5 CENTS

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED FOR DEBATE FRIDAY

Teams Ready to Meet Michigan and Illinois on Soviet Russia

Finding it impossible to get a larger suitable auditorium for the inter-collegiate debate Friday night on the question of recognition of Soviet Russia, the Forensic board has announced that only the full seating capacity of Music hall will be sold for the contest. This will permit from 900-1000 persons to hear the discussion. Tickets at 25 cents each can now be had at the University pharmacy and Hook Brothers music store.

The slight deviation from customary procedure in not charging admission for inter-collegiate debates was brought about by the desire to get funds with which to make it possible to send a Wisconsin debating team to California.

Those who plan to attend the debate Friday are strongly urged by the Forensic board to buy their tickets at the advance sale in order to guard against disappointment, as it is expected that one of the largest crowds that ever sought admission at a Badger debate will be on hand at the Illinois contest.

Teams Ready

The Wisconsin affirmative and negative teams held their final rehearsal Monday night and after a few slight changes have been made in both cases the argue artists will be ready for the opening gun Friday night. No two more evenly matched teams ever represented the university on the inter-collegiate debate platform.

The closers, Thomas Amlie for the affirmative, and I. Arnold Perstein for the negative, have had previous inter-collegiate experience. Both are members of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity. Martin Kriewaldt, second negative speaker was a joint debater at California last year, and Sterling Tracy, pivot man for the affirmative, closed for Philomathia's victorious joint debate team in this year's contest. Ralph Axley and Charles D. Assovsky, opening speakers respectively for the affirmative and negative, were also in the recent joint debate.

A comparative analysis of the strength of the Illinois and Wisconsin teams will be made in tomorrow's Cardinal simultaneous with the announcement of the personnel of the Illinois team. It is expected that one of the most interesting phases of the discussion will follow the debate when the audience will be permitted to question members of either team.

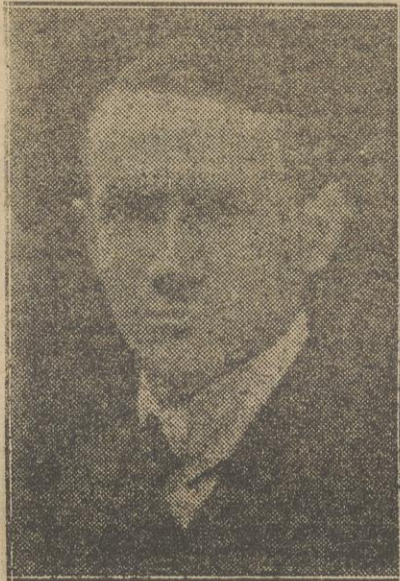

15 WOMEN LEAVE FOR CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS ATHLETICS

Will Present Plans for Unified System of Awarding Athletic Points

Fifteen women, members of W. A. A. and Outing club, will leave this noon for Bloomington, Ind., where they will attend the national Athletic Conference of American College Women.

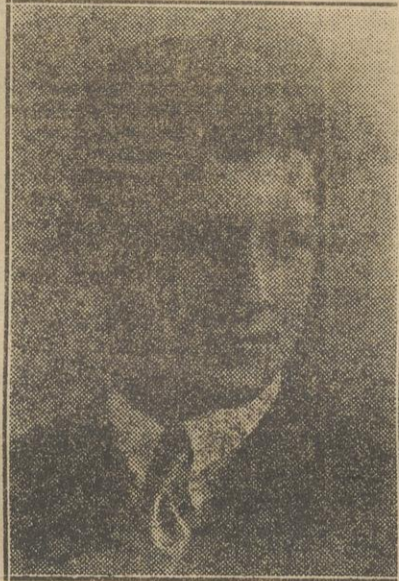

Those who will go are: Margaret Swift '21, last president of W. A. A., official delegate; Mabel Winter '22, new W. A. A. president; Auta Lyman '22, new Y. W. C. A. president; and Marguerite Croskey '21, vice-president of S. G. A. Unofficial delegates are: Ellen Correll '22, representative of Outing club; Marion Strassburger '22, press representative; and Mary Roach '23, Mildred Rogers '21, Mary Maxwell '22, Hazel Wright '21, Edith Ewald '22, Lillian Stupp grad, Romayne

