SOPHS DECIDE TO QUASH ALL FROSH HAZING

Recommend That Non-Cap-wearers Lose Privileges;
Other Traditions to Be Enforced

Taking a decided stand on the question of enforcement of traditions, the men of the sophomore class voted at a meeting in Music hall last night to abolish all hazing and recommended that freshmen who do not wear the green cap lose their suffrage privileges and be deprived of the right to take part in school activities or to join any fraternity while at the university.

Committee Recommends Action
The action taken by the sophomores comes as a result of the resolution recommended by the traditions committee that hazing be abolished and that the members of the class do all in their power to make the freshmen realize that the green cap is a symbol of loyalty to their class.

That the people of the state and especially of Madison were in favor of the abolishment of hazing was the chief argument presented by Bob Hesse '24, chairman of the traditions committee. He argued that the abolishment of hazing was inevitable and that the present was therefore the time to do it.

Other Traditions Stay
All other traditions such as smoking on the campus and sitting on the gymnasium fence were supported by the committee. The methods of their enforcement will be considered at a later time. The committee felt that these traditions could be enforced without the adopting of any drastic measures.

Hazing during the fall was carried on mostly by students not fully sophomores or by town boys, in the opinion of members of the committee. Second semester freshmen have often participated, they say.

Bosco and a proxy of Harold Holmes' badger took part in a bout after the meeting. No decision was given.

SEAL SALE NETS $50 IN ONE DAY

Between $45 and $50 were secured in the first day of the Christmas seal sale, according to Carl J. Engelhardt '22, chairman of the committee conducting the Fourteenth Annual Anti-tuberculosis Christmas seal sale here. The drive started yesterday and will continue until December 19.

The university sale is being conducted independently of the Madison sale. Students can obtain seals at the University pharmacy, Sumner and Cramton's, the Y. M. C. A., and at Barnard and Chadbourne halls. Carl Engelhardt, B. 6754, is supplying seals to fraternities and clubs, and Dorothy Ware, B. 305, has charge of the sorority sale. All clubs and other organizations are asked to make their returns to Engelhardt before Christmas vacation.

Council Decides to Abandon Prom Gifts

That fraternity Prom parties should be held without giving favors was decided at a meeting of the Inter-fraternity council held last night at the Sigma Nu house.

The council also decided that those few fraternities which have already made arrangements for Christmas parties for the poor children of Madison should give the parties. Miss Jeannette Davis, secretary of the Public Welfare association of Madison, addressed the conference and pointed out that because of the severe situation of many Madison families a greater good could be accomplished by working through some organized source and by giving a more lasting aid and benefit than a temporary party.

Acting upon Miss Davis' suggestion, the inter-fraternity council decided to establish a university fund for relief to which each fraternity will contribute.

Prof. Sidney Miller addressed the meeting in behalf of the Student Relief fund.

HIBBARD TAKES NATIONAL POST

Ag School Professor Called to Head Service Committee

Prof. B. H. Hibbard, head of the department of agricultural economics, in the College of Agriculture, has been called to Washington, D. C., by H. C. Taylor, chief of the bureau of markets and crop estimates, to head a committee for the study of national agricultural problems. The committee will be in session from January 20 until the middle of February.

Prof. A. C. Cance of the Massachusetts Agricultural college has also been asked to serve on the committee. Mr. Cance took his Ph.D. degree at the University of Wisconsin ten years ago.

The purpose of the committee is to make plans for a wider use of the statistics which the bureau of market and crop estimates compiles yearly. The bureau through the committee which Professor Hibbard will head, aims to become of greater service to the country by making more practical application of the mass of economic facts which it has at its disposal.

Military Band to Present Concert Sunday Afternoon

A concert will be given by the First Regimental band Sunday at 3 p. m. in the gymnasium. The program will include an overture from the opera "Rienzi," by Wagner; the prologue from the opera "Pagliacci," by Leoncavallo, and Rossini's overture to the opera, "William Tell." These numbers will be interspersed with lighter numbers.

Reserved seat and rush tickets are on sale at Albert E. Smith's music store for 25 and 35 cents. Tickets will also be on sale at the door the afternoon of the concert.

SANDWICH SALES AND GIFT SWELL FRIENDSHIP FUND

The Student Friendship fund total was swelled Thursday by $90, realized from the sandwich and doughnut sale conducted on the hill during the morning by Euthenics club. Tables in the various buildings lured away students' spare change, and professors overlooked eating in class. Lois W. Raymond '22 was chairman of the sale.

A gift of $100 to the fund was appropriated by S. G. A. board at a meeting held Tuesday night in Lathrop hall.

"One dollar of American money when translated into German marks will keep a student of central Europe in school two weeks," Dean Goodnight told a group of workers for the fund campaign last night at a meeting of committeemen held in the Union building.

Fine co-operation was reported by all those who are working in the drive. Helen Cheetham '22, chairman of the women workers, reported that girls' organizations are giving the drive their loyal support.

"Dick" Mead '22, chairman of the men, reported that few men's organizations have turned in funds. He made a plea to all men to lend support to the student fund.

McConnell Dies; Take Body Home For Burial Rites

Ansley B. "Micky" McConnell '22, died at 10:45 last night at the university infirmary, of pneumonia, after a losing fight of nearly two weeks, during which physicians struggled vainly to save his life. He was 24 years old.

Members of McConnell's family have been with him for several days and were notified last night at their hotel of his death. Today or tomorrow they will take the body to their home, at Darlington, where funeral services will be held. Members of Phi Sigma Kappa, McConnell's fraternity, will go to Darlington to attend the services.

McConnell entered the university in the fall of '16 and did well in freshman track work. In the following year, immediately upon declaration of war, he left school and enlisted. He served 18 months overseas.

Since his return to school in '19, he has been prominent in school activities. He was recently elected treasurer of the Inter-fraternity conference.

