LEGISLATION ON DORMITORIES IS MORGAN'S PLAN

Permits Needed Before Building on State Property

That legislative action is necessary to permit the erection of dormitories on university property by private capital, is the ruling of the attorney-general in an opinion addressed to J. D. Phillips, acting business manager of the university.

The opinion also holds that no plan can be adopted whereby the university ultimately acquires the building if such a plan creates a present indebtedness on the part of their state. Several plans are suggested in the opinion by which the university could acquire the dormitories without incurring the indebtedness prohibited by the Constitution.

Several years ago, when the need for dormitories was discussed at a joint meeting of the Board of Regents and visitors, Israel Shrimski, president of the Wisconsin Alumni association and a member of the Board of visitors, suggested that private capital could be interested in building university dormitories on state property. The war intervened, and the matter was not taken up again until the joint meeting of the two boards last March. It was as a result of this meeting that the opinion of the attorney-general was requested concerning the legality of Mr. Shrimski's suggestion.

Private Capital.

As to securing private capital, Mr. Shrimski said, "I am sure that with the proper form of obligation,

S. G. A. DECIDES TO FOLLOW UP DISTRICT PLANS

The district system which is being again tried by the S. G. A. this year is greatly increasing the efficiency of the organization, in the opinion of Cleo Parsley, '23; president of the association.

The plan was instituted seven years ago, but was dropped and started over again every year. Present officers of the S. G. A. are again trying the system in hopes of regaining some of its many advantages.

Under the system every house at which more than three university women stay is in one of twelve districts. Each of these districts is under the supervision of a district chairman, who can carry out the plans of the S. G. A. office much more quickly than they could if S. G. A. meetings were the only means of direct communication, according to Cleo Parsley.

A personal department, for the purpose of distributing the work of the outside activities of the university among a larger percent of the women, will soon be started. According to this plan each house chairman supplies information concerning the girls in her house to the district chairman. This information, which relates to the fitness of the girls for various campus activities, is entered in a card index in the S. G. A. office.

When the president or chairman of an organization wishes to appoint a committee, she has access to the census chairman who can give information concerning any girl in school. From a list supplied by the census chairman the committee members are chosen.

MARY CUNNINGHAM '23 IS RECOVERING FROM ILLNESS

Mary Cunningham, '23, who was chosen by the Commerce magazine as the most beautiful girl in the university last year, is now at her home at Platteville, Wis., slowly recuperating from a severe attack of double pneumonia which she contracted several weeks ago.

For days her physicians, her father, a well-known doctor and a specialist summoned from Milwaukee were baffled to know the outcome of the case because of complications which prevented one lung from clearing. Latest reports indicate a slow but complete recovery.

Miss Cunningham is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and was enrolled in the College of Letters and Science last year. She was prominent in students activities here and entered the university as a junior from National Park Seminary, Washington, D. C.

AG TEAM WILL JUDGE AT IOWA

Wisconsin Group to Compete At Waterloo Dairy Conference

The university dairy cattle judging team will leave for Waterloo, Iowa, at 8 o'clock this afternoon, to compete with stock judging teams from all parts of the northwest at the Waterloo Dairy congress September 25 to October 1.

The show is considered one of the classic dairy cattle shows of the country and is exceeded in importance only by the National Dairy show.

Members of the team as selected by Prof. R. S. Hulce, coach, are R. O. Klussendorf, '23, Donald and George Kery, '25. The team was selected from an original squad of 35.

Some of the strong teams which probably will be pitted against Wisconsin in the judging contest are Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota and Nebraska. Iowa won the championship cup last year. Wisconsin placed fourth, but won the Jersey cup.

"The team has worked hard and has had strong competition throughout the season," Prof. Hulce declared, in discussing the prospects of the team.

"About a dozen men remained on the squad at the opening of the university year, and the team has been selected from that squad. All

2,500 STUDENTS ATTEND OPENING MIXER OF YEAR

Union Board Plans Series of All-University Functions

More than 2,500 students attended the first all-university mixer of the year held in the men's gymnasium last night, according to an estimate made by Russell Frauley, '23, treasurer of Union board.

The special low price of 25 cents brought out more students than were anticipated by the committee in charge.

Plenty of ice cream and soft drinks were served under S. G. A. supervision. More than 30 S. G. A. representatives working in conjunction with Union board were present on the floor at all times to introduce newcomers.

Great numbers of persons continued to pour into the gymnasium until 12 o'clock. Union board plans to have seven or eight mixers this year instead of six as in former years.

"It is a better means of getting acquainted than any plan Union board has tried out," said Morton C. Frost, '23, who is in charge of the mixer this year.

"The fact that so many attend proves that it is a good thing for the social life of the university and the future success of mixers is assured."

Ag Triangle Club Will Hold Meeting Tomorrow

The first meeting of the Ag Triangle Club will be held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop hall. This meeting will be devoted to the installation of new officers elected last spring, and the outlining of plans for the year by the new president and chairman of the various committees. The new officers are: T. B. Manny, graduate, President; H. C. Schaeffer '25, Vice president; W. F. Osius '25, secretary; G. S. Tetzlaff '25, Treasurer; and Tom Daniels '23 member-at-large.

WEATHER: FAIR.

Fair and slightly warmer weather is predicted for today. Tomorrow also, is expected to be fair but not so warm.

Commerce Women Receive Gamma Epsilon Chapter

Alpha Gamma chapter of the national woman's honorary commerce society, Gamma Epsilon Pi, was established at Wisconsin this summer. The national convention of Alpha Gamma Pi, Gamma Epsilon Pi, and Phi Sigma Chi, was held in Madison during the summer, and these three groups consolidated into the national Greek letter society with 17 chapters.

A new constitution and by-laws were drawn up and all the new members were initiated at the convention. The style form of the key was also changed.

An attempt to raise the standard of women in the commerce courses by aiding transfers, getting speakers in conjunction with the Women's Commerce Club, and maintaining other educational opportunities, is being made by the members.

COUNT SHOWS ROLL OF 7,150

Present Enrollment Shows Slight Increase Over Last Year

A loss in enrollment in every college and school in the university but the College of Letters and Science, the course in home economics and the School of Music was shown by registration figures announced yesterday by the registrar's office.

