MAKE PLANS TO CARE FOR MANY ALUMNI

Record-Breaking Crowd of Grads Expected at 1921 Homecoming

Plans to house a record-breaking crowd of Badger alumni at the 1921 Homecoming, October 28, 29, and 30, are rapidly being completed, according to G. Fred Brewer '22, chairman of the alumni committee.

A list of rooms that will be available in private rooming houses will be posted in the central room of the Union building today, and anyone desiring rooms for guests should consult this list at once or see the chairman. Persons who have rooms to let are asked to hand in their names immediately so that their rooms will be included in the list.

A registration booth for alumni will be maintained throughout Homecoming week-end, and all of the old "grads" are expected to sign up—their names, numerals, present addresses, and present occupations.

The booth will be placed on State street in front of the library on Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning, and the alumni registration book will occupy a prominent place at the reception immediately following the game Saturday afternoon and at the ball Saturday night.

A permanent record of all alumni who are in Madison for Homecoming will be maintained and will be based on the records furnished by the registration booth.

ALL JOURNALISTS FROLIC TONIGHT AT PRESS CLUB

"The Frolic of the cubs, the welcome for freshmen journalists which takes place in the Lathrop concert room tonight is not limited merely to journalism students, the committee in charge announces.

"Anybody who feels he has anything in common with journalism students, whether it only be an acquaintance with some journalist, is welcome at the party," said Charles P. MacInnis, president of Press club.

The evening will be opened at 8:15 with a clever French farce in which two young people get into a questionable situation and after some trouble manage to clear things up. The play will be followed by dancing throughout the evening except when the cubs are not paying games, drinking punch, or watching a young Frenchman and his chérie going through an Apache dance which has an ending which differs from the usual "Apache dance."

Although tickets are being sold at 50 cents about the campus, admission may be also paid at the door. Everybody is urged to be on time for the play so there will be no interruptions while the play is in progress. The play will last about 20 minutes.

SECOND SENIOR CLASS TICKET LED BY SUNDT AND BEECHER

A second ticket is in the senior class race headed by Guy Sundt and Frances Beecher.

Guy Merrill Sundt, candidate for president, is captain of the football team, playing fullback. He was placed on Walter Eckersall's 1920 all-conference team. Besides having played three years varsity football he has won two "W"s in track and one in basketball, is president of the "W" club, and was on the athletic committee of his class last year.

Sundt's activities outside of athletics include All-University Traditions committee and the Council of 40. He is a member of Kappa Sigma, Iron Cross, White Spades, Ku Klux Klan, Sigma Delta Psi, and Star and Arrow. He has never held an elective office before. Sundt is a resident of Stoughton and is in the College of Letters and Science.

The ticket's candidate for vice-president is Frances M. Beecher. She is vice-president of S. G. A., a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet council, and is in the university orchestra. She was a committee worker in connection with the Junior Prom and the Exposition, and was on the Badger staff last year. Miss Beecher was women's tennis champion for two years and is on the tennis and swimming teams. She is a member of Chi Omega, Mortar Board, W. A. A., Outing club, Dolphin club, and Crucible.

Norma "Pete" Kieckhefer is running for secretary on this ticket. She has served on numerous committees, handled the sale of programs for the Exposition, was on

Bridge Offered As Diversion at "Autumn Prom"

Through the efforts of the 1921 Homecoming Ball committee, a number of novel features have been arranged in connection with the "Autumn Prom," which will make it distinctly different from the dances of other Homecomings.

A house-to-house canvass by the Intelligence commission in order to ascertain the most popular pastimes among the students has revealed the fact that leap-frog, sleep, and bridge are big favorites. Leap frog, although a wonderful body builder takes too much room and musses up the participants too noticeably.

Sleep will be untenable in the same building with Wilard Sumners' 10-piece orchestra; so the committee has decided that the lame and the bunioned may find their diversion in bridge. Implements necessary to the sport will be found in the S. G. A. room on the second floor of Lathrop hall. For those who can neither dance nor play bridge, a beanbag session will be held on the roof.

DRIVE FOR PUBLIC WELFARE SATURDAY

Date of Tag Day Changed From Homecoming Day

The tag day drive of the Public Welfare association, which will be held Saturday, will cover the entire city. Chairmen of various committees and other workers, including many university students, were listed by the association yesterday.

The tag day, which is an annual drive put on by the association, was scheduled for October 29, Homecoming day, but on request of the athletic department and the Homecoming committee, those in charge of the drive kindly consented to change the date to tomorrow.

The money raised by these tag days goes for the support of the day nursery, the family visitor, the children's health center, the scholarship fund for needy children, and the neighborhood house in the ninth ward. In addition to all these, the Public Welfare association contributed in aiding needy and unfortunate persons, and gives to all charity aid in the city through the 45 affiliated organizations which operate through the association.

SILVER DOLLAR DAY FEATURES GOPHER GAME

Co-eds to Collect Coins in Buckets for Memorial Union

"A Silver Dollar to Help Build a Home for Wisconsin Spirit" will be the motto of one of the feature stunts to be used by the Memorial Union committee for the Homecoming game. The purpose of the plan as outlined by the committee last night is to further publicity for the coming campaign.

