RECOMMENDATION OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON EDUCATIONAL PROBLEMS FOR WAR VETERANS

A

The Committee recommends that the regulations for admission on the "War Veteran" basis, adopted at the March faculty meeting, (Document 702), be amended by adding at the beginning of the second sentence the words, "During their first year", and the adoption of two new paragraphs (see third and fourth paragraphs below). The complete recommendation for insertion in the catalogue on page 27, will then read as follows:

ADMISSION ON THE WAR-VETERAN BASIS

Veterans of World War II who do not possess all of the requirements for admission and who are not candidates for a degree may be admitted to the University upon giving satisfactory evidence that they are prepared to take advantageously the subjects open to them. During their first year, such students are normally required to select their studies only from courses open to freshmen. If they desire to take a study to which only advanced students are regularly admitted, they must show special preparation or aptitude for such course.

Candidates applying for admission on the war-veteran basis are required to present to the Registrar in advance of their coming an official statement of their preparatory studies for evaluation and approval. They will also be asked to take a scholastic aptitude test under the direction of the Office of Admissions.

A war veteran who does not meet fully the entrance requirements of the University shall be allowed, upon acquiring the number of credits and grade-points required for junior standing, to continue as a candidate for the bachelor's degree.

Except where special provisions are made, war veterans are subject to the regulations and requirements that apply to other students.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMERCE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF SEVEN

Summary of Regent and Faculty Action Relating to the School of Commerce

On January 15, 1944, the Board of Regents adopted a report of its Regents' Committee which recommended:

"disengaging the School of Commerce from the College of Letters and Science".

The establishment of a School of Commerce on an independent basis was authorized<sup>1</sup>

"when the necessary plans have been developed and the necessary funds for facilities, equipment, and operations have been provided".<sup>2</sup>

The action of the Board of Regents was based, in part, on the report dated January 7, 1944 of a special committee of seven faculty members authorized by the Regents. The report of this special committee was accepted and approved by the Regents with the direction that

"the recommendations therein be carried into effect".<sup>3</sup>

The report to the Regents by the special faculty committee included the following recommendation:

"That if the Regents decide to separate the School of Commerce from the College of Letters and Science, they request the University Faculty to bring in recommendations as to how this should be accomplished, considering among other topics, those contained in this report."

in

At the regular University Faculty meeting of February 7, 1944, the President was requested to

"appoint a special committee to present recommendations relative to the Faculty and other matters involved in the establishment of the School of Commerce as a separate administrative unit."

(The special committee appointed by the President consisted of the same members of the faculty who served on the Regents special committee.)

(e) That faculty members designated in (b) above and those selected under (c) and (d) above will not, for this reason, be transferred to the budget of the School of Commerce.

2. The Faculty of the School of Commerce shall possess the usual jurisdiction and powers of a coordinate college or school of the University with the customary right (University Faculty and Regents concurring) of prescribing and modifying requirements for entrance thereto and graduation therefrom, of establishing new major fields of study, of establishing major fields and courses in association with other colleges of the University, of establishing research and field services, and of sponsoring conferences, institutes, clinics and short courses. The School of Commerce may not establish on its own budget courses in subjects normally intrusted to departments of other colleges and schools of the University.

4. That students be admitted to the School of Commerce after completion of sophomore work in the Colleges of Letters and Science, Engineering, or Agriculture, or equivalent work on transfer, and that admission be limited to those students who have achieved a grade-point average of 1.3 or higher.

5. That, until other rules and regulations are set up by the Faculty of the School of Commerce (the University Faculty and the Regents concurring) the rules and regulations of the College of Letters and Science now applicable to students majoring in the School of Commerce shall be binding.

6. That, until other requirements are set up by the Faculty of the School of Commerce (with the concurrence of the University Faculty and the Regents) the requirements for the bachelor's degree, including the major and other general and special requirements, shall be those at present in force.

7. That in accordance with the general University policy of making courses available to any student with the necessary prerequisites, election of courses in other schools and colleges of the University, when approved by the Faculty of the School of Commerce, shall be permitted to students in the School of Commerce. Similarly, election of courses in the School of Commerce shall be permitted to students in other Colleges of the University.

8. That students registered in the School of Commerce and completing its requirements for graduation receive the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration or Bachelor of Science (Light Building Industry).

Students who registered in the present School of Commerce prior to May 1944, may continue as candidates for the B.A. or Ph.B. degrees.

9. The School of Commerce as independently established shall go into operation at the opening of the academic year 1944-45, this date being subject to the conditions approved by the Board of Regents as follows:

"That when the necessary plans have been developed and the necessary funds for facilities, equipment, and operations have been provided, the School of Commerce be established on an independent basis".