A total registration of 7,150 through Thursday shows a gain of only two over last year's figures on the same day. The smaller registration on Thursday of this year is accounted for by the fact that Thursday was the first day of classes in 1921, while it was the second day this year.

A gain of more than 400 students in the College of Letters and Science, a gain of 17 in the course in home economics, and a gain of 12 in the School of Music make up for losses in other departments of the university organization. The course in commerce lost more than 200 students this year, while the College of Engineering lost more than 100 students.

The exact figures for this year are as follows:

College of Letters and Science—3,891. Course in commerce—956. Medical School—153. School of Music—116. College of Agriculture—486. Course in home economics—247. College of Engineering—1,095. Law School—179.

THIRD VARSITY WELCOME IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Ceremony Most Impressive and Picturesque in History

By GEO. L. GEIGER.

More impressive, more inspiring and more picturesque than ever before, the third annual outdoor Varsity Welcome yesterday morning was perhaps the most successful in the history of the university.

More perfect weather for the ceremony would have been impossible. True to predictions, the morning was clear and warm—warm for this season of the year and yet not too warm. Never before did the bright sunlight seem so hospitable and agreeable.

A blue Wisconsin sky, devoid of clouds, overhung the imposing spectacle. The massive white dome of the state capitol looming majestically in the east and Bascom hall, one of the most beautiful buildings of the institution, rising directly in front of the pageant, offered a setting that could have no equal.

Don New Caps.

Two American flags were hung high overhead, one was draped on each side of the rugged Lincoln monument and a fifth fluttered from the top of Bascom hall. Here and there on the long green campus small patches of yellow and brown faintly suggested the coming of winter.

Clad in dark blue uniforms, made more pronounced by silver stripes and cords and the glitter of the instruments, the First Regimental band presented a picturesque appearance and the double row of stately shade trees on each side of the campus added much to the solemnity of the occasion.

Brilliant splashes of color in the crowds of women students and the bright new freshmen caps—considerably more dignified than those of the old "jockey" design—filled the atmosphere with a feeling of good fellowship and genuine welcome.

Classes March Zigzag.

Organization of the welcome was perfect. The huge pageant of the classes was started on time and the best of order prevailed throughout. Five files of students began their respective marches at the same time and there were no breaks in the long streams of Wisconsin man and womanhood.

Twenty-two senior women, comprising the Guard in White, marched down the center of the campus as the classes began to move. The seniors, graduates and Law students passed through the arcade of Bascom hall, crossed Lincoln monument and proceeded down the campus to escort the freshmen into position.

Juniors and sophomores marched to the foot of Lincoln terrace, the men have had show ring experience. They were present at the Wisconsin State fair, showing animals and watching results of the judging contests."

Eight classes of live stock will be judged by the judging teams, two from each of the prominent dairy breeds. Points will be given both on the basis of placing and on oral reasons. The animals first are judged in the show ring, then each student judge is required to give oral reasons for his decision before a competent judge. Judging will take place Monday.

A rousing send-off is being planned by Agric boosters of the dairy judging team. A large group interested in the success of the team will meet at the Illinois Central station, Wingo Park, shortly before 3 o'clock.

Men's Religious Groups Begin Meetings Sunday

The university men's religious discussion groups will begin at 9:00 o'clock Sunday morning in campus churches and at the university Y. M. C. A.

The courses given by the churches will be conducted by the student pastors at their respective parish houses.

Those given under the auspices of the university Y will be conducted in the association building as follows: "Dead Empires and Live Problems," by Howard Beaver, in the green room; "The Open Mind in Religious Discussions," by William Young, associate secretary of the Y in the Cabinet room; "Why Historical Knowledge of Christianity is Necessary for Constructive Religious Thinking," by F. E. Wolf, secretary of the university Y, in the left parlor of the Y.

Men who are interested in these courses are urged to sign up at the university Y for the course about which they know the least.

Oct. 17 Deadline For County Independents
No independent candidates for Dane county offices have filed nomination papers according to County Clerk George J. Fjelstad. Oct. 17, is the day set by law as the deadline for filing by candidates.

THE SUREST SHOTS IN THE U. S.

Art Killam and Mrs. E. L. King

Against the keenest competition ever experienced in the annual Grand American Handicap shoot these two marksmen won championships at this year's shoot at Atlantic City. Art Killam of St. Louis won the professional championship by breaking 197 out of 200 birds. Mrs. E. L. King of Winona, Minn., won the woman's championship. One champion was dethroned, several new ones crowned and a score of records broken by the marksmen.

Coach Lowman Buys University Heights Home

Guy S. Lowman of the athletic department of the university, has purchased the new home on the corner of Bascom and Clarke sts. in University Heights. The house is of solid brick and has eight rooms. The lot is 100x104 and is a part of the original Bradley Home site.

The house was built by L. W. Gay and is one of the many fine homes now going up in this part of the city. Tom Williams represented Mr. Gay and Carl L. Stark of The Paul E. Stark Co., represented Mr. Lowman.

Jerry Ripp Will Dance For Students Next Week

Jerry Ripp, original solo dancer, will entertain the student dancers next Friday and Saturday night at Boyd's studio. Mr. Ripp and his wife, who is sometimes his dancing partner are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Ripp, 2 South Bassett street, from Washington, D. C., where they teach dancing.

Tuesday evenings the Candy Shop goers have watched his eccentric solos but he will soon return to Washington for six months. When Mr. and Mrs. Ripp return to Madison they intend to establish a new dancing studio.

SOMMERFELD IS EXPECTED HERE AT EARLY DATE

New Physics Professor Is Coming on Schurz Memorial

Prof. Arnold Sommerfeld, professor of mathematical physics of the University of Munich, who will hold the Carl Schurz Memorial exchange professorship in the university this winter, is expected to arrive at an early date, according to a report from the office of Prof. Benjamin Snow late Friday afternoon.

The New York Times printed on September 18 an interview with the famous German professor, which includes among other things, an interesting account of the condition of science in Germany since the war.

