S. G. A. CALLS MASS MEETING ON NEW RULES

To Discuss and Vote on Plans

To discuss changing the S. G. A. constitution and regulations, a mass meeting for all of the university women has been called for early next week in the Concert room at Lathrop.

"There has been a great deal of apparent discontent over the present rulings of the organizations which control the women now, and also a feeling of jest for them," said Cleo Parsley '23, former president of S. G. A., in speaking of the matter yesterday.

"The trouble seems to be that the women of the university do not care for the regulations under which they have been living and desire changes in many of those rules. Therefore we have called a meeting to give every woman a chance to freely express her opinion and to discuss possible changes."

Two-thirds Vote Needed

This open meeting will be lead by Cleo Parsley '23, and there will be an open discussion by every one present on all of the rules which they think should be altered. All proposed changes and plans will be taken up carefully, and all sides considered.

A two-thirds vote of all women present will be necessary to change any rule, according to the S. G. A. constitution.

Keystone, organization of presidents of all of the women's organizations on the campus, has taken up these matters very thoroughly at the last meetings, but has made no decisions to be announced.

"The question of whether or not the women of the university really want a self-government system of control must also be taken up as the basis upon which to make any changes," said Lois Jacobs '24, S. G. A. president.

Many Rules Up

Some of the rules which have been discussed for changing are: the 10 o'clock rule for week nights, 11 o'clock rule for week-end nights, the driving rule, the drive regulations, telephone calls after 11:15 o'clock, quiet hours in the different houses, men callers during the day before 4:30 o'clock, and special permissions for the seniors.

"Suggestions for a system of special privileges for senior women will be especially welcomed by the committee in charge, as there has been a great deal of talk about such a plan, and great difficulty has been encountered in arranging for them," said Lois Jacobs '24.

The S. G. A. office in Lathrop will be open from 10 until 3:30 o'clock every day, and some one of the committee will be there at all times to discuss the matter over before the mass meeting with any woman who is interested.

All Women's Baseball Teams Play This Afternoon

Two more games of the women's inter-class indoor baseball tournament will be played off this afternoon in the Lathrop gym when the juniors meet the seniors at 3:40, and the sophomores will scrap with the frosh at 4:40. Two more games remain to be played, the senior-freshman game next Tuesday at 4:40 and the junior-sophomore game next Friday at 4:40. Class championship in this sport will give 40 points to the victorious class toward their total in the all year championship.

STAFF POSITIONS

Several positions as index assistants are open on the editorial staff, preferably to junior or sophomore men. Previous experience in filing or index work is desirable but not necessary. Apply at the editorial office of The Cardinal between 4:30 and 5 o'clock.

Lawyers Must Scratch Back of Heads When Passing Victorious Plumbers

Lawyers must scratch the back of their heads now-days. This new but compulsory fad to be adopted by the lawyers is the result of their losing the snowball fight to the engineers. The condition was part of the challenge, but the enforcement is entirely left to the lawyers' honor. It now becomes the duty of every lawyer to acquaint himself with the personnel of the engineering school. How this acquaintance is to be made is also left to the individual lawyer, but several suggestions are offered: If a person with a beard is met, don't be too sure about scratching your head, it may be a professor. If a slide rule projects from the pocket of a student, then give the password, and if the student responds by dashing his slide rule to the ground, you have tackled the wrong man.

The snowball fight has aroused so much interest that it may prove to be the first of a series of novel stunts to take place between the two schools before the end of the present term. The lawyers by agreement are to issue the next challenge. What the nature of this challenge will be, is still a mystery, but it has been rumored that the lawyers will challenge the engineers to a hand-car race on the day of the engineers' parade.

EIGHT CAGE MEN ARE GIVEN "W" BY BOARD

Eight basketball "W's" were awarded to members of the 1922-23 Varsity squad at a meeting of the athletic board.

The men who received major letters are: Capt. Gustave K. Tebell, Leslie R. Gage, Rollie F. Williams, Kendall Elsom, Byron Barwig, Marshall Diebold, Douglas Gibson and Dwight Spooner.

Four men were given the "aWa" letter. They are Frederick Radtke, Jack Harris, Kenneth Mainland and Ralph Wackman.

