STRAND WILL SHOW
"NOT RESPONSIBLE"

A private preliminary showing of "Not Responsible," the Varsity movie, was made yesterday afternoon in the Strand theater for members of the Union board. The film will be shown in Madison after the holidays and the profits of the production will go toward the Memorial Union fund. Lester Kissel '25 will act as business manager of the enterprise.

short experience in the dramatic world. At present he is playing a minor part in Drinkwater's latest play, "Robert E. Lee".

As a word of warning Tormentor would like to have it known that his name is copyrighted and any individuals who use it for sport or for their own gain (such as getting dates, etc.) are subject to prosecution.

Those who saw "Captain Applejack" in the original were probably disappointed in the movie, but, nevertheless, "Strangers of the Night," is without question one of the best pictures shown here this season.

Strassel's Wonder Seal

A seal can be taught to do some things and all of these the wonder seal does.

Ray and Catto

Their jokes were rank.

The Cotton Pickers

Some excellent clog dancing and some better southern music. Perfect harmony produced by a quartet of all white, yet black, artists.

Laura Guriete

She's a famous London Revue star, full of pep and originality. She gave some excellent character portrayals. Her act improved as it progressed.

Jack Rose

His act was a knockout and a riot. He had as much fun as the audience, ruining perfectly good straw hats. His jokes were good, and he "got" his audience from the very first minute. Big time stuff.

Inez Courtney and Company

She was a keen dancer and a good-looking girl. Her two partners were essential parts of the act.

There will be a Christmas tree, bags of candy will be presented to the children, and a program will be given.
