5 CENTS

POLE VAULTERS TO COMPETE IN PENN CARNIVAL

Wilder '21 and Merrick '21
Stand Good Chance
in Va

Lloyd L. Wilder '21 is the second member of the Wisconsin track squad who will enter with Dale Merrick '22 in the pole vault event of the historic twenty-seventh annual relay carnival at Franklin field, University of Pennsylvania, on Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30. The two vaulters left for Philadelphia yesterday afternoon.

The Athletic council decided at a meeting yesterday to send Merrick and Wilder as Badger entries in the American outdoor track classic. Coach Thomas E. Jones determined not to enter a medley relay quartet in the relay race, in which Wisconsin had drawn the pole position. The decision was occasioned by the poor condition of the men who have been prevented from training thoroughly at Camp Randall because of inclement weather conditions.

Hold Midwest Honors

Merrick and Wilder, the only two Wisconsin men who will compete at the Penn meet, have defeated the best pole vaulters in the Middle West and are undoubtedly supreme in this section. They tied for first place in the pole vault at the Indoor Conference track meet at Evanston, defeating Westbrook, Michigan, by a narrow margin. Both men have done better than 12 feet, while in the Harvard-Pennsylvania track meet last Saturday Harwood, Harvard, won by vaulting barely 12 feet. Temple and Holt, Pennsylvania, negotiated 11 feet 8 inches for a second place tie in the meet. The Penn team is inter-collegiate team champion of the East.

Besides Merrick, Wilder, and Westbrook, Cross of the Kansas

BOARD POSITIONS ILLED TOMORROW

Positions on Union board, Badger board, Cardinal board, Athletic board and Forensic board will be filled at the election Friday, April 29.

Agricultural students will vote in Agricultural hall, engineers at the Engineering building, medical students in Science hall and all others in the Biology building.

The Student Senate elections booklet has been prepared, and besides the names of the candidates and their qualifications it contains the following extracts from the election regulations:

"Personal solicitation of voters by a candidate or his supporters is the extent to which any candidate may go in his campaign, but solicitation shall not take place in the polling place, room, hall, or part of building designated as such. The defacing of the campaign booklets, printing of handbills, cards, placards, use of automobiles, or use of money in any form for furthering the campaign, either by the candidate or his supporters, shall bar such candidate from holding office. Advertising which the committee finds was done with malicious intent of disqualifying a candidate shall not disqualify such candidate."

The committee on elections shall have jurisdiction over all offenses committed in violation of this act and shall have power to impose penalties. Decisions and interpretations made by the committee on elections may be appealed to the Student Senate. The latter shall have final jurisdiction."

STUDENT SENATE PASSES ON TWO NEW MEASURES

Submit Recommended Changes to Student Vote Tomorrow

Two referendum measures to be voted on by the student body in the election tomorrow were recommended by the Student Senate meeting last night.

The first, providing the presidents of the several boards and the editors of the Daily Cardinal and of the Badger be members of the Student Senate, was passed unanimously. The second, providing mainly the president of the Council of 40 be made a member of the Senate and that the Council of 40 act as the executive branch of the Senate, was passed by a vote of 8 to 3.

A proposal that the military department be granted a representative on the Senate was presented to the Senate by Major John S. Wood and Hyman Bilansky '22. The matter was laid on the table for further consideration.

A committee composed of Milton Borman '21, Ernest McCartney '22, and George Stolley '22 was appointed to investigate and make recommendations concerning the life-saving equipment and methods of the university. Several members of the Senate, it was stated, have been investigating the matter independently since the accident of Sunday.

Oppose Second Measure

The first referendum measure was passed without dissent, but there was opposition to the measure re-

CLOSERS IN NORTHWESTERN AND MINNESOTA CONTESTS

MELBOURNE BERGERMAN

Melbourne Bergerman '22, closer for the Wisconsin negative team in the debate with Northwestern at Music hall tomorrow night, was the only sophomore to make last year's intercollegiate debate squad. He has made an enviable forensic record on the campus having been a closer in the semi-public debates and more recently elected to close for Athenae in the joint debate next year. He is a member of Delta Sigma Rho, Artus, the Student senate, the Forensic board, and White Spades. In addition Bergerman has found time to write editorials for the Cardinal and edit the forensic section of the 1922 Badger.

