PRICE 5 CENTS

TICKETS FOR HOMECOMING HOP ON SALE

Non-dancers May Play Bridge—All Lathrop is Occupied

Ticket sale for the 1921 Homecoming ball, "The Autumn Prom," opens this morning, and all persons planning to attend the dance Saturday night, Oct. 29, are advised to make early reservations, as the number of couples will be limited, according to Arthur F. Marquette '23, chairman of the dance committee.

The tickets will be on sale at Morgan's, the University pharmacy, and the Park hotel, or may be secured at the desks of the university Y. M. C. A., Barnard hall, and Chadbourne hall. The presidents of the different fraternities and sororities will also have a supply of the pasteboards on hand. "Doc" Dorward '23, at B. 975, is in charge of the sale.

The entire third floor of Lathrop hall will be used for the dance. This permits the use of the concert room in addition to the gymnasium. Waxing and rubbing of the floor will be carried out in order to provide the smoothest possible surface for the dancers.

As a reception room for the alumni the parlors on the first floor have been secured. Here the alumni register will be placed in order that late arrivals may have a chance to sign it. Special places for each class to meet will be assigned and announced later.

As a special inducement to non-dancers and to couples who do not care to dance all evening, the committee has arranged to use the S. G. A. room for bridge games. It is hoped that a large number of people who enjoy playing bridge will take advantage of this new plan.

Elaborate plans for decorations are being made. In the gymnasium and concert room, novel lighting effects will be worked out, and shields, flags, and emblems will be used for trimming. Palms will be used on the stage, which will be occupied by the orchestra, and the parlors will be decorated with floral pieces.

BARNARD FIRST IN BADGER DRIVE

Achoth, Theta and Chadbourne
Also Win Group
Prizes

Barnard hall is announced the winner in the 1923 Badger subscription contest, with Achoth second, and Kappa Alpha Theta third. The contest scores show a marked change as a result of Monday's work. The numerical scores will not be published, but the order of finishing is: Barnard, Achoth, Kappa Alpha Theta, Chadbourne, Tri Delta, Chi Omega, Sigma Kappa, Alpha Xi Delta, Phi Mu, Delta Zeta, Kappa Delta, Delta Gamma, Alpha Phi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Phi, Alpha Chi Omega.

There are four group prizes and one individual prize, all solid silver pieces, instead of the conventional loving cup. The individual scores have not yet been computed, but will be announced soon.

Sherman Green '23 announces that the office will be open the rest of this week for those who still want a Badger but failed to sign up during the campaign.

GRID MAN HEADS SOPH TICKET

GEORGE CARLSON

George, Carlson, Chicago, Ill., heads the first ticket to be announced in the sophomore class elections as a candidate for class president. He won his numerals on the freshman football squad and is now a member of the varsity squad. He is assistant editor of organization for the 1923 Badger, a member of the sophomore traditions committee. He is a member of Theta Xi fraternity.

Josephine Snow, Ottawa, Ill., captain of the freshman girl's baseball squad, member of girl's basketball team, winner of second honors in the freshmen girl's swimming meet, and a member of the Dolphin club, is running for vice-president. She is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Edith Jackson, Chicago, Ill., is candidate for secretary. "Dick" is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Gamber F. Tegtmeier, Milwaukee, vice-president of the Sophomore commission and a member of the Y. M. C. A., Inner Circle, is the ticket's candidate for treasurer.

Carl R. Vonnegut, Indianapolis, Ind., is candidate for sergeant-at-arms. He is on the sophomore traditions committee, the Octopus staff, is coxswain of the Commerce crew, and a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and Skull and Crescent.

James W. Powell, Milwaukee, and Carl Schaefer, Highland Park, Ill., are candidates for election to the Student Senate. Powell is sophomore assistant on the 1923 Badger, and was a member of the freshman track squad. He is a member of the sophomore traditions committee, and of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. He was also chairman of Cap night, last year. Schaefer was a member of the freshmen basketball and tennis squads, and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

John B. Emery, Kansas City, Mo., is candidate for Union board on this ticket. He was a member of the staff of the 1922 and 1923 Badger, and a member of the ways and means 1921 Homecoming committee. He is a member of Chi Phi fraternity.

