HUNDREDS PLAN TO ATTEND HOPS BY UNION BOARD

Milwaukee Dance at Pfister to Accommodate 800 Couples

Hundreds of Milwaukee alumni already have signified their intention of attending the Milwaukee Union dance to be given at the Hotel Pfister December 27.

The entire seventh floor at the Pfister has been reserved for the affair, including the Fern room, Red room and several others, assuring accommodations for 800 couples.

The Varsity serenade quartet, including Martin Below '24, Russel Irish '24, Jack Cornelius and Robert Costello will head the list of features. A special 9-piece Fairbanks orchestra, including Merrill Taft '24, and Walter Kidder '23, will play.

Because of the many commercial dances held in Milwaukee during the holidays, the committee wishes it to be understood that the dance at the Pfister is the only one sponsored by the Union.

Oak Park to Have "Holly Hop"

Oak Park students plan to make their Memorial Union dance a "Holly Hop", which will be given at the Colonial club, Oak Park, Ill., December 26. "Cop" Harvey's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion. The affair will be informal and will be attended by 150 couples, it is estimated.

Tickets which are now ready for distribution will sell at $2.50 by invitation subscription. All Oak Park students are asked to assist with the sale of tickets, which may be obtained from Josephine Walters '23, 425 N. Park street.

Catherine Davis '26, Gilbert Carleton '25 and Tom Niles '23 are assisting Miss Walters in the dance preparations.

Chudnow Plays at Sheboygan

Dave Chudnow's orchestra will furnish the music for the Sheboygan Memorial benefit dance to be held there January 1 at the Knights of Pythias hall. Preparations are being made for more than 100 couples.

"We expect to go well over our quota of $100," John Kohler '25, who is chairman of the dance, said yesterday. Walter Pfister '23 and Edward Hammett '26 are assisting with the dance preparations.

200 to Attend at Janesville

The Apollo club rooms have been engaged for the Union dance which will be held at Janesville January 3. Fairbanks orchestra will be imported to furnish the music.

Approximately 200 couples will attend, the affair being open to the

Summer Session Here Fourth Largest in State

In total enrollment Wisconsin again ranks fourth among the 20 largest uni-summer sessions of the country, according to a report of comparative attendance recently prepared by Dean S. H. Goodnight, director of Wisconsin summer session.

The largest enrollment this past summer was 12,567 students at Columbia university. The University of California ranks second with 9,698, the University of Chicago third with 6,470, and the University of Wisconsin fourth with 4,724.

The same ranking has been maintained for a number of years, although the enrollments of all the summer sessions have been growing at varying rates.

UNPAID SUBSCRIPTIONS

Unpaid subscriptions to The Cardinal, if not paid by Monday, January 15, 1923, will be dropped from the delivery list.

"Polly" Ambrose Chosen Prom Queen As Newspapers Vie for Campus Scoop

Cardinal Breaks Official Story of Chairman Wanzer's Selection

Miss Pauline Ambrose will be queen of "The Prom for Every Badger."

The announcement that Miss Ambrose had accepted his invitation to lead with him the 1924 promenade was given to The Cardinal by Gordon B. Wanzer, prom chairman, late last night. The queen received the invitation Monday night.

Miss Ambrose is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Ambrose of Nevada, Ia. She has become known on the campus as one of the university's most popular women.

Miss Ambrose will play one of the leading parts in the prom play, "Stop Thief," which will be given February 1 at the Parkway theater. She will take the part of Madge Carr.

She is a member of the University Players club and has been actively engaged in dramatics throughout her university course. She has taken part in many student productions and has directed several high school productions.

Miss Ambrose is a member of Mystic Circle, intersorority society, and of the Women's Athletic association.

Interest in the selection of the prom queen has been greater this year than ever before in the history of prom, students say.

For weeks, Milwaukee and Chicago newspapers have been speculating on the identity of the prom queen.

The fight for a "scoop" on the news story culminated last Wednesday in a definite announcement by the Wisconsin News that the queen had been named.

The story was followed by denials in The Cardinal and the State Journal. The Capital Times named another queen last Monday.

The Cardinal's story today is the first official announcement to follow the acceptance of Wanzer's invitation.

This is the second consecutive year that The Cardinal has scored a complete "scoop." Madison and Milwaukee papers published the news first for several years previous.

"Now I can conscientiously encourage everyone to get dates immediately," Wanzer said last night.

"Prom dates make the best kind of Christmas presents. I hope every one has a date when the university reopens."

The custom of announcing the queen after the Christmas holidays was broken this year to show that prom officials were abiding by their slogan to "Give her a prom date for Christmas." This is the first time in three years that the queen has been announced before the holidays.

"We went up to see the cast for the prom play rehearse Monday night and after the rehearsal we just naturally went home together. That's how it all came about," Wanzer concluded.

Con Exams Not Given to the Unregistered

Registration for examinations to remove conditions incurred during the second semester of last year and the 1922 summer session must be made in 151 Bascom hall immediately following vacation, according to a statement given out at the registrar's office yesterday.

No registrations may be made after January 8, in order that instructors may make out questions and assign the time and place of the examinations before quizzes held on the following Saturday.

Conditions not registered before January 8 automatically become fails unless arrangements have been made for special cases. The schedule for the condition examinations will be posted on the bulletin board in Bascom hall.

WEATHER: CLOUDY

Cloudy today with possibly light snow flurries and colder by night is the weather forecast for Madison and vicinity. Fair, with slight change in temperature, is the prediction for tomorrow. Lowest temperature yesterday was 2 below zero at 7 a. m. and the highest, 24 above at 7 p. m.

HOLIDAY EXODUS DEPLETES CITY BY 7,000 TODAY

Today at noon more than 7,000 students close shop and begin a vacation of two weeks duration. This afternoon and evening a half dozen special trains together with those on regular schedule will deplete Madison's population by approximately 6,000.

Warning has been given that the no-cut rule will be in effect as usual. The rule provides that any student who is absent from the last regular class, quiz, laboratory or conference before the Christmas recess will not be eligible to take the final in that particular course. This condition holds good for the classes following the holidays.

The Christmas recess begins at 12 o'clock today. Regular class work will be resumed at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, January 4.

Although the majority of students will be at home tonight, a few will not arrive home until Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. The length of the vacation, two weeks, makes it possible for any student from any part of the United States to spend the Christmas holidays at home. Last year the Christmas recess was 11 days in length and year before last 18 days.

BADGERS ROMP OVER LOMBARD IN 37 TO 9 SCORE

Forwards Find Basket Eye and Wisconsin Hopes Leap

Wisconsin romped away with an easy victory in its second basketball game tonight, defeating Lombard college, 37 to 9, and incidentally holding the Illinois outfit to two baskets, both of which came in the last period.

