Reports of Game Received at Library Hall.

ON THE EVE OF BATTLE

BADGERS AND GOPHERS READY FOR GREAT STRUGGLE.

Telegram From Minneapolis—Minnesota Students Say They Will Win 12 to 5.

(Special to the Daily Cardinal.)

Minneapolis, Nov. 2, 1900.—Minnesota students are absolutely confident that their team will be victorious in the game against the Badgers tomorrow afternoon. They have even gone so far, in their confidence, as to pick the score, Minnesota, 12; Wisconsin 5.

A monster mass meeting was held this morning at the University in which President Northrop and several other members of the faculty exhorted the students to root as they never rooted before for the game of their lives. The Minnesota band was out in full force and assisted in the practicing of several new songs written especially for this game. A Rooters' Club and great Megaphone Brigade has been organized with leaders. They will parade before the game and march to the grounds in a body tomorrow. An immense bonfire will be built tonight a manifestation of such enthusiasm as has never before been seen in the Twin Cities.

The Minnesota team is at present in secret practice at Lake Minnetonka. Their tactics and line-up have been kept absolutely secret. They are reported to be in perfect condition physically. Our team arrived late last night in good condition and in high spirits. They immediately put up at West Hotel and have been taking life easy since. The whole squad took a walk this morning, and are taking light signal practice this afternoon.

The game will be called at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow. Two immense new bleachers have been erected to accommodate the crowd which it is expected will be the largest that has ever gathered in Minneapolis on a similar occasion. The field will be dry and in fair shape if it rains no more. It is slightly sandy now but not as bad as was expected.

All loyal Badgers come up tonight! One Wisconsin yell will drown three Minnesota cheers. Five hundred Badger rooters are worth two thousand Gophers!

Arthur F. Beule.

Reports at Library Hall.

For those who will be unable to go to Minneapolis for Saturday's game the full reports at Library Hall will have much interest. A special wire direct from the field will be in operation at the hall and a large chart will be placed in plain view so that each position of the ball may be marked. The game is scheduled for 2:30 o'clock and the reports will begin to come in about that time. Professor J. F. A. Pyre will announce the message as they are received.

The telegraph company has gone to considerable trouble to furnish good service. They will have a competent operator on the field at Minneapolis who will be directly connected with the operator at the end of the special wire to Library Hall, so that the plays will be known here almost as soon as they are made.

These reports are to be received under the auspices of the athletic association and for this reason the meeting should be well attended. The Association has shown enterprise in arranging for the reports, and in deserving of good support from the student body.

The Cardinal will publish a full report of the game in the evening.

La FOLLETTE MONDAY NIGHT.

Will Close His Campaign Here at That Time.

The final political meeting of this campaign will be held next Monday night at the gymnasium. Robert M. La Follette has chosen Madison, his home city, as the place for closing his canvass for the governorship of the state.

The arrangements for the meeting are in charge of the University Republican Club and plans are well under way for the greatest political rally of the campaign in southern Wisconsin. A large number of delegations from neighboring towns will be attendance.

A parade of students will escort the distinguished man to the hall and will make a considerable demonstration with torches, transparencies, red-lights and flags.

Students will meet at the Armory at 6:30 p.m. and the procession will start there. Thence it will proceed around Capitol square and to the home of Mr. La Follette.

Don't miss hearing the full reports of the Minnesota game at Library hall, Saturday afternoon.

The Hills of Rome.

The Hills of Rome was the subject of Dr. Grant Showerman's lecture in the series on the ancient city yesterday afternoon. The Quirinal, Viminal, Pincian, Esquiline, Caelian, Aventine, and the Janiculum were treated, the remaining two, the Palatine and the Capitoline having formed the subjects of previous lectures. The physical characteristics of each hill were given its history briefly sketched, and its prominent streets and buildings, public and private located.

Freshman Race.

The freshman crew race will come off next Saturday at 11 o'clock over the one mile course, finishing opposite the gymnasium. The men will use the gigs in the contest. The men are pretty heavy considering that they are freshmen, and they will undoubtedly put up a very good race. The average weight of the men is about one hundred and sixty-five pounds. After the contest, the losing crew will give a supper to the winners, at the Hotel Van Etta.

