Base Ball. Wisconsin vs. Notre Dame, CAMP RANDALL, To-Morrow Afternoon

NOTRE DAME NEXT

VARSITY TO PLAY INDIANA TEAM TOMORROW.

A Strong Aggregation of Players—Varsity Should Win Dual Meet With Chicago Saturday.

Tomorrow Notre Dame will oppose Wisconsin on the Camp Randall diamond. The Catholic contingent come her with an excellent record for this season. Occupying much the same position among the western colleges as does Beloit, the South Bend team put up an article of ball which entitles them to a place among the leaders. Although beaten by Beloit they made Northwestern look like bashful freshmen while Stagg's aggregation of Midway stars were fully as easy for them. Yesterday the Gophers were luckier and redeemed their previous defeats by walloping them to a finish. This was rather a surprise, for Minnesota was signally weak on her trip during the early part of the season.

Wisconsin is in rather a demoralized condition; shortstop is causing the coaches considerable worry and there is quite a little difficulty in filling the position satisfactorily. Murphy will probably hold down the place tomorrow. Erickson's bad ankle leaves a vacancy in the field. If he is not able to play tomorrow Curtis will probably be put in his place again. By comparative records Wisconsin should win although by a narrow margin.

The Dual Meet.

The Varsity track team will engage in a dual meet with the track team of the University of Chicago next Saturday. The meet, which is the last before the inter-collegiate on June 1, will be held at Chicago and should do much towards establishing the strength of the principal contestants.

The first lines on the winner of the big meet will then be obtainable and predictions will from that time on be rife as to the best teams. Chicago, Michigan and Wisconsin are the best teams among the conference colleges with Illinois and Northwestern coming in the second batch. The Badgers have defeated Illinois while the Maroons were overwhelmed by the Wolverines last Saturday. So the meeting between the two old rivals this week should establish the comparative standings of the different teams in quite conclusive fashion.

Chicago is exceptionally strong in the middle distance events. Here are entered her star men. Maloney and Lord in the half and quarter mile runs will be difficult propositions for any of the Wisconsin men to run against. Louer in the sprints is probably the best man Stagg has in his contingent and with the cardinal sprinters in shape he should easily be taken care of.

In the hurdles Fred Maloney is running in excellent form and will probably win his events. In the weight contests and jumps Chicago has several men to beat but Coach Kilpatrick's men may consider the majority of these events cinched.

The graduating pharmacy class will hold a meeting tomorrow to consider a time during commencement week for the annual address to the class. It is expected that the address will be on Wednesday evening of commencement week.

NEW PROFESSOR.

Prof. H. B. Lathrop to Come From Stanford University.

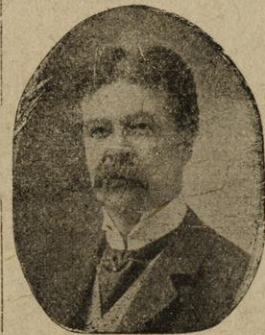

It is understood that Professor H. B. Lathrop, late of the Stanford University's faculty and who yesterday resigned because of the Ross incident, will take the place of Professor Noyes who goes to the University of California.

Professor Lathrop was graduated from Harvard in 1889, receiving highest honors in English. The following year he occupied the position of assistant professor of English at Hobart College. In 1890 he was appointed instructor in English at Harvard, occupying this until 1892, when he was called to Stanford University. Here Professor Lathrop was made professor of Rhetoric and Forensics.

PROF. SMITH'S FUNERAL.

Will be Held Tomorrow at 2:30 From the Residence.

The funeral of James Sargent Smith will be held to-morrow at 2:30 from the residence, 125 E. Gilman street. Rev. B. B. Bigler will officiate. The bearers are to be Prof. F. A. Parker, Major F. A. Oakley, E. M. Fuller, Wayne Ramsey, Charles N. Gregory, Harry B. Hobbs, A. E. Proudfit and R. M. Bashford.