SUMMER GRADS TO APPEAR IN BADGER

Candidates for graduation at the close of summer school are eligible to appear in the 1923 Badger, according to Helen Kasbeer '23, senior editor. Those who plan to graduate next February will also be included if they so desire.

This announcement is made because of the many queries that reached the Badger office. If you are to graduate at either of these times and wish to appear in the 1923 Badger, call or write the senior editor. Pictures must be in by Nov. 15.

Court Dancers To Hear Scores From Champaign Game

Guests at the court dance, to be given by members of Mortar Board Saturday afternoon, Oct. 22, will run no risk of acquiring the epithet "tea-hounds," since the progress of the game at Illinois will be relayed to the four houses in Sterling court, where the dance will be held, from the gymnasium as soon as the news comes in over the special wires leased by the Athletic board.

The four sororities on the court have donated the use of their houses for the Mortar Board dance, which is an annual affair with the purpose of raising money for the Mortar Board scholarship fund. The dance will be run on the jitney plan, ten cents for each dance.

Several popular campus jazz troupes have donated their services for the afternoon, and four complete orchestras will vie with each other to tempt guests from house to house.

FIRST OCTOPUS FOR SALE ON CAMPUS TODAY

Critic Judges It Better Than Any Former Issue

The Octopus is upon us again! Issuing forth in long wiggles from the roof of Bascom hall the spirit of Wisconsin bursts upon an astonished world. Very few of us were ever given the imagination of Heintz Rubel '22. If the Dean of Women had known about the lady's costume, she would probably have taken steps to have the spirit barreled. But she didn't know, and today the spirit of Wisconsin delights the student world—portrayed on the cover of the Octopus.

Art Work Abundant
A word as to the art of this number. Last year's artists are back again, and several new ones have come to light. "Southern Pines" inspire Hub Townsend to a full page drawing of almost professional merit. Ken Fagg has a clever pen and ink of "The Practical Hunter," with the grizzly bending lovingly above him. The magazine is full of pictures and cartoons, all of which have a high standard of excellence.

Homecomings Featured
Among the high-spots is a "words and music" effect, the "Stage Settings of Famous Homecomings." These are not only described, but illustrated, by somebody too modest to sign his drawings, although they are among the most amusing in the book. With our own Homecoming so near in the offing, it is interesting to examine such a study as this of such historical homecomings as those of the Prodigal Son, Memelaus and Helen, Christopher Columbus, Charlie Chaplin, and last, as a fitting conclusion, the homecoming of the Wisconsin alumni.

Editorials Serious
The editorials are the only claim to seriousness that the book puts forth. They are written in a good-natured spirit, but with a good deal of wisdom, like a pill in a sugar coating.

A new feature is the high school page. It is really amazing with what sauvity these youngsters tell their very original jokes. The only word that can be used to describe them is "cute."

The magazine abounds with short jokes and poems. Clever little quips reach out from every page and tickle you in the ribs.

PLUMBERS ARE CHALLENGED BY LAW STUDENTS

Football Game to Benefit
Memorial Union is Purpose

The Law school challenges the College of Engineering to a football game to avenge certain grievances set forth in a legal summons drafted yesterday. The contest is to be staged at a date to be decided upon later if the challenge is accepted by the engineers. All proceeds from the event will be given to the Memorial Union fund.

Alleged injuries suffered by the Law school from the Engineers' welcome and the activities of the College of Engineering in certain parades are mentioned in the challenge. It is to atone for these before the public that the football game is proposed.

The document of the Law school follows:

The Summons
The Varsity Engineers are hereby summoned to appear and answer to the Lawyers of a plea of Wager of Battle. The said Lawyers by Blackstone, their attorney, complain for that whereas, the said Lawyers now are good, true, honest, just and faithful subjects of this institution and as such have always behaved and conducted themselves and until the committing of the several grievances by the said defendants as hereinafter mentioned were always reputed, esteemed and accepted by and amongst all their neighbors to whom they have been in any wise known, to be persons of good name, fame, character and dignity. And whereas, also, the said plaintiffs hath never been guilty, or until the time of the committing of the several grievances by the said defendants as hereinafter mentioned, been suspected to have been guilty of snobishness, physical inferiority, egotism, or any other such heinous crime.

