VOL. XXXII. NO. 115

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON, FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1923

PRICE 5 CENTS

ALPHA XIS BUY LAKE FRONT LOT FOR NEW HOME

Sorority to Have Own Roadway

Sorority "alley" will lose one of its oldest residents.

Announcement was made by the Alpha Xi Delta sorority last night that transactions have been completed for the purchase of a lot along the Mendota lake front with private driveway to Langdon street.

The chapter closed a deal yesterday with the Washington Security company, Washington building, whereby the lot, 200 by 66 feet, was transferred in title to the sorority. Plans are being made now by the chapter's building committee for the engagement of an architect.

Break Ground Soon

Actual work in breaking the ground will start as soon as the architectural plans are accepted and the weather conditions permit.

A private driveway, 10 feet in width, is stipulated for in the contract. The exact location of the lot is at 12 Langdon street with the Delta Zeta sorority adjoining to the east and a lot owned by the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity to the west.

An alumna of the chapter, Mrs. Pembroke Brown '14, has been in Madison since September for the express purpose of arranging for purchase of the lot and building of the new home.

Chapter Founded in 1904

Assisting Mrs. Brown will be the officers of the chapter: Beatrice Walker '24, law, president; Emmylou Sheltman '24, vice-president; Pauline Temples '24, treasurer; and Lila Ekern '24, secretary.

The sorority was founded at Lombard college, Galesburg, Ill., in 1892 and now has 33 chapters, 24 of which are active. The Wisconsin chapter was established in 1904 and has its present house at 434 Sterling place.

Tentative plans for the lake home are being made on an elaborate scale, although announcement is being withheld of the estimate cost.

GLEE CLUB LEAVES FOR CONTEST IN NEW YORK

The Glee club left yesterday afternoon for Chicago. From there it will go to New York to sing in the competition in Carnegie hall. Only 19 men left because five were declared ineligible.

Skull and Crescent is canvassing fraternities for donations to help send the men to New York. The Eastern college glee club association gave $700 and it was up to the university to give the rest.

The club will stay in New York until Sunday, and then it will go to Washington D. C. returning to Madison about Monday evening.

Donations from fraternities have proved favorable and it is very probable the necessary sum will be raised.

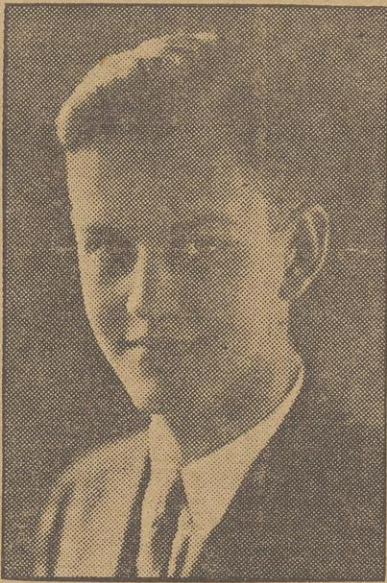

The annual spring concert of the club will be given in Music hall, Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10. This is the only Madison appearance of the glee club during the year and is given immediately preceding the spring trip. Professor Swinney will announce the program for both evenings when he returns from New York Monday evening.

Skating to Music Postponed

Because of Condition of Ice

Due to the poor conditions of the ice, there will be no skating to music on the Mendota rink this week-end. The band shack and lights have been removed temporarily but will be put back as soon as the warm weather lets up and the ice is again in good condition, according to George W. Martin, who is in charge of winter sports.

PEP BOOSTERS HOLD MEETING

Organization to Promote En- thusiasm in Sports is Formed

A number of Wisconsin athletic boosters met last night at the call of Ez Crane '24, Varsity cheer leader, for the initial meeting of an organization for the promotion of a greater athletic spirit and enthusiasm.

Preliminary plans for the remainder of the semester and the means by which the organization can promote this spirit were discussed.

The organization plans to be familiar with the new yells which are to be tried out at the Minnesota game tomorrow night and probably will assist the cheer leader in introducing them.

Another meeting will be held within a few days to perfect certain plans which were under discussion. From time to time the organization plans to ask various athletic boosters to join.

Gus Tebell '23, Rolie Williams '23, Marty Below '24, Lee Hanson '24, George Walsted '25, Bill Sables '26, Bud Perry '25, Ken Gardner '25, Sam Thompson '24, Gene Thurtar '25, Frank Gerhausen '23, Bob Salisbury '25, Jerry Bjerke '25, Elmer Boehringer '25, Dutch Griffith '26, T. Savy '26, Bud Smith '26 and Tommy McLean '25 were present at the meeting last night.

"I am very much in favor of such an organization," Prof. T. E. Jones, director of athletics, said to Crane when asked for his opinion of the organization.

"I will give you all the help I can, and give you work to do which will boost the spirit of the university," Jones continued.

"It is a fine organization with a constructive plan and I'll give you all the support that I can," Marty Below, football captain-elect, said at the meeting.

Methodists Expect Crowd at Student Rally Tonight

With every ticket sold several days ago, and more than 100 students turned away, the Methodist Student rally supper tonight at 5:30 o'clock at the university Methodist church will surpass in attendance all previous banquets, leaders have declared.

Dr. W. E. J. Gratz, national director of institutes for the Methodist Episcopal church, will speak and the Methodist senators will be guests at the supper.

The supper is being held at this time to aid the Religious conference. It will be the opening event of the program planned by the University Methodist church for the week-end. Other events will include a special cost supper Sunday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock for all Methodist students and any others who can come. This will be followed at 6:30 o'clock by the regular Epworth League service at which Doctor Gratz will speak.

WALTER NAMED 1924 CHAIRMAN OF HOMECOMING

Allan W. Walter '24, Mendota, Ill., was appointed general chairman of the 1923 annual University of Wisconsin Homecoming celebration, at a meeting held by the athletic board in the gymnasium yesterday noon.

Walter was chairman of the arrangements committee last Homecoming. He is an associate editor of the 1924 Badger and the Athletic Review.

Ezra Crane '23, was appointed Varsity cheerleader. Crane has been leading cheers since the departure of Gustave Tuckerman for Europe. He worked under Tuckerman during the past football season.

The athletic board also listened to discussion by Coach Hitchcock on a recommendation for change of requirements for "W" awards in wrestling.

OXFORD MAN TO SPEAK ON NATIONS' LEAGUE

Kenneth Lindsay, former member of the Oxford university debating club and at one time president of the Oxford union, will give his views on English politics and the League of Nations at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He comes to Madison under the auspices of the International club.

