PROM MOVIE BEGINS TODAY AT MAJESTIC

Betty Compson is Featured in Drama "At the End of the World"

The Prom benefit movie starts today with a matinee at 2 p. m. The movie will continue for three days, January 18, 19, and 20, running an afternoon and evening performance each day. The picture "At the End of the World," featuring Betty Compson, has been secured by the movie committee, and is recommended as especially good. Tickets have been sent around to all the organizations and the Prom committee receives one-half the proceeds from the movie.

"I want to urge everyone to attend the matinee, so as to distribute the attendance more evenly and make sure that everyone gets to see the movie," declared Vincent Conlin, chairman of the movie committee. "The Majestic management have agreed to run five performances a day and we would like all the students to make a special effort to attend."

The first performance will begin at 2 p. m., the second one at 3:30. The evening program will start at 6:45 and run continuously through the evening.

Traffic Cops Will Direct Prom Taxis To Special Doors

"Two student traffic cops will be stationed at each entrance of the capitol on Prom night in order to direct and keep the taxis moving," said Frances Carroll '23, who heads the committee on transportation. "Every possible care will be taken to prevent congestion of traffic and delays."

Each taxi company is to have its own entrance at the capitol, and will issue checks for transportation home after the dance. Private cars will use the Wisconsin street entrance. The committee has petitioned the city in order to secure permission for two-way traffic around the square that night.

Signs will be placed inside the entrances at the capitol to direct each prom party to its own box.

Captains Meet to Plan China Drive

A meeting of all captains working on the Chinese drive was held yesterday noon in Lathrop hall.

Glays Webber '23, head of the drive, urged all the girls to put a final effort into getting subscriptions before the campaign closes.

Miss Abbey Mayhew, who was formerly in charge of women's physical education, will speak Friday at 12:45 in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop. Miss Mayhew is now director of the physical education school in Shanghai.

President E. A. Birge said: "The work of Childs in China is the one enterprise for moral betterment in a foreign land which is supported by the university as a whole. Childs is working with those Chinese who have had a foreign education and is successfully trying to promote and maintain among them not only the general spirit of Christian civilization but also those specific aims and ideals which are represented here in Wisconsin. He is in every sense of the word our representative in China. We must sustain him and our work there in full vigor."

Severance and Heald Have Charge of Programs and Guests For Prom

BENJAMIN F. HEALD

Benjamin F. Heald is responsible for sending out the invitations to the Prom. His committee receives acceptances and makes out a list of honored guests and of patrons and patronesses.

Heald is a member of Theta Chi fraternity. His home is in Sheboygan, Wis.

Varsity Gore Is Compiled for Lit. by Tony and Cleo

Have you ever heard that the Dean of Women forbids her charges to say "soup," or that all engineers wear flannel shirts? Have you ever heard that professors shoot craps in the University club, that the Dean of Men employs spies, or that the ski-jump is used for fussing, like a sort of a Norse Walhalla? Have you ever heard any similar superstitions here at Wisconsin?

Two prominent university men, under the names of Anthony and Cleopatra, have compiled a set of over 50 of Wisconsin's pet beliefs. The results of their labors are to be published in the January issue of the Literary magazine which will come out Friday.

"Strange as it may seem," declared Paul Gangelin '23, editor, "this article is not meant to be a satire on undergraduate life. It pretends to be nothing more than it is, a survey of student discussions,—a glossary of college gossip, giving a picture of Wisconsin life."

Du Bois Will Speak On Future of Negro

"The Future of the Darker Races" will be the subject of a lecture by Prof. William E. DuBois tonight at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Professor DuBois is a graduate of Harvard and has written several books on the subject of negro advancement. He is of negro descent and has devoted his life to the cultural rather than the industrial advancement of the dark race. He was professor of economics and history at Atlanta university and is now managing editor of The Crisis, a negro magazine published in New York.

Professor DuBois is taking the place of Booker T. Washington, who did so much for the advancement of the negroes.

Professor DuBois will speak under the auspices of the Social Science club.

PROM CARDINAL TO BE COMPLETE MEMO OF EVENTS

Groups Are Asked to Submit
All Data Before
Jan. 27

Just who everyone of the more than 1,800 gayly twirling dancers on the marble floor is, what each one of them has done and is planning to do during the week-end of festivities, who the out-of-town guests are, and how the various houses decorated for the social event is only a portion of the contents planned for the Sigma Delta Chi Prom Cardinal.

State secrets will be revealed; gum shoe reporters will haunt jewelry stores; keep eyes open for new additions on "over the heart spots" of dainty gowns; peer through balustrades and hover around corners to jot down bits of sincere but evanescent conversation—and to fulfill their motto of recording to the full "Prom from inside the lines."