The details of the plan as outlined by Willett Kempton '23, who is in charge of the special feature publicity is as follows: "Through special action of the Athletic Council at a meeting Wednesday noon, the Memorial Union committee has been granted the privilege of making this appeal to the students and alumni at the Minnesota game.

"We expect to use every possible effort to put this idea across through our publicity. The aeroplanes which will be here that week-end under the auspices of the Memorial Union committee will drop large amounts of printed matter requesting that every spectator at the game come provided with a silver dollar for Wisconsin's Million Dollar Memorial which will be the future home of all campus activities and life, as well as the constant place of welcome to all alumni."

Much interest is expected to result in this novel feature of publicity and solicitation inasmuch as the girls in charge of the tin buckets will deposit their burden in large wheelbarrows placed in the middle of the field, and manned by four burlesques of "Railroad Jack" who will have been quoting statistics on the proposed building during the collection of the silver dollars.

MORTAR BOARD HAS FOUR ORCHESTRAS FOR MATINEE DANCE

Four groups of melody men will make the court ring with harmony Saturday afternoon when the annual Mortar board matinee dance is held.

The Alpha Phi orchestra is an aggregation including Louis Mann, Nelson Fairbanks, Ed Hess, Orley Holt, Hal Taylor, and "Katy" Farwell.

The Kappa house will have the famous Phi Kap quintet: Cecil Brodt, Carl Noble, Norman Lewis, Walter Kidder, and Walter Pfister.

The Theta players are a jazz quartet formed especially for the occasion. George Schutz, John Roberts, Robert Burney, and Gerald Wade promise to produce the kind of music which "hath charms" as the saying goes.

For the Gamma Phi house Carl Miller, Harold Taylor, Bob Moroney, and Jean Kremer have formed what they call the "First Four," to tempt crowds from the other houses.

WE see the Phi Si's are trying to finance their new lodge by imposing apples upon the public at the site. This is an outrage, fur first they lure us on with:

and then make you pay! Well if everybody chips in and does his part the house may be built.

Why not have tag day for 'em?

Or a subscription campaign?

Hee: Oh! Look at the coed roller skating on the sidewalk.

Haw: That ain't no coed! Skirts too lang, probably some high school girl.

Jean: He's frightfully attractive, I think.

Mary: I can't see it.

Jean: Good Heavens! Do you mean to say you can't see that big yellow car?

WE are supposed to say something about the Lit today. Paul Gangelin told us to. But we can't think of anything nice to say and we don't dare say what we think so we're not saying anything.

NOW WHAT IS SCHULKE GOING TO DO?

TRADITIONS TO BE ENFORCED BY COMMITTEE

Soph Traditions Committee Plans to Tighten Down on Violators

In view of the fact that a large number of the class of 1925 are not living up to the Frosh traditions, the Sophomore traditions committee at a meeting Wednesday issued a warning to Frosh that all violators of traditions will be reported and have already been reported and all sophomores are asked to aid the committee by reporting violators, with the name of the witness of the violations to any one of the committee.

MAJOR TRADITIONS

1. A derby or stiff hat shall not be worn by any freshman except on Prom night.

2. The prescribed green cap shall be worn by all freshman during the following periods of the school year: in fall between registration and November 1, and in spring between Easter Sunday and cap night.

3. Freshmen and sophomores are prohibited from sitting upon or leaning against the fence in front of the gymnasium.

4. No freshman shall be impertinent or show disrespect to upperclassmen.

MINOR TRADITIONS

1. No freshman shall smoke upon any part of the campus except in the Union. This rule shall be in force up to May 1.

2. Corduroy trousers shall not be worn by any freshman or sophomore.

3. Physical disability rendering such held necessary shall be deemed the only legitimate excuse for the carrying of a stick or cane by any freshman.

4. No freshman shall sit or loiter about the steps of the following university buildings: Historical library, Bascom hall, Engineering building, Agricultural hall and the Law building.

The above traditions will remain in force until the election next month, at which time they may be latered.

Mabel Garrison Likes to Sing to Student Audience

By Greselda

A charming figure in bouffant pink tafeta looked down on the crowd gathered at the foot of the platform to greet the singer who had sung so beautifully last evening.

"Maybe I had better come down on your level," she smiled, then we can talk more easily. A difference in levels is confusing. George, give me my coat." And so George, who is her husband, and accompanist, sipped a gorgeous scarlet affair around her shoulders, and Miss Garrison stepped down to talk to us.

"Sky rocket? Is that what you called it? Yes, it was most startling. Of course I thought it was one long drawn out hiss, and I did think the students might have had the grace to wait, or at least not enter into a conspiracy."

"Students are very discriminating. I like very much to sing to them, though, of course, one never knows part of the fun. Sometimes they greet me with a serenade at the train and,"—she paused a moment—"sometimes with a hiss," and Miss Garrison smiled as I acknowledged the score while assuring her outwardly that the sky rocket was the highest token of esteem in Wisconsin, and inwardly trying to picture a body guard of students marching down State street giving Miss Garrison one of their famous serenades.

"George" came forward about this time, ostensibly to carry her off and hastily I asked him whether he had written the selection which Miss Garrison sang called "Baby."