Mr. Lindsay is well known in economic circles both in England and in this country. The debating team of which he was a member recently debated Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Swarthmore, and other universities on the league of nations question. The Oxford union, of which Mr. Lindsay was president in 1922, already has contributed four prime ministers to English politics.

Final honors in modern history have been attained by Mr. Lindsay and he is at present travelling on a fellowship awarded him by the Worker's Education bureau. He is on his way from the Universities of Michigan and Illinois to those of Minnesota and other states farther west. He is making a special study of labor conditions in this country during his stay.

Mr. Lindsay was an exhibitioner at Worcester college, Oxford, served for three years in the war, and returned to Oxford in 1919. There he became the first president of the Oxford University Labor club.

Humorous, well-informed and the possessor of a charming personality, Mr. Lindsay is a stimulating and able speaker.

Mathematicians Hear Davis on Differentiation

"Fractional Differentiation" was the subject of a talk given by Harold T. Davis, instructor in the mathematics department, at a meeting of the Mathematics club at 4:30 o'clock yesterday.

Mr. Davis explained the theory of fractional differentiation which allows a fractional integration or differentiation and reduces to ordinary calculus. It is applied to the theory of integral equation which is a branch of mathematics developed during the last 25 years. The talk was followed by questions and discussion. Professor Arnold Dresden presided over the meeting.

WEATHER: UNSETTLED

ALUMS PRAISE RADIO SERVICE

University Station Receives Letters From Grads About Cage Games

"Five hundred letters from all parts of the country express the appreciation of alumni for the radio basketball games," M. P. Hanson, head of the university radio station that broadcasted the Michigan and Purdue games, said yesterday.

"Wisconsin athletics are receiving a nation-wide boost through the broadcasting of these basketball games," Coach Jones declared.

Statistics given out by the radio department yesterday show that many radio enthusiasts more than a thousand miles from the university have received reports of the games direct from the gym floor. Letters from 34 states, including Washington and Texas and messages from the Atlantic coast and Canada show a nationwide interest in Wisconsin basketball.

A radio enthusiast from Kansas writes, "Along with your 4,000 odd rooters I sat on the edge of my chair before a loud speaker, 11 miles from a railroad in a little Kansas oil field camp, listening to the return of the Wisconsin-Purdue game tonight."

Writing of the game, E. E. Smith '22 of Jacksonville, Ill. says "the yelling and cheering by the crowd almost made it seem as though I were once more in the old gym seeing the team myself."

Almie Morton, an alumnus from Webster Grove, Mo. writes, "Michigan game was great. Your service is a boon to homesick alumni. Other Wisconsin alumni in Webster Groves are going to be seated around our loud speaker from now on while Wisconsin battles its way to the top of the conference list."

"Sounds good to an 'old grad' way down in Oklahoma to receive a broadcasting entertainment from his alma mater," says A. D. Burke, associate professor of dairying from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Co-op Rebates Not to Be Given Out For Two Weeks

Rebates to members of the University Co-op, which were to have been distributed the first of this month will not be out for two weeks, it was announced yesterday. Auditors are now working on the books, and will have the rebates ready for distribution about the middle of March. The Co-op paid 20 per cent to members last year.

Dr. John R. Mott Will Be Speaker

The university will enter into the all-university Religious conference at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon when Dr. John R. Mott, international religious leader, will address the opening convocation in Lathrop hall gymnasium.

Classes have been ordered dismissed for the 3:30 hour, making the first official all-university convocation of the year. The title of the address by Dr. Mott is "The Present World Situation and its Demand on the American University."

President Birge will preside at the meeting and will introduce the speaker, and the Fiske quartet of the Fiske university will sing negro "spirituals."

Many faculty members as well as students will attend the meetings this week-end. Ushers for all the meetings have been provided under the direction of Alan Walter '24, and the entire lower floor has been set aside for university students and faculty.

Faculty Luncheon To Open Events

The largest faculty luncheon ever held in preparation for a religious conference will take place this noon in the Y. M. C. A. parlors when Dr. Mott will address the professors of the university, according to present indications.

One hundred and sixty-five men and women have signified their intention of attending the noon luncheon. This is twice as many as attended the faculty luncheon last year.

Only professors have been invited to attend the faculty meeting because of the limited space in which they can be accommodated. Plans and means of furthering the conference will be discussed at the meeting following the talk by Dr. Mott.

The professor's meeting will be directed by Professor A. B. Hall who will act as chairman of the meeting.

Many Alumni

Arrive For Weekend

A telegram was received yesterday by Frederick E. Wolfe, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. from Coach J. W. Wilce of Ohio who was president of the Y. M. C. A. here in '10 when Mott last spoke at the university.

Wilce will be in Madison for the conference and will lead several of the minor meetings. His telegram follows:

"Regret Cleveland speaking engagement prevents presence at banquet Thursday. Trust all elements may cooperate to make Mott conference of 1923 of greatest value. Mott meetings in 1910 were great help to me. Hope students"

NOMINATE CANDIDATES FOR S. G. A. OFFICES

Nominations for next year's officers for S. G. A. were made at the annual spring mass meeting last night in Lathrop hall. Nominations were made from the floor. Keystone made one nomination for each office. The elections will be some time this month, probably at the same time as those for the Y. W. C. A. and W. A. A.

Those nominated for president are Katherine O'Shea '24, Lois Jacobs '24 and Anita Haven '24; for vice president, Hilda Schulz '24, Dorothy Meyer '26 and Harriette Greene '24.

Nominees for the office of secretary are Janet Cumming '24, Lila Ekern '24, Josephine McCoy '24 and Jean Palica '25; for treasurer, Arleen Kling '24, Clara Hertzberg '25, and Elizabeth Mahorney '25; for census chairman, Hazel Weingandt '25, Margaret Patch '26, Sarah Wild '24 and Mary Pidcoe '26.

MUSIC EVENTS HERE ARE FINE

Morphy Plays Students For Neglect of Madison Attractions

A crusade for the utilization of Madison's wealth of good music and store of aesthetic enjoyment, was launched last night by Major E. W. Morphy, band leader, in an interview.

"Although Madison has countless musical activities of the highest order during the school year, students insist on going to Chicago for musical culture. I can't understand it. Madison has the opportunity for the best there is in the musical world but most of the students do not know that this opportunity exists."

