CLASS MEETING MAY BE CALLED IN ACTIVITIES

Student Senate is Deadlocked on Proposed Point System

A general mass meeting of the student body to decide whether the point system to regulate campus activities will be installed is being considered by the Student senate, according to Maynard Brown '23, president.

"The senate has come to what looks like a deadlock," Brown asserted yesterday. "It is divided within itself about equally. The system as proposed by Robert Stewart has advantages and disadvantages which counterbalance."

Would Limit Points

The system as suggested by Stewart, ex-president of the Student senate, is to award a given number of points for each campus activity according to the amount of time the activity requires or, if it is a purely honorary position, according the amount of honor attached to and to limit the number of points a student could carry. Such a system would tend to distribute campus activities more evenly among the students, its advocates believe.

At the next meeting of the senate tomorrow night a date for the meeting will probably be set, according to Brown. Any number of the audience will be free to discuss the pros and cons of the proposed system. It is hoped that an expression of student sentiment on this will aid in settling the question.

I am in favor of instituting the point system in the matter of activities by time but not by honor," Brown declared. "Such a position, team captain, which is purely honorary, should not be awarded."

Should Not be Cumbersome
The only danger of such a system," Francis Bacon '23, senator, asserted, "is that it might be so cumbersome that it would tie up activities. If it is not detailed, it may not be too burdensome. Otherwise it is apt to slow up activities. Chances too, it would mean that activities would necessarily fall upon incapable people."

The Student senate committee which is investigating the plan is composed of senators Balliette '23, Airmen, Lamb '23, Seering '24, and '24.

State Journalists Meet in Madison

Approximately 55 Wisconsin weekly newspapers were represented at the Newspaper Short course conducted by the Course in Journalism at the mid-winter meeting of the Wisconsin Press association, held here February 1-3.

Prof. G. M. Hyde, acting director of the course in journalism gave lectures on news writing and how to make the most of news sources.

Prof. E. M. Johnson lectured on typography and make-up of the weekly newspaper, and methods of handling correspondents. Mr. H. E. Ising talked on "What to do in the Editorial Columns."

What to Tell the Merchant in Selling and Writing Ads," by Prof. J. Hinman, of the department of business administration, "Do Wisconsin Farmers Need to Advertise?" Prof. A. W. Hopkins, of the College of Agriculture, and "Expanding Farm Markets Through Advertising," by Mr. F. W. Lovejoy were the talks made on the subject of advertising.

CARDINAL STAFF

Students interested in trying for positions on the editorial staff of the second semester cardinal are asked to report at the editorial office in the Union building, 752 Langdon street, between 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Open Ag College For Farm Festival

Preliminary plans for the Winter Farm Festival and Little International Live Stock show to be held at the College of Agriculture, February 23-24, were announced by W. A. Hartman, '23 general chairman, yesterday.

The farm festival is to assume the nature of an open house with every one of the eighteen departments in the agricultural college open for inspection. Excursion rates have already been secured on all of the important railroads leading into Madison.

Invitations will be sent to all of the high schools in southern Wisconsin inviting the students to participate in the festivities. The students will be met at the train, and guided about the campus by a special committee.

Both Men Confer With Jones Concerning Football Position

Pat Page, Butler College, and Bill Juneau, Kentucky State, have added their names to the list of men who are considered by the athletic council for the position of head football coach at Wisconsin. Both men were in conference with Athletic Director Thomas E. Jones here yesterday.

Page held a long interview with Director Jones in the forepart of the afternoon and shortly after he hustled into a taxicab to catch the 4:10 train, Juneau arrived at the gymnasium for a session.

With Page and Juneau definitely known to be under consideration, the list of possibilities has swelled to five men. Jack Ryan, Dartmouth college, was the first mentor to see Director Jones. He was followed by Harold Hod Ofstie, Mississippi A. & M., and Harr Hughes, Colorado A. & M.

Pat Page is at present athletic director and coach of Butler college teams. His football eleven beat Illinois, 10 to 7, last fall. His basketball team has defeated Wisconsin, Chicago, Purdue, and other Big Ten outfits.

Bill Juneau drove a Wisconsin football team to its last championship in 1912. He coached here in 1916, and then went to Texas A. & M.

He was in charge of the Kentucky State gridiron team last fall. His team held Centre College to a 3 to 0 score at half-time and lost, 28 to 3. Juneau developed an eleven that held the strong Alabama aggregation to 6 to 0 victory. He came here from Milwaukee.

Committee Penalizes Eight, Suspends One For Dishonesty

One student was suspended and eight were penalized by the faculty discipline committee of the University of Wisconsin during the last month for dishonesty in class or examination work. In the case of three, the publication of their names and penalties is part of their punishment.

The disciplinary action announced at the meeting of the university faculty on Monday afternoon when the monthly report of the discipline committee was read and approved.

Bertram B. Langen, senior in agriculture, convicted of dishonesty in Physics 61, was penalized 12 extra credits to be earned before graduation, probation, and publication of his name.

James C. Bolton, a freshman in Letters and Science, convicted of dishonesty in Geology 4, after being convicted of another offense last year, was penalized 15 extra credits or half a year's work, probation, and publication of his name.

Miss Mary Illenden, a junior in Letters and Science, convicted of

EDITORS OF '24 YEARBOOK PICK CLASS LEADERS

Choose 104 Representatives From Three Classes For Aces Section

One hundred and four representative men and women active in outside activities in the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, will be snapped for the aces' section of the 1924 Badger, Gamber F. Tegtmeyer, editor, announced yesterday.

"The class aces were chosen by a committee of editors, as a result of a compilation of numerous lists submitted by various class members. We aimed to eliminate all spirit of political and social faction, and based our decision to rely on service to the class and school, character, plus scholastic standing," Tegtmeyer said.