The Badger team started with the first whistle and, having their eyes on the net, the basketkeepers dropped in shot after shot from impossible angles. The game furnished little practice for the team, which has only one more prelim contest to play—that with Marquette January 3,—before it swings into action against Northwestern in the first Big Ten conflict.

Offense Works Well

Defense vied with offense in the game with Lombard and honors were about even. The Badger attack found no trouble in piercing the loose guard formation which Coach Schissler's charges presented. Once through the first line of defense, Wisconsin easily penetrated the second and got in close for tries at the basket.

Working the entire quintet on defense Captain Tebell and his mates prevented Lombard from obtaining more than 10 wild tries for the basket. Play was always under the Wisconsin goal.

Although Lombard scored three points in the first half, it was not until the second period was well under way that it counted a basket.

Murphy dropped a long shot into the net, and Swanson, his companion forward, scored the last Lombardian basket.

Meanwell Uses Substitutes

The Badgers netted basket after basket in the first half which ended with Wisconsin on the long end of a 22 to 3 score. Coach Meanwell saw a chance to give his substitutes their baptism of fire in the last period and Charles Bareis and Wackman were sent in to relieve Gibson and Rolie Williams.

While Wisconsin distinctly improved over its work in the first game with Butler, it is not yet the washed team that can stack up against a Conference five.

Passing was often ragged and at times, the men were unable to grab the ball with any success. They excelled in basket shooting and rung difficult tries from all parts of the court.

Elsom Plays Well

Kendall Elsom found himself in the Lombard game. The slight forward, upon whom much of Wisconsin's hope rests, was adept in sensing the direction of play and more than once broke up Lombard's long pass game. When Wisconsin had the sphere, he was usually at the end of the passing system and he scored four baskets, all in the first half.

Gibson led the outfit in scoring with ten points. Elsom, then Gage,

3,793 Veterans Enroll For Extension Courses

The Extension division has enrolled during the last two years 3,793 ex-service men for correspondence study courses, according to a table recently compiled.

Engineering courses were the most popular with a total of 2,226 registrations received. Business ranked second with 856 men taking the courses. Mathematics enrolled 454 and English 121.

Twelve registered for foreign languages and 60 enrolled in physical sciences while 64 entered courses in social sciences.

LAST ISSUE

With this issue The Cardinal will suspend publication until after the Christmas recess. Regular service will be resumed Friday morning, January 5, 1923.

CLAIM PAPERS WERE STOLEN

Dougherty Case Documents
Reported Missing; Mails
Tampered

WASHINGTON — Hearings on impeachment charges against Atty. Gen. Dougherty were resumed yesterday by the House judiciary committee at the point where they were broken off last Thursday by the dramatic withdrawal from the proceedings of Rep. Keller, Rep. Minn. author of the charges.

From this point the committee proposed to conduct the hearing on its own initiative.

Rep. Johnson, Rep. So. Dak. in his opening statement said he had no part in the preparation of the Keller charges.

Questioned about reports that he had been shadowed by operatives of the department of justice, Rep. Woodruff told the committee he had not intended to go into that, but that he had "reason to believe" that not only had he been "shadowed" but that his mail "had been interfered with" and his office entered and "documents removed."

Responding to further inquiries Mr. Woodruff said the only evidence he had to support his belief was of a circumstantial nature and that he would not care to state it.

Woodruff, Rep. Mich., who has charged a failure by the attorney general to prosecute war fraud cases, told the committee at yesterday's session that since he made his charges last April, the situation had changed, "due to the fact that the attorney general has started suit or taken the necessary action to begin proceedings in at least six of the eight or nine cases I mentioned in my charges."

Suggesting that it would be unnecessary to go into these cases, Mr. Woodruff said he had no desire to embarrass the attorney general in the prosecution of the cases.

"If the committee is to go into anything outside of the Keller charges" continued Mr. Woodruff, "I might submit some other evidence."

Chairman Voltseed replied that he assumed the committee was authorized to inquire only into the charges contained in the specifications filed by Mr. Keller.

Women's University Club is Open During Holidays

The Women's University club, 420 N. Carroll street, will be open during the Christmas holidays for use by women's organizations. Dinner will be served nightly at the club house to groups of six or more, providing reservations are made by noon today with Mrs. M. P. Fishburn at the club house.

A Christmas dinner will be served on Christmas day for 12 or more. Reservations must be made for the dinner also.

The club house will be available during the holiday season for use for social affairs. Mrs. Fishburn has charge of the house and also will reserve dates for social functions.

Campus Social Groups Raising Relief Funds

An interfraternity general relief fund to be used by the Associated Charities for needy families during the winter, is being contributed to by all the fraternities and sororities on the campus who have not entertained at private parties.

Between 70 and 80 poor children have been given Christmas parties at seven fraternity and four sorority houses.

"This is the second year that this needy relief fund has been raised here at Wisconsin," Walter E. Porth '23, who has charge of the fund collection, said last night.

Last year, when more than 150 children were entertained, a fund of $200 was collected. This year, with fewer individual parties, a much larger fund is anticipated.

U. of Washington Dean Made Athletic Chairman

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Dec. 18—Dean John T. Condon, who will succeed Prof. Leslie J. Ayer as chairman of the athletic committee, will make no major changes in the present policy when he goes into office January 1. The only change Dean Condon proposes to make is that of having more frequent conferences with the coaches and thus prevent any confusion over the rules. This will be Dean Condon's first experience on the athletic committee.

The Bobbed Are Buying False Hair As Long Skirts Crimp Popularity

Though Mme. Fraya, Parisian soothsayer and prophetess, predicts the return of bobbed hair, proprietors of Madison beauty parlors are not so sure.

And then the question pops up "has bobbed hair ever gone out of style?" So say our Madisonians.

"Bobbed hair is dead," the proprietress of one State street beauty parlor asserted with a pout. "Where we used to do 12 bobs in one day, we now do not have one. Long skirts have had much to do with it."

"As for the return of the bob, I can only say that if we again have short skirts it is very probable that bobbed hair will come in again. You never can tell what is going to happen. As yet there has been no predictions of the return of the bob." "Yes, there has been a decided falling off of hair bobbing," Mrs. Wengel of the Marinello shop declared. "We have sold a great deal of false hair, girls like to wear their hair up on state occasions, you know. I suppose so long as the fact remains that by bobbing hair which is unhealthy, it can be cared for with greater ease and improved, bobbed hair will never go out entirely."

"The long skirts have, no doubt, had something to do with the death of the bob. Women can express their individuality better with long hair, too. Whether the bob comes in again depends on whether or not we submit to wearing long skirts."

So that's that until the bobbers bob again.

ATTEND RITES FOR DAVIDSON

500 Madison Citizens Honor
Ex-Governor Here Yesterday

More than 500 Madison citizens, state officials and visitors from out of the city attended the funeral services for Ex-Gov. James O. Davidson, who passed away at a local hospital last Saturday, at the Masonic temple here yesterday. The building was crowded to overflowing, a testimonial of the large acquaintanceship and many friends made by the former state executive.