"Experimental work is, of course, much hampered, owing to the high cost of apparatus and the difficulties that stand in the way of young research students who cannot afford to spend longer time at the university than is absolutely necessary," Prof. Sommerfeld said.

"Not with standing these obstacles there are a number of institutes which succeed in carrying on good work, as for example, in the realm spectroscopy and electronic collisions, work that has greatly stimulated the scientists of your own country. Professor Sommerfeld brings the report that Dr. Charles Einstein, propounder of the relativity, is much occupied at present with the study of electrons and with the quanta theory.

Jewish New Year Service Is Conducted By Lerner

The Jewish students and residents of Madison welcomed in the New Year last night at the Knights of Pythias hall in the Beaver building. Mr. Lerner conducted the services. He will also conduct services this morning at 9 o'clock at the K. of P. hall. On Monday, October 2, the Jewish people will celebrate the Day of Atonement. Services will be held on Sunday, October 1, and morning and afternoon services will be held on October 2.

VARSITY SQUAD LOOKS GOOD IN FRIDAY'S TILT

First and Second Teams in Hard Scrimmage at Radnall

The Wisconsin football squad was given a realistic impression of what the new try-for-point rule means when Coach John H. Richards drilled "Shorty" Barr in place and dropped kicking during light workout which was held yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall.

"Big Jawn" lined up his first and second eleven to oppose each other while the obese quarterback dropped about to the 20-yard line or thereabouts and attempted to kick the ball over the cross-bar. He succeeded only once in several attempts, the scrubs blocking one kick and the rest of the tries going wide.

The 1922 rules, to which the try-for-point has been added as a new feature, permit the side scoring a touchdown to score an extra point by any one of four methods. The ball is brought out to any point not less than five yards from the goal line, or to any greater distance that the scoring team chooses, and there a scrimmage is formed with the scoring side in possession of the ball. The offensive team can make any play which is legal from an ordinary scrimmage and endeavor to count by a place-kick, a drop-kick, a run, or a forward pass.

The ball must be put over the goal line or the crossbar in a single play and in case the try is successful, it adds a point to the team's total.

That few attempts will be made to rush the ball over the line is the general concensus, and it is agreed that drop and place-kicks and some forward passes will be used to count this tally. If Barr whips his toe into the shape it was when he kicked the drop which beat Chicago, all will be well with the Badgers—providing they score a touchdown or two. If "Shorty" finds he is not sure to count with the educated right pedal, it is possible that a short pass over the line will count the point.

Registrar W. D. Hiestand has not yet officially announced that Barr is eligible, and until he does the football squad and its coaches are spending no little time in worry. If the chubby pilot should be declared ineligible, which is now only an outside possibility, Gibson could be used at quarterback. "Gibby" was shifted back to right half on the first team last night and his shrill voice rang out with its old time vigor.

Practice in running back punts was dished out by Richards. He ordered Taft, fullback with the reserves, to punt to varsity and with Capt. "Rollie" Williams and Barr returning the kicks. Barr kicked for the regulars, Schneider, quarter and "Bob" Whitten, halfback, carrying the ball on the return.

"Gus" Tebell reported late and was given a berth on the third or fourth team. Pulaski, his running mate at end, was absent from practice altogether. Alex Field and Russel Irish held down the wing positions for Varsity. Nichols was stationed at center, Hohlfeld and Christianson held down the guard jobs, and Below and Murry played tackle. In the backfield, Harris went from right half to fullback with "Gibby" and Capt. "Rollie" playing the two halves.

With the opening of Wisconsin's season only two weeks off, the squad is being rapidly whipped into shape. Most of the men are in the proverbial "pink" of condition. Kiessling, linesman who won his "W" last year, hurt an ankle in the last play of Tuesday's scrimmage. He limped about with a can yesterday but will report again for practice this afternoon.

BUCKEYES HAVE SCRIMMAGE FOR 75 CANDIDATES

Wilce Finds Many Out to Fill Vacancies of Last Wear

(Special to The Cardinal.)

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 22.—Four days after reporting to Coach J. W. Wilce, Ohio State grid men had headgears on and were scrimmaging hammer and tongs. All of which shows about as well as anything else that Dr. Wilce means business this stadium year.

Seventy-eight candidates had reported by Monday, when the Buckeye mentor assembled his squad behind closed doors to issue signals and plays.

Among the newcomers was Boni Petcoff, of Toledo, O., utility lineman last year who is one of the strong contenders for a regular tackle or guard berth this fall. Petcoff tipped the scales at 210 pounds.

Five Teams Scrimmage.

Few squad members escaped the scrimmage that consumed two hours Tuesday afternoon. Nearly five full teams got into the fray. Sideline followers have taken to watching most intently the line work, for there lies the opportunity of the comers and the necessity for greatest building.

One of the first shifts was that of Tee Young, last year's first center, out to a tackle. The change was not unexpected. Pauley, utility lineman in 1921, has temporarily replaced Young at center, but it would occasion no great surprise to see Pauley also tried at a tackle before his place is definitely assigned, for scrappy center candidates seem to be more plentiful than tackles.

Among the most promising centers are E. J. Kaplow and Alex Klein of Lorain, O., and R. J. Kutter of Cleveland. Klein and Kutter are sophomores, eligible for the first time, while Kaplow has had squad experience.

Ends Doubtful.

Picking the new end to succeed Captain Myers and Slyker, three-letter men lost by graduation, is another of the favorite topics for discussion in fanning parties. Eddie Elgin, freshman captain last year, and A. R. Fiorette, another sophomore, came in for a lion's share of work during the first week of practice, as did W. S. Speed, who had some varsity experience in 1920. Elgin is a product of Columbus East High, which has sent such stars as Chic Harley, the Courtney brothers and Bob Karch to Ohio State.

Fiorette and Speed won their scholastic spurs in Cleveland. Elgin and Fiorette are both rangy and sturdy, the former standing 6 feet and weighing 170 pounds, while Fiorette only lacks half an inch of Elgin's height and scales 184 pounds.

Time only will tell what the back field arrangement will be. The Workman brothers, Isabel, Blair and Honaker, together with Moorehead and Farcasin, comprise a strong nucleus of veterans.

Sophomore Candidates.