Yet the said defendants well knowing the premises, but greatly envying the happy state and position of the plaintiffs, have committed the several grievances as hereinafter mentioned.

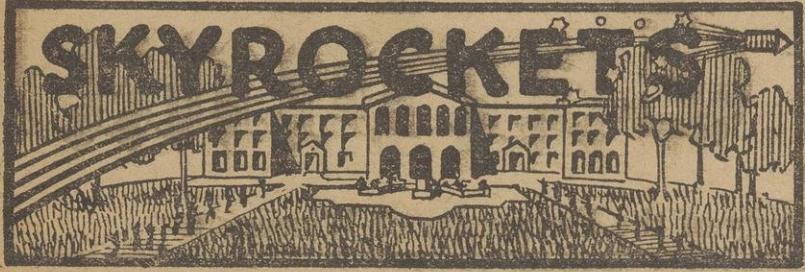

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR "LA VOLEUR"

Press Club to Entertain Frosh
Scribes at Friday
Frolic

The cast was announced yesterday for "La Voleur," a one act farce to be "La Voleur," a one act farce to be presented by members of the University Press club at their Freshman frolic in the concert room, Lathrop hall at 8:15 o'clock Friday night, Oct. 21.

Eddie, the timorous heroine, whose feminine fearsomeness is responsible for the farce, will be played by Mary Bridgeman '22. Kenneth Fagg '23 will interpret the important role of Bob, the neighbor boy. Hickman Powell '23, and Katherine Rockwell '22, will take the parts of Eddie's parents and Charles Demarest '24, will play Fielding. William J. Tannewitz '23 is acting as coach.

The program Friday night is to introduce the Press club to freshmen and new students in the course in journalism and those interested in journalism and press activities. Tickets may be received from members of the Press club or at the door for 50 cents.

There are windows that call forth appreciation of the artistic; there are windows where no mean models are displayed; and there are the literarily famous French windows that afford the pleasure of an easy escape. But believe us, for a combination of art, pleasure, and fashion, there are no windows like those on the second floor across the way.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

FIRST EASTERN GAMES UPSET GRIDIRON DOPE

Chicago-Princeton Tilt to Be Week's Biggest Attraction

Last Saturday marked the official beginning of football throughout the entire east. Several of the battles were hard-fought and several of them had much bearing on the intercollegiate supremacy of the east.

The leading game of the day was the Navy-Tiger clash which took place at Annapolis. The Princeton team was considerably weakened by the loss of Lourie and Garrity, two stars who were on the hospital list. This fact, combined with a 50 yard penalty at the very beginning of the game, seemed to dishearten the Tiger warriors and they emerged from the fray on the short end of a 13 to 0 score.

Georgia Upset Dope

The dope was somewhat upset when Georgia not only held Harvard to a three point margin, but also crossed the Crimson goal for a touchdown. This was the first time that the eastern champ's goal had been scored upon this year. Harvard scored 10 points during the first half before the Georgians got over their stage-fright. After the beginning of the second period, the Southerners opened up with an attack that netted them a touchdown and prevented their opponents from so much as threatening to score. Had the Georgia team hit their stride earlier in the game, it is probable that the outcome of the struggle might have been in their favor.

The balance of the eastern teams are fairly true to form; the Army defeating Wabash and Yale humbling Williams. Wabash played a good game with the exception of the third quarter, during which time the Army scored all three of their touchdowns. Although Yale experienced little difficulty in gaining ground, Williams' eleven, by means of cleverly executed forward passes, worked the ball close to the Blue goal on a number of occasions. Yale held in the crises, however, and the final score was 23 to 0 in its favor.

Cornell Scores 114 Points

The worst defeat of the day was the one administered to Western Reserve by Cornell. The final score was 114 to 0.