FATE OF TUITION BILL WILL BE DECIDED TODAY

The assembly this morning determines the fate of the Perry bill increasing tuition of non-resident students from $124 to $300 annually, when the measure comes up for engrossment.

Definite alignment has already been made in the lower house and a lively battle is anticipated. It is expected that the attitude of the assembly toward the university will be brought out in the debate which will arise over consideration of the question of increased tuition, set for 10 o'clock or shortly after.

The committee report of 9 to 1 favoring passage of the bill will receive little attention, with the fight thrown to the floor of the house. Assemblyman Alexander E. Matheson of Janesville, chairman of the state affairs committee which reported the bill for passage, will lead the fight for its defeat.

Reaction has set in among the assemblymen who at first were generally favorable to passage of the measure. There is now but a possibility that a majority of the members will vote in favor of passage.

Should the bill go to engrossment, it would then come up for passage next week. The fight will be made to kill the measure at today's session.

MORTAR BOARD TO GIVE SUPPER MAY 3

Mortar board will give their annual dinner next Wednesday night at 5:30 in Barnard annex. The chairman of all organized houses will be sent notices of the dinner and tickets which will sell for 60 cents. The usual large attendance is being planned for. The proceeds will go towards the 100 scholarships which Mortar board gives each year through the committee on Loans and Scholarships.

The dining room will be decorated with flowers and special music will be played during the dinner hour.

LAWRENCE HALL

"Larry" Hall '20, closer in the contest with Minnesota at Minneapolis tonight, is the only graduate on either team. This is Hall's first intercollegiate debate experience although he has had considerable forensic training. He is a member of Athenae, Iron Cross, White Spades, Sigma Phi, and Phi Alpha Delta. In his undergraduate days he was varsity cheerleader, president of the Senate and Union board, and a member of the track squad. Hall's team will have a big job on its hands defeating the Gophers for the Northmen have always given Wisconsin considerable trouble on the platform.

BASEBALL NINE PLAYS 2 GAMES THIS WEEK-END

Rain Has Handicapped
Badger Practice and Training

After losing three days' practice because of rain, the Badger baseball nine will make an attempt to work-out on Randall field this afternoon in preparation for the two games on the schedule for the week end. Northwestern will be met at Evanston Friday and Chicago at Stagg field on Saturday.

In addition to seriously handicapping the Badgers' daily practices inclement weather has played havoc with the preliminary training season and promises to disrupt the conference schedule to some extent. Four preliminary games were cancelled and one conference battle had to be postponed a day as a result of this weather.

Coach Lowman had hoped for four days of hard training this week in preparation for the long conference schedule which was opened with two games at Indiana last Saturday. Hard work and warm weather are the two things the Badgers need most, for they have had little opportunity to perfect a smooth defense and attack and have scarcely been able to work on more than fundamentals.

The Badgers should not find Northwestern a very strong opponent unless the Purple players play a different brand of baseball than they have displayed in the four conference games which they have lost thus far. Chicago, however, will prove more difficult to defeat if preliminary scores are any indication. The Maroons defeated Northwestern Tuesday by the score of 5 to 0 but have played no other conference games. The fact that they did not compete in the conference last spring because of their trip to Japan makes them more of an unknown quantity than most Big Ten teams.

The Badger squad will leave Madison Friday morning.

Class of 1921 Votes Unanimous Agreement on Assessment to Include Fee

By unanimously voting to include the $2 alumni fee in the regular chimes fund assessment the class of 1921 at a special meeting yesterday established another precedent and pledged themselves 100 per cent strong to back the Alumni association.

Israel Shrimski, president of the Alumni association, talked before the meeting and presented the ambitions and the point of view of the association. The values of the alumni association, he pointed out, cannot be estimated. He suggested the aid that members can give to the university as well as the power, social and business, that membership in the organization can bring to the individual.