Of this group, Tebell, Gage and Williams will play no more basketball for Wisconsin, each having completed three years. The remainder of the squad will be eligible last night when the two activities agreed to merge their interests.

The present plan is to begin the Haresfoot performance one-half hour early, promptly at 8 o'clock, and to postpone the ball until 10 o'clock providing Dean Scott H. Goodnight consents to a 2 o'clock party.

Ball Starts Late.

If a 2 o'clock ball is impossible, the ball will begin at 9:30 or 9:45 o'clock, which is later than usual, according to Robert Luening '23, general chairman of the ball.

The incorporation of the date of the ball in the legislative bill granting the use of the capitol is the primary reason why the date could not be changed so as to avoid conflict, according to Luening.

"The Haresfoot club could not change its present date because the week previous is held at the Parkway by Otis Skinner and the week following too late after our spring tour for a proper Madison presentation," Thomas A. Tredwell Haresfoot manager asserted last night.

Better Student Party.

"After all I think the combination will make a much better student party and will enable groups to see the Haresfoot show and then go to the capitol for the ball later," Gerold Koch '23, president of the Haresfoot club declared.

Luening expressed himself last night as pleased with the plan, declaring that the combination of the two primary Wisconsin events would work to the benefit of both.

INCLEMENT WEATHER EASY ON STUDENTS

The snow and disagreeable weather of March seems to have had little effect upon the health of the student populace, according to reports from the infirmary and the university clinic.

At present there are fewer patients in the infirmary than there have been at any time since before Christmas, although during the past month, February, the university infirmary admitted the largest number in its history.

Those in the infirmary now are victims of a light epidemic of tonsilitis, regarded only as an aftermath to the sweeping epidemic of grippe during February. The wave of illness among students during the first warm days of February was due, more or less, to exposure and the desire to be on with the spring fashion show, according to clinic physicians.

January, February and March show the greatest number of clinic calls and infirmary cases.

NIGHT ASSISTANTS

All Cardinal night assistants will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the editorial office.

LIT SOCIETIES TO DEBATE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

An exceptional number of debates feature the regular Friday evening meetings of the men's literary societies. The questions involve the secrecy clause of the state tax law, the adoption of the Huber bill and the establishment of the point system at the university.

Hesperia's program is headed with a talk by Francis Karel '23. The main event of the evening is a debate on the question, "Resolved, that the point system to regulate participation in the extra-curricular activities be adopted at Wisconsin." The affirmative team is composed of H. O. Reade '26, F. Luehring '25 and F. J. Kojis '24, closer, while the negative squad consists of A. H. Nickel '26, H. C. Bachhuber '24 and C. J. Ballam '24, closer.

Athenae's offerings consist of two debates. The first is "Resolved, that the secrecy clause of the Wisconsin state income tax law be repealed." The negative team is composed of W. F. Choinski '24 and W. P. Iwen '24, and the affirmative of E. Smith '24 and M. N. Cizor '25. The second argument, "Resolved, that the Huber unemployment insurance bill merits adoption," will be delivered by L. Berkoff '25 and A. A. Cooper '25 for the affirmative and A. H. Nicolaus '25 and O. E. Messner '26 for the negative. Two new members, E. Bogue and E. Bell, will be initiated.

The principle event for Philomathia will be the mixer to be given by Pythia Literary society to which all Philomathians are invited. The social affair begins at 9 o'clock in the Lathrop concert room. A short regular meeting of Philomathia will precede the mixer.

RUTHERFORD TO BE ST. PATRICK

Weather Causes Engineers to Postpone Annual Parade

The chemical engineers sprang a surprise in the last few hours of voting and elected John A. Rutherford '23, as the representative of Saint Patrick in the annual parade by a majority of 50 votes.

The parade has again been postponed until better weather conditions prevail, according to a statement made by James F. Mackey '24, chairman of the committee on the parade.

Votes were sold at 10 for a cent and the winner has the privilege of using Saint Patrick's royal carriage on the day of the parade and delivering the speech at the Blarney stone celebration ceremony which will take place on the steps of the library after the parade.

The final results of the voting were: Rutherford 41,790, Clerkin 41,740, and Gluesing 36,870.

