Class Petitions Extra Staging of 'Beggars Opera'

Matinee Over Long Distance
Telephone Arranged
by Union

Because the class in music appreciation under Prof. C. H. Mills petitioned for another performance and because townspeople bought out the evening performance before students could obtain seats, the Wisconsin Union yesterday arranged for a matinee of "The Beggar's Opera."

Arrangements were made over long distance telephone to New York by Harold A. Konnak L2, business manager for the Union board. The special performances will be given at 3:30 o'clock Feb. 14; the regular evening show will begin at 8 o'clock.

Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the matinee are now on sale at the Parkway theater box office; the prices are set at $2.50, $2, $1.50, and $1.

There are certain qualities of fascination about "The Beggar's Opera" which no description can visualize fully. It is one of those productions in which the appeal to the eye and ear is perfectly synchronized, and its melodies would furnish material for a dozen modern comedies.

Artists Revamped Play

The revival is as complete a work of art as the opera itself as Frederick Austin revamped the old score; Arnold Bennett edited the lyrics and dialogue—halting well on this side of prudery; the late Claud Lavot Fraser designed the costumes and scenery in keeping with the old Hogarth masterpieces which served as models; and Nigel Playfair was producer.

They say the piece laughed Italian opera off the stage in England; that it was George Washington's favorite show, and that a Polly Peachum of the time precipitated the famous quarrel between Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr. These stories may be apocryphal, and they matter not at all.

Nothing more than a sense of humor is required to enjoy "The Beggar's Opera." It is just as keenly alive today as it was when it set all London gasping and chuckling in 1728. The company coming here is the same as revived the old music play in 1920 at the Lyric theater in London which enjoyed a capacity run for more than four years.

Feb. 21 Is Date of Soph Shuffle

Shoer's Band to Play for All University One-O'clock Party

This year the annual sophomore dance, the Sophomore Shuffle, will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21, in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Loraine, according to plans made by William Ramsey '30, chairman of the affair. Joe Shoer's Parkway Band will furnish the music.

"In spite of the fact that it is called the Sophomore Shuffle," Ramsey stated, "the dance is to be an all-university affair in the same way that the pre-prom and the R.O.T.C. dances earlier in the year were."

Due to the fact that the Shuffle is being held the night before a university holiday, it is to be a 1 o'clock party. It will probably be the only university dance taking place on that night, for the Union board has agreed to drop their plans for a dance at Lathrop.

Tickets for the dance are to cost $2.00, and will, according to Jack Hustings '30, be on sale early next week. "However," Hustings added, "it will not be necessary to obtain tickets before the dance, as they will be on sale at the door."

Sophomore working under Ramsey are James Hart, Jack Hustings, Joe Lucas, Robert Conger, Marion Palmer, William Fuller, Gerald Rice, and Virginia Stern. Each one of these students is at the head of a committee and has three or four others working under him.

Landon Brilliant as Literary Characters

Impersonates Six Famous Authors
in Bascom Theater Showing

Sidney Landon, the impersonator, thrilled over 200 persons in Bascom theater last night by his characterization of the six great literary figures.

Opening his impressive program with the impersonation of Victor Hugo, Mr. Landon carried his responsive audience into the intimate peculiarities of William Makepeace Thackeray, Edgar Allan Poe, Edgar Wilson Nye, and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Applying grease paint and donning various wigs while keeping his audience in a constant ripple of laughter, Mr. Landon effected conjurations of literary mood and place.

Victor Hugo appeared before the Madison audience as he did to the French mob of 75,000 people paying tribute on his 80th birthday to him—bent and aged, but magnificently inspiring.

From Paris to a session of English Parliament where Mr. Landon impersonated William Makepeace Thackeray in his satiric discussion of exclusion from society of the so-called snobs.

Courtly with flowing white hair, Mark Twain stood as he did before the guests at Delmonico's, who were honoring his 70th birthday, and said in his humorous fashion:

"I always think of my first birthday with deploration, it was so crude, so unaesthetic, so primeval. Nothing was ready. There was no preparation; no celebration, the cradle was not even whitewashed. I had no clothes and would have been embarrassed to address you there at a banquet in my honor."

Hollow-eyed Poe, chanting in sepulchral tones the tragic death of his sweetheart, Annabel Lee, was a ghost hovering in Bascom theater—a spirit who affected visibly his audience with his morbidness, and who crept away like an eerie voice of the night.

In direct contrast, with no time given for breath-taking, bald-pated "Bill" Nye presented with majestic oratory his sing-song effusion on "The American Boy."

Longfellow, an old silky haired man in the twilight of life, sat comfortably and talked calmly of death and the "burying ground which is God's acres."

Revised Constitution for Memorial Union Submitted to Students

Godley Issues Call for Aspiring Octy Story Writers

"A young and original short story writer has a golden opportunity awaiting him at the Octopus office if he desires to see his work in print. When 'Allen Gets a Date' is concluded in the February issue, the Octy will need another story and someone must write it."

So spoke Robert Godley, fiction editor of the Octopus, who is in the market for some fiction to be editor of.

Mr. Godley was found by the Daily Cardinal reporter as he searched the Octopus mailbox for manuscripts and sighed great sighs of disappointment as his quest proved fruitless.

"I thought it would be such fun to be an editor of some kind and be able to have lots of manuscripts to reject," Mr. Godley stated mournfully, "but there doesn't seem to be any manuscripts to reject."

If Mr. Godley's fears are realized the Octopus will be in what the grocers call a pickle, and the editors are contemplating the collection and publication of the editorials now appearing in the rival Madison papers as part of that great verbal battle between Mr. William Evjue, called the "fighting editor," and Mr. Arthur M. Brayton, also termed the "fighting editor."

What the Octy really wants however is a short story, and aspiring geniuses are requested to get in touch with Mr. Godley, the "disappointed editor," as soon as possible.

Greek Houses Fire Hazards; City Needs More Apparatus, Inspector, Goodnight Claim

EDITOR'S NOTE

This is the first of a series of articles which will be run from time to time giving the results of a survey of the fire hazards in the university residential section. The survey is sponsored by the Daily Cardinal, the dean of men and the Wisconsin Inspection bureau.