McConnell's greatest interest lay in musical circles. He played the clarinet in the university band and in Thompson's orchestra. He was a member of the 1921 Prom music committee. He was to have graduated from the Course in Commerce in June.

Prom Workers Will Dance on Saturday

A dance for Prom workers will be held next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Boyd's studio. This will be the last all-committee meeting before the holidays. The business meeting will take place between 2 and 3 o'clock, after which the committeemen will adjourn to the dance.

LEADERSHIP IS AIM OF COURSE IN HUMANITIES

—FISH

Purposes of New Study Outlined By Faculty and
Students in Mass
Meet

"The purpose of the new course in humanities is to give men and women the best possible preparation to be leaders," said Prof. Carl Russell Fish who presided at a mass meeting held in Music hall yesterday afternoon to present the aims of the new course to the students and members of the faculty. Prof. Benjamin W. Snow of the Physics department and Sterling Tracy '22 also spoke.

"The strong leadership of the period of the Revolution is lacking in this age," Professor Fish went on to say. "The generation which wrote the constitution had more outstanding leaders than have been known since."

Lack Cultural Training
Education can make the leaders that are needed at the present time, the speaker pointed out. It has been a gradual development of university training which is responsible for the present situation. The introduction of new subjects for study and the wide range left for electives has led to the prevalence of vocational training with only a tinge of cultural education. This specialized preparation produces men and women who lack the background to be world leaders.

"The course in humanities is the best for professional men," Professor Fish declared. "The majority of the faculty consider it the best for those who can afford more time for their education than merely enough to be fitted for a job."

Snow Supports Move
Professor Snow spoke of the necessity of mental application for success in college work. He told of his personal experience in European educational institutions and described the thoroughness of the (Continued on Page 12)

NUISANCES
There are several types of NUISANCES. Some of these have the good taste to remain under cover. Others—well we might suggest that some people stay in their own schools with their pool room humor.

"BREEZY"?
The title page of "THE NUIS- ANCE" brands it as "Uplifting, ripe, fruity, and breezy." HAP HAZZARD knows the student body expected and waited with mouth watering for the first issue of this "Scandal sheet" and had it been as advertised would have revelled in its low-brow gore.

It is an example of adolescent purrulence that is below the notice of anything but the rockets. And we can't even feel the "w. k." pang of jealousy.

It does. We looked for spicey news
And only find.....foul ball.
And not really foul at that.

Urges Farmers to Use Own Products

"How a farmer can make good under present conditions," was the subject last night of an address by E. C. Stone, president of the National Swine Breeders' associa- tion, to Saddle and Sirloin club.
Mr. Stone stated that the cheap- est way to market corn, wheat, and other farm products was brouh the production of live stock. He gave statistics showing that it took 20,000 bushels of corn at present prices to build a home, 8,025 bush- els when fed to hogs, and 7,982 bushels when fed to dairy cows.

Daugherty Calls Parley of State Attorneys

WASHINGTON — Governors of the several states are to be asked to call conferences of federal dis- trict attorneys and state prosecut- ing attorneys with a view to bring- ing about greater cooperation be- tween the federal and state legal agencies, Atty. Gen. Daugherty an- nounced yesterday.

The suggestion would be made to the governors, Mr. Daugherty said to call such conferences in their respective capitals. The fed- eral government is being called on more and more to do the work of the states, Mr. Daugherty said, expressing the hope that a plan could be decided upon whereby the states would enforce their local laws themselves and the federal govern- ment do its share.

A Christmas tree and other Christmas decorations will be used at the Sigma Nu house for the semi-formal dancing party which members of that fraternity will give on Saturday evening.

TANK MEN TRY FOR PLACE AS SEASON NEARS

Frosh-Varsity Meets to Decide Personnel of Squad

With the approach of their first meet of the season with the Milwaukee Athletic club on Dec. 22, Coach Joe Steinauer's varsity tankmen are toiling daily to get into final shape for the Cream City squad.

A large squad has been reporting for work in the tank regularly throughout the fall months, and the men are all in good shape. With many of last year's stars back this winter and much new material developing, Wisconsin will be represented by a strong squad of water performers in the meets this season.

Of the men who starred in last year's conference contest, the Badgers this season retain Bill Collins, who took second in the dives; Koch, who won first, and Peterson, second, in the 100-yard breast stroke. Davies, a 40- and 100-yard speedster of last season's squad, is back this year, with Lahman performing once more in the plunge.

Bennett Tops Newcomers

Among the new men, Bennett predominates. He performs well in both the short dashes and the middle distances. Hipple, Ewald, Storey, Elliott, Lamboley, and Pabst, are other promising candidates.

In order to determine the best working combinations with which to oppose the Milwaukee club, Coach Steinauer is holding a series of meets between the varsity and freshman squads. The first was completed Tuesday night. Two more will be held, one Monday, and the final elimination contest, Tuesday night. In these meets every man who has been working out will be given a chance to demonstrate his ability and a number of frosh tankmen will have a chance to earn their numerals in the sport.

Cutting the water like a knife, Collins showed almost perfect form in the back and front plunges when the varsity met the frosh Tuesday. He promises to be one of the outstanding stars of the season in his event. Koch and Nash furnish strong support to the Badger leader in this department.

In the breast stroke, Koch, Peterson, Pabst, and Pope will represent Wisconsin. The time of 1 minute, 25 seconds, made Tuesday night is considered fairly good for the distance.

Dash Men Perform

Coach Steinauer has a number of good men in the dashes. Among them are: Bennett, Ewald, Elliott, Porter, Davies, Lamboley, and Hipple.

In the distance plunge Heubeuner, Lahmann, and Morley are fast developing into a strong combination for future meets. Elliott performs well in the backstroke events. The 100 yard dash will be well taken care of by Bennett, Davies, and Solitt, any one of whom can negotiate the distance in close to 60 seconds.