The membership of the Wisconsin Alumni association is at present approximately 6,000. It is the second largest in the country, and they are ambitious to raise the membership to 10,000, thereby making it the largest.

Total Fee is $2
A motion, previously carried, had set the senior assessment at $1 per

PROF. SHOWERMAN TO HAVE YEAR OF STUDY IN EUROPE

Prof. Grant Showerman of the Latin department has been granted a leave of absence and will sail August 9 with his family for Italy where he will spend a year in study and writing. This is Mr. Showerman's first visit to Europe since the war, his last trip having been made in 1912.

In his work Mr. Showerman will make special use of the library in the American School of Classical Studies at Rome. In 1898 he was the first man from Wisconsin to go as a fellow to this school where he stayed for two years of study.

The greater part of his time will be spent in Italy but he expects to include in his itinerary some trips into Greece and Egypt.

LAST UNION MIXER COMMITTEE NAMED

Those on the committee are Frances Beecher, chairman; Vera Eastman, Lucile Curtis, Dorothy Ware, Elizabeth Halden, Helen McNeal, Ruth Staudemeyer, Oneita Lutz, Dorothy Williams, Mary White, Esther Stowell, Elsie Bendeke, Juliet Nusbaum, Patsy Watson, Marguerite Doherty, Helen Gill, and Louise Fritsche.

The committee will be on the floor at 8:30 to insure dances for everybody. Thompson's 12-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Elsom will chaperon.

Y. W. CABINET WILL HAVE HOUSE PARTY

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet council house party this week end will be the first of a series to be held at the Atwood cottage which has been rented for the use of the organization during the month of May. The cottage is located near Blackhawk's cave, about an hour's hike from the university. One group of Y. W. staff members will occupy the cottage for each of the five successive weeks.

Those members of the new and old Cabinet councils who have not made arrangements for attending any party may do so in the Y. W. office, Lathrop hall. The party will go out Saturday morning and return Sunday afternoon, but those who cannot spend the entire time at the cottage are urged to go out if only for a short time. It is necessary to know as soon as possible the number who will be present so that adequate preparations may be made.

Information may be obtained in the Y. W. office and from Margaret Thomas, Badger 805.

STUDENT SENATE PASSES ON TWO NEW MEASURES

lating to the Council of 40, lead by Senator Melbourne Bergerman '22. Other members who voted against it were Senators George Stolley '22 and John Hurley '24.

Those favoring the measure based their argument on the assertion that the Student Senate is merely a legislative body and that some executive medium is needed. The necessity of co-operation with the council of 40, as a strong and representative body of student leaders formed on account of deficiencies in the Senate, was stressed.

While granting that the Council of 40 is an excellent organization working for the best interests of the university, Bergerman said, "I do not see how any self-ordained body can get together and demand a representative on the Student Senate." Stressing the fact that the literary societies have no direct representation on the Council of 40 while the dramatic societies and inter-fraternity societies, Scull and Crescent, Inner Gate, and Ku Klux Klan, each have representatives, he made the point that the Council of 40 does not directly represent the student body.

He also objected on the ground that the constitution of the senate provides that 11 out of the 17 members of the senate be directly elected and that it was proposed to replace one of the directly elected seniors by the president of the Council of 40. The senate made a concession to this objection by adding to the resolution a provision that the membership of the senate be increased to 18.

Repeal Article II

The measures follow:

To repeal Article II, Section 3 of the constitution of the Student Senate, which reads as follows: "Five of the student members shall be indirect representatives and shall be chosen as follows: one representative from each of the following administrative bodies, the Athletic board, the Cardinal Board of Control, the Forensic board and the Wisconsin Union board to be chosen by the members of their respective boards; the editor-in-chief of the Badger, as a representative of the Badger board;" and in the place of the above substitute the following article:

"Article II, Section 5: Five of the student members shall be representatives whose senate seat is delegated through their position as president of the following administrative bodies: the Union board, Forensic board, Athletic board, the editor-in-chief of the Badger and the managing editor of The Daily Cardinal. (Note—This to be in effect with the opening of the school term 1921-1922.)"