The situation in the student quarter is surely one that deserves a large amount of consideration. The piping in this section is considered entirely inadequate to furnish fire service, and the city of Madison is not equipped with a sufficient number of pumping engines and lacks the apparatus to cope with a fire of large proportions.

This was the statement of Mr. Daniel, chief engineer of the Wisconsin Inspection bureau, in a letter to the Daily Cardinal, after he had recently headed a fire survey of Madison.

Dean Goodnight, in commenting on the situation as shown by the university inspection of fraternity and sorority houses, said, "The conditions reported by our inspector showed a complete lack of common sense in fire precaution. Keeping ashes in wooden boxes, heaps of waste paper in cellars, blockaded fire escapes and stairways and other hazardous conditions were discovered. Careless burning of trash out of doors and inflammable material stored in dangerous places were common occurrences. 'Nearly all of these conditions were remedied, but as there is only one inspection a year, I am afraid that they will not stay remedied.'"

The entire city of Madison was surveyed in August and again in December by the Wisconsin Inspection bureau. The fraternity and sorority houses were inspected by the office of the dean of men in December.

The results of these surveys gave sufficient evidence that there were conditions which must be improved. Fire hazards of the baldest kind were unearthed amid little care or interest on the part of the householder who either remained ignorant or unconcerned as to his situation.

The regents of the university are aware of the condition of the houses before the annual inspection and may provide for inspection of the houses more than once a year.

The inspection handled by the university, conducted by a member of the Madison fire department, covers only the fraternity, sorority and special interest houses, and does not include the private rooming and boarding houses, of which there are a great number in the student quarter.

At a recent Gath Inn fire, Lieut. Eichman of Engine No. 2, commented on the blaze and classified the house as "one of the many fire-trap boarding houses in this section." If it is true, it seems as if the boarding and rooming houses are more in need of a good thorough inspection than the fraternity and sorority houses.

In Madison the officials of the fire department are required by law to inspect buildings in their precinct. But judging from the conditions unearthed in the university inspection, the official survey was either lacking entirely or at best very sketchy in character.

One of the first basic principles in fire prevention and in fire fighting is to have adequate building inspection. In most large cities this department is notoriously poor and Madison, not excused by its size, appears to be no exception to the general rule.

The geographic situation of this quarter hinders fire fighting. It is probably the most congested section (Continued on Page 8)

Union Board Invites Mem- bers to Comment on Gov- erning Plans

A Plan of government for the new Memorial Union building, as proposed by the student Union board and revised by the University Committee on the Union headed by Dr. H. C. Bradley, was approved in its general principles by the special Memorial Union committee of the Board of Regents last Tuesday. The university committee was authorized to proceed with the drafting of a final constitution.

The drafting of the instrument which will bring to life the long anticipated "Union" and create the organization that will operate and control the new $1,250,000 Memorial Union building is in process now. It will be submitted back to the regents at the regular board meeting on March 7.

Invite Student Criticism

Students especially are invited to examine the proposals of the government of the buildings, and to make comments or suggestions by communicating with Porter Butts, secretary of the committee, at 772 Langdon st. The faculty discussed the plan at its last meeting, making several recommendations which have been incorporated in the provisions of the scheme. It is not, however, in its final form yet.

The detailed plan, as approved tentatively by the regents, is printed herewith. In general, it contemplates that the ultimate financial responsibility for the building will rest with the Board of Regents, but that it will be directly operated by an organization of all the persons who use and support the building—such organization to be known as "The Wisconsin Union," and to include as members the students, alumni, faculty, and patrons who pay the stipulated annual or life membership fees.

Aims at Student Control

The basic aim of the plan is to extend self-government and self-control in the building especially to the students of the university, and in smaller measure to the alumni and faculty members. The building will be operated much like the club house of a large club—by the members, for the members.

The governing body of The Wisconsin Union, and, ipso facto, of the Union building, is to be known as the Union council and to be composed of 13 members, eight of whom are students. The student members are drawn from the Men's Union, to be reorganized and representing all men students, and from W. S. G. A., representing all women students. Two faculty members and one alumnus are to be appointed by the president of the university and one alumnus elected by the Alumni association. The two principal administrative officers of the Union building are members ex-officio.

The plan as approved by the regents committee follows:

Wisconsin Title Hopes at Stake in Game Tonight

Powerful but Erratic Gophers Threaten Badgers' Big 10 Standing

The Minnesota basketball team will offer itself as a help or hindrance to Wisconsin's championship aspirations tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the armory. While the Badgers are attempting to beat the Gophers, Michigan will be trying to conquer the hitherto undefeated Purdue quintet at Ann Arbor. A victory for Wisconsin, and one for Michigan will put Wisconsin alone at the head of the Big Ten basketball scramble.

Because Wisconsin is now in second place and Minnesota in last place, the Cardinals are outstanding favorites.

Minnesota Unlucky

Minnesota is not to be belittled, however, for the Gophers have had tough luck in their last four games. Against Northwestern and Chicago they were ahead until the last few minutes, but while attempting to play a stalling game their lead was overcome and they lost by small margins. Practically the same thing happened against Iowa and Ohio State.

In the first game between Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Gophers had a nine-point lead with only 10 minutes to play. In a furious last quarter spurt, the Badgers rained in baskets at will to win the game by the score of 35 to 26.

May Be Stiff Battle

The Gophers are possessed of plenty of power and if they are able to use it to advantage and hit the basket with any regularity it is likely to prove a bad evening for the Badgers.

Grace Exhibits New Inventions

Wonderful Electrical Devices Shown by Bell Telephone Expert

Sergius P. Grace, general commercial engineer of the Bell Telephone laboratories, yesterday afternoon addressed the engineering students of the university in the engineers auditorium, upon the subject of the "Latest Discoveries and Inventions of the Bell Laboratories."

Mr. Grace explained and demonstrated some of the wonderful developments in the field of radio, telephone and television engineering. He demonstrated a synthetic speech experiment which received widespread comment.

