A GRAND SUCCESS

THIRD AND LAST INDOOR MEET LAST SATURDAY.

Longs Beat Shorts—Philomathia
Takes Inter-Literary Relay Race—
Hill Defeats Engineers.

As had been planned, the third and last indoor meet of the year was a grand success, both in point of attendance and in the interest of the events. The crowd numbered about 800, the entire gallery and every inch of available floor space being covered by the spectators. The track department has succeeded in making these indoor meets the center of athletic interest during the winter and has made a fine start towards paying the expenses of the coming season and the trip to the Buffalo exposition in the summer.

The event of the evening was unquestionably the relay race between the long men and the short men. They came upon the floor, each pair hand in hand, like the Colossus of Rhodes and a boy of ten. At the start the rapidly twinkling legs of the Lilliputians secured them a lead over the heavily striding Brobdignagians but after the second relay the bean-pole element forged ahead and won easily. The longs averaged 6 feet, 4 inches in height and the shorts 5 feet, 1 inch.

An event that excited great enthusiasm was the half-mile novice. A number of crew men were entered besides other untried ones and half a dozen high school lads. J. E. Daniels, the promising young high school athlete, took the event handily.

A hard race was the one-mile run which Keachie succeeded in taking from the veteran Hahn in 4:52. It was fought the entire distance. In the 35-yard dash Senn won rather easily. Hayden captured the 440 yard run. He was not pressed very hard during any part of the race.

Coach Kilpatrick, although not in condition, gave an exhibition half-mile run that was a revelation of what form can be developed by an athlete who is a world's champion in his event. In the two-mile run only two men were entered, neither Bredsteen nor his team-mate, McEachron, competing. J. Smith, who ran such a plucky race in the first indoor meet, took the event in 11:01.

Only two field events were run off. Cochems as usual took the shot-put with Webster second, distance, 38 feet, 6 inches. The high jump resulted in a tie between Hughes and Bishop, both clearing 5 feet, 7 inches, but not being able to get above it.

The interest of the evening centered in the relay races of which there were a number. Philomathia won the literary society event of this kind by a bare inch from Athenae, with Hesperia third. The second lap was especially fine. The three men were all bunched within ten feet throughout the relay, no one succeeding in drawing away. In the third relay Philomathia forged far ahead, but Meyer for Athenae ran a beautiful race in the last and drew up so that he breasted the tape at almost the same instant as the finishing Philomathian.

After this race, the men who won the official "W" during the last year were presented with that emblem. Prof. J. F. A. Pyre made some short introductory remarks. The recipients were: In football, Albert S. Marshall,

A. C. Abbott, J. L. Doar, Earl Schreiber, Emil Skow; in base ball, D. Matthews, George A. Mowry, E. P. Harkin, M. Muckelstone, L. S. Leighton; in the crew, W. K. Herrick; in track athletics, F. W. Schule, J. F. Hahn, A. K. Wheeler; in tennis, Wm. Beye.

The "hill" team succeeded in taking the relay race away from the engineers. The latter secured the lead at the start but were headed about the middle and were worsted considerably at the finish.

The university band was in attendance and enlivened the longer events with bursts of music. The events were well managed and run off in quick succession, obviating all wearisome delays.

As soon as the weather permits, the candidates will commence working out of doors. Many of the older men who have "cut out" the indoor work will then reappear in spiked shoes and ready for the season's work.

The summaries:

35-yard dash—Senn, first; Pugh, second; time, 4 2-5 seconds.

440-yard run—Hayden, first; J. E. Smith, second; time, 61 4-5 seconds.

One mile run—Keachie, first; Hahn, second; time, 4:52.

Two-mile run—J. Smith, first; Carpenter, second; time, 11:01.

Inter-literary society relay—Philomathia, first; Athenae, second; Hesperia, third; time, 3:14.

High jump—Bishop and Hughes tied for first; John, third; height, 5 feet, 7 inches.

880-yard run (novice)—J. E. Daniels, Madison high school, first; Belknap, second; time, 2:17.

Shot put—Cochems, first; Webster, second; distance, 38 feet, 6 inches.

Relay race, longs vs shorts—Longs won, Gibson, Berthke, Webster, Meyer.

Relay race, "hill" vs. Engineers—Won by "hill" team.

School of Commerce Reception.

Professor and Mrs. Scott entertained the remainder of the School of Commerce students Saturday evening. The evening passed very pleasantly and the occasion was made very enjoyable by an entertainment participated in by some of the guests. Mrs. J. C. Monaghan rendered beautiful selections of music to the appreciative guests assembled. Miss Anne Scribner gave a number of fine recitations and Miss Mary Swain delighted the guests with a clever pantomime. Professor and Mrs. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Roedder and Dr. Fish were present.