In order to record with accuracy all the details concerning the box holders, the reportorial staff is seeking the aid of the groups themselves. They ask that information given them be typewritten and be arranged in the form that will save every minute needed to get the issue out before 1 o'clock.

The name of every Prom goer should be complete, first name, middle initial and last name, avoiding the use of nicknames. Every member of a party who is not regularly in attendance in the university should be so designated by giving the name of his or her home town. Dates, time and place of events should be clear. Decorations or other notes of interest should be described in detail but without elaboration.

Most important is that the copy reach its destination in ample time for arrangement and editing. C. P. MacInnis will receive this material at 131 Langdon street. It is due Friday, Jan. 27, with corrections and additions permitted up to Tuesday, Jan. 31.

REGENTS WILL ACT ON OPEN FORUM TODAY

Student Senate Will Urge
That Definite Action
Be Taken at Once

Definite action on an open forum at the university will be taken by the Board of Regents at a meeting commencing at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

The Social Science club, which favors the forum, will be represented at the meeting by Samuel Sygman '22, and Thomas Amie Law 2. Ralph E. Axley '23 will represent the Student Senate and make the formal request that the Board of Regents take the matter up for consideration.

Hambrecht Will Speak

George P. Hambrecht, Madison, member of the board, will speak in favor of the open forum for speakers to university audiences.

Most of the members arrived in Madison yesterday. The afternoon was taken up for the most part by various committee meetings, according to the regents' calendar. Although there are only three or four on most of the committees any regent is permitted to attend any meeting, and in some cases there were as many as eight in a meeting.

Committee Reports Today

The regular board meeting will be held this afternoon, at which time the reports of the various committees will be taken up.

Yesterday evening the members of the board were entertained at a reception given by President Birge at his home.

Prof. McPherson of Ohio State is to Speak Here Jan. 19

Prof. William McPherson, dean of the graduate school and chairman of the department of chemistry at Ohio State university, will address the Wisconsin section of the American Chemical society on Thursday evening, Jan. 19, at 8 o'clock in the chemistry auditorium. The meeting is open to the public.

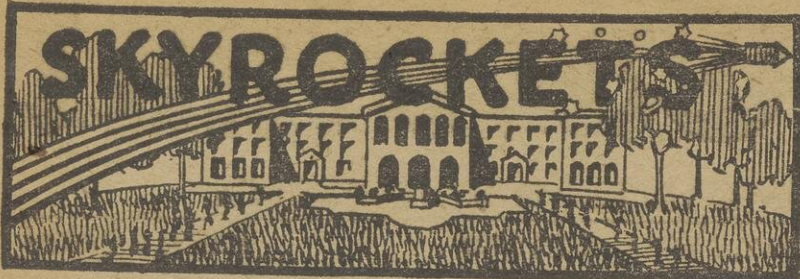

Dr. McPherson's talk will be on "Italian Contributions to Chemical Science." During the war Dr. McPherson served as captain in the ordnance department, and later as major and lieutenant-colonel in the chemical warfare service. He was one of the representatives from the United States to the Allied Gas Warfare council held in Paris during the last year of the war.

On another occasion Dr. McPherson spent several months in the chemical laboratories of Italy and so is particularly well qualified to talk about Italian chemistry. In addition to being a chemist, Dr. McPherson is a delightful scholar and an interesting speaker. He is also joint author of the seven well-known McPherson and Henderson books on general chemistry.

A 6 o'clock dinner, with Prof. McPherson as the guest of honor, will be held in the large dining room of the University club previous to the meeting.

Commerce Mag Was Sold Out Yesterday

Practically every copy of the January Commerce magazine with the feature survey, "The Wisconsin Mirror," was sold on Tuesday. Thirty copies which were left over have been placed on sale in the drug stores around the campus.

Are you indulging in the latest indoor sport? The rules consist of one thing,—don't become to erratic in your spreading. The game is simply telling the other person what you intend doing after leaving this place. If he believes you, you win. If you also fall for his line, the game is a draw. If either of you run out of dust, the other wins by default.

At last we have evidence that a college education does a woman some good. According to the Commerce Mag questionnaire, the average first year co-ed wants a man earning $5,000 a year, the average senior woman is willing to accept one arning $2,000. Is the change born of wisdom or disappointment?

LETTERS WERE AFRAID TO GET

HI N. LOW,
Dear Sir,

The repeated warnings received from this office seem to have been of no avail. The column conducted by you continues to contain certain material whose nature is best left undiscussed. It seems that you are unable to think without letting your thoughts become influenced in these certain directions.