ATHLETIC DIRECTORS ARRANGE SCHEDULE

Director Jones also said that the basketball schedule has been practically arranged for a period of three years but it not yet ready for publication.

Another matter that was brought to the attention of the directors was the question of sportsmanship. The poor sportsmanship of both the crowds and some of the coaches will be investigated and a report made.

The directors set the second of June for the date on which basketball officials for the coming season will be elected.

"The directors made a recommendation," said Director Jones, "to the effect that the next basketball conference be a closed meet, only conference universities competing."

PYTHIA INITIATION HELD TONIGHT BEFORE PARTY

Pythia initiation will be held at 7 o'clock tonight prior to the Pythia-Philomathia party. Initiates are: Alyne Szold '26, Chicago; Elizabeth Nelson '25, Red Wing, Minn.; Dorothy Nelson '25, Gillette, Wis.; Elizabeth Ellingson '26, Madison.

Have Big Margin

The Badger preps stepped out in championship style and outplayed their opponents by a big margin. The defense worked effectively and the offense, led by Nelson, who tossed eight field goals, swamped the team from Two Rivers.

University high was on the long end of a 19 to 7 score at the end of the first half. It almost doubled the count in the second period, despite Coach Ira Davis' use of substitutes in three positions.

"Pinkey" Stehr netted three field goals and the same number of free throws. Martell, Two Rivers center, lead his teammates in individual scoring. He garnered a pair of baskets and 8 out of 14 free throws. Hendrickson and La Budde, forward, each got away for two baskets, but the former failed to hit the net with the accuracy he displayed against Cuba City on Wednesday.

Preps Guard Close

The close guarding of Dopp and Otis was responsible for the few points collected by Two Rivers. Otis was ejected from the contest because he made four personal fouls.

UNION PLANS UNIT IN FALL

Commons Will Be Built First,
According to J. D.
Phillips

Construction of the first unit of the Memorial Union building may begin sometime next fall if the preliminary sketches now being prepared by Peabody and Eschweiler, architects are approved of by the executive committee of the union, according to present indications.

"If the plan's require numerous revisions, the building program may be somewhat retarded," J. D. Phillips, of the building plan committee said yesterday. "Just now further developments are being held up until the legislature decides whether the union will be located on the corner of Langdon and Park or east of the corner, but we are hoping to begin construction next fall."

The program outlined by the building committee provides that the commons be built first and put in operation, the memorial and theater sections to be erected directly after.

Meanwhile the subscription campaign is continuing full blast. Over $30,000 has been pledged, and contributions are steadily drifting in. At St. Louis Prof. E. H. Gardner, who is now on an extensive organization trip in the West, succeeded in reviving an enthusiastic body of alumni. George E. Evans, assisted principally by Edwin Moffatt and P. A. Ebbs, is in charge of the campaign in St. Louis and the surrounding district.

"Alumni in the rapidly growing and important city of Kansas City are determined to keep Wisconsin stock high and are supporting the union idea with enthusiasm," Prof. Gardner reported after his meeting with alumni there.

After his visit to Denver, Professor Gardner will return to Kansas City to wind up the campaign being headed by Lloyd Pullen. Following this he will hold alumni meetings at different points throughout the West and will return to Madison some time in May.

PROF. DENNIS READS "IF WINTER COMES"

"I would suggest that everyone read page 8, and if it starts no thoughts, arouses no memories or ideas, don't read the book for you will be bored," Prof. Ralph Dennis, head of the speech department at Northwestern university said in his reading of "If Winter Comes", at Bascom hall Wednesday night.

Many people attended the reading despite the inclement weather and other attractions. He gave a short account of the various opinions created by the book and the characters of it.

All of the characters were given by Prof. Dennis in a manner that made them live. Little time was spent in introducing the subject. The speaker went straight to the heart of the subject, holding his audience with a connected story.

UNIVERSITY STATION INSTRUCTS IN CODE

The university radio station will start broadcasting the radio code instructions at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow noon. This is probably the first time in the history of radio that lessons in the code have been broadcasted. A similar broadcast will be made every Saturday noon at the same hour.

Information on how to learn the code will be given by phone and then lessons in code writing by radio telegraphy will be given in the form of letters and exercises. The last will be increased in speed each week.