In the rush and stress of university life, according to Major Morphy, one of the hardest things to settle in the student mind is to place a valuation upon the various activities and functions demanding attention. To advertise music as being classical or bordering thereupon, is to insure that there will be lack of attendance.

"If approached in a proper mental attitude and in an unbiased fashion, there is nothing about the most severely classical composition which cannot be thoroughly appreciated by anyone."

"The lower forms of music naturally make their appeal through the preponderance of rhythm. This appreciation for rhythm is one of the first channels through which one may come to an appreciation of the so-called classical. Our musical organizations on the campus are going their utmost to bring to the attention of the student body the lasting happiness to be derived from intimacy with the world's musical masterpieces."

AG STUDENTS IN HOME EC LABS SEE WONDERS

Many students in the Ag. college took advantage of a recent invitation to go through the Home Ec. building and practice cottage.

The surprised remarks heard when they walked into one of the labs and saw spring hats trimmed with flowers, fruit, or ribbons brought forth smiles from the makers. Some trouble was incurred in the dietetics lab, when the visitors tried to eat the 100 calorie portions which were on display.

Great interest was shown, however, in the dye rooms, where rain-bow and iridescent silk negligees were being tied and dyed. Previously dyed pieces were on display, and called forth many exclamations as to how such intricate patterns could be worked out on batiks, block prints, and tied and dyed work.

Sixteen hand operated looms were quite a rare treat for most of the guests who had never seen one in operation before. Although comments were made to the effect that many people could weave who had never gone to college, they also appreciated the fact that there are few girls now who have an opportunity to learn how to operate a loom and work out different patterns on it for rugs, scarfs, runners and pillows.

French Club "Dresses Up" and Elects New Officers

Members of the French club dressed in peasant costumes representing Daudet's characters held their semester elections of officers Tuesday night in Lathrop parlors. The following officers were elected: George Darby '24, president; Louise Sheffin '24, vice-president; Eton Hocking '25, treasurer; and Dora Ingraham '23, secretary.

"La Mule du Pape" by Dardet, considered one of the best plays ever given by the club was enacted and produced entirely by students. Folk dances and French songs concluded the program after which all the members grouped around the fire and were served refreshments.

84 Cases of Measles

Now Under Quarantine

A total of 84 active cases of measles are now under quarantine in the city, Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh, health officer, reported today. Grippe and scarlet fever are still prevalent in the city but neither are in the epidemic stage. During the first two months of this year a total of 105 cases of measles have been reported in Madison.

Spring Is Near-- But, Oh, So Far

CARD —Spring

Many were the signs (and sighs) for spring around the campus yesterday. The mud and slush and flowing water reminded us that the balmy days are only three weeks off by the calendar.

Conversations overheard told the story of early picnics and hikes in search of the first violet. Ambitious plans for lawn fetes are under way. Advance style books supplant the text book.

Covetous glances were cast at Doc Viner's rink by the horse show enthusiasts and the spring circus fans. One venturesome student was seen trying the lake, but he decided to keep his canoe in storage until next week. After a thorough inspection he reported that swimmers will have to take their ice saws along for this week-end at least.

It is coming. But be patient. It isn't here yet.

BILL ATTACKS SECRET CLUBS

Senate Favors Abolishing Secret Societies in High Schools

The complete barring of high school fraternities from the public schools of Wisconsin was favored by the senate Wednesday when it sent to engrossment the Lange bill forbidding secret societies.

Such a statute is needed, Senator Lange, Eau Claire, declared, in order to break up cliques of students organized in some schools of the state.

The senate voted to abolish the municipal court in Milwaukee and to create two additional branches of the circuit court, transferring to those branches the duties of the tribunal to be abolished.

With little opposition the upper house approved a proposed amendment to the constitution which would permit the state to incur indebtedness in order to establish a farm loan system.

This suggested constitutional amendment passed the 1921 session and if accepted by the assembly will go to the voters for approval in 1924.

Party lines at primary elections in Wisconsin would be obliterated by enactment of the Garey bill, passed by the state senate last night. This proposal of Senator A. E. Garey, Edgerton, would permit voters to scratch their ballots at the primary, voting in.

Kennedy Dairy Will Move Into New Home on June 1

The Kennedy Dairy Co. will move into their new home in the 600 block on West Washington ave. about June 1. The new building will be 133 by 85 feet and will house both the ice cream and milk plants of the company. The building was designed by Edward Tough, Madison architect, and will cost about $200,000.

Over $190,000 was collected in a last minute rush of tax payers on Wednesday in an effort to come under the wire before the official tax collection time closed Thursday. Official figures of the collection have not yet been totaled by Carl Moe, city treasurer, due to approximately 5,000 items being paid through mailed check.

It is estimated that about two weeks will be required to open and list the taxes paid through the mails.

The amounts collected Wednesday were as follows: real estate, $79,116.11; personal, $91,249.60; income, $10,167.06; soldiers educational, $4,917.59; teachers retirement fund, $4,989.92. No delinquent penalty will be inflicted until March 3.

of present generation will realize, and make most of their opportunities."

Others who will arrive for the conference are Jack Childs, Wisconsin's representative in China, "Dad" Eliot, Y. M. C. A. speaker, and A. L. Miller, Indiana's representative in India, a position similar to Childs' in China.

Will Hold Morning Service

Morning services will be held by the male students in the Y. M. C. A. today, tomorrow and Sunday. Today and tomorrow the "morning watches" will be from 7 to 7:30 o'clock and on Sunday from 9:30 to 10 o'clock.

These meetings will be short inspirational gatherings with one of the visiting men acting as leaders. Friday morning, "Dad" Eliot will give a short talk following the services and will conduct the meeting. Childs will conduct the Saturday meeting. Coach Wilce will take charge of the meetings.

All the meetings for the men will be in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. The women also have morning services in Lathrop hall.

All of the above men will be available for interviews, by university students, according to an announcement made yesterday. Arrangements can be made by calling at the Y. M. C. A. office or by calling Henry Smith '25.

Thursday Banquet Opens Conference

The banquet of all the workers in Lathrop parlors last night opened the conference, and according to Gamber Tegtemeyer prophesied a most successful conference.

The speeches by Mr. Miller, Louise Moore and Tegtemeyer appealed to the workers to make the enterprise to the entire university what it is to the small group.

"I am glad to be here with you at this time," said Mr. Miller, "to enjoy with you the privilege of hearing and being inspired by Dr. Mott. Wisconsin is fortunate in having procured him as the principal speaker."