It is unusual to see Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, in fact, all of the western followers supporting Chicago, but that is what is happening this week. These same supporters were somewhat disappointed at the result of the Princeton-Navy game last week. If the Maroons win from the Tigers, they will not have the satisfaction of having won from the strongest team in the east, and, if they lose, the sting of defeat will be worse than if Coach Roper's eleven were the peers of their section.

At any rate, the above clash will be the headliner of the large number of vital struggles that take place on Saturday. The Tiger team will be intact by the end of the week, and are bound to be a hard eleven to beat. The Maroons are a team of possibilities. Thus far this season their performance has been erratic. It is possible that the outcome of the contest will be based on the passing ability of the winners; at least, if the Maroons are victorious, such will have been the case, as the Tigers have a heavy veteran line of unlimited charging ability.

Gus Tuckerman will lead the boys in the accustomed Harvard way next Saturday. It goes like: "All right, friends, a cheer for jolly, old Harvard. Three well-modulated shouts, not too loud, but with exactly the proper volume to lead dear Hawvawd forth to victory."

Wolverines To Meet Ohio With Long Side List

Four injured players, only one of whom will be able to play against Ohio State next Saturday, have caused Michigan championship stock to go down several points over the week-end. Usher, Banks, Wilson, and Kirk are on the hospital list, and with the possible exception of Kirk, none are expected to be in shape for the Buckeye game. In addition to these men definitely out of play, Roby, Capt "Duke" Dunne, and Steketee are not in good shape, and it is reported that Coach Yost will be forced to employ many substitutes against the Ohioans.

Ohio is Strong

In view of the strong game which Ohio put up when it sent the Gophers back into their hole on the short end of a 27 to 0 score, Coach Yost said Michigan could hardly be expected to win Saturday with so many men on the injured list. The Michigan Aggies, although walloped by their sister college, 30 to 0, played an aggressive game with much hard tackling. The Aggies outplayed Michigan throughout the first half, and Johnson's punting coupled with Graves' line plunging kept the oval in Wolverine territory during the first two periods. Banks, quarterback, and Usher, fullback, failed to score for Michigan. Kipke performed some sensational work to count three touchdowns while Goebel made the fourth and Knode drop-kicked from the 27-yard line for three more points.

Have Stiff Practice

In its first practice after the Minnesota contest, Ohio continued its aggressive style of play. The Buckeyes engaged in a short scrimmage and snapped into every play with championship zest. Blair, who was declared by doctors to be out until the last of the season, appeared in a suit although his wrenched leg is not in the best shape. Roy Rife, 1918 halfback, was out of the uniform and in punting practice kicked 65 and 70 yards. Hoge Workman, who is ineligible, helped Wilce with the Buckeye backfield men.

Another conference team will be out of the running for a Big Ten championship when the Wolverines and Ohio State have completed their play at Ann Arbor next Saturday.

MANY REPORT FOR FROSH BASKETBALL

Approximately 120 candidates for the freshmen basketball team reported at the gymnasium last night for their first practice.

Many of these boys played in the State high school tournament last year and from all appearances the yearlings should develop a very good team.

"Doc" Meanwell will have charge of the practice and will be assisted by McIntosh who won three "Ws" in basketball. Any men who could not go out last night, may report this afternoon at 4 o'clock or as soon after that as possible. Practice will continue to be held every afternoon at this hour.

WEATHER DELAYS TENNIS MATCHES

The rainy weather of the last few days has made it necessary to temporarily abandon the regular schedule in the all-university tennis tournament.

Barwig, Bennett, Pamperin, Tredwell, and four others, who have not as yet been announced, are the ones who will play in the semi-finals and the finals and honors in the singles.

The following are the pairs who are leading in the race for honors in the doubles: Tredwell and Gotfredson; Edimann and Evans; Stegeman and Fitzgerald; Moulding and Wright; Stehr and Henka; Hentzen and Bennett.

STAGG PRAISES BADGER LINE; WOULD TRADE HIS WALL FOR RICHARDS' MEN

SATURDAY'S INTER CLASS TRACK MEET ATTRACTS 201 MEN

Frosh Will Try to Avenge Defeat Suffered in Rush

Two hundred and one entries are already signed up for the first inter-class track and field meet, which will be held at Camp Randall this Saturday at 3 p. m. Some of the fastest men in the sophomore and freshman classes are entered and Coach Meade Burke anticipates a fast and interesting meet. The time of the meet was changed on account of the Eau Claire-Madison high football game, which begins at 1:30 on the same field.