"The university station will not compete in the prize contest that is to be given through the Newark broadcasting station on March 29. These prize contests are carried merely for publicity and advertisement while our station is only interested from the educational point of view," M. P. Hanson, of the physics department declared.

3 FOREIGN STUDENTS TO AID DISCUSSIONS

The three students from foreign universities who will be in Madison on March 29, 30 and 31 are Joachim Friederick, Germany, William Robson, England and Antonin Palcek, Czechoslovakia.

They come under the auspices of The National Student Forum which is a federation of local college discussion groups founded for the avowed purpose of encouraging young people to study current problems and to give expression to their opinions. The outstanding plank in their platform is freedom of speech.

Their object is said to interchange ideas and points of view with the youth of American universities and to bring about a mutual understanding and help the students to realize that they will play a significant part in the next chapter of their nation's history.

While in Madison, the "New Youth Movement" delegates will be guests of the social science club who are arranging for one general mass meeting to be held in Music hall and smaller discussions to be held with the various campus groups.

HOOTSTOWN FAIR IS SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The First Congregational Christian Endeavor society will give the "Hootstown Fair" at the church parlor Saturday afternoon, Mar. 24, from 4:30 to 9:30 p. m.

This entertainment will include all of the regular features of a home town fair—music, side shows, "hot dogs," and athletic events, as well as fortune telling and clowns.

The purpose is to secure money for missionary work. Admission is 10 cents.

State Historical Museum Offices Are Redecorated

The offices of the State Historical museum have been decorated and one of the rooms in the museum is being furnished with new burlap. The library rooms on the lower floors will not be painted until the summer vacation.

ANTIGO DEFEATS MENOMINIE BY A 28 TO 25 COUNT

Winners Retain Early Lead

In a hard luck game Menominie lost out of the state tourney by being defeated 28 to 25 by the fast Antigo team in this first game of the Thursday morning round.

Antigo took the lead from Menominie after the first few minutes of play and retained it throughout, but were never far enough ahead to feel safe. The teams were evenly matched and played a hard game. Menominie worked the ball down the floor in nice style and secured many more shots than their opponents but were unable to tally.

Baxter, Antigo forward, was easily the star of the game, counting 20 of his teams 28 points. He made six field baskets, most of them long ones, and tossed 8 out of 12 foul pitches. Bundy, the Menominie flash nearly equaled Baxter's scoring record, ringing in 6 baskets from the court, but he fell down on the foul pitching, making only 6 out of 14 attempts. Hardy, guard on the Menominie team, showed up well in floor work and defense. Hoffman was a tower of strength at forward opposite Baxter on the Antigo aggregation. He rung up three field goals.

Appleton High Trounces Cuba City

Appleton High school won the first game in the consolation series of the state tourney when it trounced Cuba City by a score of 26 to 14 yesterday afternoon.

The winners were forced to go at top speed to come out on top of a 12 to 8 score at the end of the first period, but Mills and Heideman found the basket in the second half and pulled their team far into the lead.

Briese, guard, was star of the Appleton offense. He kept the attack in motion constantly, and his steady dribbling kept the ball in near the Cuba City goal during most of the game.

Mills, Heideman and Briese vied for high scoring honors. Each player made six points. Winn scored six points for the Cuba City outfit. His long baskets furnished an outstanding feature of the game.

The rifle team of the University of Wisconsin corps of cadets for the third consecutive year has won the Sixth Corp area gallery competition, by a remarkable score of 2,976 points out of a possible 3,000.

The team will compete for the National Rifle association, as soon as notice is received from Washington, D. C. The following men have been picked for the team:

L. R. Drake, L. O. Long, H. J. Sporer, C. J. Ludwig, J. J. Chyle, E. P. Von Rohr, C. H. Swetil, W. A. Rorison, C. C. Franseen, G. H. Ross, C. Meyer, F. P. Price, B. D. Fulton.

Ludwig; executive officer, Sgt. R. E. Shire. An Orpheum shooting for Saturday afternoon was planned at the meeting. The club will be divided into two groups, the losing team giving the Orpheum party.

yesterday. The team from the North was eliminated from championship consideration when it lost to Eau Calire, 28 to 26, on Wednesday, but Central showed that it is one of the best quintets here by taking an easy contest from the Janesville outfit.