An Orthophonic Victrola issuing a synthetic speech of unintelligible words sounding like a mixture of every known language, at first would seem somewhat useless to the dubious hearers.

It was then that Mr. Grace startled his audience by showing that by means of a machine that had "electrical ears" and an "electrical brain" the words coming from the Victrola could be translated into proper speech. An electrical pick-up transmitter, Mr. Grace pointed out, was the instrument that made possible this unusual feat.

Mr. Grace during his talk also mentioned new devices now in use in the Bell system that are saving hundreds of millions of dollars. Among them being a loading coil and telephone repeater which enables conversation over long distances to be carried on, in cables over wires no larger than an ordinary pin, whereas under the old method of operation, copper wires nearly the size of lead pencils were strung on pole lines to give an equivalent conversational volume.

Mr. Grace also pointed out that much of the work of the laboratory had a purely humanitarian point of view. As an example he described the artificial larynx, which enables people who have lost their larynx through surgical operation, to talk again.

Mr. Grace was invited here under the combined auspices of the Madison section and the University of Wisconsin Student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Constitution of Union Submitted to Students

by the University Committee, Jan. 27, 1928.

Preface

It is assumed that the Board of Regents will be ultimately responsible for the operation and control of the Memorial Union building inasmuch as the Memorial Union is a state building and under the university's jurisdiction.

It is proposed that the Board of Regents operate the building through the medium of a formal organization of all the student, alumni, faculty, and other members who will use it, such organization to be known as "The Wisconsin Union."

It is proposed that The Wisconsin Union be organized through the articles of a constitution to be authorized by the Board of Regents.

Nothing contained in this constitution shall be construed as limiting in any way the final authority or control of the Board of Regents over all persons or organizations connected with or receiving benefits from the university, or as superseding the university rules governing the social activities of the student body.

It is proposed that the present organization of undergraduate men, known as "The Wisconsin Union," be chartered by the Board of Regents as the "Wisconsin Men's Union," such body to have its own articles of organization and to be independent of the Wisconsin Union both in the exercise of its functions not concerned with the Memorial Union building and in the administration of its financial affairs.

It is understood that the Wisconsin Men's Union and the Women's Self Government association together shall be the articulate organizations of the student body and shall supply the student representation on the governing board of The Wisconsin Union so long as they continue to represent all men students and all women students respectively.

Article I—Name

The name of this organization shall be "The Wisconsin Union of the University of Wisconsin."

Article II—Purpose

Section 1. The purpose of The Wisconsin Union shall be to provide a common life and a cultivated social program for its members.

Section 2. The motto of The Wisconsin Union shall be Societas Crescitur Lumen — light is increased through human relationships.

Section 3. The emblem shall be the Indian Pipe of Peace, with ribbons, displayed against a cardinal and white arrowhead shield which is superimposed on a mariner's compass card—a symbol of fellowship and unity among diverse peoples.

Article III—Membership

The Wisconsin Union may include five classes of members as follows:

Section 1. Student Members. — Every student upon enrollment in the university and the payment of fees shall become a member of The Wisconsin Union for the period of enrollment covered by the fees paid. He may become a life member upon the payment of an aggregate of $50 in fees, or in subscriptions to the Memorial Union building fund, or both together.

Section 2. Faculty Members. Any member of the university staff is eligible to the membership upon the payment of the annual fee or of the life membership subscription to the Memorial Union building fund voted by the Union council. Faculty life members of the former Memorial Union building association shall automatically be life members of The Wisconsin Union.

Section 3. Alumni Members. Any former student of the university is eligible to membership upon the payment of the annual fee or of a life membership subscription to the Memorial Union building fund voted by the Union council. A special non-resident annual fee may be voted by the council at its discretion. Alumni life members of the former Memorial Union building association shall automatically be life members of The Wisconsin Union.

Section 4. Patron Members. The Union council shall have power to elect at its discretion a person to patron membership who is not connected with the university as a student, alumnus or faculty member, providing that he pay the annual fee or the life membership subscription to the Memorial Union building fund voted by the Union council.

Section 5. Honorary Members. The Union council shall have power to elect honorary members at its discretion.

Article IV—Union Council
The governing body of The Wisconsin Union shall be the Union council, which body shall be responsible to the Board of Regents through the president and business manager. Members shall be chosen, or elected by their constituent bodies, annually, except as otherwise herein provided.

Section 1—Membership. The Union council shall be constituted as follows: President of the Wisconsin Men's Union, ex officio; first vice-president of The Wisconsin Men's Union, ex officio; second vice-president of The Wisconsin Men's Union, elected by men students, all four classes and graduate students voting; secretary of The Wisconsin Men's

Union, ex officio; treasurer of The Wisconsin Men's Union, ex officio; president of the Women's Self Government association, ex officio; representative of the Women's Self Government association, elected by women students, all four classes and graduate students voting; president of Keystone, ex officio; house director of the Memorial Union building, ex officio; steward of the Memorial Union building, ex officio; faculty representative, chosen by the President (Continued on Page 4)

Badger Mermen Drop Tank Meet With Minnesota

Score Is 45-27, Badgers Get Only Two Firsts in Entire Meet

BY AARON ARNOLD

Handicapped by the loss of four sure point winners, Wisconsin's swimming team went down to defeat before the powerful strokes of a strong Minnesota squad 45 to 27 at the Armory tank last night.

The Badgers lost the first event, the 160 yard relay, and from then on, never succeeded in threatening the lead that the swimming Gophers managed to pile up, event by event.

Of the eight events held, but two firsts, the back stroke, and the diving fell to the Cardinal men while the visitors in addition to winning six first places, managed to annex a majority of seconds and thirds as well.

Break Conference Record

That a high quality of swimming was to be found in the meet, was made apparent, when the Minnesota 160 yard relay team, broke the existing conference record by a full second. The new time is 1:17 flat as compared with the old record of 1:18.1 established by Michigan.

In this event, Davies of Wisconsin, held his opponent Morris even during the first lap, but the second Gopher swimmer gained a three yard lead which the Badgers were unable to overcome.