Ask State Schools To Relay Carnival

Invitations to compete in the Sixteenth Annual Wisconsin Relay carnival were sent out to 12 academies and the various state colleges by Coach Meade Burke yesterday.

The carnival will be held on Saturday, Feb. 25, in the university gymnasium annex. With the renovated track and additional facilities for handling the large number of entrants, the 1922 event should be one of the best in years.

In addition to the State College Relay championship, a number of special individual competitions will be held. Prizes are to be awarded to point winners in the 40-yard dash, 40-yard hurdles, 45-yard low hurdles, shot put, pole vault, high jump, and broad jump.

CENTRE'S GRID TEAM DEPARTS FOR GAME ON PACIFIC COAST

Several developments within the last day or two have made the aftermath of the 1921 football season one of the most important in recent years.

Centre college has finally found an opponent for its scheduled contest at San Diego on December 26. University of Arizona, champion of the Southwest, will meet Centre in one of the biggest post-season games of the year. The Colonels left Thursday for the coast, 22 letter men making the trip.

Since the banishment of Garvey, Larson, and Hartley Anderson, three line stars, Notre Dame has started a movement among college coaches to discourage professional football. The three Catholic players, who were found guilty of professional charges, were suspended after they had played a game of football for money.

Not until the coming month will the future management of athletics be decided upon at the University of Minnesota. A special committee was appointed to begin the drawing up of recommendations.

ing up of recommendations.

"Bo" McMillin, Centre college captain, quarterback, and choice for many All-American teams, yesterday was signed by Centenary college, Shreveport, La., to a coaching contract extending over a period of three years at a salary of $25,000 including furnished home. More than 30 colleges the country over had been angling for McMillin.

The University of Chicago basketball team was defeated by Armour Post of the American Legion, Chicago, by a 30 to 28 score. It was a close fight all the way, but the Legionites, led by Dixon, formerly an Illinois Athletic club star, displayed some clever basket shooting and managed to nose out the Maroons.

Stall, right forward, was the best performer for the Chicago team with 5 baskets. Romney, Halladay, and McGuire connected for two apiece.

In a curtain raiser, the Maroon second team was beaten by Eckhart Fergus, the final score being 28 to 19.

Gymnasts Hold Trials Tonight To Pick Team

Trials for the gymnastic team which will represent the university in the meet with the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. will be held at 7:30 tonight at the city Y. M. C. A. The team will leave tomorrow morning for Milwaukee, where the meet will be held in the evening.

Men who are signed up for the trials on the horizontal bar are Kubosch, Hamman, Krieger, Bumer, and Pfeiffer. Those trying on the parallel bars are Kubosch, Hamman, Koch, C. Hoelz, A. Hoelz, Bumer, Golley, Pfeiffer, Stevens, and Porth. Those out for the horse are Kletzien, Tucker, Hanson, Koch, and Holcombe. Those who will take the tests on the rings are Porth, Krieger, Hamman, Ludden, Stevens, and Kubosch. The tumbling artists who will compete for places on the team are Kitchen, Kubosch, Tucker, Bogumill, and Stevens.

Tuesday evening the final try-outs for the frosh gym team will be held. There are only eleven men left on the yearling squad. This number will be cut down again. Those on the squad at present are H. Schmidt, E. Schmidt, Gebbard, Dill, Kress, Geiwitz, Phillips, Pelton, Uehling, Stevens, and Erdman.

All Students Out For Athletics in Michigan "U" Plan

ANN ARBOR—Every student of the University of Michigan must engage hereafter in some form of athletics, under the plan of Dr. E. A. Sundwall, the new physical director, formerly from the University of Minnesota. According to Dr. Sundwall, the physical examinations required of all classes each spring and fall shows that a large number of students suffer seriously from lack of exercise. Mass athletics in conjunction with the R. O. T. C. will form a part of the program.

Michigan Basket Five Cut; Rea at Guard

ANN ARBOR—Coach Mather has cut the basketball squad of the University of Michigan to 25 and is working hard with these men in an endeavor to fill the gaps left by Dunne, Karpus, Williams and McGall of last year's title winners. There are a number of good men on the squad at present. Among those still under the eye of the coach are several football men including Cappon, Roby, Kipke, Uteritz and Swan. The only man who is sure of his position is Captain Rea, who is considered one of the best guards in the conference.

FAST GAMES END GREEK SCHEDULE FOR FIRST WEEK

Six fast basketball games brought the first week of the Inter-fraternity basketball schedule to a close last night. Last night's games end the series for the year. The next games will be played as soon as school begins after vacation, when the schedule for the rest of the season will be announced.

Kappa Sigma turned in another victory over Sigma Chi, with an overwhelming score of 19-6. D. U. turned back Lambda Chi Alpha in a hotly fought contest 13-8. Delta Tau Delta reported the big score of the day with a 16-0 win over Theta Chi Sigma.

In the second set of the games yesterday, Alpha Gamma Rho won a close contest from Phi Sigma Kappa, 14-13. It was by far the best played game of the day, the score remaining in doubt until the final whistle. Some pretty shots were made in the contest.

A. T. O. defeated the Triangles in a loosely played game, 4-0. Neither team could locate the basket and the score was kept down. Some clever guarding was shown by both guards.

Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Gamma Delta put up a hard scrap with the honors going to the former, 12-8.

The scores of last night's games are:

Kappa Sigma 19, Sigma Chi 6. 1. D. U. 13, Lambda Chi Alpha 8. Delta Tau Delta 16, Theta Chi Sigma 0.

Alpha Gamma Rho 14, Phi Sigma Kappa 13.

A. T. O. 4, Triangle 0.

Phi Kappa Sigma 12, Phi Gamma Delta 8.