The senior aces composed of 36 men and 16 women include:

Rollie Williams, Les Gage, Helen Gude, Gus Tebelle, Marjorie Severeance, Hickman Powell, Elizabeth Kirk, Horace Powell, Portia B. Lugg, Worth Shoultz, George Geiger, Mildred Downie, Gus Tuckerman, Robert Stewart, Helen Kasbeer, William Trost, Cleo Parsley, Ralph Balliette, Edward Gibson, Wayne Morse, Hubert Townsend, Isabel Capps, Merle Shaw, Roy French, Rudolph Hohfeld, Tom Daniels, Maynard Brown, James Brader, Arthur Inman, Helen Stilwill, Mary Balwin, George Rudiger, Bob Luening, Douglas Newell, Sherman Green, Clarence Rasmussen, Polly Ambrose, Gladys Petersen, Charles Lewin, Morton Frost, Esther Mainland, Marjorie Delbridge, Francis Lamb, Wayne Ramsay, Helen Zuehlke, Florence Hupprich.

Seventeen women and 23 men comprise the junior section:

The 16 sophomores are:

dishonesty in French 13, her second conviction for dishonesty this semester, was indefinitely suspended.

Of the other six, two were given reprimands, and four were penalized by probation and extra credits as follows: Two to earn 3 extra, one to earn 5 extra, and one to earn 10 extra. Their names were not made public.

Among these nine students, two are women, two are freshmen, three are sophomores, three are juniors, and one is a senior. Two are in Agriculture, three in Letters and Science, two in Chemistry, one in Home Economics, and one in Journalism. Three were dishonest in Physics courses, one in English course, one in Chemistry, one in Steam and Gas Engineering, two in Geology, and one in French.

WEATHER: SNOW

Snow and colder weather is the prediction for today. Wednesday will be slightly cloudy with continued cold.

Symphony Orchestra Will Play Tonight

A program including selections by many of the famous composers of orchestral music will be presented by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at 8:15 this evening in the armory.

This orchestra, now in its twentieth season, is conducted by Henri Verbruggen. The organization is one of the best known symphony orchestras in the United States at the present time.

Program

Overture to "Der Freischuetz" Weber.

Symphony No. 5, in C Minor, Beethoven.

Prelude to the opera "Lohengrin", Wagner.

Prelude to Act III "Lohengrin", Wagner.

"Peer Gynt" Suite No. 1, Grieg.

Adagietto from Suite "L'Arlesienne", Bizet.

Symphonic Poem "Les Preludes", Liszt.

EXPECT 200 AT TRYOUTS TODAY

Haresfoot Club Will Outline Plot of "Kikmi" at Meeting

More than 200 men will appear at the Haresfoot tryouts in Lathrop hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon, officers of the club announced yesterday.

Tryouts for the various Haresfoot positions will be held throughout the entire week, according to T. Gerold Koch, president of the organization, at the first meeting this afternoon an outline of the plot of this year's show, "Kikmi", will be given, and the various opportunities for men will be explained.

All men in the university above the freshmen class are eligible to tryout for the dramatic activity. Chorusmen, principles, electricians, musicians, artists, stage mechanics, publicity men, and scenery builders are needed.

This is the first year that Haresfoot club has ever attempted to build its own scenery for its productions. This venture will make Haresfoot's twenty-fifth production an entirely original affair.

The cast will be under the direction of Koch and a group of Haresfoot men. Hobart C. Price, '23, will have charge of the chorus tryouts.

Thomas Tredwell '23, as manager of the show will receive the applications of those men wishing to tryout for propertymen, electricians, or assistant managers. Walter A. Frautschi '24, has charge of all Haresfoot publicity and will need approximately six assistants for this phase of the work.

Officer is Killed By Student Driver

Joseph T. Delfosse '24, was the driver of the car which struck and killed Thomas Phibbin, special policeman, in Chicago early Sunday morning.

The accident occurred on Michigan avenue near the Illinois Central yards while Delfosse was returning from a dance at the South Shore Country Club.

Public Warehouse Burns During Night

Fire completely destroyed the Engelhardt Public warehouse, 639 W. Wilson street last night. The fire started about 9:30 o'clock last evening and raged for several hours. A Ford coupe and a considerable amount of furniture was stored in the warehouse. The exact extent of the damage has not yet been determined.

Co-op Rebate to Be Paid Next March

Rebates from the Co-op will be ready for students by March 1.

The Co-op now has approximately 25,200 members, and the office force is now totaling the figures for the past year in order to determine the rate of rebate.

Champion clashes with would-be champion when Wisconsin and Purdue met for the first time in many years at Lafayette, Ind., tonight. The Boilermakers copped the Big Ten title last year.

If early season results are an indication of final standings, Purdue will not be on the first rung of the Conference ladder. The quintet lost to Indiana in its last contest and is now resting in fifth place with an average of .500. Coach Walter E. Meanwell's speeding Badgers are tied with Iowa for first place.

Lose Two Men

The game tonight will be the first "acid test" for Wisconsin. It has beaten Northwestern, Indiana, Chicago, and Minnesota, all rated as second-division teams. If Purdue is disposed of, only Michigan stands between Wisconsin and a tie for the championship. The Wolverines lost to Iowa and are in third place.

The Badger squad "broke even" on the problem of scholastic ineligibility. Ralph Wackman, substitute center, and Charles Bareis, general utility man, have felt the faculty axe and will be lost to the squad. Kenneth Mainland and Diebold, a Madison man, are the two

REIN SCH DIES OF OVERWORK

Adviser to China Was 53 Years Old at Time of Death

Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, former United States minister to Peking and at one time head of the department of political science at the university, died in Shanghai, China, January 25, after a prolonged illness.

At the time of his death, Dr. Reinsch was an adviser to the Chinese government. It is thought that his early death at the age of 53 years was due in part to the mental collapse which he suffered last October and which was attributed to overwork and worry over the Chinese situation.