Among the most talked-of sophomore candidates are Ollie Klee, of Dayton; Alton Michaels of Tiffin; Johnny Schaffer and George Cameron of Cleveland. Klee is a halfback and adept drop-kicker. Michaels, a fullback, is a triple threat man. Schaffer and Cameron are quarterbacks.

Varsity's Got a Kick Like Ninety Shots of Moon

By CHUCK.

Well, they're off in a cloud of assoptida. Heaps of he-men hopping about Camp Randall sod. Lots of loafers looking like limping Louies watch working Warsity warriors. All of which means that "Big Jawn" Richards and his forty-odd athletes, some odder than others, are again playing football on the old camp grounds.

They're no claims for a champion ship out there by the R. O. T. C. stables and the coal-pile, but with an outfit of men who are harder than the moonshine sampler on a revenue squad, it looks as if Wisconsin won't be at the bottom of the heap when Old Father Time or "Cap" Isabell closeup the bar for the night.

The battling Badgers have got more fight than Mustapha Kemal and his Turkey trotters. They hit the line with the same power that an ex-bartender has when he refuses a drink, and they think no more of a square yard of skin than an engineer thinks of the law school.

When one of those battling boozos gets his meathooks on the old pigskin, he fondles it with the same gentle touch that a butcher uses in felling a prize bull. Many a young co-ed, innocent in ways of wold, would be glad to experience the same hug the dirty, old pigskin gets.

"Shorty" Barr is back in old form at fullback. Spent summer working out with Man O' War and Morovich, and now does the mile in two days, five hours, and three tumblers of Bourbon. Barr shoots passes with same accuracy African golfer shoots a Big Dick bunker. "Big Bertha" never dropped a shell with more speed than "Shorty" drills forwards.

Rest of the team is also back in old form, and as soon as pros get acquainted with football players and forget to mark down absences and zeroes, the season will be in full sway.

To make a short story shorter, all we got to say is that the Big Ten had better keep its eye on Simon Legree and the squad of Uncle Toms who are working out for Wisconsin's varsity squad this year.

Pythia and Castalia Make Plans For Coming Year

Plans are being made by the officers of both Pythia and Castalia for the first meetings of the societies which will be held in the near futur. The regular meetings which are being delayed because of rushing and unsettled class programs will probably be held October 6.

The Pythia Executive board met last night in Lathrop parlors to make plans for the year. A similar closed meeting will be held next Friday. A reorganized plan will be adopted this fall.

Officers of Pythia for this year are: Pres. Marjorie Capron, '24; vice-president, Esta Ritter, '24; secretary, Muriel Edwards, '23; treasurer, Helen Geller, '24.

Castalia will have an executive committee this year for the first time which will aid the program committee. Appointments to the committee will be made in a few days by Catherine Boyd, '24, president. Castalia will offer more training this year in public speaking.

WRESTLERS SET FOR BIG TITLE MATCH SUNDAY

Question of Third Man in Ring Splits Demetral and Meyers

Jimmie Demetral, challenger, and Johnny Meyers, world's middle-weight wrestling champion yesterday engaged in a half-hour squabble over the referee for their title match which will be held in the Monona Park auditorium Sunday afternoon.

When the smoke had cleared away, Demetral agreed to confer with his brother-manager and make a final decision on the third man in the ring. Meyers declared that Ed Smith, sports editor of the Chicago-American, Larney Lichtenstein, or Joseph Coffroth be selected to referee the match. Demetral held out for a Madison arbiter.

It is expected that one of Meyers' choices will act as referee and that as a compromise for the Demetral faction, two judges will aid, but this plan has not been definitely decided upon. The champ threatened to withdraw from the match and let "Demetral" wait another four years for a chance at the title unless his referee were selected.

JIMMIE DEMETRAL.

That the match Sunday afternoon will be a battle from start to finish is an acknowledged fact. The argument over a referee comes fast upon the trouble over finding training quarters for Meyers. The title-holder will seek to throw Jimmie in the least possible time on Sunday. Whether a surprise is in store for him or not cannot be predicted, but Demetral is in the best of condition and he will push Meyers to the utmost if he goes to the mat.

Under the able tutelage of his brother, himself a claimant for the world's heavyweight championship, Jimmie has worked out a plan of battle which may make Meyers the underdog and put him on the defensive.

Tickets for the championship match are going rapidly and a record house is expected when the two grapplers step into the squared arena for the bout that has been hanging fire for many months.

WHOLE COUNTRY WATCHES START OF GRID TEAMS

Today Sees First Series of Preliminary Games Played

With at least sixty college and university teams engaging in their first scheduled game, the curtain rises this afternoon on the opening numbers of a long program of intercollegiate football matches. In the eastern and southern sections of the country, the majority of elevens will get into action against weak opponents. Appearing on the list of eastern colleges which are starting out on their 1922 gridiron careers are four well-known names, Penn State, Yale, Washington and Jefferson, and Syracuse all await the kick-off which will send them into conflict with smaller schools in preliminary games.

These four teams are performing on their own gridirons and are opposed as follows: Penn, State vs. St. Bonaventure, Yale vs. Bates, Syracuse vs. Hobart, and W. & J. vs. Geneva. Such preparatory games are important in that they give the coaches a chance to watch their players under stress. They are interesting because of the frequent upsets in dope, such as when Oberlin won from the great Ohio State last year by a 7 to 6 score.

Penn Strong

The Penn State squad, once more under the tutelage of Hugo Bezdek will doubtless put in a strong bid for high honors in eastern circles this year. Coach Bezdek has had the remarkable record of having developed an undefeated team last year with only four veteran players at the start of the season. Washington and Jefferson boasts of a large number of stars from its victorious 1921 eleven. One of these athletes, West, made the season's record run of 98 yards from a kick-off in the Syracuse struggle.

Centre College, opposed by Carson-Newman, and the University of Georgia by Newberry are games today that will attract the attention of southern cities. Centre College is the small school in Danville, Ky., which startled the country by trimming Harvard. It will be the focus of wide-spread attention this season.

