FIVE CENTS

GAY DECORATIONS TO FLASH FORTH FOR HOMECOMING

Student Section, Especially, to Be Colored Panorama; Many Prizes Offered

Most of Madison, particularly the student section, will be in gala attire for Homecoming. City and state officials are co-operating with Ralph Giles '25, chairman of men's decorations, in converting the city into a colorful panorama of lights, bunting, flags, and other decorations symbolic of homecoming.

Judges have been appointed for the judging of fraternity, sorority, and rooming houses in the student section. The judges will begin at 7:15 o'clock Friday night and make a complete trip to select the prize winners in their department. The judges are Major L. L. Lampert, Prof. W. H. Varnum and Dean F. Louise Nardin.

Two cups each for the best decorations in fraternity and sorority houses will be awarded, one cup to the winner between Chadbourne and Barnard halls, and two cups for the best decorations at girls' rooming houses.

Three Prizes to Merchants

Three prizes will be offered for the best window displays by Madison merchants. Three cups will be given to merchants who produce the most symbolic homecoming decorations in men's clothing stores, women's ready-to-wear stores and one the best decorations in any other stores.

Decorate Capitol

The state capitol will have the dome lighted by a huge "W," and red lights will be placed around the building on the balustrades. The City Hall will have a large welcome sign in red lights gracing its walls facing the square. Four-inch red cardboard "W's" will be placed on each side of the street lights along State street from the square to Park street, and from Capitol square down King street to the Northwestern station.

The wire screen along the lower campus will also have appropriate homecoming decorations as will many of the buildings around the campus. Field decorations for the stadium at Camp Randall will be the same as last year.

Dramatic Sketches Will Be Presented By Sketch Reader

The dramatic societies of the university will be given an opportunity to hear Ruth Draper, an American dramatic reader, when she appears at 8 o'clock tonight at the Christ Presbyterian church. Miss Draper is being brought to Madison through the efforts of the Women's society of Christ Presbyterian church.

Miss Draper appeals to those interested in dramatics and speech, as she stands practically alone in her unique art of presenting character sketches, which she writes herself. With the aid of no physical accessories, she evolves a human being before her audience. The monologue which she will present is a whole play.

Tickets for Miss Draper's recital may be obtained at Hook's music store at $1 and $1.50.

TWO STUDENTS WRITE LATEST POPULAR SONG

Jack Sampson '27 and Donald Patterson '27 are the composer and lyric writer, respectively, of "Promise," said to be one of the most popular song and dance hits to be written this year. The number, described by the publishers as a second "Whispering," will appear in sheet music form within the next two weeks. While the leading orchestras in Chicago have been featuring "Promise" for some time, it was not until November 2 that it was formally introduced by the Duncan sisters at the Chicago theater.

Kiekhofers Paints Economic Picture of Losses From War

MRS. CATT TO SPEAK IN MEN'S GYM TODAY

"Men, Women and Politics," is the subject of the address which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, internationally known suffrage leader, will deliver at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the university gymnasium. In her speech Mrs. Catt tells many of her personal experiences with men and women famous in the political life of the various countries during the last 25 years. Mrs. Catt is speaking here under the joint auspices of the Dane County League of Women Voters and the lecture committee of the university. Her lecture is free to the public.

FRUIT SHOW WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Fifth Annual Display is to Be Held at Horticultural Building

Apples, apple pies, a pie auction, and chrysanthemums will be some of the features of the fifth annual fruit and flower show to be held tomorrow and Friday at the Horticultural building, by the members of the Grafters club of the university.

All kinds and colors of chrysanthemums will be exhibited. These flowers are grown in the greenhouses of the department of horticulture and will be fitted and arranged for exhibition by students in the department.

Apples will be exhibited by students and by the members of the various spray rings. Four prizes are being offered in the student home grown apple exhibit. Methods of packing apples in boxes and barrels will be on display as well as apples grown by the spray ring associations.

A loving cup will be awarded to the home economics student who bakes the best apple pie. This contest is limited to the students who are enrolled in the courses in home economics. Tomorrow the pies will be sold at auction. Cider will be sold each day.

The students in charge of the exhibition are Leland P. Brown '25, Sturgeon Bay, chairman of the student contest committee; Miss L. Kraemer, grad, pies; Milton Goldman '25, Milwaukee, awards; Harvey L. R. Chada '26, Green Bay, and John J. Zahorik '25, Kewau-nawee, cider. Instructors in the department of horticulture will act as judges.

UNION VODVIL HOLDS ORCHESTRA TRYOUTS

Tryouts for Union Vodvil orchestra will be held at 8:30 o'clock tonight at Boyd's studio. Those interested in trying out may call Ben Anderson '25, chairman of the orchestra committee, at B. 3813.

PIERSON WILL SERVE ON BOARD OF CONTROL

Jane Pierson '26, was elected secretary of the Daily Cardinal board of control at a meeting of that body Monday noon. She will serve the unexpired term of Roberta Odell '26, who withdrew from the university this fall. Miss Pierson has been on the business staff of the Daily Cardinal for two years and at the time of her appointment was associate advertising manager. She was elected according to the provisions of a by-law passed by the board about a year ago.

HOMECOMING ISSUE

Fraternities and sororities or other organizations may order extra copies of the Homecoming Cardinal which will be a 16 or 20 page paper and will include the Homecoming varsity photo news supplement. The issue will sell for 10 cents each or 12 copies for $1. Your alumni will want these copies. Call B. 6606.

Quotes Figures on Loss of Man-power in World Contest

"What a terrible price in human suffering, anguish, and bloodshed we have paid for the perpetuity of our civilization!" exclaimed Prof. W. H. Kiekhofers during a brief talk apropos of the armistice day anniversary, before his 10 o'clock economics class, yesterday.

"Six years ago today, the warring nations had 60,000,000 men under arms," he said. "More than 20,000,000 of the allied soldiers were killed, injured, lost, or taken captive, while the enemy sustained casualties of 12,000,000."

Germany Leads in Dead

"If we, today, were to occupy the reviewing stand and watch from sunrise to sunset the files of martyred dead soldiers marching past four abreast, the sun would have sunk low in the west ere those escorting the Stars and Stripes alone had passed. For two and a half days afterward, the fallen heroes of Belgium would file past, followed by the sacrificed sons of Garibaldi, who would march on into eternity for five days."

"We would have to wait for seven days while the Assyrian soldier dead marched past, and eight days more as the English standard led by its heroic martyrs. French soldiers who had paid the utmost price for their patriotism would require fourteen days to pass the reviewing stand, while the Russian martyrs, who so nobly fought a hopeless fight on the eastern front, would swing by for twenty-seven days."

"The dead of the enemy, boys and men who, in their own minds, were as noble and patriotic as the best among us, would follow, their files moving smoothly by for thirty whole days! Such is the price we have paid! And that is not counting the millions of civilians who gave up their lives in the great catastrophe!"

We Cannot Claim Isolation

The financial burdens imposed by the World war, Prof. Kiekhofers stated further, will be felt by the people of the world for generations and generations.

"On this sixth anniversary of the end of that colossal war, it is fitting that we pause to realize that we no longer can claim utter isolation from the rest of the world. The great question before us is, from a social, political, and economical viewpoint, can't we do something that will more adequately safeguard our civilization in the future?"

