TIME FOR EXAMS

FACULTY HAS MADE OUT THE SCHEDULE.

HONORARY THESES TO BE CONSIDERED.

No Reception at Science Hall This Year—Half Holiday.

The university faculty held its regular weekly business meeting in Science hall yesterday afternoon. As it is now almost the end of the term quite a large number of matters of considerable importance were discussed. One of the most important items of the meeting was the report of the committee appointed several weeks ago on honorary theses. The election of these theses will take place at the next regular meeting. It was also determined to dispense with all regular university work on Regatta day after three o'clock in order to give all an opportunity to enjoy this event.

The time table for examinations was also presented and approved. For several years it has been the custom to hold a reception in Science hall during commencement week but for various reasons this event will be omitted in the commencement exercises this year.

TIME TABLE OF EXAMINATIONS.

The last week of the term will be given up to examinations as follows:

On Monday will occur the following examinations:

Freshmen: German, 8-10 a. m. and 10:30-12:30; rhetoric, 2-4 p. m.

Sophomores: Rhetoric, 8-10 a. m.; Physics, 2-4 p. m.

GROUP I.

Tuesday and Wednesday will be given up to examinations in five-fifth and two fifth studies, and to those three fifth studies that do not fall on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, as follows:

9-10	10:30-12:30	Tuesday.

9-10	10:30-12:30	Thursday.
10-11	2-4	Thursday.
11-12	8-10	Friday.

WE BEAT OBERLIN.

Wisconsin won in the game with Oberlin this afternoon. The score was 5 to 3.

SACRED LITERATURE.

Institute Saturday Evening at Presbyterian Church.

There will be delivered on Saturday evening a course of three lectures on Biblical literature. The first lecture by Chas. Longbridge, Esq., a Chicago attorney, will be on the theme "The City of Jerusalem," illustrated by a choice collection of lantern slides. The aim will be to show the city as it was when Jesus was there and incidentally to point-out how to study.

The lectures on Sunday afternoon and evening will be by Prof. W. W. White, Ph. D., of Chicago, one of the leading platform speakers on Biblical subjects in the country. It is the hope of the management that the expenses of the course may be guaranteed and when the necessary amount, seventy dollars, is secured, admission will be free. For the present course tickets will be sold at Moseley's, Sumner's and at Menges' where also subscriptions may be made.

All who attended the lectures of President Harper last year will anticipate with great pleasure the coming of these lecturers.

TALK ON MONEY.

The following question for the next Philomathia semi-public has been submitted by the side consisting of F. E. Compton, J. C. Schmidtman and L. D. Smith:

"Is our present monetary system preferable to the same system with the issue of treasury notes redeemable by the government, on demand, in silver bullion at its world's market value. Such notes to be issued by the secretary of the treasury, on deposits of silver bullion equal in market value at the time of issue to the face of the note, to such an amount as to maintain a fixed level of prices. Such level of prices to be determined by a committee of expert statisticians.

Conceded, that such statistical determination is practicable."

As silver is now the all-absorbing issue before the American people, this debate will doubtlessly be very interesting. The other side consisting of G. B. Nelson, W. C. Bergand and R. J. Willets is granted two weeks in which to choose their side of the debate. The semi-public will occur on Nov. 15, of the present year.

POINTED PERSONALS.

REGATTA MENTION

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE GREAT EVENT.

RULES FOR THE CONTESTS AND ENTRIES.

An Unusual Number of Spectators Will Be There.

Regatta day, tomorrow, will be virtually a half holiday for those who will see their class officers and get excited. This is in recognition of the fact that the naval authorities surrendered the date they had first chosen to the managers of the interscholastic meet and took a day in the middle of the week. It is believed that the attendance at the regatta will be quite as large as if it were held Saturday. In fact, if the visiting Woodmen keep on increasing in number the lake and shore will probably be crowded with sight seers. Bleachers are to be erected on the right of the boathouse, and the stationary events of the day will occur well in front of this building, so as to be viewed from either side. The gig crews are having considerable difficulty in determining in what order they will row. But it is thought this will be amicably settled. All the naval authorities ask for now is fair weather with no north or west winds, and a day of sport will be furnished. Regatta day has invariably been fair every year since the first regatta held in the institution.

LIST OF ENTRIES.

The following are the contestants in the Inter-fraternity boat race:

PLEASANT SOCIAL TIME.

Mrs. Adams Gives a Delightful Reception to Many.

The reception at the home of President and Mrs. Adams last evening was one of the most enjoyable of the many happy social events at which Mrs. Adams has been the hostess. The young ladies of the senior class were present, as also the musical clubs and the Badger board of '96. The house was thrown open to all, as well as means being provided for enjoying the lake breeze upon the lawn. The broad veranda was utilized for jangling, for which Lueders' orchestra furnished music. Delicious refreshments were served.

—The University Bible class of the Presbyterian church will start on their around-the-lake trip from the university boat house at 6:30 o'clock this evening. The party will be entertained at the summer residence of Mrs. Wayne Ramsay.

COMING TO CHICAGO.