In the sprints the class of '25 will enter several of their best bets in an effort to atone for their defeat in the rush last week. Art Tim and R. A. Paciotti are the two men upon whose shoulders the burden of the first year's honor rests in the 100. Herb Flueck, L. W. Hildrith, and E. R. Cornwall of the class of '24 will be there when the class is broken. In all probability these same men will run the 220.

In the middle distance, L. L. Stebbens and Howie Lyman will be the hopes of '24, while Bert Hilberts, E. Lutz, and Thiessenhausen will run for '25. The latter has an enviable prep school record behind him and he will be watched with interest on Saturday.

R. J. Trer and Smithyman, of '25 and '24 respectively, are the two mainstays of their classes in the distance run. S. P. Utgaard of '23 and Vincent Stegeman '24 are the crack men in the hurdles.

Stangel, Joe Widder and E. R. Stanger of the class of '25 will be the star men of their class in the pit events, with the odds favoring the latter, who is reputed as being a star high jumper. Hammond, Tomlinson, and Krieger of '24, are regarded as Burke's best bets in the pole vault with Pierce and D. Jones of '25 right behind them.

P. R. LaLiere '25, S. R. Thorson '24, W. P. Irven '24, S. R. Stebr '24, and M. R. Bruemmer '24 are the big men in the weight events and promise some interesting competition between themselves.

G. Capron booted two goals from the 45 yard line against Wisconsin on November 23, 1907. Capron was Minnesota star.

Wisconsin Has a Great Offense — Two Backfields

After its excellent showing in the Northwestern game last Saturday, the Wisconsin line received a compliment from Coach A. Alonzo Stagg, Chicago mentor, who was congratulating Coach Richards on the Badger victory. The two were standing in the squad dressing room while "Big Jawn" waited for his men to don their street clothes preparatory for the return trip to Madison.

"The line did some nice playing," commented Stagg. "I'd like to have your forward wall. How'll it be to exchange my line for yours?" This observation coming from an experienced coach like Stagg shows that he was impressed with the Badgers' play.

Sucker Game Near

With the Illinois game only a few days away, the question arises whether Richards will retain the line in its present form or whether he will continue his policy of shifting until absolute satisfaction comes from the play of Wisconsin linemen. All dope on the probable lineup was upset when the Badger eleven took the field last Saturday. Christianson at left guard in place of Brumm who played right tackle, and Nelson at the other guard produced a radically different combination from that which played in the two preliminary games. Hehlfeld was on the side-lines for a great portion of the game until he relieved Nelson.

Although the Badger line broke through and hurried Purple punts and passes, there is still room for improvement, especially in charging. The forward wall played in much better style than it had in the South Dakota and Lawrence games, and with this gradual improvement evident, it should be at the top of its game for the Illinois contest next Saturday and the Minnesota Homecoming game on October 29. In Illinois, Wisconsin meets a rival noted for the hard plunging backs. Jack Crangle, Don Peden, and Herrig hit the line with obvious force and power. Crangle will be the hardest man to stop in the line. He made the all-western team last year on the strength of his line plunging ability at fullback. If the Badger line maintains the pace it set in the Purple contest, however, it will hold Illinois backs for "no gains" many times during the annual Sucker-Badger contest next Saturday.

THE HIGH SCHOOLS BLAMED

THE DAILY CARDINAL carried in its Tuesday issue a report of the committee on convocations relative to specified difficulties experienced by freshmen in their work at the university. The report was the result of an investigation into the difficulties in preparing for daily assignments and also for examinations.

There can be little question as to the accuracy of the report. Each student in the classes in freshman English wrote a theme describing his or her own particular trouble in this regard. The admissions of the students were then tabulated and the result is a distressing exposure of the high schools and prep schools from which our students come.