Gophers Hire Cooke On Monthly Basis

MINNEAPOLIS—The Board of Athletic control at the University of Minnesota has re-employed Dr. L. J. Cooke, basketball coach and athletic manager on a month to month basis for the remainder of the school year it was announced today.

Dr. Cooke's contract was one of those terminated by the board last week when it was decided to re-organize the athletic system by the institution. Under the latest action however, Dr. Cooke will be retained at least temporarily.

Ripon Beats Milton College Five, 35-11

RIPON—Ripon college easily defeated Milton college here Wednesday by a score of 35 to 11. The score at the end of the first half was 12 to 7 in favor of Ripon enabled that team to roll up the big score. The combination of Schneider and Gustin scored 25 of their team's 35 points. Each made 5 goals, and Schneider caged five of the seven free throws he attempted.

BUTLER QUINT PLAYS BADGER FIVE TONIGHT

Varsity Will Face Hard Caging Battle at Gym

The hardest preliminary game which has appeared on the Badger schedule in years will be played at the gymnasium tonight when Pat Page's Butler college team will give battle to Meanwell's five.

The Indiana coach has been careful not to allow any comparative dope on his team to find its way into the Meanwell camp, but this fact in itself insures a great battle. In fact, the game may tax the Badgers to a greater extent than a number of Big Ten battles later in the season.

Butler is Undefeated

Butler, has not been defeated thus far this season, and it is rumored that the collegians are traveling at a more rapid pace than they were last year, when an enviable record was established. They have emerged victorious in every game thus far against some teams of considerable strength.

Wisconsin fans may rest assured that the team will not be suffering from an attack of over-confidence when they take the floor tonight. The practices all week have been ragged, and the form displayed has been discouraging even to the most optimistic of followers. But the men know their stuff, and, if Dr. Meanwell can make them rise to the occasion, a real exhibition of basketball is in store for those attending the game.

The Wisconsin team will probably line up the same as for the game against the Michigan Aggies. The attention demanded by the regulars this week has kept the coach from developing more substitutes, so that extensive changes in the lineup would have a tendency to weaken the team.

Doors Will Close

Captain Ceaser and Taylor are sure to be found at the forward positions, and Williams and either Tebell or Irish will be at the guards. The selection for the pivot job is a matter of conjecture, as Johnson and Gibson appear to be about on a par. Johnson's eligibility for conference competition and his shooting and floor ability, which were so apparent in the game last week, insure his being used for at least a portion of the time, although Gibson has proven himself fully capable of holding his own against any man that Page may send against him.

The doors will again be closed from the time that the opening whistle is blown until the end of the first half, so it is essential that persons desirous of seeing the game be in their seats before 7:30 p. m.

Cornell to Adopt Fencing as Sport; Has Good Record

Fencing, as a minor sport, may be revived at Cornell this year as a result of a call sent out for candidates for a team last week. This sport at Cornell dates back to 1898, when fencing competitions were held regularly at the university. In 1905, Cornell entered the intercollegiate league and remained until 1915, when the sport was abolished due to a lack of interest.

Cornell's fencing record, up to 1915, was a creditable one. Under the guidance of Professor Gelas, who later went to West Point to continue his coaching work, the Red and White maintained first, second, or third place in the majority of the annual intercollegiate meets which were held in March at the Hotel Astor, New York city.

"Who Took My Whiskey" Gets Laugh at Orph

By G. L. G.

The bill at the Orpheum this half of the week is only fair, but is a decided improvement over the offering for the first half. The program was replete with actors possessing distinct personalities, and several of the acts would never have gone over without such players.

Billy Miller proved himself especially good in a one-act farce, and J. C. Nugent got by strong with an original line of chatter. And by the way, there's a knock-out Snub Pollard comedy on the bill in place of the usual Pathe news reel. It was some relief after seeing Marshal Foch, Western beauty contests, and New Jersey better baby contests.

Elly, the Little Marvel—Billed as "The Youngest Feminine Juggler in the World," li'l Elly tosses around everything except the piano.

Julian Hall and Kathleen Dexter—A hard-boiled pair that had the costumes but lacked sincerity. They made a good start, and Hall's take-off on Charlie Chaplin was passable.

Billy Miller and Co.—The hackneyed one-act busy business man farce put over by Mr. Miller's personality and facility of expression. When he went to the water-cooler and roared, "Who took my whiskey," we knew the act would be good.

The Popularity Girls—A novelty singing act introducing the female quartet. When the interpretress came out, we looked twice, but what we thought was an artistic use of radiator paint proved only a daring dressmaker's creation in gold.

J. C. Nugent—Persiflage distributed generously by a dry and droll comedian. Nugent's repertoire includes an abundance of new jests.

"Taxie"—An intelligent and well-coached dog worked into a novel playlet. The stage was darkened for the entrance in order that the audience might appreciate the costly diamond-studded collar.

Athena Debaters Who Uphold Affirmative In Joint Meet

SAMUEL SYGMAN '22

"The question of industrial insurance which Philomathia and Athena are debating this Saturday evening," said Melbourne Bergerman '22, who is closer for Athena's affirmative side, "has to do with one of the newer and more progressive bills recently proposed. In spite of the unpopularity of the affirmative side we feel that it is all due to its newness, and that our case is a strong one."

Athena's debaters are Samuel Sygman '22, Abraham Kaufman '22, and Melbourne Bergerman '22, closer.

ABRAHAM KAUFMAN '22

Sygman has had considerable forensic experience at Wisconsin. In his freshman year he was the winner of the freshman declamatory contest; during his sophomore year he participated in the sophomore semi-public debates, and last year he was the winner of the Junior Ex. He has been a member of the intercollegiate debate squad, and he is president of Social Science club.

The second Athenian to speak will be Kaufman. He was in the sophomore semi-public debates during his sophomore year. He is an editorial writer for The Daily Cardinal and is a member of Artus, honorary economics fraternity.