Rev. A. J. Soldan of the Memorial Lutheran church preached the funeral sermon, exalting the character of Mr. Davidson from a poor boy who came to America without knowledge of the English language to his election as governor.

"Grandly aristocratic in character, but democratic in demeanor," was the way Rev. Soldan spoke of the late executive. "He was a good and faithful servant, a good husband, a good governor and a good friend."

The Knights Templar accompanied the casket, heaped with floral tributes, into the temple, and sang beside it at the altar. Rev. Soldan offered prayer.

E. E. Parkinson read the Masonic service. The capitol was closed and among the state officials, besides those acting as pallbearers, were: Ex-Gov. Emanuel Philipp, Atty. Gen. William Morgan, Henry Johnson, state treasurer; Solomon Levitan, state treasurer-elect; M. J. Tappins, secretary of the board of control; C. A. Harper, secretary of the board of health; J. G. Salsman, secretary of the service recognition board.

Honorary pall-bearers announced Monday will be Gov. J. J. Blaine, Justice A. J. Vinje, W. R. Bagley, C. C. Bennett, J. C. Harper, A. J. Horlick, ex-Gov. Francis McGovern, E. B. Steensland, and Magnus Swenson.

Active pall bearers will be M. C. Bergh, J. F. Brown, John Roemer, John St. John, George Strohmeier and Henry Town.

U. of Washington Will Have Mammoth Library

Dec. 19—The new library for the University of Washington will be the largest of its buildings. If about 20 feet were sliced off the width of Education hall, the largest of the present buildings, it could be placed inside the reading room of the new library when it is built. Construction on the new library will start in April, 1923, and the building will be ready for occupation by September 1924.

The general form of the new library is that of a triangle with the base as the front. There are two oblong sections extending back and almost meeting in the rear and a back section.

Light courts between the front and side sections make it possible for every room to have outside light from two sides. The location of the building will be in the center of the campus.

Michigan Gets Funds For Building Program

State appropriations and private gifts are making it possible for the University of Michigan to begin realizing its dreams of a future greater Michigan through physical expansion. Plans have been made for a building program which will require two generations for completion.

Immediate plans made possible by state appropriations and gifts from private individuals include the immediate completion of the new dental building, the construction of engineering shops and laboratories. A model high school, physics building, the foundation of a literary building and the lawyer's club and dormitory also are included in the program. The Clement's library, which is nearing completion, is being donated by private individuals.

Big Ten Alumni Bodies Plan Xmas Dinner-Dance

The alumni bodies of the Big Ten universities will have a holiday dinner dance at the Brookside hotel, Kansas City, Mo. on December 23. Dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock and dancing will begin at 9 o'clock, music to be furnished by a seven piece orchestra. Bridge and other card games with prizes for the winners also will be on the program. Tickets for the dinner dance will be $5 per couple. Reservations can be mailed to H. W. Spink, care of M. R. Smith Lumber and Shingle Co., Kansas City.

SECOND RAY SCHALK GOES UP

Glenn Myatt.

Glenn Myatt, brilliant young catcher of the Milwaukee A. A. team, is the latest star to flash over the big league horizon. He has just been purchased by the Cleveland club for $30,000 and playing material. Scouts say he has the brains, throwing arm and receiving ability to make him a "second Ray Schalk." Connie Mack had him last season, but sent him to Milwaukee in the deal that made Zip Hauser a member of the Athletics.

Today you leave our city to see Dad and Mother. We shall miss you while you're gone. So we wish you a very, merry Christmas-tide, and a "better than ever" New Year.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

HARRIERS WILL BEGIN INTENSIVE WORKOUTS SOON

Success of Season Will Depend on Eligibility of Runners

The Varsity track squad will begin the first day after the holidays to do some real work, according to Coach Mead Burke, who characterizes the work the men have been doing so far this winter as "playing around."

An unusually long and hard schedule faces the Badgers for the coming season and intensive training will have to be begun soon if the men are to be in condition to win.

The interfraternity track meet which was held last Saturday revealed some promising material which may add much to chances for a winning team this year. At the present time, the eligibility question seems to be the all-important factor upon which hang chances for a good or a poor team.

Gibson and Eagleburger Out
"If the old Varsity men as well as those which have been uncovered recently can only act and stay eligible, we can have a winning team", Burke said last night.

Sid Eagleberger, who did most of the work for the Alpha Sig team in the interfraternity meet, is working out regularly and is expected to develop into a point winner. He is speedy in the dashes and also will be good for the relay team.

Another man who may be an addition to the team is Gibby Gibson. While broad-jumping seems to be his long suit, he also can put the shot and run the high hurdles.

Lack Weight Men
Material is plentiful for all events except the weights. With the loss of Sundt of last year's team through graduation, went a steady point winner in the shot, javelin and broad-jump events. Thus far, very few men have reported for any of these events.

In the hammer-throw, Tom Nichols will be on the job but few other good men have reported.

Several good men also are needed for the pole-vault. In eligibility has knocked several good prospects out of competition and unless some first class vaulter show up soon the event will suffer.

The team is fairly well supplied with dash and high jump men of the first water. Pete Platten, Gene Tuhtar, Donahue and Gibson are all men who can be counted upon for the high jump while material for all the running events is in abundance.

Because of the long and difficult schedule in which the Badgers will participate, the coaches are advocating several men for every event. Sickness and accident often have spoiled chances for wins in past years and efforts will be made to avoid cases of this kind during the coming season.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR VARSITY GYM

The prospects for a winning gym team are better than ever this year. This is due not so much to the good teams as it is to the fact that the other teams in the Conference have been weakened by loss of old material.

Wisconsin has virtually all of last year's team intact. Captain Kitchen will be on hand to lead the team. Porth, Boomer, Thompson, Reinhold, Evanson and Smith of last year also are back. Frank Kubosch will be the big addition to the team this year. Kubosch is probably the best all around man on the team and will greatly add to its strength.

Harold Selva, Former Prominent Student, Dies

Harold Taylor Selva '22 died at his home in Indianapolis Friday, December 15 after suffering from tuberculosis since the spring of 1921. Selva was an assistant prom chairman of the 1922 Junior promenade and associate business manager of the 1922 Badger. Due largely to his energetic work in promoting a crew at Wisconsin, Varsity crew was re-established as a major sport here in 1920. In 1922 he was the commodore of the Varsity. Selva was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Kirk, Michigan Grid Star, Seriously Hurt

Bernard Kirk, University of Michigan football star and All-American end, was seriously injured early Sunday when an automobile in which he was riding crashed into a telephone pole near Ypsilanti, Mich. He was taken immediately to the Ypsilanti hospital. Although Kirk's chances of recovery are still doubtful, hope for the complete restoration of his health have not been given up. Eddie Usher, a former Michigan football player, and captain of the 1921 baseball team, was in the car with Kirk but escaped serious injury.