In view of the above facts, I deem is unnecessary to say any more than that there is a train leaving Madison for your home at 5:30 this afternoon.

Disrespectfully yours,

THE DEAN.

P. S.—You are not a nice boy.

Now, gentlemen, in view of approaching events, is the time to turn your accounts over to a collector. We advocate an open season, with no mercy shown,—except to ourselves.

Hardings Unable to Attend Junior Prom

President and Mrs. Warren G. Harding will not be present at the 1923 Junior Promenade, as has been expected. It was learned that they were going to make a tour of the middle-west about February 1, and the reception committee extended them an invitation to be present at Prom.

The following letter, written on White House stationery, was received by Benjamin Heald '23, chairman of the reception committee:

"The President and Mrs. Harding regret their inability to accept the courteous invitation of the class of 1923 to be present at the Junior Promenade. Friday, Feb. 3, 1922, Madison, Wisconsin."

Book Exchange is Established at "Y"

A book bureau for students desiring to sell or buy second hand books has been established at the university Y. M. C. A. Any student having old text books to sell may take the names of the books to the Y. M. C. A. where the books will be listed. From the list students desiring to buy certain books may learn the name and address of some person having them, and buying from him, save any middleman's profit.

A new book-lending service has also been established by the Y. M. C. A. for students who are working their way through college, and who find it difficult to raise enough cash to buy new books. At present Frederick E. Wolf, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has about 40 books, but he expects to have several hundred in the near future.

"Any student, seniors especially, who have old books that they will no longer use, and who want to put them into praiseworthy service," said Mr. Wolf, "should bring them to the Y. M. C. A., from where they will be loaned to students who need them."

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

BADGER FIVE LEADS BIG 10 CAGE TEAMS

Meanwell's Men in Tie With Four Other Teams

Conference Standings
	Won	Lost	Pct.
Wisconsin	3	0	1000
Minnesota	2	0	1000
Illinois	2	0	1000
Purdue	1	0	1000
Indiana	1	0	1000
Chicago	1	1	500
Ohio State	1	2	333
Michigan	1	3	250
Iowa	0	2	000
Northwestern	0	4	000

The conference basketball games that have been played during the past week leave five teams knotted for first place. Three victories, with no defeats, give the Badgers the highest ranking, while Minnesota and Illinois each have chalked up two consecutive wins. By virtue of single victories, Purdue and Indiana still remain in the 1,000 per cent column.

Not until after the second semester games are well under way will it be possible to commence making any predictions as to the ultimate winner of the conference championship this year. Iowa and Michigan are certain to rise from their present standings, while at least two of the undefeated teams will undoubtedly meet with reversals before they progress much further in their schedules.

Purdue Has Hard Schedule

The Boilermakers opened against Northwestern Monday night, and, according to dope, easily disposed of Northwestern by a 31 to 14 score. The fact that Evan's team is so weak gives little chance to ascertain the strength possessed by Purdue, but they will be forced to display their wares to the fullest extent when they meet Iowa on Saturday. Purdue plays only a nine game schedule but such teams as Illinois, Indiana, and Chicago are included, and a single defeat would probably mean elimination from the pennant race.

Gophers a Surprise

The Gophers likewise are just entering into the heaviest part of their schedule, and either Wisconsin or Indiana are liable to severely jar their hopes this coming week end. Doctor Cooke, however, has sprung a surprise already this season, making it uncertain to predict just what the future of his team will be. Their defense has been exceptionally good in the past two games, but it will be taxed to the utmost on Saturday, as the famed Meanwell offense is a hard one to stop when it is working well.

Illinois has shown itself to be one of the most dangerous contenders for honors this year. The Carney, Stillwell offensive combination possesses tremendous scoring power, while the defensive work of Sabo and Walquist is well known. Now that the Michigan crisis has passed over, the Suckers appear to be the team that has the best chance of putting a crimp in the titular hopes of Wisconsin.

Indiana Uncertain

Indiana's 21 to 18 victory over Northwestern would not indicate much strength on the part of Levis' team this season. The former Badger star produced a five which won the majority of its games last year, but a number of the players were graduated, and new men will have to be rapidly developed if hopes are being entertained of keeping up to the fast pace that the conference leaders have set.

Chicago and Ohio State have made fair starts, but neither is in a position to do more than catch one of the leading teams off-color and wreck its chances.

Northwestern, as usual, stands last in the conference. The four defeats already suffered have put

Pucksters Prepare For Gopher Contest

The Wisconsin hockey squad yesterday began preparations for its two-game series with the University of Minnesota pucksters to be played here next Friday and Saturday.