The closer, Melbourne Bergerman, has been an intercollegiate debater for two years. He was a member of the sophomore semi-public debate team, and has been president of Athena. He is a member of the Student Senate, and last year was an editorial writer for the Cardinal. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Artus, and Delta Sigma Rho honorary fraternities.

Probe Body Urges Credit For Farmers

Congressional Committee for Better Warehouse System

WASHINGTON — Thirteen recommendations including legalization of cooperative marketing combinations, lowering of freight rates on agricultural products and establishment of agricultural attaches in European capitals are set forth in a report of the joint congressional commission of agricultural inquiry filed yesterday in the senate.

The report is confined to causes of the agricultural crisis.

The commission said provision should be made for credit corresponding to the farmer's turn-over and having maturity of from 6 months to three years which would enable payment to be made from the proceeds of his farm. The present banking system should be adopted to enable it to furnish credit of this character, the report said.

Another recommendation is that there should be a warehousing system which would provide a uniform liability on the part of the warehouse proprietor and in which the moral and financial hazards would be fully insured.

Recommendations are:

Extension of the statistical division of the department of agriculture particularly along the lines of gathering livestock statistics.

Development by trade associations of more accurate, uniform and practical grades of agricultural products and standards of containers for them.

Increased federal appropriations for the promotion of better book and record keeping of the cost of producing farm products.

Provision for investigation directed toward reducing the hazards of climate and weather conditions and of plant and animal diseases and of insect pests.

More adequate wholesale terminal facilities.

Development of better roads to local markets.

Direction of greater effort in the improvement of community life.

The commission's final recommendation was for a renewal of "conditions of confidence."

MENORAH HOLDS NATIONAL MEET HERE JAN. 27-29

The Intercollegiate Menorah association will hold its bi-annual convention here under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin Menorah society, January 27, 28, and 29, according to word received yesterday from the national offices in New York, accepting a recent invitation.

The convention will bring representatives of the 73 societies of universities of the United States and Canada, besides national officers and others interested in the association's purpose, "to promote study and advancement of Jewish culture and ideals."

Dr. V. H. Schlomovitz of Marquette university, president of the association, will preside. Dr. Schlomovitz was formerly a member of the faculty of the School of Medicine here. Among those who are expected to attend will be I. Arnold Perstein '21, who is now chairman of the public speaking department at the University of Missouri. Perstein is a vice-president of the national association, and has been prominent in the organization here representing the society at the last convention two years ago at New York.

Chancellor Henry Hervitz, Harvard alumnus, will attend the convention to make the opening address, following the welcome by Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men, Tuesday evening, Jan. 27.

DONE WITH HAZING

TAKING the wearing of the green cap a matter of class spirit and loyalty and punishing a disregard of the practice with something more mature and effective than campus hazing and lake parties is a big step toward an ideal student self-government in this regard.

The bad effects of indiscriminate hazing on the name of the university and the cause of self-government in the eyes of the Madison residents and the state at large, should be in a great part successfully counteracted by this saner action taken last night by the men of the sophomore class, when in class meeting it was decided, with but a dozen dissenting votes, that all hazing of freshmen be abolished.

With the establishment of the new student court and last night's definite decision as to serious student opinion on the matter, there is all reason to look forward to amicable spirit and a minimum of friction between the under classes. This will do infinite good toward establishing the fact that student bodies are able to govern themselves in an entirely satisfactory manner.

It is regretable that at last night's meeting at which a decision of such vital importance in school life was made, a minority of the sophomore class were present. It is not unfair to assume that those who attended are the ones who really have serious opinions to render, but in doing so there is the sad realization that many of our students are lacking in an interest which it will benefit the school to have evinced. Let us hope that all are interested enough in the school's welfare to abide by the decision of those who responded to the meeting.

HUMANITIES

WE are all mortal and have our various spans of existence only to join in the end that eternal caravan wherein all are as one and there are no distinctions. With the youthful feeling of immortality, however, we plan for the future, little knowing if the future will find us still among the living, or what it holds in store for us. It is well so.

It is said that all men are created equal—in the end all are equal. During the interim there are vast inequalities. While all exist, the degrees of living are wide-ranging. Nor does living depend solely on the material possessions that can add much to the pleasure and benefit of living. These have no real value if their possessor has never learned how to enjoy life and get the most out of it, having the means.

Today, in the competitive commercial rush to quickly and easily learn how to make a living, we often overlook the finer and the better things which living has to offer those who seek it, thinking only of the job and monetary income and how to attain them quickest.

There are many whom fortune has put in a state where learning to earn a living as soon as possible is imperative to decent existence. There are many, however, with whom this is not an immediate essential, but who, nevertheless, are too filled with the rushing spirit of the times to pause and contemplate what personal and social betterment can come from broadening and cultural training.

The university as a state institution is filling a state need in providing an opportunity for technical and professional education. To fit its sons and daughters for holding jobs is essential to the country's welfare, but there is another essential—that of making leaders. To accomplish this latter end, the university course in humanities will serve a worthy and a necessary purpose.

No university course can guarantee to turn out as leaders everybody and anybody who registers in it, but for those who have the makings of leaders in them, the course in humanities will give an equipment which can make only for general betterment and fuller living.

And then, the purpose of the course in humanities is not to turn out so many manufactured leaders, but rather by its broad embrace of history, science, literature, language, and the social sciences to better equip all those who can afford the time of taking it, for better, broader and greater social service.

BEFORE VACATION

WITH but a week left before Christmas vacation there are few indeed who are not thinking and planning their vacations, whether the vacation from school means work or play or a mixture of the two. Many are planning to leave a good bit of time in which to catch up with topics and with work that has been allowed to slide along, and in the meantime are letting work slide right along as before.