$2,000 MARK REACHED IN Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN

The sum of $2,000 towards the quota of $5,000 in the annual Y. M. C. A. finance campaign has been raised to date, according to Ellis G. Fulton '25, treasurer of the association. The student solicitation is only partly completed and a number of the men have not yet made complete reports. The fraternity solicitation is also incomplete. The honor of getting the first complete subscription goes to Alpha Kappa Lambda.

Tribune Cartoonist Takes Cracks At Campus Celebrities in "Octy"

By J. F. H.

The Homecoming "Octy" is out today. The cover is practically the only thing in the magazine that has anything to do with Homecoming. Hank Lathers, the artist, pictures an amused youth greeting his lady love at the railroad station while a porter in the background grins appreciatively.

The cartoons and sketches are the best things in the magazine. Sels Bostwick, cartoonist of the Chicago Tribune, has contributed a double-spread cartoon in which the famous Floradora Love crashes into Madison after a season in Hollywood to get a little taste of the real wild life. Bostwick takes a few sly cracks at some of the campus celebrities.

Misha Elman Is Superb In Display of Unusual Talent

By J. F. H.

The incomparable Mischa Elman has come and gone, leaving behind only memories of music almost unbearably beautiful.

One may hardly be too extravagant in praises of an artist who can move an audience to the verge of tears as Elman did in his "Ave Maria" which was played as an encore.

Genius cannot be understood. It seems a kind of connection between heaven and earth. Mischa Elman has a power that has been termed "celestial." It seems hardly to come from the man himself but merely through him from infinite, exhaustless source of energy.

Kreisler, in referring to his bowing which is little less than a miracle, once said that "He can do what all my life I have tried to do." In this artist the high note of human attainment is struck.

UNION BOARD IN GENERAL MEETING

Plan to Increase Size Discussed; Kissell to Go to Conference

Routine business occupied the greater portion of the time of the Union board's regular meeting last night. A plan to increase the size of the board or the formation of associate membership to assist in carrying on the activities was discussed.

Lester L. Kissell '25, president, was chosen as delegate to the fourth annual conference of college and university unions to be held at the University of Pennsylvania next week. Kissell was also elected as the board's representative on the student senate.

Broadcasting of all university activities from the university station, WHA, with the board as director of the programs was considered. A directory of the Union building will be made for the convenience of students who have business in the various offices.

Sales of tickets for Union Vodvil and the Albert Spalding concert November 24 were discussed and tentative programs for convocations were proposed. Edward E. Slosson, author and publisher of several works on chemistry, is one speaker who will be brought here by the board.

The matter of holding a matinee tea dance and mixer immediately after the game next Saturday was turned over to a committee to work out plans if it is found feasible.

PROF STEPHEN GILMAN TO SPEAK IN CHICAGO

Prof. Stephen W. Gilman of the course in commerce will give a speech on the subject of "A Hard Proposition," before the meeting of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation, credit committee, which will be held Friday, November 17, at Chicago.

POWERS, CHARGING PREJUDICE, GETS CHANGE OF COURT

Patrolman Charged With Killing of Posepny Will Be Tried in Janesville

The trial of Patrick J. Powers, former Madison policeman, charged with the killing of Peter J. Posepny, a member of the class of 1925, on the night of May 12, will be held in Janesville, according to a change of venue granted by Judge A. C. Hoppmann, to Power's attorney, Frank D. Gilbert.

Charging that prejudice of students against police officers would endanger his chance for a fair trial in Madison, and that it would be almost impossible to impanel a jury were the grounds given for the appeal in the change of the place of hearing by Attorney Gilbert.

Students Prejudiced Hearing

At the time of his preliminary hearing, Powers says, the courtroom and corridors were filled with university students who took exception to the manner in which the investigation was conducted and manifested "their dissatisfaction and prejudice."

The affidavit quotes an editorial printed in the Daily Cardinal which appeared under the heading of "Stalling The Trial" at the time of the preliminary examination. The affidavit continues that "other publications in Madison published misleading, inaccurate and highly prejudiced purported accounts of the entire matter, omitting to publish facts and circumstances favorable to this affiant and giving undue and unfair construction and prominence to any alleged fact or circumstance apparently unfavorable to this affiant."

Following the filing of the petition for change of venue, Gilbert announced that he expected the trial to be held within this month before Judge George Grimm of the Jefferson and Rock county circuit courts.

Student Killed Last May

Posepny, a student from Two Rivers, Wis., was killed on the night of May 12, after he had been accosted by Patrolman Powers, who alleged he found him prowling about his back porch. According to the officer's statement at the time, he commanded Posepny to "throw up his hands," but the student instead, started off the porch.

The officer drew his service revolver, and believing that the prowler was trying to escape or to attack him, fired. Powers claims that he shot at the man, aiming, as believed, over his head. The bullet, however, penetrated the youth's head, and he was killed almost instantly.

At the coroner's jury the next day it was found that there was cause for an investigation, and an inquest was held, and Powers was ordered held on a murder charge, his bail being fixed at $2,500.

DR. SCALLEN, FATHER OF INSTRUCTOR, DIES

Word has been received of the death of Dr. Edward Scallen at the home of his son in Crosby, Minn. Dr. Scallen was the father of Margaret Scallen of the English department, who was in Crosby at the time of the death. Another daughter, Brighidine, in the Romance language department, is at present studying in Paris. The funeral will be held at the family home in Hancock, Mich.

WOMEN DO NOT NEED DEAN'S O. K. FOR TRIP

Contrary to the statement made in the Daily Cardinal last Saturday that women students going to the Chicago game will have to have the permission of Dean Nardin, a statement came from the dean yesterday that after a woman has presented written permission from her parents, her house mother may give her permission to be absent. Only in case the house mother refuses to do this is it necessary to see Miss Nardin in order to get permission to attend the game.

Must Defeat Badgers and Purple; Illini Face Ohio and Gophers

After Chicago held the Illinois wonder team in one of the biggest football surprises of the year last Saturday the Maroon eleven found itself in an excellent position to win or at least tie for the Big Ten football championship.

The only two contenders left for the title are Illinois and Chicago. As to which will come through undefeated is the question in conference grid camps this week. Of the two Illinois has by far the hardest schedule remaining.

Ordeal Faces Illini.

In order to lay claim to the title the Illini must defeat the strong Minnesota and Ohio State teams. Minnesota has failed to win a game so far but the Gophers have a strong aggregation and have held all of their opponents, including Michigan, to a low score.

The Buckeyes were contenders for the title until their surprising defeat by Indiana last week. Jack Wilce's men have a habit of staging strong comebacks, however, and it is traditional that Ohio fights hardest against Illinois.

Chicago Plays Purple.

Chicago, on the other hand, has passed the hardest part of her schedule. This week Chicago takes on Northwestern and should beat them in spite of the fact that the Purple have the strongest team that they have had in recent years.

Illinois beat Michigan 39 to 14; Michigan beat Northwestern 27 to 0; Chicago held Illinois 21 to 21; therefore Chicago, by virtue of pure mathematics, should down the Evanston team by a score of 52 points. Of course this is highly improbable but it shows that the Windy City lads should have little trouble in their first game that will be so important in determining the conference champion.