Superior lead, 15 to 6, at half-time. It permitted Janesville to count only one point in the second period although the Central High school team used a substitute team.

McCreary, as usual, lead in the scoring with four field goals and three free throws. Solem and McNabb each bagged a pair of field goals.

La Crosse Downs Fighting Kenoshans

La Crosse won from Kenosha in one of the fastest games of the day. The score of 27 to 13 hardly tells the story of the game. Kenosha fought the rangy La Crosse bunch on almost even terms but seemed unable to tally either from the field or from the foul line.

The little Kenosha forward, "Shimmy" Shimek, was able to find the basket for only two counters, but because of his fighting spirit was very popular with the crowd. Shimek and Knudsen looked best for the Red team.

La Crosse gained a lead of 6 to 3 by the end of the first quarter and kept a safe lead from then on, the half ending 16 to 7. The River City squad, by virtue of their victory, loom as possible state champs. They have a big team of heady players who have a smashing attack. CZERWONKY AT PRINCETON FOR NATIONAL MEET

Wisconsin Star May Cop Title

Hugo Czerwonky, star Wisconsin swimmer, will compete for the swimming championship of America in his event at a swimming meet held under the auspices of Princeton university, New Jersey, today and tomorrow.

Czerwonky was selected to represent Wisconsin in the 200-yard breast stroke at the meet. Individual championships of America will be determined in the 100-yard swim, 40-yard dash, back stroke, plunges and other events. The best swimmers in the country will be present.

Czerwonky left for Princeton Wednesday afternoon. Capt. Johnson Bennett was also selected to participate in the sprints, but an excess of academic work prevented his attendance.

Faricy, Minnesota star and the only man who has beaten Czerwonky in the breast stroke, will not represent the Gopher institution. Czerwonky has an excellent chance to win the title.

LIMITING STUDENTS AT CHICAGO

The new policy of the University of Chicago has been cited as a solution for Wisconsin's problem of increased enrollment, lack of buildings, and a handicapped faculty.

The Maroon plan purposes to enforce more vigorous entrance requirements, to reduce the undergraduate enrollment by one-third and thus to make the institution more adapted for higher research.

The difference in functions and duties of the University of Chicago as compared with the University of Wisconsin should be considered in discussion of the drastic policy.

While Chicago is an endowed school with no direct duty to the public, Wisconsin is a state university that has a function of democratic education to the taxpayers who make it possible.

Illinois, a state university, is asking $2,500,000 for building needs.

Michigan, a state university, has expanded greatly to meet the increasing needs of education in that state.

Wisconsin is asking for $1,650,000. Of this amount, $600,000 would be spent for dormitories, and the remainder for making the service of the institution equal to the present needs.

The state university's duty of giving maximum educational benefit to the state and nation is apparent.

The University of Chicago's new policy is peculiar to its own needs and circumstances.

It certainly should not apply wholesale to Wisconsin. But if new facilities are not forthcoming for Wisconsin and if thousands continue to apply for admission here, what can be the alternative but to restrict by raising entrance standards?

A STORY A DAY—GOOD OR BAD

The fact that Coach Meanwell has been offered the position of basketball coach in other schools has been known to sporting writers in the city for some time.

Not content to misinform the students of the selection of football coach, a Madison newspaper announced Wednesday that Coach Meanwell may leave the university soon.

It was news, of course.

Whether the story would have any adverse influence upon the university athletic department was evidently an unimportant factor.

Hundreds of high school basketball players now in the city for the state tournament may conclude that Wisconsin will lose its basketball coach. Such conclusions at a time when Wisconsin needs and wants those men most are dangerous.

Professor O'Shea recently said, "A story a day about the university, good or bad."

Authorities here are confident that Meanwell will stay, despite the offers.

The destructiveness and poor psychology of releasing the "story" at this time, then, becomes apparent.

WANTED: SKELETONS

American universities are now going to Germany for one of the unique and grim needs of education—skeletons.

German skeletons have always been favored by universities in the United States, a news report states, because of the fact that they were so put together as to permit the arms, legs and other parts to wobble and to move nearly as they did when the skeleton was "alive."