Dr. Reinsch's first affiliation with the university was in 1895 when he accepted a position in the history department as a lecturer and instructor. In 1899 he entered the political science department where he held an assistant professorship until 1901 when he became a professor. He stayed in the political science department until his first leave of absence in 1911, having been made the head of that department sometime previous. His last active service here at the university was in 1915 when he was obtained for the summer session.

Graduates of the university representatives of the president of China and the British and other foreign governments, as well as members of various public organizations were present at the funeral held by Dr. Reinsch in Shanghai. The remains were cremated and the ashes sent to the home of his wife in this city. Dr. Reinsch was born in Milwaukee in 1870.

Clever footwork and keen eyes made a phantom boxer of Johnny Miner. That was last year. This year the same qualities and alertness are bringing Miner a basketball reputation at Ohio State university. Johnny, a Columbus, O., athlete, made amateur lightweight look foolish trying to find him in the square ring. He won the amateur lightweight championship of the city. Now he's a star on the Q. S. U. five.

Limestone Raises Farmers' Profits

Limestone pulverized and added to the soil is bringing thousands of dollars to Wisconsin farmers through increased acreage and production of alfalfa, the extension division of the College of Agriculture declared today in its annual report of February 1.

One acre of alfalfa, in the Middle West has twice the value of an acre of oats, corn, rye, wheat or barley, the report said. Green county has placed 8000 tons of lime on its soil; Iroquois county is applying 6000 tons annually and Green Lake county, about 3000 tons.

Rock county has produced 14,000 tons of lime for fertilizer in the last two years by grinding rock, and Walworth county, just beginning, put in 1000 tons on the soil last year. In many cases limestone fences and buildings are being destroyed and pulverized to make fertilizer.

BOOK BUREAU AT "Y" CALLS FOR MORE TEXTS

The Y. M. C. A. book bureau is in need of more books. The call for second hand and used books is much greater than the available number on hand and a shortage is the result.

Any student who wants to dispose of books may call at the office between 4 and 6 o'clock and fill out a card provided for the purpose. Prospective purchasers may then call on the holder of the books to buy them.

Approximately 300 books are registered with the bureau at present, but many are needed. Texts used in the College of Letters and Science are most in demand. Also there is considerable call for legal, agricultural, medical, and engineering books.

Journalism Fraternity Opens Essay Contest

"Physical Development as a Requisite for the College Degree," is the subject of the 1923 editorial contest to be conducted by Phi Delta Epsilon, honorary collegiate journalism fraternity. Any male undergraduate of the university is eligible to compete under the rules of the contest.

All of the essays must be in the hands of Cecil F. Gordon, Sigma Phi Epsilon House, Hanover, N. H., by midnight, February 28. The editorials must be written on one side only of manuscript paper and must not exceed 500 words, according to the rules of the contest. An assumed name must be written in the upper left hand corner of each sheet and upon the outside of an envelope which must contain the contestant's name, age, home, class, college address and telephone number.

The awards will be one gold medal, two silver medals and 10 bronze medals. The name of the winners and date and a description of the contest will be engraved on the medals.

At least 300 manuscripts are expected by Philip C. Pack, Grand Editor of Phi Delta Epsilon. In many schools members of English classes will be required to compete.

Badger Hockey Team Meets Gophers Soon

The University of Wisconsin hockey sextet has resumed active practice for the coming games with Minnesota on Feb. 9 and 10. Minnesota appears to have the strongest team in the triangular association. The Gophers defeated Michigan in both games, 2 to 0 and 3 to 0, while the Wolverines took three out of four games from the Badgers at Ann Arbor and here.

Capt. Combacker, Fiske, Johns, Blodgett, Treadwell and Mokjies all successfully passed the exams and will compose the regular sextet. Coach Viner will have Earl Haugh in reserve.

The Gophers swamped the green Badgers last year and Viner is anxious to have his 1923 squad avenge the disastrous results of 1922.

Books make brains, and the world pays high for brain power.

The bulging dome on the library is worth emulating. It marks the way to bulging pockets.

Don't take our word for it. Ask some of the old grads, the men who have gone out before you to sell their books.

Some have sold them for more than others. Why? Just ask.

who regained eligibility following the period of examinations Diebold is guard and Mainland plays forward.

Ten basketeers left at 4:10 yesterday afternoon for Lafayette. They were: Capt. Gus Tebell, Williams, Gibson, Elsom, Barwig, Gage, Spooner, Radtke, Mainland, and Diebold. With Wackman out of it entirely Doug Gibson will be forced to carry the center burden without any help. Gibby went miserably in the first games but soon rounded into form and caged eight goals in the Chicago and Minnesota tilts. He does his best work on foreign courts and should put up a fine fight against Gullion, All-Conference Purdey center.

Purdue Needs Masters

The Boilermakers' mediocre showing in four games played thus far can be attributed to the loss of Capt. Masters, who has been sick. Masters is one of the best leaders in the Conference. Coach Piggy Lambert has shifted Holwerda from guard to forward in Masters' place and it is this combination which lost to Indiana. If the Purdue pilot is in shape for the Wisconsin game, his team will regain the fight that gave it a title last season.

Robbins, who supplanted Holwerda at guard, Wellman, another guard, and Eversman, forward, are sure to start against the Badgers. Robbins shot six field goals from his guard position in the Indiana game, which Indiana won, 31 to 26. Gullion netted two goals, while Holwerda and Eversman were held to one apiece.

Play Michigan Saturday

Although Wisconsin is slated to play Michigan at Ann Arbor next Saturday, it is doubtful if the teams will meet on the Wolverines' home court. The J-Hop, Michigan Junior prom, will be held Friday night and Coach Meanwell hesitates to risk any of his players on a slippery floor Saturday night. Red Weston, star Wisconsin guard, was severely injured in Madison two years ago when a slippery floor caused him to fall and hurt his knee. A dance had been held in the gymnasium the previous night. Red was practically useless for the remainder of the season.