TANK ASSURED AFTER HOLIDAY

Swimmers Handicapped By Short Practice and Lack of Material

The swimming tank will be ready for Coach Joe Steinauer's Varsity swimmers when they return from their Christmas vacation. They will be handicapped by only one week's practice before the meet with Indiana university here January 10.

Coach Steinauer has little notion as to who will make up his team, other than the men from last year's squad, since he has had virtually no chance to look his men over thus far this semester.

Besides Captain Johnson Bennett last year Varsity men are, John Gilbreath, Chester Ellicott, Sterling Ewald and Byron Story while Morris Johnson and James Hipple of last year's freshman team will be the men from which the sprinters and relay men probably will be picked.

For the breast stroke the most likely prospects are Hugo Czerwony, Henry Pope and Rudolf Pabst. Norman Koch, Edward Page and Robert Moroney are the divers of the squad.

Since there has been no chance to practice water basketball, the coach is undecided as to who will compose the basketball team. The back stroke and plunging presents another problem to be asked.

EASTERN TEAMS LEAVE SOON FOR WESTERN GAMES

The football teams of Pittsburgh, Penn State and West Virginia will start their long journeys to the Pacific coast this week, where they will engage in intersectional struggles during the holidays.

West Virginia, one of the undefeated eleven of the country, is scheduled to leave Morgantown today, to arrive in Los Angeles on Saturday and to proceed immediately to Santiago where it will meet Gonzaga college on Christmas day.

Pittsburgh, which will meet Leland Stanford at Palo Alto on December 30, is due to reach Chicago on Saturday morning. The squad will breakfast at the Hotel LaSalle where local alumni will gather to wish Coach Warner, Captain Holleran and the team success.

The Penn State gridders, scheduled to meet Southern California at Pasadena in the feature of the Tournament of Roses on New Year's day, arrived today in Chicago and leave tonight for California where they will continue practice under Coach Hugo Bezdek.

HOOSIER BASKET MEN LOSE COACH

George W. Levis, ex-University of Wisconsin star who has coached the University of Indiana basketball team for the last three years, gave up his work last week after drilling the basketballers up to that time. Levis quit to become associated with a factory in Bloomington, Ind.

With seven letter men on this year's squad, six of whom are juniors, the Indiana team is in fine fettle for the first game of the season. With Parker all-state high school center, who stands 6 feet 5 inches, it appears they will have little opposition in gaining the ball at the jump.

The athletic board is now after a new coach. Indiana's first Conference game is with Wisconsin at Bloomington in January.

LINE-O'-SPORT

GOPHER FIVE HANDICAPPED

A large number of Minnesota's prospective basketball players are on the ineligible list while several others are still suffering from football injuries.

MIRROR COACHES OARSMEN

A large mirror set up before the rowing machines in the Columbia university gymnasium is being used to show the oarsmen their faults in practice, according to Coach Jim Rice, inventor of the device.

CORNELL ELECTS PFANN

Cornell has recently elected for its 1923 football captain George R. Pfann of Marion, O. Pfann is 20 years old, already has served two years in the Varsity eleven and is a junior in the college of arts. Pfann is a brilliant and resourceful player and has done much to preserve Cornell's unbeaten record of two years.

ILLINOI WIN OPENER

Illinois opened its preliminary basketball season at Champaign Saturday night by defeating Washington university, 29 to 14. The St. Louisans, headed by Minner, were unable to withstand the Illini team work despite its hard fight.

BARRY SPRINGS SURPRISE

Sam Barry started his coaching career at Iowa City, Iowa, auspiciously Saturday night by beating his old Siwash team, 21 to 11, in a game featured by ragged basket shooting. Captain Hicks was benched near the close of the game for personal fouls.

2 PENN SPORTS MAKE MONEY

Of the 19 sports fostered at the University of Pennsylvania only football and basketball show a profit in the last fiscal year, according to the athletic council report for the year ending June 30. The 19 sports brought in $369,781 and cost $247,757. Football showed a profit of $98,734 and basketball $6,973.

BUCKEYE PROSPECTS GOOD

With five out of seven letter men back and the new coach drilling the squad daily, the fans at Ohio State are hoping for a better showing than the sixth place to which the team was relegated last year. Coach H. G. Olsen has introduced several new training stunts. One of the first was to cut the squad to 15 men and he promises more if the men fail to develop.

NAVY-PRINCETON AGAIN

The Navy-Princeton football game for next season probably will be played at the Baltimore municipal stadium on October 27. Park board officials made official announcement to this effect on Friday. Only final arrangements must still be made, according to Douglas L. Howard, athletic officer at the naval academy. The Princeton board is to act on the plan in the near future.

The stadium opened December 2 with the Army-Marine football game, has a seating capacity of more than 42,000, subject to a possible increase to 50,000.

MAROON PLAYS PREP GAMES

The University of Chicago basketball team will play the Armour post of the American Legion, Butler college and Vanderbilt in its three prep games before it meets Big Ten competition at Iowa on January 6. Coach Norgren of the Maroons is drilling his men in the shortpass game, and inasmuch as coach Sam Barry of Iowa received his basketball training at Wisconsin, both teams will be using about the same style of play in the tilt at Iowa City.

NOTRE DAME PICKS BROWN

Harvey E. Brown of Youngstown, O., who is a junior in the School of Science at Notre Dame university has been elected captain of the Notre Dame football eleven for 1923. Brown was substitute for Hunk Anderson on the 1921 team and played regular left guard this year.

The Christmas rush is on at the postoffice. The lobby of the postoffice was jammed to overflowing all day Monday with persons waiting for a chance to gain access to the mailing windows to send their Christmas parcels. The run on the mailing clerks let up this morning but during the afternoon again the rush began. Only the regular force of clerks are on duty as yet.

Will Get Best Possible Successor to Richards

The best football coach available in the country will be procured by Thomas E. Jones, athletic director, to fill the vacancy left by John Richards, according to information received from the athletic council yesterday. The new coach will be appointed by the board of regents on the recommendation of the athletic council. The council hopes to procure a university alumnus but every effort will be made to get the best and most successful coach.

MARQUETTE 5 COMES JAN. 3

Meanwell's Quintet in For Tough Battle With Team That Beat Butler

A team of individual stars will meet a well-oiled machine when Marquette university plays the Wisconsin basketball team in the last preliminary game of the season here Wednesday, Jan. 3. Instead of starting at the usual time of 7:30 o'clock the contest has been postponed a half hour and will start at 8, thus permitting student arrivals to attend.

One basis of comparison between the two teams is offered in the result of their games with Butler. Wisconsin lost to Butler, 20 to 13, while Marquette defeated the Indians, 18 to 17, in an overtime battle. The significance of the victory can be discounted somewhat because the collegians played the games on succeeding nights.