It is a tragic commentary upon the Teutonic war doctrine, taught in the German schools and universities for decades previous to the recent republic, that the nation of Bismarck's glory should not be offered $30 for skeletons.

Five years ago the spring offensive was ready to begin.

Five years ago at Easter-time, German super—"Big Berthas" crashed shells into Paris.

And now! Thirty dollars apiece for skeletons.

The former Kaiser, now in Doren, may smile when he thinks of his past daring.

The $30 offered by American universities for the boney remains of his followers in the war, however, should make America thankful for its republic and Germany hopeful for political liberty.

FAGS—A MORAL

The Anti-Cigarette League of America may now point out the danger to our youths with increasing effectiveness.

While the collegiate advertisements are indulgent of poses where a young chap is shown aristocratically holding a cigarette, the football hero receiving popular plaudits, and the fair co-ed, of course, wearing the latest in sport clothes, the height of the fag evils can now be proclaimed.

Nicholas John Coundouris, a Levantine, who introduced cigarette smoking in England and in the United States, is now bankrupt and "broke" despite a fortune made in handling the vice weed. London bankruptcy courts have completed the punishment.

We wonder what will become of the person who invented the flapping galosh?

21 HOURS DANCING? A RECORD

With dancing the most popular of campus "indoor sports", devotees of the pastime here can look to bonny Scotland for the latest in world sport records—twenty-one hours and sixteen minutes of continuous dancing.

Two couples in Edinburgh, Miss Mary Connelly and Joseph Young, and Miss Lena Hansen and Hugh MacKay, are the new "champions". The honor was won last week.

While the Yanks captured highest score in general sports at the last Olympic games, it seems that one of the most strenuous activities has been overlooked.

Far be it for the United States to lag behind either. And Wisconsin, despite its "He-Man" club, certainly has corking good material.

Just another opportunity for world-wide fame.

It was news, of course.

Whether the story would have any adverse influence upon the university athletic department was evidently an unimportant factor.

PAPERS PRAISE ROSS CONCERT

Professor's Son Has Bright Future, New York Critics Say

"His present name is Gilbert Ross—he seems likely to make a name for himself," said the New York Post in reviewing his first American concert, which was given in Town hall, New York City, March 13.

Gilbert Ross is the son of Prof. Edward A. Ross of the sociology department of the University and has just returned from abroad where he has been studying in Berlin.

Ross is to be commended for his admirable technique, a scholarly attitude toward his task, and despite the weather conditions, a tone that ranged from the deeply mellow to a treble like silvery gossamer," writes the New York American.

His program included Tattini's "Devil's Trill", Tschaikovsky's concerto, Rubin Golmark's "Witches, Sabbath", Sarasate's "Tarantelle", and Maud Powell's arrangement of Coleridge-Taylor's "Deep River". Sandor Vas played the accompaniments.

"It was midway in Tschaikovsky's concerto that he won his house with an emotionally powerful crescendo, re-echoed in long applause," states the New York Times. "The heightened interest was held with serene beauty in the muted andante movement, crooned like a song."

After studying in Chicago with Sametini and Leopold Auer, Ross studied for several months in Berlin, followed by a tour abroad. He played in Stuttgart, Bremen, Dresden and with orchestras in Berlin.

Prof. and Mrs. Ross returned Monday from New York where they attended the opening recital of their son.

Melting-Pot Worthy Half Hour's Wait

By E. H. S.

Why "The Melting Pot" was scheduled to commence at 7:30 o'clock last night is beyond our powers of comprehension. Anyhow, having a certain amount of faith in university theatraclals, we had expected it to begin at least nearly on time and arrived shortly after the appointed hour.

There is no doubt about it, the seats in Lathrop concert room are hard. We sat on one of them and twiddled our thumbs for almost half an hour until the curtain was rung up—or rather out. One expects high school plays to begin at least a quarter of an hour late. But for a university production to start a full half hour after the scheduled time is inexcusable, even if the house may not be filled.

The wait, however, was worthwhile, or almost so. We had not remembered after reading Israel Zangwill's play about the Jews and their reign in America that there was so much talky-talk contained in it. But there is, a tremendous amount of sentimental—we're tempted to call it drivel—about the stars and stripes and all that.