Start Next Week

One week from today more than two hundred and fifty college outfits throughout the country will do battle on the gridiron. This group includes two strong western teams, Notre Dame and South Dakota. Not until Oct. 7 will the Big Ten hosts swing into line, when every conference eleven excepting Illinois will play pre-season games. At this time the Badgers meet the strong Carleton College aggregation.

THAT WELCOME

THAT Varsity welcome yesterday morning was a distinct triumph for Wisconsin spirit and Wisconsin traditions.

It was a triumph for those who had fought for the voluntary wearing of the green cap.

Anyone who took part in that tremendous demonstration of student unanimity could not but feel that this will be a great year at the university. The thrill of inspiration and good fellowship that went through that vast congregation was unmistakable. It augured great things.

The sight of that sea of green seemed good to upperclassmen. The sight of a green cap became somewhat unfamiliar last year, and old-timers sighed with relief when they saw that the new men were already absorbing the spirit of Wisconsin idea of the new cap.

The nasty spirit of defiance, so evident last year, was not to be found yesterday. Mainly for the reason that there was no physical menace to inspire defiance.

Nor was the spirit of "don't care" to be found. The freshmen care, and they showed that they care by wearing their green caps.

Aside from the satisfaction of having shown loyalty, these freshmen will look back in years to come and be glad that they wore those green caps.

They will recall with a pleasant tang of reminiscence, the bond of unity and sympathy with a thousand other men made possible by that humble green head-piece.

They will recall, with a smile of pleasure and gratitude, the acquaintances and friendships brought about by the common wearing of that little piece of verdant felt.

Perhaps they will close their eyes for a bit and imagine themselves back, wish themselves back, in those irresponsible green-topped days of the freshman year. Other men have done it. Other men are doing it.

RUSHING RULES

A FRATERNITY has been heavily penalized by the Interfraternity conference for violation of a pledging rule made to eliminate the unfair practice of "lifting" pledges.

It is well that such violations should bring severe penalties. Rushing rules were made to protect inexperienced freshmen and to maintain friendly relations between fraternities.

College fraternities are, and should be, groups with friendly feeling among themselves as well as within themselves. Unfair tactics can cause nothing but hard feeling and will invariably react to the detriment of all fraternities.

It is unfortunate that the group penalized is a new organization, unfamiliar with established rules. Too many violations might be discovered if the rushing tactics of older groups were investigated.

Pan-Hellenic association announces a new agreement which imposes more strict regulations on rushing activities. Expenses are to be limited and practices which give particular advantages to individual sororities are to be abandoned.

Lavish expenditures for rushing can have no virtue. It provokes the extravagant competition and extreme waste. But more important is the dazzling effect it has on freshman women.

The rushing season is a hard one for the freshman. She finds it necessary to choose in a few short days the associates of four years. Any influence which tends to blind her to important considerations of character is detrimental to her as well as to the sororities.

Sororities seem also to be protecting themselves from the dust in the eye. They have prohibited the use of automobiles by rushes.

If sororities will act in good faith these regulations and any others which tend to eliminate illegitimate advantages can have nothing but a good effect.

FRESHMEN IN ACTIVITIES

A COMMUNICATION in yesterday morning's Cardinal pointed out to freshmen the great opportunities in extra-curricular activities. But the writer neglected to include a warning in his admonition.

College activities are a good thing; but like fire, they are dangerous.

Too many promising freshmen have been swept off their feet by a too hurried and too enthusiastic entrance into activities. They have ended by either riding a plush cushion or being relegated to the ranks of the ineligible.

The first purpose of attending the university is to get an academic education. It is much better to realize this at the start than to be reminded of it by the deans.

The prominent men in the senior class are seldom those who had their names in the Cardinal in their freshman years. They were busy with their books at that time, and developed habits of work and a grasp on fundamentals which enables them to spend time on other things without falling by the wayside.

The man who sticks close to his books during his first year need not fear that he is losing his chance to make a name for himself. He is rather, laying a solid foundation for a successful university career.

where the files executed a zig-zag marching figure, stretching back and forth snake-like across the campus and forming into a solid body before Lincoln monument.

Sellery Gives Introductory.

The freshmen, four abreast in a solid column extending the entire length of the campus, slowly crept into position before the monument, directly in front of the juniors and sophomores. Midway in their march members of the class of 1926 were met by the Guard in White and the seniors.

As the yearlings reached their position the band played and upperclassmen sang, "On Wisconsin" and the men, for the first time in history, donned their freshman caps voluntarily and as a part of an official all-university function.

The program began after the pageant of the classes with the singing of the university hymn, "Light for All," after which Dean George C. Sellery of the College of Letters and Science made the introductory address.

Tuckerman Leads "Locomotive."

President Birge then stepped to the platform and was greeted with the singing of the varsity toast, followed by a "locomotive" yell and a skyrocket, led by Gus Tuckerman, '23, varsity cheerleader.

"You are starting the adventure of life," the president told the freshmen. "As you come back and forth to and from your classes daily you will pass the statue of Lincoln. Remember the ideals for which that great leader stood."

Justice Burr W. Jones, '70, member of the supreme court of Wisconsin, addressed the members of the incoming class on behalf of the state.

Kiekhoffer Speaks.

"A freshman class of 25 or 30 members was a multitude when I entered the university," Justice Jones asserted. "Back in those times we were not welcomed as you are today but came struggling in, one by one."

Prof. William H. Kiekhoffer of the Economic department, speaking for the faculty, welcomed the freshmen at the more human relationships which exist between faculty and students. He said the same personal contact found in the smaller institutions from which new students come, also will be found at Wisconsin.

"If I were a freshman today," Professor Kiekhoffer said, "I should think of the university in terms of opportunity—opportunity for study, opportunity for the study of fundamentals and opportunity for developing the noblest idealism possible. University spirit is to the university what patriotism is to the country."

Welcome Begun in 1913.

"My message is of the duty that lies in the pathway of every freshman while attending this institution," said Wayne L. Morse, '23, speaking on behalf of the student body.

"First there is the true loyalty of every freshman to his alma mater and her traditions. It is in such a spirit today that we ask you to don the official student headgear. Then there is loyalty to yourself. Your purpose is to obtain a college education. Let no other froce interfere."