TRACY AND KRIEWALDT ARE PIVOT MEN FOR FRIDAY DEBATES

STERLING H. TRACY '22

Tracy won his place on Wisconsin's forensic honor roll by his remarkable close in the joint debate last January. He is a member of Forensic Board, the Student Senate, the editorial staff of The Daily Cardinal, and Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary professional journalistic fraternity. Last year he closed one of the semi-public debates for Philomathia and won the sophomore oratorical contest.

MARTIN R. KRIEWALDT '22

Kriewaldt entered Wisconsin as a junior from California where he made his mark in forensics as a contestant in two of the most popular debates on the campus, the freshman-sophomore contest and the joint debate. He is a member of Athenae. His regard for Wisconsin is best attested to by the fact that his home is in Adelaide, Australia.

HOMECOMING NETS NEARLY $900 TO ATHLETIC BOARD

Money Will Be Used in Promoting Intra-mural Sports

As a result of the efforts of the 1920 Homecoming committee, $891.49 has been turned over to the Athletic board. The money is to be used in promoting intra-mural sports.

This is the largest amount that has ever been made on Homecoming, and T. E. Jones, director of athletics, has expressed himself as being well satisfied with the handling of the 1920 Homecoming.

"The success of Homecoming depends on the general chairman to a large extent," Mr. Jones stated, "and I must compliment Mr. Follert on the splendid manner in which he handled Homecoming this past fall."

"Homecoming is a growing affair, and it is becoming one of the biggest events of the school year. The chairman is appointed by the Athletic board and co-operates with the director of athletics. The splendid co-operation this past fall was responsible for the biggest and best Homecoming that we have ever had."

MADISON HIGH IS LOOMING BIG FOR BASKET HONORS

Nine Strong Men Make Up Team to Compete in Tournament

The Madison high school basketball team is a competitor for title honors in the state tournament at the armory on March 24, 25, and 26 and it is concentrating its attention from now until the tournament upon the technical details of the game. The team on the whole, is working better than it has at any time this season, their floorwork being fast and their shooting accurate.

Friday night the team completes its regular schedule when it meets Kenosha on the latter's floor. If they are victorious they will be able to claim 11 victories against only two defeats. The Racine team which will probably be below Madison's class by the time it arrives here for the tournament, was the only team which was able to beat them.

Nine Strong Men

Coach Endre's Madison boys constitute what might be called a nine man team. For in Captain Diebold, Walsh, Friedl, Sutherland, Tallard, Brown, Green, Hickok, and Glacier, the coach has nine men between whom there is but little choice. All are men of experience and all have

BRONSON CHOSEN AS MANAGER OF HARESFOOT SHOW

Carl E. Bronson '22 was elected yesterday to be manager of the Haresfoot club's twenty-third annual production, "Miss 'Quita," which will tour seven cities in Illinois and Wisconsin during the spring recess and play in Madison April 21 and 22.

The position of manager requires business ability in order to make the road trip of the show a success. A decision in regard to the management has been withheld to allow time to check up the eligibility lists in Dean S. H. Goodnight's office.

Bronson was property man for last year's Haresfoot show, "Mary's Lamb," and was elected to the club in the spring of 1920. He is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity

TRACK CHANCES LOOK GOOD FOR BIG TEN MEET

Illinois and Michigan Will Be Badgers' Strongest Competitors

Holding victories over Northwestern and Notre Dame, the Wisconsin track team has an outside chance of winning the annual indoor track and field games of the Western Intercollegiate Conference Athletic association at Northwestern university gymnasium on Friday and Saturday nights.

Only Big Ten teams are entered in this indoor classic. Preliminary heats of the races will be run off Friday night, and the first three men to finish in these trials will be eligible to compete in the finals on Saturday night.