Time and again such plans are laid and in most cases inevitably change with the net result that the end of the vacation period finds the work undone. The state of busyness which surrounds the offices of deans and advisors attests the fact that there are many whose work in school can stand bolstering.

A little concentrated effort on their part will make the sailing for many students a good bit easier. Christmas vacation is a time to enjoy one's self if it is possible, and the thought of undone work hanging overhead is not conducive to greatest enjoyment.

Vacation begins a week from yesterday—something good to look forward to—and it will be much more appreciated if school work is up to date when we board our trains for home. How about pitching in and really working for a week?

HARVARD ADMITS MID-YEAR GRADS UNDER NEW PLAN

To give men who finish their college course in the middle of the academic year a chance to begin their business training at once, the Harvard business school will adopt experimentally this year a new policy of admitting a limited group of carefully selected college graduates on January 30, 1922, according to an announcement received by The Daily Cardinal from Dean Wallace B. Donham of the Harvard business school, yesterday.

The program of work for men entering in January will be so adjusted that they will be able to complete the regular course for the degree of Master of Business Administration in the usual time of two years, graduating in January, 1924.

"This plan is distinctly an experiment," explained Dean Donham. "Two years ago we allowed a few unusually able students to enter in the middle of the year, with very satisfactory results, but we have never admitted any considerable number at that time."

"Many men of unusual ability finish their college course in three and a half years, and it is such men as these that we wish to accommodate with this new arrangement, so that they will not have to wait until September to begin their business training."

Hesperia Debates Jap Immigration Question Tonight

"Resolved, that the Chinese immigration law should be applied to the Japanese," will be debated by Hesperia literary society tonight at 7:30 in 451 Bascom hall.

The affirmative will be supported by John Slezak '23, Beverly T. Masslich '25, and Leo H. Kohl '22, closer. The negative will be upheld by S. O. Arnold '23, R. O. Ebert '22, and Francis K. Karel '23, closer.

The United States in 1880 passed the Chinese immigration bill which has been amended until today it provides that Chinese other than the exempted classes can not enter the United States or become citizens. Since the Japanese today can not become United States citizens, it will be argued by the affirmative team that the same law, which today refers to the Chinese should apply to the Japanese.

James McDonald '13 will address the society on debating principles. The meeting tonight marks the close of the 1921 year for Hesperia.

REFUSE CUT IN MINIMUM MINORS' WAGE

Industrial Body Rejects Petition of Lumber Concerns

The industrial commission refused yesterday to reduce the minimum wage rate for minors, answering a request from a group of lumber concerns. They had asked that the minimum of 22 cents an hour be cut, inasmuch as wages of woodmen over 21 years of age, often do not receive as large a return for their services. The commission has written the lumbermen that under the law it cannot make any reduction in the minimum wage rates unless a reduction is warranted by a lower cost of living. Investigation shows, it says, that the cost of living is still above the figure for the winter of 1918-1919, when the 22 cent minimum wage rate was established.

It is pointed out that the lumber industry is employing only about one-third of its normal number of employes this year. Consequently, it declares, every minor employed represents an additional adult out of work, and says that as a result the commission believes it the lesser of two evils that minors should be laid off rather than married men, or men more likely to be married. While it is unfortunate

Market Department in New Potato Grade Suit

Further prosecutions under the inspection provisions of the new state marketing law were started today by the department of markets in Oneida, Burnett and Columbia counties. Defendants in six other cases have pleaded guilty, making it impossible for the state to carry the litigation to the supreme court in order to test its inspection powers. It is expected that a Minnesota corporation against which action was commenced today, will fight the case. This will involve the question as to whether the department of markets has power to apply state grades to products which are destined for interstate commerce. The concern is shipping, without grade, potatoes from Wisconsin to Minneapolis and St. Paul, according to the marketing officials. Potato dealers at the recent markets exposition in Milwaukee by a vote of 35 to 2 approved the grading and inspection service.

Libe Ticker Rests After Hard Weeks

The old Libe clock after all is only human. The past weeks of mid-semester; cramming, and excessive use of the Libe must have proved too much for it, too, for all day yesterday it maintained a placid, indifferent, and unchanging appearance. Much time was spent in fruitless endeavors to calculate the correct time from the impassive clock by means of higher math and calculus, but—it couldn't be done!

The clock will be repaired soon, and will again add its ticking to the generally genial and sometimes noisy patter in the Libe.

Morini Performs Popular Program In Finished Style

By WALTER K. SCHWINN

Playing a popular program in a finished and artistic manner, Erika Morini made a decided success of her first Madison recital last night at the Christ Presbyterian church. Miss Morini is a violinist of great ability; her technique is excellent and her tone has a smooth singing quality that is pleasing. She may well escape the often heard remark, "She plays just like a man," for her performance throughout was distinctly feminine in its lithe grace and varying mood. However, she is not without power and depth, as the performance of the Saint-Saens' concerto showed.

This concerto was, to my mind, the best thing on the program. It is a good show piece, in its contrasting tempos and moods, and Miss Morini encompassed them with finesse. The middle section, with its smooth melody, was played especially well, and the finely spun pianissimo passages throughout were good.

The other numbers on the program were more or less familiar, and Miss Morini gave them all the stamp of her individuality. The Andante Religioso by Thome was played with quiet, tense feeling, and the Hindoo Chant, by Rimsky Karsakow-Kreisler, was played with a depth of tone and feeling. A brilliant Faust Fantasie closed the performance.

Emanuel Balabon was very effective in his accompaniments, and followed Miss Morini's playing in excellent fashion. Miss Morini would have been better, I believe, in a program more worthy of her talent.

Hobo Attacked as Great Social Evil

The hobo as a social evil was discussed yesterday afternoon by Prof. D. D. Lescobier at a meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society at the First Methodist Episcopal church.