"Unfortunately, I did," he said in a dismal tone of voice.

"Why do you say that?" I asked.

"I liked it."

"Oh it's so, so," he said hurriedly. He agreed that the De Bussey number was the high spot in the program. I didn't have the nerve to tell him that there should have been more of that quality included in the makeup of her program.

George Siemann then reminded Miss Mabel Garrison that they had to make a 7:50 train for the coast, so that my cue and I said "good-night."

Saturday's Game Decides Fate of Michigan and Ohio

BIG TEN CONFERENCE STANDINGS

BIG TEN STANDINGS

Purdue	0	1	.000
Illinois	0	1	.000
Northwestern	0	3	.000
Indiana	0	0	.000
Michigan	0	0	.000

After two weeks of actual conference competition, four Big Ten teams remain tied for first place in the standings. Wisconsin, Iowa, and Ohio State, with one victory each, and Chicago with two runs tacked up to its credit are the leading elevens.

A least one, and possibly two of these teams will be eliminated from championship consideration after Saturday's battles are history. Wisconsin meets Illinois in its first hard clash of the year, and Ohio tackles Michigan. When the final whistle is blown at the end of the Michigan game, either the Wolverines or the Buckeyes will be pushed out of the race. Ohio has already won one game over Minnesota, while the Michiganders are untested except by preliminary contests.

Hard Schedule

Of the five teams which look good for the Big Ten championship, Wisconsin plays three. After the Illinois contest, the Badgers stack up against Minnesota, Michigan, and Chicago. It is a hard schedule and if Wisconsin comes out unscathed it can claim one of the best Varsity teams that has ever represented this institution.

Northwestern is trailing far in the lead. Not until two weeks from Saturday will the Purple eleven engage in another Big Ten game. Iowa looks to be the class of the leaders. With a ripping tearing backfield, and a stone wall line, the Hawks seem able to stop anything that comes their way. They are unfortunate, however, in not having a representative Big Ten schedule.

The 400 men and women who make up the Homecoming committees were photographed in a long panorama yesterday noon on the library steps facing the lower campus. The picture was taken by the Photoart shop, where it will be shown soon.

Owing to a mistake in the Cardinal, members of the Memorial building committee wandered into the group, and had to be "weeded out." The Memorial committee's picture is to be taken this noon at 12:45, but erroneously reported to be taken yesterday at that time.

NO HAZING AT COLUMBIA

Columbia University students have been forbidden to conduct hazing ceremonies on Barnard College green as a result of a disturbance on the women's campus by exuberant freshmen.

"Red" Weston, Scott, Bunge, and Elliott got places on E. C. Patterson's All-Western team in Collier's Weezy last year.

Walter Eckersall has declared Guy M. Sundt to be the greatest all-around athlete who ever represented Wisconsin.

Soccer League to Play First Series

Coach Schlatter's soccer league is now ready to start the first series in the elimination tournament. The captains of the various gymnasium class teams will meet in Schlatter's office tonight at 5:30 to draw for places. If, for any reason, the captain can not be present, he must send someone else to represent his team.

There are 20 teams in the league, two teams being chosen from each general gym class. The names of the teams and their captains are given below:

Monday to Wednesday 11:00, Red Stars, Hendry; Skull and Cross Bones, Banner; 1:30, Red Circle, Gulson; Crescents, R. M. Meyers; 2:30, Blue Streaks, Scarseth; Red Arrows, Godfrey; 3:30, Dumbbells, Dietrich; Aces, Roder; 4:30, Black Circles, Houghton; Red Wings, Longnecker.

Tuesday to Thursday, 11:00, Pawnbrokers, Klos; Horse Shoes, Matteson; 1:30, Black Triangle, Sinclair; Red Diamonds, Chadima; 2:30, Shamrocks, Bellack; Clubs, Norris; 3:30, Pirates, Manns; Giants, Roach; 4:30, Ded Dominoes, Derthick; Black Squares, Sellery.

The teams will have their emblems on the shirts of their uniforms. Practice games are now in progress. The tournament games will be played after school and on Saturday.

All the members of the teams are enthusiastic over the game. Coach Schlatter hopes to make a minor sport next year, and later a major sport. Soccer, or Association Football, originated in England. It has been recognized for 25 years in the east as a leading sport, and it is steadily increasing in popularity all over the United States. Soccer is a major sport at Pennsylvania and Lehigh; Michigan and the big eastern schools have established it as a minor. Semi-professional teams are in existence all over the country, and as near home as Milwaukee and Chicago. Coach Schlatter at one time played on teams in the Cream City and in Los Angeles.

The tournament games will be played on the lower campus so that all may have the opportunity of watching the teams in action.

Schlatter is also training the Varsity and Frosh gymnastic teams. The Badgers placed second in the all-conference meet last year, and with many of the best men back this season, the coach hopes to claim the highest honors in the conference meet, which will be held here this year.

CLASS SQUADS END TRAINING FOR BIG MEET

Athletes of the various classes finished their heavy training for the first inter-class meet Saturday, with workouts yesterday afternoon. Many of the entries went out to Camp Randall for the final run over their distances and several fast times resulted.