Games To-morrow.

Following is a list of the important football game scheduled for to-morrow:

Pennsylvania vs. Harvard.

Cornell vs. Princeton.

Yale vs. West Point.

Wisconsin vs. Minnesota.

Chicago vs. Iowa.

Michigan vs. Indiana.

Illinois vs. Purdue.

Recitations Monday.

It was officially announced to-day at the register's office that all classes would meet Monday, as usual. Tuesday being a legal holiday there will of course be "no school."

If you don't go to the game hear the full reports of it at Library hall, Saturday afternoon.

—Gamma Phi gives an informal dancing party this evening.

THE CHORAL UNION

PROMINENT MUSICAL ORGANIZATION BEGINS WORK.

Many Standard Oratorios to be Given This Year—Plans of the Management.

Much interest is being exhibited this year in the work of the Choral Union. Three successful rehearsals have already taken place. The Choral Union is the outgrowth of the old University Choral Club. It was felt that better results could be reached by cooperation with the talent from outside, and accordingly the present organization was effected.

The experience of the last few years has justified that expectation. Larger and more important works have been undertaken and the concerts given have compared favorably with those by larger organizations. The primary object of the society is to afford an opportunity to study the best choral music. Last year Hayden's oratorio of the Creation was studied and rendered at the first concert, and at the second the "Redemption Hymn," by J. C. D. Parker, and "Hear My Prayer," by Mendelssohn, were given.

The principal work to be studied this year is Weber's "Jubilee Cantata," which is a stirring and effective composition. This work was written by Weber in honor of the King of Saxony. It was at first designed for a special celebration, but it proved of such excellence as to be worthy of a permanent place in the musical world. On that account words of a less special nature have been added by various authors. The adaptation used here is the one commonly used by English and American societies, and represents a harvest celebration.

It has also been decided to add a shorter work for presentation at the first concert which will be of equal interest.

Students and others should remember that rehearsals are going on steadily and those who intend to join should come at once. All that is necessary to join is to come to rehearsals and register. A slight examination of the voice will then be made and the candidate's ability to read tested.

The weekly rehearsals are placed at an early hour for the double purpose of not infringing upon the evening studies or breaking up the evening as far as social events are concerned. The amount of time expended is such as any student can spare, and the music will afford relief from the routine of study.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

Mr. S. M. Smith, secretary of the Tax Commission, will address the students at the Y. M. C. A. meeting next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in the Law building. All men of the University are invited to be present.

Don't miss hearing the full reports of the Minnesota game at Library hall, Saturday afternoon.

Illinois has more students than any other state in the union, there being 12,787 students enrolled in the various colleges and universities in the state. New York comes next with 12,007.

Thirty men have reported for lacrosse practice at Cornell.

SCHOOL OF COMMERCE.

Professor Scott Explains Its Object at Weekly Convocation.

There was a good attendance at the Convocation this noon to hear Professor Scott speak on "New Movements in the University."

Acting President Birge spoke to the students with regard to the changes in seating and then spoke of the coming holiday Tuesday, saying that although there would be no recitations Tuesday, Monday would not be a holiday, and all would be expected to attend classes as usual.

Mr. F. P. Bowen then sang a solo entitled "Only in Dreams."

Professor Scott then spoke, explaining the plans and purposes of the recently established School of Commerce. He said in part: "The School of Commerce is essentially a technical school. It has for its aim the fitting of young men for business life and so comparatively few electives are allowed. It aims to fit men for a business career, and to do so better than the regular liberal courses or practical experience with a business firm."

There have been two ways in which young men prepared themselves, one by attending a university and taking a liberal course, the other by entering at once some firm which is actively engaged in commerce. Each of these systems has its advantages and its drawbacks. Merchants say that a man who has a liberal education is not fitted for business, either by taste or experience, while one who enters to work his way up step by step does not have the necessary general knowledge for his position. The School of Commerce plans to take a middle course, and by choosing only such studies as will be of practical value to one about to enter business life, give the best possible preparation for such a career.

Local and Personal.