"An army of hobos, estimated at from 250,000 to 1,000,000, and ranging from the lowest tramp and criminal to seasonal workers, are drifting about," he said, "the worst of them stealing, gambling, assaulting and killing as they go."

"There are only two hopes for remedying the condition," Professor Lescobier said, "the stabilizing of seasonal industries so that a permanently assured working cycle would be fixed for each man, and intelligent treatment of the poor homes where improper conditions give the hobo his start and early training."

Pommerening Forces Suffer 3 Defeats at Meeting Here

COMMITTEE CHOSEN

Plan To District State In Raising Of Funds Also Defeated

The Pommerening forces in the board of directors of the Wisconsin union, American Society of Equity, sustained three defeats today in the first tests of strength in the new board of 44. The defeats sustained by the Pommerening forces follow:

1.—A committee to investigate the question of reducing salaries of officers of the society, elected by the board this morning, contained five anti-Pommerening men and two Pommerening men.

2.—A resolution introduced by the Pommerening forces providing that the executive committee shall have full authority in the absence of action by the general board was side-tracked and a substitute plan adopted.

3.—The Pommerening plan for districting the state in the raising of funds to pay the society's debts was also defeated because it smacked of a scheme to build up a political machine. J. N. Tittmore, W. E. Bolton, B. R. Anderson, L. A. Welles, J. A. Berto, P. J. Stevens and Otto F. Rohm were elected a committee on salaries of elective officers of the state union of the American Society of Equity, Thursday. These men will fix the salaries of the officers and will also define the duties of the treasurer, which are now somewhat doubtful. The selection of this committee was the third setback received by the Pommerening forces.

Bolton, Anderson, Welles, Berto and Stevens are held to be anti-Pommerening men. The vote follows: McCashey, 20; Mahony, 21; Tittmore, 24; Gallagher, 19; Bolton, 27; Anderson, 26; Welles, 32; Schweinburg, 21; Berto, 35; Stevens, 34; Rohm, 23.

H. B. Fargo of Dane county and Judge D. O. Mahoney vigorously opposed a motion that the convention appoint five committees to carry on some of the work of the board. These five were finance and auditing, propaganda and business organization, official paper, relations to national union and relations to other civic and commercial bodies.

"This proposition will be looked on back home as a means of this body to pass the buck to others in matters which we should decide said Mr. Fargo. 'I am in favor of its indefinite postponement.'"

The convention then indefinitely postponed the resolution.

The districting plan for refunding the state debt provided for the dividing of the state into seven districts with a district manager in charge of the counties. This manager would supervise the work of collecting the delinquent dues and other moneys for the liquidation of the society's debt. Members of the convention looked on this plan as a scheme for the building of a political machine and killed it.

Must Recast Injunction

On Check-off System

CHICAGO—The injunction banning the check-off system of collecting miners' dues recently issued by Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court at Indianapolis, was yesterday ordered recast by the U. S. circuit court of appeals. It was remanded to Judge Anderson with instructions to enter a preliminary injunction while the case is being reheard. The opinion said the district court, in entering the restraining order, had erred in several particulars.

Harding May Visit Madison Next June

President Harding may come to Madison next June if he decides to take a trip to Alaska, according to a letter received yesterday from the white house at the Association of Commerce. The letter, written by George B. Christian, Jr., private secretary to the president, states that Mr. Harding may be able to arrange to come if he stops over at Chicago and Milwaukee, as those cities have also invited him to speak.

AT THE ORPHEUM

A quartet of decidedly attractive young ladies with remarkably good voices, but unlike most singing quartets, they offer an act full of surprises—surprises in the rich scenic investiture, in the novel ideas incorporated in this act, in the exceptional quality of the voices and the elaborate costumes and known as the Popularity Queens, will headline the new Orpheum bill tonight, together with the man who talks about everything, is always original J. C. Nugent, vaudeville's most talked of line of talk. The two acts, big time features over the Orpheum circuit, will head the six act bill, which remains for the balance of the week, including the three performances Sunday. Other bright and entertaining spots on this bill will be The Canine Thespian, "Taxie," in the novelty playlet "True Pals," Billy Miller and company in the comedy of six-cylinder speed "Adam Killjoy," Julian Hall and Kathleen Dexter in "What's It All About?" and the little marvel, Elly, youngest feminine juggler in the world. Pathe News reel and Aesop's Fables complete the program, there -)  plete the program. There will be matinees Saturday and Sunday, with the regular two performances nightly.

AT THE PARKWAY

"There are few things that can play greater havoc with a girl than over-indulgence in dancing," declares Anna Pavlova, although her own success-slogan is "work, work, work." The great Russian danseuse, who will appear with her Ballet Russe and Symphony orchestra at the Parkway on December 21, asserts that "If I had not managed to conserve my energy I do not know what would have become of me." Over-exertion, late hours, and a surfeit of pleasure she believes to be fatal to any ambition that aims for high and lasting success.

SOCIAL FAVORITE BECOMES OWNER OF NOVELTY SHOP

Miss Peggy Thayer.

Miss Peggy Thayer, prominent Philadelphia society girl, has opened a French novelty shop in the center of Philadelphia's social district. She sells all kinds of imported novelties. Her sister Polly recently announced her intentions of entering the musical field. The girls are daughters of Mrs. John B. Thayer of Haverford.

GERMAN CAN'T PAY INDEMNITY DUE ON JAN. 15

Mortatorium is Asked By Berlin in Note to Allied Body

BERLIN — The German government yesterday informed the committee of guaranties that it is impossible for Germany to pay the sum due in reparations January 15, and that she consequently ask a moratorium.

If the moratorium is not granted, The German government it states will be compelled to have recourse to a credit operation in order to procure the necessary funds by means of loans.

The note adds that it has succeeded in raising "certain portions" of the funds necessary to meet the payments but is unable to obtain the balance, either through loans external or internal, or other financial measures.