If arrangements can be made, the Michigan-Wisconsin game will be transferred to Madison for Saturday and the second game will be played at Ann Arbor. Coach Meanwell has received no reply to a letter he recently wrote to Fielding H. Yost, Athletic director.

Line-ups for the Wisconsin-Purdue game follow:

Wisconsin	Purdue
Elsom.....L.F.....	Eversman
Gage.....R.F.....	Holwerda
Gibson.....C.....	Gullion

Franklin C. Cappon of Holland, Mich., one of the football stars of last season at the University of Michigan, has definitely accepted an offer to coach the football team at Luther College, Decorah, Ia.

BADGER FULLBACK IS INELIGIBLE

The 1923 Wisconsin football team suffered a serious blow when it was announced that Merrill Taft, star fullback and punter, had been declared scholastically ineligible yesterday. Robert H. Sykes, guard who won his "W" this year, also suffered faculty displeasure and has left school.

If Taft is unable to take work during summer school to make up lacking credits, he will be definitely "out of it" for the coming football season. In his first year at a Varsity regular, Taft was a mainstay in the Badger backfield. He was given All-American honorable mention of Walter Camp, gridiron critic.

Sykes was a senior in the college of agriculture, but was eligible for two more years of Big Ten football competition.

TANK MEN TO MEET GOPHERS

Eligibility List For Saturday Will Be Complete Today

Coach Joe Steinauer is working daily with the Varsity swimming team in preparation for the meet with Minnesota at Minneapolis next Saturday.

"Barring ineligibility we can give the Gophers a good trimming next Saturday," Coach Steinauer said yesterday. "Even though there are some men ineligible, we will still stand a good show of coming through with the long end of the score."

The registrar's office did not have the eligibility lists completed late yesterday afternoon. They will be completed some time to-day so that the coach will know who can make the trip next Saturday. Since the men have been working in the new tank, they have been rapidly rounding into form. Captain Johnson Bennett is perfecting his stroke and will show meets of the season. Hugo Czerwonky, another strong man on the team, is expected to show some good stuff from now on with a some of his old form in the remaining weak spots.

Old Valentines on Display at Museum

Old fashioned valentines dating back to 1800 are on exhibit in the North hall of the State Historical museum this week. The exhibit consists of three cases filled with sentimental and curious types of love missives of other days. A few of the valentines are hand made and consist of short verses and painted pictures. Some of the later ones are lace ornamented and others are of the comic type. In all, the exhibit is a display of the various kinds of valentines which have been introduced from time to time during the past century.

Morgan and Ortega Will Head Tours

Professor B. Q. Morgan and Professor J. Ortega will be among the many university professors from the United States to conduct parties to Europe.

Information about many of the parties from the United States may be obtained from Prof. C. D. Zdanowicz of the Roman Language department.

Foreign universities especially those in France, are offering summer session courses designed especially for the foreign student.

Professor Morgan's party will tour Europe with the idea of seeing as much of it as possible. Professor Ortega will take a party to Madrid, Spain, where they will study at the university.

EIGHT MEN LOST TO TRACK SQUAD DURING FINALS

Championship Hopes Are Dimmed; Two Stars Enrolled

Wisconsin track hopes suffered severest blow of the season yesterday when the announcement of at least eight ineligible as a result of low scholastic records for the first semester.

The men lost to the team are: Gerry Wade, premier two-miler, Don Jones, Eugene Tuhtar, Norman Scott, Forrest Pritchard, Albert Moorhead. Moorhead graduated at the end of the semester and Campbell left school. Campbell will be back again next fall and will be eligible for the squad.

Distance Hard Hit

While the ineligible list will not ruin Wisconsin's hopes, it puts a dent in them which can scarcely help but be felt. In Wade, the squad had a two-miler of note who was distinctly without peer among the ranks of distance runners here, and the squad will have to rely, at best, on a second rater.

Jones was a pole-vaulter of note who would probably have upheld the greater part of the vaulting work in the spring. Tuhtar is a two event man, working in both the high-jump and in the hurdles.

Menke, sophomore quarter-miler is probably one of the greatest losses. He has been showing some excellent speed in his event during the past few weeks and his loss will be a blow to the team.

Crippled Squad Toils On

The remnants of what had looked like a winning team is working every afternoon in the gym annex in an attempt to overcome the ineligibility handicap. Several men are showing promise in the events which suffered most and it can be expected that coaches Jones and Burke will put out a team which will be some where near the Wisconsin standard.

Some good news at least is bound to come with bad news and that which followed the ineligibility announcement was that of the entrance of two men who will be eligible for next year's team. Clayton Cassidy, of Rockford, entered school this semester as a freshman. He has hung up several high school records in the mile run and is booked to be one of Wisconsin's point winners after this year.

McAndrews, a man from Oshkosh, has also entered school and will be eligible for the track squad after he has served a year at Wisconsin.

Gophers Challenged By Badger Ski Club

A dual ski meet between the Badger Ski club and Minnesota is hanging fire today as a result of a Wisconsin challenge to the Gopher ski-riders. If held, the meet will be next Saturday at Minneapolis, in conjunction with the ice carnival and national ski tourney.

Although the Badger club barely made expenses on its third annual tournament held here Saturday, its members plan to hold another meet here within a few weeks. Bitter cold weather cut down the size of the crowd last week and entrants in the tourney expressed a desire to show again in Madison when more favorable weather prevailed. No date has been set for the next tournament.

Ragnar Omtvedt made the longest jump, 96 feet, on Saturday. Results of the event follow:

ASK PAPERS TO PUBLISH NAMES

In an appeal to newspapermen of the state, Athletic Director Thomas E. Jones has asked that they drop the practice of shielding college athletes who engage in professional athletics under the protection of an assumed name.