The second measure reads:

"Resolved, that the Student Senate of the University of Wisconsin officially recognize the Council of 40; that the president of the Council of 40 be a member of the Student Senate; that the Student Senate be empowered to employ the whole or any part of the Council of 40 at any time to act as the executive branch of the Student Senate; that the constitution be amended to read that 'the membership of the senate shall not exceed 18.'" person for the chimes fund and the motion to make the assessment $3 to include the alumni dues and subscription to the magazine was unanimously carried.

A financial report by William Florea, treasurer, showed that the treasury now holds approximately $1,800, which includes $1,500 turned over from the 1921 Balger. The class voted to contribute the regular $2,000 sum to the chimes fund, and for that purpose the assessment was voted.

Discussion of senior invitations and caps and gowns followed. Invitations must be ordered from the Kamera Kraft shop before May 15. Caps and gowns can be rented or bought at the Co-op, and seniors are urged to send in their orders the beginning of next week. The rates for renting are: one week, $2.50; two weeks, $3.00, and two months, $4.00. Seniors are requested to order directly through the Co-op.

THE CARDINAL'S PLATFORM FOR SAFER ENJOYMENT OF LAKE MENDOTA

1. Repair and replacement of inefficient equipment.
2. Revision and expansion of rules and regulations.
3. Strict enforcement of these rules, by empowering police authority if necessary.
4. Establishment of a signal station equipped with telephone to Picnic Point, augmented by a similar one on Governor's Island.
5. Formulation of a plan making necessary evidence of knowledge of swimming and canoe manipulation.
6. Eradication of "Water Fools."

A START AT LEAST

LONG and continued blasts from a strangely unfamiliar whistle arrested the attention of many yesterday afternoon. Few, however, knew what it was, or had ever heard it before.

The Cardinal is pleased to announce here that the blasts marked the second progressive step in the much needed campaign to make Lake Mendota safer for those who are privileged to enjoy it. The first step was made when Captain Isabel was provided with an assistant last Tuesday night.

The platform on which the Cardinal stands in providing for the students the adequate protection which they have a right to ask appears at the top of this column. It is the intention to keep it there in successive issues as a reminder that the action must go on.

Each point eliminated materially will likewise be eliminated from the platform.

Let us cross out the points rapidly.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

A certain very select group of students who strut about the campus officially have come to be known by the rank and file as the "fine minds" of the campus. One of the earmarks of a "fine mind" seems to be to be severely critical of what the newspapers say about the university.

On the whole the "fine minds" have been optimistic. Recently, for example, the New York Times made comment about what it termed "frankness" at Wisconsin. The editorial in question was nothing less than a good-natured jolt from the Grand Dame of eastern journalism. The Times handed us a lemon—and we made lemonade of it! It takes at least a "fine mind" to do such a trick.

While a paper now and then has said things that it ought not have said or left unsaid those things which it ought to have said, it nevertheless is true that the really influential newspaper in Wisconsin has consistently been fair and square with the university. An editorial printed Tuesday in the Milwaukee Journal, which has more than a quarter-million readers in this state, has the following to say about the Perry bill and the university:

The claim that increasing the non-resident tuition fee at the state university from $124 to $300 a year would increase the revenue of the university doesn't carry conviction. It is more likely that it would diminish revenue. For we should be asking the young man or woman who was thinking of Wisconsin to pay more than the great universities of the east require. If these universities, dependent on endowment and tuition, have not felt they could afford to ask $300, can Wisconsin do it?

What we can do is raise a bar against students from other states and countries. We do not believe Wisconsin wants to do that. These students bring us something; association with them, the broader viewpoint of America, is part of the education of our own sons and daughters. We can keep them out, if we want. We can be as provincial as we please. But we shall hurt and not benefit ourselves.

