Vice President Baldwin presented a portrait of the late Frederick Jackson Turner as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thwaites of Milwaukee and made the following statement:

"Professor Turner was one of those men who made Wisconsin a great University. As professor of history from the early 1890s until he left us for a professorship at Harvard in 1910, he played a leading role in University affairs. Son of a Portage newspaper editor and Republican political leader, graduate of the University, historian of Wisconsin's fur trade, he was friend and counselor to Presidents Adams and Van Hise, and later to Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

"He was a pioneer of the social sciences, developing research techniques that related history to geography, economics, and political science. He trained a remarkable company of historical writers and teachers, including two of Wisconsin's present staff, Howard K. Beale and Merle Curti. His 'frontier' theory ascribed to the westward movement of our people American individualism, community spirit, practical idealism, and above all, American democracy.

"Turner loved America. He saw as one of the keys to America's greatness a broad tolerance of differences, a readiness to live and let live, a conviction that men can by the use of intelligence and common sense guide their fate rather than having blindly to succumb to it. These values, together with his profound knowledge of American history, made him the great scholar and the great American he was.

"Three or more years ago the American Historical Association, on request of the Pan American Institute of History and Geography, polled the history faculties of the leading graduate schools of the United States to determine the two historians the profession regards as the greatest scholars in history this country has yet produced. The consensus was that Francis Parkman, a nineteenth century historian of the colonial conflicts of England, France, and Spain, and Frederick Jackson Turner, long identified with the University of Wisconsin, deserved this honor above all others. In connection with a plan on the part of the Pan American Institute of History and Geography to develop a gallery of the portraits of the greatest historians of the twenty-one American countries, a request was further made for portraits of Parkman and Turner. Friends of the late Professor Turner and of the University of Wisconsin undertook the raising of funds for having a portrait painted. Mr. Charles Thwaites, a portrait artist of Milwaukee, agreed to paint a portrait. This was presented by Professor Curti, on behalf of friends of Professor Turner and of the University, to the First Congress of United States and Mexican Historians in Mexico, in 1949. It hangs in the Hall of History at the University of Mexico. But Mr. Thwaites painted a second portrait of Turner. He and his wife, an artist in her own right, now present the portrait to the University as their gift. It is the portrait before you."

Regent Laird stated that she had attended the University when Professor Turner was on the staff and that it gave her great pleasure to move acceptance by the Regents of this very handsome likeness of Professor Frederick Jackson Turner. The motion was seconded by Regent Kleczka and adopted unanimously.

Vice President Baldwin presented a Wisconsin Historical Decorative Map which had been developed and printed by Mr. Carl Beck and Mr. Thomas E. "We of Wisconsin, Players and Partisans, yearn to win, if win we can
But fairly! In victory unvaunting, . . . in defeat, proud of a game fought to the hilt
So today in sports. . . . so ever in life."

Upon motion of Regent Arveson, seconded by Regent Renk, it was VOTED, That the Wisconsin Historical Decorative Map be accepted with thanks by the Regents and that the University administration extend expressions of appreciation to Mr. Carl Beck, Mr. Thomas E. Brittingham, Jr. and the Alumni Association for the development and distribution of this map.

President Fred presented the following suggestions for Kiekhofer Memorials in memory of the late Professor William H. Kiekhofer:

"Professor William H. Kiekhofer is gone from the Wisconsin campus after thirty-eight years of service to students and the State. He devoted such brilliant talents to the best interests of his fellowmen that he became in the eyes of thousands the ideal of the teacher -- a teacher who was also a scholar, a wise counselor, a leader in the faculty and the community. Although his activities were varied, he was intense in each. Few men have made so profound an impression on the lives of so many as did Wisconsin's Bill Kiekhofer.

"Professor Kiekhofer lives in the hearts and minds of thousands of Badgers yet it is eminently fitting that we honor his memory in other ways as well.