CLARITY NEEDED

A recent Cardinal editorial anent the co-ed rooming-houses has met with considerable comment, some favorable and some not so favorable.

Such a result is entirely natural. Those who believe themselves to be victims of the present rooming house situation would welcome publicity intended to seek out existing faults and injustices. On the other hand, some may have felt extreme cases were cited and that the rooming house situation is not so deplorable after all.

The recent editorial was intended simply to express some of the comment that has been current on the campus for months past. Campuses comment that is not crystallized and given expression binding it together and striving for remedial action will get exactly nowhere.

If there are injustices in the present system, and there appear to be many, the seemingly sensible thing to do is to air the grievances, tell the troubles to the proper authorities, and clear the atmosphere of all malice and injured feelings.

The Cardinal maintains no statistical bureau. Its force has not conducted a canvass to ascertain how much, if any, profiteering is going on. But the members of the staff have heard the rumors and the disquieting remarks—even accusations—that are current on the campus. As long as there is any strong feeling on the subject, it is far better to come out openly with it and provide the safety valve of expression. Accused have an opportunity to answer accusers; it is fair to all concerned.

Those landladies who are universally kind and considerate to their roomers do not wish to be included in a general way with those landladies who are not so considerate nor kindly. And a little frank talk through the communication columns or with the proper authorities will undoubtedly clear up many of the existing problems.

That injustices do exist is evident. But it is believed that they exist in isolated cases only and that a little investigation will remove the more flagrant offenses.

Perhaps some senior might find good material for a thesis on the rooming situation in Madison.

Such a thesis could include the following facts: the various prices paid by students for rooms, the locations of these rooms, their desirability—all points considered—the rent paid by the landlady, a summary of her expenses and the amount of profit that she receives over and above the rental.

Cases of profiteering might be disclosed following such a report. And we believe that the authorities at the university that have aught to do with the rooming problem would welcome such an invitation. Certainly the students would welcome it, together with those landladies who have been conscientious and considerate in their demands.

TEN MINUTES

A good walker can walk a mile in fifteen minutes.

Statistics have proven that. But statistics are not so helpful in telling how much time should be allowed to walk from the fourth floor of Bascom hall to the auditorium of Agricultural hall. Likewise there is no record of how much time is needed to walk from Sterling hall to the Engineering building or to the gym.

In absence of information data, an arbitrary time was allowed of ten minutes from the closing of one class period to the opening of another. It was felt that ten minutes were ample time to permit students to walk from one extremity of the campus to the other.

Ten minutes should be enough time, but the trouble seems to be that the ten minutes are not always given. Too many instructors forget that students have other classes to make on the opposite end of the campus and that they only have ten minutes in which to do so.

The inevitable result is tardiness at the next class, tardiness for which the student should not be blamed, but for which he is nevertheless held to account.

There doubtless would be less tardiness all around if each instructor would dismiss his class promptly on the ringing of the bells.

The Orph Owl

By E. H. S.

There are several good numbers in the bill which opened at the Orph last night and, strange to say the feature is not among them. The Three Melvin Brothers did some sensational and skillful acrobatic work which got away better than such stuff usually does. Belle Montrose, the simpleminded amateur actor, amused us with her naïvete; and Jack, the black face boob, had a line of patter most of which we had not heard before. Quite unusual. The orchestra, we might say, which has sounded as though it were playing it don't know how or what, has improved.

Sullivan & Mack
In "this 'Decided Novelty' the brassiness of the xylophone was certainly decided and novel. But we have a weakness for xylophones and the jazz numbers struck our fancy.

Three Melvin Brothers
They tossed each other around like dolls. "Oh, their muscles," said the fair one behind us, "they're just like Wally's."

Jack George Duo
The set and squawks of the Egyptian tomb were enough to scare any one, even a niggah. Their last scene wasn't in very good taste.

Mack, Velmar and Company
They're nuts, all right. We were relieved to see their attendants call for them. Mack's singing, if you could call it that, made a surprising hit.

Belle Montrose
If this was "Her Only Chance," she made the best of it and also made her partner look sick.

Birds of Paradise
This is the feature of the show so far as the management is concerned. We feel differently. The settings do live up to the advertisement for being "gorgeous," but the melody and rhyme are hardly "de-luxe."

Movie Chats

By CHATTY

"SALOME"
Featuring Nazimova
Presented at the Parkway
Produced by Real Art Players
It was with a great feeling of curiosity that we entered the Parkway yesterday afternoon. What Nazimova would do with Oscar Wilde's play was the question in our mind. After having seen her in Ibsen's "The Doll House," we knew that this Russian actress would adhere closely to every detail of the play. But movies, to be successful, usually need action. And surely there is little of this in Wilde's play.

Nazimova did not leave us long in doubt. Hers was the Salome of what seems to have been Wilde's conception. She was tragic without attempting to be; she was captivating without an effort on her part; but above all she acted her uncertainty, seemed to be looking for the answer to her riddle of life, to a perfect degree. But she did not discover her mystery of love, that was deeper even to her than the mystery of death.

Nazimova seemed at first too diminutive for our conception of Salome. It did not take long, however, for us to accustom ourselves to her stature. Her expressions are something which one does not see in an American moving picture actress. They are not beautiful, but they are unspeakably fitting.

It is unfortunate that parts call for talents which are not always to be found in the actor. Such is the case of opera singers who may have excellent voices but who are totally without the ability to act. Nazimova is required to dance and as a dancer she reminds us a little of Gloria Swanson in "The Gilded Cage." She does passably well and one can easily forgive her lack of dancing ability.

The settings are an entertaining puzzle to us. Done by Natcha Rambova, they follow to a certain extent the futuristic idea so far as we understand that idea. They do seem, however, to be more artistic than any other futuristic settings we have seen before. The curly hair of some of the characters reminded us pleasantly of the hair of the ancient Greek statues.

As for the minor persons in the cast, they are below good; they paled before Nazimova in a rather Column Right!

Books and things—cabbages—
kings—as penciled by Ever Sharp

The lines below the head of this column announce that this space is supposed to be filled with notes on "books and things—cabbages—kings." You wonder what has happened to the things—cabbages and kings? We wonder, too. But our original plan was to confine the column to things pertaining to literature. Somehow or other that plan was changed, not our fault, and we have been unable to get the original scheme out of our minds.