The Badgers emerged from their battle with the Milwaukee Athletic club in good condition, and profiting by the experience gained in their first trial of the season, they will be in good shape to meet the husky Gophers.

Although Milwaukee took the measure of Coach A. K. Viner's men, it was unable to gain a big lead and the margin of two goals might have been overcome at any time had the Badgers been more accurate in their passing and goal shooting.

Grieve Shows Well

Capt. Grieve shaped up well against the more experienced club players, and his work against Capt. Schinners, one of the best men in this section, was of the highest calibre.

Minnesota will bring a team of strong puck chasers to take Wisconsin into camp. Hockey is one of the minor sports at the Gopher institution, and Varsity players are awarded "M's" at the end of the season. With this incentive, more men become candidates for the Minnesota sextet, leading to the development of a more aggressive outfit.

Four days of practice will probably put the Vinermen in tip-top condition, and a pair of close games can be expected when the teams line up on the Varsity hockey rink Friday and Saturday.

Coach Vail Calls For Candidates For Varsity Crew

Coach Harry "Dad" Vail yesterday issued a call to all candidates for the Varsity crew. The rowing mentor will be in his office from 2 until 5 o'clock every afternoon of this week, except Friday, and will be in the gymnasium office throughout the coming weeks of examinations.

"What we want for the crew," he said yesterday, "is big, strapping men who can learn to take their place in the boat. Oarsmen who weigh from 165 to 180 pounds will be badly needed and the more material there is, the better will be the Wisconsin crew."

Every member of the 1921 eight will return to Wisconsin. Capt. Otto Toepfer will begin working out next semester and candidates will work on the machines at 4 o'clock every afternoon. With the exception of August Pabst, every oarsman of last year's freshman eight will report for practices.

"I was well satisfied with the showing of the crew last season," declared Coach Vail. "The Duluth outfit which beat us was one of the best in the country. If a large number of men answer the call and report for rowing, prospects for the coming season will appear bright."

Ohio May Enter The Olympic Meet

Although the next Olympic meet which is to be held in Paris, is still two years away, Ohio State will be represented if the predictions of a number of sportsmen come true. The man on whom the predictions are being made is Perry Martier, member of the wrestling team and captain of last year's squad.

the Purple in a harmless position, and they will do well to equal their record of last year, when one game was won, that from Wisconsin, who later tied for the conference championship. Ohio State appears to be the only team on the Northwestern schedule who need fear defeat, although the Maroons may fall below expectations in one of their games with the Purple.

Presenting-- "Cy" JOHNSON

Silas G. Johnson is one of the new men on the basketball team this year who is expected to figure prominently in next semester's games.

Although Madison is now "Cy's" home, he received his first basketball experience on the Mount Horeb high school team, where he won his letter for three consecutive years. In 1916, Johnson played basketball, football, and baseball on the Whitewater normal school teams, the basketball and baseball teams winning the Southern division championship both years.

In 1917 "Cy" entered the service, and played basketball during the days he was a machine gun lieutenant at Camp Hancock, Georgia. In 1920, he re-entered Whitewater normal, and again won his letters at basketball and football.

Johnson entered the university in the fall of 1920, and won his letters last year on the Frosh basketball and baseball teams. Ineligibility and injuries have impeded his progress this season, but he has shown sufficient ability to insure a future for himself during the next two years. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Minnesota to Play in Iowa City Jan. 21

PI K. A. DOWNS CHAMPION PHI SIG CAGE MEN

Lambda Chi Lose Hard Game to Alpha Sigs

The Pi Kappa Alpha - Phi Sig, and Alpha Sig - Lambda Chi basketball games featured the tilts of the inter-fraternity basketball league last night.

Phi Sigs Beaten

The Pi K. A. team upset the dope defeating the Phi Sigs by a score of 18 to 14. The Phi Sigs won the first place cup last year, and were undefeated this season up to last night. Carlson of the Pi Kappa Alphas did some brilliant playing, scoring most of his team's points.

The Alpha Sigs downed the strong Lambda Chi five in a hard game by a score of 9 to 6. Puchner starred for the winners. The win puts the Alpha Sigs into the semi-finals which will be played the first part of the second semester.

Alpha Pi Delta Wins

The Alpha Pi Delta quintet downed the Beta Chi Sigs by a score of 10 to 3. The Triangles beat the Phi Sigma Deltas by two baskets, the score being 6 to 2.

The other two games scheduled for last night were postponed. They are between the Sigma Nus and Phi Kappa Sigmas, and between the Delta Chis and Kappa Sigs.

The results of the games played are as follows:

Pi Kappa Alpha 18, Phi Sigma Kappa 14.