"No self-respecting alumnus, citizen, or newspaper can support this practice because in my mind the very essence of good sportsmanship is honesty and fairness," says Director Jones in a letter to Frank Sinclair, sports editor of the Janesville Gazette. Sinclair recently announced himself as opposed to the common practice.

"You should get support in this matter from all true sportsmen," Director Jones told Sinclair. "I feel you discussion will do a great deal to stamp out the evil and I also hope that it will be carried beyond the limits of this state."

A. Alonzo Stagg, Chicago university athletic director, has joined the campaign and it is expected that other influential directors will carry it further.

GRAPPLERS NOT HIT BY FINALS

Intact Squad Prepares For Gopher Meet Here Saturday

The wrestling squad is not suffering from the result of ineligibility after exams. Every man on the squad has given a favorable report on his grades and with the exams out of the way, intensive daily workouts will be held. All of the men seem to be in good shape, although they have not been having regular workouts.

The next meet is with Minnesota here Saturday. Minnesota has a strong team this year and expects to defeat the Badger grapplers again. The gophers have had the edge on Wisconsin for some time, and beat Wisconsin last year. Coach Hitchcock is making no predictions as to the outcome but says that his men have an even chance to win.

The Badgers are all in fair condition at the present time. Capt. Templin's work is noteworthy. He probably knows more about Coach Hitchcock's system of wrestling than any other man on the squad. One of the interesting things about Capt. Templin's next match with Oster of Minnesota is that he meets another football man. Oster was a fullback on the varsity squad at Minnesota last fall. Templin has thrown Larry Horton, of Northwestern, who played center on the Purple team last fall.

Coach Hitchcock does not know definitely who will be used against Minnesota. The following is Minnesota's line-up and the entrants for Wisconsin.

NIGHT EDITOR—HAROLD R. MAIER

VOL. XXXII.

SOMETIMES, and perhaps for just cause, during the life of The Cardinal, the volume number was pushed one point ahead.

It may have been the result of a careless linotyper. Faulty proofreading by a night assistant may be to blame.

The number may have been changed, intentionally or unintentionally, when The Cardinal was combined, December 1, 1913, with the Wisconsin Daily News, founded June 18, 1912.

Whatever the cause, the present volume should be volume XXXII, according to our method of figuring, in stead of Volume XXXIII, which latter number we accepted quite naturally last September, since the 1921-22 Cardinal is labeled Volume XXXII.

For the sake of the future exactness and precision, however, we feel it our duty now to rectify what apparently is a mistake and, accordingly have set the volume number back one notch in today's issue, regardless of the fact that the 95 issues of the entire first semester of this academic year already have been published as Vol. XXXIII.

We go into length in the matter mainly for the benefit of those who are to follow us and who might otherwise be confused at the change in volume numbers "back in February 1923."

PROM POST MORTEM

In history as an event, there are still significant facts to be gleaned from the 1924 Junior Promenade.

More dancers than ever before moved to the rhythm of syncopated music, significant of the fact that students still enjoy dancing and still like and want proms.

More non-fraternity men joined the throngs, signifying that the bugaboo of organizations and undemocratic proms is not such a bugaboo after all to unorganized men who want to go to prom.

The price of prom was reduced from $7 to $6, significant of the fact that committee wanted to make the event as inexpensive as possible and that they wanted to appease the ire of public persons in one grand excellent, good, or fair who rise in protest at the thought of a mere dance.

The scarcity of booze was loudly and proudly proclaimed by everyone. And it was scarce,—totally absent, we should say, signifying a realization of a personal and a public responsibility on the part of prom-goers.

Engagements and pin-tradings were equally scarce, so our society editor reports, significant of what we don't know.

No means has been devised yet to let the promenaders promenade and the spectators spectate. The two groups seem to have an affinity for each other that results in a curious and even uncomfortable confusion.

The peak of journalistic activity at Wisconsin was reached by Sigma Delta Chi in its prom editions of The Cardinal, a credit to the organization and to prom.

We had a prom above criticism and above suspicion according to all indications.

And so when we hear faint rumblings that prom will go from among us within the next five years we wonder. If there have been reasons for questioning its advisability in the past, this year's prom has gone an extraordinary distance in removing them.

ENTER—OUR NEW YEAR

THE Cardinal has pointed out once before that the college student's new year begins not in January but in February,—this year on February 5.

Our collegiate new year's eve with prom and its attendant festivities has passed in a burst of glorious exhilaration and we have with us the morning after the night before, regrets and resolutions.

Grade cards have brought to an astonishing percentage of hill-climbers the news of poors, cons, fails, probation, and peremptory requests to leave.

And resulting from it all,—thanks to human nature and the deans,—have come an astonishing number of resolves to wrestle with obstreperous courses persistently throughout the year and floor them in one grand excellent, good, or fair

Amusing Bill At Orph Welcomes
Critic This Week

BY R. B. S.

When we got back on the job this week we found the Orph right there to meet us with a very amusing bill and a lot of laughter. There's variety and talent, so what more can you ask.

Larimer and Hudson. These two are cyclists and they kept us all busy watching the wheels go round. Man "they ain't no gravity."

Seymour and Jeanette. Do they step? They "terpsichored" off a mean chunk of down stage stuff.

Mr. Leo Beers. Like his name, a good deal of his act was in the past tense, but when the past tense is conjugated well, we like it. And that man could conjugate.

Gibson and Connelli. A church door drama with a good many clever lines and some that weren't. Between weddings and funerals there seems to be little else in life of any consequence.

Alexandria. The road to Alexandria is a little bumpy toward the first but just wait 'til you get there and you'll find real music. It's a xylophone.