The varsity welcome first was held in 1911 in the men's gymnasium. Six indoor functions were followed in 1920, by establishment of the outdoor ceremony. Arrangements are under the direction of the committee on public functions, th Council of 40 and Mortar oBard.

Cohen's Orchestra Plays

Says Fruit Crop
Is Biggest Ever

W. M. Argast, who recently sold his paper, the Rustler, Nauvoo, Ill., is a guest together with his daughter Frances at the home of Leo Sachs, 118 N. Butler st. Mrs. Argast, who was a former Madison girl will join the family at Dayton, Ohio, for which city Mr. and Miss Argast will leave later.

Mr. Argast states that the fruit crop at Nauvoo this season was immense; more than 100 car loads of grapes were sent out, growers receiving about 3 cents per pound. Peaches, apples, pears and plums were also prolific. Peaches sold for from $1.50 to $2.50 per bushel; apples brought but a small price; large watermelons sold for 10 cents each.

Nauvoo, located in the extreme western part of Illinois, along the Mississippi river, is a great fruit country. The country east is the corn belt, corn this year averaging from 75 to 100 bushels per acre.

Mr. Argast noticed much improvement in Madison particularly in the matter of building, since his last visit some 6 years ago.

INFORMATION

1. Students registering for the first time in the Military Department will be physically examined by the University Clinic and be able to answer whether they are physically fit or unfit. They will have their class schedules so arranged as to leave open 3 hours per week in the forenoon. Freshman hours will be 8:00 a. m., Monday, Wednesday, Friday; or 9:00 a. m., Monday, Wednesday, Friday; 8:00 a. m., Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, or 9:00 a. m., Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.

2. Sophomore hours are 10:00 a. m. and 11:00 a. m., Monday, Wednesday, Friday; or 10:00 a. m. and 11:00 a. m., Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. Sophomore class cards will be arranged accordingly.

3. Physically fit students who have no uniforms will deposit $25 with the Bursar. Upon presenting his uniform fee card marked paid, the student will be measured by the tailor for a uniform. This uniform becomes the student's property on completion of the school year, and a refund of the deposit will be made in accordance with the Regulations of the Military Department (Red Book).

4. No student who has received a uniform should leave the university until he has cleared himself with this department. In this way a good deal of trouble can be avoided.

5. A number of second hand uniforms in good condition are on hand for disposal. A deposit of only $15 will be required on these uniforms. Students desiring second hand uniforms should apply to Sgt. Atkins for them.

6. All students who have a last year's uniform will appear at their first drill period in uniform. The uniform should be cleaned and pressed and in good condition for inspection. If found suitable for use, no deposit will be required. If any article of the uniform must be replaced, a corresponding deposit will be made with the Bursar. The second year refund will be made to all sophomores at the end of the academic year in accordance with the Regulations.

By order of the Commandant.

Where Greed Threatens World Peace

While the situation in the near east grows more acute as the Turks threaten to cross into Europe and regain territory lost in the war, the Balkan States are casting covetous eyes on additional territory which they hope to acquire should war break out in Thrace, which the Turks desire. Jugo-Slavia is willing to aid England if England will promise the Jugo-Slavs, Salonica (1) as a reward. Salonica is now held by the Greeks. Bulgaria wants a strip of eastern Thrace (2) and Roumania and Jugo-Slavia have warned the Bulgarian government to halt the depredations of bandits on the Thracian border. The Turks have their eyes on that part of Thrace (3) which they had before the war. The Turks threaten to invade and try to hold the occupied allied zones (4) on both sides of the straits if the Greek attempt to enter them. The Greeks on the other hand feel that Thrace is part of their homeland and are prepared to defend it at all cost.

Watch Clock

Autumn Arrives at 2:10 Saturday Says Prof. Stebbins

Autumn begins officially tomorrow at 10 minutes after 2 o'clock, according to Prof. Joel Stebbins, in charge of the Washburn observatory at the university.

There is a general opinion among the older generation that the prevailing weather of a season can be determined by the condition of the elements the time the sun crosses the equinox. Thus tomorrow if the sun is shining, and the wind is in the south, there should be a late fall with a long Indian summer.

Seven Vets to Attend G.A.R. National Meet

Madison Men To Leave Monday For Camp at Des Moines

Seven Civil war veterans of Madison and surrounding territory are expected to leave Monday morning at 9 o'clock for Des Moines, Ia., to join the encampment of Civil war veterans gathered there for the national G. A. R. convention.

The men who will leave Madison Monday morning for Des Moines are: Dr. H. R. Bird, Col. H. W. Rood, Joseph Dean, Frederick Casebeer, Charles H. Lang, B. R. Ellis and Jesse S. Meyers.

The Memorial headquarters in the capitol, in charge of H. W. Rood and J. S. Meyers, will be closed during the coming week, while these two men attend the convention.

A large number of other people, relatives of the veterans, are expected to join the delegation from Wisconsin in the western trip. Round trip rates of about one-half price have been granted by the railroads for the veterans. Tickets are good for return until Oct. 31.

1200 Expected For Social Work Meet

More than 1,200 social workers of the state are expected to attend the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work, to be held here Oct. 11 to 13. Among the subjects to be considered will be: public health, recreation, charities, mental and social hygiene, child welfare, delinquency and anti-tuberculosis work. The main office of the conference is in the University extension bids.

Stubborn Heifer Bunts Engine and 5 Cars Off Track

GREEN BAY—Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul trainmen are today marveling at the obstinacy of a small heifer, who yesterday caused one of the most freakish accidents in railway annals.

The engineer, Louis Peterson, of this city, of way freight No. 93, noticed a heifer on the tracks but seeing that a collision with the calf was unavoidable, struck it with the full force of the engine. Through some unexplainable phenomenon the engine left the track together with five of the freight cars and the fireman, F. W. Breggar, also of Green Bay, and Peterson were thrown out of the engine cab. Peterson's body being hurled 30 feet, Peterson and Breggar were brought to a local hospital where it is said their injuries were not serious. The rest of the train crew escaped uninjured however. The accident occurred four miles south of DePere.