The main struggle will be between the sophomores and freshmen with several strong juniors and seniors running to break in on the points. The 100, 220, and 440 promise hard fought contests and it would be a hard task to pick a winner in any of these three events.

In spite of the inclement weather, during the past few days, the track is in good condition and unless heavy rains interfere before the meet, some fast times should be turned in by the winners.

M. Payne, Dakota Wesleyan, holds the record for the longest drop kick. He booted one for 63 yards against Northwestern normal on October 16, 1915. Pat O'Dea, former Badger luminary, drop kicked one for 62 yards against Northwestern university on November 15, 1898. George Gipp, now dead, made the same distance against Western Reserve on October 7, 1916. This was when Gipp had entered as a frosh at Notre Dame.

BASKETBALL SQUAD LACKS GOOD CENTER Preliminary Schedule is Being Arranged—First Game in December

A casual survey of this year's varsity basketball material shows that the Badgers are going to have to contend with one of the same difficulties that confronted them last year; that is, of not being able to work any plays from the tip-off.

The pivot position is one of the most important on the team. Many basketball games have been turned into victory only because the center was able to get the tip-off and erable quickly executed plays to net two points when they were most needed. In fact, many coaches will say that, if they are given a good center who can jump well, they can turn out a winning team, no matter how ordinary the balance of the material may be.

Last year it may be said that the Badgers did without a center. Coach Meanwell tried one man after another at the position in an attempt to discover a player who could jump well enough to work plays from the tip-off. His efforts, however, were unsuccessful, and it is hard to understand how the team attained the success that it did while laboring under this handicap.

McIntosh Graduated

But this is the very thing which the coach is up against again this year. McIntosh having graduated, it looks as though one of last year's freshmen squad will have to be developed for the position. The man who seems to be the safest bet for the assignment at the present time is "Cy" Johnson. He is heavy and handles himself well on the floor but lacks the height and jumping ability to make him a perfect pivot man. Also, he is green, and will have to stand a lot of coaching before he will be in a position to occupy so important a place on a team which is expected to put up a strong fight for conference honors.

Announcements are being made daily to the effect that other conference schools are about to commence the season's basketball activities. After the rivalry for first place last year, said to be the keenest in the history of the Big Ten conference, there is every reason to expect that the present season's teams will be still stronger and the competition even keener.

The Badger preliminary schedule is now being arranged, and will be announced within a week or so. The first game will be played sometime during the month of December.

DORWARD ASKS FOR SATIRE SUGGESTIONS

The satire section of the 1923 Badger is now about a third under way. "Doc" Dorward '23, satire editor, plans to make this section broader and better this year than ever before, and he is calling for suggestions from everyone. Anyone having any new ideas is asked to send them to William Dorward Badger office, Union building.

BILANSKY OUT FOR SENATE POSITION

Hyman "Hy" J. Bilansky '22, has filed his candidacy for membership in the Student Senate from the senior class. He is not connected with any complete ticket but is running independently.

Bilansky, whose home is in Milwaukee, has taken a prominent part in Military activities, being a major in the Cadet Corps and a member of Scabbard and Blade. He acted as a sub chairman of the 1921 Military Ball and as assistant general chairman of the 1922 dance.

He is a member of the Forensic board, and is on the Commerce Advisory commission. He is also advertising manager of the Athletic Review and associate editor of the Commerce magazine.

Four western men, Prof. C. W. Savage, Oberlin, Dr. H. L. Williams, Minnesota, Prof. A. A. Stagg, Chicago, and Walter D. Powell, Stanford, are members of the football rules committee.

SQUAD LEAVES FOR ILLINOIS GAME TODAY

Football Team in Good Shape for First Real Test of Year

With every man in good condition after the last home workout before the Illinois game, a squad of 25 Wisconsin football players left early this morning for Urbana where the Badgers stack up against the Illini in the first, real Conference test of the season on Saturday.

A dummy scrimmage, forward passing and punting for the backs, and charging practice for the line completed preparations for the tough struggle which will try Wisconsin's chance for a high rating in Big Ten standings. Upon arrival in Urbana at noon today, the squad will take a short rest and then go through a light signal drill.

Stiff practice sessions every afternoon this week have rounded Wisconsin into a condition, which although of tip-top, is good enough to permit the Badgers to undergo a gruelling contest. Playing in the Suckers' own back yard, Wisconsin will be at a disadvantage Illinois pariahs will be at bte-FWL MFW partisans retain memories of the last game won by Wisconsin at Urbana and of the Wisconsin Homecoming struggle which Richards' men captured in the second half at Madison last year. If Illinois loses the Saturday game, it will be definitely out of the running for a high place on the Conference ladder.

Iowa Beat Illinois

The Suckers were vanquished by Iowa, 14 to 2, in a hard battle last week. They were unable to stop the fierce plunging of Iowa backs. Should the Illini line yield to Wisconsin backfield men as it did to Hawkeyes, Capt. Sundt and "Rowdy" Elliott will be given the opportunity for off-tackle driving and plunging. In case the Illinois line holds well, "Rollie" Williams will be delegated to run the ends and the short forward pass game will probably be used extensively.

"Bear" stories which have been sent out from the Illinois camp are discounted by Badger coaches and players. Zuppke's eleven is expected to be as strong as possible for the Wisconsin game, and the wily, little ex-Badger will do all in his power to defeat a team from his Alma Mater.