A Bad Break

The Cardinal's had a bad break in the breast stroke, when McGovern, failing to catch the signal for the gun got off to a slow start several yards behind the other swimmers. As it turned out, the plucky Badger closed the gap between himself and his opponents, to finish less than three yards behind the two leading Minnesota men, and take third place.

Sam Hill, star dash man and captain of the visiting team, won a close race in the 40 yard dash from Lange and Davies of Wisconsin who took second and third respectively. A final last lap spurt carried Hill to victory by the narrowest of margins.

Steady swimming won the 440 yard grind for Lucke of Minnesota. Crowley, the best Badger entry in this event, could not overcome Lucke's lead, and had to be content with second place while his teammate Windsey added a third in this event.

Lange Wins

Ed Lange won the first first for Wisconsin in the back stroke by the nice margin of three yards. Lange overcame a five yard lead at the half-way mark, and then sprinted to finish ahead of Wilke of Minnesota.

The 100 yard dash also fell to the Gophers when Waidelich Crocker nabbed a two yard margin from Davies. The Wisconsin swimmer was unable to follow the fast pace that his opponents set.

Cuisinier, Wisconsin's diving football player, was "on" last night and added the other Badger first place, by showing fine form in the fancy diving. Matson of the visitors, gave the crowd a thrill when he narrowly missed the spring board while trying a half gainer. Scobba and Matson of Minnesota took second and third in the dives.

The final event of the day, the 300 yard medley relay turned out to be another bad luck item for the Badgers. Florez, slated to swim the breast stroke in the event, pulled a tendon muscle as he was warming up and had to withdraw. His place was taken by Kinkead, who was still tired from his swim in the breast stroke and could not compete at top form.

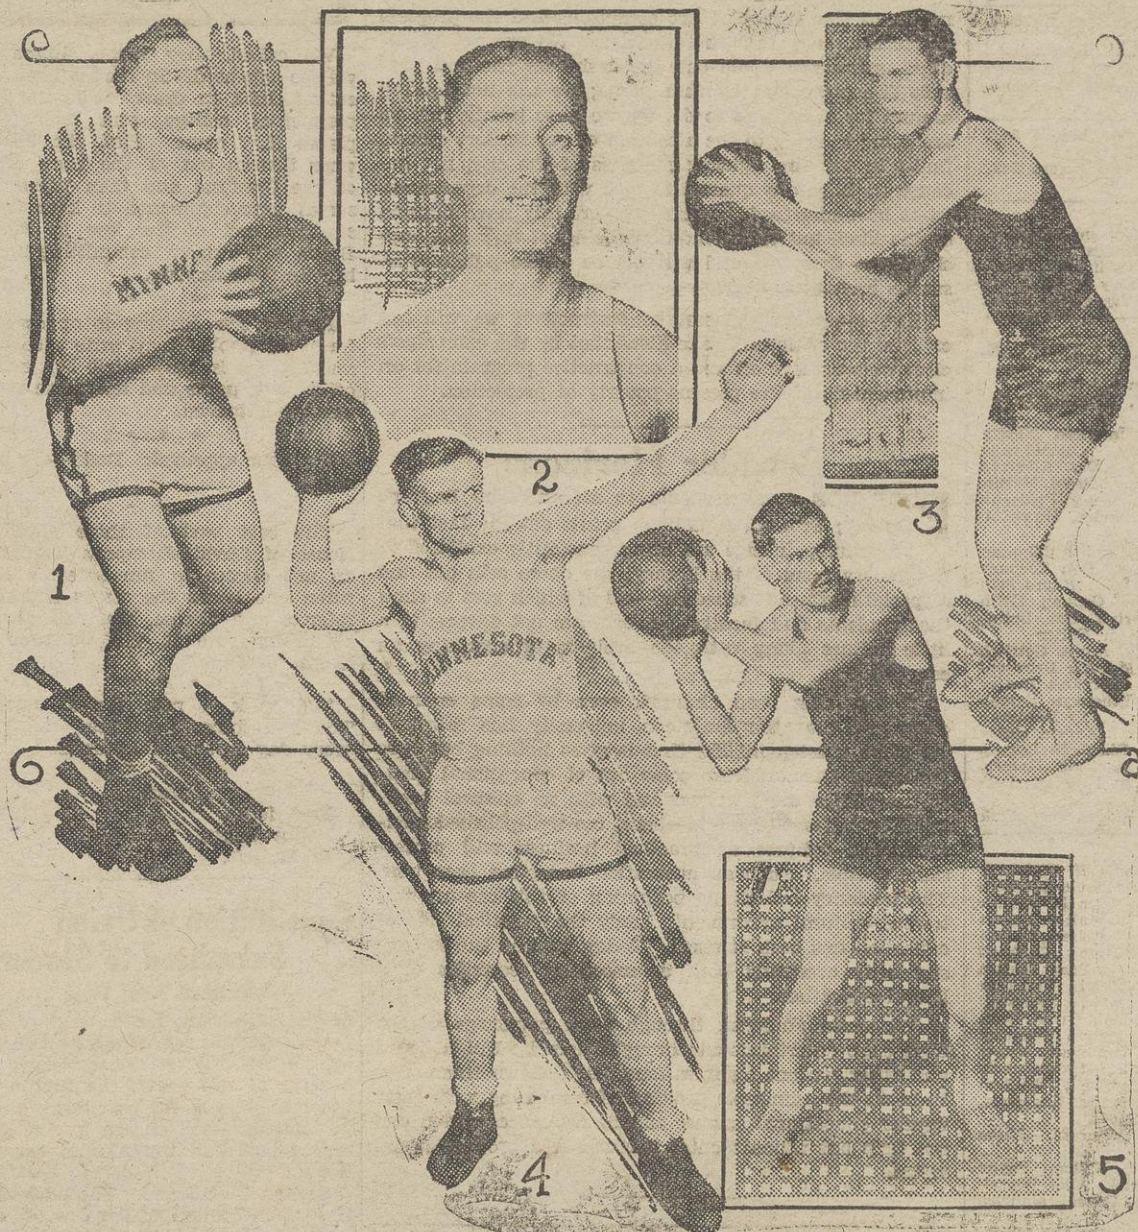

The Gophers won the event easily and with little competition from their opponents. Gradually gaining with each lap, the three Minnesota men managed to annex a lead of one whole lap and with this margin won the race.