Illinois, because of its decisive victory over Notre Dame in a dual set of games and the strong showing of its track and field men in the annual Urbana relay, will rule a strong favorite; but Wisconsin and Michigan are conceded outside chances to win the title. Minnesota has a few good men, but the Gophers are not well enough balanced to warrant consideration as a championship contender.

Strong in Hurdles

Wisconsin will be strong in the 60-yard high hurdles and the 50-yard dash, in which two events Knollen defeated both Desch and Wynne, Notre Dame national record holders. Knollen, Field, Wood, Mattox, Wallis will run for Wisconsin in the dash, and Knollen, Armstrong, Stolley, Newell will represent the Badgers in the hurdle event.

Because the broad jump will not be held, Wisconsin has been deprived of several sure points. Guy Sundt, Badger jumper, took second place to Carl Johnson in the outdoor games at the University of Michigan last year.

Captain Clyde Nash will furnish keen competition in the 880-yard run. He easily defeated Kasper of Notre Dame in this event last Saturday.

Good Distance Men

In the distance runs Wisconsin will have an excellent chance of winning places. Wall, Brothers, and Wille finished in the first three places against Notre Dame, and these men also made a clean sweep of the longer runs in the Northwestern meet. Finkle and Dennis won first and second in the two-mile run against the Hoosiers.

Finkle, who is running his first season on a varsity squad, showed that he is a runner of splendid ability by taking the lead in the beginning of the Notre Dame race and holding a safe margin until the finish. He had a great amount of reserve power which he was not forced to use against the Notre Dame squad.

Wilder and Merrick in the pole vault are two of the best in the Big Ten. Both are veterans and have had no difficulty in defeating a majority of the vaulters that they have met. Merrick tied for second place in the pole vault at the Urbana track and field games.

Illinois is Favored

Illinois, which has been favored to win the games, has developed one of the strongest teams during the eighteen years Coach Gill has been in charge of track and field athletics at Urbana. The squad is well balanced, and is especially potent in the middle distance events. The Illini won an easy victory in the four-mile relay at the Urbana games and Gill's quartet of milers will make a strong bid for honors in this event at the Pennsylvania relays next month.

Yates and McGinnis are a pair of great runners, who ran on the winning Illinois two-mile team and then aided in capturing the four-mile relay. Donohue and Brown, the other two members of the two-mile team which tied the carnival record of 8:04 4-5, are steady racers, while Wharton and Patterson, and others, can do around 4:20 on an indoor track, according to Coach Gill.

In addition to the distance stars, Illinois will send Ablerts into the jump. Alberts outjumped "Johnny" Murphy of Notre Dame in the dual meet between the two teams, clearing the bar at 6 feet 3 1-2 inches. He tied Walker of Michigan and Paige of Ames at 6 feet 3-4 inches in the Illinois relays.

Competition in Shot

Weiss, shot putter, has tossed the ball 42 feet and won third place in the Illinois relays. Shaw of Notre Dame copped first place at the Urbana games. Osborne has done better than 6 feet in the high jump and is also a good man in the pole vault and hurdles. In the all around event, he finished second to Brutus Hamilton, Missouri, one of the best pentathlon and decathlon men in the country. Wallace, in the hurdles, and Capt. Prescott in the sprints, are other runners upon whom Coach Gill is relying to gather points.

Michigan, which will furnish the closest competition to the Suckers, badly defeated Chicgo in a dual meet this season. Butler and Wetzels are speedy runners in the one-quarter and one-half mile runs, and the Wolverines are sure to count in the 50-yard dash with Loesch, Kelley, Simmons, and Lewis.

In the hurdles, Cruikshank and Sargent won places at the Illinois relays, and Burkholder in the half-mile run is one of the best cinder men in the Conference. Two pole vaulters, Sloughter and Westbrook, have made 12 feet 3 inches, and Walker in the high jump ranks with the best of the Big Ten.

Purdue should win the two-mile event, with Furnass, Olympic star, running against Fialke of Wisconsin, Penberthy of Michigan, and McGinnis of Illinois. In the other events, Purdue possesses second-rate men, and the Boilermakers will pick up only a few scattered points.