La. Talerica Trio. Spanish court dancers with unusual talent and an act that is presented as well.

New Registration
System is Success

The new registration system used this semester for the re-registration of old students was a marked success as compared with systems used in previous years, W. D. Hiestand, registrar, announced yesterday.

Although the plan just recently tried out requires more help, the chance element for making mistakes and much of the usual confusion has noticeably decreased, he said.

The biggest step in alleviating any trouble in regard to schedules and credits was accomplished by having the students see their advisers before registering. Whether this system will be used in the fall has not yet been decided.

fall next June.

Resolutions are commendable.

Dean David A. Robertson of the University of Chicago, after thorough investigation of failures by interviews with unsuccessful students, ascribes their failures to three causes, chief of which is lack of purpose. The other two are bad training and inability to "read intelligently."

College students are not nagged by professors as they were in grade and high schools, Dean Robertson points out, and the natural outcome is that students having no particular aim in college lag in their studies.

Too many students at Wisconsin are here because of parental decree and never have had occasion or incentive to set for themselves a purpose and achieve it. And too many students have failed or gone on probation for that same reason.

Hence the extraordinary value of new year's resolutions. When a student independently commends himself to the accomplishment of a purpose, whether it be the removal of a con or making Phi Beta, he has stepped out on the path that will bring a measure of cheer to even the most skeptical of profs.

Resolutions are never kept, we are reminded, but certainly they are never kept if they are never made. The pertinent reminders of the examination period just completed will keep alive the necessity of resolutions and purposes until their execution reverberates to the resolver's advantage in the deanian halls.

And so on this new year's day may the wild bells ring in a wealth of scholastic resolutions that will be sustained until they show themselves in a wealth of scholastic results.

And now that many, many good old friendships are split asunder, and many, many not-quite-so-old engagements are broken, and many world-weary prom-trotters are making grotesque faces at the memory of last weekend.... let us grab off new fillers for ye old note book, and start again to gleefully climb ye hill!

CATALOGUE

Of the imported ladies, did everyone notice that there were several different types? There was the Rolls-Royce girl, with three trunks, six hat boxes and an ermine wrap, (dyed to look like musk-rat, proving that she was a very democratic girl!)

There was the Rolls-Royce girl, with a hammered-silver flask, and a Dunhill pipe (oh no! That's right! She did only smoke 25 cent cigars!) and the proud and lurid possessor of soft-boiled eyes and hard-boiled lips.

And last, but by no means least! ... the Rolls-Round girl, mamma's own good little milk-maid, from Pickett's Corners, weight one ton, style 1890 (end of the Victorian Era)... speed exceedingly slow and ponderous. (Evidence first hand, after bumping into her on the orchestra circle, soda speak.)

But of course, all of these relatively unattractive maids were imported. The great mass of the party was made up of the stalwart youth of the university itself... the fair-haired bleary-eyed men—the marcelled, calcimined and infinitely pure girls, products of a sheltered and thoughtful educational system.

It is thus we love to think of it. The tumult and the jazzing dies. The chap'rones and the queens depart. Here stands the ancient sacrifice. The humbled and the broken heart.

LOTHARIO.

Poor Lothario! We hereby tenderly and sympathetically lay our bet that next time he will do not import.

How he did envy the other boys, when, along about Sunday morning, when they had all fit with their non-imports, and called it a weekend, and still lay abed and called the whole business bunk... he had to arise and plot to the Delta Raw Deal house, and grab off his girl, and go and feed her soft-boiled eggs and toast and grapefruit and coffee at the Chocolate shop! Say! Do you fellows know what a whole weekend of that means? Darn little to eat for the next four weeks, and that not at the Chocolate shop, by gum.

Who was the man who said....

"HOLD! HOLD! ENOUGH!"....?

Or.... by the way... was that a woman who said that?....

To turn to still-less pleasant subjects, didst all know that though there are many fall by the wayside in college, 'tis always the professor who makes the grade?....

And now that registration has gone up to sixteen dollars, we suggest that the bursar use all the little extra dollars to buy jolly little interesting books for the professors to read aloud in the first classes of the semester. They will keep us, after the first five minutes worth of business is over, and spend the other forty-five elucidating on the material they already have given us. Volubility, thy name is pedagogy.

Honestly... did you ever go to such boring classes in your life?

The murmuring saps, and the sap-heads....
Gently dribbling and drolling,
The snores of the weary trotters
Ah, for a long draught cooling

MOVIE CHATS

BY CHATTY

In innovating a new department here on the editorial page of the Cardinal, we have prevailed upon the editors to grant us space today for a short introduction.

We may as well admit at the offset (You'd son find it out anyway) that we're new at the game of reviewing movies and hence can promise no highly authoritative comparisons or judgments.

But we can and will give you in brief our own frank, informal reactions on movies presented in Madison.

Not that our reviews are intended to be regular or consistent in the least. Unbiased, so far, even by the customary press comps, we plan to offer only an unbiased opinion of whatever movie fancy or finance prompts us to view wherever and whenever we happen to see it.

Selection of movies, theaters, and even nights, then, will be purely arbitrary on our part. The press of other work often makes first night reviews impossible, much as we'd like to offer readers of The Cardinal that service regularly.

The column is an experiment. We hope you'll enjoy it.

OPEN NEW MARINELLO SHOP OVER LOKEN STORE

Another authorized Marinello shop has been opened by Mrs. W. Wengel on second floor of the Loken Bros. store.

The shop has modern equipment and four trained Marinello operators are employed. Miss Mollie Mueller, who has been with Mrs. Wengel in her State street store for two years is the manager.

This second Marinello shop is rather an annex to the State street store. The shop opened business on Saturday, Feb. 3.

Pan-Hellenic Will Act on Rushing

Final action on the revision of the rushing rules to be adopted by the campus sororities next fall, will be taken at the meeting of Pan-Hellenic association at 4:30 o'clock today.