Harry Katowski did as well as he could with his role of a musician imbued with the grandeur of all that is symbolized in the Statue of Liberty. He held the honors of the evening with Harriet Lewis who played the comedy part to perfection. Poor Kathleen, she had a nerve-racking time of it in the capacity of maid-of-all-work to the Quixano family. But in the end she was almost converted to their religion.

Miss Lewis was also partly responsible for the fine direction of the play, for she assisted Prof. R. W. West in coaching.

Norman Leshin completes the trio of the stars. He did well as a opera who burns his time while his father burns the coal.

Castalia Meets Tonight

Catherine Boyd '24, will act as toastmistress. Miss Lillian Pyler

WOMEN APPOINT ADVISORY HEAD

Jean Palica, New Chairman
Names Executive Committee

Jean Palica '25 has been appointed head of the junior advisory system for next year's freshmen class, by Red Gauntlet, women's sophomore organization.

The student district has been divided into 16 districts, each with a member of the junior advisory executive committee at the head. This is a new plan and should add greatly to the efficiency of the whole system, as well as the convenience of communication with the freshmen next fall.

The junior advisory system provides for the assigning of a junior to each new freshmen woman. These juniors will write to the new women during the summer and in that way give them general information about the university and answer any questions which they have to ask. Upon arrival in Madison at the first of the semester the women are met by members of this committee at the station. During the first weeks of school the advisors take their advisees around and explain things to them generally.

The committee which will assist the general chairmen is: Louetta Dierur '25, Gladys Norgord '25, Elizabeth Stolte '25, Doris Burdick '25, Alice Corl '25, Dorothy John '25, Katherine Davis '25, Janet Walls '25, Elizabeth Brown '25, Clara Hertzberg '25, Charlotte Case '25, Alice Cockrell '25, Marjorie Trumbell '25, Mary Devine '25, Helen Blake '25, Helen Pettersson '25.

The first meeting of this committee will be held this noon at 12:45 o'clock in the Concert room at Lathrop, to plan the general organization for next year's junior class in regard to this system. Plans for getting all of the addresses will be given out, and a general discussion held.

Faculty Recital Discloses Beauty of the Rubaiyat

All the poetic beauty of Omar Khayyam's Persian lyrics was interpreted in the song cycle, "In A Persian Garden," the Rubaiyat set to music by Liza Lehmann, presented in the recital by members of the University School of Music at Music hall last night. Leon L. Itlis, pianist, gave two piano solos and accompanied the quartet, composed of Agot Borge, soprano, Martha Chandler, contralto, Noel Stearn, tenor, and E. Earle Swinney, baritone.

Combining solo and recitative parts for each voice with the quartette arrangement, the cycle of songs starts with the joyous opening "Wake! for the sun who scatter'd into flight" and goes through the varying moods of the Persian poetry. Parts and songs were beautifully suited to the voices.

Noel Stearn's singing of "Ah, Moon of My Delight, that Knows No Wane" and the recitive number "Ah, not a drop that from our cups we throw," by Martha Chandler were among two of the most beautiful selections.

Blending of individual voices into a beautiful melody varying from joyousness to pathos, then coming back to spirit and life, this is the song cycle as the faculty artists sang it last night.

Mr. Itlis was received with enthusiasm for his rendering of two piano solos, "Magic Fire Music" by Wagner-Brassin and "Polonaise A Flat" by Chopin, and his accompaniment for the song cycle.

Count Peronne and Trix Oliver

This was a "song symphony" of classical, semi-classical and semi-popular songs which should please the type of person who scoffs at the average vaudeville performance. The audience clamored for more of it, but were disappointed. Trix has a personality which gets across the footlights, and Peronne has a voice which does the trick.

"The Jolly Jester" proved to be an impersonator of Scotch types who amused his audience to the last degree, and came back for a "thankyou" speech.

We can't think of anything better to say than don't miss it. Superb sounds like a publicity word, but it's the truth. If you like really good music hear the sheik orchestra.

Pardon the length—the bill this week-end is worth it.

Co-Stars Of "Racing Hearts"

Richard Dix and Agnes Ayres, shown above, share honors in the picture which will be featured at the Majestic theater all next week. It's a racing picture, is "Racing Hearts." Not the usual kind of racing picture that has its grand finale in the famed and worn out Kentucky Derby. The climax comes rather in an auto race.