Mr. Smith was very well known in Madison both as a man and as a musician, and his sudden death came as a great shock to him many friends. His family has lived in Madison for many years, his father, who was a prominent lawyer, dying in 1879 in the same manner as his son.

Mr. James S. Smith, the son of Gen. George B. Smith and Eugenia Weed Smith, was born in Hackettsville, now known as Marshall, Wis., July 4, 1845. His parents removed to Madison the same year, and so the boy grew to manhood in this city, winning hosts of friends. Early in life his great talent for music was noticeable, and he was sent to New York to study the piano forte under such teachers as S. B. Mills. But here he applied himself too closely to his work, and a weakness of the wrist blighted the more promising career before him. Notwithstanding this, he became a most proficient musician, with a wonderful delicacy of touch and a keen appreciation of the masters of music. Though debarred from the life work he had planned, he became an able instructor and when the university school of music was organized he became one of its staff. About this time, in 1895, he married Mrs. Mary Brooks Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith in company with Major and Mrs. F. W. Oakley had just completed a tour of Europe, which included a prolonged visit to Egypt and other Mediterranean countries. Not over robust, he at times was weak, but managed to thoroughly enjoy the trip. He leaves besides a wife, a sister, Mr. Smith leaves beside a wife, a sister, Mrs. R. J. McConnell and three nieces, Misses Clara and Emily McConnell and Mrs. J. E. Ball of Marquette.

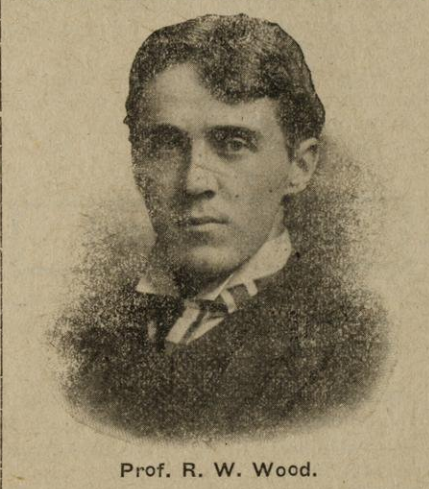

Instructor R. H. Denniston recently contributed an article on the trees and shrubs set out on the University campus for the Pharmaceutical Review.

PROF. WOOD TO LEAVE

ACCEPTS A PROFESSORSHIP AT JOHNS HOPKINS.

Goes Next Fall—Widely Known for His Discoveries And Unique Innovations.

Robert W. Wood, assistant professor of Physics, will leave the University this fall for Johns Hopkins University where he has accepted a professorship. This well-founded report was yesterday and to-day circulated in University circles.

Professor Wood has rightly gained the title of "The Wizard of the University." He has been foremost among the innovators of Madison; he has made brilliant discoveries, being the first to succeed in photographing objects in their natural color. He has also aroused a great interest throughout the scientific world by his ingenious device for photographing sound waves and was last year granted and leave of absence that he might accept a complimentary invitation which had been extended to him by the Society of Arts in London.

HELMHOLZ WINS FINALS.

Will Meet Beye To-morrow for University Championship.

The Tennis Tournament finals were played yesterday afternoon between Helmholtz and Sanborn, with the result that in the closest and most exciting match of the season, Helmholtz won out after losing the first set. The final score was 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

This gives Helmholtz the championship of this year's tournament, but he has still to meet last year's winner, Beye. The game was to have been played this afternoon, but the rain made its postponement necessary. If the courts are in good shape tomorrow afternoon the championship of the University will then be decided. Helmholtz has been playing in strong and consistent form, but he will have a big proposition when he meets Beye. The finals in the doubles will also be played tomorrow afternoon, and this in addition to the championship match will make an afternoon's tennis that will be a fight from start to finish.

Luther S. Dixon Banquet.