Coach Frank Murray, Marquette, scouted the Wisconsin-Butler game and realizes that he will have a tough proposition when his stars clash with the Badgers.

Red Dunn is the outstanding player with Marquette. He will be watched closely, however, and much of the heavy work will devolve upon Dux Duford, Quinn and Margan, guard, who sunk most of the long shots in the Butler game.

FROSH BASKET SQUAD REDUCED TO 27 PLAYERS

The final practice for the Frosh basketball squad was held at the gym Monday night when approximately 20 men reported to Coach Carl Harper. One of the hardest sessions of the season was gone through.

The men will reassemble for practice on Thursday night after the recess. They will be used the entire season for a twofold purpose, first, to scrimmage the Varsity, and second, to develop material to fill the gap in the Varsity that will be left when four regulars graduate this spring.

A recent cut in the squad has brought the number down to 26. Several of these men have dropped out temporarily but probably will return before the end of the season.

The men on the squad now are: Forwards—Jerry McCarthy, Ralph Merkel, Herbert Olson, Edward Gernon, Carlos Martinez, Mark Ogden, Roger Inda, Vern McLaughlin, Boyd Burkhart, Don Wheeler, Frederick Galle, Kelley and Schmidt.

Guards—Floyd Christoph, Lauritz Christiansen, Orin Noth, Arthur Scheer, Pollet, Francis Meyers, Einar Tangen, Leslie Wolf, Orin Wold and Ernest Simmons.

Centers—Richard Larson, John Marshall, Raymond Skogland and Orin Wernecke.

Big Ten Faculty May Ban 8 Game Grid Card

That faculties of the Big Ten institutions will strongly oppose the proposed eight game football schedule recommended by the western conference faculty committee at its December meeting in Chicago when it is referred back to faculties of these institutions, is the belief of Prof. F. A. Pyre of the English department at Wisconsin.

If the proposition goes through, football squads cannot start practice until two weeks before the first Saturday in October. This permits but two weeks preparation for the opening games, while it was possible to practice three or four weeks in former years.

BADGER SKIERS ENTER TILT FOR HARDING PRIZE

Six Jumpers to Leave For N. Y. Carnival This Month

The Badger Ski club will participate in the annual winter ski carnival at Lake Placid, N. Y. the latter part of this month, according to the plans made at the meeting of the officers of the ski team Monday night.

The men who will make the trip are Captain Sverre Strom '24, Eiler Schjolberg '24, Gordon Taylor grad, Willis Wood '25, and Richard Goodridge '24.

The team has hopes of winning the Harding Trophy, a cup donated by President Harding which is awarded for the intercollegiate skiing, skating and the snow shoe events. The cup becomes the permanent property of the team which wins it three years in succession. Dartmouth won it last year when it was first offered.

The ski jumping event does not figure in the score by which its ownership is decided, which is considered a handicap to the Badgers since Strom is admitted to be one of the best jumpers in the country.

It is expected that Strom and Schjolberg will be among the first to finish in the hundred yard dash and mile ski race with Goodridge close behind them. In the skating Wood should show the easterners his heels on the quarter mile and one mile course. The Badger snowbirds will not enter the snow shoeing event.

Plan Tourney for Prom
All of the men except Wood are jumpers and in this event the Badgers should place first in spite of their lack of practice during the last two years.

The club will hold its annual tournament in February as a Prom event. Some of the finest jumpers in the United States and Canada will compete, and with the added height to the slide, Prom goers will see some record breaking leaps.

BADGERS ROMP ON LOMBARD, 37 TO 9

Barwig, and Wackman followed in scoring records, with Tebell and Williams each getting one basket each.

Tebell and Williams scintillated in floor work, getting the ball down the floor consistently while an ineffectual Lombard defense attempted to stop them. Their passing was still ragged and lacked the smoothness necessary for a winning machine.

Murphy Stars

Murphy was the outstanding Lombard player. He counted seven of the collegians' nine points and was the main cog in what little offense the Lombardians offered.

The Wisconsin basketball team will disband until after Christmas, returning then to prepare for the battle with Marquette university, which upset Butler after Butler had defeated the Badgers.

Two days after the Marquette game, Wisconsin stacks up against Northwestern in the first Conference game.

CHRISTMAS CONNOTATIONS

TODAY the annual exodus occurs, and students strain at the leash of their last classes, ready to race for the waiting trains.

Everywhere the metallic atmosphere rings with the cry of "Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas!" A hearty cry of good cheer it is, and in it The Cardinal heartily joins. May its readers have the jolliest of vacations, blissfully forgetful of those misguided individuals who have assigned labor for the holiday season.

Merry Christmas. What does it mean?

Carefree villagers, dragging home a giant log for the Yule-tide spurred knights and portly squires about the wassail bowl. Holly, mistletoe.

Heavy-laden stage-coaches. Merry gentlemen in breeches, with long stemmed pipes. Punch, steaming. Goose, fat. Plum-pudding, blazing. Sleigh-bells and snow on evergreens. Hearth-stones, roaring welcome. Egg-nog.

Christmas.
Shepherds watching their flocks by night. Celestial choir. "Peace on earth."

Star in the East. Wise men, coming by camel from a far country. Gold, frankincense, myrrh. Babe in manger. Cattle. Swaddling clothes.

Swelling organ notes. "Adeste Fideles." Choir, sweetly singing, "Silent Night." Simple strains of carollers on the icy air. "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen."

A new life, birth, hope.

Christmas.
Great crowds in a great city. Tinkling bells of Salvation Army Santas.

Besieged shopgirl at a hosiery counter, twirling, silently cursing Coles Phillips. Bundles.

Good fellows in the slums.

Christmas.
Tissue paper. Tinsel. Glass balls. Evergreen.

Dinner coats. Dancing. Stockings. Kris Kringle. Children.

Great table, groaning. Father. Mother.

Merry Christmas! What a strange composite of piety and paganism it is! And yet all that is Christmas, and it is just that sort of a merry Christmas we wish to you, a feast day bound up in the tradition of centuries the joy of the present.

This Christmas will be different from all others. Each Christmas is. But though no flowing bowl fosters jovial geniality though today's Yule log is only canned coal, though holly is scarce and mistletoe unnecessary, the central spirit of the day remains.

Friendliness, good cheer, brotherhood, the heritage of Christendom. "Peace on earth. Good will toward men."

Journalism Students to Edit Country Papers

Plans for sending journalism students to small towns to take over the management of the town paper for the period of one week during the spring vacation are being made according to E. Marion Johnson, assistant professor of journalism who has charge of the work.

Each of seven teams of four men will go to the town and take complete charge of the paper.

The teams, composed of junior and senior men, are picked by vote of the class. Three teams are complete to date. The other four will be picked after the holidays.