Alpha Sigma Phi 9, Lambda Chi Alpha 6.

Alpha Pi Delta 10, Beta Chi Sigma 3.

Triangle 6, Phi Sigma Delta 2.

Badgers Will Enter Illinois Track Meet

Invitations to enter a Wisconsin track team in the Illinois and the Penn relays were received yesterday by Coach Thomas E. Jones. The Illinois invitation was accepted and Badgers will be entered in seven events at Urbana on March 4.

Whether Wisconsin sends a team to Pennsylvania or refuses with other western institutions will not be decided until the Athletic council meets. The Penn relays to be held on April 29 and 30, conflict with the annual Drake university meet which will be held on these dates.

In the competition at Illinois, Wisconsin will enter the four mile relay, the two mile relay, the one mile relay, the medley, the hurdles, the pole vault, and high jump. The personnel of the team will not be decided upon until after the early indoor track meets have been scheduled.

Penn to Send Team To Illinois Relays

The University of Pennsylvania has definitely accepted an invitation to send a relay team to the Illinois relays which will be held at Urbana on March 4.

Either a one-mile or a two-mile team will compete. Coach Robertson's quartet won the one-mile event last year. With the announcement that Penn will travel to Urbana, it is believed that other eastern track teams will do likewise in an effort to conciliate western schools which were antagonized when the East refused to support the national track meet held at Chicago last June.

PUT IT OVER

THE "Wisconsin in China" campaign is drawing to a close. The response has been good so far. The only difficulties encountered have been the examination season, which has retarded the canvassing. The drive should be cleaned up within the next day or so. The students can help the canvassers by making their decisions promptly and allowing them to complete their work without unnecessary expenditure of time.

THE WILSON FOUNDATION

A MOVEMENT is under way to raise $1,000,000 with which to establish scholarships as a tribute to the ideals of Woodrow Wilson. The quota for the state of Wisconsin is reported to be $15,000. Some of the leading men of the university are on the committee to assist in raising the fund.

The establishment of scholarships is always commendable. The friends of former President Wilson will be gratified that such a movement has for its inspiration the ideals set forth by the man whose peculiar fortune it was to be the spokesman of his fellow-countrymen during the most momentous struggle of all time.

Mr. Wilson's bitterest enemies (and no man was ever beset by more unrelenting foes) will attack his ideals. They berate his alleged obstinacy, his supposed contempt of other men's ideas, and his refusal to recognize the United States senate as the sole repository of the nation's wisdom and virtue. They do not often assail the principles which he held with such obstinacy.

Albert J. Beveridge made a stinging speech against Mr. Wilson in the armory more than a year ago. It was a reproduction of the Lodge-Reed-Borah records with the loud needle. The burden of Mr. Beveridge's deliverance was that all the ideals of Mr. Wilson had been "buried in the Potter's field of Paris without the honor of a head-stone." The unceremonious burial of these ideals the speaker declared to be a lamentable tragedy. He went so far as to say that had Mr. Wilson gone to the Versailles conference with his fourteen points neatly typewritten and flung them down on the table saying, "Take them or I quit," he would have gone down as the noblest man who ever trod the earth. This opinion is typical of the great mass of the former president's critics. They assert that he compromised with the devil, that he betrayed the people of the world, and sold his spiritual heritage for a mass of international political pottage.

The truth of such charges cannot be tested for many years to come. No man can predict what would happen if Mr. Wilson had packed his grip and sailed home, leaving the other diplomats free to act as they saw fit.

The fact remains that the former president set forth certain ideals that fired the imagination of his own people to a height never reached before and gave new hope to a despairing world. He announced a program of world reconstruction which failed of realization only because the rulers of the people lacked the courage and usefulness to take the great adventure. He gained the assent of forty-two nations to a pact establishing a world tribunal for the amicable settlement of disputes. This tribunal cannot be judged so long as the United States, Germany, and Russia are not members.

Mr. Wilson has injected a new force in world relations. Men will never think and act again as they would if he had never written and spoken.

STUDENT RELIABILITY

"We cannot depend upon college students," a downtown business man told us the other day. "We have to train them for six months before they learn that they must do what they say they will do when they say they will do it."

We took the opposite side, of course, but after thinking it over, decided with Sir Roger that "There is much to be said on both sides."

Undoubtedly four years of life at the average university, four years of cutting classes, failing to keep appointments and of only half doing assigned work does unfit a man for the prompt and accurate work required in the business world. The student who takes advantage of his opportunities to do lax work in college has much to unlearn when he comes to the end of his four years' course.

Imagine what would happen to the individual outside of college who appeared on the job late on the average of twice a week during the year. His job would not last a year.