You know how it is. You have always thought that a certain person's name was Symthe. Then all of a sudden, some one tells you that you are utterly in the wrong, that his name is Smith. You try to readjust your thinking apparatus but next time you see the man you call him Symthe. So it goes.

Well, what about kings? We begin backwards. (We're a bit tangled around anyhow.) The first kings that pop into our heads are w-off in New York. And they aren't American kings either, since the nation will not countenance royalty.

They are German, and Russian. It's strange how the oppressed people persist in remaining at the top of the ladder in some walks. We have reference to the Berlin opera and the Moscow players.

Somewhere else on this page (unless the make-up man shifted it in among the ads) Chatty says that American opera singers have a severe failing in that they can't act. According to all reports the singers from Berlin can not only sing but act to perfection. New York is revelling in them, simply revelling.

And why do we talk about kings a thousand miles away? Because, if the Germans' original program is carried out, as seems to be happening, the actor-singers won't be a thousand miles away long. In fact, they will be in Chicago and probably Milwaukee before long.

It is interesting and astonishing pitiable fashion.

You may not like the continual posing and you may not like the ending. It does not end in the proverbial final clinch. Not is there much action before the finish, just a few suicides. But we liked it all. It was relievingly different. Go see it, for it is one of Nazimova's best films and that is saying a good deal.

Tomorrow Night

Enter one drunk, seating himself beside fair damsel, and making her generally miserable. She would go, but a four hour wait for a ticket, and that adorable sweet precious By Barwig going to play. Finally with tears in her eyes she says, "Why do you come to a game in such a condition?"

And he replies: 'Smore reasonable. See two games instead of one.

In spite of the fact that that's where the rub comes, no girl gets close enough to books to rub her nose shiny.

Lots of men have never rubbed noses with books, either!

There are some men so dumb that after having been slapped by a girl they go off in the pink of condition.

ing that a people have such histrionic powers that they can interpret plays to another people, ignorant of their language, through the medium of their native tongue. This is what the Russians are doing in New York. Like their predecessors, the members of the Chauve Souris, and like the singers from Berlin, they are making blase New York sit up and take notice.

Native actors stream into the theater occupied by the Russians hoping to discover the foreigners' secret. They stream out again, their faces tinted with impressed emotion but not shedding any acquired intelligence. George Nathan, of Judge, suggests that the secret is that the Russians make work their calling while the natives make it an art.

Speaking of Chatty, this page has acquired quite a number of pseudonymous writers. We haven't gotten acquainted with them all yet, but this Chatty person isn't so bad. You see, he did us the favor of writing this column last Wednesday. You noticed that it wasn't so good last Wednesday, didn't you? Yes, that's the reason. But we were grateful to him just the same.

Our life is getting to be just one examination after another. We wonder. Are the powers that be trying to make us think that we are back in high school.

Now what about cabbages? Oh yes, the moon last night. And there we were pounding out this column when we might have been—but never mind. Only it wasn't last night that we were writing this, because last night was tonight or is tonight, or—oh well, we had better go back to books.

After seeing that this new novel "Command," left the presses safely, William McFee has once more set out down the Narrows to his home, the open sea, in search of new material. This last book of his is about the Near East, of which he knows much.

The theme of the story deals with patriotism, of how the indifferent hero, English seafaring man, finally learns to know the full meaning of love of country. McFee, who has been working on it for six or seven years, has turned out a novel which surpasses its predecessors.

Approximately 100 hundred students attended the first session of the road school held by the highway commission in the engineering building last night. A. L. Hambrecht, division engineer, spoke on grading, illustrating his lecture with slides.

DEATH RATE SLUMP AIDS AVERAGE LIFE

Wisconsin people will soon live an average life of 100 years if the state death rate continues to decrease as it has after the operation of the state registration of deaths since 1908.

Complete mortality figures for the last year which were announced last Saturday by the state board of health show that only 10 out of every thousand die annually. The average longevity of Wisconsin according to insurance statistics is slightly over 57 years. Kansas is the only state with an average of longer life.

The total tuberculosis deaths, 1,809, were 154 less than for 1921 giving a death rate for that disease of 67.1 per 100,000 population, as compared with 74.6 in the previous year.

Cancer usually marking almost uninterrupted increases in mortality from year to year, scored lower than in 1921 probably due to the great amount of education in the prevention of cancer.

Deaths from all communicable diseases except typhoid showed a marked decline in 1922. These are attributed to contraction camps and some summer resorts where sanitary safeguards were disregarded.

There were 4,043 deaths of children under one year, indicating the vast need for continued health education, the annual mortality statement stated. The figures show this loss is gradually being cut down, however, for approximately 1,000 fewer children are dying annually than before.

Professor Lipari Will Accompany Italian Tour

Prof. Angelo Lipari, who is in charge of the courses in Italian literature and language, will be a member of the students' tour to Italy which will leave on June 30.

Professor Lipari will accompany the students' tour to Italy which has been organized by the Institute of International Education in order to enable American college students to travel more inexpensively, more safely and with greater educational return.

Associates of Dr. Lipari on the trip will be faculty members from Grinnell college, University of Illinois, Smith college and other prominent colleges and schools.

The group will return to this country on September 4. The tour will include visits to all of the important Italian cities.

Coldest February Since 1917, Says Meteorologist

The average temperature for February, 15 degrees, was the lowest since 1917, according to Eric R. Miller, meteorologist and director of the local U. S. Weather bureau. The next coldest February was in 1905, when the temperature averaged 11 degrees. February 1904, with 10 degrees, holds third place. The coldest February on record here was in 1875 when the temperature averaged 3 degrees above zero. The total precipitation here last month was .93 inches, Miller said. The average is 14.7 inches. The snowfall for the month was 10.5 inches.

Engineer's Exams For Coast Guard Set For April

Examinations for cadets and cadet engineers for appointments to the National Guard academy will begin April 16, it has been announced. Applicants from Madison will take their examinations in Chicago. There are an unusual number of vacancies offered this year. The examination is strictly competitive.

Cadets entering the Coast Guard academy have an opportunity to complete their education at the expense of the government and to become commissioned officers of the United States coast guard. After three years at the academy a cadet becomes a commissioned officer in the grade of ensign in the United States Coast guard.

Cadet and cadet engineers receive the same pay as midshipmen in the navy. For further particulars write to the Commandant, U. S. Coast guard, Washington.