"The following Kiekhofer Memorials are suggested:

"1. Of teachers Professor Kiekhofer once said: 'To inspire love of learning they must themselves be men characterized by breadth as well as depth of learning, ability to teach, strength of character, and force of personality.' Nothing appears more fitting to perpetuate his memory than a plan for rewarding young men and women who approach this ideal -- the establishment of an endowment, the income from which shall be used for the promotion of excellence in teaching. It is proposed that as rapidly as possible a fund of $50,000 to $100,000 be raised by special subscription through the University of Wisconsin Foundation or by direct gifts to the Regents. According to present plans the income and principal from this fund will be used to provide at least three $500-$1000 awards annually, going to individuals showing outstanding promise as teachers, to be designated in honor of Professor William Henry Kiekhofer.

"The following requirements will be necessary for eligibility:

- (a) The individual must have completed work for a Ph.D. degree or its equivalent recently.
- (b) The individual must have served as a teacher at Wisconsin during his (or her) graduate career and shown exceptional ability as a teacher.
- (c) The individual must have been selected by a department in the University for full time teaching duties in the ensuing year.

- (d) The individual must plan to make teaching an important part of his (or her) career.

The award would be added to the regular salary provided by the department. These appointments will usually be given for one year but an individual may be reappointed under special circumstances.

In short, these awards provide a stimulus for post-doctorate development as a teacher, as contrasted to the many programs now available for post-doctorate development in research.

"2. The members of the University of Wisconsin graduating class of 1949 have already presented to the University of Wisconsin Foundation the sum of $1,500 to be used to help furnish a lounge in the new University Library in memory of the late Professor Kiekhofer. Such a room is contemplated and will be suitably furnished. The Library Building itself is designated by the 1949 Wisconsin Statutes, at the direction of the Legislature, as a 'Memorial Library dedicated to the men and women who served in the Armed Forces of the United States in World War II.'

"It would seem most appropriate that there be installed in the Kiekhofer lounge a plaque which would at once symbolize the memorial nature of both the room itself and the building as a whole, such as the following lines from Professor Kiekhofer's V-E Day address delivered at an all-University convocation on May 8, 1945, in the University Field House, and recorded on page 40 of his To Thee, Wisconsin, State and University:

'To make sure that our peoples have not suffered and our boys have not died in vain, it is for us the living to dedicate ourselves to the building of a world of peace, with justice and security for all.'

"3. So that a likeness of Professor Kiekhofer may be added to the University's collection of portraits of its famous staff members, it is proposed that a competent artist be promptly commissioned to execute a Kiekhofer portrait, the cost of the project to be borne by private subscriptions.

"4. The University has a long-standing tradition of naming its buildings for outstanding deceased staff members. Consequently it is proposed that the Regents at an early date stipulate that a suitable major building to be erected in the future be named 'Kiekhofer Hall.'

"In these four ways both public bodies and private individuals will have an opportunity to perpetuate the memory of the late Professor Kiekhofer in a manner which he himself would endorse. These four projects in themselves are true to the Kiekhofer spirit as a teacher; they represent his love of learning, his love of the campus beautiful, and his love of Wisconsin."

Regent Kleczka moved and Regent Jones seconded the adoption of the following motion:

That, until more detailed plans are developed for memorials to the late Professor William H. Kiekhofer, the thoughts expressed by President Fred on this subject be incorporated in the minutes and a copy be sent to the widow of Professor Kiekhofer.

The motion was carried unanimously by a rising vote and with all persons present standing in silence in memory of Professor Kiekhofer.

Regent Renk suggested that the Regents and the students should get to know each other better and that it would be desirable for the Regents to meet twice a year with representatives of the student body to exchange ideas. Regent Renk moved and Regent Laird seconded the adoption of the following motion:

That semi-annually at the time of the November and May meetings, representatives of the student board and the Editor and Associate Editor of the Daily Cardinal be invited to meet with the Regents to discuss problems of the University and to exchange views, with the times of the meetings to be arranged by the President of the Board of Regents.

Regent Kleczka suggested that the recommendation be referred to an appropriate committee for study and report back to the Board. The motion and the second were withdrawn and upon motion of Regent Renk, seconded by Regent Laird it was VOTED, That the question of semi-annual meetings with representatives of the Student Board and the Editor and Associate Editor of the Daily Cardinal be referred to the Educational Committee.

Upon motion of Regent Watson, seconded by Regent Jones, the meeting adjourned at 11:40 A.M.