The following week Chicago closes its season in a game with Wisconsin. The outcome of that game depends on what Coach Ryan does to the Badger eleven in the next two weeks. Unless there is a vast improvement the Maroons may step into the championship with little opposition.

Badger Coaches
No. 13—George Hitchcock

Wisconsin has for a wrestling coach a man who knows wrestling from A to Z. and who comes from a wrestling town in a wrestling state; in other words, Hitchcock, Badger mat coach, claims Waterloo, Iowa, as his home town.

He is a graduate of the William Hood-Dunwoodie institute of Minneapolis. While in school there he held all the wrestling championships that were available.

Following his graduation, he coached wrestling and football at the West Waterloo high school, and also instructed boxing and wrestling at the Business Men's athletic club.

Just like all other Badger coaches he enlisted in the navy during the world war, when he won the light heavyweight championship of the third naval district. The end of the war was all that prevented him from winning the light heavy championship of the whole navy.

In the days following the war Hitchcock was boxing and wrestling instructor in the Y. M. C. A. at Peoria, Ill. Both here and at Waterloo he came in contact with some of the best pro-wrestlers in the game. Hitchcock has gone on with Farmer Burns, Earl Caddoch and Frank Gotch. All of these men were champions in the heavyweight division at various times. By practicing with these men Hitchcock learned many invaluable tricks of the game.

Although Hitchcock's teams have not won a conference championship since his coming in 1920, they have always finished over the 500 per cent mark. Wisconsin has defeated Minnesota for the last two years, a feat that had been unheard

HAWKEYES HAVE NEVER DEFEATED
BADGERS IN TWENTIETH CENTURY

If Iowa defeats Wisconsin in the homecoming game, it will be the first time in the twentieth century that the Hawkeyes have been able to top the Badgers.

Although Iowa has possibly acquired more Big Ten grid titles than has the Cardinal, the Hawkeyes have been able to threaten the Badgers seriously but once, when the 1907 Badger gridgers won by only a single point, 6-5, after they had been doped as easy prey for the heavy Iowans. It was in this game that Mulany '08, and Thatcher '93, made history with their newly-recruited travelling men rooters, cheering the Cardinal on to victory after the first half had given the Hawkeyes a 5-0 edge.

Wisconsin's first game in the nineteen-hundred's with Iowa was of before. It seemed that the Gophers had always been a jinx to Badger mat teams before Hitchcock took the helm.

Hitchcock has been competing against schools where wrestling is a major sport, while here it is only a minor activity. This limits the number of men competing as most of the men in athletics wish to go out for a major sport.

in 1906, when the undefeated Badger team of that year, its personnel including the late Ewald ("Jumbo") Stiehm, gave the Hawkeyes a 17-4 lacing, Iowa counting on a drop kick which amounted to 4 points in those days.

After Mulany '08, and Thatcher '93 had cheered the Cardinal on to its 6-5 victory in 1907, the two teams did not meet again until 1911, when Wisconsin had a comparatively easy time winning despite the 12-0 score. The following year Wisconsin's last Big Ten championship team journeyed to Iowa City and returned with a 28-10 triumph. The Hawks fought grimly but ineffectively against the great machine that represented the Cardinal that year.

The last struggle between the two teams took place in 1917 when the great work of Eber Simpson, Hobe Bondi and Jacobi was instrumental in utterly routing the Hawkeyes, 20-0. Since 1917 Iowa has been mounting upward in the football world while Wisconsin has failed to make any great progress in that field, and Homecoming visitors will either see Iowa acquire its first twentieth century victory from the Cardinal or else watch the Badgers maintain their unique record.

Notre Dame Coach
Lauds Badger Line
In Saturday Game

"It was mighty pleasing to me to have the boys show so well today before their admirers and the folks in Wisconsin," said Coach Knute Rockne following the game last Saturday, at the same time paying tribute to the Badger team with "there wasn't a minute that they weren't in there giving all they had, and I am frank to say that they kept us hopping, despite the big score."

Jack Ryan's men outplayed us in a part of the first quarter and that was the reason I sent in the regulars. And there were times when Wisconsin had the edge on my first team. Some of these periods were short lived, of course, but it gives an indication that if we had let up for an instant Wisconsin would have been on top of our goal.

Wisconsin followed the ball better than we did and this was noticeable to me on several occasions. Of course, I don't expect a team to play perfect football, but the Badgers were alert and ready to take advantage of every opening.

I take my hat off to that center trio of Wisconsin—Bieberstein, Miller and Teckemeyer. We weren't able to do very much with that mid-section. They battled the opposition on my team just about even, and those who have followed

Elleson and Chapman Have Injuries; L. and S. College Has Strong Team

When the Engineer cross country team starts Thursday on the annual intercollegiate run, they will be weakened by the loss of Elleson '27, who will be unable to start due to his being in bad condition. Likewise, the College of Agriculture team will not have the services of Chapman, star freshman runner, who will be out due to a bad leg.

The race is open to all men in the university who are not among the first ten on the varsity harrier squad. The first five men on the winning college team and also the first five men to finish will receive their college insignia.

Last year the College of Letters and Science led the field. This college again looks strong with Reeves, McKee, and Payne to form the nucleus of their team. The race will start at 4:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Things You'll Need to Enjoy Cold Weather

Corduroy Coats

For hiking, climbing the hill to classes or for general utility outdoor wear nothing can take the place of a corduroy coat.

We have them in rich blues, browns and tans. They're belted and have button patch pockets as well as the popular muff pockets. Straps at the wrists can be tightened to keep out cold drafts. The linings are checks of red and black, or green and black. $9.00 to $15.

Jumpers and Wool Blouses

Outdoors or indoors you can wear a wool blouse or jumper. The bright, colorful checks or the softer harmonious plaids mark these as distinctly college men's garments. They're as popular this winter as ever. Price $9.

Wool Socks and Gloves

Some say if your feet and hands are warm, your warm all over. Maybe so, but if you have a pair of these soft wool socks on your feet and a pair of fur-lined gloves on your hands, THEY'LL be warm anyway.

Wool socks are in many color combinations this season. Gloves are of dressed or undressed kid with plain or fancy backs.

Wool Socks $1 to $2.50
Gloves $2 to $7.50

TENTATIVE MEN
FOR SWIM TEAMSRelay Squads Compete This Week; Sixteen Listed as Varsity Swimmers

As tentative choices, Coach Joe Steinauer has posted the names of 16 varsity, 33 first-team frosh, and 18 second team frosh, who will make up the swimming squads.

The varsity men follow: Johnson, Ratcliffe, Gilbreath, Herschberger, Kehl, Monihan, Hipple, Flueck, Alexander, Stemm, Teich, Holmes, Hodges, Porter, Thomsen and Beck. These sixteen men are about half of the full squad, the others not being listed due to the fact that they failed to report when the squad was called together.

The freshman list follows, crawl stroke men: Balding, Vinson, Pederson, Fox, Dunlap, Drake, Libby, Bach, Einfeldt, Post, Case, Briggs, Stuart, Perisho, Clark, Schroeder, Monroe, Woodsom, Frankfurth, Ricksdorf, Allane, Freulinger, Etelsen, Batcheler, Loomis, Wiechers, Young and Doerfer; breast stroke men: Kercher, Pulicher, Hunkel, Schele, Cody, Stewart, and Wray; plunge men: Weibrecht, Schroeder, and Welch.