Especially ought there to be no question of raising the tuition for non-resident students already attending Wisconsin. They have made their plans on the basis of our present fee—which is not at all a small one for state universities—they have come to us in good faith, and they should not be driven away now that they are well started.

It is part of the idea some have of a university that it welcomes men and women who want to learn from all parts of the world. It has been part of Wisconsin's glory that it was favorably known all over the world. And that has added to the value of every degree that was granted. We do not believe Wisconsin is ready to go back on this policy, as she must go back on it by imposing a prohibitive tuition fee on non-resident students.

GIVE THE SENATE TEETH

THE greatest question which has faced the student body since the inception of student self-government at Wisconsin will be presented for solution Friday in the form of an amendment to place the editor of the Cardinal on the Student senate in place of a member of the Cardinal Board of Control.

It is held by campus politicians that the Student senate should be "checked up" by the Cardinal, and also criticised, so as to avoid building up a senatorial oligarchy bent upon publicity conspiracies.

It is further held—from the rostrum and in the communication columns of the Cardinal—that if the editor of this paper were per se a member of the Senate, he would be unduly influenced by the Senate and nothing would be done to control that august body.

Moreover, the opponents of the amendment allege that the Senate has erred in not giving enough publicity to the proposed amendment. The facts are that this matter has been under discussion for several years, and emerges at this time when it is adequately felt that such a change is needed. The present system has been tried and found wanting. There should be no objection to giving a new order a chance to succeed.

Talk such as has been carried on by a few students advocating voting down of the amendment defeats itself. Members of the Board of Control themselves, and the Student Senate, have forwarded this amendment because it makes for greater efficiency in self-government.

The editor of the Cardinal should be on the Senate as should the presidents of the various campus boards. The editor directs the policy of the newspaper. He is personally responsible for the things that are printed; he is in position to direct student opinion; he is on the job day in and day out throughout the school year. The Senate wants and needs the editor of the Cardinal; the Senate recognizes that such a change as will be effected by the amendment will be beneficial, and the student body has it within its power to make student self-government more efficient.

Vote for the amendments Friday.

Communication

WANTS REAL SAFETY

Twice since I have been in Madison there have been lives lost in the lake. At both times there was a demand for a more adequate life saving organization, for more strict regulations, and closer vigilance over the lake.

After a few weeks, the agitation ceased and the vigilance of the life saving machinery relaxed. And now another life is lost.

Will it be the same old story over-renewed demands for better protection, renewed vigilance over the lake,—both relaxing or ceasing entirely in a few months, and then another life?

The Daily Cardinal is to be commended for the editorial of yesterday morning. Do not forget the promise "to push the investigation until there are visible responses."

Make it more than "visible responses." Make this the last lake tragedy. It can be done and it is time that is done.

Yours very truly,
S. M. COE '23.

REFERENDUM QUESTION

Dear Editor:

The students are being asked to put the managing editor of The Daily Cardinal on the Student Senate in the referendum Friday. True this is only one feature of the proposed amendment but it is enough to kill the whole thing if the students consider the matter fairly before voting.

It should be sufficient indictment to know that the senate did not notify the students of the exact nature of this amendment until 24 hours before they were expected to vote upon it. The students who run for election are required to file petitions at least two weeks before the election but the senate proposes an amendment and gives the students only one day's notice. How can they be expected to know the details so that they can vote intelligently? Is this fair notice?

The managing editor should not be a member of the senate because he should be free to criticize the acts or lack of acts of that body. If he is a member he will have even more pressure brought on him than at present. He will be asked and expected to boost the senate and back its decisions.

The Cardinal is a functioning body in student self-government. It acts as a check on the Student Senate. If the Cardinal becomes a part of the senate organization there will be no check on the senate and suppression and misrepresentation of news will result.

If an organization wants to "put something across" it tries to get a publicity man from the Cardinal staff so it can get lots of "the right kind" of publicity. The senate through some of its members has tried to have news suppressed in the past. Will it improve things to have the managing editor on the senate?