Another name is about to be added to the Chicago list of men eminent in the scientific world. It was learned Thursday that Professor Edward Emerson Barnard, the brilliant young astronomer of the Lick observatory in California, will in all probability come to Chicago and continue his astronomical researches in connection with the Yerkes observatory. Professor Barnard is the man who enjoys the distinction among astronomical scholars of having discovered the fifth satellite of Jupiter. He has also made many discoveries in the solar spectrum and is looked upon as one of the foremost American astronomers.

ANOTHER NEW PAPER.

The Maroon is the name of a new college paper published at the University of Chicago. It is issued Tuesdays and Fridays of each week. The paper is a sixteen-column sheet modeled after the average college daily. Philip Rand, of Chicago, is managing editor, and the business manager is Oswald Arnold, also of Chicago. The associate editors are Walter Defenbaugh, C. R.
Barrett, J. E. Raycroft, L. Brent Vaughn, H. L. Clarke and Forest Grant.

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY PRIZES.

A friend of Brown University has offered the sum of $200 as a prize to encourage the historical study of the development of religious liberty in America. The prize is to be open to general competition; it shall be given to the writer of the best essay on one of the following themes: "A critical comparison of the claims put forward on behalf of Rhode Island and Maryland respectively regarding the first establishment of religious liberty in America;" "A critical history of the movement toward disestablishment and religious liberty in Connecticut;"

"A critical history of the movement toward disestablishment and religious liberty in Massachusetts;" no essay will be received which is not founded upon original research; the prize shall be awarded at commencement, 1896; essays submitted must be placed in the hands of the president on or before May 1, 1896, under an assumed name.

CAMBRIDGE SOCIAL UNION.

Within the past year the Cambridge Social Union has enlarged its work by the addition of a department of instruction very much like that of the Prospect Union. Though this is the first year the work has been very successful. Between thirty and forty courses in Latin and Greek, the modern languages, history and economics, mathematics, natural science and other branches have been given. Classes in elocution, singing and physical culture have also been organized.
The instruction in these courses has been given for the most part by Harvard students. Twenty six men in all from the different departments of the university have volunteered as teachers.

Classes are held five evenings in the week at the rooms of the Social Union on Brattle street. One evening is given up to lectures, social or dramatic entertainments which are open to the public. This evening is much like the public Wednesday evening of the Prospect Union.

The classes are intended to furnish instruction for a nominal tuition fee to the working classes of Old Cambridge.
The membership fee to the Union has been fixed at one dollar and an additional sum of one dollar is required for admission to the classes. During the year about one hundred and ten persons have enrolled as pupils in the different courses.

A library of over one thousand books and a large number of pamphlets adds much to the value of the work. There is also in connection with the library a reading room supplied with the Cambridge and Boston papers and a number of other periodicals.

This department of the Social Union, which has been so successful this year, will be continued next winter. It is hoped that the number of classes may be greatly increased in the fall, and a number of students large enough to carry on the new courses may volunteer to teach.—Harvard Crimson.

PROF. DANA'S WILL.

The will of the late Professor James Dwight Dana, of Yale University, who died about a month ago, has been admitted to probate. The widow, Mrs.
Henrietta Silliman Dana, and her son, Professor Edward S. Dana, were named as the executors. To the Yale corporation Professor Dana left his diplomas from scientific societies and academies, and also his medals, to be delivered to the university at the option of the widow. He further provides in his will that the diplomas be made a part of the general collection of scientific documents, and the medals are to be added to the general collection of medals in the university library. He also gives from his own library the works on geology that are not already on the shelves of the college library, excepting the volumes which, if taken away, would break a series. The university also receives several books of statistics, maps and notes made by Professor Dana in geological surveys, together with several hundred other pamphlets.

Rest on, embalmed and sainted dead.

FROM THE OBSERVATORY.

Astronomical data for June is furnished by the Washburn observatory as follows:

Mercury reaches, on June 4, its greatest apparent distance east from the sun. On that date the planet will set at nearly 9:30 p. m., and in about the same position as the sun. It will be favorably situated for visibility, therefore, throughout the early part of the month. Jupiter, Venus and Mars still appear in the northwestern evening sky but Mars is getting much less conspicuous owing to its increasing distance from the sun and passes close by Mars on June 14 within one degree to the north of the latter. On June 25 Venus passes close by the north limb of the moon also. Jupiter is getting lower and by the end of the month sets early in the evening. Saturn is conspicuous in the southern sky and crosses the meridian early in the evening.

The times of sunrise and sunset for the month are as follows:

Sunrise—June 1, 4:21 a. m.; June 11, 4:18 a. m.; June 21, 4:18 a. m.; June 30, 4:21 a. m.

Sunset—June 1, 7:30 p. m.; June 11, 7:36 p. m.; June 21, 7:40 p. m.; June 30, 7:41 p. m.

The times of the moon's phases are:
Full moon, June 7, 5 a. m.; third quarter, June 15, 5:28 a. m.; new moon, June 22, 3:51 p. m.; first quarter, June 29, 8:01 a. m.

The principal fixed stars visible during the month in the evening hours are: To the west—Regulus; near the meridian; Arcturus and Spica; to the east—Antares, Vega, and the Northern Crown.

Visitors will be received at the observatory if the night is clear on the evenings of June 5 and June 19 from