Relay Teams Start Work.

The frosh second team will for the present consists of the following, Aranoff, Chase, Klein, Baker, Adams, Bulsom, Wilke, Stebbins, Samuels, Brotz, Husting, Routt, Potter, Rippers, Sears, Brunzell, Hoevel and Noe. This list will be thinned out again Dec. 1 and only the steady workers kept, according to Coach Steinauer.

Competition between relay teams will be the event this week for both the varsity swimmers and the first 28 frosh. Next week it will be work in the 40 yard, the following week the 100 yard, then the 200 yard, the breast stroke and finally the back stroke. These events will all be in the form of competitive trials, now that the time trials have been completed.

All varsity candidates who came through the time trials successfully whether in the above list or not, are to report to Coach Steinauer next Sunday or run the risk of being dropped. Their regular practice hour, beginning yesterday, is at 4:30 o'clock, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Record Will Be Kept.

Records will be kept of both the individuals and the temporary teams in which they are arranged. Every effort will also be made to match the swimmers with those of equal ability, although this week all of the relay teams swim against each of the others in their group.

The first 28 frosh who make up the seven first year relay teams are to report for practice on Tuesday and Thursday at 4:30 o'clock. Second team men are due on the same days at 4 o'clock, plungers any hour after 10 o'clock a. m., and breast stroke freshmen at noon.

FROSH WRESTLING
PROSPECTS GOODCandidates Turning Out in Larger Numbers Than in Previous Years

"Frosh wrestling tryouts are indicating good material, and the first year men are turning out in larger numbers than in previous years," said Coach George Hitchcock yesterday.

About 60 men have reported for wrestling tryouts already, and Hitchcock expects that the number will be increased after the frosh discard their football suits. Most of the line-men will probably try for the squad.

Tryouts which are being held on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays at 3:30 o'clock, will continue until December 1. After the football season closes, trials will take place on Saturdays also.

The date for the Badger picture has been changed from Thursday, November 13, to Tuesday, November 18, at 12:15 o'clock at De Longe studio.

More Lineup Changes Are Made to Bolster Eleven
FOR HOMECOMING

There are tickets available for the homecoming game with Iowa this Saturday, it is announced by Paul Hunter, director of ticket sales. Students and cheering section groups can call for tickets now, but Hunter advises that they be secured today or tomorrow so that the ticket selling facilities can be devoted to open sale Friday and Saturday.

Now is the time for the alumni of Wisconsin to back the football team, to back it with all the spirit they have, just as the students of the school are backing it. This week is the critical point in this season's career. It is no time to criticize and find fault.

Wisconsin has this season lost only one conference game. That is not a bad record. The showing against Notre Dame doesn't promise much, but one never can tell in football. Suppose Ryan does what Stagg did last week?

The Wisconsin students are supporting the team wonderfully. The outlook has never been more gloomy, yet the spirit has never been more rousing. Wisconsin never quits.

Saturday is homecoming. Let the campus be decorated in its brightest colors—no gloom for Wisconsin. Let town and gown work together to show that while there's life there's hope. Then, if we lose to Iowa, which we won't, we can say we may not have fought the good fight but we have kept the faith.

Some ask, "Why didn't Leyden of Notre Dame, Hancock of Iowa, and other good football players come to Wisconsin, since they live in the state?" That's no criticism, for there are men like Steger, Michigan; the Harmons, Wisconsin; and others in the Big Ten who do not play football at their own state university.

Notre Dame probably will be on the Badger schedule next year. This is a good move, for in addition to being a big drawing card, the game undoubtedly is a good teacher for the Badger players.

Miller Used at End in Last Night's Drill; Doyle Harmon Shifted

By KEN BUTLER

The Badgers are still to be reckoned with.

With a team torn by defeat after defeat, Coach Ryan makes known by further changes in the ranks of the Wisconsin team that yet there is time to show that hopes are not lost in the discards when defeat stalks near.

The Harris shift has been proved a wise move, and now comes the shift of Carl Miller from right guard to end, with Leiti taking his place in the line. The backfield used last night was composed of McGiveran, McAndrews, Leo Harmon, and Larson at quarter.

Doyle Harmon Shifted

In spite of the rain the squad worked out at Camp Randall last night under the arc lights, running through signal drills to acquaint the men with the signals and plays of their new positions.

Doyle Harmon, who has played in every game this season, was shifted to the second team. Stangel, best punter on the squad, was calling signals on the second squad and it is evident that Ryan is grooming him to sub for Larson.

Miller, with his line experience, may prove a good bet at end. He is not too heavy and has a fair amount of speed. With Polaski on the injured list, the end situation becomes serious. Most of the big gains against the team this year have been made around the end. Polaski upheld his side, but Lowman has not been able to find a man with the right stuff for the other end. If Miller fills his new post in good shape, Burrus will probably hold down the other end.

As the weeks wear on it becomes more and more evident that the supposed good material this year was overrated. Of the two Harmons, Leo has proved the most consistent, especially in punting and on defense. Stangel, Harris, and Barnum have not been able to gain ground consistently. Bieberstein, considered at the beginning of the season as all-American material, is not playing the game he played last year.

Both Iowa and Wisconsin will be handicapped by loss of good men when they meet Saturday. Iowa has lost Griffen and Fleckstein. Nelson, Straubel, Polaski, and Long are on the list of cripples at Wisconsin.

CO-ED GYM SEEMS
HECTIC AS WOMEN
TAKE AGILITY TESTS

Climbing ladders with nervous, trembling haste, racing around the gymnasium as if to escape some unseen, pursuing demon, crawling under bucks, turning somersaults, doing running leaps—life among the co-eds in their gymnasium seems hectic, indeed, to an unformed outsider.

Freshmen and sophomores are merely taking their efficiency and agility tests to determine the character of the athletic work that they may take during the winter season. An instructor times, grades, and takes a final average of the three tests.

If the average is between 98 and 100, any two activities may be chosen; if between 90 and 95, the women must take either folk dancing or gymnasium, and may choose any one sport. If the average is below 89 the women must take gymnasium and one sport.

Those who are required to take gymnasium and have an average between 93 and 100 may participate in advanced gym classes; those with an average between 84 and 92 may take intermediate; all those below 83 have no choice in the matter.

of Rollie Williams, former Wisconsin grid star and now Iowa freshman coach. He won three "W's" as a Badger backfield man, and in his coaching days since leaving Madison has become familiar with the Wisconsin system from another viewpoint.

The Hawkeye offense will be built up around Parkin, who has done most of Iowa's ground gaining this year. Graham and Fry are two good plungers, and Graham is nearly the equal of Leo Harmon in punting. Galloway, colored linesman, broke through several times in the game against Illinois and tackled Illini runners for losses or stopped them in their tracks. Most of Zupke's plays were sent over his side of the line, yet he came out of the fray without injuries. Hancock, heavy linesman from Superior, Wis., is another line star.