AT THE MAJESTIC

David Powell has a hobby—canaries! Which David Powell? It is not the featured player in Paul Powell's great Paramount picture, "Dangerous Lies," which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre today but "Mister" David Powell Jr., the fourteen months old son of the noted player.

The little chap's fad started when "Mister's" daddy brought home a new toy to play with. This was a puppy of doubtful ancestry. After a three day's residence beneath the Powell roof-tree, the puppy was taken back to the store from which it came and was formally swapped for two canaries of aristocratic lineage.

Burns Real Foe; Record Shows Skill

Demetral Will Face Able Grappler Friday Night On Mat

Frank "Farmer" Burns will be a tough customer for Jimmy Demetral, Madison wrestler. The two are scheduled to meet in the windup fight of M. B. Bailey's second winter mat card at Turner hall on Friday night. Tickets are on sale at Morgan's, Calvin's and at Abaly's billiard parlors.

"Farmer" Burns is a man with a record. He has defeated Billy Schober and Matty Matsuda, the Jap, both of whom have been seen in action on the local mat against Kid Hanson and scores of others. Others whom he has whipped are Great Santell, Kid Russell, Thor Olson, Con Albright, Tony Massino, Floyd Cutcher, Chub Harmon, Young Gotch, William Bunkerman, Clyde Blakely, John Harper, the Canadian wonder, Julius Johnson, Pacific coach shamp.

There are a score or more of other good mat men who have been disposed of by Burns, and he is by no means to be considered lightly. Although he was outweighed by more than 15 pounds, Burns defeated Young Gotch of Chicago in Flint, Mich., getting the first fall in 21 minutes and the second in seven and a half.

Ray Richmond will not appear on this card, it was learned last night. It is understood that the local colored grappler refused to go on unless he could appear in the windup. "Al" Smoke will meet Elmer Anderson. There will be preliminary matches starting at 8:30.

Jimmy O'Connell.

The recent purchase of Jimmy O'Connell, star first sacker and outfielder of the San Francisco Pacific Coast league club, by the Giants is one of the most talked of deals put over in baseball circles in recent years. McGraw paid $75,000 for the star, a record price for a minor leaguer. And this purchase price is now being used as a big argument by the Coast league, International and American associations against recognizing a draft arrangement with the majors.

High Court Will Review Rodd Ouster

State Supreme Court Assumes Jurisdiction of Controversy

BULLETIN

The state Supreme court today assumed original jurisdiction of the case growing out of the refusal of Hans Rodd to obey an executive pardon order, and his later refusal to leave office when removed by Gov. Blaine, when it issued a writ of certiorari calling the records before it for review. The writ is returnable immediately and the points at issue were set for argument January 14.

The Wisconsin supreme court was asked today to issue a writ of certiorari in the case of Hans Rodd, Oneida county sheriff, ousted by Gov. Blaine, to bring all records in the case before the court for review. The petition was made by Sen. C. B. Bird, attorney for Rodd.

Justice A. J. Vinje, acting chief justice, informed the petitioners that the court would reach a decision, probably at 2 o'clock today, whether or not it would issue the writ. No restraining order will be asked, Sen. Bird told the court, unless an attempt is made to forcibly remove Rodd, who is holding the jail, despite the demand made for the office by Charles Asmundson, the governor's new appointee.

The writ of certiorari, if issued, will be to John J. Verage, county clerk of Oneida county, and Charles Asmundson, who has been appointed sheriff to replace Rodd.

W. W. Zink, 78, Dies; Lived Here 40 Years

W. W. Zink died at his residence, 709 University ave., at 4 o'clock Thursday morning. He had made his home in Madison for the past 40 years. Mr. Zink was in the draying business until about six years ago when he retired. He was a member of the Lucius Fairchild post, Co. K. 42nd. Wisconsin Volunteers. Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George Patterson, Beat, S. D., and Mrs. Edna North, Madison, and a son, John, also of this city. The body was taken to Schroeder's undertaking parlors and will be removed to the residence Friday afternoon. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 from St. Raphael's church, the Rev. T. B. Johnson officiating. Members of the Sons of Veterans will act as pallbearers and interment will be at Calvary.

AT THE STRAND

All the colorful allure and adventure associated with the East Indian Islands have been embodied by Thomas H. Ince in "The Cup of Life," his latest drama for Associate First National, now at the Strand Theatre. The plot evolves around a magnificent pearl, smuggled from the Dutch fisheries, by Bully Brand, a daring and notorious sea captain. There will also be shown the latest News Weekly and Harold Lloyd and Bebe Daniels in "Just Dropped in."

Aims of Humanities Told at Mass Meet

education of German students. "The amount of benefit you get from study depends directly upon the amount of energy that is put into it," Professor Snow said. "You don't get nearly as much from something that comes easy as from a course that is very hard, if you apply yourself to it and master it. A real knowledge of science and literature and other liberal subjects is necessary if you are to get any distance in a single line of pursuit."

"Not Much Money"—Tracy
"I will grant you that the answer to the question, 'How much money is there in the course?' is: 'Not much,'" said Sterling Tracy.

"I believe, however, that education is for life, and not to make a living," he continued. "By life, I do not mean the mushy, sentimental thing that is so often spoken of, but just ordinary living."

"From this point of view the course in humanities is highly practical. The average man spends only about a third of his time actually earning money. What he will do with the rest of his time and what he will get out of it depends upon his education. Without a foundation of an acquaintance with literature, ancient civilization, and science, a man leads a poor life regardless of the amount of money he earns. The background of the course in humanities is necessary for the appreciation of the general values of life."

Explains Requirements

Tracy explained the four sets of requirements for the course which leads to the degree of Bachelor of Humanities. They include work in literature, science, language, which requires both ancient and modern and social science, including economics, history, and other subjects.