—Mr. Burton Holmes' lecture on Oberammergau and The Passion Play will take place to-morrow evening, at the Congregational church. The following are the patronesses: Mesdames William F. Vilas, E. T. Owen, L. S. Hanks, B. J. Stevens, R. M. La Follette, J. H. Bowman, E. P. Allis, O. D. Brandenburg, R. W. Wood, John A. Johnson, E. A. Birge, H. B. Hobbins, S. H. Marshall, S. L. Sheldon, J. D. Gurnee, Burr W. Jones, E. G. Updike, A. A. Dye, Fred M. Brown, R. M. Bashford, George Raymer, Frank W. Hoyt, J. H. Palmer, J. M. Olin.

—At the Freshman class meeting of last Saturday afternoon, Miss Ada M. Welsh was elected vice president. Miss Lucie N. Case, historian and Mr. W. E. Schrieber, sergeant-at-arms. Among other important matters Royal Blue and white were declared the class colors and a committee appointed to invent a class yell. A committee was appointed to offer suggestions in the matter of awarding class numerals to successful athletes of the class.

WOMEN WANT A DEAN

A PETITION STARTED FOR THAT PURPOSE.

Self-Government Association Takes the Matter in Hand—Needed to Promote Women's Interests.

The Self Government Association held a special meeting Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in the Law building. The subject of petitioning the Board of Regents for a Dean of Women was discussed. The following petition was drawn up and signed by all present and it is hoped will be signed by all the women of the University before the meeting of the Regents which will take place in the last week of April.

"We, the women of the University, realizing the desirability of a Dean of Women, and feeling keenly the need of a woman to fulfill the functions of that office, do respectfully and earnestly petition the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin to re-establish the office of Dean of Women."

The meeting was an enthusiastic one and many very strong arguments in favor of the petition were brought forward. The feeling is that there is a serious need of a woman to whom the girls will feel free to go for advice or assistance. The change in conditions here since Miss Emery left has shown very conclusively what can be accomplished by a woman in that office who has all the qualities that the work demands. Miss Emery's work among the girls here who were working their way through college was not known or appreciated until she had left us.

One argument in favor of the office is the unity which would exist among the girls as the natural result of having some one at their head. Those who think that there is nothing to be accomplished by the girls being united in purpose and action, are those who have not come in contact with the social, moral and intellectual problems that the women of a co-educational University are called upon to meet. The judgment of a woman of intelligence and culture is almost necessary in deciding the questions that the girls only regard from one standpoint. A woman in such a position advises from the standpoint of a broader outlook and a larger experience. She stands also as a protection between the girls and the criticism which pours in from the town and the state on the slightest provocation.

She brings the girls into more intimate relation with other college women and keeps them in touch with the progress that is being made along the lines of their own aims, in other colleges. It is customary for the Dean of Women to be called upon to address the women in colleges throughout the country, and wherever she appears she goes as the representative of the women of her University, so bringing them and their aims and work into the knowledge of educational circles. In the state Universities of Michigan, Illinois, Kansas, Ohio and Colorado the office of Dean of Women exists.

Such a position demands a woman of the highest intellectual strength and the broadest sympathy.

The girls all showed themselves much in earnest on this question, and every effort is being made toward the success of the movement.

PROF. SLAUGHTER WILL SPEAK.

At the Senior Swing-Out April Seventeenth.

On account of the Legislative Ball, which occurs on April 18th the date of the Senior Swing Out has been changed to Friday, April 17th.

As has been stated before the Senior Swing Out is the occasion on which the class of 1901 first don the cap and gown. The evening will be divided into two parts. The first part of the evening will be filled by a program of speeches and music and then the remainder will be devoted to dancing.

The program for the first part will consist of a speech by the President of the class, Lynn H. Tracy, some musical numbers, probably by the University quartette and the Girls' Glee club, and then Professor Slaughter will address the class. Professor Slaughter consented to make the speech this morning. The class is very fortunate in obtaining so able a speaker to make the address.

Concert by the National Band.

The great United States Marine Band, the simon pure real National Band of the country, right from the White House in Washington, is to visit Madison and give two concerts afternoon and evening in the spacious University Armory building. This visit is made by special permission of the President and Secretary of the Navy and Gen. Heywood of the Marine Corps, because all of these officials are anxious to have the band heard by the people in justification of the large expense its maintenance has incurred since its reorganization under a special Act of Congress approved March 3, 1899. The band now numbers seventy-five members, and is directed by Lieut. Wm. H. Santelmann, who is the first band master in American history to be honored with this title. He is a German by birth, a graduate of the Conservatory at Leipsic, and has trained our great National Band to a perfection never known in its previous history. It will be a musical revelation, a social event, and a patriotic demonstration of the most prodigious character.

A young American dramatic soprano, Miss Amy Whaley, who is a representative daughter of Ohio, will be with the band as soloist.

Excursion rates will be made by all railroads for this occasion.