CAN THE EDUCATED BE IGNORANT?

WHAT is new is not necessarily true, Mr. Chesterton told one of his questioners in the lecture audience last week. Nor is what is true necessarily new.

Hazlitt, who paradoxized the public at an earlier period, in writing on "The Ignorance of the Learned," used up practically all the thunder which Mr. Chesterton, a century later, employs in explaining "The Ignorance of the Educated" to enthused American audiences at $10 per minute.

A hundred years has not altered the essential sameness of the two thinkers' philosophy on these matters nor their mode of expressing it. And there is only a word of difference in the title of their brilliant pleas for sound common sense.

Even on this single point of divergence, is it too bold to venture that Mr. Chesterton last Wednesday really was directing most of his witty pot-shots at the learned rather than at the educated, and that he committed paradoxicide in the selection of his title?

If we construe education to be a development and attainment of all human faculties for the richest, fullest type of living, then even rubber paradoxes cannot be stretched to make real education have any synonymy with ignorance.

Learning is something narrower. It really falls in with such mental processes as those of the learned judge Mr. Chesterton cited, who thought the two unusual litigants at bar had engaged in a deadly duello with spades, when in fact they had merely been fencing a field.

"The learned man prides himself in the knowledge of names and dates, not of men or things," wrote the piquant paradoxist of a century ago. "He thinks and cares nothing about his next door neighbors, but he is deeply read in the tribes and casts of the Hindoos and Calmuc Tartars. He can hardly find his way into the next street, though he is acquainted with the exact dimensions of Constantinople and Peking. . . . Above all, the mass of society have common sense, which the learned in all ages want."

G. K. C. merely echoes Hazlitt when he points a satirical finger at the learned modern busybodies who cook up doctrinaire guff about the domestic habits of the paleozoic anthropoids.

Hazlitt a hundred years ago said the antics of the learned indicated their evident aim "to confound all common sense" and "to render nonsense sacred." And Chesterton in 1921 rails at their "floating fashionable fallacies."

But learning, which merely makes of its victims prigs, or pedants, or half-men in the genuine understanding of life, falls short of being educated, doesn't it, Mr. Chesterton?

It is possible for the conscientious student of the Letters and Science of Living to bring to a university course that purpose and attitude of mind that will enable him to gain in the true sense education that cannot be vitiated by blind sophistications.

The really educated person in this or any other age is the true humanist, to whose sphere of sane and hed-blooded interest no worthwhile phase of life is foreign.

THE MILITARY BALL IN THE CAPITOL

THIS year the military ball will be held in the state capitol. Some discussion has arisen as to the propriety of this step. It is alleged that the military ball might detract from the prestige of Prom.

There is little basis for such fear. The two affairs are separated by a sufficient lapse of time to prevent one from encroaching on the other.

Moreover, this year the ball is not to be held for the cadet corps alone, but for all service men. Two years ago no place was too good for these men. Why not now?

TO DISCUSS DEBT AMERICA OWES TO IRELAND'S CAUSE

Dr. T. L. Harrington of Milwaukee, friend of the Irish cause, will give an address on the subject, "America's Problem: Ireland," at the St. Patrick's Day celebration at Music hall, March 17, at 8 o'clock. The program is under the auspices of the Mercier club of the university.

Dr. Harrington will treat the subject from the standpoint of its application to American promises made upon our entrance into the great war, rather than from a sympathetic standpoint. Dr. Harrington was a captain in the American Expeditionary forces and while in Europe visited Ireland. His visit there changed his viewpoint from that of an interested observer to that of an ardent believer in the cause for which Ireland has been fighting for the last eight centuries.

The address will be supplemented by Irish songs and stories. William Gelch will play a violin solo, Mrs. James Hyland of Madison, accompanied by a harpist, will sing some of the well known Irish songs. Miss K. O. McCarthy of the department of speech of the university will entertain with Irish songs.