Just what is the trouble with our high schools? That there is something radically wrong in their methods, course of instruction, or instructional staff is plainly evident when the committee's report is analyzed.

Over 28 per cent of the freshmen claimed lack of preparation. Part of this number had received poor preparation in English grammar, part of them lacked a foreign language, and the other causes were mainly poor habits of study and limited vocabulary.

If vocabulary is limited, if poor habits of study have been acquired, where but on the high schools and prep schools can the blame be placed?

Careful perusal of the tabulated results of the report will show that the high schools are the probable cause of other difficulties than those listed under poor preparation. Lack of ability to concentrate, poor memory, inability to correlate, and inability to apply are all difficulties that should be overcome before the high school days are past. Proper training in these schools could and should largely overcome all these difficulties.

There is a distressing lack somewhere in the high school system of education. To this source can be traced the greater part of all the shortcomings of the freshmen. University standards are not too high; prep school standards are too low.

It would appear that what the high schools most lack is a definite idea of what is required during the first year in the university, what the university standard really is, and a standard system of education throughout the state, so that all students coming to the university will have the same groundwork. This will give every student an equal chance and will permit a more certain selection of those who are capable and diligent.

Must freshmen continue to labor under the handicap of poor prep training? Must the university be glutted with students who should have been weeded out before they come to the higher institutions of learning? What is going to be done with the problem?

A FAIR EXPLANATION

CONSIDERABLE criticism has been directed toward the athletic department for sending the football team to Evanston on the morning of the same day they were scheduled to play Northwestern at that place. It was felt by many that the team should have been sent a day earlier in order that the players could secure a rest before the game.

It seems entirely reasonable that this action should have called forth some protest of a constructive and kindly nature. The critics in this case were actuated solely by a desire to see that the team was given every chance to be in proper condition. Intense loyalty to the team, rather than any other motive doubtless prompted the criticism.

In simple justice to the athletic department and those responsible for the late sending of the team, it is right that the reasons for so doing be made known.

The custom in other years has been to send the team at least a day early so that they could rest up from the trip and be in good condition for a strenuous game. It has been found, however, that this custom has its disadvantages. It was not always possible to secure the best accommodations and even when the team was especially fortunate in this respect many of the players did not rest as well as they would have in the surroundings where they were more accustomed.

The departure from custom this year was done for the purpose of permitting the players to have the night's sleep in their own rooms, where, it was felt, there would be considerably less noise and confusion than at a hotel.

The experiment may not prove successful, but it was at least a reasonable one to try. Rather than adverse criticism, the athletic department deserves credit for trying it out.

THE COLLEGE STUDENTS' ALLOWANCE

IT is doubtless true that too much spending money while in school is more of a handicap to a college student than not enough. The boy who has at his disposal a high-powered car, a generous allowance, and who is more disposed to play than to work, more often than not works harm to himself as well as to his "pals," and if he fails to pull through with a clean record it is not surprising—nor is it if he fails to pull through at all.

On the other hand, the boy who has to earn part or all of his way in order to secure a college education almost without exception makes a creditable showing, and he learns the great lesson of what a dollar costs in toil. But of necessity he misses much of value in college life, so is not without his handicaps, too.

A recent report from the Iowa Agricultural College states that "approximately 20 per cent of the total enrollment this fall are earning all or part of their way through college.—The Chicago Daily Drovers Journal

SKIERS PREPARE FOR BIG SEASON

Preparations for an active year of skiing were commenced Sunday morning when members of the Badger Ski club began work on the university slide on Muir knoll. The hill has been widened and re-graded so as to afford an excellent landing place for the skier after his trip through the air.

The Norwegian members of the club are well pleased with the new scaffold, which was built last year, and with the hill as it has been changed. The slide is of strictly standard design throughout, which will encourage competition with other skiers.

Wisconsin is the only university, it is believed, that has a standard ski slide within only a few hundred yards of its main buildings, or even upon its campus. Muir knoll is admirably suited for a ski slide.

Rumors are prevalent that officials of the National Ski association are considering holding the annual championship tournament here, under the auspices of the Badger Ski club. The slide at Cary, Ill., has been blown down, and since it was the initial choice for the tournament the meet may be transferred to Madison.