Three rows of seats in the front of the hall will be reserved at $1.50, then the best portion of the floor will be reserved at $1.00, about 300 seats in the rear, and the entire gallery at 75 cents. Admission, 50 cents. Sale will open at Pickarts & Co's, Tuesday, April 9, at 8 a. m.

—The junior mechanical and electrical engineers left at 5 o'clock this morning for Milwaukee over the Chicago and North-Western. About twenty-five students went. They will remain two days at Milwaukee when they will go directly to Chicago. This is the annual Easter trip taken each year by the juniors and is considered part of the regular course.

—A number of former Varsity students who are now studying medicine in Chicago are up for their Easter vacation. Among them are Messrs. Thomas W. Tormey, George Whare, Robert Gay and George H. Scheer.

Vote.

Tomorrow's election is a local one but no student who considers himself a good citizen has any right to disregard it on that account. The interests of the student in the good government of Madison are neither visionary nor inconsiderable. Besides, a duty is owing to the city on the part of all educated men to acquaint themselves with the issues at stake and with the qualifications of the various candidates and to vote to the best advantage of the community. Students are apt to feel that they are only transients and their voting or not voting, their voting right or voting wrong, is a matter of little consequence. On the contrary, it is a duty that one has no right to disregard. The "scholar in politics" must vindicate himself.

The Success of the Indoor Meets.

The indoor meets this season, have been very successful, both from a financial and an athletic stand-point. Coach Kilpatrick has endeavored from the first to make these meets popular and the large crowds always in attendance thereat have been a fitting reward for his exertions. Financially, they have been of great aid to the Athletic Association.

But it is from the athletic standpoint that these meets are so advantageous. Besides keeping the men in good condition during the winter and early spring, they also act as a stimulus in bringing out unknown men and developing them. There have been some very notable examples of that fact, this season.

From the spectator's stand-point, these meets are, to say the least, highly interesting. The events have been varied enough to give spice to the different meets, and at none of the meets has there been a dull minute. In some respects these indoor meets are more interesting than the open air meets, for in the former the spectator is enabled to see the entire race and not only the finish as is so often the case in the latter.

These indoor meets have now come to be a regular feature of athletics here and much credit is due Coach Kilpatrick for his earnest efforts in this direction.

The Easter Sphinx.

The Sphinx has outdone herself in her Easter issue. There is an excellence and variety of both literary and artistic matter which does the inscrutable femme credit; and is a great improvement on some of her numbers of which we wot.

The cover design, in lavender and black, is carefully executed and though not startlingly original, is rather a pleasing conception, although the central figure is not exactly lovely.

The illustrations are usually good, throughout. W. H. Hughes and L. F. Van Hagen have contributed some caricatures that show a thorough knowledge of zinc reproduction. The double page, central illustration is a clever idea, a little hazily executed, though the faces are carefully drawn. There are some very pretty girls' heads scattered throughout the book evidently done by the same hand. Some of the pictures are a little stiff and out of drawing, but they all have point.

The literary work really merits that epithet. Most of the jokes are funny, the verses are clever, and the editorial well written.

"When Greek meets Greek," "A Prose Fallacy" and "Minna von Barnhelm" contain some good local hits. The poetry has a certain similarity of style, but is good, nevertheless. "My Co-ed Toast," "My Easter" and "The Vehicle Congress" are smoothly written and read well.

All together The Sphinx shows a decided improvement in her work. The Easter issue is one of which the Varsity need not be at all ashamed; in fact there are many points of which it may well be proud. Mr. Koffend, as the new managing-editor is to be congratulated on the excellence of this number.

We take pleasure in announcing that, at our Annual Opening Sale of Bicycles and Sundries beginning Wednesday, April 3d, Mr. W. F. Culbertson from the "Pierce" and Mr. D. W. The Heavens for April.

Astronomical data for April 1901, furnished by the Washburn observatory:

Mercury is the only morning star proper that is visible the present month. The planet reaches greatest elongation west April 3d and may be seen in the eastern sky the early part of the month at dawn. Venus is too close to the sun to be visible and passes through superior conjunction planet in the evening sky April 30th. Mars is the conspicuous planet in the evening sky and passes the meridian in the middle and early evening. It is near the bright star Regulus in the Sickle and is distinguished readily by its ruddy hue. Jupiter and Saturn form an interesting pair of planets in the morning sky. They appear high in the southeast in the early hours, the former leading the way, and are nearly south of the observer by sunrise.

The principal fixed stars visible during the month are:

To the west; Aldebaran, Capella, in the evening hours Sirius, Procyon, Castor and Pollux, and the bright stars of the constellation Orion. Near the meridian: Regulus. To the east: Spica and Arcturus.

Visitors will be received at the observatory if the night is clear on the evening of April 3 and April 17 from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

The trustees at Cornell recently elected Charles Henry Hull Ph. D. as professor of American History to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Moses Coit Tyler and John R. S. Stewett Ph. D. professor of Greek to take the place formerly occupied by Benjamin Ide Wheeler, now president of University of California.