—Kappa Alpha Theta entertains a few friends this evening as a farewell for Miss Mollie Strong, '00.

—Harry L. M. McDonald, '04, Peter O. Fox, '02, Henry Fellenz, '02, left today for their homes in Fond du Lac.

—Mr. L. J. Klug, a fellow in the civil engineering has returned. Illness prevented his return at the opening of the year.

—Professor Henry returned last evening from a visit to Chippewa county in the interests of the College of Agriculture.

—Mr. Jacob Cambier, '89, now superintendent of the blast furnaces for an Iron Company at Pueblo, Colorado, visited the University recently.

—At the Y. W. C. A. meeting yesterday afternoon, Miss Elizabeth Campbell, a student volunteer who is visiting the Presbytery of this state, gave a very interesting address.

—Seventy new cases in the Engineering building are being completed this week in which will be kept the levels and transits used by the students. Instead of the old way of leaving the instruments on the floor, they will now be kept in the cases and a memorandum kept. Now each student will be held responsible for the return of the instruments and their parts.

Pennsylvania's annual fall handicap track games will be held on November 17th.

Brown and Pennsylvania will each hold a mock presidential election this week.

Students, Be More Careful. Complaints have recently been made by the authorities in charge of the new Historical building that the students are careless in their treatment of the tables, desks, etc. This is very much to be regretted. The Historical building is one of the handsomest of the country, and if we wish it to remain so, we must handle its properties with care.

The librarians fully believe that thoughtlessness has been the cause of this carelessness and that a warning made at this time is sufficient.

La Follette Next Monday Night. The announcement that Robert M. La Follette is to speak here next Monday night is a source of great pleasure to all his admirers. His reputation as an excellent orator is known throughout the entire land. By his success as an orator while at college here, by his masterly speeches in Congress, and by his great skill as a forensic orator he has established for himself an enviable record. And we of Wisconsin rightfully feel proud of "Little Bob," for it was here that he laid the foundation of his present power as a public speaker; here he received his first training in debate and oratory, and here he developed those qualities which have made him beloved by all who come in contact with him.

While the Cardinal attempts as far as possible to avoid "mixing in politics," yet it can not refrain at this moment from expressing what it believes to be the sentiment of the student body, that "La Follette is our candidate."

It is therefore especially fitting that Mr. La Follette should close his campaign with an address to the students, not that we need convincing, but that his alma mater deserves the last word from her honored and beloved son.

More of the Voting Question.

It is to be regretted that so much agitation has been stirred up concerning the question, "whether or not students can vote in Madison." Because, as every one knows, at no time in the past has any student been prevented from voting here. But judging from the recent article in one of the local dailies, stringent measures are threatened, in case the students attempt to vote here. If the writer of that article thinks that he can succeed by intimidation in preventing the students from voting here, he "reckons without his host." For no student of the University supported by the consciousness that he is a qualified voter, and that he has the majesty of the law to uphold him will remain away from the polls because he fears some one may challenge his vote. Intimidation may succeed among the guilty and those ignorant of their rights, but when opposed to right and law, it is destined to be an utter failure. Let no student be awed by the threats contained in that aforesaid article.

FULL REPORTS of the Minnesota game will be received by special wire at Library hall, Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Athletic Association... Admission 25c.

Chemical Laboratories Crowded.

The chemical laboratories are being taxed to their utmost this year. This is due to a change in the Engineering courses which places chemistry in the first year instead of the second, as previously. Thus the sophomores and the freshmen are this year doing the same work in chemistry. The result is that there is somewhat of a congested condition, although efforts are being made to make things go smoothly.

As an example, two similar lectures of an hour each, are given every day. This is an abnormal condition this year, but it calls attention to the fact that the present quarters will prove insufficient in a few more years for the newly entering classes are increasing greatly every fall. This will doubtless result in a new building within the course of the next few years, especially as the Pharmacy quarters are becoming quite cramped also.

Professor Daniels confines his entire attention this year to quantitative analysis. His place as lecturer is taken by Dr. Lenher, late of Columbia, who also supervises the laboratory work.

Seventeen candidates are out after positions in Pennsylvania's freshman crew.