Bury Mine Heroes In Rock Sepulchre

JACKSON, Cal.—Jackson closed its business houses and schools today to pay final tribute to 46 Argonaut victims whose bodies will be buried in a rock sepulchre hewn and blasted in the heart of the mother lode gold country.

All the victims will reach their final resting places, all but one Wm. Fessel the forty-seventh entombed miner. Searching crews renewed today their efforts to find Fessel's body.

Early today 25 flag draped caskets reached the Catholic cemetery, 11 were sent to the Serbian Orthodox Catholic cemetery and nine to the Protestant cemetery.

NEW COURSE WILL DEVELOP COACHES

A new course in physical education is being offered by the university this year. The course instituted to satisfy the need of high schools for coaches and athletic directors, and is being conducted in conjunction with the academic work offered by the school of Education. It is open only to those students, both men and women who are preparing for a teacher's career.

Through the new arrangement a student may major in one of the academic subjects of the School of Education, such as English or mathematics, and take as his minor one of the minors offered in physical education. In this way he will be qualified to teach not only academic work but to assist in the direction of athletics as well.

Five of these minors are offered: athletic coaching and special courses which will qualify men to meet the demands of high school and colleges to coach and supervise athletics while teaching academic subjects; gymnastics and formal physical education; community recreation, consisting of courses to train men and women to organize and supervise play and recreation; physical education and gymnastics a combination of five courses for women teachers for work in secondary or elementary schools; interpretive dancing which consists of six courses. This is for women and teachers only.

Prince of Wales Praises Artistry of Film

Picture of Tudor Period Coming to Madison

IMULTANEOUSLY with the signal success of Marion

Davies in "When Knighthood Was in Flower" at the New York Criterion comes the news by cable from London that Cosmopolitan has leased the Scale Theater, where this splendid picture will begin an indefinite run the first of October. The Scale is London's finest and most fashionable film theater, and the fact that the Prince of Wales has given royal approval to this pictorial romance of English royalty means that it will become the vogue in England.

Jack Potter, of Philadelphia, who has become the representative of the Hearst publications abroad, took the film to London, and was commanded to give a private showing at York House, the town residence of the Prince of Wales. On two hours' notice representatives of Cosmopolitan Productions set up the projecting apparatus in the beautiful Japanese salon, filled with treasures collected by the Prince on his recent tour of Japan.

The Prince was greatly interested in the technical points of the production, asking many questions as to how the wonderful effects were obtained. He praised the excellent photography, and the clearness and accuracy of the historical pageantry. At the conclusion he said:—"When Knighthood was in Flower" is a wonderful picture, well acted. I am greatly interested in it, and predict a huge success in England.

Added to his personal popularity the Prince of Wales is the social and artistic arbiter of England, and any picture to which he gives his approval is certain to fulfill his predictions. The extraordinary cast of "When Knighthood was in flower" and reports of its scenic magnificence have also made this picture the most discussed of any feature promised for London production. Sir Joseph Duveen, the art connoisseur declared that it is the most perfect reproduction of the Tudor period ever made, while Lyn Harding, who contributed his famous impersonation of Henry VIII to the screen in this picture, is the most popular actor in England today. Marion Davies is a screen favorite in England, being of the English type of blonde beauty, and her selection for the role of Princess Mary Tudor is considered quite suitable. Joseph Urban, the scenic artist, is well known in England, and his visits to Windsor, Hampton Court and the Tower to secure the correct historic atmosphere for the picture made an impression.

WISCONSIN OFFERS PHYSICAL ED B. S.

The University of Wisconsin, the first school to create an especial course for the training of teachers in physical education now has over 140 women enrolled in the department according to the latest count.

The course was first established as a major in the College of Letters and Science in 1911. Since 1918, however, with the rapid development of the School of Education, the two were incorporated. Now the course is in itself not a major, but it is a four years education course for a B. S. degree.

More women than men are enrolled in the course. This is probably due to the fact that more men go into professional work, and have neither time nor taste for the amount of science required for a teacher's certificate in physical education according to the instructors. Before the war there were 36 men enrolled since that time the enrollment has decreased and has not yet gotten back to normal.

Interest is increasing in the course due chiefly to the fact that the recognition of the necessity for clean athletics is growing. There are now 21 states which have passed compulsory laws in regard to physical education. The services of trained athletic directors and coaches are needed more and more. Judging by demands made on the department from all parts of the country.

The rapidly growing demand for public recreation supervisors is another factor which will influence interest in the work.

OFFER AD SERVICE IN NEW OCTOPUS

The Wisconsin Octopus is the first magazine of the university to offer an advertising service to its customers.

During the summer Arthur Towell, business manager, has been perfecting a mat service for advertisers which now is complete and gives the Octopus an advantage in securing advertisements for the coming year.

The first number of the Octopus will be on sale October 15 and the editors promise high class art and editorial material.

Two men who have had experience on national humor publications will write and draw for the book this year.

The Ex-Kaiser's Own Story

William II., deposed German emperor, has written in his exile an autobiography of extraordinary interest. He has presented his own side of the case, of course, in defending his position throughout the course of events culminating in the world war. Many of his statements cannot be accepted by the American reader, but none the less they are of engrossing interest.

His style is clear. His sentences are not involved, as a rule. There is little formality in his way of presenting the story, which at times is conversational, almost gossip, especially when he describes the mannerisms, habits and methods of his advisers.

Many intimate reminiscences are given, and much correspondence hitherto unpublished. Secret meetings with the Russian czar and the English king are described in detail. The governments of the allied nations are assailed continually. The United States and Woodrow Wilson are blamed for much, as was to be expected. The German attitude is, of course, defended, but mistakes in Germany's diplomacy and various personal errors of judgment are admitted.

It is a story that will engage the absorbing interest of every reader of history and current affairs.

Publication will begin in The Chicago Daily News on Tuesday, September 26.

It goes without saying that the demand for this work of world-wide interest and consequence will be very great, and orders for The Chicago Daily News should be placed with local news-dealers without delay, in order to avoid disappointment, as the supply will doubtless, in many instances, be inadequate to the demand.