The producers seem to have realized just how hackneyed a subject the Kentucky Derby is coming in moviedom. They have given relief and yet supplied excitement which does not differ greatly from that provided by a horse race.

Richard Dix is starring this week at the Madison in "The Christian." Theodore Roberts, it is reported, left the vaudeville circuit in which he was putting on an act simply for the purpose of helping to make this film.

ARRANGE PLANS FOR CLASS DAY

Professor Julius Olson Gives Out Varied Graduation Program

Announcement of plans for the Seventieth annual graduation at the University of Wisconsin was made by Prof. Julius Olson, who has charge of the arrangement of the program, yesterday.

A few deviations from former years occur in this year's program. Because the graduation exercises extend from Friday, June 15, to Monday, June 18, it is proposed to provide entertainment for the parents, relatives and friends of the members of the graduating class.

With this purpose in view a twilight concert by the First Regimental band will be given, Sunday evening, June 17, at 7 o'clock. At this early date announcement of the speakers for the various functions cannot be made.

The program follows:

Friday, June 15, Class Day
3 o'clock. Exercises on Muir Knoll.

8:30 o'clock. Senior class play.
11 o'clock. "Pipe of peace" ceremony on the lower campus.

Saturday, June 16, Alumni Day
10:30 o'clock. Business meeting of the Alumni association.

12 o'clock. Senior alumni luncheon, Lathrop cafeteria.

1:30 o'clock. Baseball, Wisconsin vs. Chicago.

3:30 o'clock. Concert by the First Regimental band, lake shore.

5:30 o'clock. Procession by classes forming at Music hall.

6 o'clock. Senior alumni dinner in men's gymnasium.

9 o'clock. President's reception, residence of Pres. E. A. Birge.

10 o'clock. Senior alumni ball, Lathrop gymnasium.

Sunday, June 17

4 o'clock. Baccalaureate exercises in men's gymnasium. Address by President Birge.

7 o'clock. Twilight concert by the First Regimental band.

Monday, June 18

8:45 o'clock. University procession leaves upper campus.

9:30 o'clock. Commencement exercises in Agricultural pavilion.

The change of Commencement Day from Wednesday, as in former years, has necessitated a change in the dates of the other functions.

The same plan adopted last year in distributing tickets for admission to the commencement exercises will apply this year. The tickets will be issued Monday morning in order to accommodate the visiting parents and alumni as satisfactorily as possible.

Oshkosh Defeats New Richmond Team

In the 11 o'clock game, Oshkosh won its way into the second rounds by taking a spiritless contest from the little New Richmond team by the score of 29 to 13. The game was doped to be close. New Richmond was the talk of the tournament last year, and with three men left from that team they were reputed as being strong. Oshkosh had the advantage of age and size.

The first quarter was evenly contested, the score standing 2 to 0 for Oshkosh. Both teams had difficulty in finding the basket. Oshkosh got under way and ran the score up to 15 by half time while New Richmond located the draperies only once. The excellent floor work and dribbling of the Oshkosh center, Hotchkiss, and the unrelenting work of his floor guard, Barsch, kept Oshkosh well out in front all the time.

New Richmond was evidently far off form, and at only one time toward the end of the game did the show any semblance of determination. The little fellows had no luck at all in connecting with the hoop, although they bombarded it severely at times. The pretty work of 112-pound Paul Lynch, who was suffering from injuries received in the district tourney, received many compliments. W. Johnson at center for New Richmond was the heavy scorer for that team.

Oshkosh Wins

By Heady Playing

Oshkosh administered a severe drubbing to Antigo last night in a game devoid of real thrills but full of heady playing. The Antigo quintet were plainly outclassed when it came to finding the basket and as a result were on the short end of a 26 to 14 score.

Hotchkiss, Oshkosh rangy center, had an unbeatable eye for the net and marked up 12 of the points gained by the Oshkosh team. Johnson and Barsch, right forward and right guard on the Oshkosh team, were responsible for 2 baskets apiece.

Baxter, plucky right forward on the Antigo team, who was injured late in the first half of the game and called out, was the highest scorer on his team, ringing two baskets.