Summary of events:
160 yard relay—Minnesota, Morris, Crocker, Hill, Moody first. Time—1:17. (New Conference record.)

Breast stroke—Purdy (M) first, Bayers (H) second, McGovern (W) third. Time—2:46.

50 yard dash—Hill (M) first, Lange (W) second, Davies (W) third. Time—19.8.

440 yard dash—Lucke (M) first, Crowley (W) second, Windsey (W) third. Time—5:44.7.

Above are four of the Minnesota youths who will bring toil and trouble to the Men's Gymnasium tonight in Wisconsin's fifth conference game.

Mally Nydahl, captain and floor guard of the Gopher five, is No. 1. He has been bad news for Wisconsin athletic teams ever since his 60-yard run for a touchdown defeated the Badgers, 16-10, in a football game in 1926.

Coach Dave MacMillan, who has taught the Minnesota team a new style of play and a new way of making trouble for conference opponents, is pictured in the inset, No. 2.

Chief basket-maker of the Gopher clan last year was George Otterness, No. 3, forward. George has not been hitting the iron circle so frequently this season, but his general attitude around the floor is enough to worry any good conscientious guard.

The new scoring sensation for Minnesota is Johnny Stark, No. 4, whose short and long distance shooting has been a feature all season. Failure to check up on Stark once in a while may mean disaster to Wisconsin's plans for winning tonight.

Opposing Bud Foster in the little red circle will be Glenn Williams, No. 5, who has recently worked into the varsity center job. He is an excellent floorman and covers his position defensively in a pretty conclusive manner. There they are, watch 'em tonight.

RIFLE TEAM MEETS

ST. JOHN'S TUESDAY

After shooting up the bull's-eyes in wire meets Thursday and Friday, the Wisconsin rifle team is sharpening its vision for a shoulder to shoulder match with the St. John's Military academy sharpshooters on the Camp Randall range Tuesday.

Results of the three meets fired Thursday and Friday were wired in last night and the final scores will be available for publication Monday or Tuesday.

St. John's Good

St. John's will undoubtedly bring a team of high-scoring marksmen to Madison Tuesday and the Badgers will be doing exceptionally well if they can win the match.

Since acquiring its new five-target range in the second barracks at Camp Randall, and since being placed on the basis of a minor sport, rifle shooting bids fair to become a much more popular sport. Present members of the squad are anxious to have any students interested in shooting try out for the team. The coach is at the range in the second barracks nearly all day and he can be reached there by anyone wanting to try out.

Up-to-Date Ranges

The new range is equipped with adjustable targets which may be pulled up to the shooting position for safe adjustment and examination. All four positions, standing, sitting, prone, and kneeling, may be fired on this range.

Back stroke—Lange (W) first, Wilke (M) second, Von Maltitz (W) third. Time—2:5.

100 yard dash—Waidelich (M) first, Crocker (M) second, Davies (W) third. Time—58.

Diving—Cuisinier (W) first, Scobba (M) second, Matson (M) third.

Medley relay—Minnesota (Wilke, Bayers, Moody) first.

Bayers, Moody) first. Time—3:30.3.

PHI KAPPA TAU WINS WRESTLE MEET

The Phi Kappa Tau wrestling team won a close meet from Theta Chi in the gymnasium Thursday by a score of 11 to 6. In five bouts, only one fall was recorded and one bout went into overtime periods.

The meet was given added zest by the announcement in the Daily Cardinal of Thursday that Theta Chi and Phi Kappa Tau were first and second respectively in the race for the Badger Bowl. A big crowd was on hand to witness the meet. When the score was declared to be a 6-6 tie just before the last match, the crowd was thrown into an uproar. As the climax to an evening of thrillers, Swenson, Phi Kappa Tau, gained a fall from James DeHaven, Theta Chi, with only 10 seconds to go.

A summary of results follows:

135-pound class—Eckers, Theta Chi, won a decision over Johnson, Phi Kappa Tau, time advantage 1:10.

145-pound class—Musolf, Phi Kappa Tau, won a decision over Kraut, Theta Chi, time advantage 1:34.

158-pound class—Rusch, Phi Kappa Tau, won decision over Brotz, Theta Chi, in overtime period, time advantage :39.

175-pound class—R. DeHaven, Theta Chi, won decision over Beers, Phi Kappa Tau, time advantage, 1:07.

Heavyweight—Swenson, Phi Kappa Tau, won a fall over J. DeHaven, Theta Chi, in 1:50 with a double grape-vine.

Behaviorism Boosted

Last night 60 members and guests of Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary sociology fraternity, prolonged their dinner meeting far beyond the regular closing hour in discussing with Prof. C. L. Hull, of the psychology department, the most recent theories of behavioristic psychology.

The viciousness of the tendency in the past to place a disembodied function of man in an object, and then transfer that spirit back to man—a paradoxical situation—has been in pseudo-truths, according to Prof. Hull.

GREEK BASKETBALL NEARING FINALS

BY R. B.

The interfraternity basketball race after a let-up of three weeks, started off in full swing again yesterday afternoon with three games being played off.

All of the games being played this week, are either postponed ones or the last of the regular session schedules for the various fraternities and every team is fighting desperately for a chance to enter the finals.

To Start Finals

By Feb. 16, the weeding-out process in regard to the best teams entered in each of the six divisions will have been completed, and on that day—taking the two high teams from each bracket, a finals schedule will be drawn up.

Once the finals begin, between the twelve or so teams, a straight elimination basis of play will be used, the games eventually leading to the interfraternity basketball champions of the university this year.

Beta's Win

The Beta Theta Pi's and the Phi Beta Delta's put on a good game yesterday, with the Beta's winning out 17 to 14. Gene Goodman, center of the Phi B. D. team played a heady game and caused the Beta's much trouble. For the victors, Mike Welsh and Jack Grove stood out.