Readers who prefer to receive the paper by mail may send $1.00 to The Chicago Daily News, 15 North Wells street, Chicago, and receive it, postage paid, for two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Coates were married by Archdeacon Widdifield of St. Johns Episcopal Cathedral in Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Coates is a senior in the university and a member of Sigma Chi fraternity.

Passion Play is Massive Production According to Attorney General

Whole Albanian Village is Included in Cast of Drama

To be able to sit from 8 o'clock in the morning until noon, and from 2 o'clock until 5:30 p. m. without losing interest in the "Passion Play" given by the citizens of Oberammergau, Bavaria, and to have your attention increased as the afternoon passes along, is a big but pleasant task according to Prof. B. Q. Morgan, who returned Thursday from Europe on the Cunard liner, Albania, after traveling through Europe.

The "Passion Play", depicting the life of Christ, is produced by the 1800 inhabitants of the village of Oberammergau and has attracted tourists from all over Europe and America because of the very artistic way and manner the actors produce this play.

Oberammergau and the "Passion Play" may be considered as one as the people of this village, situated in the foothills of the Bavarian Alps train themselves with the interest at heart of being able to take part in the play. Only the people who are born and raised in the village are able to take part and only unmarried women may perform. The actors are very highly talented and are known the world over. Anton Lang plays the part of Christ in a very recommendable manner, and the actors as a whole would do credit to any stage, Professor Morgan said.

The play is staged on the plains with the beautiful Alps as a background and is accompanied by a very large orchestra chorus, which furnish music throughout the entire action.

TO RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Puschning, severely injured when their automobile overturned on the Sun Prairie road three weeks ago, were discharged from General hospital today. After remaining for several days in Madison, they will return to their home in Dubuque.

BIRGE SPEAKS AT MEMORIAL

President Praised Work of Church in Creating Interest

"Interest in religion is increasing among students at the University of Wisconsin", declared President Birge last night at a dinner of representatives from all over the state held at the Luther Memorial church in connection with building campaign.

"And the agency that can maintain this interest, the agency that must see to it that the religious life is fostered", continued President Birge, "is the church."

"A great work has been started. But in order that it may be finished in order that the church may radiate and influence for the good of the state and for the good of the people the problems which are before you must be met with faith, energy and courage."

President Birge heralded the erection of Luther Memorial as a home for students from all over the state, as a place where the principles and ideals taught in childhood are made an active and working part of the lives of the future leaders of the country.

A delegation from Milwaukee, Cedarburg, Janesville, and Wautoma were present at the meeting. Mayor Milo Kittleson gave the address of welcome.

"Madison has been watching with interest and admiration what has been going on in the congregation of Luther Memorial," said Mayor Kittleson, "Madison, is not only a city of people who live within its limits. Madison is a state city. Luther Memorial is not a church for Madison alone; it is a church built for the sons and daughters of people all over Wisconsin who come here to study at our great university.

All of us in Madison, whether we are Lutherans or not, are friends of your congregation."

Other speakers were Prof. Julius Olson, Frank Kuehl, representing the governor, Carl N. Hill, Rev. Howard Gold of New York City, Rev. A. J. Soldan, Rev. Wm. Kennerly, L. A. Larsen, of Wautoma, Emil and Rudolph Hokanson, Milwaukee, Rev. J. F. Fedders of Milwaukee, George C. Kohler, Cedarburg, Rev. G. J. Mueller, Janesville, and Rev. C. A. Kipps, Waterloo.

MORGAN APPROVES DORMITORY PLAN

call it contract, bond, or lease, individuals would be most anxious to invest." When informed of the opinion yesterday Mr. Shrimski sent this communication to the Cardinal, "It now becomes the duty of each resident alumnus, and of each resident student, to confer with the members of the legislature and to sell them the dormitory proposition."

The opinion given today, written by Ralph Hoyt, deputy attorney-general, and approved by Attorney-General Morgan, holds:

1. The university regents have no power under present statutes to enter into an agreement for the use of the university grounds for the erection of privately owned buildings.

2. The legislature may constitutionally pass an act for the leasing of university grounds to a private corporation for the construction of a dormitory to be operated by the university itself under a lease. The lease need not bring in any actual revenue to the state.

3. The legislature may constitutionally provide for leasing from the private owner the dormitory buildings erected on the ground just referred to. The buildings might be owned by the dormitory company, but leased to the state; while the land on which it stands will be owned by the university but leased to the dormitory company.

4. The legislature has no power, however, to enter into a lease upon a plan which will give the state title to the building upon payment of a given number of annual rentals. To do so would, under well-settled principles of constitutional law, create a present indebtedness on the part of the state and the constitution expressly prohibits the state from incurring any indebtedness whatever except for military defense.

5. The following substitute plans are suggested as being feasible from the constitutional standpoint: "The dormitory could be leased to the university for a term of years with an option on the part of the state to purchase it at the end of the lease, but with a provision, if the option was not exercised, the lease would be automatically renewed.

The building could be erected by the dormitory company upon the leased grounds, mortgaged for such sum as the company could obtain by the issuance of serial bonds, and then sold to the state subject to the mortgage.

"The building might be leased to the university under the arrangement whereby the earnings of the building would be placed in a separate fund and the state would obligate itself to devote the surplus of that fund to the payment of a rental, which in each year would include an installment of the purchase price of the building. Under this plan the state would assume no liability to pay for the building but would simply arrange to pay for it out of its surplus earnings.

Gun and Blade Outlines Program at First Meeting

Preliminary plans for the year were discussed at the first meeting of the Gun and Blade held last night. The veterans decided to give a party next Friday night in honor of Mr. Melvin H. Teige, co-ordination officer of the local Federal board office. In addition to his other duties, Mr. Teige had charge of the chapter's loan fund, and the club voted to give a committee power to make loans to needy veterans, subject to the approval of the club.

Mr. Edward Burke, chairman of the central executive council of the Gun and Blade and district president, gave a short talk on the work of that organization in the district office in Chicago. Mr. Burke urged the men of the club to take a more active interest in campus affairs as a unit and make the presence of the wounded veterans felt as long as there is any rehabilitation work to be done at Wisconsin.

The annual election of officers of the club will take place at the first regular business meeting next Thursday night.