Hundreds of students are planning to attend the game. The band leaves Saturday morning. Supported by a large crowd of Badgers, Wisconsin should be aided greatly in its annual fight to conquer Illinois.

DRIVER WILL CUT FRESHMAN SQUAD

Coach Driver contemplates cutting his freshmen football squad to 35 men at the end of this week. A number of men have voluntarily ceased to report for the practices, so that the cut will not effect many of the candidates.

The Minnesota plays have been taught to the yearlings this week. The frosh may expect some hard, long scrimmages next week when they come up against the Varsity.

As yet it is difficult to tell just what the calibre of this year's freshmen squad does amount to. Most of the men are light, but a few of them give promise of developing into prospective Varsity material within the next few years. A better line will be obtained on the individual players after they have received a few knocks from the heavier and more experienced Varsity squad next week.

Stinchcomb, Ohio, holds the record for the longest scoring runback of a kick-off. He went 97 yards against Oberlin.

Outline Service And Needs of Local Sanitarium

Preparations Well Under Way for $125,000 Fund Drive

Preparations are now well under way for the $125,000 campaign for the Madison Sanitarium. The drive will be held Nov. 9 to 19.

In presenting the needs and the service of the sanitarium to the public, the committee in charge of the drive calls attention to the following summary:

Madison Sanitarium was established in 1902 and the present is the first time it has ever appealed to the public for help.

The present capacity of the institution is 50 beds. It is proposed to enlarge this to 100 beds.

The sanitarium expends approximately $100,000 yearly with Madison merchants for supplies and equipment.

Patients from outside of Madison number 75 per cent of the total treated yearly, thus bringing in additional money to be spent in Madison.

The sanitarium is, and always has been conducted on the "open door" policy, admitting persons of all creeds and race.

The present buildings are 20 years old, are worn out and antiquated and must be replaced with new fire-proof structures.

Germany Seeks More U. S. Research Students

"Germany wants American research students; science is above war." This is the attitude in Germany as told by Dr. C. S. Leonara, who has just returned from a visit to foreign chemical laboratories, Wednesday night at the meeting of the Wisconsin section of the American Chemical society.

"The war has terribly crippled the chemical laboratories of England and France. England, by developing her own apparatus, and borrowing from the United States, is thriving in chemical research work.

Prof. J. E. Day explained two manganese problems, being worked on by modern chemists.

PARIS — Retaliatory measures in the event of the execution of the two Italians, Sacco and Van Zetti, convicted of murder in Massachusetts are threatened against the American Consulates in Paris, Bordeaux, Lyons and Marseilles, in letters received at those consulates today signed by communist organizations.

Similar threats were made against the offices of the American Reparations commission and the American Passport bureau Paris, in letters sent to those offices. Strong police guards were placed around the American consulate and the reparations and passport bureau office here this evening.

Alexander M. Thackara, American consul general, received a letter from a communist organization in a small town near Lille declaring that Americans in France would be the object of retaliatory measures if the executions took place.

Authorities believe there is a general plot against all American officials in France.

Forty six additional letters of protest in connection with the convicted men were received by Ambassador Herrick this afternoon.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the last 24 hours was 50 at 1 p. m., and the lowest was 43 at 7 a. m. Rainfall was .01. Sun sets at 5:08.

Light rains attend the low that is crossing the Atlantic states this morning. High barometer with fair and colder weather follows in the central states and on the plains. Rising temperatures precede another depression in western Canada and the northern Rockies.

Banks Remain Closed On Saturday Afternoons

All banks and trust companies will be closed on Saturday afternoons throughout the year, according to an announcement by the Madison Clearing House association.

Makes New Attempt To Obtain Sales Tax

WASHINGTON—Another appeal for enactment of a manufacturers sale tax was heard today in the senate. Sen. Edge, Rep., N. J., indorsing the sales tax plan, declared that in addition to keeping the surtax minimum rate down to 32 per cent and repealing the excess profits taxes he would do away with one of the so-called excise tax and nuisance taxes. The New Jersey senator's assault on the compromise plan to increase the maximum surtax rate led to a general debate on the Republican side of the chamber. Sen. Lenroot declared "that the so-called agricultural bloc is not in charge of this so-called compromise." Sen. Lenroot also declared committee compromise surtax plan "actually reduced the taxes on all incomes below $86,000" as compared with the rates proposed by the finance committee.

AT THE STRAND

"No Woman Knows," a picture which was adapted from Edna Ferber's famous novel, "Fanny Herself," is now being shown at the Strand theater. Mabel Julienne Scott heads the list of all star players in this screen drama, which should be of special interests to Wisconsin people, because the picture was taken in this state at Winnebago.

The story concerns a young girl who takes up the burden that killed her mother; the burden of providing for a brother who is supposed to be a genius. How she meets temptation, withstands it and finds eventual happiness, occupies the screen wit none of the sincerest and strongest narratives.

There is also being shown "Snub" Pollard comedy.

"PAGAN DOCTRINES, IMMORAL TEACHINGS—HORRORS!"