Rules will go into effect after discussions of various problems involved in the proposed system have been held by the sorority representatives and each chapter votes on the matter.

Among the changes in the new rushing system suggested are an increase in the number of functions, earlier rushing season, barring of expenses by rushes, and the bringing of orchestras.

Brayton to Speak Before Woman's Club

A. M. Brayton of the Wisconsin State Journal will speak on "The Interests of Women in the News" and Propaganda" at the meeting of the Woman's club this afternoon at 2:30 at the Womans' building. Col.

W. J. Anderson will review, "The Clarion," a book for journalists, written by Samuel Hopkins Adams. Guests of the club and staff members of The Cardinal are invited to attend the meeting.

Ag-Home Ec Mixer to Be Held Friday

Medal of Honor is Awarded Air Hero

A congressional medal of honor has been awarded posthumously to Lieut. Harold Goettler, star tackle on the 1913 championship football team of the University of Chicago. Lieut. Goettler was killed in the Argonne while serving as a pilot in the fifteenth aero squadron.

The medal has recently been presented to Goettler's mother, Mrs. Goettler, who resides in California. Mrs. Goettler was decorated with a distinguished service cross, awarded her son, on May 1, 1920, by Major General Edwards.

Lieut. Goettler was brought down by enemy rifle and machine gun fire on Oct. 6, 1918, while flying low over the Argonne forest in an attempt to drop supplies to the "lost battalion."

Leo Beers Sings At Orpheum Today

Leo Beers is making his first appearance at the Orpheum this week since he performed here two years ago. He sings odd little songs, in such a way that has made him one of the most popular artists in vaudeville.

Before going into vaudeville Mr. Leo Beers was engaged to entertain at society affairs in New York. However, Mr. Beers claims that he would rather entertain the Orpheum Circuit's "Four Millions" than

Gotham's "Four Hundred."

Comedy lines of a great number are skillfully handled by William Gibson and Regina Connell in Will H. Hough's entertaining skit, "One Night in Spring." The skit is rich with cross-fire conversation which all helps to make this one of the most entrancing vehicles this duo of vaudevillians have ever offered.

A blend of dance pleasantries are being purveyed by Seymour and Jeanette, a man and a girl, who are known for their cleverness in the exposition of steps. Ideas in the dance line that have not been approached by any other act make this spicy bit of entertainment very much an originality.

A turn that is speedy and entertaining as well as being different from any other bicycle act is accomplished by Larimer and Hudson.

This show of many varieties will be seen for the last times today and tomorrow. The picture subjects, too, are unusually interesting.

"Stranded" a novel Minstrel offering will hold the headline position on the new bill starting Thursday.

Eat Eline's Chocolate Bars and Nourish the Skin from Within

(Actual size 5 1/2 inches long)

The skin excretes -- it does not absorb. It derives its nourishment from within, not by external applications. The layer of tissue just under the skin derives its nourishment from the red blood corpuscles, and they, in turn, derive their nourishment from the food you eat. The easiest way to overcome skin blemishes is to nourish the red blood corpuscles.

Eline Bars are rich in protein and carbohydrates. Eline Bars are rich in cocoa butter.

Eline Bars are made of choice cocoa beans, purest refined sugar, and fresh, nourishing whole-cream milk from cows that feed in the emerald green fields of Wisconsin and drink crystal pure water from spring-fed lakes. Only this combination of green grass and pure water can produce rich milk.

Eline Bars are rich in flavor and delicious to taste--contain no substitutes or artificial oils--a pure and perfectly balanced ration.

Yet, Eline Bars cost no more than common chocolate.

OHIO TO GIVE NEW COURSE

Physical Education to Be Organized Next Fall

(Special to The Cardinal.)
Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Ohio State university will offer a four-year course in physical education, leading to a degree in the college of education, beginning next Fall in response to demands for trained teachers of physical education.

The course, as described by Dean George F. Arps, of the college of education, will require 46 semester hours credit in the exact sciences, 40 in cultural subjects, 50 in educational theory and 46 in physical education. Most of the work in the latter group is scheduled for the third and fourth years of the course.

"Recent surveys reveal a demand for more than 40,000 physical education teachers for grade and high schools, college, Y. M. C. A. and Boy Scout groups, industries, playgrounds and kindred fields with only 5,000 trained teachers available," Dr. J. H. Nichols, director of men's physical education at Ohio State University said.

"In Ohio, physical education is now required in all city schools, with a law pending intended to extend the scope to all schools," he reminded and called attention to "the tremendous development of public opinion for better and more extensive physical training as a result of widespread defects revealed by draft examinations during the war, the development of play grounds, the spread of athletics for masses and aroused interest in health environment of school children."

"The aim of the course to be offered by Ohio State university," as stated by L. W. St. John, director of athletics, "is to offer a training that will preserve a balance between broad, cultured education and specialization, equipping graduates to organize and direct the recreation of all sorts and sizes of groups, to coach sports or even to teach sciences."

Extension Course Now Teaches Pulp Making

Institute Offers Prizes For Essays

A series of prizes for the three best essays on "The Cancellation of the Allied Debts" is being offered by the Institute of International Education to stimulate interest in the present world situation among students.

The contest is open to any undergraduate student in any university or college in the United States. The prizes are $150 for the best essay, $100 for the second best, and $50 for the third.

The essays must not exceed 5000 words, and must be typewritten, the rules state. Each essay should bear a nom de plume which should be included in an accompanying letter giving the writer's real name, college, class, and address.

Both letter and essay should reach Margaret C. Alexander, Secretary of International Relations clubs, Institute of International Education, 407 West 117th Street, New York City, not later than March 15.

The judge will announce the award of the prize May 1. Additional information may be secured from the secretary of the International Relations clubs.