BLUE SHIELD REORGANIZES

Club Training Members For Leadership in Smaller Communities

Blue Shield, formerly the Country Life club, has been reorganized recently and expects to do a distinct service by training the hundreds of professional and other students who return to the smaller communities to be real leaders in one or more lines. Many acquire the technical training for their profession, but lack constructive leadership. The community expects these people to assume charge of affairs, and the club has been formed with this in view.

Membership is open to students of the College of Letters and Science as well as agricultural and home economic students. The motto of the club is "Social Service and Culture."

"Community Singing" by Prof. E. B. Gordon of the School of Music; "Play" by Dr. Elsom of the department of physical education; "Rural Education" by Prof. E. M. Tiffany of the College of Agriculture; "Beauty in Rural Life" by F. A. Aust of the College of Agriculture; "Parliamentary Practice" by Mrs. Harry Glicksman, and various others already have been given before the club.

The idea of the club was conceived in 1919 by 12 or 15 students gathered to carry out the present program. The qualities of leadership are expected to be drawn out from the students. Initiation of new members will be held March 14.

Charlie Chaplin Thinks Marriage is Too Costly

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Charlie Chaplin, film comedian, is "too poor" to marry Pola Negri, film tragedienne "just now," the Los Angeles Examiner quoted him yesterday. The Examiner anticipated that midsummer is apt to be upon the couple, whose engagement recently was officially announced at Del Monte, Calif., before they are married. "I am too poor to get married just now," said Chaplin. "This is a working world and we all got to stay busy and keep away from climaxes of sentiment."

OFFER PRIZES FOR DRY TOPIC

$1,000 to Be Given By Association For Prohibition Essays

One thousand dollars in prizes has been offered by the Intercollegiate Prohibition association to student writing the winning essay on "The World Movement Against Alcoholism". The contest is open to all students enrolled in American colleges, universities, normal and other schools of similar rank. Each student may choose the phase of the subject that interests him the most; namely, the scientific, social, economic, moral or industrial aspect. The essay may deal with the problem as it is in the United States, some foreign country or in the world in general.

The essays are to contain not less than 2,000 and not more than 3,000 words, to which a page of biography consulted should be added. Clearness of thought, accuracy and originality will be the points considered by the judges.

The person winning first prize will receive $300.00; second, $200.00; third, $100.00; fourth, $50.00. There will also be five prizes of $25.00 each and ten prizes of $10.00 each. The contest closes June 1, 1934.

Students desiring to enter the contest may obtain more information by writing to the Intercollegiate Prohibition association, Suite 910, 14 West Washington street, Chicago, Ill.

Harding-Hughes League

Court Plan is Now Dead

WASHINGTON—The Harding-Hughes plan for a back door entrance into the league of nations by making the United States a member of the league court was pronounced officially dead for this session of Congress by the administration yesterday.

President Harding told Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee, to drop the proposal now and to make no further effort to get it out of the committee, a majority of whose members are bitterly hostile to it.

The President did not indicate what steps, if any, would be taken to revive the proposal at the next session of the Congress, although it is generally assumed the same influences which are now behind the moves of the President and Secretary Hughes in this direction will be just as active and vigorous when the new Congress convenes.

6 Sailors Burn to Death

as Ship's Boiler Bursts

MANILA—Six enlisted men on the U. S. destroyer Hulbert of the Asiatic fleet were burned to death in an explosion in the boiler room caused by a flare-back of oil. No others were injured.

The Hulbert is a member of the Forty-fifth destroyer division, part of the Asiatic fleet and has been stationed in the far east for more than a year.

The vessel recently returned to Cavite for the winter after visiting a number of Chinese ports. Seven officers and about ninety men comprise the crew. Lieut. Commander F. A. Braisted is in command.

Social Notes

Alpha Epsilon Phi will hold an initiation banquet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the chapter house, 205 North Murray. It will be formal.

Miami Triad Formal Dance

Members of Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi will entertain with a formal dancing party this evening at the Women's building.

These fraternities are known as the Miami Triad as they all were founded at Miami university, Oxford, Ohio, within a period of 15 years. Beta was founded in 1839, Phi Delta in 1848 and Sigma Chi in 1855. They are planning on making this party an annual affair.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Edgar have accepted the invitation to chaperon.

Delta Tau Delta To Entertain

Delta Tau Delta fraternity will entertain informally this evening at the chapter lodge, 16 Mendota court. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Dunn have been invited to chaperon.

Phi Gamma Delta Dancing Party

Roses and shaded lighting effects will be used in decorating the Phi Gamma Delta house for their formal dance to be given tonight.

Those to chaperon are Prof. and Mrs. A. E. Hinman and Mr. and Mrs. Asa Groves.

EXPERTS SEE MARKS CUT AT DRAKE RELAY

Predictions that a number of new records will be set in the fourteenth annual Drake university relay meet at Des Moines, April 27-28, are being made by track experts since the Kansas City Athletic club meet last week at which many old marks were shattered. Most of the athletes who competed there will enter the Drake carnival.

The world pole vault record was broken at the Kansas City meet when Earl McKeown of the Kansas State Normal school vaulted 12 feet 10 inches. The present Drake record is 11 feet 9 1/2 inches, held by Rogers of Kansas.

Poor of Kansas university showed up well in the high jump by clearing the bar at 6 feet 3 inches. Kieth Lloyd of Nebraska is one of the best sprinters expected to compete at Des Moines. Bob Simpson, now coach at Missouri, who holds the Drake record for the 120 yards event at 14 4-5 seconds, has developed several excellent hurdlers, one of whom is his younger brother.

De Paul university will be represented by Egan, who holds the Michigan Aggie meet record for the dash, Fitzmore, Jim and Joe Seeley, Burman and Dunn. Carnegie institute probably will be represented.

GUARD BILL IS GIVEN PRAISE

New York Editor Lauds State Militia Measure Here

Dr. John Haynes Holmes of New York, editor of Unity, has written a letter to Chester C. Platt, state manager of the Nonpartisan league in which he says:

"Thanks most heartily for this letter to UNITY telling me this perfectly wonderful news about 'incredible Wisconsin.' The news is a bit devastating to me, in a way, for only a week or so ago, I was here writing something of a skit in which I was speculating as to what I would do if I were President, and among other things, was imagining certain drastic, and what seemed to me to be rather ridiculous actions in regard to the army and navy and the whole military establishment of the national government.