'W' WEARERS WILL ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING FRIDAY351 Letter Men Have Iowa
Game Tickets; Elect New Officers

Half of all the wearers of Wisconsin's cardinal "W" will be present at the first annual meeting of the national "W" Men's association in the Crystal room of the Loraine hotel next Friday night, it was announced today by Eddie Samp, secretary of the association.

The "W" Men's association was formed here this year with Madison letter men as a nucleus, and has grown to be one of the most important factors in Wisconsin athletics. The annual meeting will be held the night before Homecoming every year from now on, according to present plans.

Through the efforts of the organization, 351 "W" men have applied for tickets for the Homecoming game with Iowa Saturday, and they are all expected to be present at the Friday night meeting.

Al Busher, the "W" association's first president, will try to get back, although he is now football coach at Hamline university. "Ikey" Kavel of Milwaukee, one of the vice presidents, will be here, and he will be on the speaking program.

New officers will be elected, and it is probable that the athletic situation at the university will be discussed, although there has been no word to that effect given out.

Further plans for business at the meeting will be announced later. The present significance of the gathering rests with the fact that it is the first assemblage of its kind of so many Wisconsin athletes and former athletes.

It was reported on the Minnesota campus yesterday that William Spaulding, head coach at the University of Minnesota, will be tendered a contract for the season of 1925 by the athletic board. Spaulding's original three-year contract at Minneapolis expires at the end of this season.

When the whistles blew at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in memory of the event which took place just six years before, students up and down the campus continued to ply their various occupations beautifully oblivious to that memory. So soon do we forget—what is it? War or peace? And is it just as well? Or is it not?

FLEEING FROM JUSTICE

On the night of May 12 last Patrick J. Powers, then an officer on the Madison police force, shot and killed Peter M. Posepny '25 who was prowling in the immediate vicinity of the back porch of the Powers residence on North Lake street. A coroner's jury, which was impanelled, returned a verdict of unjustifiable homicide and the case has been awaiting trial in the Dane county courts for six months.

Yesterday announcement was made that a request for a change of venue had been granted Powers' attorney and that the case had been transferred to the circuit court of Rock county at Janesville. The principal grounds on which the appeal was made evolved claims that the former officer could not be given an impartial trial in Madison because of the influence of the student body.

Interpreted, this statement means that Powers and his attorney know that their defense case is too weak to face a court of justice in Madison where the facts of the shooting are well known and where pressure from Posepny's friends will force out the truth. Six months have passed since the crime was committed, and thus the defense has been favored with considerable cooling off of public sentiment. Now comes the change of venue allowing Powers to flee the Dane county courts and seek refuge at Janesville, where the chances are ten to one that he will be acquitted.

An editorial was published in the Cardinal following the unfortunate affair, and carried the subject, "Stalling the Trial." This editorial is quoted in the affidavit requesting a venue change, as proof of the prejudice of the student body. The petition states that facts of the crime published in the Cardinal were "inaccurate, misleading and highly prejudicial" giving undue and unfair construction and prominence to circumstances unfavorable to the affiant. The story of the incident as printed in the Cardinal was merely an account of the facts as brought out in the medical examination of the victim and at the inquest. If these facts are wrong, the basic elements prompting the decision of the coroner's jury were wrong, and the verdict of murder was unjustified.

Quite to the contrary, however, the findings of the jury were decidedly unfavorable to Mr. Powers, and if the trial goes as the inquest did, he should ask his attorney to transfer the case to a court at the farthest limits of the state.

The officer warned the student before he fired, according to Powers' story. Granting testimony of neighbors and evidence of the postmortem to be true, it is more than likely that a just court will find that Posepny was shot without warning and from behind. Powers has insisted from the first that the student was assaulting him and, after the officer ordered him to stop and throw up his hands, he shot into the air when the man refused to obey him.

For these reasons and several others of equal importance Powers' attorney deems it advisable to secure a trial in a strange court. The step is a highly practical one and has been prophesied since the first weeks after the verdict. But individuals having valuable testimony can present their evidence at Janesville almost as easily as at Madison. There are students who have evidence invaluable to the prosecution and it is hoped that these men will be used in the trial.

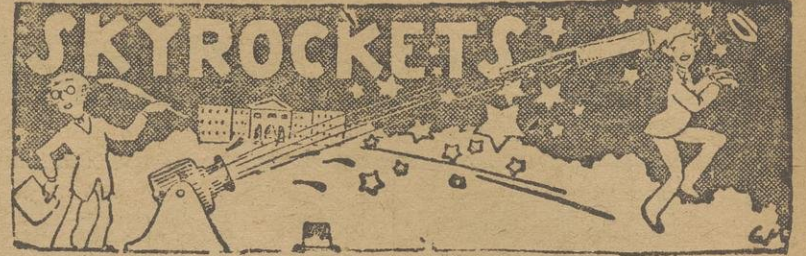

THERE WERE GIANTS IN THOSE DAYS

Idealization of the past, especially by those who are of the past, is a common characteristic of us humans. This fact is generally recognized, and since, in college, so many idealizations of the old college life are heard, students become rather calloused to them and are inclined to pass lightly over sometimes worthwhile critical comments. Every Homecoming we hear of "the good old days" of college football, when Wally Eckersall and other notables were in the heyday of their fame, while most of us probably feel that the days referred to are neither very good nor very old. From a different type of graduate we hear of professors and instructors who not only imparted knowledge, but also gave real mental and spiritual stimulus to their pupils, who sincerely disseminated "sweetness and light," culture in the broadest sense. As one fervent successful man of affairs expressed it, "Ah, there were giants in college faculties in those days!"

Are there not giants in college faculties today? Are there not at least a dozen men of national reputation at Wisconsin? Are there not hundreds in the classic "Who's Who"? From a superficial glance at the situation, then, it might seem truthful to say to the older generation: "There are more giants and greater giants today than yesterday! You idealize! You unreasonably glorify your college world!" But this analysis is superficial, since fame and reputation are surely so. Let us dig a little deeper. Of these intellectual giants how many are giants in their relations with their pupils? How many are mere imparters of facts and of learning, and how many really train the mind to learn? To put it in another fashion—do the large majority of professors and instructors have influencing relations with the thousands of students under them?

In the last 30 years college life has been greatly changed. Hundreds in college have multiplied to thousands. The place of athletics has risen tremendously, and the number and importance of extra-curricular activities has increased to an extent which is sometimes alarming. To many of the undergraduates of the present period, these things are of paramount interest; the work of the classroom is incidental. As a result of these factors, the professor has more and more withdrawn from the university society of which he should be so integral a part. The operations of the curriculum have become more and more mechanical; pupil and teacher have come to feel that their relations and mutual obligations cease at the end of each class. Free unrestrained intercourse between professor and undergraduate is a rare thing. Students today have the opportunity of acquiring more learning than ever before, but opportunities are lacking of learning how men of broad vision and great understanding view these facts in relation to life. In fewer words—has the student of 1924 as great opportunity for knowledge as distinct from learning as had the student of 1884?

Last week the Lit was being offered for sale in front of Bascom hall. Came a professor who refused to buy saying "I have entirely too much reading to do now." Came two instructors who refused in similar terms. These men undoubtedly conceived that they would better spend their time in gaining greater learning of the subjects which they taught than in gaining knowledge of the minds which they were teaching. Truly, our giants are becoming scholars rather than teachers, encyclopedias rather than oracles.