Astoria Fire Victims Get Aid From U. of Wash.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Dec. 19—The A. S. U. W. joined with the Players club of Seattle in planning a benefit performance for the relief of the Astoria fire sufferers. "The A. S. U. W. is cooperating in this work to show that the university is interested in outside work, and always ready to help," Herbert Little, president of the A. S. U. W. said today. It has been a rule of long standing that university women not be allowed to sell tags downtown, however, men probably will be asked to canvass the downtown business houses.

Iowa Wins and Loses In Triangular Debate

The negative debating team of the University of Iowa was defeated last Friday night by the debaters of the University of Illinois, but the Hawkeye affirmative team was victorious over Minnesota in the Minnesota-Illinois-Iowa triangular debate on "Resolved: that congress should have the power to override the decision of the Supreme court by re-enacting laws after they have been declared unconstitutional."

Looking Back On Wisconsin

IN THE CARDINAL FILES

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

The last meeting of the term for the Press club was held Monday night. It was attended by many. The Rev. Frank Bristol will lecture on Shakespeare in his public lecture this evening. The Y. M. C. A. has obtained a lot adjoining the new gym and armory and funds are needed for a new building.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

The first sacred concert of the year is to be given in Library hall tomorrow. The current rumor that Dean Henry head of the agricultural department, will leave Wisconsin for Cornell, is unfounded. Wisconsin debaters will meet Michigan March 13. Representatives were decided after prelims last evening.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

Committees urge that students boost the dormitory movement during the Christmas recess. The Orpheum theater was a scene of a near riot last night at the second performance. Exuberance over the approaching holidays was the apparent cause. No one was injured although two large plate glass doors were shattered. Wisconsin men lose rifle match to Minnesota by an easy score, 877-917. The first course in forestry ever offered at a university will open here January 7.

5 YEARS AGO TODAY

The Psi U house, which was completely burned last Friday night, with a loss of more than $10,000 will be rebuilt at once. Coach Richards urges all prospective football men to keep eligible and to help Wisconsin win the title. The Italian flyer, Bruno Rosselli, said in talk last night, "The war will never be won unless the Allies unite." The proceeds from the Choral union concerts, which amount to $300, will be used to clothe war orphans. At least 5,000 bandages a day is the pace set by university women sewing in war relief work.

Andy Gump Is Loose; See Him Here Tomorrow

Seated in a littered and tiny office on the upper floor of one of Chicago's newspaper plants is a heavily muscled, deep thinking man whose imagination devised the beloved cartoon figure, Andy Gump, the same character that is to be personified on the Orpheum stage the last half of the week.

Before Mr. Ponie (Andy Gump) left Chicago on the vaudeville tour which is bringing him here, he was admonished by the cartoonist to maintain the reputation for probity and honesty established by his illustrious pen and ink prototype. In return for these words of advice, Mr. Ponie gave Smith a 3000 word oration after the style of the real Andy Gump. Thus satisfied, the cartoonist bestowed on Ponie a hearty hand shake, and wished his "Brain Child" a merry trip.

Sidney Smith's first big comic was "Doc Yak," but he believed he could get bigger results with a human character on the order of Gump. After Gump was launched, Smith bore the criticism that naturally fell on a cartoonist, who drew "strips" without back dives in the last panel, a character that talked more than other cartoon figures, and who was more human than funny.

"I had observed," he said "that the best cartoons were those which suggested to the readers something about themselves."

Just how the Gump pictures are made is in itself an interesting story. Several evenings of each week, a coterie of Smith's friends pack themselves into his snug fitting office. There they discuss the cartoons, which they see partly finished on Smith's drawing board. All of them try to suggest what Gump, Min, Chester and the widow Zander would say and do on certain occasions.

Smith is the final judge, of course, on what the Gump really does say, but he acknowledges without hesitation that the phraseology which finally goes into Gump's and his friends' mouths is in part supplied by his enthusiastic acquaintances.

Well

WE looked up the word

"VACATION"

IN old Noah's dictionary

And it said that a vacation was the act of "vacating"

Which means that vacation starts today.

Both ways!

And in as much as these are supposed to be the "Christmas HOLIDAYS" we looked up "holiday" in Noah's old handbook and guess what it said?

"Days of gaiety and joy in celebration of some event" a day of freedom from labor."

AND we would like to refer all these Profs. what give assignments to be done over the HOLIDAYS, to the last part of Noah's definition of a Holiday.

"Freedom from labor"

We Thank You!

WONDERFUL SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY!

Inasmuch as there is usually a great deal question as to how many yards of macaroni make a meal and inasmuch as many people do not believe that any quantity, no matter how large, will make a meal, and many others do not think that it should even be classed as food, we have made a research on the subject in order that a man can determine immediately the number of pieces of macaroni that are on his plate and this wonderful formula has been derived:—

You count up the number of ends that you find loose and divide this total by two. This will give you the exact number of pieces on the plate.

OUR OLD BILL SAYS:
"Well let's have some cheap ice, we've got enough cheap skates."

Say, won't it be fun to wake up in the morning and hear the cold wind whistle pass your window.

And the shivery squeek of the wheels of the milk wagon as it passes your door.

And the "crunch, crunch, crunch" of some weary workman's footsteps as he crawls to his 8 o'clock business.

And to know that its cold asthe-devil outside.

AND THEN TURN OVER AND GO BACK TO SLEEP!

THEM is the joys of Christmas!

This was heard to drift from the mysterious shadows of sorority Alley:

He evidently was disappointed in his love affair. "Well," says he, "I guess I'll get me a revolver and blow my brains out." And the cruel, cruel, (oh golly how cruel she was on this wintry eve), girl softly murmured in tones what could be heard on the fourth floor of the Capitol, "My gosh, how extravagant! Why don't you buy some snuff and sneeze?" An I guess they never did get along after that for some reason or other.

What has become of that modest guy what gave a donation to "Wisconsin in China" by sending them an anonymous check so as they wouldn't know who did it?

Smith Instructs 56 In City Zoning Class

A course in city planning and zoning is being conducted here by Prof. Leonard S. Smith in the College of Engineering. Of the 56 students in the class, 27 are from Wisconsin cities and each student in the group will re-plan his own city. Those who live in rural communities or in towns too small to be city planned may choose other cities to discuss.

"The purpose of the course is to familiarize students with city planning ideals and methods of modern town building including topographic climatic, hygienic, historic, economic, and aesthetic considerations," Professor Smith explained yesterday.

Beloit, Fond du Lac, Fort Atkinson, Lake Geneva, Grantsburg, Kenosha, Lodi Madison, Marinette, Milwaukee, Monroe, Oconomowoc, Port Washington, Reedsburg, Sheboygan and Washburn are some of the Wisconsin cities represented by students in the class.