Breed 88, J. C. Bode 88, J. K. Douglas 84, G. M. O'Connor 83, S. B. Green 83, N. S. Aageson 81, R. B. Russell 80, A. E. Rond 80.

performed well during the course of the season.

Diebold and Walsh are the two veterans of last year's team, both having been all-section men. "Bud" was placed on the honorary team again this year and there is little doubt that Diebold would also have made it if he had been playing his regular position. These two will probably be the mainstays of the Madison five in the coming tournament.

Sutherland was not "uncovered" until he distinguished himself in the tourney a year ago, going in as a substitute and playing ball of championship calibre. He and Tallard, who starred in the games at Whitewater, have played opposite "Bud" Walsh this season and both have shown themselves to be reliable forwards.

Friedl and Green are guards who, in spite of a lack of experience, have been instrumental in maintaining the strong defense which has characterized the Madison team's play this season.

Brown, a center of unlimited experience and ability, will probably be shifted back to center now that Diebold is back in his former position.

Hickok and Glacier are newcomers who have shown up well when in action. Hickok is an all-around man, fitting into all three positions with equal success. He has had several years of experience and it is likely that he will be used in the tournament games. Glacier played with Wisconsin high last year and

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

Vera Gordon, who created such a sensational success as the "Mother" in "Humoresque" will be seen at the Strand theater for four days commencing today in her latest triumph, "The Greatest Love." This is a dramatic story of mother love, sacrifice and family honor. The complications of the plot surround the death of a theatrical producer known to have been one of the most hated men in the city. There were dozens who might have had a motive for slaying him, but Lantini was found bending over the dead man, and as he also had a motive for revenge, he was arrested and sentenced to death.

As the mother fighting undauntedly against heart-rending odds, pitting her mother love and trust against the opinion of learned counsel and unbelieving governor, Vera Gordon rises to superb heights. Not for a moment does she hesitate in her determined efforts to deliver her son.

The added attractions will be a Comedy cartoon, a Bray Pictograph and a Post Nature Travelogue "Fishing."

AT THE GRAND

Kenneth Harlin, who recently played opposite Constance Talmadge in "Dangerous Business," and is now to be seen at the Grand supporting her in "Mamma's Affair," has proved such a satisfactory type to play opposite the Talmadge girls, that he has been signed up for a year. He will continue with Constance until her next picture, "The Man From Toronto" is completed. Then it is expected he will support Norma in one or more pictures.

In the screen version of "Mamma's Affair," which, by the way, will close its engagement at the Grand today, there are no less than four of the leading players in the stage play. Effie Shannon who was seen as "Mamma" in the original stage version plays the same role in the picture. George LeGuere, Katherine Kaelred and Gertrude Le Brandt also played in the stage play the same roles they portray in the picture.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Headline attractions may come and go but the big double headline attraction announced for the Orpheum's vaudeville for the last half of the present week, starting on Thursday night, promises to be one of the best of the present season. The first feature presents Maryon Vadio, America's peerless danseuse and Ota Gygi, court violinist to the king of Spain, with Miss Mary Izant at the piano, in their repertoire of classical masterpieces. Miss Vadio has youth, beauty, grace, ability and technique, while Mr. Gygi has soul, power, touch and is master of the technical instrument and their joint appearance here assures local theatergoers one of the better offerings of the vaudeville stage. The second feature act will be the ever popular favorites John and Albert Swor, impersonators of the Southern negro. It has been many seasons since this clever team of entertainers have appeared before a local audience and their coming on this bill, with their comedy, songs and soft-shoe dancing will be welcome. On this same bill will be four other recognized Orpheum circuit acts in James Silver and Helen Duval offering "The Star Boarder," a comedy skit of laughs; The International Prima Donna, Sophie Kassmir, will render a cycle of delightful songs ranging all the way from a little descriptive number to an operatic aria. "The Mysterious Masquerader" a surprising comedy novelty will be presented by Her-mart and Shirley, while The Toyama Japanese troupe of four will complete the bill with "A Nipponese Novelty."

I believe the best way to secure an increase in salary is to get an offer from a rival concern, but how you get one of these offers, I have never found out.