Or imagine what would happen to the same individual if he promised to do a piece of work on Monday and came around the following Saturday with the apology that he hadn't had time to finish it.

Yet university students are guilty of these same offenses dozens of times a week. Cutting classes started the first day. Failing to keep appointments with instructors on time, or not coming at all is so common that the instructors count on a student being late, and are themselves the offenders when the student shows up on time. Late work in all classes is so common that dire penalties have to be devised to get it in on time.

These conditions are perhaps not universal. It is the truth that hurts, however, and the charges of the downtown business man hit close enough to be painful.

A "Do it on time" movement started now and continued until June 15, 1922, would do much for giving university students the kind of training that will help them when college days are over. Make that appointment on time. Get to class before the bell rings. Make tardiness and irresponsibility a stigma, rather than the mark of the fashionably "busy" person.—Minnesota Daily.

WIVES FOOL HUSBANDS IN THIRD ACT OF THIS YEAR'S PRE-PROM PLAY

The above scene is from the third act of "On the Hiring Line," the Pre-Prom play. Reading from left to right are, Roberta Loudon, Heintz Rubel, Beatrice Humiston, and Roy French.

It can't be noticed in the picture, but the very much concerned young women are putting something over on their respective husbands. The men think a considerable scandal has entered their lives and though the women know better they let them think so for reasons that are not to be disclosed here.

The authors of "On the Hiring Line" have cleverly handled these numerous situations that rise in the Fessenden household. The audience is aware of just enough facts to realize how foolish the men look in the eyes of their wives but is kept ignorant of enough to keep up the suspense.

Prom groups are urged to reserve seats as early as possible after seat sale opens on Friday, Jan. 2, in order to insure unit groups.

Law School Grad Writes Text Book

The first textbook on "Phrenology, the Science of Character" has been written by a graduate of the Law school, Dr. William Windsor '78. It is a geography of the brain, a guide book on temperament, and a dictionary of character, according to the author.

Dr. William Windsor is a native of Kentucky. He was graduated from the Northwestern Business college in 1871, from the Madison High school in 1875, and from the Law school of the University of Wisconsin in 1878. He received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Ruskin University in 1905. He holds diplomas from a number of other colleges. He was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin in 1878 and to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States in 1906. He entered the lecture field in 1885 and has traveled and lectured constantly ever since. He is the author of "Phrenology, the Science of Character," "The Solution of the Problem of Human Life," "The Grand Table of Vitosophy," and many other works.

The book is being published by the Ferris-Windsor company, Big Rapids, Michigan.

AT THE PARKWAY

Rex Ingram, producer for Metro of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" and "The Conquering Power," now being shown at the Parkway theater, is engaged to marry Alice Terry, the last year's high school girl from Vincennes, Indiana, who sprang to fame in the leading roles of the two Ingram productions.

According to present plans, the young couple will be married in Dublin by Mr. Ingram's father, an Episcopalian minister, who is one of the faculty of Trinity college. The trip abroad will probably be taken following the completion of the filming of "Turn to the Right," the John Golden production of the successful stage play by Winchell Smith and Jack Hazzard, work upon which was started following "The Conquering Power."

"Ragged Robin"

Chauncey Olecott, that excellent comedian and singer will appear at the Parkway theater, Monday night next, under the management of A. L. Erlanger, in "Ragged Robin," a quaint Irish scene, in which the star is afforded ample opportunity for the display of his talent. He is all fire, heart, all sentiment, with the responsiveness and magnetism which makes a man loved by his fellowmen. The theme of "Ragged Robin" is said to be wholesome, heartsome and gladsome. It is claimed that its merriment is natural, its adventure logical and its romance beautiful.

Chinese Women Hope for Varsity Spirit in Far East

That the Wisconsin spirit will permeate the Far East wherever women have opportunity of any sort of education is the hope expressed by Hwei Chang and Dorothy Kho who are here majoring in the course in physical education on the Wisconsin scholarship for which the funds will apply which are being raised this week by the women's division of the Wisconsin in China drive.

"If there were 20 scholarships instead of two and each one of the 20 supported 20 students, there would be positions open for all of them in China," said Miss Kho. "Physical education is taught in all schools both governmental and private and the Y. W. C. A. normal school in Shanghai, of which Miss Mayhew is head, is the recognized standard teachers' training place. We shall go back there next year to teach the teachers the Wisconsin way."

When asked as to Chinese methods in physical education, Miss Chand said, "The coming generation is fortunate in that it will not have to overcome prejudice before beginning upon the normal way of living. The Chinese are not passive regarding play but bound feet are not conducive to the playing of baseball and tennis, nor are the standards of femininity that go with bound feet easy to supplant with the modern ones of health and happiness. Wisconsin embodies that spirit and we shall take it back with us to the girls at home."