Now, lo and behold, here, this friend of yours, Polakowski, comes along in your wonderful state and does seriously by a legislative proposal exactly what I was imagining in the fantasies of my own mind, and what I never in the world believed could be true, at least in the period of my lifetime. Hurrah for Wisconsin. This is perfectly wonderful news, especially the favorable report of Polakowski's 'freak bill.' If it can only get through your legislature, it will mark an epoch in the history not merely of Wisconsin, but of the world. Thanks again for letting me and the readers of UNITY know about it. News of this kind is not allowed to appear in our Eastern papers.

Harvey is Assailed

Speech On British War Debt Arouses Discussion In London

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON—Ambassador Harvey's speech of last night, in which he discussed the underlying causes and the nature of Great Britain's war indebtedness to the U. S. evoked expressions of displeasure in British official circles today and gives indications of causing considerable discussion. The foreign office declined to comment on the address but it is reliably stated that Ambassador Harvey's remarks, particularly when, as the case was put, he virtually challenged the British government to issue a statement refuting the Balfour note of last August were considered to be unusual for a foreign envoy.

Report Homes Without Mail Boxes to Washington

A report listing all patrons of the mails who have not equipped their residences with mail receptacles was sent to the postal authorities at Washington today by Postmaster W. A. Devine in preparation of cutting of carrier service to these homes until the order of the department has been complied with.

Orders must be issued from the postmaster general to the local department to stop deliveries and notice of the order will also be sent to the interested parties. About 70 per cent have complied with the order. Persons who are cut off from service will be forced to come to the postoffice to secure their mail.

REPEAL OF RAIL BODY IS UPHELD

Assemblyman Duncan Wants Esch-Cummins Bill Abolished

Thomas M. Duncan, socialist assemblyman from Milwaukee, in a statement today censured the progressives in the lower house regarding a joint resolution memorializing congress to repeal the Esch-Cummins law. The resolution, introduced by Assemblyman John W. Eber, progressive, Milwaukee, was recommended for passage Wednesday by the committee on judiciary.

"Although we favor the repeal of the Esch-Cummins law I fail to see why the progressives do not begin at home by abolishing the state railroad commission," Mr. Duncan said. "The railroad commission is the same in principle as the Esch-Cummins law only worse."

The resolution declared the Esch-Cummins law violates the principles of good business by guaranteeing the owners of railroads a minimum net return upon that "uncertain and intangible thing described in said bill as aggregate value of railroad properties of such carriers."

This grant of privilege is not based on consideration of service rendered but is an exercise of governmental powers for private interest of that particular class holding railroad securities, the resolution avers.

Mr. Duncan declared: "The Esch-Cummins law is practically a copy of the Wisconsin state railroad commission, only the Esch-Cummins law guarantees a return of five and three-quarters per cent, while our railroad commission guarantees eight per cent."

Instructors to Examine Results of Coue Film

Psychology instructors and graduate students of the university are conducting a special investigation of the Coue film which will appear at the Strand theatre this coming week, with the idea of determining whether those who receive the Coue message from the silver sheet will be benefited by it.

Mr. W. G. Payne, assistant professor of Psychology and Mr. Scholtz are of the opinion that many people are sick because of their mental attitude. They believe that if the message is presented in such a way that persons afflicted can realize their power to heal themselves through mental suggestion a long stride has been made for benefiting humanity.

The State Journal has offered to provide free admission tickets for Monday and Tuesday mornings to those who cannot afford to attend the regular afternoon and night performances.

Parkway to Show New Film of Parker's Today

Starting today the Parkway offers Reginald Barker's latest and greatest picture "Hearts Aflame". Barker is one of the greatest directors in the film world having made "The Old Nest" and "The Storm." Now he comes along with the greatest spectacle of them all in "Hearts Aflame", a story of the timberlands based on Harold Titus' novel "Timber". Frank Kennan and Anna Q. Nilsson are the feature players in this sparkling drama of the great out-of-doors. The blowing up of a log dam is but one of the thrills in the picture and the climax comes in a marvelous forest fire much more awe-inspiring than the forest fire in "The Storm".

The comedy on the program will be Bobby Vernon's latest effort called "In Dutch." In this hilarious comedy Bobby has the role of an initiate into a fraternity whose president is his rival for the girl's hand. With this for a plot Christie comedies have produced a comedy that is a scream of laughter from start to finish.

Next Thursday the Parkway offers a double comedy bill in Viola Dana in "June Madness" and Lloyd Hamilton in "No Luck."

Mail orders are now being received for Fritz Kreisler, who appears at the Parkway Monday only March 19th.

LACK OF ROOM CRAMPS LAWS

Librarian Declares Conditions
Are Inadequate For Law School

The Law school library is not large enough for present need, according to Mrs. Sophie M. Briggs, librarian.

Because of lack of space, the books cannot be arranged logically and some of them have to be put in the basement, while others are kept on the third floor, making it extremely inconvenient for the students. Even part of the mens' rest room has to be boarded off and have shelves built in for the overflow of books.

"A law library is one that has to grow" declared Mrs. Briggs, "and ours is a very wonderful one—in fact it is one of the very best in the country."

Current reports and cases are sent in each week from all over the country. It is a constant question as to how room will be found for the arrangement of materials.

Very little "dead" material will be found in the law library, as the Historical and State Law libraries keep on file the reports sent out by the government, making it unnecessary for the Law library to keep them.

The fact that the building is a fire trap was mentioned by the librarian. Many valuable books in the library could not be replaced, should they be destroyed, not because of money but because of their extreme rareness.

Some new books have recently been obtained: Warren's "History of the United States Supreme Court" in three volumes, and Senator Beveridge's "Life of Chief Justice Marshall" in four volumes. These books would be of interest not only to law students, but to students in government as well. The Law school feels very fortunate in obtaining the "Black Book of Admiralty," edited by Sir Travers Twiss. This book, a rare item, is in four volumes, published in 1871 and 1876, and is a collection of laws in French and Latin, relating to the navy. The original manuscripts are preserved in the admiralty archives at Whitehall.

The Law school publishes the "Wisconsin Law Review," a periodical, edited by Professor William Herbert Page of the Law school, who is assisted by the students.

Teachers Return $1,200 Borrowed In January

Most of the 24 teachers forced to borrow funds through the Madison Teacher's Federation paid up their loans Wednesday afternoon with others paying up today when the loans fall due. A total of about $1,200 was loaned out through the federation averaging about $50 for each teacher asking the loan, the committee in charge of the work reported today.