Earn $800? File Report of Income

To the students working their way through the college, the office of the assessor of incomes sends a notice to the effect that every single person who receives an income of $880 a year, and all married persons who together receive $1200, should file state reports on or before March 15.

Every person who is sent a blank by the assessor of incomes must fill out the same and return it whether he has a taxable income or not.

Teachers should record their full salaries received even though some of it may have been earned in another state, according to the report. All persons who are making Wisconsin their home on the first of January are liable for assessment upon all of the income of the preceding year whether earned in Wisconsin or not.

No money for the payment of state income taxes should be sent to the assessor in incomes, the notice reads. The State tax on the income 1922 will be payable in January 1924. Interest and dividends must be reported whether from property located within or without the state, according to the notice. Under Wisconsin law, there are no tax free bonds except obligations of the federal government.

Pay Deficit

Council Finance Body
Plans Liquidation Of Boards' Debt

A resolution asking that a certain sum be set aside to pay for the school board deficit may be drafted at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the finance committee Tuesday evening.

The deficit amounting to about $300,000 in all has been taken over by the city through action of the city council and will be raised through taxation. The step taken by the committee Tuesday night will be of a routine nature setting aside a certain sum in paying off part of the deficit this year.

The deficit has been caused by the increased cost of operating the public schools which necessitated exceeding the budget each year.

Frautschi Furniture Co.
Secures Expert To Manage Store

J. M. Waterman, until recently sales manager for the Klingman Furniture Co., Grand Rapids, Mich., the largest retail furniture store in the world, has been secured by the Frautschi Furniture Co., 219 King st., as manager.

Mr. Waterman arrived in Madison last Friday night and begun his duties Saturday morning. He is making his home at the Madison Club until his family arrives from Grand Rapids.

Waterman was associated with the Klingman company for a period of 12 years during which time he studied furniture from the standpoint of better furniture for interior decoration.

"It is our aim to give Madison people and others in this vicinity better furniture and better service," Waterman said today. "We will feature Grand Rapids furniture, of course, as everyone knows that Grand Rapids produces some of the best in the world."

Radio Outfit At Waupaca In Operation

Powerful Set To Be Heard In Every Corner Of State

Market broadcasts start today from the Wisconsin department of markets's new wireless station at Waupaca, according to announcement of B. B. Jones, in charge of the service. Quotations on livestock and produce from the principal centers of the country are included in the report.

The marketing department's new broadcasting set is one of the most powerful in the middle west and can be heard by farmers in every corner of the state.

The Wisconsin Department of Markets was the first state department in the country to broadcast market reports by wireless telephone on a daily schedule. Since its pioneering in this work the movement has spread all over the country and has terminated in this state in the erection of this up-to-date broadcasting station at Waupaca. Any person in the state with a suitable receiving set can secure these market reports without cost. The schedule on which the station will start is as follows:

Station W & H—Waupaca, Wis. 485 meters.

8:30 a. m.—Estimated receipts of live stock at Chicago, South St. Paul, announcement. Carlot shipments of potatoes, Cabbage for Wisconsin and the entire U. S. past twenty-four hours.

9:30—Weather forecast for the week and daily forecast for Wisconsin. Repeating Chicago estimated receipts of livestock.

10:30 a. m.—Butter and Eggs Market, early flashes from Chicago, New York. Cheese markets; Wisconsin primary points and Chicago. Chicago potatoes and cabbage markets.

11:30 a. m.—Complete live stock market from Chicago. Poultry markets.

12:30 p. m. Hay, feed, and other related markets. Summary of the day's markets.

4:30 p. m. Special announcements. Extracts from Market gram.

The entire market news service of the department is in charge of B. B. Jones and M. M. Littleton is the director of the Waupaca Station and operator of the broadcasting set.

GRADS OBSERVE FOUNDATION DAY

The University of Wisconsin club of Chicago celebrated Foundation day yesterday to commemorate the meeting of the first class of the university held by Prof. John Sterling in a room loaned by the city of Madison.

Federal Judge Evan A. Evans spoke on the increase of wealth in the state compared with the increase in appropriations to the university. He was formerly a law partner of H. H. Thomas '98 in Baraboo.

The observance of Foundation day has brought a hearty response from the old graduates each year since it was started by the Alumni association six years ago.

The history departments of the universities and colleges of the country have been asked to do research work for the historical revue, and to select the important events

President Harding has favorably indorsed the exposition. Plans are being formulated by which he and his cabinet will be conducted to Los Angeles. This train will be decorated and will be made up so that the government officials can continue their routine work on the way to the Pacific coast.

Spring's Initial Showing

Snow and ice hold no fears for Miss Spring for she is here in all her beauty, and has taken complete possession of this store. Every express brings newer things from the fashion centers of the East. Spring displays just now are quite the finest we have ever been able to assemble by February First.

The Suits

Reveal Soft Lines

SPRING Suits achieve an effect of gracefulness through their softly treated lines. In our collection, two and three-piece Tailleurs and Jacquette ideas in coats show are almost equally present. Box interesting novelty in the matter of necklines, sleeves and slashed sides. Materials favored are twill cords, coverts and greystone cloth.

SKIRTS have much variety about them, wrap skirts, skirts with one-sided rolling and inverted pleats are all prominent. Side-draped and irregular hemline models appear often with a tendency toward front fullness.

The Coats

Stress Circular Sides

REFLECTING a tendency for circular side effects, irregular hemlines, low-bloused waistlines and the straightline silhouette, this collection of Spring Coats proves charming indeed. Developed in lustrosa fashion, marcova, and other soft fabrics, these Coats often feature color and fabric contrasts, thus adding novelty to Spring wardrobes.

SIDE-FRONT fastenings, held by drapes, have a prominent position, cup shape chin collars are noted often, too. And metallic stitching in striped design is a favorite trimming note.