These holders of the Wisconsin scholarship are appointed partly for physical fitness.

After studying methods here they will act on the faculty in the normal school of which they are graduates in Shanghai, China. These two women are the first to come to the University of Wisconsin on this scholarship, and they are enthusiastic and loyal supporters of the slogan of the drive "Wisconsin Spirit, Pass it on to China."

The drive for funds carried on by 130 workers under the direction of Gladys Webber '23, will continue through the week. "The girls are fine," said Miss Webber, last night, "and if everyone takes it upon herself to give anything at all, the scholarship will be assured."

Purdue and Illinois Win Big Ten Games

Purdue and Illinois were victors in two Big Ten basketball games played on Monday night. Purdue walloped Northwestern by a 31 to 14 score, and Illinois took Michigan into camp, 20 to 17, in a hard fought game.

Butler, took the measure of Notre Dame, 28 to 23, in another important contest.

Miller, who failed to show up well against Wisconsin, was the individual star for the Wolverines against Illinois. He caged five baskets. Kipke and Ely rung up one each. Illinois, which is showing championship form, showed a well-balanced team. Walquist and Sabox divided scoring honors with two baskets each, and Carney and Roettger found the net once. Carney tossed in eight out of 12 free throws.

Purdue had no trouble with the Purple team from Northwestern. The Boilermakers led 16 to 8 at half time and continually increased their lead. White, with four baskets and nine out of 10 free throws, was the biggest scorer. Masters scored three baskets and Gullion, lanky center, slapped in four. McKenzie made two baskets and four out of six free throws for Northwestern.

Ladies Entertained By Mozart Club

Ladies' night was observed Monday by members of the Mozart club when the wives of members were entertained at a dinner, musical program and series of games at the Woman's building. Upwards of 100 persons were present.

A feature of the program following the dinner at 6:30 was the presentation of Pan, On a Summer Day, a cantata sung by Mrs. Eugene Stewart, Mrs. F. L. Brown and Miss Merle Gibbs. Other numbers on the program were a whistling solo by Miss Reba Hayden; piano solo by Miss Margaret Otterson and vocal solos by Emerson Cole and Alexis Baas, director of the club.

Old Clock Needed Competition Says City Clerk Buser

For months the old clock in the office of City Clerk Harry C. Buser, in the city hall, has been either too fast or too slow—never on time. A requisition was made for a new clock, which was placed on the opposite side of the room.

From opposite walls the two timepieces stare each other in the face—one an old worn out semblance of what was once the best on the market, the other a bright, new shining time keeper. All night long tick-tock from one side of the room vied with the tick-tock from the other, and this morning, when Mr. Buser came to work, both clocks were on the dot.

"I don't see why that old clock couldn't keep time before," the clerk drawled. "A little jealous now. I guess what it needed was competition."

Frosh Arrange Two Telegraphic Meets

Two inter-university telegraphic meets will be the features of the indoor intra-mural track season. Coach Burke yesterday concluded negotiations with Iowa and Illinois for the contests between the Badger yearling squad and the freshmen teams of the schools in question. The meets will be conducted in the home quarters of each team, the men running against time, and the victor decided by a telegraphic comparison of the records made.

During the outdoor season last spring, a meet of like nature was held with the Iowa frosh, which proved a great success. The meet scheduled this year with Illinois will mark the first clash of the Badger and Sucker yearlings to be recorded.

If contests of this kind turn out well, it is possible that intra-university bowling matches may be arranged in the same manner. It is a field which open up many possibilities.

Students Denied Party Privileges

As a result of the unauthorized dance, which was given at the Badger room on January 13, the young men who gave it will be denied the right to rent the room again, according to Dean Goodnight.

Dean Goodnight had ordered that no dances were to be given until after examinations. In spite of these orders and a personal notification, the young men gave the dance. Accordingly the party was interrupted, and the Badger room, as all the other dance halls, was closed until February 1.

900 Pin Teams To Roll During Tourney

Nine hundred teams of five men each, will be in Madison to participate in the state bowling tournament, which opens Jan. 26, it was announced this afternoon, after a wire from Madison to Milwaukee informed Secretary William Fenske that Madison would supply four more teams to bring the number up to an even 900.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Although all the eulogies of the poets and writers have been bestowed upon her, never has complete justice been given her. Helen Keller, "the girl with the conquerable soul," who is now appearing at the Orpheum theater, although blind, deaf and for many years dumb, has overcome those gigantic disadvantages and is now able to enjoy the greatest pleasures of life. Although she has never seen the beauties of the world she can now appreciate them.