THE Rev. H. C. Noonan, president of Marquette, is all upset about three professors in this university and their teachings. In a recent swing around the circle Father Noonan attacked Profs. Ross, O'Shea, and Otto for their alleged "pagan doctrines and dangerous immoral teachings" and he went so far as to advocate their being "driven from the halls of the university."

The match that set off the flame seems to be a report that Prof. O'Shea advocated birth control in an address to the Social Science Club Oct. 6. There are only two objections to this report. One is that Prof. O'Shea did not address the club and the second is that he has never advocated birth control at all. In other words, Father Noonan's Intelligence Service did not function accurately in this case.

Undaunted by the emphatic denial of Prof. O'Shea, Father Noonan continued his onslaught and dragged Prof. Ross into the melee, attacking portions of his book on the principles of sociology as being favorable to birth control. Prof. Ross declares that he has never aired his views on the subject fully, but intends to do so soon.

Father Noonan goes on to say that Prof. Ross, O'Shea, and Otto are indifferent to morality and religion in their teachings and that the students "are swallowing it."

Now, there are two objections to raise to Father Noonan's campaign of abuse. The first is that he is proceeding apparently without regard to the facts in the case. He clearly bungled when he leveled his charges against Prof. O'Shea. When confronted with the truth he offered no apologies and continued his diatribes. No constructive criticism can be woven out of a fabric of misrepresentation.

The second and most serious objection is Father Noonan's insistence that the students "are swallowing the pagan and immoral teachings" of certain professors on the faculty. This mistaken conception arises from the apparent failure of Father Noonan to appreciate the difference in atmosphere surrounding the students at the University of Wisconsin and the one with which he is familiar. If he is consistent, and there is every indication that he is, Father Noonan holds that authority is the essence of teaching. From his point of view, it is the business of the teacher, supported by unerring authority, to set forth the truth and it is the business of the student to accept without question.

No such spirit prevails at the University of Wisconsin. Here it is assumed that every professor addresses his remarks to a critical audience. No particular authority is attached to his remarks and no student is constrained to swallow "pagan and immoral teachings," whatever these may be.

This spirit of intellectual freedom on the part of student and professor alike is what makes Wisconsin one of the greatest universities of the world. Heresy trials have no place within these walls and no professor will be driven out for speaking the truth as he sees it so long as the right remains to challenge his doctrines.

The present fight is only one episode in a campaign of long standing. As long as the battle is one of ideas and is based on fact and waged in the spirit of good will the struggle will be helpful. However, when personalities and misstatements enter in, it is time to call a halt before the minds of the people throughout the state are further poisoned.

OUR DRAMATIC SITUATION

AN interesting comment on Wisconsin's support of high class dramatic productions comes to light in the September issue of The Drama. In an article entitled "The Pitiful Plight of the Provinces," Mr. John L. Pletret, a man of international reputation in the dramatic field, criticizes severely the lack of support by the American audience of high class productions, saying: "Good acting has no value for the American public." He further shows the lack of patronage of good acting, especially in university towns by a concrete example of how pitifully the Universities of Illinois, Iowa, and Michigan failed to turn out to a presentation of one of the most worthy serious dramas of the past season. His criticism is scathing and perfectly substantiated by the facts of the case.

The hopeful portion of the article as it relates to Wisconsin is his statement, "My experience has been that the most consistent supporter of good plays and players among the universities is that of Wisconsin at Madison."

That this praise is merited, we like to feel. That such should continue to be the case, we should all strive for. Support of worth while dramatic performances should be a fixed part of every student's program. The number of occasions that such come to Madison is few enough as it is. Any lack of support on the part of the university would probably mean a decrease in even this meagre bit of intellectualism.

The dramatic organizations of the university have been in the past a big factor in getting some worth while performances for Madison showings.

Two Held In Poison Plot Case

Brothers Are Detained in Investigation of Candy Mystery

NURSES WILL RECOVER

Previous Attempts Made on Life of Chicago Hospital Employees

CHICAGO — William and Benjamin Zimmerman, brothers, were arrested last night by a squad from the detective bureau in connection with the mysterious box of poisoned candy sent Tuesday afternoon to nurses in the West End hospital.

The Zimmerman brothers have been attentive to Miss Helen Rosenfeld, the nurse to whom the candy was directed.

The six nurses who became seriously ill shortly after eating the candy—which chemists say was impregnated with cyanide of potassium—last night had all virtually recovered. This recovery was occasioned by the prompt attention which their cases received.

Simultaneously with the arrests investigators discovered that on other occasions attempts had been made to kill members of the hospital staff.

On March 4 of this year an Italian entered the hospital with a stillie in his hand. He endeavored to attack Dr. Benjamin H. Breakstone, chief surgeon at the hospital.

The box came through the mail and was addressed to Miss Helen Rosenfeld, 17, student nurse. It contained home made "fudge," analysis of which by a laboratory expert was said to show that supposedly deadly poison permeated all of the candy.

Miss Rosenfeld came to America nine months ago from Austria and has been a student nurse in the hospital since that time. In the candy box was a typewritten note bearing the inscription:

"From a patient who was an ardent admirer. This candy was faithfully made."

The girl invited six other nurses to share the candy with her and within a few minutes all of them became ill.