Line-ups—Beta's—Welsh, Warren, Curtis, Grove and Hutchins; Phi Beta Delta—Harris, Spector, Goodman, Ellison, and Goldberg.

Last Minute Win

Minnesota Meet Measures Track Prospects Today

Gophers Bring a Balanced Squad for 1st Meet in
Annex Today

Calipers and micrometers will be applied to Wisconsin's indoor track team as it opens the 1928 season in a dual meet against Minnesota in the gymnasium annex at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Graduations, withdrawals, ineligibilities and various other athletic institutions have ripped most of the lining and part of the shell from Wisconsin's 1927 indoor championship machine, and the holes may have to be patched with unseaworthy material or just left open to the weather.

Shows Soph Strength

The meet this afternoon will be valuable in two respects. First, it will give an indication of the sophomore strength of this year's squad, and second, it will show whether last year's veterans who remain have improved in their respective events.

Minnesota brings what looks like a well-balanced squad, including several good runners, and a particularly strong group of field event men.

George Otterness, forward on the Minnesota basketball team which meets Wisconsin tonight has been entered in three events, the pole vault, the high hurdles, and the high jump, but it is unlikely that he will compete in more than one if he gets into a track suit at all.

Runs Interesting

The quarter mile run, in which Wisconsin has Smith, Stowe, and Ramsey, may develop into a hot-foot contest, for Catlin and Rhea of the Minnesota squad are reputed pretty hasty at getting over the 440.

In the half-mile run, Bernhagen and Chalgren of Minnesota, appear to have a slight edge on Wetzel, Arne and Stowe of Wisconsin. Bernhagen was a middle distance star last season and should take a galloping first.

Give Entry List

Crowley in the pole vault, Rhea in the high jump, and Laemmle, a snappy shot putter, are Minnesota men who will undoubtedly score points.

The complete entry list follows:

Pole Vault—Wis.—Mayer, Molsen, Olson, Lemmer, Johnson; Minn.—Crowley, Otterness, Collins, Cairns.

40-Yard Dash—Wis.—Smith, Benson, Ramsey, Lange, Francis, Larson, Murphy; Minn.—Rhea, Catlin, Kyde, Maltitz, Cina.

One Mile—Wis.—Petaja, Thompson, Wall, Icko, McGowan, Bloss; Minn.—Anderson, Basset, Strain, North.

40-Yard High Hurdles—Wis.—Pahlmeyer, Murphy, Molsen, Zieze, Stehr, Minn.—Jacobs, Otterness, Card, Messner.

Quarter Mile—Wis.—Smith, Stowe, Ramsey, Hunkel, Kanals, Levy, Francis; Minn.—Catlin, Rhea, Chalgren, Bernhagen.

High Hurdles and Finals—Two Mile—Wis.—Bullamore, Burgess, Folsom, Eggers, Bless, Wolgemuth, McLeod; Minn.—North Etter, Aker, Collins.

High Jump—Wis.—Braatz, Barnes, Molsen, Warren, McHugh, Fife; Minn.—Rhea, Otterness, Messner, Catlin.

Shot Put—Wis. Wagner, Shomaker, Warren, Comeran; Minn.—Laemmle, Johnson, Emlein.

minute rally fell one point short of tying the score. Frisch, Phi Sig forward showed up well at the forward position, while Bernstein of the same team played a nice game at guard.

Line-ups—Chi Phi—Dern, Brown, Thompson, Jensen and Bolton; Phi Sigma Delta—Frisch, Berner, Slavin, Bernstein, and Pasch.

We Sound the Alarm

IF YOU DO not care whether you live or die, you will not be interested in this editorial. Starting today, The Daily Cardinal will begin a campaign against a condition that seriously affects you. Upon the success of this campaign depends the proper protection of lives and property in Madison and in the fraternity district. For years we have joined in the joking that prevails at the expense of the Madison fire department. Ever since we first came to this City of the Four Lakes we have been amused at the fire fighting facilities. It seems to be collegiate to stand around at a fire and cheer and joke at the activity of Madison's fire fighting force, but it is high time for more thinking and doing than cheering and joking.

The year before last, three serious fraternity house fires occurred and this year a girls' rooming house burned. All of these fires involved heavy financial losses and greatly endangered the lives of students and adjoining property. It is very obvious, therefore, that the adequacy of Madison's fire fighting facilities is a matter of vital concern to the university community.

A resolution was announced Thursday by the Madison real estate board which urged the strict enforcement of the present fire ordinance and the prevention of an amendment which would give the city council the power to exercise its best judgment in granting permits for moving buildings from one site to another within the fire zone. This resolution furnishes an admirable opening wedge for our campaign. Nothing could have been more fortunate for our cause than the request of Davis, Neff and Bower to move their non-fireproof clinic building within the fire zone.

The Madison real estate board is perfectly right in its stand against the amendment of the fire ordinance. A summary of the board's position follows: The permission to move a building contrary to the fire ordinance will deluge the city council with similar applications; the common good should be considered rather than special interests the weakening of the fire zoning law will greatly lessen the city's fight for a lower basic insurance rate.

Madison has a high fire insurance rate and without question, to weaken the fire ordinance would not better chances for lowering the rate. Why Madison has a high insurance rate, why the average number of fires and the average annual loss per fire is very high is as much a matter of our consideration as it is that of any resident in this city. There is something wrong here and because we do not care to be subjected to an unnecessary hazard, because we are interested in the life and welfare of townspeople and students or "town and gown" as it used to be so poetically phrased, we have made an investigation of the situation and by that we do not mean a mere hasty, superficial survey, but a careful, scientific research of the Madison fire department, the fire alarm system, structural conditions and hazards, storage and regulations governing explosives and inflammables, electric wiring, and the general conflagration hazard in the city.

In our news and editorial columns we will give the results of this survey of fire conditions and the progress of further query into the situation. We are not prejudiced unless you would call the desire for the best possible fire protection by that name; we are not looking around for something to do, for we have plenty, but we are going to bring to the attention of our readers certain faults in the fire fighting facilities of the city, not because we have any quarrel to pick with the department, let it be understood, because we certainly have nothing of the kind, but that conditions being as they are, they should be improved and will not be unless public pressure is brought to bear.