All this has been accomplished through her unconquerable desire to learn and the aid of her life-long friend, Anne Sullivan Macy. Miss Keller will appear at each and every performance at the local theater during the entire week. The history of her life is being told to local theater-goers by Miss Polly Thomson. At the age of 19 months Miss Keller lost her sight, hearing and voice. Her education only completed after years of intensive studying and the cultivation of the sense of touch.

Through this she was finally enabled to comprehend the guttural sounds to speak. She holds the distinction of being the only person, suffering from such disadvantages, to complete her college course. Miss Keller is a graduate of Radcliffe and Harvard college and holds the degree of bachelor of arts. During her college years Miss Macy was at her side deciphering the lectures of the professors to her in the code of the blind.

Although the bill at the popular playhouse would be complete with the appearance of Miss Keller, the other five acts are far above the average offerings. Bert Howard, with his piano selections scores a well deserved hit. Cook and Rosevere have a dainty singing and dancing offering. Kurt and Edith Knehn please with violin, songs and whistling. The Jennier Brothers thrill with their aerial stunts, and Sigsbee's dogs entertain. Pathe News and Topics of the Day films complete the bill. There are two performances nightly, with matinees on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. Miss Keller remains for a complete week's engagement, but the other five acts will be replaced with new ones starting Thursday night.

AT THE STRAND

Will Rogers and Sydney Ainsworth in "Doubling for Romeo," which was written by Will Rogers and William Shakespeare, will be shown at the Strand theater for four days starting today.

The story tells the trials of a bashful cowboy lover to win the affections of a western girl. But she has "movie" ideas about a lover, and sends her cowboy to the "movies" to learn how to make love.

"The Beggar Maid," a picture inspired by the painting by Sir E. Burne-Jones and the poem of Alfred Lord Tennyson, is the special added attraction.

SCENES FROM "FOX HUNT" HELD IN MADISON SUNDAY

Fox hunting began here Sunday morning when a party of students left the Black Hawk Riding academy for a hunt at 2 o'clock.

Gilbert Hathaway took the role of fox, leaving behind him for detection a trail of confetti. The chase proceeded over hill and dale until the fox was finally caught by Horace Wetmore, riding "Lucky Strike." Helen McNeil, on "Dolly" caught the fox in the second chase.

Among those who made up the party were Margaret H'Doubler, Marg Brownell, Margaret Pelcanis, Helen O'Neil, and E. H. Burgeson Jr., A. R. Aldis, Gilbert Hathaway, Horace Wetmore, John Suhr, M. Brun, and the Rev. H. Bruckner.

Another hunt will be conducted Sunday.

Scandinavian Trip Offered Students At Small Expense

A summer's trip through all the beautiful and interesting places of the Scandinavian countries under ideal conditions is the offer made to the students and instructors of the university by the American-Scandinavian foundation and the Institute of International Education. The invitation has been sent to a number of the larger universities of the country from which a party will be drawn to make the trip. Special arrangements have been made to leave New York July 1 on the Cunarder "Saxonia" and return to New York Sept. 1. Practically complete accommodations are offered at an expense of $675.

The tour has been organized with the purpose of enabling American students to visit the Scandinavian countries under capable guidance and instruction, under dignified auspices, and at a lower cost than would be possible under any other condition. The group will be granted the official recognition of the governments of Denmark, Norway, and Sweden, and the courtesy of the Scandinavian universities.

"The great advantage with this group is the fact that the travelers will not only see the beautiful and interesting things in the Scandinavian countries, but will have the chance to meet the great doctors, chemists, and literary men of the countries as well," said Dr. Clifford S. Leonard, of the Medical school, who was awarded a fellowship offered by the foundation, and who studied in the Nobel and other institutions at Stockholm. Dr. Leonard is fostering the tour and has himself been over all the territory covered in the trip.

The party will disembark at Hamburg, Germany, and will travel through Slesvig, the Island of Funen, Copenhagen, Elsinore, Christiania, Bergen, Voss, Stalheim, Gudvangen, the Nord Fjord and the Fjord country, Molde, the Dovre Mountains, Trondhjem, Upsala, Stockholm, Malmo, Trelleborg, Berlin, Cologne, and Paris. All the government buildings, the glaciers, ruins, and interesting things and people on the trip will be visited.

The country visited is declared to be the most beautiful in Europe by Dr. Leonard. He is located in 38 Science hall and will gladly give information to any who are interested in the trip. Dr. Ralph Hickson, Chemistry building, who is also an alumnus of the American-Scandinavian foundation, will also be glad to help any interested.