Begin Decoration Of New Coffee Shop

Painting and interior decorating of the old O'Connell & Meyer store was begun yesterday. Sam Woldenberg has returned from Chicago where he selected fixtures to convert the store into an up-to-date coffee shop.

Says National Defense Plan Is Economical

The present plan of national defense was characterized by Col. Frank Ely, chief of staff of the 6th corps area, Chicago, as the most economical and practical scheme ever devised, in an address Wednesday night at the G. A. R. hall.

"Under the plan provided in the national defense act of 1920, this country will be able to throw a well trained army into the field almost immediately," said Col. Ely.

Madison reserve corps officers made initial plans to form a local chapter of the Reserve Corps association. A committee, consisting of H. L. Garner, George Shipley, and Robert Quick, was chosen to make preliminary arrangements.

WOOD DEPLETION NEARS; AMERICA MUST CONSERVE

"The timber resources of the United States are being used four times as fast as they are being replenished," A. O. Benson of the Forest Products laboratory said, in commenting on the forest reserves of the country.

"A national forestry policy which will insure the growth of timber on areas which have been cut over is obviously a necessity to the welfare of the country."

An appropriation bill for the purchase of lands and the establishment of forestry research stations is now under consideration in congress. It is expected that if this measure is passed, the Madison laboratory will receive additional funds with which to carry on its forest products experiments.

"The United States chamber of commerce has made a thorough investigation of the condition of our forests and has submitted a report recommending measures for the conservation of the timber supply," Benson stated.

Welfare Class Discusses Problems Of Families

The third of a series of 10 special training classes in social welfare work sponsored by the Public Welfare association and the Child Welfare board met Wednesday to discuss problems of family welfare.

The organization of these classes grew out of the need for more efficient and trained supervisors to take charge of mother's pension families and persons whose social life has been unfortunate. The classes are already drawing a large attendance of women interested in social service work either as a profession or as an outlet for their desires to be of some service to their communities.

The classes under the direction of Miss Helen Clarke, instructor in sociology at the university, will be held every second and fourth Wednesday at 2:30 at 22 N. Hancock st.

Fifty Oil Salesmen Here For Meeting

"Crude petroleum controls the price of the refined product," said H. J. Bemis, assistant manager for this district of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. Zoning Board Grants Three Building Permits

Building permits were granted to A. W. Siemers, R. C. Watts and William Keeley by the zoning board of appeals.

The permit issued to Mr. Kelley was allowed as he had secured the consent of 75 per cent of the property owners on Regent st., to a garage which he contemplated building on this street. The requested permits of Chester C. Platt, Ben Wrend, and H. A. Philumalee were held up pending further investigation.

Part Of Income Refund To Be Distributed Here

Part of the $750,000 in income taxes which will be refunded if the tax refund appropriation passes the national senate, would be distributed in Madison, according to A. H. Wilkinson, Wisconsin collector, Milwaukee Errors in computation in the offices of the deputy collectors show that tax payers have paid too much.

O'Dea and Schafer, Madison contractors, were awarded the contract to pave highway 26, Johnson Creek, by the Janesville city council yesterday. This contract includes 7,803 square yards of concrete and 2,062 feet of curbing.

To the Class of 1923: A Message of Vital Importance

COMMENCEMENT days are not far off. They will be here sooner than you realize. But after graduation what's ahead of you? In a few years some of your class will be influential leaders occupying positions of great responsibility; others will be placed in minor roles—living from hand to mouth. Thus far you have made a splendid investment of your time. What will the returns be?

Have you chosen business for your life's work? If so, and if you seek leadership in the commercial world, here are facts worthy of your deepest consideration.

The principles of leadership in business are not many in number. They are not hard to grasp. Yet less than two men in one hundred ever learn them.

The two chief reasons for this failure are: (1)—lack of an all-round business experience. (2)—the difficulty of drawing sound conclusions from the relatively few experiences that any one person can have.

A Study of Leaders

Through your studies thus far you have created for yourself a substantial background—a foundation upon which you can build high. Why not use this foundation in the largest possible way? If you are truly ambitious for steady and permanent progress, it will be well for you—in addition to your undergraduate work to consider the advisability of special training which will cut off years of apprenticeship in the business world. This training is available at the Babson Institute—an educational institution organized under the laws of Massachusetts not for profit.

Every man who hopes to be a leader in the business world needs special training—a training that can be had only from actual experience. A study of the successful business men of today shows they are those who have—(1)—a fundamental knowledge of business principles; (2)—a faculty for the practical application of these principles to daily business life.

These tried and proven principles, this gift for application may now be yours.

The Business of Learning Business

The specialists of the Babson Institute have spent years in business research, laboratory work, and the study of the lives of successful men. They have arrived at the fundamentals which every one must have to achieve leadership in business. These vitally important facts have been put together in clear, understandable form and con-

The Laboratory Method

Since it is the purpose of the Babson Institute Course to train men for business, all work and all study is conducted in the same manner as work is conducted in any regularly established business house. For instance, there are regular office hours not merely school hours. Lessons and reports are dictated by the student as in an office—not written. Thus the student acquires a mastery of business English and the ability to transform quickly his thoughts into definite form.

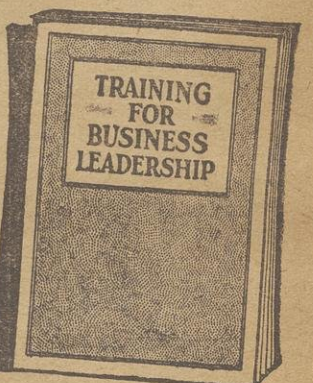

Teaching in Conference

Classes are conducted on the conference plan. The teachers, or directors as they are more properly called, are experienced business men, successful in their own line. Factory inspection trips are not long distance walking matches, but personally conducted tours by experts in that particular industry. The problems discussed are present-day ones and are drawn from actual experience. They are the same problems on which over 17,000 of America's keenest executives are seeking aid and solution from the largest organization of business advisers in the world. The student at Babson Institute works on actual cases—not hypothetical problems—and consequently he develops the business man's point of view.

Business Clinics

The student at the Babson Institute learns to do the things he will be expected to do in business by constant contact with actual business procedure. He participates in the clinic instead of sitting in a class. The training covers the four major divisions of business, Manufacturing and Production, Financing, Distribution and Marketing, and Management.

If you are anxious for achievement, if, by inheritance or initiative, you seem destined to become one of our leaders of business, send for particulars about this training and its unusual teaching methods.

Send for this Booklet!