The L. S. Dixon law club held its annual banquet last evening at the Avenue hotel. Among those present were Dean E. E. Bryant, Associate C. N. Gregory and Hon. Burr W. Jones. The alumni were represented by Messrs. Oestreich and Sigelko, together with all the members of the club. Dean Bryant, spoke in eulogizing and eloquent words of the late Chief Justice Dixon after whom the club was named. Dean Gregory spoke as to his connection with the University of Wisconsin and his approaching departure for Iowa. Toasts were also given by Messrs. Purves, McKesson, Ela and Hicks.

TWO CLEVER PLAYS.

Presented by the Red Domino Club Last Night.

The Red Domino Club entertained last evening at the home of Miss Anne N. Scribner. Two clever comediettas were presented, "Barbara" and "Betsy Baker." Most of the parts were taken by comparatively new talent. The first play was the more difficult of the two and was very evenly carried out by all the members of the cast. In the second play, Mr. Ireland deserves special commendation. He made a decided hit. The other parts also showed careful work. After the dramatic portion was over the floor was cleared and dancing indulged in. The casts were as follows:

"Barbara."

Barbara—Miss Charlotte Wasson, '04.
Lillian—Miss Freda D. Stolte, '02.
Cecil Horton—Mr. Harry Johnson, '03.
Dr. Finicum—Mr. John V. Brennan, '02.

"Betsy Baker."

Marmaduke Mouser—Mr. Clifford Ireland.
Anastasia, hiswife,—Miss Carol G. Pollard, '04.
Crummy, Marmaduke's partner—William P. Vroman, '01.
Betsy Baker, a juvenile laundress—Miss Eleanor Merrill, '03.

FOR INTERFRATERNITY GAMES.

Dr. Elsom Generously Offers Trophy for Best Team.

Dr. Elsom wishes it stated that he is willing to present a loving cup or pennant to the winners of the interfraternity and interliterary society baseball games. In order to make the necessary arrangements he wishes to meet representatives of the various nines.

Camera Club Meets.

The Camera Club held a very interesting meeting last evening in the gun room of the gymnasium about twenty-five members of the club being present. Mr. Schreiner of the pharmacy department gave an instructive talk on "Developers and Development." Before the close of the meeting the members discussed the advisability of having a photographic outing, going in a body either to Devil's Lake or to some of the picturesque places about Madison.

Miss Walden's Recital.

The piano recital of Miss Alice Walden, which was to have been given in Library Hall this evening has been postponed on account of the death of Prof. Smith and will be given Thursday evening at the same place. Miss Walden will be assisted by Mr. E. R. Williams, baritone. The recital will begin at eight o'clock.

—Harry A. Severson, '01, left this morning for Freeport, Ill., to accept a position with Barber and Colman of that city.

—George F. Downer of Milwaukee is in the city on interscholastic matters and is staying at the Beta house.

The Irish To-morrow.

It would be a pity if baseball interest should fall down at this late date and a poor crowd greet the glue-fingered Hibernians from Notre Dame to-morrow. They are a good team and always play ball from start to finish of every game. They have beaten most of the big teams this season and will furnish a swift exhibition of ball. The number of games remaining this season is very small and enthusiasts in the game ought not to miss any of the opportunities left to them.

Poor Spirit.

Wisconsin spirit is a great thing but it doesn't seem to have permeated down into the class organizations. For yesterday afternoon the senior class had scheduled a meeting at which important business relative to commencement was to be transacted. At an outside estimate fifteen people turned up. As a consequence a postponed meeting was held to-day. Now this is a poor way of doing business and the class is nearing a point where it will be well to jolly up and get into the game. "Commencing" is not confined entirely to a single week in June and there is an old saying relative to grabbing time by the forelock. A little more interest and not so much laissez faire might be of benefit.

Seniors now gravitate into two distinct classes, those who have their theses done and those who have not. The first are optimistic, pholanthropic, they love the world and all creatures great and small in it, they forget to grumble about the board. The latter get up at 6:30 o'clock, they scowl, they take the side street by preference, they leave the library at 9:59:59 every evening, and see the world as through a glass darkly. And yet scientists claim that there is only one species of Homo sapiens.