One of the theories advanced by the postal authorities is that some jealous suitor sent the box to Miss Rosenfeld.

Few Sick Cases at University, Clinic Report

General health conditions at the university have been very good so far this fall according to information from the clinic.

"Outside of an epidemic of colds the first two weeks, there has been but very little sickness so far this fall," said Dr. Robert Van Valzah of the university clinic. "We had no serious cases nor any of contagious diseases. Saturday's class rush did not yield many casualties."

The clinical staff is temporarily short-handed due to the loss of George E. Fahr, instructor in clinical medicine, who has accepted a similar position at the University of Minnesota which carries with it an associate professorship and a substantial increase in salary. Mr. Fahr left early in October for his new duties at Minneapolis.

"What is done with the physical examination and health record of the student was he leaves the University?" was a question asked Prof. Van Valzah. "They are filed away for future reference," he replied. "Scarcely a day passes but what we receive requests for information from the records by former students. Only yesterday we received letters from France, New York and China. There are some 41,000 individual records on file at the clinic office."

"Dollar Day" Is Held Big Success; Rain Is Handicap

Despite Drizzle in Afternoon Crowds Jam Local Stores

Madison's "Dollar Day" was a success, according to shoppers and merchants. Both pronounced the day as the best cooperative enterprise ever staged in the city. The drizzling rain that fell during the entire afternoon Wednesday, was a handicap but failed to prove a serious check to buyers.

So large was the business in some of the stores that extra help had to be hired, and from the middle of the forenoon on, Dollar Day stores did a heavy business.

Many of the out-of-town shoppers made a day of it, coming into town early in the forenoon and winding up with a visit to a theater at night. Merchants taking part in the affair expressed themselves as well pleased with the results.

Plan Celebration In Schools On Armistice Day

Supt. Gosling Outlines
Brief Program; Mayor
Names Committees

"A celebration in the schools is perhaps the most important part of the Armistice day program," said Thomas W. Gosling, superintendent of schools, at the meeting of the program committee in the city council chambers Wednesday night. All the schools, including the vocational and parochial schools, will be requested to take part in the celebration. The following program, arranged by Professor Gosling and adopted by the committee, will be given in each of the school buildings near the noon hour:

Song, America; re-reading, in the upper grades, of the story of the first Armistice day in 1918, in the lower grades, the telling of the story by the teachers; reading of poetry on the war; reading of Harding's formal proclamation; reading of a summary of the conference; reading of the names of the conference delegates; story of the ceremony to take place at Arlington; telling the children about the purpose of Armistice day; observation of the zero hour at noon; Armistice prayer for peace; song, America the Beautiful.

After the program, a delegation of pupils from each school will be sent to the cenotaph, to place memorials for the unknown dead. The cenotaph is to be erected on the square, in the shape of a service star. A tree-planting ceremony will be in charge of the Service Star Legion. Exercises in the evening will take place in the university stock pavilion, which will be decorated for the occasion. The committee is not yet ready to publish its plans for the program, but it hopes to secure Professor Burton of the university. The new committees appointed by Mayor Milo Kittleson, chairman of the general program committee, are:

Music—Prof. E. B. Gordon, Mrs. E. C. De Moe, Dr. J. W. Madden, Mrs. J. F. Hausmann, William A. Grove.

The bill which opened last night at the Orph is a good, clean, orderly entertainment. With the possible exception of one act there is nothing to offend the most fastidious patron.

Sultan

A perfectly behaved horse who performs the usual feats with his feet. He told how old his trainer was, the color of her red coat, and many other equally interesting facts. One of the best livery stable actors in the business.

Harry Berry and Miss

A surprisingly good number 2 act. They sing old fashioned songs in a pleasing manner, giving the spectator a welcome relief from the tiresome, noisesome, jazz spasms which usually occur about this time during the evening's pleasure. For the sixty-first time this season a ukelele was used.

Alf. Ripon and Jiggs

From the beginning of the act when Mr. Ripon asks the imaginary bartender for a "horse's neck" and his imaginary partner replies, "Give me a horse's tail; then they will only have to kill one horse," you know that the act is going to be funny. Really, Mr. Ripon is an excellent ventriloquist and he puts his stuff over in a convincing manner. It is a pity that he resorted to a smutty gag at the close of his act.

Mary Boland & Company

Miss Boland, who for many years was John Drew's leading lady, is appearing in a sketch entitled "Five Thousand Dollars." The plot involves blackmail, a Wall Street broker, an unhappy wife, a brutal husband, and a lost letter. Here surely are the necessary ingredients for a thrilling one-acter and such the playlet proves to be. Miss Boland put all that she had into the part but it is unworthy of her. She labored hard last evening and finally won the audience in spite of the unconvincing lines which the author has furnished.

Coley & Jaxon

A pair of knowing clowns who scored a hit. Miss Jaxon gives a very amusing caricature of a little girl. She is clever and entertaining. Needless to say, the sure-fire ukelele was dragged in to finish things off and this it did with a bang? Will this ukelele epidemic never cease?