DRY LAW HIT BY GOVERNOR

Maryland Head at Harding
Parley Opposes Enforcement

WASHINGTON, D. C.—With only one dissenting voice President Harding, Atty General Daugherty, Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, and the governors of fifteen states agreed Monday afternoon on the adoption of measures necessary to rigid enforcement of the Volstead act. Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin was not present.

The note of discord was sounded by Gov. Ritchie of Maryland, which has no prohibition enforcement law, and according to the governor, will not submit to the Volstead law. He denounced the prohibition law as an intolerable extension of paternalism in contravention of state rights.

Present Defects of Law

The defects in prohibition enforcement were cited as follows:

1. Federal prohibition officers, numbering 4,000, are not sufficiently numerous to cope with evasion of the law.
2. In many instances federal officers are political henchmen who wink at violations.
3. Until the national government stamps out interstate "rum running" state enforcement will be difficult.
4. State enforcement laws in many states are too lax.
5. Federal judges are too lenient.
6. The metropolitan press is too prone to treat prohibition enforcement with levity.

Wet State Governors Absent

The governors were the guests of Mr. Harding at luncheon and remained four hours discussing means of tightening the Volstead act. The governors of Illinois, New Jersey, and New York, which voted wet in the recent election, were absent. Many of the governors present are retiring from office, and Mr. Harding said he would call another conference next year, including new governors, to map out a definite plan of federal and state cooperation.

The President and attorney general were emphatic in declaring for more stringent enforcement. Mr. Harding repeating his alarm at the national scandal of bootlegging and moonshining and condonation of law violation by otherwise respectable citizens. All the governors present with the exception of the Maryland executive agreed with Mr. Harding.

How Maryland Feels About It

"The great majority of people of Maryland believe the Volstead law simply cannot be enforced there," Gov. Ritchie asserted. "Our people are imbued with a fine traditional respect for law and established order, and we were effectively solving the temperance question by local option. During that method, when the people of a community wanted prohibition they actually got it."

"The Volstead law changed all this. Our people, in the main, regard it as an unnecessary and drastic federal infringement of their state and personal rights."

Must Begin Work on Sewage Plant—Parker

"Madison must begin construction of a new sewage plant or extension of the old one," said City Engineer E. E. Parker at the weekly meeting of the Lion's club yesterday noon.

"In 1914," said Mr. Parker, the city commission made a detailed study of the sewage problem and estimated what Madison would need in the way of sewage capacity to the year 1950. The city is using in 1922 the sewage capacity which this commission estimated for 1940, namely six and a half million gallons. By 1940 the city will need a sewage capacity of fifteen million gallons."

The club will not meet next Tuesday.

John McPherson, Fred Regan, Gus Johns and an unidentified man.

Temptation Too Strong For Boy In Xmas Season

Christmas was coming, and Edward Spink, 19, was broke. Besides the approach of the holiday season and his empty pockets, he owed numerous debts about town, and there seemed no way out.

Edward was employed by the Menges pharmacy, 26 W. Mifflin st. as a clerk. Temptation was too strong when the cash register opened an avenue of opportunity. Toilet articles and valuables about the store offered additional temptation and Edward yielded.

Yesterday he pleaded guilty to charges of grand larceny in Superior court, confessing to having stolen $50 in cash and merchandise valued at a similar amount. Sentence was deferred pending investigation by the court. Spink is said to have had a good record at the Central high school at the time of his graduation last spring.

GERMAN LOAN IMPOSSIBLE

J. P. Morgan Says He Cannot Consider Aid at Present

NEW YORK—J. P. Morgan & Co. Monday night issued a statement declaring that they had notified the German ambassador to this country "that it was impossible for us to discuss or consider a loan to Germany unless and until the reparations questions were settled."

This statement was issued to set at rest "highly fantastic stories" on the possibility of the flotation of an international loan to Germany, estimated as high as $1,500,000,000.

The statement follows: "Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, the German ambassador, called on Mr. Morgan on Saturday to make inquiry as to the possibility of our undertaking to assist in floating a large so-called international loan to Germany. In his reply Mr. Morgan informed Dr. Wiedfeldt that while we greatly desired to be of service to the general situation, nevertheless matters had manifestly reached such a point that it was not possible for us to discuss or to consider a loan to Germany unless and until the reparations question was settled."

In his report to the international committee of bankers Mr. Morgan asserted the American investor would be interested in German obligations only if it were satisfactorily established:

"First—That such a loan should be at the request of and would be for the benefit of the allied nations.

"Second—That through the technical security to be given by Germany and the rehabilitation of its internal financial situation, Germany should clearly show a desire to meet its obligations. This would re-establish its credit as one of the commercial nations of the world."

Fuller & Johnson Co. Hit By $3,000 Blaze

Damage estimated at $3,000 was caused by the fire at the office of the Fuller and Johnson Co., Dickinson and E. Washington ave., at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The fire is thought to have been caused by defective wiring in the attic of the two story office building. Valuable parts and office furniture was removed before they could be damaged by water and fire.

Stoughton's Laziest Man is Given Year in Jail

Arthur Strand, characterized by Probation Officer T. C. Purcell as "the laziest man in the world," was sentenced to one year at Waupun yesterday by Judge O. A. Stolen following Strand's plea of guilty to charges of abandonment on Saturday.

Strand's sentence was the culmination of three appearances in Superior court. His first appearance was in May when he was arraigned for living with a widow who was not his wife. He later married her. His second appearance came when he was arraigned in October for abandonment.

"What is a year, more or less," Strand said, with a shrug of his shoulders as the sheriff led him from the court room. "If the county wants to support my family let them, I won't."

CITIZENS FOR NEW CHANGES

Amendment Sought; Meeting Aims Views on Present Ordinance

An amendment, which will lower the age of minors admitted to public dance halls in Madison without a chaperon, permitting juveniles of 16 years or more to attend, will be asked of the common council Friday night by the ordinance committee of the council and the dance hall committee of the Association of Commerce, which met jointly for a public hearing Monday night.

An effort to put across legislation to give the county boards in Wisconsin jurisdiction over country dances will also receive its initial impetus in the council session Friday night, it was announced.

The present dance ordinance forbids children of less than 18 years of age from attending public dances without a chaperon. About 50 Madison people attended the meeting Monday night.

Mayor I. Milo Kittleson informed the ordinance committee and citizens that the change was sought as the present ruling injured the dances conducted by the Parent-Teachers' associations, although the dances were really family and community affairs under able direction.

"I feel that the ordinance as it now stands creates a hardship to many," Mayor Kittleson stated. "I do not see why it cannot be amended so that it will not create a hardship and still do good in the community."

John L. Boyd, Leo Kehl, Sol Reist, and Al Thompson represented the dance hall proprietors. All agreed that should the ordinance be permitted to stand the way it now is they would be forced out of business.