The remaining candidates will play the rest of the matches off as fast as the weather permits in order that the tourney may be brought to a close.

AT THE STRAND

Mabel Julianne Scott in "No Woman Knows," a motion picture taken from Edna Ferber's well known story "Fanny Herself," will be the attraction at the Strand theater for four days starting Wednesday.

Fanny is a typical American girl, although an odd mixture of book-worm and tom-boy. Her parents own a small drygoods and notions store in Winnebago, Wis. The father dies, leaving the mother to run the business. She and Fanny scrimp and save so that the son, Theodore, can study the violin in Europe.

This boy breaks his mother's heart by marrying a music hall dancer in Vienna. When the mother dies, Fanny, through anger and realization of her futile years of sacrifice, breaks away from her home and becomes a highly efficient business woman—the head of a department in a Chicago mail-order house.

Her soul is constantly torn between two forces, the materialistic and the spiritual. Fenger, the genius-like executive of the mail-order house, spurs her to material success. Heyl, her boyhood playmate, and now a brilliant newspaper man, tries to persuade her to let her spiritual side—the old Fanny, herself—come to the surface again.

Fanny becomes herself again when her brother Theodore returns from Europe with his baby daughter. His wife had run away. Fanny takes him in, puts him on his feet, and, with Fenger's help, arranges for his American debut. It is a great success. Then he disappears—to go back to his wife again.

This is the last straw for Fanny. Her better nature is again submerged in business fatalism. She forgives Fenger for certain unwelcome attentions towards her and is on the point of running away with him, despite his invalid wife, when Heyl finally is victorious in his fight to make her give in to her better impulses.

There will also be shown a "Snub" Pollard comedy.

LAWS CHALLENGE STUDENT PLUMBERS

tion of the said plaintiffs and contriving wickedly, maliciously, unlawfully, and unjustly intending to injure the said plaintiffs in their good name, character, fame, reputation and dignity and to bring them into public scandal, infamy and disgrace with and amongst all their fellow students, and to cause it to be suspected and believed by these students that the said plaintiffs have been guilty of the aforementioned crimes; to subject them to the pains and scorn of student sentiment; to vex, harass, oppress, impoverish and wholly ruin the said plaintiffs hereofore, to-wit: at the University of Wisconsin in certain boisterous and well known, ill spirited outbursts of engineering mirth, of and concerning said plaintiffs in the presence and hearing of divers good and worthy students in the presence of the last mentioned parties maliciously, crudely, uncouthly, and unjustly uttered, blurted of and concerning the said plaintiffs and scandalous, malicious, unbecoming and unjust words following, that is to say,

"Well, Well, Well,
Is that the Law School
O Hell."

And as a still further cause of action the plaintiffs allege that on a certain great day of pomp and celebrity, to-wit: the 17th day of March, popularly known as St. Patrick's day, the defendants wickedly, and maliciously in an attempt to belittle the dignity and position of the plaintiffs in a certain vulgar, crude and unbecoming manner did arrange a parade consisting of various mechanical contrivances, to-wit: six typical morbid engineers drawing one hearse which therein lay one casket labeled, "The Law School."

By means of the committing of such grievances by the said defendants as aforesaid, the plaintiffs hath been and are greatly injured in their good name, fame, reputation and brought into public scorn and disgrace with and amongst their fellow students, and have by reason of the committing of the said grievances a cause of action for which they seek relief in the following manner, to-wit: that the eleven best, strongest, huskiest, bravest, and MOST BLOODTHIRSTY "PLUMBERS" representing the above defendants, appear in Pig Skin court Randall Field Circuit spiritually and physically prepared before the unsuspecting, worthy, and defrauded student body to atone at the hands of the said plaintiffs in forty minutes of battle, commonly known as "Football."

Whereupon, if the said defendant do not appear in open court upon the day to be set, and of which they will be duly notified, judgment will be rendered against them; all plaintiffs rights will be vindicated, and the Engineers will forever "PULL IN THEIR NECKS."

Subscribed and sworn before me this 19th day of October, A. D. 1921.