The managing editor should be free from every kind of influence. A member of the senate told me today that one idea of the senate was "to get more publicity." Even before the thing is passed members are talking of influencing the editor. If the senate gives the students a fair deal it should give them enough time to learn something about the question and not try to slip it over on one day's notice. If the matter is voted on Friday the students should vote to give the Cardinal a free hand. The senate is not the

Aggies and a Notre Dame entry are possibly the only other westerners who will compete in the pole vault special event at the Penn carnival.

"The Wisconsin vaulters should make a good showing at the meet," said Coach Jones yesterday. "Merrick and Wilder are both capable of doing 12 feet regularly, and the only drawback is that bad weather which has prevented the men from practicing for the last week may have left them in poor condition." Westbrook, Michigan, and entries from Cornell and Yale appear to be the vaulters that Wilder and Merrick will have to defeat."

High Jump is Big Event

Although the one, two, and four-mile relays, in which 150 college relay quartets are entered, will be the features of the Penn relay carnival, the high jump, and the pentathlon all-around championship event will be the most important of the individual events.

Richard Landon, Yale, who won the Olympic high jumping championship with 6 feet 4½ inches as well as the national and intercollegiate titles, will compete in the high jump against Chamberlain, University of Virginia, who recently leaped 6 feet 5 inches in a dual meet with Penn State. Brown of Dartmouth cleared the bar at 6 feet 5½ inches in an approved meet recently. This trio of easterners will be entered against some of the best jumpers in the Middle West. John Murphy, Notre Dame, joint holder with Landon of the American championship, is credited with doing 6 feet, 4½ inches. Alberts and Osborne, Illinois; Walker, Michigan, and Paige, Nebraska, have all done better than 6 feet 3 inches and may upset the eastern champions.

The pentathlon individual championship event comprises the broad jump, discus and javelin throwing, and the 200 and 1,500 metre races.

Brutus Hamilton, Missouri, holder of the A. A. U. pentathlon championship and regarded as the best all-around athlete in America, will meet strong competition in Everette Bradley, Kansas, Le Gendre, Georgetown, and Bartels, Pennsylvania university.

A total of 90 events, not counting the heats in the sprints and hurdles, will be held in the Pennsylvania relays which are the biggest ever attempted by an American university.

THREE RESCUE PARTIES WILL SEARCH LAKE

Rough Weather Prevented Recovery of Body of Esther Wepking

Three crews are waiting for calm weather to enable them to continue the search for the body of Esther Wepking '28 who was drowned while canoeing on Lake Mendota last Sunday afternoon. The lake was too rough yesterday to permit a successful search for the body.

A crew of six students, organized by Emil Neibur who has charge of renting the canoes at the university boat house, left at 7:30 last night for Rocky Roost cottage which will be their headquarters during the search for the body today. The cottage is half way between Governor's Island and Fairwell point, and about a half mile from the spot where the accident occurred.

W. E. Weidner, commercial fisherman, volunteered the services of himself and nine other men in the search for the body, and kept his crew on the other side of the lake yesterday in readiness for calmer weather. The crew lengthened their drag nets which had been set for shallow water, as the body is believed to be in from 25 to 30 feet.

Capt. Isabel, who has charge of the university life saving station, said yesterday that he has a list of 75 students who volunteered their services, and will have a crew on the lake as soon as weather permits.

Repair Warning Siren

H. J. Thorkleson, business manager, has investigated the report that the siren which is supposed to give warning in case of danger on the lake was defective, and found that the whistle had not been blown this spring. The matter was remedied at once, and this afternoon the blast could be heard clearly on the other side of the lake.

Supt. Thorkleson also stated that signs have been put up on the campus and about the lake every year giving directions as to the method of sending to the life saving station for help. These signs explained the means of locating the scene of trouble by the number of blasts from the siren. He stated that the signs have been torn down each year, and as a result only a limited number of students are acquainted with the means of sending for help.

Every canoe leaving the university boat house Sunday was warned to keep close to the shore, according to a statement made by Neibur. Canoeists not capable of handling canoes were advised to stay off the lake.