COMMITTEE OF 50 FORMS PLANS

Sunday Suppers, Freshman Sings in Spring, Are Part of Program

For the purpose of completing the plans drawn up in an effort to unite the large freshman class, the committee of fifty will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the cabinet room of the Y. M. C. A., according to Clyde Kluchohn, president of the class.

Porter Butts '24 will give a short talk relative to the steps already taken by the committee with the view toward devising an effective means of securing coordination in executing the affairs of the class.

"With the idea of building an organization which will survive not only our freshman year but rather throughout our entire four years, we are endeavoring to make our organization sound in policy and principle," Kluchohn stated.

The prevalent idea of all class activities will be to establish unity in the class as is evident in the following program:

(1) Series of Sunday night suppers to be held for freshmen men; (2) three dances to be held instead of the customary one; (3) informal get-togethers for rooming-house groups; (4) freshmen sings to be held next spring on Lincoln terrace; (5) green cap tradition to be upheld.

Law School Grad Dies; Was Former Partner of Blaine

Harry E. G. Kemp, Boscobel attorney and former law partner of Gov. John J. Blaine, died at a local hospital late Tuesday morning when he was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 45 years old.

Mr. Kemp was admitted to the hospital here on Aug. 20 and a few days later was dismissed, but he returned here again on Sept. 29 and was a patient there until his death.

Mrs. Kemp arrived from Boscobel today with two of her three children, Carol, 13 and Chandler 16. The other child, Virginia E. Kemp, 18, is a freshman at the University of Wisconsin, and lives at Barnard hall.

The Kemps originally lived in Oshkosh. From there they went to

Homecoming Bonfire Planned; Button Sale Starts Tomorrow

Rain-proof Conflagration Will Take Place on Lower Campus

A huge bonfire on the lower campus will be one of the homecoming features Friday night, immediately following the mass meeting, according to Herbert Schaeffer '25, chairman of the bonfire.

"This bonfire is going to surpass any ever burned at past Homecomings," Mr. Schaeffer said yesterday. "All the merchants are going to co-operate with the committee in furnishing boxes, crates, card-board, paper, or any burnable substance."

Tar and oil will be incorporated in the heap as it is composed and there will be a real blaze even if it is pouring rain, according to Mr. Schaeffer. It is possible that special chemicals will be used to brighten the flame.

The bonfire committee includes Herbert Schaeffer '25, chairman; Edgar Kuehl '26, Richard Brackett '28, Hugo Murray '25, Fred Kaufmann '25.

House to House Canvass Method Used Instead of Hill Solicitation

Women's buttons, which have formerly been sold in open campaign on the hill, will be sold only in the women's buildings and houses this year, according to Josephine Dietrich '27, chairman.

Canvassers will go tomorrow to every sorority and rooming house, and tables will be kept in Lathrop hall and the Home Economics building, where the buttons may be purchased for 25 cents. The proceeds will help defray homecoming expenses.

"This method of sale means a great deal more work," said Miss Dietrich, "because it will be hard to reach every woman. We have 2,500 buttons to sell, which is approximately one for every woman in the university."

On the committee with Miss Dietrich are Margaret Weesner '27, Rena Grubb '26, Betty Seamon '28, Genevieve Patterson '25, Louise Zimmerman '27, Barbara Bacon '27, Claudia Brewer '27, Elizabeth George '27, and Alice Brown '27.

New Officers Elected

By Badger Dairymen

High praise was accorded to the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, in annual meeting here late last week, when officers were elected for the coming year.

H. F. Schroeder, West Bend, was elected president and D. P. Hughes, Menomonie, vice president. Paul C. Burchard, for a period of years secretary-treasurer, was re-elected to that position. Prof. Humphrey was re-appointed director.

Fieldman for the Wisconsin Dairymen's association, supervising the operation of cow testing associations throughout the state are A. J. Cramer, Madison; H. C. Searles, Fond du Lac; and E. G. Sutton, Augusta.

Cheesemakers' School

Will Open In February

Swiss cheesemakers from far and near are slated to come here for a two weeks course in cheesemaking Feb. 9 to 21. J. L. Sammis, of the dairy husbandry department at the university, expects a larger class of cheesemakers this coming season than has ever before enrolled. This is the sixth year in which the school has been conducted.

It is believed that Green, Iowa and Lafayette counties will furnish the largest numbers of students, although several are expected from other states, where Swiss cheese production has been gaining a foothold. Illinois and New York have sent men to take the course in former years.

Winnebago Club Meeting

Postponed for One Day

The first meeting of the Winnebago club which was to be held at the Trinity Lutheran church Monday night was postponed until Tuesday night. The meeting will consist of election of officers and planning the program for winter. It is being held at the instigation of Ray Senate of the Security State bank.

Scholarship Is Essential For Entrance To Honor Societies

Heads of Honorary Fraternities Encourage Freshmen and Sophomores to Prepare For Elections By Securing High Grades

Scholarship is the primary requisite for election to all the honor organizations on the campus. Personality, character, and leadership are other requirements considered necessary to qualify for entrance into Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Beta Kappa or any of the other national honor societies.

Each college in the university and nearly every course has its honorary fraternity, and the requirements are much the same for each.

Phi Kappa Phi, the only national fraternity for general activities in all schools, demands of its candidates a weighted average of 85. Strong character is the second qualification, and the third is leadership. Participation, in an executive capacity, in significant extra-curricular activities forms the basis for selection.

Good students who perhaps do not quite measure up to the standards of Phi Beta Kappa, and yet who are maintaining a good average while taking part in outside work are chosen. Elections are only for juniors and seniors, but students are urged to begin early in their careers to prepare themselves for such an organization.

Phi Beta Kappa is open only to Juniors and Seniors of the College of Letters and Science and is a strictly scholarship organization. A minimum average of 90 is required. This average varies slightly as a constant number, 50 members are admitted yearly, but the standard is approximately the same.

Skill in engineering or in law, coupled with good grades, is the requirement to be met for entrance into Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, or into the Order of the Coif in the Law school. The same is true for admission into Sigma Sigma, medical honor society.

The highest honor to be gained by men in the College of Agriculture is election to Alpha Zeta. For the women there is Omicron Nu, the national honorary Home Economics fraternity, whose standards are as high as those of Phi Beta Kappa. A weighted average of 90, personality, character and leadership in college activities are demanded.

Scholarship again is necessary to make Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce organization, and the combination of good grades and journalistic ability is needed for Theta Sigma Phi, or Sigma Delta Chi.

Even various activities, such as forensics, have special honorary fraternities, and without a good average a student can make none of them.

The presidents and the members of all such organizations are strong in encouraging freshmen and sophomores to prepare for admission into a special group before their grades fall too low.

ASK TAX CHANGE AFTER NEW SURVEY

Shows That Telephone Companies Pay Highest Rate on Earnings

Telephone companies of the nation paid the largest ratio of taxes to gross receipts during 1922, according to a study of taxation of public service industries, just completed by H. D. Simpson, member of the state and the National Institute for Reach in Land and Public Utilities here. This class of utilities paid an average of 6.8 per cent in taxes compared to gross receipts.