The Weather.

Threatening with showers tonight and Wednesday.

An Hesperian Relic.

The Hesperian literary society has just recovered possession of an interesting relic that dates back to the very beginning of the society in 1854. It is an old leather covered bible. The finding of the bible recalls one of the interesting customs that prevailed in the literary societies in the early years—the reading of the bible as a part of the opening exercises of the meeting. The report of every meeting begins thus:

Meeting called to order by the president. The president read a chapter from the bible." This notice appears in minutes of every regular meeting held up to as late as 1879. Just when or why the custom was abolished is uncertain but it was late in the year of 1879. At that time there was placed on the program for debate this question: Resolved, that the reading of the bible should be abolished in Hesperia. The question that was actually debated, however, was this: Resolved, that the bible does not teach eternal punishment." The jury decided, on the basis of the arguments presented, that it does.

Since that time, about June 1879, there is no further record of the reading of the bible in opening the meetings, and the minutes become less quaint and more modern.

Hesperia will take special measures to preserve the relic, which stands for such an interesting custom of the society.

Local and Personal.

—Mr. Vroman Mason, '99, of Dodgeville was a Madison visitor Sunday and Monday.

—Dr. E. R. Buckley, in charge of the shooting squad, is quite a marksman. He recently made an average score of 39 1-3 which is higher than that made by any member of the squad.

—At a special meeting of Hesperia last night James G. Fuller was elected to fill the vacancy on the semi-public team caused by the resignation of Paul Steinbecker. The teams have already chosen sides. Yager, closer, Allen and Fuller will debate against Sargent, closer Pease and Larson. The question will be submitted by Yager's side in a few days so that work may begin on the debates before the end of the semester.

—The demand for civil engineering student this spring appears to be fully as good as in previous years. Already over one half of the seniors have accepted positions and all the others have some positions in view. Of the twenty-one junior civil engineers seven have already accepted positions for the summer, besides several of the sophomore and freshmen who are planning on going out to do active field work.

Wisconsin Society of Arts, Letters and Sciences Give Honors.

A new way of obtaining honors for thesis work has been established by the Wisconsin Society of Sciences, Arts and Letters. Every year the society publishes an annual, in this year's issue of which several of the best theses of the classes of '00 and '99 are printed. This plan will be followed in years to come and having a thesis printed in the annual will be considered a special honor to the senior. At present there are but two ways of getting such honors, winning the Science Club medal and getting "special honors in thesis" at commencement.

The Baccalaureate theses which were considered worthy of being printed in the annual volume of transactions this year are four. George Thompson, '99, has a treatise on "The Gettenburg Method of Regulating the Liquor Traffic," which was done under Professor F. C. Sharp. The other three constitute a joint work and were done in Dr. Libby's seminary. They are as follows: "An Economic and Social Study of the Lead Regions of Wisconsin," by F. Belle Stanton, '00; "An Economic and Social Study of the Lead Regions of Illinois," by Bernard M. Palmer, '00; and "An Economic and Social Study of the Lead Region of Dubuque County, Iowa," by Allard J. Smith, '00.

The student can have his thesis published in the annual with very little expense to himself. The theses submitted are examined by the committee and those which show the greatest research and most careful writing are accepted. Then all the student has to do is to join the society, which he pays an annual fee of one dollar and he is given free one hundred separately bound copies of his thesis.

Prof. Knowlton Returns.

Professor Amos A. Knowlton, recently returned from an extended tour in the west, is much improved in health. He left here in November last and went simply to regain his health and to visit his brother whom he had not seen for several years.

Professor Knowlton had many opportunities to see the various places of interest in the west and to note the growing industries of that country.

Professor Knowlton will return to California to spend the summer fishing and hunting in the Sierra Nevadas and will return in time to take up his University duties at the beginning of the fall semester.