The campaign will not be destructive; we will not criticize for criticism's sake alone, but by the campaign's close we will have offered a constructive program for an improvement of the present poverty of protection.

Broader Horizons

PROF ROE urges students to attend "The Beggar's Opera"; Prof. C. F. Gilman points out the fact that beautiful paintings are being constantly exhibited in the gallery room of the library; the opera sells out and a special matinee is scheduled—all of which goes to show that students and faculty members are not adverse to a little culture along with the business of acquiring an education.

It has long been charged, even by some eminent educators, that the American university has failed to fulfill its mission in life, that it gives nothing but bare facts, and that students come out of educational institutions either too practical and with no cultural background whatever or too idealistic, too well-polished mentally, and failures as practical business and professional people. Such an accusation has often been true. The tendency before the beginning of this century was toward cultural attainment; lately the practical side of education has been stressed. Today we find the university body accepting both as necessary requisites of a liberal education.

Wisconsin students, through their patronage of the high class entertainments brought here by Union board and other student organizations, have shown themselves to be in the admirable position of combining with their regular educational courses outside influences which can not help but widen mental horizons and broaden social vistas.

OTHER EDITORS SAY

HONOR SICKNESS (The New Student)

Yale's honor system may be abolished by a referendum to be held after the mid-year examinations. The student council called for the vote after drawing up resolutions accusing the students of "failing to express in any appreciable numbers their disapproval of cribbing."

It was also announced that the honor pledge, heretofore signed before each test and examination, would be abolished because "the separate pledge on each paper is no longer a deterrent to cribbing."

The students are faced with the alternative of making their pledges valid, or returning to the faculty proctor system.

Yale is not alone in her troubles. Almost every college in the country, now that examinations are at hand, is facing the same question, and numerous honor systems seemingly are facing their last charge.

THREE YEARS AGO

Jack Ryan, head coach of the Wisconsin football team for the past two years, resigned his position today as the result of the non-committal policy of the athletic department in regard to his possible chance to be permanent head coach. The resignation was tendered to Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, and should it be accepted, Ryan will probably be succeeded by George Little, newly elected director of athletics.

The reports that had been circulated throughout the country on his claims that death can be averted were termed as false by Prof. M. F. Guyer yesterday. In a lecture on "Recent Developments in Zoology," Prof. Guyer claims that he merely said that tissues could be kept alive for a time after they had been removed from the living body.

TWO YEARS AGO

Figures made public from the office of the secretary of the faculty yesterday branded fictitious the interview with Dean Harry Glicksman, in which the dean was quoted as saying that there were 800 more students here than there was room for, and hence a large number were being flunked out.

ONE YEAR AGO

Prof. George Bryan and Prof. R. J. Roarck left this morning for Chicago en route to New York and thence to South Africa where they will collect plant and animal specimens and do big game hunting.

The Badger basketball team will reopen the Big Ten season here tomorrow night with the Maroon clash. Earlier in the season, Wisconsin defeated Chicago in the Midway gymnasium.

We called, they came, humanity will be appeased. In hordes from the eating clubs, in droves from the Experimental college, and from just places they came. First the bottles were thrown out of the back office of the Cardinal and then police reserves were summoned to keep Porter at then end of the line in Porter Butt's office from committing mayhem in their anxiety.

Anyone else desiring to appear before "our public" may write a column and leave it in the contrib box in the office with name and telephone number attached.

One thing that I am thankful is that Frank Holt, the State Journal, and all the assistant registrar here at last settled the question of just HOW MANY and just WHY so many students have left Wis.

Section 2—Officers. The officers of the Union council shall be as follows: Chairman—President of the Wisconsin Men's Union.

Vice-chairman—President of Women's Self Government association. Secretary—House Director. Treasurer—Steward.

Duties of officers. The chairman shall preside at all meetings of the Union council and of The Wisconsin Union, and perform such other duties as are incumbent upon the office.

The vice-chairman shall fulfill all the duties of the chairman in his absence.

The secretary shall keep all records and the minutes of all meetings, and perform such other duties as are provided by the Union council.

The treasurer shall keep the financial accounts of The Wisconsin Union—making such reports as are requested by the Union council.

Section 3—Executive Committee. The Union council at its discretion may authorize the officers, together with other members of the council if it so choose, to serve an Executive committee, acting for the council between its sittings.

Section 4—Functions. The Union council shall direct the administration of the affairs of The Wisconsin Union and of the Memorial Union building, subject to the counsel and approval of the Board of Regents.

All groups or individuals having jurisdiction in the Memorial Union building, or using the building, shall be responsible to the Union council. The council shall have the power, provided it does not supersede university rules, to govern the activities of members, guests, organizations in the building, and may suspend membership, deny the privileges of the building, and (or) impose fines to maintain discipline.

The Union council at its annual meeting shall approve and recommend to the regents for adoption all budgets for the Memorial Union building or involving the student fee. The Union council shall recommend to the regents the apportionment of the women's student fee between the Memorial Union and Lathrop hall.

The Union council shall recommend to the president or business manager for appointment by the regents the principal administrative officers of the Memorial Union building and the administrative officers of such other activities as are financed through student fees. These administrative officers shall be responsible to the Board of Regents through the business manager of the university for the financial management of their respective departments, but shall accept guidance in the performance of their duties from the Union council. The officers of the Memorial Union building shall consider authoritative

Bulletin Board

This column is for the use of all organizations and university staff members who wish to reach large groups readily. No charge is made for notices. Notices may be brought to the editorial office at 722 Langdon street, or phoned to Badger 250, before 5 o'clock of the day preceeding publication.

Bowling

There will be open bowling for all university women Monday and Wednesday nights for 7 to 9 p. m.

Women's Intramurals

Those groups which have entered teams in the women's intramural bowling and swimming tournaments and have not handed in complete lists of players should do so at once. These lists may be left in the W. A. A. office in Lathrop hall or in Miss Basset's office on the fourth floor of Lathrop.