"Madison has the best regulated halls in the state," Al Thompson said. "I have played in every city in the state which was big enough to support a hall, and speak from personal observation. Through this ordinance we have hurt dancing in the city, state and county. The greatest evil of the present law is that it forces young people to go out of the city to the country dances where they have no protection at all. I want some legislation to protect the public dance but feel that the present law is too drastic."

Sol Reist, manager of the Labor Temple dances, related an incident which occurred at a public dance given by a labor organization a short time ago.

"A member of the city council attended the dance and card party with his family," Mr. Reist said. "After the card games were over and dancing began we were forced to ask him to leave the hall as his children were not allowed to attend, as they were under the limit of 18 years. The public dance hall is not a bad place if under able supervision."

H. J. Loftsgordon, president of the East Side High School P. T. A., told the ordinance committee that there is no harm in these dances. He said that the dances were attended by entire families who use the dance for amusements and incidentally meet their neighbors and get acquainted which they perhaps could not do otherwise. He stated that the money derived from the sale of tickets is always used in the purchase of milk for the children and other essentials for use of the teacher and class room which the pupils otherwise would not have.

"The public dance hall is no place for children," Mrs. Elizabeth Maloney, dance hall inspector, informed members of the ordinance committee. "I am not in favor of reducing the age limit which would permit them to attend under any circumstances."

Others who attended and expressed their views were: Mrs. F. J. Paxson, president of the P. T. A. council; Frank Parrish of the Emerson school P. T. A.; Mrs. Guy S. Lowman, F. O. Leiser, Maj. E. A.

Fitzpatrick, Mrs. C. E. Proudfit, and Mrs. W. S. Marshall.

A fight was promised the committee by Ald. R. F. Elver when the amendment is brought before the council Friday night. Mr. Elver stated that if the law was not admitted in such manner that parents could accompany their children to dances he would vote against it.

WEST SIDERS SEEK SERVICE

Demand Street Car Line Extension to New District

Proposed extensions of the Sacred Heart Academy, which will make it a convent capable of caring for 300 girls, the gradual movement of the residential section of the city westward, and the lack of transportation to and from churches and schools in the west end, were arguments submitted to the state railroad commission yesterday for the extension of the street railway out on Monroe st. The hearing was opened before L. E. Gettle, chairman of the commission in the morning, and continued during the afternoon.

The testimony of Rev. H. C. Hengell, Thomas D. Williams, Leonard Gay and W. F. Hintzman, four who petitioned the commission to compel the Madison Street Railways Co., to extend the car line, was heard yesterday.

Rev. Hengell appeared for the Sacred Heart Academy. He stated that within the next year or two, Sacred Heart Academy will be built up and more than 300 students will attend, making it imperative that better transportation facilities be afforded. He also said that no doubt more parents would send their daughters to the school if there was better transportation. As it is now, it is necessary for students and the Catholic Sisters, teaching at the school, to walk a quarter of a mile to the car line.

Mr. Williams, secretary of the Wingra Land Co., said that in 1915 he presented the petitions to the street car company, and was told by one of the officials that persons living in the area in which the petitions were circulated deserved car service and it would be given within two or three years.

Williams stated that later, during the war, he met one of the Montgomerys on a car and was told that it would be necessary to delay the project because of high prices.

It was brought out by William Spohn, appearing for the petitioners, that the nearest school, Randall, is about one-fourth mile from the area, there are no high schools within a reasonable distance, Central high being the closest; churches are also lacking in the area and that it is necessary for the petitioners to ride in automobiles or walk more than a quarter of a mile to get the street car.

Williams also mentioned that he knew of cases where roomers moved out of houses in the area as soon as the cold weather set in because transportation facilities were so inadequate.

W. F. Hintzman, superintendent of Nakoma, told of the large number of persons living in Nakoma who would use the street cars if the service was provided.

At the present time their attention is centered on the Little International Live Stock show which is to be held in March and is the Ag Open House which is to take place in February. At this event

INDIANA WILL GIVE CUPS FOR BEST PUNTERS

Prospective punters and drop and place kickers at Indiana university recently have been offered cups by faculty members to stimulate interest and practice during the winter and spring football season.

At the end of the season, Dean J. C. Sombower will give a cup to the best drop kicker; Prof. W. J. Moenkhaus will reward the place kicker making the best record during the season; and a third cup will go to the punter with the highest score. Careful records of every practice will be kept.

Letters have been granted to Nay, Warrick and Pfeiffer of the cross country team. Nay is captain elect for next year.

A hand ball tourney in which every man in the university will participate was started last week in the hand ball courts of the men's gymnasium. The Intramural Athletic association is sponsoring the tourney.

The track schedule which Athletic Director Stiehm has arranged for Indiana includes the following dates:

April 21, Northwestern at Bloomington; May 5, Purdue at Lafayette; May 12, DePauw at Greencastle; May 19, Ohio State at Bloomington; May 26, state meet at Lafayette; June 1-2, Conference meet at Ann Arbor.

Racine to Have Memorial Union Holiday Dance

"Enthusiasm over the Racine Memorial Union dance is running high," said Gordon R. Walker '26, in speaking of plans for the coming event. "We expect to sell at least 300 tickets at $3 per couple, which will bring us well over our quota."

The Racine dance will be held at the Elk's club December 28 or 29. A Madison orchestra is being negotiated for, to play for the affair. The ticket sale is to be handled by Racine students attending the university, assisted by alumni at home.

"No features have been arranged for as yet," said Walker, "but a number are being planned. The dance will be informal and will be open to everyone."

Walker is in charge of the affair. Osborne Hand '26, Josephine Keech '24, Richard Lund '26, and Jack Harris '25 are assisting him. More committee members will be chosen later to carry out the arrangements now being planned.

Student Leaders Will Convene in New York

A student Christmas conference for officers of student government, editors of college publications, and presidents of discussion clubs is to be held December 26 to 28 at Hartsdale, N. Y., on the subject of "The Economic Basis of Our Education."

The conference is to be held under the direction of the National Student Forum, of which Charles Denby, Jr., is chairman. Delegates will attend from institutions throughout the country. Philip Voltz, '23, vice president of the Social Science club, has received an invitation to attend. The Cardinal has also been asked to send a delegate, but owing to the inconvenient date, no representative will attend.

The National Student Forum is composed of organizations from many of the larger colleges and universities of the country. Prominent among these are Harvard Student Liberal club, Yale Liberal club, Northwestern Liberal league, and University of Chicago Liberal club.

Northwestern and Chicago will meet in their home tanks on February 17 and 18, respectively. Chicago, Conference champion last year, has virtually the same personnel as in 1922. Natators for the Purple took third place last year and have won the title more times than any other team in the Conference.

A clash with Ohio State, also in the Big Ten aquatic field for the first time, will take place at Columbus, following the meets in Chicago and Evanston. Michigan Aggies are scheduled to open the season, and meets with Purdue, Indiana and Wisconsin are considered probable.