National and state banks and trust companies paid the second highest ratio with 6.7 per cent, according to the tabulation. Other rankings by utilities follow: farms, 6.3 per cent, electric railways, 6.2 per cent, steam railroads, 5.2 per cent; telegraph, 4.3 per cent.

"The striking features of the compilation," says Prof. Simpson, "are the general similarity of the gross receipts ratios and the extreme variations of the tax burden as measured in terms of net income."

"The ground for constructive criticism is not so much in the amount of taxation in itself as the absence, under present methods, of any adjustment of the tax burdens to tax paying ability in terms of income."

"The general objection to a gross earnings tax has always been its failure to take into account differences of operating conditions and in tax paying ability as reflected in net income; but it would be a difficult problem to levy a tax with less flexibility of adjustment or with more indiscriminate results than those here indicated."

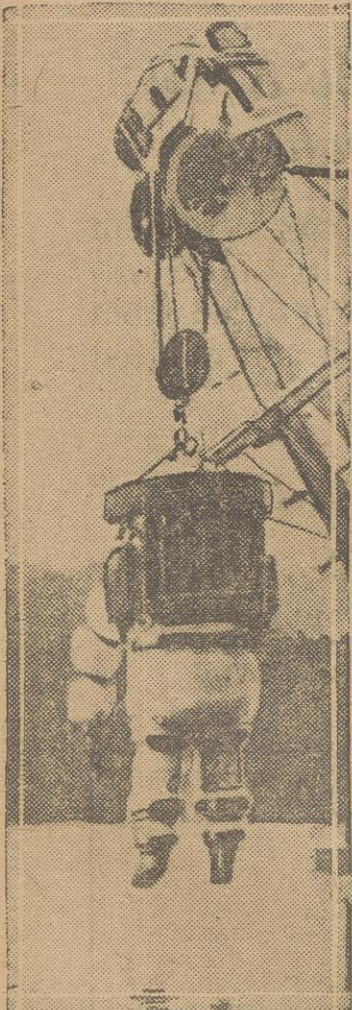

"A straight gross earning tax, indeed a uniform gross earnings rate spread over all of these groups of industries, could hardly be more inflexible or more violently regressive than our present methods, if the facts here presented are all representative of conditions over a longer period of time."

Budget Reduction Will Be Discussed by Board

A meeting of the board of estimates on the 1925 budget has been called for Tuesday night to review estimates made by the city departments and discuss means of reducing the estimated expenditures, it was announced by E. F. Bunn, city auditor.

Famous Comedian Appearing at the Strand

Court to Support State Commission in Wage Act Case

Constitutionality of a portion of the state workman's compensation law making findings of fact of the state industrial commission conclusive, was upheld by the state supreme court today in the Booth Fishers Co. Case.

In upholding the law, Justice Owen declared that since employers accept the provisions of the act voluntarily, they must accept the ruling of the industrial commission and cannot challenge any part of the law.

"The law presents an entire scheme for compensating industrial accidents and he who accepts the law accepts it in its entirety," the opinion stated. "Along with its benefits, he takes its burdens. In order to avail himself of the rates of compensation therein provided, he submits the determination of facts with reference to all disputes between employers and employees where compensation is claimed, to the industrial commission, and waives any further judicial review than that provided for in the act itself."

It is well settled that constitutional as well as any other personal or property rights may be waived, it was further said.

Movie Star's Manager Addresses Gyro Club

Because of an unavoidable delay, J. Warren Kerrigan, of motion picture fame, was unable to attend the Gyro club luncheon as had been planned. Mr. Kerrigan's manager, Russel Brett, spoke on Hollywood and the motion picture industry.

On Dec. 17, the Gyro club will entertain informally with a dinner dance at the Studio.

HUNT PLEADS FOR PEACE IN WORLD

Defense Day is Scored in Address Before City Ministerial Association

"The saddest thing which we must face in America today is the conversion of the United States from being the greatest pacifist nation in the world to being the most militaristic," said the Rev. George E. Hunt, before the Madison Ministerial union Tuesday morning in the Christ Presbyterian church.

"We are enfolded here by an atmosphere of utter lack of faith in any other method of maintaining peace except by that driving force of war. We had the shame and humiliation of having our country set aside 'Defense Day' for the purpose of making military gestures on the very day when 54 nations were planning for world peace," he continued.

"The American world has drifted sadly backward from organized thoughts for peace that it had before the war. We have slipped our anchor ropes and are in such a position now that it will be a long time before we again take our place for leadership for peace."

"Hope comes from the church bodies in America which have awakened and from pastors who are trying to do their duty."

Dr. Hunt announced a meeting of the Madison Peace Council, made up of representatives from most of the churches and organizations in Madison, to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 19 at the Unitarian parish house. Prof. Sterling Leonard will discuss education for peace in the public schools. The Peace Council is making an attempt to bring about a change in the history text book situation which will emphasize heroes of peace as well as of war.

A motion was passed by the union that the next state Sunday school convention be asked to meet here.

CITY Y. M. C. A. HAS PRAYER WEEK

Asks For Improvement of Relations Between Parents and Young Men

The home life of the young man forms the Tuesday theme in the program of the Y. M. C. A.'s week of prayer. Monday's topic begins with the home growth of the boy Jesus and of the young pioneer Timothy (Luke 2:51; 1 Tim. 1:1-14).

The association addresses its appeal to the improvement of the relations between parents and their boys and girls, and to the development of the association's work among boys and girls not only without encroaching too much upon their home life, but so as to give it a fuller and happier content. It cites for reading, Col. 3:17-21.

"The home environment of the young life of the world," the "Y's" message says, "is every day making or marring the world's future; for it moulds the builders of the world of tomorrow. That home background is magnificent in many places, in others it is disordered, cynical and unclean. Industrial oppression and inadequate housing sometimes degrade it. The cinema and other forces compete with it. Its old authority is suffering widespread decay. Yet new forces are rallying to create a new type of home comradeship.

"Let us give thanks for the Christian homes in every part of the world and for their influence on the new generation in building character, shaping vision and guiding vocation.

"Let us pray for a penetration of home life in all parts of the world with Christian fellowship and liberty; for parents, brothers, sisters, unmarried adults who give so much to home life; for young people preparing to marry, that their union may be based on the love of Christ and that His Spirit may fill the new home.

"Let us play especially for the young life in Africa, its race problems, its dangers, in the period of transition when tribal institutions dissolve under the impact of western influence."

Forged $4,000 Checks; Arrested In Kenosha

KENOSHA, Wis.—Max Hasendebein, alias Albert E. Orrendorf, is in the city lockup here charged with forgery. He is alleged to have admitted forging and cashing ten bad checks in Kenosha, and one in Wauwatosa, Wis. He gave his address as Milwaukee. The police department in Milwaukee notified the Kenosha police that the man is wanted there for forging checks amounting to about $4,000.

Poison Liquor Kills Man at La Crosse

LA CROSSE, Wis.—Clinton G. Reubelt, a traveling salesman, living at Chicago, died in the police ambulance here today enroute to a hospital after several days of heavy drinking. Poison liquor is believed to have caused his death. An autopsy will be performed.