W. A. A. Dues

W. A. A. dues for the year must be paid at the association meeting Wednesday night. For those who did not pay their dues last semester, the assessment will be one dollar plus a 25 cent fine; dues for the second semester alone will be 50 cents. Anyone not paying these dues will be subject to suspension from the association.

WOMAN'S MIXER SATURDAY

A tea for all new university women will be given in Lathrop parlors, Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. Dean F. Louise Nardin and Dean E. B. Davis will be guests. The members of the W. S. G. A. council, members of the Crucible, the Junior women's honorary society, and members of the Sophomore advisory system will also attend. This tea will give the 86 new women at Wisconsin an opportunity to meet new friends.

LUTHER LEAGUE

There will be a social hour and cost supper at the Luther Memorial church on Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Soldan will speak on "Worship" at the Luther league meeting.

PYTHIA

Preliminary tryouts for membership in Pythia literary society will be held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, Feb. 14 and 15, in the W. S. G. A. reading room, Lathrop hall. For further information, call Elizabeth Murphy, B. 1799.

TRYOUTS CONTINUED

Continuing his efforts to select a cast for "The Swan," Prof. William C. Troutman announced yesterday that he will hold tryouts again at 9 o'clock this morning, in Bascom theater.

member and for a term expiring with the succeeding regular election or appointment.
The Union council shall formulate its own rules of procedure. Subject to the approval of the Board of Regents, the Union council shall exercise all powers not herein especially assigned.
Article V—Administration
Section 1—House Director. The house director shall be the administrative officer generally responsible for the Memorial Union building. The house director shall be employed by the Board of Regents, which shall take into consideration the recommendation of the Union council and the president. The house director shall be charged with integrating and coordinating all the various functions of the building and the interests of all the various groups served by the building. The house director, working closely with the student officers, will provide an essential element of continuity to their work.

The house director, at the close of each fiscal year, shall make a complete report showing the operations of the Memorial Union, which he shall submit, together with a financial statement, to the Union council for transmission to the Board of Regents.

The house director may act for the Union council, discharging the functions of the Union council, when so requested by the Union council.

The house director shall be ex-officio member of all house committees. His further functions in the building, beyond his responsibility to the Board of Regents, shall be as the Union council may provide.

Section 2—Steward. The steward shall be the university director of dormitories and commons, employed by the Board of Regents through the business manager. The Union council may make recommendations concerning his employment to the business manager.

He shall be charged with the responsibility for the food service of the building. His further functions in the building shall be as the Union council may provide, subject to the approval of the Board of Regents.

To coordinate his work with that of the house director, the steward shall submit to the house director regular reports of the activities of the departments under his supervision.

The steward shall be ex-officio a member of all house committees dealing with food service.

Section 3—House Committees. The house committees shall plan for and oversee the functioning of the rooms under their respective jurisdictions, submitting recommendations to the Union council and carrying them into effect in cooperation with the house director and the steward.

These committees shall consist predominantly of students, but may include faculty members and alumni. The chairman of house committees shall be appointed by the Union council and shall be responsible to the Union council.

The chairman of house committees ordinarily shall be appointed from the membership of the organized units of the Wisconsin Men's Union and the Women's Self Government association.

A Marvel of National Defense

From this 2½-acre deck, Uncle Sam's battle planes can now leap into action—sure of a landing place on their return, though a thousand miles from shore.

This marvel of national defense was accomplished—and duplicated
—when the airplane carrier,
U.S.S. Saratoga, and her sister ship, U.S.S. Lexington, were completely electrified.

In each, four G-E turbine-generators deliver enough power to drive the ship at 39 miles an hour.

The design and construction of the electric equipment for the U.S.S. Saratoga and the U.S.S.
Lexington, to which college-trained men contributed in great measure, exemplify the part General Electric plays in promoting the welfare of

in the entire city. Added to this are the prevalent high winds and the danger of extended periods of severe cold weather, hindering both the quick response of apparatus and adding to the difficulty of fighting the fire.

To remedy the conditions there should be at least three inspections annually by the university, these to be supplemented by effective inspection monthly by the fire department. Special attention should be given to conditions in basements and to accumulation of trash in cellars and near buildings.

The construction of the dwellings in these sections are poor and cannot be remedied, but the necessity of adequate inspection cannot be avoided.

BADGERS NEED CAGE WIN OVER GOPHERS

night, Minnesota will have an offense in him alone. The diminutive Stark also makes his share of points as does the giant Williams at center. Capt. Mally Nydahl is reputed to be the best all-around player on the team at the running guard position. He directs the play of his team, is a classy dribbler and gets open for plenty of shots.

Regulars May Start

The same team that started against Notre Dame is expected to start against Minnesota. Capt. Behr and Andrews will probably be at the forward positions with Tenhopen ready to relieve either of them. Foster will undoubtedly be at center, and George Nelson at one guard with either Lyman Miller or Johnny Doyle at the other. Because of his good showing against Notre Dame, Miller is expected to get first call.

To win tonight, Wisconsin must snap out of the apparent slump that was evident in the Illinois and Notre Dame games. After displaying sparkling basketball in the first three games against Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota, the Badgers have been playing mediocre basketball. If Wisconsin decisively whips Minnesota tonight it will be rated as a strong contender for the Big Ten title, but if Minnesota wins or gives the Badgers a close game Wisconsin will not be considered in a class with Purdue, especially if the Maroon and Gold should turn in a victory.

Student Held

Pleads Not Guilty in Superior Court to the Theft of Blankets

Robert Halprin, university student from Oak Park, Ill., was held under $100 bond for hearing Saturday when he pleaded not guilty in Superior court yesterday to a petty larceny charge.

The student, it is alleged, took with him two blankets when he moved from the rooming house of Lewis Fraust two days ago. Halprin claimed that he owned two blankets which were in his room at the Fraust residence, but that, a short time ago, the rooming house proprietor placed his own name on the blankets.

When baseball was made a Western conference sport?

In 1888. The old Northwestern league in which the nine played came under the control of the present Western conference. Wisconsin won second place that year.