Lucas & Ines

This pair of acrobats accomplished a most unusual thing. They were the hit of the bill. The lady is a perfectly proportioned athlete and she performs acts of strength with the help of her equally capable partner. They introduce a tiny infant who could not have been much over two years of age. The little fellow is remarkable and is the king precocity of child performers. I should advise Coach Richards to get a line on him at once for he is a prospective athlete of wonderful possibilities.

It's the next day after the fire---

Just let's pretend, girls

The flames held full sway and everything your wardrobe possessed is gone. Your fur coat, those new frocks—everything.

While other girls are bemoaning their fate, you are being handed a check in full payment for your garments destroyed.

Insurance, of course, you've guessed it. And rates are nominal, never higher than 52c per hundred dollars insured for the school year.

You cannot afford to be without this protection, and we'll leave it to you to call.

ENGINEERS TO BATTLE LAWS AT FOOTBALL

Plumbers Accept Law Defi to Fight for Supremacy at Randall

The Law school challenge to the College of Engineering has been acted upon, and the Engineers will battle with the Laws before the public on the football gridiron, settling once and for all time which school is supreme. The proceeds of the game will go to the Memorial Union fund.

But still, the disciples of Saint Patrick's monkey wrench gaze over the hill and murmur,

"Well, well, well, is that the Law school?"

"Oh, hell!"

Once more these words from the disgusted plumbers. And as they say, the assumptions of the "cained" in thinking of producing a football team, can, as time goes on, only add to the pitying disgust.

The corduroy men would be insulted, they say, at the legal verbiage of Blackstone, attorney for the laws, hurled in the recent challenge, if only they could come o consider the lawyers of enough import to merit their words being taken seriously.

Just why the Law shop desires to be humiliated before the public is beyond the conception of the engineers; the Northmen are more than willing to act as the humiliating factor in crushing the presumptuous Bar-tenders via the football route.

The Answer

To this end, Saint Patrick has had his scribe write at some length in accepting the challenge of Blackstone. The communication follows, in part:

"Since the lawyers have flung open such an appealing challenge, the engineers feel anxious to negotiate for the 'Battle Royal.' Saint Patrick, himself, in a triumvirate, will welcome a tri-Blackstone in

Hustad Died of Natural Causes, Doctors Find

That Arthur Hustad died of natural causes and not as a result of accident or by his own hand, is the conclusion of Dr. C. H. Bunting of the University and Doctors Daniel Hopkinson and E. L. Tharinger of Milwaukee, in a report made to Riley & Ohm attorneys, this city, representing the Hustads, and to The Old Line Life Insurance Co., Milwaukee, following an autopsy over the body of the deceased. On April 7, 1920, Hustad was found in the barn on his farm near Mt. Vernon, on his knees with the right side of his face and neck resting on a rope that had been hung from a rafter about a week previous to be used in deheading a calf that had been butchered. The loop of the rope hung about 30 inches from the floor. He was unconscious when found and remained in that condition until he died on April 11. Mr. Hustad was insured in The Old Line Life Insurance Co. The policy provided for double payment in case of death by accident. Doctors Bunting, Hopkinson and Tharinger report that Hustad died of pneumonia, and abnormally enlarged heart and complications, and that there was no strangulation. Apparently, says the report, the deceased either fainted and fell directly on his knees and the rope or pulled himself onto it after falling to the floor in an effort to regain his feet. Following the autopsy insurance was paid on the basis of death from natural causes.

MISS GARRISON PLEASES CRITIC IN FIRST UNION BOARD CONCERT

By WALTER K. SCHWINN

In dealing with singers like Miss Mabel Garrison it is very easy to be over-enthusiastic and super-laudable, achieving thereby a sense of insincerity, however unintended, that may cause the reader to cast over the review a weary eye. However, it is difficult to be restrained in considering the warm, rounded voice, the charming manner, and the complete technique of Miss Garrison's singing at the men's gymnasium last night.

In spite of the handicap of a slight cold, which dulled, in the first numbers, the keen edge of her coloratura work, all the finish of Miss Garrison's singing was evident. In the Polonaise from Mignon, the voice grew more round and full, and the technical passages were handled easily and with skill. It is, of all the coloratura arias, the most typically Garrison, in its demand for a golden tone, combined with a delicate sense of brilliancy, that must never—this might be said of all coloratura arias—run into mere mechanical perfection.

The high spot of the program came in the third group, with Fantaches by Debussy. It was a direct contrast to the lyric brilliancy of the Polonaise, in its modern impressionistic style, and was handled intelligently and thoughtfully by Miss Garrison. Her voice was mellow and full, and the whole song—with its beautiful accompaniment—was exceedingly well done. It was the sort of thing that I went to hear; I was sorry that out of so many numbers there were so few that could compare with it in its style. Perhaps this habit of singers and musicians playing down to the vulgus, is one of the penalties of living in the so-called provinces.

I had always fancied that a contralto, or at least a mezzo, should sing folk songs. It is a belief that must go, for Miss Garrison's singing of Swing Low, Sweet Chariot proved that sopranos, even the most lyric, can, with the proper sympathetic treatment, sing these songs with all the warmth of tone and simplicity of manner which I usually associate with contraltos. I am glad it was proved, for Miss Garrison more than fulfilled the demands.

Altogether, Mabel Garrison opened the Union board series in a most pleasing and satisfactory manner.