Alumni clubs in some 40 cities helped the university to celebrate its 75th birthday this year.

Musician Finds Boys and Girls Are Individualists

Who wants a bad little boy, who is always in the way?

Joe Martin, Children's Best Friend, Launches Grown-Up Parties For Them

In New York City, several thousand boys and girls, aged five, goin' on six, call Joe Martin their "best friend." Joe is the attractive young music leader at Asbury Park, who looks almost as young as the children he loves so much. Every year he plans a baby parade, a kiddies' day, and a girls' week with appropriate music and frolic.

"The secret of getting children interested is to appeal to their interest in themselves," Mr. Martin explains. "They are exactly like grown people in that they like to be the center of things.

"They love music about themselves, and lyrics that deal with their own concerns. At the Arcade, where my band is playing all summer, I am planning to have Saturday morning balls and 'coming-out parties' for my six-year-old friends, carried out exactly as grown-up parties would be.

"The children have their favorite songs and show a sly humor sometimes in their choices. For instance, the boys like 'Who Wants a Bad Little Boy' and sing it with vigorous enjoyment and obvious personal application!"

65,000 EXPECTED AT OHIO-MICHIGAN GAME

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8.—Ohio State and Michigan, gridiron rivals since 1897, meet here next Saturday in the Ohio stadium in what promises to be another thrilling repetition of the annual football encounter between these two neighbors of the Big Ten circuit. A capacity crowd of 65,000 spectators is already assured for the game which is also the homecoming contest.

In spite of the early season crushing defeat Michigan sustained at the hands of Illinois, the Wolverines have recovered rapidly and Buckeye scouts who have followed Michigan all fall are firmly of the opinion that the Yostmen rank close to the Illini in strength at this stage of the season.

The Ohioans, weakened somewhat by serious injuries since mid-season, obviously have their work cut out for them in the next two weeks which bring Michigan and Illinois as opponents.

Missing Ohio Girl Is Sought By Police Here

Madison police were appealed to Tuesday by a worried mother in Perryburg, O., to find her daughter who is believed to have come to Madison. Two months ago Alice Austin, 20, left her home in the Ohio city to come to Madison, and since the day she boarded the train, relatives have heard no word from her.

Secretary Of Labor To Quit

Secty. James J. Davis

WASHINGTON—Secty. James J. Davis of the Labor Department has informed President Coolidge he wishes to retire from the cabinet after March 4.

Mr. Davis is the only cabinet member who has indicated he desires to retire from the cabinet today at the White House.

Meanwhile it was said, the president has given no consideration to other possible changes in his cabinet, and has expressed the hope that Mr. Davis will remain.

CARNIVAL TICKETS ARE ON SALE NOW

May Be Purchased Today at Morgan's or University
Pharmacy

Sale of tickets for homecoming carnival, which will be held in the men's gymnasium, Friday night, begins today, according to Sidney Thorson, grad, who is in charge of the carnival production. The tickets will be sold at Morgan's and the University pharmacy.

Although there will be no reserved seats, the tickets will be sold until every seat in the gymnasium has been accounted for," Thorson said last night.

"I urge all who wish to see the carnival to get their tickets before going to the mass-meeting. Those who do will be able to enter the armory at the west doors instead of standing in line a long time at the central doors to get tickets," C. J. Randall, Law-2, manager of ticket sales said.

The committee helping Thorson includes W. A. Sherman '25, G. L. Willson '25, W. T. Shoemaker '26, C. A. Gross '26, W. H. MacDonald '25, Oscar Elkins '26, W. A. Robinson '25, and M. Crosby '26. Bob Moore '26 is stage manager for the carnival. William MacDonald '26 has charge of properties and Oscar Elkins and Ernest Kahn are electricians.

Nephew of "Teddy" to Be Aide to Wilbur

WASHINGTON—Theodore Douglas Robinson of New York, a nephew of President Theodore Roosevelt has virtually been selected for assistant secretary of the navy.

Mr. Robinson, who is a son of Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, called today at the White House and after a conference with President Coolidge went to the navy department to confer with Sec. Wilbur.

Thorough Study of Technical College Curricula Started

Nation wide investigations are being made by the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education in an effort to determine and remedy the undesirable features of technical college curricula throughout the country. The investigation is being conducted by a board of the national society.

The investigation is being conducted under the leadership of William E. Wackenden, a former instructor in the university, who recently held an executive position with the American Telephone and Telegraph company. Mr. Wackenden came here recently to talk on the progress that had been made thus far. The faculty of the College of Engineering have appointed Prof. Edward Bennett as chairman of the local committee which is to cooperate with the work of the national society.

A further idea of the extent of the investigation may be obtained from the fact that the Carnegie foundation has appropriated $100,000 to pay the expenses of the survey.

The study as it is being made is a serious effort to determine what changes should be made in the relation between college work and subsequent work in practical engineering fields.

WILL AWARD GENERAL GREEK SUPREMACY CUP

As the response to the general supremacy trophy idea has been good, an intramural system embodying it will be instituted at once, according to Director George Berg, and it shall be offered as an award to that fraternity which leads in intramural athletics each year. "The general supremacy trophy is to be given as a permanent possession to the winning fraternity," said Coach Berg yesterday. "Each year a new cup will be offered." A fee of $5.00 is to be paid by the competing fraternities. This fee must be in by November 19.

has been vacant since late in September when Theodore Roosevelt resigned to make his unsuccessful campaign as Republican nominee for governor of New York.

PEACE DAY HALTS CHICAGO TRAFFIC

Minute Silence Marks Armistice Observance; New York and Paris Celebrate

CHICAGO—A minute of silence with all traffic halted and business suspended special observances by veterans' bodies and programs by various organizations marked Chicago's celebration of Armistice day. Banks, the stock exchange, the board of trade and all schools were closed. Public functions included a program by the 202nd coast artillery, school children's exercises and banquets tonight.

PARIS—Armistice Day this year is for the first time a full holiday in France.

Today everything is closed except the places of amusement. The feature of the celebration in Paris will be at the tomb of the unknown Poilu in the Arc d'Triomphe, with President Doumergue, Premier Herriot and his cabinet in attendance.

New York Plans Program

NEW YORK—New York's Armistice Day program included two minutes of silence at 11 o'clock ushered in by radio broadcasting of taps and a bugle call, with every activity in the city ceasing for the period of contemplation.

Patriotic, civic religious and business organizations were prepared to join with city officials in the celebration.

Few business offices closed for the day. The consolidated and cotton exchanges planned to cease trading for two minutes.

Gang Rivalry Seen In Murder of O'Bannon

CHICAGO — Gang rivalry, beer runners' feuds, gambling troubles and a fight of lieutenants of rival gangs over a woman were theories followed by police today in their search for the three men who yesterday shot and killed Dion O'Bannon, notorious gunman and gangster, in his florist shop.

While they sought Mike Carrozo, labor leader, and Margaret Collins, pretty blonde, involved in a fight eight months ago with Louis Altieri and John Bates, alleged lieutenants of O'Bannon, the police took precautions to prevent more killings in reprisal.

All known enemies of O'Bannon, questioned after the shooting, had been released today when they satisfied investigators they had no connection with it.
